The adult neglected and untaught may be past redemption, by human agencies at least, but there is always a chance to save the wayward or neglected child. The twig may be bent at will, while it is impossible to change the fashion of the full-grown tree. Humane members of the community have undertaken this work among the little ones. At least a percentage of their subjects would be left to fate, to grow up to be dealt with later by the penologists of the country.

Noble as the work is that the Children's Aid Society have undertaken, it is unfortunately true that their only financial aid is almost entirely dependent upon the charity of the public. They hold a tag day every year, and their appeal next Saturday should meet with a more generous response than ever because their needs are greater on account of the increasing scope of their work. Any contributions will be applied where the need is urgent. The members of the Society are among Peterborough's leading citizens, and the duties which they have so unselfishly undertaken are among the highest services that can be rendered humanity.

Many Doctors Needed.
(New York World.)

That the United States will require the services of one-fourth of the members of the medical profession in connection with the war is far from improbable. Over 18,000 are said already to have responded to the call of the colors, and as the number of men in the army and navy and in the training camps increases, the number of physicians must be progressively raised at the rate probably of nearly 10,000 doctors to 1,000,000 men.

War Cost.
(New York World.)

Great Britain's total war expenditure for the past three years is authoritatively placed at $23,000,000,000. When leading members of Congress are guessing up to $50,000,000,000 as our war costs next year alone, or think that such a sum can be economically or effectively expended, the need of a budget system becomes impressive.

The words "conscript" and "conscription" should be dropped from our vocabulary. To call them "drafts" or "selected men" would be better. The exactly correct word, however, still awaits discovery. Whoever will come forward with it will confer a boon on the community.

NOT A PACIFIST IN ITALY

Austria is dangerous because her army, in spite of all the gibes leveled at it, is a great weapon, writes a war correspondent after long service with the Italians. It is the army that binds the Austrian Empire and rivets the whole system with steel.

The army consists of the Pretorians of the Emperor. The officers' uniform is their politics, the rank and file are welded by an iron discipline, the races cunningly interwrought to spy on one another and ward off mutiny. There have been mutinies, of course; desertions; but the hard fact remains that a great Austrian army faces our Allies today which would otherwise be facing us.

It is necessary to drive home this truth, so little recognised among many people, because scarcely otherwise can we realise what Italy is doing for the Allied cause in the war.

She is fronted by the pick of the great army of Austria set in positions of immense natural strength, and she alone has so far won ground from the Central Powers.

Nor is it only in the army that Austria is strong, though without that army she must dissolve. The Austrians are wealthy. They have the coal of Bohemia, they are rich in various minerals, they have the great woods that are so extremely valuable in a long war in which railways mean much.

To free their own people and to carry out their share in the task of the Allies, the Italians have a gigantic work before them. But they buckled to it with a splendid will. All their people are in the war. The Sicilians, the Sardinians, the Calabrians are furnishing great fighters, and the north is all alive with war industry.

There were, before May, 1915, those who breathed caution, who advised that a good deal (parecchio) might be secured by standing aside; so that "parecchiato" became a byword among patriots. But it has passed, and no one can discover a pacifist party worth the name in this noble country today. Italy is all in the war.

OUR DAY FOR GIVING THANKS

Monday has been set apart by the Governor-General as a day on which the people of our great Dominion shall give thanks to Almighty God for the gathering of the harvest and the blessings we have enjoyed during the year, says the Family Herald and the Weekly Star.

We shall belittle the dignity of this royal proclamation if we translate it as limiting the extent of our giving of thanks to one single day in each year.

The proclamation raises the festival from the privilege of individual praise to the duty of national rejoicing.

Thanksgiving must be continuous and perennial if it is to worthy. It must be of the heart and not only of the lips. It must be an active outpouring rather than a passive mentality.

National thanksgiving must be devout and reverent. It finds expression in the Te Deum and in Hymns of Praise rather than in the Chorus of Carnival and the Paean of Victory.

Thanksgiving belies the words of the scoffer who sees no cause for thanksgiving in times of national peril, no reason for rejoicing until the danger is past.

Canada has good cause for thanksgiving that a rich harvest of cereals, grasses, roots and fruit has been safely garnered, and that her fishermen have taken rich toll of the wealth of the seas around her coasts. She has good cause for thanksgiving that from her well-filled granaries and storehouses, food may be sent to support her armies in Europe and to alleviate the suffering of the less fortunate nations who have suffered so keenly.

Canada has good cause for thanksgiving that having passed through the "Valley of the Shadow" her brave soldiers have set their feet firmly on the solid ground and are blazing the trail to final victory.

Canada has good cause for thanksgiving that the heroism of her sons, the courage of her daughters across the seas, and the loyalty of all classes of her people, has not been dimmed in the face of the most tremendous difficulties and trials.

Canada has good cause for thanksgiving that the men who control her destinies are statesmen of broad vision, of unquestioned loyalty and unsparing self-sacrifice.

From each and every heart some short prayer of thankfulness must dutifully be spoken. By this one, for abounding health, by that, for material benefits; for this, for the love of family and the affection of friends by that for success in achievement.

And the royal army of brave women of Canada whose dear ones have volunteered to defend our homes and our honor. They give thanks from day to day. Those whose loved ones are spared utter their heartfelt prayers of thankfulness, while those whose sons or husbands or brothers have gone forward into the Great Beyond, proudly give their tearful thanks because their loved ones have inscribed their names on the Golden Roll whose deeds of heroism Canada will, forever, honor.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Editor Review: I wish to commend to the general public the work of the Children's Aid Society and also to make a personal appeal for a generous contribution on Tag Day this coming Saturday.

Those who have been connected with the Society for many years state that the work was never in better shape than it is right now. The Shelter is in charge of a most efficient and satisfactory superintendent and a visit on the part of those interested in children would be well worth while. The Agent of the Society is also a most capable and conscientious man and he is making it his daily business to improve the conditions of homes in the city and county where little children are being raised under unfavorable conditions.

Altogether there is no object more worthy of support than that of caring for little children who are unable to do anything for themselves. A number of men and women of the city and county devote a great deal of time each month free of charge to this work. The Agent and the Superintendent of the Shelter are the only ones who receive any remuneration. Those of us who are closely in touch with the work look with confidence to the public generally to be generous when the opportunity comes next Saturday to help improve the condition and environment of neglected children in our vicinity.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH WEARING.

A MINISTER'S TRIBUTE

Editor Review—Having represented the ministerial association upon the board of the Children's Aid Society for the past year, I have been in a position to know something of its workings and of the earnest efforts being put forth in its behalf, by a number of our public spirited citizens. Will you then allow me to say a word appropos to the approach of its annual tag day.

Surely there is no work in time of war or any other time, more calculated to appeal to our sympathy and generosity, than that of the Children's Aid. There is no finer work being carried on in our community. It is truly religious and eminently patriotic.

It has occurred to me, however, that such a work is in danger of suffering the disadvantage of all public charities, that of being regarded simply as an institution. An institution as such, doesn't appeal to us. It is too impersonal, too lacking in the very thing which constitutes the basis of sympathetic appeal. It doesn't speak to us with any heart. The inmates of an institution are usually dressed alike and this atrocious custom well represents the idea too often in the public mind and heart, that of a machine where the ordinary emotions and hopes and ambitions of life figure very little.

Let us not be hardened by a spirit of institutionalism. When we think of our "children's shelter" let us have in mind the little ones, who are being cared for within its walls. Here are boys and girls, who have not had the chance that comes to the average boy and girl. They have known little of all that is represented to most of us by the word "home", while some of them have suffered from almost criminal neglect on the part of parents and others. It is the aim of those who have taken their case in hand to give them the opportunity of becoming respectable and useful citizens.

Let us bear in mind that every contribution dropped in the boxes next Saturday, will go to help some boy or girl who depends upon the charity of a christian public. If we only keep in mind the claim of the individual behind the institution, the average contribution will be larger than it usually is and will represent a great deal more than the price of a tag. Yours faithfully,

R. B. GROBB.

Rheumatism
A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

MUSIC AND THE SCHOOLS

Children Should Learn the Fine Arts and Their Influence

Undoubtedly it is pleasing to hear the singing of school children at the Exhibition and elsewhere, even when the music is confined wholly to patriotic airs familiar to us all. Yet such singing is not a proof that the average manner of music teaching in the schools is what it should be. Not long ago in Toronto a boy whose voice was changing was threatened with dire consequences if he continued singing an octave lower than the rest of his class. The competence of that teacher to conduct a music lesson is surely open to question. Class singing is excellent, but a simple explanation of the aim of musical art should go with it.

It is possible today for a child to make the entire Public School course without learning a word about the Fine Arts and their influence. One may go farther, and declare that most youths and maidens who graduate from High School do not know whether Correggio fought battles or dug post holes. They cannot describe the work of Gluck. For all they know, he and Velasquez may have been partners in an early hardware business. In a word we have left out of our curriculum the only two subjects which tend towards civilization, religion and the fine Arts. Our young people know nothing of the uses of music as a language for the expression of high and noble thoughts. The history of the art is a sealed book. Musical form is an empty expression. Class singing is good. If it were based on genuine folk song it would be better. But this also ye should have done, and not left the other undone.

There will be no infantry school held at Kingston this fall, as the depot battalions are making the necessary arrangements for instruction of N. C. O.'s required to carry on the work.

WAGNER AND GERMANY

Wagner Was All For Revolution and A Free Hand

During the Toronto Exhibition the conductor of Innes' Band was rebuked by an Editor because a number by Wagner appeared on one of his programmes. That the criticism was noted is practically certain, for subsequently programmes leaned hard on French and British composers. The editorial article made the curious declaration that Wagner was the embodiment of the Prussian spirit which has swept the world into disaster. This would be an interesting and important statement, if it could be proved. Wagner was a spacious, an Imperial genius, but he was so much out of harmony with Prussian taste and so utterly unable to satisfy the ears of Berlin that his only refuge was in Bavaria where he was patronized by King Ludwig—who was mad.

Prussia was all for discipline and precedent. Wagner was all for revolution and a free hand. The French critics did not liken this unpopular German to Seidlitz or Frederick the Great or the Old Dessauer. They called him the Marat of music, and dubbed Berlioz, the Robespierre. It is clear, therefore, that in Wagner's music itself there is no echo of the iron ramrod, no memory of the goose step. It is involved—like German Philosophy— but not false. It is fiercely national, but no satire on the German art—temper is more bitter than the inspired music of Die Meistersinger.

For all this, there is reasonableness in the Editor's attitude. After Wagner died, Germany accepted him as a great man, and immediately assumed that no other great man ever lived. Accordingly the Music Dramas were exploited as proofs of Germany's destiny to lead the world by the ear into the rarefied atmosphere of Kulture. For twenty years past the name Germany has meant to us all soldiers, cheap manufactured goods, and Wagner. Inevitably a Wagner strain in these times reminds us of the Lusitania and therefore is objectionable fare at a public concert. Wagner is the central figure of German Kultur, not because he would have chosen that position, but because the violent took him by force and placed him there.

Against Bach, Beethoven and Mendelssohn there is no such objection. They died long before the Dragon of 1870 came to full growth and devoured Austria and France in successive meals. But the real musical bete noir in Allied circles is Richard Strauss. His symphonic poems have today no more charm than signed photographs of Von Tirpitz or the Kaiser. He is the official composer to Prussianism—a noisy egotist who would bestride the world like a Colossus. Symphony orchestras in Canada and the United States will be wise to perform no Strauss this season.

..CONCERT ON VOLCANO RIM...

Unique Serenade to Mme. Pele, Hawaiian Goddess.

Word comes from Honolulu that for the first time in the history of the Hawaiian Islands, a band of musicians gave a concert recently on the rim of Kilauea Volcano. The serenade was given in honor of Mme. Pele, the Hawaiian goddess of all volcanoes, who, according to tradition, makes her residence in Kilauea. A few years ago the idea of a band concert at the edge of the volcano would have been regarded as a dream, but today it is possible, because of automobiles and a concrete and macadam road which leads directly from the seashore at Hilo to the rim of the crater, where a park area has been arranged. The Hilo band, composed of Hawaiians, Portugese, Filipionos, and other nationalities, made a trip from Hilo to Kilauea in two hours, walked fifty feet, and then stood upon the crags of lava directly overlooking the vast sea of molten, raging lava, which roared insistently.

The band played first the Hawaiian national air—"Hawaii Pono I"—and then "Aloba Oe," the volcano accompanying with its deep diapason.

THE PAST RISES UP.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes, the well known journalist admits that once upon a time he was on the verge of learning music. He took a series of Pianoforte lessons from no less a personage than Mr. H. A. Fricker, the new conductor of The Mendelssohn Choir at Toronto. The result, he admits, was not happy, but he has no complaints against his teacher who, although only 17 years old at the time, was full of pungency and ginger. Mr. Fricker was the assistant organist of Canterbury Cathedral at the time, a sufficient proof of his musicianship. What Mr. Hawkes was no one seems able to discover. It is counted to him for righteousness, neverthless, that he was sufficiently interested in music to start. A sorrowful world regrets that he did not stick. He has not seen Mr. Fricker since that early day and it is curious to find the two men working in the same city after so many changeful and lurid years. Some of these times they will meet and then will begin a course of mutual reminiscence. Political opponents of Mr. Hawkes may be expected to secure soon an introduction to the famous conductor in order to unveil Mr. Hawkes extraordinary past. The moral of this tale is, Be good when you are a boy, and keep up your practice.

MUSICAL PICTURES.

All Art Constantly Aspires to the Condition of Music.

How many beautiful pictures would be lost to the world had there not been close association between music and painting! If it be true as Pater said that "all art constantly aspires to the condition of music the painter's art should be at its best when treating musical subjects. Writing in the Windsor Magazine some years ago Tustin Chester said: "Music which occupies an intercalary portion of our lives, and song, which is music with the subtle weft of thought woven into the wool of sound, touch the highest point of the artistic ideal when they are allied to paint, for then each of the several arts of music and poetry and paint are blended in unity."

Such pictures are readily recalled to mind. In the Birmingham Art Gallery hangs the splendid work, "The Village Philharmonic," by Stanhope Forbes whose "Andante Expressivo" is perhaps not so well known. Frank Dicksee's "Harmony," is in the National Gallery of British Art in London and the touching treatment of "Strangers in a Strange Land" by Albert Starling in the Walker Art Gallery, Liverpool.

The lyre and harp are hushed and neglected in Arthur Hacker's "By the Rivers of Babylon." The pathetic figure of "The Blind Girl" by Sir John Everett Millais shows her unable to see the beauty of the Rainbow and the colors of nature, though on her lap is an accordeon and the resigned and contented look on her beautiful face bespeak the power of music in human life.

Other musical pictures that bear close study are "The End of the Song" by G. C. Wilmhurst; "The Triumph of Music" by Lord Leighton; "A Violin Concerto' by John Percival Gulich; "The Moonlight Sonata" by Ernest Oppler; "The Minstrel" by H. Stacy Marks; "A Music Lesson" by Frank H. Potter; "The Sheik's Daughter" by N. Sichel; "The Blind Fiddler" by Wilkie; "Choir of Angels" by the French artist Simon Marmoin; "The Music Master" by Jan Steen; "The Quartette" by Albert Moore; and "The Music of the Pines" by G. H. Broughton.

There are two treatments of "The Boy David Playing before Saul" one by Ernest Normand and the other by B. Fitzjohn Crisp.

One has only to observe visitors at an art gallery to be impressed with the tremendous appeal there is in good painting of a musical subject.

Select for yourself the article you desire to purchase. Inquire its price.

If quality and price please you, be sure that you get in weight or measure the amount you buy. Watch the scale. Watch the measure.

You are entitled to all the bone and the trimmings of the piece of meat that you buy. You should take home and make use of such bone and trimmings. The fat can be rendered and used for cooking purposes; the bone and trimmings used for soup or stew. When the trimmings are not taken home, the butcher throws them into a box under the counter and sells them to someone else. They belong to you and you should have them.

In buying meat, don't go in and ask for 25c. worth of meat, and leave the butcher to decide how much meat you should have for a quarter. Select your piece of meat, ask the price per pound; say how many pounds you want; have it weighed; see that you get your weight and that the butcher's calculation as to how much meat you have, at a certain price per pound, is correct. Many a penny is lost to the customer by neglecting the above simple precautions.

Don't buy in small quantities if you can possibly avoid it. Buy for cash and buy in large quantities foods that are not perishable. Buy where you can do the best.

Wherever possible buy in bulk and not in package.

You will find it cheaper to buy your vinegar by the gallon than by the bottle.

Have you ever stopped to figure out how much more you would get for your money if you bought certain articles of food by the pound instead of by the package?

Food that is wrapped and sold in attractive-looking packages must of necessity cost more than the same food sold in bulk, which means sold by the pound. There are several reasons why so many foods are put up in packages.

First. The package looks pretty, appeals to the eye, and makes the food seem more appetizing.

Second. Most of the packages are air-tight and dustproof, and for sanitary reasons a great many people prefer food that is done up in packages.

As a matter of fact, it is possible for your grocer to keep on hand, in bulk, exactly the same foods as the packages contain, and it is also possible for him to keep them in bulk in sanitary, dustproof containers, so that the foods should be clean when they get to you.

HAVE THE ALLEGED "DIPS" BEAT IT BACK TO BOSTON?

Three of Those Charged With Picking Pockets Are Released on $1000 Bail Each and Disappear — Two Had Certificates of Character From American Officials.

Three of the four alleged pickpockets under remand for a third hearing in the police court on October 9th, furnished personal bail of $1000 each, and are at liberty. County Crown Attorney Hatton accepted bail yesterday morning and the men were released at eleven oclock.

Men of High Character?

The police had not been notified of the men's release, and when Detective Newhall arrived at the jail this morning to convey J. D. Carrold to the police court for sentence he was astonished to find the prisoners gone.

The men on bail are Americans, hailing from Boston, two of whom at least carried the best of recommendations as to their worthiness to enter this country. County Crown Attorney Hatton has one of these in his possession. It is type-written on official paper and is apparently signed by Mayor Jas. M. Curley of Boston, and bears that corporation's seal.

This document expresses Mayor Curley's pleasure in attesting to the citizenship of Owen Foley (one of the alleged pickpockets), and recommends his admission into any neutral country as a person of high standing and character in Boston. The closing sentence reads: "Bearer is entitled to free right of entry to any country.

At least one other of these alleged pickpockets bare a similar testimony to his high character and standing, and Crown Attorney Hatton is astonished that such questionable Americans can secure certificates of this nature. He is going to write the Canadian Government officials in this connection.

Have They Flitted.

So far as known these three men have not been seen since released on bail. When they were leaving the jail one of them turned to Carrold, the cheque artist, winked his eye and remarked, "Peterborough will not see us again."

The other member of this quartette, is Sam Searting, a Jew, hailing from Toronto. Not being as fortunate as his companions in the matter of bail, he still languishes in jail.

Should the three liberated suspects forfeit their bail, the $3000 will go to the Provincial Government, not one cent for costs or otherwise to Peterborough City.

KEENE FALL FAIR IS HELD IN A CEASELESS DRIZZLE

In Spite of Unfavorable Weather Conditions Attendance Was Good and all the Prizes Were Awarded—List of Winners in the Different Classes.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Keene, Oct. 3.—The second day of the annual exhibition of Otonabee township was held in a ceaseless drizzle of rain, which, however, did not altogether dampen the ardor of the officials and the patrons. Every event was pulled off according to schedule. The list of entries was almost complete in every class, and nothing but the weather prevented this from being the banner exhibition of the association. Even under these unfortunate conditions the attendance was fairly good, but the receipts at the gate will amount to only $167.65 as against $266 last year.

The success of the exhibition is due almost entirely to the tireless energy of the officials, who from the first have spared no pains. Those who gave so much time to promote the affair were the following well-known gentlemen:

Toronto Man Gains Seventeen Pounds on Tanlac—Friends Amazed Over His Recovery.

"I have actually gained seventeen pounds by taking Tanlac, and my recovery has been a surprise to myself as well as to all who knew of my dreadful condition," said Walter F. Brown at his residence, 132 Yorkville street, Toronto, recently. Mr Brown, who has been a resident of Toronto all his life, was for many years a travelling salesman and is now employed by the Robert Simpson Company. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, also of the Commercial Travellers' Association, and is highly respected by all who know him.

"If I could have had Tanlac five years ago," continued Mr. Brown, "I could have saved myself not only a world of suffering but more than a thousand dollars, which I paid out for other treatment and medicines that failed to do me any good. I don't reckon anyone ever had a worse case of stomach trouble than I had. In fact, I got so bad off I was given up to die by my family and friends, and had lost about all hope myself of ever getting well. Even the most delicate and dainty dishes failed to arouse any appetite and the least bit of food of any kind caused me intense suffering. I would bloat up terribly with gas, had a mean, agonizing pain in the pit of my stomach and was never free from headache. No matter what I ate, my suffering was awful, and for over nine months at one time was on a light diet. Half the time I couldn't put on my boots or dress myself, because I didn't have the strength, and my desperate condition can be better understood when I say I had fallen off from one hundred and thirty-five pounds to only ninety-six. I was nothing but a frame of skin and bones, was so nervous I could hardly sleep, and felt so irritable and bad I didn't want anyone around me at all. Every thing was done for me, it sems, that could be—X-ray photographs of my stomach were made, stomach pumps used, and every treatment known, but no one seemed to understand my case, and I kept getting worse. After spending eight months in the hospital here to no avail I was advised to go to Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York, and I spent three months there but still didn't improve one bit. I felt that life was hardly worth living, and had lost all faith in medicines.

"One day, while talking to my brother-in-law, he asked me why I didn't take Tanlac, and I said, 'No, I have taken enough stuff. Nothing will do me any good.' But he insisted until I bought a bottle, and Providence was surely guiding me that day, for I firmly believe that was the move that saved my life. To say it is wonderful the way Tanlac has helped me doesn't half way express it. I'm already feeling a thousand times better and am on the road to health after five years of torture. I have already picked up from ninety-six to one hundred and thirteen pounds, and am looking and feeling better than I have in years. My appetite is fine, the gas and pain have all disappeared from my stomach, and I can eat most anything I want without the slightest inconvenience. My friends are simply amazed at my wonderful improvement. I have also told the physicians who did all they could for me, what I am taking, and they say they never saw such a change in a man. I believe Tanlac has saved my life and deserves more than I will ever be able to say for it. I will be glad to write to anyone who wishes to verify this statement and tell them what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and in Havelock by A. C. Denike.

BOY RUN OVER

Son of Lindsay Doctor Run Down by Bicyclist

On Tuesday last the little son of Dr. and Mrs. McCulloch, Lindsay, sustained serious injuries when he was run down by a bicyclist.

The boy was on his way home from the Central school when the accident occurred. His head struck the pavement, causing concussion of the brain, and he was also bruised about the head and body. The little sufferer is resting well and progressing favorably.

The 258th (French-Canadian) Battalion, under Lieut.-Col. the Hon. P. E. Blondin, left Montreal about 300 strong for further training elsewhere.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

WHO IS TO WIN THE WORLD SERIES?

Boy, page Old Man Experience. He is wanted at the enunciator's booth. Mr. Fan wants to know what his verdict is on the 1917 world's series. Does he point to the White Sox or Giants?

Old Man Experience not being in, let Old Man Dope answer for him. Here's his verdict:

"Experience favors the Giants to win the flag."

This, based on the experience of contenders in this post season clash, shows that the Giants have seven veterans who have been under fire in the first line baseball trenches. The White Sox have only two.

McGraw comes first in experience in the big classic. He has led clubs in four world's series and goes into his fifth. Jeff Tesreau helped carry the pitching burden in the world's series of 1912 and 1913.

Herzog and Fletcher "Vets"

"Buck" Herzog and Art Fletcher, infielders, participated in the world clashes of 1911. 1912 and 1913. Heinie Zimmerman was a member of the old Cub machine under Frank Chance that battled the Athletics in 1910 George Gibson was one of the catchers for the Pirates when they won the championship in their struggle with the Detroit Tigers in 1909. Al Demaree and George Burns, pitcher and left fielder, were with the Giants in their battles with the Athletics in 1913.

Eddie Collins and Eddie Murphy are the only members of the White Sox who have seen service in a post season classic, if one excepts the Chicago series. Collins was a member of Mack's $100,000 infield—a machine that figured in four world's series Eddie Murphy has seen service in a world's series with Mack.

Point to Red Sox in 1912

Experience doesn't always count, however, and this dope may be upset. The Red Sox of 1912 were not nearly as experienced in world clashes as were the Giants, yet Jake Stahl led the Hub team to a pennant that year.

In 1914 experience pointed strongly to the Athletics to win the flag; in fact, several well known critics picked Mack's clan to grab four straight The less experienced Braves came through and won the championship, sweeping all four games from their American league foes.

Benny Kauff and Heinie Zimmerman were among the 15.000 spies watching the White Sox play here Saturday. They inspected the work of Eddie Cicotte closely. When the Yanks tripled and singled off Cicotte it was cause for glee on the part of Kauff.

"Guess we won't do a thing to Cicotte," said Benny, turning to Heinie. Heinie nodded assent.

Then Cicotte tightened up and the Yankees didn't get another tally.

"Say, that Cicotte certainly is a wonder for tightening up, isn't he?" said Benny to Heinie near the close of the game.

FIRE HALL AND FIREMEN'S CLOTHING INSPECTED

On the Whole Creditable Conditions Prevail ---16 Beds for 17 Men---Horses in Pink of Condition---Ald. Duncan Makes Discovery

The Council's Fire, Water and Light Committee were scheduled to meet last night, but as only Chairman Ald. Dobbin and Aldermen Smith and Duncan put in an appearance, adjournment was made to the fire hall on a visit of inspection.

The firemen dressed in their new heavy winter serge suits, made by George Ball, lined up in the spacious, well ordered, bright and cheerful bedroom for inspection. Both men and suits were passed into category A. Their caps are also new, and were supplied by McWilliams & Co. They are in keeping with the suits.

16 Beds For 17 Men.

The brigade is now at full strength, and the discovery was made that there are only 16 beds for 17 men. Another bed will unquestionably be authorized. One man being away on his holidays no inconvenience from shortage in sleeping accommodation is being experienced at present.

Minor repairs to the floor of the men's bedroom will be ordered

Lineman's Increase.

Chief Grange was assured that Lineman Burketon's increase of $100 a year under his new rating will date from October first. This policy will also obtain in regard to Assistant Chief Johnston's appointment last Monday.

Repairs in Stalls.

On descending to the ground floor Chairman Ald. Dobbin was invited to make use of the "hurry" pole. He declined with thanks.

In the stable the visitors were introduced to Fred, Brook, Will and Bert, who were pronounced in the pink of condition. (Fred, Brook, Will and Bert are horses, not firemen).

The posts of the stalls are rotted and somewhat loose. Repairs were authorized.

Stored Away and Forgotten.

The condition of the basement is orderly and clean. Alderman Duncan, however, was annoyed at finding there a couple of seats belonging to the little park at the corner of Charlotte and Park streets. They were originally purchased when he was chairman of the Property Com. for the convenience of citizens waiting for cars at this point where three street railway routes meet. Last winter these seats were stored in the fire hall, and were apparently lost sight of.

On the whole conditions at the fire hall are of a creditable nature to all concerned.

STAR CARRIES CHARMS

When Molla Bjursted, the tennis star, played in Detroit recently, spectators notices she wore a heavy pendant of a peculiar design. The Norwegian athlete admitted that the article came from the far east and was supposed to bring good luck to the wearer.

Miss Bjursted also carried another charm on her travels. It is a stone, egg shaped, which resembles an Indian hammer head. The rock weighs several pounds and a cautious investigator learned that Miss Bjursted generally allows some one else to carry her suitcase for her.

FOUND DIAMOND ON LITTLE TOE

WORTHLESS CHEQUE ARTIST SENTENCED TO ONE YEAR IN CENTRAL PRISON.

At the police court this morning J. D. Carrold, who was remanded last week on the charge of breaking into Cressman's store and stealing there from a suit of clothes and overcoat, valued at $25, for which he had previously tendered a worthless cheque.

Prisoner was also charged with obtaining a diamond ring from Mr. Stanley Warne on September 15th by means of a worthless cheque.

He pleaded guilty to both charges and was sentenced to one year in the central prison on concurrent sentence.

Mr. V. G. McElderry appeared for the prisoner and pleaded for leniency on the ground of prisoner having seen service in the trenches 22 months, where he sustained shell shock and was discharged. Subsequently he enlisted a second time, but was released at Barriefield owing to defective eyesight. He came to Peterborough to get employment which was refused him everywhere he applied. Counsel also contended that shell shock might have somewhat affected prisoner's moral reasoning powers.

All the stolen property had been recovered. The police found the stolen diamond ring, worth $75, on prisoner's little toe.

REMEMBER THE CHILDREN'S AID

NEW QUARTERS FOR VETS. PROMISED BY CITIZENS

Temporary Premises Now, Permanent Building Later---Rousing Meeting Last Night---Peterborough Club Suggested---N. F. R. Knight, Dominion Sec. G. W. V .A in Eloquent Address.

The public meeting in the Council Chamber last night, to discuss ways and means of procuring for the Great War Veterans Association suitable headquarters in which to meet end transact business, was very largely attended. The meeting was thoroughly representative, its attendants including ladies from the several patriotic societies, aldermen, business, legal and professional citizens, and war veterans. A distinguished visitor was Sergt. N. F. R. Knight, of Ottawa, Dominion Secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association.

The meeting was characterized by extreme enthusiasm in a worthy cause, and an atmosphere of determination to provide the returned soldiers with all requirements needed.

Mayor Duffus presided.

Assured of Quarters.

The proceedings resulted in the adoption of a resolution moved by Messrs. Joseph Wearing and R. R. Hall appointing Mrs. W. R. Morris, the Mayor, R. N. Gordon, J. J. Turner, and three members of the G.W.V.A. (to be named later) to see what arrangements can be made whereby either veterans may become life members of the Peterborough Club, or that building acquired temporarily until such time as a new end permanent G.W.B.A. structure can be erected. Should this proposition fail them the committee is to report on any other scheme available.

Any plan resolved upon will be at the expense of the community, those present having confidently pledged themselves to see that the necessary funds are raised.

Entitled to Support.

Mayor Duffus opened the meeting by explaining its object as published, and in the course of a fitting address contended that Peterborough Veterans are entitled to every reasonable consideration. The boys who have gone overseas, he said, have made Canada great in the eyes of the Empire, and Peterborough should be proud of her record for having given to the war the second largest number of men from any one municipality in the Dominion, in proportion to population.

His worship was not prepared to say exactly what should be done, or that anything in the nature of a perpetual memorial should be undertaken at this time. On this question citizens and veterans present should exchange views and adopt some coordinate action to effect the desired end. He did not think the erection of a building would sufficiently perpetuate the memory of those who had made the supreme sacrifice. Such memorial should take the shape of a monument or something of that nature.

As to the city making a grant of several thousand dollars, the Mayor pointed out that there are many demands upon the corporation now, and during the next two or three years Peterborough will pass through the most critical stages ever known in its history. Every issue of debentures means a raise in rates and as taxes increase a city becomes so much less desirable to live in. Any means of keeping the rates down should be resorted to; the question before the meeting should be referred to a committee of ladies and war veterans, and the responsibility for whatever scheme is undertaken shouldered by citizens generally.

In conclusion, his worship said that 4000 soldiers from this city have gone to the front, of which up to the present but a small proportion are home again, and that the acquisition of any permanent club building should remain in obeyance until those still to return may have opportunity to voice their views on the subject. He hoped that in the near future Peterborough will furnish a fitting perpetual memorial to her gallant sons who have laid down their lives in defence of the Empire and of liberty and civilization.

89 Branches in Canada.

Sergt. Knight, Dominion Secretary of the G.W.V.A. in the course of an excellent and instructive address, declared that when Canadian soldiers began to return they were characterized as a shiftless bunch of worthless kickers, incapable of organizing or transacting business—in fact no epithet in the English vocabulary was too mean to besmirch them with. The first movement to organize a G.W.V.A. in Winnipeg was laughed at, but today this association in Canada enjoys a membership of 23,780, over 96 percent of whom are men returned from the front. There are 89 branches all told, one of which numbers 487 men. As to the quality of returned veterans, he ventured to say that in their ranks there can be found men capable of filling any job in the country.

Ask Nothing Undeserved.

We do not ask, he continued anything undeserved or unreasonable. The object of every returned soldier is to become self-supporting and self-producing as fast as he can—he does not seek charity. The war has engendered in him a citizenship purified and sanctified by suffering and hardship. Compared with him, the man who makes millions is but a poor specimen of citizenship if he cannot show any self-sacrifice in the great cause.

Tired of Living?

Turning to the object of the meeting the eloquent veteran said, "You may be tired of the war and even tired of giving. But how about the men at the front? Some of them who went with me in the Gordon Highlanders are there yet. They, like those gallant heroes in the retreat from Mons, have suffered and are suffering the tortures of the damned. Do you not think they are tired of the war? But still they fight on and cheerfully make the sacrifice. I tell you men's hearts are breaking over there, and all I ask of you is a square deal for them now and when they come back. The day will come when the war veterans will hang together for our rights in opposition to the idea of Mr. Dennison of the C.P.R., that concentration camps for returned soldiers are good enough.

Objects of G.W.V.A.

Referring to the aims and objects of the association, the speaker asserted that the kind of men wanted and coming from the front are men as eager to serve their country as civilians as when they donned khaki. Those are the men who are going

SITUATION IN RUSSIA ACUTE

KERENSKY DEFIES CONGRESS BY TAKING AN EXACTLY OPPOSITE COURSE.

Petrograd, Oct. 5.—Premier Kerensky has again asserted his authority and defied the Democratic Congress by announcing a new coalition government which was exactly what the congress declared against. Further than that Kerensky has announced that the New Cabinet will include members of the constitutional democratic party which was bitterly opposed by the Congress.

Thus the political situation in Russia has again become acute.

BRITAIN ACCLAIMS LAST MOVE AGAINST HUNS AS ONE OF THE GREATEST VICTORIES OF THE WAR

Foe So Severely Crushed That He is Unable to Make Any Counter Attacks of Moment -- English and Anzacs Engaged in Big Offensive---British Casualties Light.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Oct. 5.—This morning official statement of the big British victory in Flanders indicates that the Mother Country and Australian troops were prominent in the action. The statement says. "The assault was delivered by English, Australian and New Zealand divisions. Included among the British troops were battalions from twenty-eight English counties. There were also two battalions from Scotland, Ireland and Wales. At all points rapid progress was made from the start.

The enemy losses throughout the whole fighting have been exceedingly heavy being greatly increased by the unusual number of German troops on the battle front at the opening of our attack. Our casualties have been light.

In addition to the prisoners taken we also captured a few guns and much other war material. The villages of Beutel and Noordenhoek were captured by English troops who also secured the high ground overlooking Becelaere east of Ypres. Australian regiments took the village of Broodseinde and established themselves well over the ridge five miles east of Ypres.

No Counter Attacks

The Germans have undertaken no further counter attacks against the positions east of Ypres gained by the British in yesterday's offensive, although they kept them under a heavy fire during the night.

The British are consolidating their newly won ground.

The following official statement was given out today: "Our new positions east of Ypres were heavily shelled by the enemy during the night, but no further counter attacks were made. Our troops have been engaged with organizing the captured positions. A hostile raiding party endeavored to enter our trenches last night North of Gouzeavcourt, but was driven off with loss."

Acclaim the Victory

All over Britain today the victory is being acclaimed as one of the greatest since the war started. It is pointed out that the Germans are apparently so badly defeated, following Haig's thrust, that they are not able to make counter attacks of any moment.

French Repulse Attack

Paris, Oct. 5.—French troops during last night repulsed German surprise attacks in Champagne and in Upper Alsace, the official statement from the war office today says. There was violent artillery activity along the right bank of the Heuse in the Verdun region.

SOCIETY AIMS AT $2000

Mrs. Knox, convenor of the committee in charge of preparations for Tag Day tomorrow, has completed all arrangements, and the force of volunteers has been thoroughly organized. Every large plant in the city will be canvassed, and the ambition of the workers is to raise $2000. This means less than one cent each for every man, woman and child in the city, or about forty cents for each family, if all contributed alike.

Agent Powell has sent out upwards of 2,000 appeals for contributions to those residents of the city who are best able in a financial sense to render aid.

Wil lthe residents of the city, before they sleep tonight, ponder the following facts:

> "A child's needless tear is a blood-blot upon this earth."
> "The greatest peril to life and property is to be found in the neglected youth of our large cities."
> "The cost of saving a child is only five per cent. of the cost of arresting and punishing a criminal."
> "Among all the social problems which are today, to a greater extent than ever before, engaging the attention of society at large, none is of so vast importance as is the education of the young and the application of correct principles to the training of youth."

It is the Children's Aid Society who are attempting to dry the tears that are shed by children for causes that may be removed.

It is the members of the Children's Aid Society who are the nation's best guardians in saving it from potential criminals and in working out the salvation of those deprived of their natural protectors.

And this is the Society that asks a wealthy city like Peterborough for $2000 to carry on so important a work.

QUEBEC CITY IS WITH THE DRYS

PROHIBITION CARRIED THERE YESTERDAY BY 2,200 MAJORITY.

Quebec, Oct. 5.—Quebec city has gone dry. By a majority of 2,200, prohibition was carried yesterday after the bitterest fight this city has seen in years.

No political campaign, even in the bitterest contests, took on the gait of the present struggle of bar licenses against total prohibition, and on both sides every sort of argument was brought into play. The clergy, Protestant as well as Roman Catholic, took a prominent part in the fight, and a series of religious ceremonies in all of the fifteen Roman Catholic parishes were held every evening since Sunday, where preachers told the people that it was their duty to bring in prohibition in Quebec.

Montreal Next

The victory of the prohibition movement in Quebec city is no mean step towards a general prohibition movement throughout the entire Province, and it is a known fact that now that Quebec city has gone dry Montreal will be the next tower to be butted by the prohibitionists, and it is estimated that there, as well as in Quebec city the measure will pass.

CANADA'S DEBT 901 MILLIONS

INCREASED BY NEARLY 87 MILLIONS DURING MONTH OF SEPTEMBER.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—Dominion of Canada revenues during the six months ending September 13th, showed an increase of twenty-five millions over the same period last year, the total for the six months of this year being $127,477,904. Ordinary expenditures were about fifty millions, being half a million more than last year. Cap-

PTE. STARK WAS BURIED ALIVE FOUR HOURS

Otonabee Boy Writes Home of Miraculous Escape From Death.

WITH CAMERON HIGHLANDERS

Is Still in Hospital and May Not be Fit For Duty Again.

Mrs. William Stark of Otonabee has received a letter from her soldier son, Pte. Adam Stark, from the Horton War Hospital in England. Pte. Stark was in the West when the war broke out and enlisted in Winnipeg with the Cameron Highlanders going overseas the autumn of 1915. He was wounded about three months ago and his letter home explains how it happened. It is as follows:

Well, I suppose I ought to be kicked for not writing sooner. However, I am in Blighty now. Yes mother I am feeling pretty well again. When they got the particulars regarding how I got wounded, they sent me right away here. Well I was out to the town today and I met a fellow that was with me and got hurt with the same shell which buried me. Yes there were five of us coming out of the trenches together. It appears the fellow that got killed was along side of me, and we were buried in the trenches. The other three managed to get out to the dressing station So they sent the stretcherbearers after us. I suppose I had to lie there four hours before they got me out. However, I was unconscious and did not know what had happened me Well they did very well to get me out alive anyhow, as poor MacDonald that was with me was killed outright. However, there is no need to worry about it now, as I am gaining every day and will soon be a better man than I was before Fritz buried me with his old gas shell.

Yes I suppose I will get ten days leave when I am through with the hospital here. However, this is a fake place and I will be sorry to leave, and I cannot say if I will be fit for France again or not. But I will not worry much if I am not.

POLICE MUST RENDER HELP

AND SEE THAT ORDERS OF THE FOOD CONTROLLER ARE ENFORCED.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—In future police authorities of all Canadian municipalities are, in duty bound, to see that the regulations of Food Controller Hanna are carried out. This announcement was made today by Mr. Hanna's department, who said that the regulations had now been incorporated into the federal laws.

CAPT. POTTS IS ATTESTING SERVICE MEN EXAMINED

G. Garfield Torrance, Former 93rd Bandsman, Signs up For Forestry Unit This Morning---18 Examined 173, Rejected 42

Capt. G. H. Potts of the Railway Examining Board at the Armouries, have since its inception, examined 173 men in preparation for conscription proclamation. Of these 42 men have been rejected and two certificates withheld for further examination. The number of applicants passed into the three categaries rendering them eligible for one or the other branches of military service is 130.

One Man Attested

Capt. G. H. Potts o fthe Railway Construction and Forestry Depot, Ottawa, this morning signed up G. Garfield Torrance, 466 Park street, for this unit. Torrance was a drummer with the 93rd battalion with which he went overseas, and returned when the band was broken up. He was attested this morning and passed in A categary.

Capt. Potts expects to sign up one other man this afternoon, should his medical certificate permit. He has established his attesting quarters in the anteroom of the medical examining room, and will attest applicants for any unit except artillery. The men have a chance of units now, but this will be denied them after proclamation is issued.

18 This Morning

This morning was a busy one for Drs. Cameron, Eastwood and Greer, 18 men being presented with their certificates, which read as follows: Category A four, B. one, C. seven and E. six. Most of these men were from the C. G. E. as is the experience at the morning and afternoon sessions.

Only Two Rejections

Last night there were two rejections out of 15 men examined. The grading was as follows: Category A nine, B. one, C. three and E. two. Category B does not show very frequently of late in certificates issued.

12 Yesterday Afternoon

Yesterday afternoon's session saw 11 candidates through their medical test, eight of whom were C. G. E. employes, and six of whom were rejected in category E. The other grading was A two, C one and one certificate held over.

How About the 57th

As grade B and C men will have no present military obligations they might display their patriotism by joining the 57th militia battalion. A large percentage of this home force has gone overseas and an effort should be made to build the unit up to regulation strength. B and C men, by swelling the ranks of the 57th, and training one evening each week, would give Peterborough a substantial home fighting unit prepared to meet any emergency that might arise within Canada's borders.

London, Oct. 5.—The British cruiser Drake has been torpedoed and sunk according to an admiralty announcement.

The Drake was torpedoed Tuesday morning off the north coast of Ireland. She reached a harbor, but then sank in shallow water.

One officer and eighteen men were killed by the explosion. The remainder of the ship's company were saved.

The Drake was a vessel of 14,100 tons. She was built at Pembroke in 1901, and had a speed of 23 knots. Her complement was 900 men.

A sister ship of the Drake, the Good Hope, was sunk in the battle off Coronel, Chile, in 1914, with a loss of 887 men. The Drake was well known in eastern American waters, having several times visited the U. S. and Canadian ports.

Heavy Fighting on Roumanian Front

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Petrograd, Oct. 5.—Heavy fighting occurred yesterday on the Roumanian front the war office reports. Near Radautz an attack was checked by Russian artillery in the Buzeu region. The Bulgarians made an advance, but later were driven back on the Caucasian front. The Russians captured a bridge near Cromaru.

SPECIAL PRIZE PERIOD ENDS TO-MORROW NIGHT

$50.00 in Gold for Someone---Readers Are Urged to Help Their Favorites Now---Contest Nearing End --- 19 Working Days Are Left.

At present the outcome of the six-day Special Prize Contest is extremely doubtful. Doubtful owing to the fact that the elegant prize is amply appreciated by each and every contestant. Its value would naturally appeal to the fancy of any lady but there is something more than value evidenced in this splendid prize. This "something" does not alone charm the "fancy," but awakens an impetuous desire—stirs up the flame of ambition in the heart of all its competitors—hence the uncertainty of the result.

REMEMBER CANDIDATES YOUR CHANCE TO WIN THE FIFTY DOLLARS IN GOLD EXPIRES TO-MORROW NIGHT AT 10 O'CLOCK. Also remember that votes polled for this prize will be placed to your credit in the stand for the Grand Prize.

All Are Equal.

Do not let it slip out of your mind that all started on an equal footing for the special prize The Review will give away for the best work done this week. The one way down on the list starts at the same mark as the one at the top. Remember, only subscriptions turned in between last Monday and tomorrow will be counted in awarding the prize.

If fifty dollars in gold looks good to you, get busy at once and get the votes that will win it. These votes will also send you higher up on the list for the grand prize.

Do a Little Each Day.

The number of votes resulting from only a few subscriptions may make a difference in the way the big race will end. Therefore it behooves every contestant to work while the contest is on—so that when the voting is over they will not realise to their sorrow the truthfulness of the saying: "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these—It might have been." Might have been that you won the grand prize, $1235 Touring Car, in place of your competitor.

Subscribers are urged to help their favorites win the extra prize. You will, undoubtedly, pay your subscription very soon, so why not do it now and help some one win a great prize. DO IT NOW.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1917

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

"The old age pension system has universally proved to be, and unquestionably will be, of the greatest possible service. Whether the people like it or whether they do not, what about the widows who have been suddenly bereft of their husbands, and who have been left a legacy of children, without any money to bring them up? What about the widows who have to go out to work by the day or by the week, and who, of necessity, leave their children alone while they are out? What happens to these children? Every conceivable influence may be exerted against them. The handicap is too great, and almost without exception our criminals are drawn from that source. We spend money to rot out weeds and to repress crime and punish criminals, but we do not or cannot expend money to provide a system by which mothers may be assisted and helped during those days when they ought to be in a position to stay at home to bring up, superintend and educate their little ones. To suppose that a man's leaving a wife and a family of small children without support is a condition that, without some intelligent and practical assistance and supervision, can possibly inure to the prosperity and welfare of Canada, is supposing too much altogether. Experience has shown that no matter what else we may do, at all hazards and with the least possible delay—railways or no railways — we ought to provide some means for assisting mothers who are left widows with very small children.—Capt. Burnham in Parliament, March 4, 1914.

THE COUNT FOR ALCOHOL.

EVERY TIME these days King Alcohol is inveigled into the roped arena for a fair stand-up fight with the people he goes ingloriously down for the count. His sway is broken, his day of triumph is over. He is in the same class now as the Kaiser. Al his hopes have been shattered, all his plans have gone wrong. His final finish is in sight.

Even from the large cities in the Dominion, where his foothold was generally regarded as secure, he is being ruthlessly thrown out. Quebec City, regarded as one of his citadels, voted yesterday on his fate and sent him to the scrap heap by a majority of over three thousand.

Leave it to the people. Let the scheming politicians keep away from the temperance issue. All the provinces in the Dominion are now dry but Quebec, and there, out of 976 municipalities, all are dry with the exception of 182, or a percentage of less than sixteen are still under the license system. Quebec will yet work out its own destiny in this regard. Federal interference would be unconstitutional as well as in execrable taste.

THE LETTER CARRIERS.

ASKING, as they did a year ago, for an increase of $20 a month in wages, the letter carriers were naturally dissatisfied when the Government recently announced that they would be given a war allowance of something less than one-third of that amount. The wording of the announcement, too, justified the inference that when the war is over the old scale of pay will be restored.

The letter carriers of Peterborough have asked for a board of conciliation to arbitrate their dispute with the Government. Nothing could be fairer than that. The men are convinced that they are right, that public opinion is on their side, and they are willing to abide by the result.

In their request for arbitration, the letter carriers here are in accord with their fellow-workers all over the country. Toronto carriers have adopted a similar resolution, and it is announced today that the same action has been taken by the carriers in Ottawa.

Minister of Labor Crothers must have faith in the Industrial Disputes Act, as he has always refused to consent to its repeal or serious amendments, although he has been requested by labor to do both. Here is an excellent opportunity to bring the matter home and to demonstrate to the country how the Act works in a case where the Government itself is one of the parties to the dispute.

The local letter carriers ask, in addition to the above, that they be allowed free transportation on street cars while in uniform. This means that the Government subsidy to the street railway for this purpose be increased. The transportation line will soon, it is understood, be operated by the city, so that the municipality has an interest in the outcome of this feature of the case. If the demand of the carriers is granted in this respect, it will mean a more prompt delivery of mail throughout the city and would mean, besides, an addition to the receipts of the transportation line.

WOOING THE LABOR VOTE.

ONE OF THE PLANKS in the platform of the Independent Labor Party is a demand for a Dominion-wide eight-hour working day. Capt. Burnham was in favor of this innovation long before the new party was organized, and was one of the few members of Parliament who voted for it when the matter came up in the House.

The Liberals in Peterborough, realizing their desperate position, are attempting to woo the votes of the labor party. The prospective candidate has already placed his finger on the pulse of the working men. He is ready to promise them anything that they may ask, and then, following the usual method of his party, desert them on the very first issue in which their interests are involved.

Labor will not be wheedled into taking a chance on a new man while the one available has been proved by the severest of all tests—actual experience.

IF THE KAISER HAD A VOTE.

THE KAISER owns, or at one time did own, lands in the Western Provinces, according to popular report. Suppose he were permitted to vote on his holdings, on which side would he be found?

Would he be likely to support the party that believes Canada has done enough in this war, or the one which would carry on until the aim is achieved? How, for instance, would the Kaiser vote in West Peterborough, for the out-and-out conscriptionists or for the trimmer?

That should be a good guide for the Canadians who will cast their ballots in the next election. Let them ask themselves how the Kaiser would vote, and then mark their ballots for the candidate he would be certain to oppose.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

VOTE AGAINST the Kaiser and the "quit-the-war" party in Canada.

ALL THAT labor disputes appear to require these days is fair investigation, and they evaporate.

AT ALL EVENTS it cannot be said that it was as a war measure that Quebec City adopted prohibition.

AT LEAST Sir Wilfrid Laurier played the game openly, unlike some of his scheming lieutenants in Ontario.

THE BRITISH FLAG was never designed either to cloak the designs of a political trickster or to decorate a garbage cart.

FOR EVERY person temporarily deprived of the vote under the new Franchise Act, ten receive it. Then why persist in calling it a disfranchise measure?

WILLING as they are to assume all the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, the Indians should be given the franchise on the conditions they themselves set.

WHAT DID the Liberal party in Ontario ever do for the workingman? What has the present Administration done? Think for a moment of the Compensation Act for the benefit of those injured while on duty.

CANADA'S continued prosperity is shown by the rising amount of deposits in the banks, as given in the August statement just issued. Deposits on demand have increased over the July figures by approximately $11,000,000 and represent the splendid total of $450,849,356.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Miss Rankin's Radicalism.

(Hamilton Herald.)

Miss Jeanette Rankin, the only female member of the U. S. Congress, is nothing if not radical and "advanced." Her latest plan is to nationalise the newspaper press. "The press should be run the same as the public schools," says Jeanette. "We should select the managing editor, and the papers should be delivered free at our doors. They should be purely educational." Oh, but what beautiful and continuous fighting there would be on the question of what they should teach!

The Highest Ambition.

(Desert News.)

No man can have a higher ambition than to serve his country as an aviator.

Kerensky's Choice.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Premier Kerensky seems to have reached his Rubicon. He must break with the riff-raff that claims supreme power in Petrograd, or see his government decline into absolute impotence and Russia fall into anarchy.

The New French Premier.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

As far as precocity is concerned, Paul Painleve can compare his record to the Pascals, Newtons and d'Alemberts. He knew enough of mathematics at the age of 11½ years to get his bachelor of degree. What he has done since is a matter of knowledge and admiration, both in France end elsewhere. To quite a remarkable degree the career of M. Painleve offers the combination of academic learning and strenuous public service.

"The Hun Within Our Gate."

(Chicago Tribune.)

"Living shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung."
Hun-wept, Hun-honor'd and Hun-sung.

But What Will the Farmer Say?

(Winnipeg Saturday Post.)

Until the Canadian people are ready to submit to radical reductions in the prices of farm produce, they are merely beating against the wind in clamoring for reductions in the prices of those things that the consumer must buy. In the meantime denunciations of the food controller are either ignorant or malicious or both. In any case, they are ridiculous and unjust.

Wit and Wisdom

Thereby Pleasing Many.

"Is Miss Howles an obliging singer?"

"Oh, yes; half the time she refuses to sing."

Hetty's Hibernicism.

"Did you enjoy the performance, dear?" asked Hetty's mother.

"Oh, m-m-mamma," replied the child, breathlessly, "if you'd only been there you'd be so sorry you didn't go along."

Lacked Perseverance.

He—If I ask you once to marry me and you say "No," I'll never ask you again.

She—You won't? Well, I see now why you didn't succeed as an insurance agent.

His Biggest Joke.

Daughter—Papa, I want to tell you some of the funny things Jack told me. He's such a joker.

Dad—I know it. Last night he asked me to be his father-in-law.

Both.

"A man should always look twice before taking a chance."

"Are you referring to matrimony or to eating a cold storage egg?"

The Measure.

Someone has said that the length of a man's tongue is not the measure of his wisdom.

"Why, I thought it was. I thought a man who was long on tongue was short on wisdom."

The Shoes?

"Where's Swipsey dese days?"

"He stole a pair of shoes an' dey pinched him."

CONDITIONS ON ONTARIO FARMS

The following is a summary of weekly crop reports made by district representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:—

Silo filling is receiving the chief attention of farmers at present, as early frosts, though not severe, have hastened cutting. Most of the corn, however, had reached a fair stage of maturity for making ensilage.

Fall wheat seeding is about completed. A large acreage has been got in despite the fact that the land has been so dry and hard. What has come up looks well, and there is a fair prwospect of the crop meeting the winter in god condition. Winter rye is still being sown.

Threshing operations continue to show a good return for all classes of cereals.

In Kent, the chief bean raising district of the Province, the late crop has been caught by frost, which will prevent ripening more or less, and greatly lower the average yield per acre.

Potatoes are turning out at least an average yield and are of good general quality.

Roots are still highly spoken of, more particularly mangels. Brant reports shipments of turnips at 21c a bushel.

Second growth and new clover both look well as scattering showers have kept the fields growing nearly all fall. The yield of clover seed will be fair.

Most of the early apples have been marketed. The Duchess has borne better relatively than any other fall variety this year. In Dundas County, however, the Wealthy has netted growers $4.00 a barrel. Winter varieties are late in mrturing, and are light in yield.

Vegetables have had a most successful season, except in the case of tomatoes, which in both field and garden are ripening very slowly, with some rot.

Live Stock.

Market values keep high, especially for hogs, which are quoted at $16.50 and $17 per cwt. Lambs are selling at from 11c to 14c per pound, according to quality and locality.

Pastures, though good for the time of year, have thinned out considerably recently, and the flow of milk has correspondingly dcreased. Referring to the dairy situation the Dundas representative says: "Milk at condensory and shipping centres has been advancing in price. The condensory at Chesterville is expecting to pay $3.00 per 100 lbs. for October milk. This firm is now getting in 150,000 lb .mfos ting in 150,000 lbs. of milk per day, and intends increasing its plant so that it can handle 250,000 lbs. Many farmers feel that the standard set by the British Government for cheese prices should be raised at this time of the year, as it costs more to produce milk, and the supply is less."

Labor.

The Middlesex report claims that fine harvest weather and women help nearly solved the labor problem this year. The dry, warm weather of the last three weeks of September has retarded fall ploughing on clay soils, which are very hard. Even the tractors are meeting with difficulty in operating from this cause.

School Fairs.

These Fairs for juniors have been held in many districts recently. For example, the Kent representative reports: "I have had three School Fairs. We had delightful weather, good exhibits and large crowds. At Wheatley School Fair there were at least 1,000 people present."

EDITOR'S MAIL

The following circular has been sent to the public and explains itself:

Dear Sir,—

We beg to remind you that Saturday, Oct. 6th, has been set for the annual Tag Day of the Children's Aid Society of this city.

The work of the Society was never more satisfactory than it has been this year. The aim has been to improve conditions in homes wherever possible in order to prevent neglect of children, and the separation of children from parents is only resorted to in extreme cases. We believe that this method commends itself to all friends of the society and is productive of the best results.

We are anxious to raise the fullest amount possible on Tag Day, because the needs of the work demand it. The employment of an Agent for our work increases our expenditure by about $500.00 but the results of his work more than justify this added expense.

This letter is written in the hope that you may assist the work by making out a substantial cheque in favor of the Children's Aid Society of Peterborough, and dropping it in one of the boxes on Tag Day.

Very sincerely yours,
E. A. PECK, President.
JOSEPH WEARING, Secretary.

Editor Review: I read with much interest your editorial in last Wednesday's issue on the question of fire prevention. I hope that in the near future there will be a thorough official investigation of every fire in the city, whether large or small and if it is found that the person responsible for it was careless, that he shall be treated as a criminal and punished as such.

Every property owner in Peterborough has to pay insurance rates; these rates are higher simply because there are so many careless citizens who have nothing at stake, and who have no regard for their own rights, or the rights of others.

RATEPAYER.

THE LETTER CARRIERS

Editor Review—We hope that the letter carriers will insist on more pay and a square deal from the government. They are good men, their work is hard, they perform it faithfully and they are certainly entitled to living wages.

Why is this living wage denied them by the Government? Is it because it has been found necessary to pinch the working man in order that there may be more money for those higher up, who do less in return for what they receive?

Poverty is the one luxury the rich can't afford.

The kiss one woman bestows on another is almost as meaningless as the handshake of a hotel clerk.

All things may come to a man who waits—providing he had sense enough to wait in the right place.

SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO

From The Review of Oct. 5, 1900:

The Liberal-Conservative Association of East Peterborough held a convention at Norwood. Speeches were made by Andrew Brodeur, M.P., James Kendry, M.P., and A. T. Leavitt, of Toronto. It was decided to hold another meeting to nominate a candidate.

The Otonabee Township Fair at Keene broke the record for number of entries and attendance.

Spotted.

"Do you recognise the profession?" asked the small-time vaudeville performer, extending his card to the manager of a No. 1 company.

"Yes, I recognized you at once. Nothing doing in the way of passes."

Add Count Luxburg.

Germany is short of fats, but not of fatheads.

Escaped.

"Do tell me, major," said Mrs. Gusher, "did you ever fall into the hands of the enemy in any of your engagements?"

"Oh, yes," replied the gallant major, "but I escaped shortly afterward through the divorce court."

CONCERNING WOMEN

An average of three Japanese women immigrants enter this country to every five men.

Miss Florence Spencer is assistant chief clerk in the National City Bank of New York.

Nearly 2,400 women are now employed in the operating department of the Pennsylvania railroad.

English women refrain from wearing mourning and when soldiers come home on short leaves of absence there are no outward signs of feminine grief.

British women have adopted a uniform which dispenses with skirts on account of its convenience, greater safety and economy.

Mrs. J. M. Bowen and Miss Ella M. Paul of Springfield, Mo., are the first women to be employed as train auditors in the United States.

"THE LEAST OF THESE."

She had little of earthly beauty,
She had less of earthly lore;
She climbed by a path so narrow,
Such wearisome burdens bore!
And she came with a heart a-trembling
To the warder at Heaven's door.

And said, "There were hearts of heroes,"
She said, "There were hands of might,
I had only the little children,
That called to me day and night;
I could only soothe their sorrows—
Their childish hearts make light."

And she bowed her head in silence,
And she hid her face in shame,
When, out from a blaze of glory,
A form majestic came,
And sweeter than all Heaven's music
Lo, someone called her name!

If you are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion or sour stomach you should try a mixture of Salol Pepsin and Iridin.

This is said to be the formula of Dr. Banta's famous prescription which gave him a world-wide reputation.

Woodstock's population, according to the assessor, is 10,327, an increase of 23 in the year.

THE SEVEN INCH BOOT

Seven inches is the prescribed height for women's boots this fall. No boot may be taller without flying in the face of government regulations in order to conserve raw material used in footwear. Uncle Sam has ordered women's boots to be lower than fashion has decreed through the past few seasons. Seven inches, insists Uncle Sam, is a proper and attractive height for a boot, and the extravagant use of material in sixteen and eighteen buttoned footwear must be discontinued. The new walking boot has fourteen buttons, and there are models coming out with only twelve or even ten buttons. The laced boot will have to go as far as walking and dancing footwear is concerned, for a low-topped laced boot is a rather dumpy and ungraceful affair—especially when ankles are not extremely slender. The seven inch height, be it added, is not from the ground up; but from the point where the heel is fastened to the sole to the top of the cloth or leather "upper."

WHO WILL BE STAR OF SERIES?

Owing to the tremendous batting power of both the White Sox and the New York Giants it is a difficult task to select the pitcher who will be chiefly instrumental in winning the world's championship for his team. Heretofore in the big event one hurler has stood out more prominently than the rest on one of the staffs and through his efficient work the club won.

One might give this distinction to Eddie Cicotte this time, as the success of the White Sox will rest on his shoulders. His pitching this summer has been so efficient and effective that he appears to be the best of the men on both clubs and he is the one who should be the star and win the world's title for the south side club. To turn that trick he will be expected to win two or more games.

One Pitcher Bears Brunt

In preceding world's series games there has always been one pitcher who bore the brunt of the work and pitched his club to victory in two or more games. Christy Mathewson won the pennant for the New York Giants in 1905 by pitching and winning three of the games from the Athletics. In 1906, 1907 and 1908 the responsibility was fairly well divided among the pitchers, Altrock, Walsh and White succeeding for the White Sox: Pfiester, Brown, Overall and Reulbach winning for the Cubs.

This coming series between the White Sox and Giants will probably be much like the ones fought by the Sox and Cubs in 1906 and the Cubs and Detroit in 1907 and 1908. The chances are the series will run into six or seven games and that every twirler on both staffs will have a hand in settling the championship, unless the dope is upset by a man like Cicotte or Sallee winning two or three games.

Favor Sallee and Schupp

Before the Giants meet the Sox one is not in a position to name a man on McGraw's staff and say he will emulate the work Mathewson did for New York in 1905. Yet one of the pitchers is likely to do it. But which one is a puzzle. New Yorkers are choosing Sallee to be the star and to pitch the Giants to victory, while others are counting on Schupp to be the hero and some believe Perritt will fool the American league champions.

It is a tough series any way you figure it. As mentioned before, the clubs are well stocked with terrific drivers. The Giants have Burns, Kauff, Zimmerman, Fletcher, Robertson, McCarty and Holke, all of whom are heavy hitters and capable of breaking up a game at any time. The White Sox have Felsch, Jackson, Collins, Gandil and Weaver. These men, judging from the hitting they have done this season, make it hard work to figure who the hero will be on the rubber.

Some Memorable Struggles

Jack Coombs was the individual star for the Athletics in the world's series between the Cubs and Athletics in 1910. He won three out of four games. Chief Bender achieved that same record in the 1911 world's series while Joe Wood pitched the Boston Red Sox to victory in three games against the New York Giants in 1912. In 1909 in the series between Pittsburgh and Detroit Babe Adams was the star and won the championship for the Pirates by winning three battles.

In the more recent world's series combats honors have been shared. Dick Rudolph and Bill James gave wonderful exhibitions in 1914 when they assisted in beating the Athletics in four games in a row. Foster starred for the Boston Red Sox in the conflicts with the Phillies in 1915 by winning two games and Shore won the banner event for the Red Sox last fall from Brooklyn by taking two victories.

North Essex Conservatives will hold a convention at Windsor on October 13 to choose a candidate.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. and its telegraphers have agreed to accept the award of the Board of Concilation as to increases of wages.

In the Brantford Police Court Wm. Cudmore, senior, charged his three sons, Phillip, Sydney and William, junior, with theft. Upon restoration of $250 the case was dismissed.

Centrals Win Two From the Eureka's

Last night the Centrals took two games from the Eurekas in a league fixture, at the Water street Alleys. The Eurekas got away to a good start and won the first game with a 744 total. The Centrals won the second game by a good margin, and also the third game by 26 pins. For the Centrals Capt. Walton was replaced by Robinson in the second and third games; also Landry was replaced by Moffatt in the third game. "Dad" Matthews for the Centrals came in for high three games with a total of 500; with a 228 score in the second game. Capt. Gordon of the Eurekas came in for a 464 total, with a 209 count in the first game.

GIANTS SHOULD WIN THE SERIES

GOSSIP OF SOME OF THE PLAYERS UPON WHOM THE FANS RELY.

All New York is talking about the world's series, which the Giants will play with a team from somewhere west of Hoboken. Wall street betting favors the team managed by John McGraw, the last word in baseball brains. Several bets of a million also were recorded on the Broad street curb. Arrangements are being made by everybody to receive the returns from the bulletin boards in front of the newspaper offices along Park row and in Herald and Times squares. As New York is supreme in population and prices and everything else, so will she be supreme in baseball when the world's series shall have been played. Let us glance over the roster of brilliant players the peerless McGraw will use against the bunch of minor leaguers from the hinterland:

Benjamin Kauff, center field— Mr. Kauff, it should be said at the start, hates himself. He always gets out of bed to start the day. He is known along Broadway as a swell dresser and drives a car stripped like a mandolin. It looks like the Giants ought to win.

Heinie Zimmerman, third baseman —Mr. Zimmerman is well known to all. In addition to his work under McGraw he is said to own and operate, under the excise laws of the state of New York, a place of public resort where liquors, spirituous, malt and vinous, are sold. The Giants should have a cinch.

Charles Herzog, second baseman— Mr. Herzog is one of McGraw's most efficient players. He can holler louder and longer about nothing in particular than any other man in either league. In covering his position he uses the ingenious process of placing one foot before the other. It would appear from this angle that the White Sox haven't a chance in the world.

GETTING READY FOR BATTLE FOR WORLD'S SERIES

Thousands of Fans Will Wait all Night in Line to Buy Seats.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Reserved seats for the world's series games at the White Sox park having been distributed among the lucky applicants, hundreds of baseball fans planned to stand in line tonight in order to have the advantage in positions when the office opens at the park for the unreserved seat sale to morrow.

The weather prediction for the opening game tomorrow calls for fair weather with slight drop in temperature. This, the followers of game say, will not work any hardship on either team as both squads are in the pink of condition and will not feel any slight change in the weather.

Much interest today is centered on the question of the two pitchers in the first game. Manager Rowland of the White Sox refused to commit himself but many have picked Eddie Cicotte as the probable starter for the locals. Cicotte worked out yesterday afternoon and said afterwards that he was ready to start the big series at any time.

Ferdinand Schupp, the left-handed star of the New York Giants, is most frequently mentioned to open the series for the visitors. The Giants will practise at White Sox Park this afternoon. They will be given all the time needed in order to become accustomed to the light and shadows peculiar to the park.

John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, said he believed that his team will win championship but he adds that he has not underestimated the strength of the White Sox.

Affleck's home was in Scotland, where his relatives still reside, his father at one time being a valued employe of the Hudson Bay Co., with headquarters at Fort Garry, now Winnipeg. Pte. Affleck had a host of friends who will greatly regret to hear of his death. Until lately he had been employed in the pay and record office in London, where he had been promoted to the rank of Staff Sergt. It is evident he had reverted his stripes to get to the front.

The new theatre provides seating capacity for about two hundred. The seats are of the latest type. The floor is grazed to the front. The ventilation is excellent and music is provided by a Bell player piano. The other little appointments make it a beautiful little theatre.

Are More Hotels Required Here?

TEMPERANCE WORKERS HAVE APPOINTED A COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE.

The executive officers of the Committee of One Hundred, on the first anniversary of the operation of the Ontario Temperance Act, sent out circulars to the county committees asking information as to the workings of the law, with special reference to its effect on business, its enforcement, and the matter of hotel accommodation.

Mayor Duffus, who is chairman of the local committee, was asked to furnish information along the above lines, and he called the members together for consultation. At this meeting the matter of hotel accommodation was fully dealt with. There was a dicerence of opinion. Some of the members had heard that there was not sufficient hotel accommodation to meet the needs of the travelling public, while other members had received reports to the contrary or no reports at all.

A special committee was appointed to look into this problem and report at a meeting which will be called later. Every temperance man or woman in the city is also supposed to investigate, and if it is found that the travelling public has been placed under any inconvenience steps will be taken to improve conditions.

There was no difference of opinion as to the successful working of the Act, and the general impression seemed to be that it was being rigidly and impartially enforced.

INDIANS READY FOR FRANCHISE

DO NOT CLAIM EXEMPTION FROM MILITARY SERVICE BUT WANT VOTE.

The Indian chiefs, who have been in session at the Chemong reserve for the past three days, want the franchise for their people on the same terms as it is given to the whites. In return for this privilege they are willing to assume all the duties and responsibilities of British citizenship. They have no desire to escape the military draft. The Red Men have hundreds of recruits in the British army, young men who enlisted of their own accord, and there are no better soldiers to be found on the side of the Allies.

The council of Chippewa chiefs at Chemong have decided to begin an educational campaign with the object of informing the white race as to the conditions under which the Indians now live.

The patriotism of the Indians is above question. They want the vote but they have proved their willingness to fight on behalf of the Empire. In this respect they are unlike the alien who, under the new Act, has been disfranchised and who insists upon his right to vote even though he be exempt from military duty.

Germans Offer Again to Fraternize With Russians

Petrograd, Oct. 5.—(Delayed.)—The Germans on the Southwestern front again are attempting to fraternize with the Russians by throwing boxes of tobacco and cigarettes into the Russian trenches, and calling to the soldiers to "come out of the trenches."

The Russkaia Volya says in connection with the German attempts that "our soldiers are answering them with gunfire."

DECEMBER 17TH LATEST GUESS

BUT DEFINITE DATE FOR ELECTION HAS NOT YET BEEN DECIDED ON.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—Speculation is rife here concerning the date of the Dominion elections. In official circles Monday, December 17th, is indicated as the probable date so far as can be foreseen at present but it certainly has not yet been definitely fixed. An enormous amount of work has to be done before arrangements are completed for taking the vote. Registrars must be appointed before the writs are issued. Then comes the swearing in of a literal army of enumerators who shall add to the lists the names of soldiers and women voters and strike from them the disenfranchised aliens and others under the Franchise Act.

With regard to the registration of the soldiers vote overseas it is thought that this will be done during the four weeks between nomination day and election day here so that definite results may be known soon after the election day in Canada.

ALLEGED DIPS HAVE FLITTED

AT LEAST NOTHING HAS BEEN SEEN OF THEM SINCE RELEASE ON BAIL.

Since being released on bail Wednesday morning the three alleged American pick-pockets have not been seen around town, and the impression prevails that they will not put in an appearance at the police court on Tuesday.

Chief of Police Thompson holds the opinion that he should have been informed of their pending release as he might have had other late charges registered against the men.

As a matter of fact Chief Thompson is in receipt of a request from London, Ont., for a description of the alleged pick-pockets held here on remand. At the London fair a man from Blantyre post office, named John Stitt, was separated from $340, and is very anxious for prosecution of the thief or thieves. Chief Thompson has forwarded to London photos of the men under charge in this city. In this connection it is interesting to note that a Toronto friend of County Crown Attorney Hatton recently had his pocket picked of $40.

WELL ORGANIZED

Pick-pockets and criminals of like calibre in the States are banded together in strong "business" organizatoins, backed with plenty of funds. In fact they maintain, as it were, a bank of their own and retain a permanent solicitor. Police records show it is no common occurence in the States for allgede criminals admitted bail to forfeit their bond. In fact that is one object of criminal organizations—to furnish cash bail as a means of escape for its members in trouble.

All Industries Reported Busy

REPORT OF LABOR CONDITIONS IN PETERBOROUGH FOR SEPTEMBER.

The September issue of the Labor Gazette, in the report of the industrial condition throughout Canada says of this city:

Peterborough reported the metals and machinery group well employed, with a demand for skilled workers in the iron industries. Flour and cereal mills were very active, and the meat-packing house had a busy month. Creameries, dairies and cheese factories were working to full capacity. The woollen mills were active and a shortage of woman workers was reported in various textile trades. Sash and door factories showed a big improvement both in house work and box departments. Boot and shoe workers were busy, but harness makers had a quiet month. Building showed decided improvement.

W.O.W. MAY LEVY AN ASSESSMENT

RECEIPTS OF SOCIETY SHOW A DECREASE OF TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

London, Ont., Oct. 5.—At a meeting of the executive of the Woodmen of the World, a statement was presented which is alleged to show that there has been a falling off in revenue from members in $20,000 for the first nine months of this year and that a deficit of nearly $10,000 in the operating account for the same period is being met by money in the fund.

Head Consul D. Cinnamon, of Lindsay, Ont., who was one of the officers in attendance at yesterday's meeting here is reported to have been deputed to consult with the insurance department at Ottawa.

It was stated by the officers of the Woodmen of the World that the insurance fund of the organization is on an absolutely safe foundation and that the difficulty that must be met is the present necessity of using money from that fund to meet the heavy deficits in fees needed for the operating expenses. It is possible a new assessment will have to be levied on the members.

DETROIT COAL FAMINE.

Factories Are Closed and Thousands of Men Idle.

Detroit, Oct. 5.—Between 20,000 and 30,000 men may be thrown out of work this week by the closing of Detroit factories for the lack of coal. One factory is closed and others may be within a few days. Work on war contracts is being held up. The seriousness of the coal situation as affecting both homes and factories was pointed out at a four-hour secret session of the board of commerce.

NEW QUARTERS

to make the future of this country. The purpose of the building wanted is not for entertainment merely, but quarters for an association alive and keen to the problems facing them, of securing such provision for returned soldiers as will eliminate all thought of charity in placing them in circumstances which will render them and their dependents comfortable and free from care and anxiety. There are, he said, 300 cases coming to his office weekly of the dependents of men not in receipt of sufficient support of inadequate pensions, and of men discharged from a military system without being taught how to practically support themselves. Righting such conditions is the work of the G.W.V.A.

Didn't Have To Go!

To the call of duty, continued Sergt. Knight, we went to the front. We didn't have to go! And I claim that the men who went were the best in Canada. They told us when we went that on coming back nothing would be too good for us. You all have your troubles, no doubt, but as to this club we are asking for, the money will have to come, and for nothing temporary either. The building will be a place where veterans can establish a system of business operations of peculiar interest to themselves, and collectively find a way to help themselves and prepare for the coming home of others at the front. We returned soldiers are not beasts, but men, and to us this old country means a lot because it has cost us something. The reason that the returned soldier has made the effort he has in defence of his rights, his independence and the fulfillment of promises made him on going overseas, is because he is all stamina and grit.

And, then, every soldier coming back is an Imperialist, if he never was before, recognizing that unity with the old country means security and stability.

In conclusion the eloquent speaker thrilled his audience with comparisons between those who responded to the Empire's clarion call to defence and others who have particularly made no commensurate sacrifice.

He said: "I would not change place with Sir Joseph Flavelle and all his millions; I have a conscience between God and man void of all offence."

Sergt. Knight resumed his seat amid a perfect storm of applause.

One Convert.

Mr. J. J. Turner, President of the Board of Trade, here said that after hearing Sergt. Knight, he for one was converted to the view that anything the G.W.V.A. wanted they can have.

Quarters Proposed.

Mr. G. N. Gordon suggested that the war veterans might be given life-membership in the Peterborough Club. There they would find a comfortable home and business accommodation, they could have the same rights and privileges as civilian members of the club. Let us who stayed at home, he said, bear the expense.

Mr. R. R. Hall approved of this suggestion, and added that perhaps the building could be taken over by the G.W.V.A. at practically cost.

Col. Miller contended that nothing can be done that is too good for the men who shouldered the gun and faced the enemy as they did. He had not a doubt but what the city council would be generous in honor of Canada and the Empire.

Too Small Permanently.

President Harvey Staunton of the G.W.V.A. said the Peterborough Club might do as temporary quarters, but it would not be big enough for permanent occupation. Four thousand men from here have gone to France, and those to return would wish a voice in choice of headquarters.

Mrs. Knox, President of the Canadian Kitchener League, declared that we owe a great deal to the Veterans' Association, and cannot do too much for them. She invited opportunity for the ladies to cooperate in any scheme entertained.

Mr. C. H. Meserve, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., was willing to assist in any way toward securing the end in view.

The resolution before outlined was here unanimously adopted, a vote of thanks tendered Sergt. Knight, and the meeting closed with singing the National Anthem.

STILL HAS A CHANCE.

Dr. Clark May Yet Be Secured by Local Liberals.

In response to the proposal made by F. R. Lalor, M.P. for Haldimand, to Dr. Michael Clark of Red Deer, Sask., the doctor has telegraphed Mr. Lalor thanking him for his generous offer, but declining to be a candidate in Haldimand.

SHALL WE PRAY FOR THE DEAD?

QUESTION IS DISCUSSED BY THE LEADERS IN ANGLICAN CHURCH.

Montreal, Oct. 5.—Should prayers for the dead be embodied in the revised Prayer Book of the Anglican Church? This question was debated long and earnestly by the synod of the Ecclesiastical Province of Canada, the proposition being to take the prayers from the Scottish liturgy, and it was finally decided by a vote of 34 to 4 to memorialize the genral synod for authorization to use such prayers. Archdeacon Paterson-Smyth of this city introduced the matter in a resolution, which met with opposition from only few of the clergymen present. One of thes was Archdeacon Armitage, who said he did not believe at all in prayers for the dead. "There are thousands of people," he said, "who will resist this idea to the uppermost end I will resist it to the uttermost, and if necessary will carry it to the feet of the King himself." The Venerable Dean Evans of this city supported the position taken by Archdeacon Armitage.

In speaking to his resolution Archdeacon Paterson-Smyth referred to the great number of people who weep for their departed, and said the position had changed since the war started.

Supports Resolution.

Bishop Farthing of Montreal spoke in favor of the proposal. "What we want," he said, "is that those who face the losses of those they love may have a prayer for those who have gone before."

The Bishop of Fredericton supported the resolution as a catholic one in harmony with the doctrines of the Church of England.

Bishop Williams of Quebec said he had frequently used these prayers, to the great comfort of relatives of those who had fallen in battle.

The Archbishop of Nova Scotia spoke briefly in favor of the motion. Said he: "If we are called to pray for those here on earth, and for things which God can at any time give us without prayer, I do not see any reason why that cannot be done by the living Christ to those who have departed."

All the bishops voted for the memorialization of the general synod on the question, both upper and lower houses meeting together at the time.

The late Canon Bogart of Belleville, bequeathed $5,000 to the Synod of Ontario.

Major-Gen. George W. Goethals today began active work as president of the Wright-Martin aircraft corporation.

OBITUARY

ROBERT FINDLAYSON MACGREGOR

The death of Mr. Robert Findlayson MacGregor occured at Perth last night at twelve o'clock. He was stricken with paralysis in the morning, just after completing repairs to a water wheel. The remains will be brought home this evening by his brother-in-law, Mr. Alex. Ross this city.

Deceased was born in Keene in 1863, and removed at four years of age with his parents to Peterborough where he had resided ever since. He enjoyed the confidence of the community in public affairs, was town councillor before Peterborough was incorporated as a city, and assessor in company with Mr. T. B. McGrath, one year, prior to a permanent assessment commissioner being appointed. He was a member of the Masonic order and of the Woodmen of the World, and a Presbyterian by faith.

The late Mr. MacGregor was a millwright by trade and in the employ of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co. for 25 years, by whom he was sent to Perth on repair work a few days before his death in that town.

Deceased is survived by three children, Margaret, Kathleen and Alexander, all of Peterborough.

The remains will be interred under Masonic auspices. Service at the family residence, 509 Water street, at two o'clock; funeral to Little Lake Cemetery at two-thirty.

Enjov the Turkey

You don't know how much better the Thanksgiving Turkey tastes when you are wearing a stylish pair of shoes on which you had saved enough by buying them at the Peterboro Shoe Store to almost pay for the Turkey. That may sound big at the present price of turkeys, but listen to this special bargain for Saturday on your holiday shoes. We bought right a line of Ladies high top black kid boots with a nice average toe, short vamp, heels that anyone can wear, all sizes. They would be a bargain at $6.00, but you give us $4.50 and buy the turkey with the money you save. Also many other specially attractive offerings for Saturday. Peterboro Shoe Store, 291 George street. New Lundy Block.

WAGE INCREASE FOR C.P.R. MEN

TELEGRAPHERS AND LINEMEN GET RAISE OF EIGHTEEN PER CENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—It is announced through the Labor Department that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and its telegraphers, have agreed to accept the award of the Conciliation Board appointed under the Industrial Disputes Act, to investigate the claim of the employees for an increase in wages, etc.

Station agents and assistants, operators, train despatchers and linemen, members of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, are affected by the finding which was as follows: "That an increase in pay for station agents, operators, relief agents and linemen be not less than eighteen per cent. upon their present monthly rates, and the increase for train despatchers be not less than twelve per cent. upon their present monthly rates."

The Board also found that other requests of the employees be not recommended at the present time, but that they be reserved for future negotiations between the parties concerned.

The employees asked for an increase of twenty-five per cent in wages. Over three thousand are effected and full compliance with their demands would have meant increased compensation amounting to approximately $500,000.

Letter from Pte. J. C. Hawman to his sister, Mrs. Stinson:

Bristoe, Eng., Sept. 3, 1917.

Dear Sister, Percy and Family,—

Received your loving letter and snaps before I left the front and was sure glad to get them. You know I gave that favorite picture of yours to Edd, the first time I met him in France. He wanted it so I just smiled and let him have it. I didn't say how badly I would have liked to keep it either. I think those snaps are just grand. Wee Jack looks so good, too. Every one of the boys tell me he is just like me. You and Percy look grand too. Reinette sent me a new snap of herself. My, she looks good. She is much fatter now than when she was singing so much for me. Well, I can't write a very long letter just now as I am weak yet. Expect to be able to get out of bed tomorrow. I got a gas shell wound, but it is slight. I got the new gas that the Hun is using, it burns through our clothes and blisters our skin, and each one of those blisters are green and poisonous, but I have only two left on now, the rest are all healed. They are one on my knee and one on thigh. However, they are getting good treatment and will soon be better. Worse luck, a piece of shrapnel hit my gas respirator and put a hole in the tube and I was breathing in pure gas for a few moments. However, a few cunning movements on my part and a few quick thoughts saved my life. I used a Fritzy's helmet. The Hun was lying dead in the trench, so didn't need his helmet and I did, but too late, of course, I was gassed and soon after went unconscious for a short time. But you see I used my bean, didn't I? Experience teaches. I am pretty lucky all right. My chest is sore, but not as bad as it was. I caught a German prisoner the day before and got a lot of souvenirs off him, including his watch, then the next day some one got them off me. I lost everything except the most important things, my snaps and myself. We had a very exciting week of it before I got the gas. I lost my fountain pen and have to write with pencil, so please excuse that and scrawl. Now, sis, there is nothing that I want, whatever I wrote to mother for ten dolars for I haven't had any to amount to anything since I left Canada as I overdrew when I was home, and have had a hard time to keep myself in stamps and smokes. Edd was quite well when I last heard from him. If he should get wounded or anything, cable to me and I will help get him to England. Flo, from Non-such is coming to see me, so I will be all right then, eh? Well, I must close for now. Write soon. Don't worry. I only got it slight.

Your loving brother,

JERRY.

TORONTO HEALTH OFFICER'S PLAN TO CHECK SPREAD OF SOCIAL DISEASES.

At a meeting of the Toronto Board of Health Dr. Hastings the Medical Officer of Health, recommended the adoption of the following recommendations:

That the board apply to the Provincial Secretary to have social disease deemed to be communicable diseases. Any person affected with such a disease, which in the opinion of the Medical Officer of Health is infectious, may be placed under quarantine by the Medical Officer of Health, for treatment, and so detained until the infectious period is passed; and furthermore that any person whom the Medical Officer of Health has reason to suspect of suffering from such a disease, he may require to have submitted to a proper medical examination to determine the same and if found to be suffering from the aforesaid disease, may be placed under quarantine. In case of dispute as to the infectiousness of any person so quarantined, the question shall be decided by the board, and the decision of the board shall be final and shall not be subject to appeal or review by any court of authority.

Dr. Hastings further recommended that an amendment of the Public Health Act dealing with diseases be framed, similar to that of the Australian Act, and that the legislature be asked to amend the Public Health Act along the lines therein suggested. In the meantime the placing of diseases on the communicable disease list will materially aid in controlling the existing menace to public health.

It can lighten their load of care.
It can build a barrier against adversity.
It can strengthen the foundation of the home.

It can place his widow beyond the need of marrying for support.
It can add to a man's years by freeing him from anxiety.
It can enhance the respect and esteem of the public and of his wife and children for him.

"The Wise Old Bird"

You Look As YOU FEEL

You know well enough when your liver is loafing.

Constipation is the first warning; then you begin to "feel mean all over."

Your skin soon gets the bad news, it grows dull, yellow, muddy and unsightly.

Violent purgatives are not what you need—just the gentle help of this old-time standard remedy.

Slight Persuasion.

"Did I understand you to say that this lad voluntarily confessed to playing truant?" asked a school attendance officer, addressing the mother of a small and dirty boy.

"Yes, sir, he did," the woman responded. "I just had to persuade him a little and then he told me the whole thing voluntarily."

"How did you persuade him?"

"Well, first I gave him a good hiding," said the parent, "and then I put him to bed without any supper and took his clothes away and told him he'd stay in bed till he confessed what he'd done, and that I should punish him again in the morning. And in less than half an hour he told me the whole story of his own accord."

THOUSANDS OF SICK WOMEN

Helped Every Year by Common Sense Suggestions Given Free by The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

For forty years women suffering from all kinds of female ills have been writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Thus they receive common sense suggestions drawn from a vast volume of experience, and thousands of sick women have been saved from untold suffering, as letters like the following clearly show:—

Newark, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman. Your Sanative Wash is just the thing to overcome female weakness. I have told young mothers as well as older ones about your remedies, and what they have done for me. I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, as my health was very bad when I wrote you, but now I can do my own work and have not had a sick day since I began taking your remedies. I keep the Compound and Liver Pills on hand all the time."—Mrs. GEO. THOMPSON, 24 Sherwood Court, Newark, Ohio.

Why don't you write for free advice? Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

AVOID DOUBLE CHIN

Facial expression is very bad for beauty. Scowling, frowning, pursing the lips are all detrimental and are not nice to look at. Get your face under control and always keep it that way. Express what you wish with your eyes.

Many a truthful man breaks his word because he stutters.

Cook's Cotton Root Compound.

A safe, reliable regulating medicine. Sold in three degrees of strength—No. 1, $1 No. 2, $3; No. 3, $5 per box. Sold by all druggists, or sent prepaid on receipt of price. Free pamphlet. Address THE COOK MEDICINE CO. TORONTO, ONT. (Formerly Windsor.)

ASHBURNHAM SCHOOL FAIR

The school of the Immaculate Conception, Ashburnham, held its School Fair on Tuesday afternoon. There was a splendid display of the work of the children, artistically arranged in the school hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Vegetables of every kind, fancy needle work, plain sewing, canned fruits, products of the cookery such as bread, cakes, pie and biscuits, were all harmoniously arranged for the inspection of the visitors.

The attendance was large and the children's work much admired. The task of the judges was difficult in deciding which was best, where all was so good.

Great praise is due the children for the excellence of their produce and due credit must be given the teachers, who guided them in their efforts, excited their interest and stimulated them to so much activity.

Other features of the day were the oratorical contests, fancy drills, and a long list of sports.

In passing through the crowd, one could hear many exclamations of surprise, that children so young should accomplish so much. The same opinion was expressed at the end, in neat little speeches by Fathers John O'Brien and P. J. McGuire, while the countenance of Father Collins plainly registered his approval. Very Rev. Dean McColl also expressed his appreciation of the results obtained and was evidently proud of the children and the teachers of his parish.

A well known and highly respected farmer, Mr. John Coughlin, passed away very suddenly yesterday at his home on the east boundary of Mariposa township.

Mr. Coughlin had been up and around on Wednesday and his death was unexpected. He was about 74 years of age, unmarried, and owned farms in Ops and Mariposa.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

COULD WIN IN A YEAR.

General McRae Tells United States How To Help.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 5.—Brigadier-General E. D. McRae, quartermaster-genral of the Canadian expeditionary forces in France, who is visiting here, declares that America's entrance into the war was a necessity for ultimate allied victory and that the end would not come until America played an important part on the Western front.

"If you can put ten thousand airplanes on the Western front within the next twelve months and carry on the same warfare as the Germans now carry on over London, I think you can win the war in another year," he said.

St. Michael's Church, Belleville, was broken into and a considerable sum of money was taken.

The first day of the campaign to raise $15,000 for Hamilton Y. M. C. A. raised half the amount.

According to Prof. W. A. Black, Agricultural Commissioner for the Federal Government, there will be an exportable surplus of 225,000,000 bushels of wheat from Canada for the allies after providing for the food and seed in the Dominion.

The Brantford-Kitchener Club, a group of twelve small girls, none over fourteen years of age, through entertainments of various natures raised enough money to buy a car for returned soldiers.

THE HOUSEKEEPERS' GUIDE

TO DETECT FOOD ADULTERATION

These days, when the price of all foodstuffs is so high, it is especially desirable that there shall be no adulteration permitted. When one pays for a particular kind of food he or she wants to be reasonably certain that what is purchased is what was asked for. This is especially true just now with milk, which appears to be inclined to continue soaring in price until it will soon be beyond the reach of the ordinary wage-earner.

When milk is ordered, there isn't a citizen who does not want to be sure that water has not been added. But how can he be sure? How is milk tested to determine the presence of water?

One test is based on the fact that practically all water contains a trace of nitric acid as nitrates. The test for water, therefore, is really a test for nitrates. It is carried out as follows:

A serum of the milk is made by acetic acid to milk and heating for twenty minutes. When cooled, the serum is then separated from the curd by filtering. A few drops of the serum are placed in a white vessel and to these are added one or two drops of strong sulphuric acid and a certain amount of diphenlamin. If there are nitrates in the milk due to the addition of water, the serum will turn a deep blue color. The test is an exceedingly delicate one, and care must be taken by testing the reagents themselves to make sure that the nitrate is not added with them. There is some objection to the infallibility of this test as substances containing nitrates may be unavoidably dropped in the milk during the process of milking. But while the change in color of the serum indicates the presence of nitrates from water or some other external source, if there is no change it is practically certain that no water has been added. This test, therefore, may be called negative rather than positive.

"Renovated" Butter

Testing for "renovated" butter is not difficult. A small quantity of the butter to be tested is placed in a large spoon or small tin cup. This is placed over a flame and brought to a boil as quickly as possible. Stir thoroughly with a match, taking care not to neglect the edges. Watch the boiling. If the butter is "renovated" it will boil with considerable spluttering, like oil and grease mixed, while there will be practically no foam. If, however, the substance is pure butter, it will boil with little noise and spluttering, but there will be an abundance of foam. The difference in the foam is very marked, as a rule.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES.

It is a good idea to make the most of corn meal before it becomes expensive.

If the members of your family are properly fed they will feel fit and equal to whatever they have to do.

Stale bread can be saved to make gems as well as griddle cakes.

All gravy and bits of vegetables or meat will make good soup.

Left-over cereal of any kind will make very good breakfast muffins.

Salt should not be added to the boiling water for woody vegetables.

Indian Bread—1⅓ cups Graham flour, 1 cup Indian meal, 1½ teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup molasses, 1 2-3 cups sour milk. Mix and steam same as Boston brown bread.

When the soles of new shoes are dipped several times in very hot mutton tallow they will wear nearly twice as long.

To take away as little as possible of the potato when peeling, put the potatoes into rapidly boiling water for about ten minutes; then take out and, when cool enough, peel.

A custard mixture of one egg to a cupful of milk, well seasoned, mixed with well-chopped greens or any left-over vegetables and baked as an ordinary custard, makes an unusual meat substitue.

Cold starch may be used more than once. Let the starch stand for a few minutes to settle, then pour the water from the starch. Put the remaining starch into a hot place to dry out. Turn into a box for future use.

Milk is not necessary for bigger children, who have acquired the means of masticating and digesting saccharide. Dr. Gordon Lang remarks that "I have met adults who took little or nothing but milk, and they are generally fat and flabby. Milk, in fact, is a fod for babes, not for men."

STRAWBERRY JAM.

A Poetic Appreciation of the Real Thing.

Appeals to housewives now making jam are being made by the Red Cross and others. Out in Victoria, B.C., the I.O.D.E. are making a special call and furnishing tin pails which housekeepers fill and return. As sugar is so scarce overseas, much of the fruit is now being "preserved" sugarless. Just how the men at the front appreciate the real thing from home is glimpsed in the following message from the trenches to the jam makers of Canada by the late Edward M. B. Vaughan, C.E.F., who was recently killed in action:—

They feed us on Apricot, Citron, and Plum,
But what has become of the Strawberry Jam?
It comes from Australia and Canada, too,
From England and Scotland in varying hue;
They give us a tin between six or for seven,
Or if you're unlucky it may be eelven.
For citron or damson we don't give—ahem,
But what has become of the Strawberry Jam?

We've plenty of bully beef, biscuits and tea,
We get enough cheese for to block up the sea;
We shave in the marmalade tins by the score;
The sight of a bean tin no more we can bear.
We've bacon for breakfast and butter for tea,
Yet still there's a question arises to me—
To build of the bully a dugout we plan—
But what has become of the Strawberry Jam?

Have the strawberry growers all gone to the war?
Has an order been issued to raise them no more?
'erhaps they consider it bad for our health,
'erhaps they're condemned as superfluous wealth.
f plum there's a plenty, or else it is tar—
he export of apple Australia should bar, ow what is the answer—pray tell if you can—
h! what has become of the Strawberry Jam?

here's an army of transport that tends to the mules, re they playing the game by a straight set of rules?
here's the Officers' Mess and the Hospital Corps—here's an army in England won't come to the war—s the answer we seek concealed among these?
ast year in the world did all strawberries freeze?
/e're sated with marmalade, apple, and plum,
h! what has become of the Strawberry Jam?

hey ask us to carry the war to an end,
ill the knees of the Prussian shall bend.
hey feed us on bully beef, biscuits, and plum,
nd yet they deny us that Strawberry Jam.
nkind is the mildest we term such abuse;
/e grouse and we grumble, but what is the use?
ow answer my question, kind friend, if you can,
h! what has become of the Strawberry Jam?

Trading With India.

The Imperial Institute in London has been charged by the Secretary of State for India with an enquiry into the openings within the Empire for the various raw materials of India which have hitherto gone in large amount to enemy countries.

In this connection the Institute is in communication with the Department of Trade and Commerce in Ottawa, which is actively co-operating in the enquiry. Already one important result of this action is that tanners in Canada have stated that they are interested in the raw cowhides which formerly went from India chiefly to Germany, and from which a high-class leather can be manufactured. By arrangement with the Ministry of Trade and Commerce a representative collection of these Indian hides has been brought together at the Imperial Institute and is now to be despatched to Canada for exhibition at various centres throughout the Dominion.

Another subject of importance to Canada is the possibility of direct trade with India in shellac, as to which the Imperial Institute has also been in communication with the Department of Trade and Commerce, who are consulting manufacturers throughout Canada. It appears that in this trade also important developments may result.

The Canadian Committee consists of the Hon. Sir George Perley as chairman; Mr. R. M. Kindersley, governor of the Hudson's Bay Company; Mr. J. G. Colmer, C.M.G., formerly of the High Commissioner's Office in London; Mr. J. H. Plummer, of the Dominion Steel Corporation, and Sir Keith Price of Messrs. Price and Pierce, lumber merchants. This committee is now sitting regularly under the chairmanship of the High Commissioner at the Imperial Institute.

NEEDLEWORK NOTES

If one has a great deal of ripping to do, a safety razor blade will be found useful.

Thread the sewing machine with fine thread on top and a coarse thread in shuttle. Stitch the part to be shirred or gathered. Adjust the fullness by drawing the coarse under thread and you have an even shirring, more true than can be attained by hand or machine attachment.

When the feet of stockings get worn they can be cut off and the legs used for sleeve protectors. Two sewed together make a good holder and a good stove cloth. Two cut up the sides and sewed together make a good creeper for baby to put over her dress when creeping. They also make good cloths for the mop.

KETCHUP TIME.

Excellent Ways to Season Your Winter Meals.

A GOOD MUSHROOM RECIPE.

Tested Ways of Preserving the Succulent Tomato, to Say Nothing of Three Other Savory Relishes For Meat Dishes and Boston Baked Beans.

Ketchup time is here, and it behooves the good housewife to "put up" some of this appetizer. For tomato ketchup take half a peck of sound, ripe tomatoes and wipe them well, quarter them, place on dishes and scatter with a half pound of salt. Leave for twenty-four hours, drain the juice through a hair sieve into a pan. Add two dozen small capsicums and ten shallots, or, if not at hand, two ounces of whole pepper and four tablespoonfuls of onion juice. Simmer for half an hour and then add the tomato, which has been pulped through a fine hair sieve.

Cook for thirty minutes more. Bottle, cork and seal.

Take half a large sieveful of green walnut shells and place them in a wooden tub with a half pound of coarse salt. Beat and mash them from time to time for six days. Tie up and drain the juice into a pan and continue to mash the shells until all juice is extracted. Strain the liquid into a preserving pan and simmer and skim thoroughly; then add two ounces of bruised ginger, two ounces of allspice, a half ounce of whole pepper, a half ounce of cloves and simmer all gently together for about one hour. Measure out about an equal quantity of spice into each bottle, then fill with the liquid, cork, seal thoroughly and keep until the following year.

To one peck of good, sound, fresh mushrooms allow a half pound of coarse salt. Break up and let them stand three hours, and then mash them once or twice a day for two days. Pour the mash into a stone jar and add for each quart one ounce of whole pepper. Place a weighted plate on the jar and stand the jar in a pan of hot water. Bring it to a boil and boil for quite two hours. Strain off the juice and simmer it for thirty minutes. Let it stand, and next day add a tablespoonful of brandy to each pint and again let it stand in a cool place for twenty four hours. Strain it into small bottles, and be careful not to disturb the dregs. Then cork and seal.

The Serious Sayings of Funny Folks

Scene: Somewhere in Peterborough

Characters: Mr. Director Grasp and Sir Joseph Flathell

TIME: A WEEK LATER.

Mr. D. G.—Good morning, Sir Joseph, I hope you're feeling fit for Thanksgiving.

Sir J. F.—Not too bad, and I guess we've a lot to be thankful for this year. Whilst I would have liked to see another million or two profit on our bacon, I'm expecting a good make-up on Butter and Eggs this winter.

Mr. D. G.—Oh, I don't know, see what a lot we've lost through the British Government not buying.

Sir J. F.—Tut! Tut! We've made that right by raising the price to the home consumer, and our stocks are growing, and the B. G. will have to buy presently, then we shall do better than ever.

Mr. D. G.—Yes, but suppose they set a price.

Sir J. F.—Oh, don't worry. My Aunt Hanna knows all about that and she says they are drawing attention from us by talking about potatoes and fish and meatless days, of incapable middlemen. Course we don't have middlemen in our line as our cold storage arrangements enable us to freeze 'em out.

Mr. D. G.—Well, I hopes you're right; now what did you do about that feller Paskins?

Sir J. F.—Oh! my! That's a very bad man. He was really disrespectful to me, told me he would sell at what prices he liked, and intended to offer another lot of Hams at 29c per lb. for Thanksgiving.

Mr. D. G.—Lord! Is that so. It's a good job they don't make the likes of him food controller or we'd not get any more profit than the producers and retailers.

Sir J. F.—He's a terrible nuisance, while I was there, I heard him say that he was going to sell lard at 3 lbs. for 83c, and shortening at 3 lbs. for 72c.

Mr. D. G.—Its horrible! And it's the same with everything else he sells. I hear he's selling on Saturday, Cabbage at 3c each, and Potatoes at 30c a peck, best Pickling Vinegar at 49c a gal and he even says he's going to sell all 10c goods at 3 for 25c, 13c goods at 2 for 24c and 15c goods at 2 for 29c.

Sir J. F.—Well, I can't think what to do with him. I think we must call a meeting of the Profiteers Association and see what can be done. You arrange to take a party of them to his store on the Corner of Hunter and Aylmer and let them see for themselves, and tell some of them to call him up on phone 217 and ask his prices so they can judge.

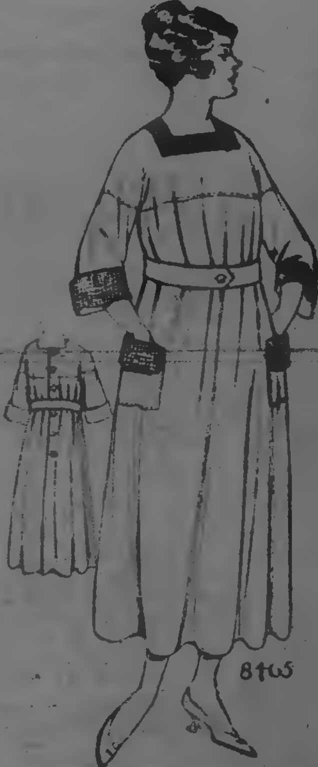
Mr. D. G.—All right! I'll attend to it at once.

The unveiling of a portrait of Principal Fraser last night was a feature of the celebration going on this week in connection with the fiftieth anniversary of the Presbyterian College of Montreal.

Work at Port Nelson on the Hudson Bay terminals has closed for the season, and Foreman George H. Roy, of Ottawa, and a party of seventy men arrived at Halifax today on the Dominion Government steamer Sheba. The remainder of the party, over seven hundred, are on the way home by the land route, walking to the rail head, a distance of ninety miles, and from there going on to Winnipeg by way of The Pas and on to Hudson Bay Junction.

LADY'S HOUSE DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.



Even the Home Reserve League needs to be sensibly uniformed for greater efficiency, and the house dress illustrated in No. 8465 is just the thing for the purpose. It is made with a deep yoke, which gives the drop shoulder effect over the arms. The sleeves are the right length for working purposes, and they are finished with turned back cuffs. A square neck trimmed with a flat band of contrasting material insures coolness. A narrow belt holds the fulness in place at the waist line. Two large and convenient pockets are stitched at the sides.

The lady's house dress pattern, No. 8465, is cut in sizes 36 and 40 inches bust measure. Width at the lower edge of skirt is 2⅝ yards. The 36 inch size requires 4⅛ yards 36 inch material, with ⅜ yard 36 inch contrasting goods.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

U.S. FIGHTING SPIRIT IS AROUSED

SHELL CRATERS ON WESTERN BATTLE FRONT ARE FILLED WITH GERMAN DEAD AND DYING

Casualties of the Foe in Recent Battle Have Been Frightful---Men Killed by Own Barrage Fire---Daring Exploits of Australian Aviators---On French Front.

(By Associated Press)

British front in France and Belgium, Oct. 6.—Germans suffered severly in British attack Thursday and trip along battle front east and north-east of Ypres showed hundreds of bodies of German soldiers among debris.

At many places the shell craters were filled with dead. Here and there were wounded, some times under a pile of corpses which the British stretcher bearers had not been able to reach.

Along one section of the Austrian front a thousand bodies were counted.

Killed by Own Fire

A little further south there was another lot of 700. Some of these had been prisoners who were making their way back within the British lines when they were caught in their own barrage and killed.

One officer of the Prussian guard who was captured near Polygon Wood said that the British shell fire did terrible havoc among his men.

A Daring Pilot

A British airplane, with an Australian as its pilot, had a remarkable experience yesterday. The pilot and observer kept at work despite the clouds and the rain. The Germans fired many shells at plane but it continued in action. When the pilot was finally forced to volplane down behind his own lines it was found that his machine had been struck so often that it was of no further use. Neither the pilot nor the observer was injured.

Today the pilot asked that he be allowed to go up again. His superior officer, however, thought that he had had enough excitement for the time being and refused permission.

Defences Abandoned

At some places in the New Line established by the British attack in Flanders, the Germans were in such exposed positions that they had pulled back their defences a short distance. British patrols found the forward defences in one section abandoned.

Paris, Oct. 6.—The Germans made an attack last night on Verdun front near Hill 344. They gained a footing in the French positions at some points, but later were driven back.

ALLIES' CAUSE CERTAIN TO WIN OVER GERMANY

Commander of American Army in Europe Has no Doubt as to Result.

ISSUES STATEMENT TODAY

Officers and Men Have Been Aroused by Reports Coming From United States.

Paris, Oct. 6.—The cause of the Entente Allies will be carried to a successful issue over Germany. General Pershing, commander-in-chief of the United States forces in France, declared today. His statement was in answer to reports that the war on the western front will result in stalemate: American newspapers recently arrived in France telling of the efforts in certain quarters in the United States to spread the idea that the western front can never be broken or the Germans driven out of France has aroused not only General Pershing, but the entire American army.

Further resentment has been caused by the information that these reports had been taken up by German newspapers in an attempt to belittle the United States' effort in the war.

FIRST GAME OF WORLD SERIES AT CHICAGO IN SIXTH INNINGS IS 2 TO 1 IN FAVOR OF CHICAGO

PETERBORO ASKS FOR TON OF FISH

DEALERS SAY THEY ARE ABLE TO HANDLE THAT MUCH EACH WEEK.

Peterboro fish dealers applied to the Ontario Government for one ton per week, which is rather more than the department was figuring on for a city of this size.

The supply of Ontario Government fish is increasing and next week will see regular shipments to Toronto London, Ottawa, Hamilton and other cities and towns in the Province.

In Hamilton the shipments will be handled by the municipal corporation through the dealers. The Government will sell to the city and the city will distribute the fish through the retailers and collect from them It is understood the plan proposed is that dealers must pay for one consignment before they get the next, and consumers will probably be required to pay cash.

A large shipment would have been sent to Ottawa yesterday had the department's telegram instructing the fishermen on Lake Nipigon to ship a good supply to the Capital been delivered in time.

Three tons reached Toronto last evening and the fish will be on sale in retail stores all over the city this morning.

Second Tally of Game Was Made in Fourth, When Felsch, Center Fielder for Chicago, Batted out a Home Run---Perfect Fielding by Both Teams in Six Innings---Average Over One Hit an Innings.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Chicago, Oct. 6.—After a night of cold and rain the skies cleared this morning and prospects for the first game of the world championship games between the Chicago Americans and the New York Nationals was for fair weather and a temperature of about 55 degrees.

Waiting at the Gates

Today is great day of baseball world. This afternoon at two o'clock New York Giants champions of National League and the Chicago White Sox champions of the American League, meet for the world's championship.

All night long a line of two or three hundred patrons including a few women stood in line waiting for the ticket office to open at ten o'clock this morning. When the fifteen thousand remaining pavillion and bleacher seats were to be put on sale. It was cold and most of the night there was a drizzle of rain punctuated from time to time with a pelting dust that penetrated to the marrow. Some quit only to reappear before dawn.

The line-up will be as follows:

The White Sox depended upon Eddie Cicotte to outwit the New York batsmen while Manager McGraw tried out Schupp. Sallee and Perritt in the battery warm up.

All Chicago made a holiday today, every artery that led to Comisky Park pulsated with a great crowd fevered with excitement. Hundreds unable to gain admission to the Park hung around the outside of the high walls and followed the game as best they could from the spectators who showed to them the progress of the plays. It was a perfect October day and made to order for baseball. An Indian summer sun helped bake out the base paths made sodden by Friday's downpour while a drowsy southerly breeze blew across the field.

The Batteries

Chicago—Cicotte and Schalk.

New York—Salee and McCarty.

Manager McGraw used big Jeff Tesreau, his spit baller in the batting practice of the Giants. Two left-handers, Schupp and Sallee and Perritt took their turn at bat.

For the Soldiers

While the spectators were gathering a collection was taken up for the ball and bat fund for the American soldiers fighting abroad. The players of both teams gathered around the home plate and a speaker made a patriotic address at the same time showing the flags of the allies.

Novel Feature of Tag Day Introduced by G. W. Powell, Society's Agent.

Bright and early this morning a small army of ladies were on the streets selling tags in aid of the Children's Aid Society, and they met and are meeting with generous response. Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Sanderson, convenor and secretary, respectively of the committee in charge of the day's campaign were both out personally helping on the work.

Mr. Geo. W. Powell, the secretary's agent was kept busy all day in the committee room over the Bank of Montreal. Of 74 boxes provided for the occasion, 73 were in use.

WARSHIPS MAKE SHORT WORK OF GERMAN SUBS.

One Dropped Explosives Upon Underwater Craft When it Dived to Escape.

SUBMARINE COMPLETE WRECK

Another Destroyer, Moving 30 Knots an Hour Rammed Fleeing Sub.

London, Oct. 8.—Admiralty records just published show that recently honors do not rest only with the fliers of the navy. They relate how a division of destroyers patrolling in the North Sea sighted submarine and dashed forward at full speed. The war vessel crossed over the submarine just as it dived and dropped explosives on the spot. A large dark object came to the surface and then promptly sank and wreckage and oil at once appeared.

In another incident several destroyers while accompanying light cruisers, sighted a small sail on the horizon which turned out to be a submarine. One destroyer altered its course toward the submersible which had dived but soon raised its periscope and then again dived within ten seconds. The destroyer went at full speed for the spot. The submarine's bow suddenly broke above the surface half a mile away showing the conning tower and a large vertical rudder.

The war vessel then rammed the under water boat while going at a speed of thirty knots. The enemy craft sank vertically bubbling like a gigantic empty bottle in more than a hundred fathoms of water.

Threatening letters received by Matthew Ford, a farmer in East Korah township, led to the arrest of a neighbor's wife.

The Win-the-War Electoral Association of Westmount-St. Henri has been formed to support a candidate in the election.

57 ARE REJECTED OUT OF THE 209 MEN EXAMINED

Week's Record of Work Done by Medical Board---Physicians Who Are Members Have Not Given up Private Practice.

The impression has gone abroad that Drs. Cameron, Eastwood and Greer, the examining medical board, have given up private practice by reason of their military duties. This is not so. They have merely changed their office hours to 1 to 3 in the afternoon and 6:30 to 7:30 in the evening.

All told, since Monday morning, 209 men have been examined as to their fitness for military duty under the Military Service Act, of which 57 have been turned into "E" category as rejected.

One Session Monday.

On Monday there will be no afternoon or evening session of the medical board. They will accept applicants in the morning only from 10 o'clock to 12 noon.

Seven Against Three.

The number of applicants last night between 7:30 and 9:30 was ten, of whom but one was a C.G.E. man. Of these ten, seven were passed into "A" and three into "E".

C.G.E. Men Dominate.

Yesterday afternoon there was a falling off in the usual number of men presenting themselves between the hours of 3 and 5, but eleven undergoing examination. Of this number, seven were employes from the big electrical factory in the south end. Three were rated in category "A," three in "B," and five in "E."

Fifteen This Morning.

This morning there were nearly fifty per cent. of rejections Fifteen were examined in all, resulting in eight being classed in "A" category and seven in "E," with none for either "B" or "C." Seven of the men were C. G. E. employes. The rejections numbered fifteen.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1917

TAKING A CHANCE.

Probably it is true that under Sir Wilfrid's leadership the Liberal party cannot be united so long as the war lasts. His attitude towards conscription has alienated thousands of English-speaking Liberals, though it may have held his Quebec followers to their party allegiance. It is hard to see how there can be a reconciliation while the war is on. But how the party fortunes could be improved by a change of leadership is not clear. If Sir Wilfrid were to be succeeded by a conscriptionist Liberal he would doubtless have the support of all conscriptionist Liberals; but it is almost certain that the majority of Quebec Liberals would repudiate him—and Quebec is at present the chief stronghold of the Liberal party.—Hamilton Herald.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

THANKSGIVING DAY is the annual festival of thanksgiving for the mercies of the closing year. That was the original object of the holiday, and for years it was observed on a Thursday, and the day was marked by religious services everywhere. For a number of years, however, the date has been set for Monday, the special services are now held in the churches on the preceding Sunday, and Thanksgiving Day proper has become largely an occasion for indulging in secular pleasures. To a great extent the original significance has been lost.

Practically, Thanksgiving Day is a national harvest festival. It is fixed by proclamation issued by the Governor General and is observed as a legal holiday. In 1789 the Episcopal Church formally recognised the authority of the civil government to appoint such a feast, and in 1888 the Catholic Church also decided to honor a festival which for a long time had been nearly universally observed.

It was in the New England States, so noted for ascetic religious rites, that Thanksgiving Day had its origin so far as America is concerned. The Pilgrim Fathers, those sturdy pioneers who, for conscience sake, gave up their homes in England, held their first service of praise at Plymouth in 1621. In the United States the holiday is fixed for the last Thursday in November, and the day is still marked by special services in all the churches. The spirit of commercialism has not been allowed to invade this particular religious institution as it has in Canada where, it seems, two days of worship in a single week is regarded as something of a hardship.

Not for three years have the people of Canada had as much reason to join heartily in a service of Thanksgiving than they have at the present. The war is still in progress, it is true, but the triumph of the righteous cause for which the people have made so many sacrifices is assured. The dark clouds that have obscured the national firmament so long are beginning to disappear. Famine threatened the world, and the harvest of 1917 has been the greatest that Canada has ever garnered. Victory is with the Allies day by day, and the eve of Thanksgiving witnesses the most crushing blow dealt the enemies of civilization.

GRINDING THE MIDDLEMEN.

THE FRUIT DEALERS and the grocers of the city stock up with supplies purchased from the producers in Western Ontario, through the fruit growers' association, and, in competition with each other, offer the stock for sale at an advance over the wholesale price. This was a businesslike arrangement.

The members of the association, however, put one over on the local dealers. They sent three car loads of peaches, pears and grapes to this city the other day in charge of one man. The cars were sidetracked at the depot, and the fruit was sold at 75 cents a basket, the same being considerably below the price charged by local dealers.

Of course, the consumers got the benefit of the cut." But what about the dealer who has rent and taxes to pay? What about the money that the transient trader takes with him out of Peterborough? It is certainly a hard matter to build up a city under any such system as that.

THAT BATHING BEACH.

WHEN the Property Committee of the City Council meet to consider the proposition of Mr. Peters to establish a bathing place on one of the islands north of the C. P. R. Bridge, they are likely to meet with protests from residents of the city. Attention has been called to the fact that a large amount of sewage from Ashburnham is drained into the river above the island Mr. Peters has in view, and that this fact should be sufficient to put that location out of the reckoning.

The proposition in itself may be all right, but the objection noted above seems sufficient to call for a change of plans.

SIR WILFRID'S NEW MOVE.

A TORONTO paper ventures the assertion that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has told his compatriots that as conscription is now a law there must be no open opposition to it. Sir Wilfrid or any other man in his senses could hardly counsel any other course. That, however, does not commit him as to what he may do with the Military Service Act if the power to repeal it is ever given him or his followers.

In the political situation at Ottawa nothing appears quite so certain as that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will give up the leadership. It is hard to see how that will aid the cause either of his party or the country at large. It may clear the way for the conscription Liberals outside of Quebec, but no matter how the election goes, the anti-conscriptionists from that province are sure to hold a majority of the Liberal following. No matter who succeeds Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whether his successor be Hon. Geo. P. Graham or F. B. Carvell, the Quebec party would control the situation, even if the Liberals as a whole were in the majority. The fight is to be a clearly-defined conflict between the anti-conscriptionists and those who support the Military Service Act, whether Sir Wilfrid Laurier resigns or remains in harness.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Should the Law Be Amended?

(Toronto Telegram.)

War may teach Canada and all the other nations to adorn the scrap-heap with the law of supply and demand. The purpose of that law is to ensure an abundance of food at prices reduced by unrestricted competition. The operations of the law defeat the purpose of the law. In a year of plenty competition may carry the price of potatoes down so low that the next year the farmers refuse to grow potatoes. Then there is a scarcity and potato prices go up. Fair prices stimulate production. Production ensures an abundant supply of food.

WHY WE GIVE THANKS

We thank Thee, Lord, for this fair earth,
The glittering sky, the silver sea;
For all their beauty, all their worth,
Their light and glory come from Thee.

Thanks for the flowers that clothe the ground,
The trees that wave their arms above,
The hills that gird our dwellings round,
As Thou dost gird Thine own with love.

Yet teach us still how far more fair,
More glorious, Father, in Thy sight,
Is one pure deed, one holy prayer,
One heart that holds Thy Spirit's might.

So, while we gaze with thoughtful eye
On all the gifts Thy love has given,
Help us in Thee to live and die,
By Thee to rise from earth to Heaven.

AS AN AMERICAN PAPER VIEWS CANADA'S WAR SUFFRAGE ACT

While the Borden Government of the Dominion of Canada has not yet given up hope of inducing representative liberals to enter a national or coalition ministry, it recognizes that a general election is unavoidable and that the overshadowing issue in that election will be the attitude of the people of "Britain's premier colony" toward the word war. The opponents of conscription have met defeat in parliament, but they are threatening political reprisals at the polls. Some of their leaders assert that no amount of liberal support of the Borden policies can save the conservative party in the coming election.

The knowledge that the anticonscriptionists and all the disaffected elements are planning a combined attack on Premier Borden and his liberal allies is responsible for the remarkable war election act that has been framed by the ministry. Quebec and western liberal newspapers bitterly denounce it as partisan and artful, designed "to save a discredited party and cabinet." But it does not lack defenders, who declare that the unusual features of the act are essential to the welfare of the dominion and the empire at this critical time.

The act enfranchises various groups of citizens and disfranchises other groups. It gives the vote to alien soldiers now fighting or training with Canadian forces as well as to Canadians fighting in the imperial army and not qualified by residence to vote as Canadians. The act also enfranchises the wives, widows, mothers and sisters of soldiers in the overseas forces, as well as nurses and other women officially connected with the Canadian war service.

On the other hand, the act disfranchises conscientious objectors to military service who secure exemption on that ground, men of alien enemy origin naturalized within the last fifteen years and men of enemy-mother-tongue origin born in other than enemy countries and naturalized less than fifteen years ago.

This unique suffrage act, its supporters urge in its defence, will secure loyal support at home of the Canadian soldiers on the firing line; while those Canadians who will not fight or otherwise loyally serve Canada and the empire cannot claim the privilege of voting for the purpose of hampering the government and obstructing war measures.

Not All Foreigners.

(Hamilton Herald.)

Don't make the mistake of supposing that when a strange man accosts a woman on the street or attempts to molest her, he is necessarily a "foreigner." Canadians have been known to offend in this way—and it is not safe to assume from a stranger's appearance that he is a "foreigner."

By Way of Celebration.

(Detroit Free Press.)

A new granddaughter has just arrived in the Kaiser's family. In the meantime the bomb-droppers will probably celebrate the event by shelling a few little granddaughters in England and France.

When the War Will End.

(Detroit Free Press.)

As soon as the German people discover that they can get along without the Kaiser the war will be over.

Cheer Them All.

(Guelph Herald.)

Do not let anyone refer to the men now enlisting slightingly, as one person was heard doing the other day. To every man his life is the most precious gift in the wide world, and if some fear the losing of it more than others, that is no crime. The man who goes willingly the minute his class is called, without trying to sneak out of it, is doing all that he is asked to do, and we should honor him for going. It's all very well for a lot of us who are beyond military age to comment upon those who are liable to conscription, but are we sure we should have been any quicker to go if we had been in their places?

New Zealand Troops.

New Zealand troops bound eventually for the front were gathered in large numbers in Sydney recently. The streets were alive with them; stocky, soldierly-looking youths whose uniforms contracted markedly with those of Australian troops in that they wore tunics very like in cut those in use in the United States army and peaked "cow-puncher" hats. Every arm of the Dominion military service was represented. The Maoris during a parade of the troops through the city attracted the particular attention of the onlookers. The New Zealand Minister for Agriculture, W. D. S. Macdonald, said of the troops, who were composed of both volunteers and conscripts, and of the operation of the compulsory service law in New Zealand.

"Although the conscription system is in force men still have the right to volunteer, and it is always found when men are called up that more than half are volunteers. In my own electorate they have never had occasion for a draft. They have always been able to find the quota through the voluntary system.

"New Zealand does not make the slightest distinction between its volunteers and its conscripts. To each class precisely the same privileges are accorded."

Major Davidson Writes His People

TELLS OF EXPERIENCES IN HOSPITAL AND OF PEOPLE HE HAS MET.

Major J. C. Davidson has written a letter to his congregation at St. John's Church giving an interesting account of his experience in the hospital to which he was sent owing to a break down caused by overwork. The Major speaks highly of the treatment which he received, and pays a handsome tribute to the work being carried on by the Red Cross.

Writes the Major

"In London I met Lt.-Col. H. Rogers of the 3rd Dragoons and late O. C. of the 20th battalion, C.E.F. I also met several Peterborough boys, including Sergt. Hartshorn, George Gray, Aylmer street north, George Butcher, Ashburnham, and Harry Cobb, formerly elevator boy in Cressman's, who from all accounts had done extraordinarily well in consequence of which he was allowed to train for a commission.

"On the Medical Board which passed me as fit for duty in France, sat our well-known citizen and my old 57th comrade, Major McPherson, and also Capt. Rogers, who formerly lived near Colborne. After an interview with my Chief, Col. Almond, Director of Chaplain Service, who gave me much encouragement, I started on my return journey, reaching my well known post of duty on July 15th. The warmth of my welcome made me feel as if I had a second home in France, and it is often remarked that this unit is like one big family under its most capable, kindly and hard-working head, Lt.-Col. Reason, of London, Ont, late of Shorncliffe Military Hospital.

I have heard from both Lt. J. R. Stratton and Lt. Martin Dunsford, wounded. Both are doing well and will shortly be all right. Lt. Stratton returns to duty at once.

Horse Saves Soldier.

A French soldier, private Ambrose Perrichon, owes his life to a German circus horse, which picked him up when he was lying on the field of battle, and carried him into the French lines, says a correspondent in the Horseshoer's Journal. Both the soldier's legs were shattered by a German quickfirer. When night came he heard near him the heavy breathing of a great white horse, which munched the short grass. The animal was riderless and he whistled to it and began to clap it kindly. The horse whinnied with pleasure. Perrichon was powerless to make the slightest effort on his own behalf. The animal seemed to understand, for it fell on its knees beside him, held its head over his breast, and remained motionless. Then it got up and walked around the soldier. At last it stopped, sniffed the wounded man all over and then, seizing his leather waistbelt in its teeth, it lifted him from the ground and galloped off. When the horse stopped in the advance French lines at daybreak its human burden was little more than a wreck. But tender care has since brought him round and he is now convalescent. Perrichon's sergeant, who knows a lot about horses, says the animal which saved his life was before the war in a German circus, where it performed in the pantomime known as "The Arab and His Faithful Steed."

Nurse Received Decoration.

Just a year ago last Christmas Eve a little band of nurses left Toronto under the charge of Miss Helen McMurrich to join the French Flag Corps. Instituted to provide trained British nurses for strengthening French hospitals, no nursing division calls for more bravery or sacrifice, for the stipend of such is $208 a year, and their work is carried on so near the firing line that it is never permitted to name the place where they are located. Among those French Flag nurses that left Toronto was Madeleine Jaffray, of Galt, daughter of Mr. J. P. Jaffray, Canadian Government agent at Philadelphia. And to Miss Madeleine Jaffray has fallen the proud honor of being the first Canadian nurse to receive the great Croix de Guerre of France. For on the 4th of June, while on duty at a moveable hospital next to the very firing line, the Germans shelled the hospital, and Miss Jaffray was wounded in the foot. So full of admiration at her courage were the French that all the generals of the division visited her, and just three days later she received the wonderful Croix de Guerre.

Ottawa, Oct. 6. — Sir Thomas White, who had charge of the bill to take over the Canadian Northern; Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways and canals, and one or two other members of the Cabinet have about framed up their proposals for the administration of that railway. The Government is to retain the company form of the C. N. It is generaly believed that Hon. Frank Cochrane will be chairman of the board.

TY COBB PICKS THE WHITE SOX

One of the great surprises of the world's series is that Benny Kauff picks the Giants to win. Everybody expected Benny to select the White Sox and cannot imageine what caused him to switch.

Ty Cobb's Forecast

Ty Cobb thinks the Giants will lose which is not surprising, in view of the fact that Tyrus is an American leaguer and has no cause to love the Giants. Still Cobb argues reasonably and without malice as follows:

"I don't regard McGraw's pitchers as formidable. The Giants win largely on their attack. Chicago has good pitchers, but they have been worked pretty hard.

"When we played the White Sox recently we were beaten four games in two days, although in those four games we knocked out seven pitchers. This shows that the American league champions have a powerful attack, though most of the experts seem to think the Giants far excel them in delivering hard blows. I base these conclusions largely on the fact that the Sox had something on our club and I don't believe any one will assert that the Giants excel Detroit on attack.

"Everything depends upon the start If they get away to one of those even break affairs as we did with Pittsburgh in 1909, then either team may win. But if the White Sox can get a running start, winning the first two games, they will go right through and bring the series to a finish in a hurry.

"There is only one thing for Rowland to do and that is to use Cicotte and Williams as his first two pitchers. They are the men he has the best chances to win with. Russell looked bad when he last opposed us, though he is a high class boxman.

"Faber, in shape, really outclasses anybody on the Sox staff. But one cannot tell just what condition he will be in. He should be rested. Then, if the two Sox pitchers I have named can come through, he can be sent in, and, with the confidence gained by previous victories, is almost sure to win.

"There never has been much base running in a world series and I do not look for much in this. McGraw has switched his system this year and has not attempted to steal many sacks. I never have seen Rariden or McCarthy in action except in exhibition, so cannot discuss their abilities. But if the Giants start to run on Schalk they will be halted quickly."

WILL VOLUNTEERING STOP

It is said that the volunteer system of signing on men will automatically cease with the issuing of the proclamation, and with the closing of the volunteer system the age limit will be placed at 20.

DETROIT STAR AND CINCINNATI MAN HEAD THE LIST OF BATTERS.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Chicago, Oct. 6. — Ty Cobb, Detroit star, and Eddie Roush, hard-hitting outfielder with the Cincinnati team, are the 1917 batting champions of the major leagues.

Cobb, with an average of .380, finished with a lead of 22 points over Tris Speaker of Cleveland, who led the American League in 1916. According to unofficial averages released today, Roush showed the way to the National League batters with .343, 21 points ahead of Hornsby of St. Louis, his nearest rival. These averages include the final games of the season for the western teams.

KILLED THEIR COLONEL.

How German Soldiers Became Free to Surrender.

Many letters have been received in Canada giving versions of the capture of Messines Ridge, but there has been none more interesting than that of Lieut. Jack McCordindale, M.C., who states en passant that from a German prisoner he learned that an enemy colonel and his sergeant-major met death in their anxiety to have their command fight to the last man. The Germans, sick of the whole thing, killed their superiors and then surrendered. Lieut. McCorkindale also tells of seeing bundles of dead Germans ready for shipment to the notorious "fat factory."

The writer of the letter is a well-known Ontario boy, a student of the University of Toronto, who was home on furlough this spring. He just returned to the front immediately prior to the onslaught at Messines.

His letter follows:

"At three o'clock in the morning, the most terrific rumble you ever heard burst from our guns behind the lines. The air screamed with shells, the horizon lit up clearly with the gun flashes, the machine guns poured out a terrific curtain of fire, blue haze rose between us and the guns. I was in the Bull ring with signallers and runners. Suddenly Spanbrock Molen went about three hundred feet into the air by three successive volcanic eruptions. The mines had gone off, and well we knew it. Th earth shook three feet straight sideways, knocking everyone down. Infantry and everyone righted themselves again and mounted the parapet, and with one dash and yell, we carried the German first line. The carnage began, but it was mostly one-sided. The mines completely disorganized the Hun and the artillery fairly knocked him off the map. The artillery lifted and we carried his third line. Day was then breaking, and we could just distinguish between Hun and man, both flanks had come up and I could plainly see that glorious day for British arms had begun.

"To left and right the huge tanks wallowed about, much like an overgrown pig, but dealing out deadly machine gun fire to all Huns who had the least fight in them. After clearing out the Hun from the first three lines the barrage crept up the ridge, followed by the crouching infantry, with glistening bayonets. It was a wonderful sight, but most painful when you tried to place yourself in the Huns' shoes. On we went, clearing everything in front. At Enfer Wood, a Hun told me they had just killed their own colonel and sergeant-major, because they wanted the men to fight to the last man. Then, after killing their own officers, they gave themselves up.

"It was a glorious day for British arms. The stalwart sons of Ireland fairly murdered the Huns, and decidedly their coolness and courage in battle is unbelievable. The German field guns were simply pulverized. We got 28 on our divisional front. In many places it was simply slaughter, for young Bavarians lay three deep all along the trench. Poor fellows! They were mostly killed by our artillery fire. This time the kaiser's brave, stalwart, noble, undaunted, unshakable, iron-nerved, fearless, and boasted Bavarians, crumpled to pieces. When the Irish finished with them there was not enough left to [illegible]

"I also saw dead Huns wired together in bundles of three, labelled for rail-head and thence to Bairnfathers, "Alas, mine poor brother" factory—to make grease for shells. Poor old Fritz! Even after you kill him you are not done with him. He comes back in shells, or greases the mechanism for it to explode in your face. They say never to hold spite. We advanced four miles and stopped at our will. We don't care to take another salient."

In Flanders Fields.

In his patriotic contribution to the debate on the selective draft, Mr. Hugh Guthrie, the member for South Wellington, quoted two or three lines from "In Flanders Fields." This beautiful poem was written for Punch by Dr. John MacCrae, a Montreal physician and poet, who was born in Guelph, where his father and mother still reside. Dr. MacCrae was through the Boer War. He went overseas early in the present war and now holds the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. "In Flanders Fields" reads:

In Flanders fields the poppies grow,
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead, short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunsets glow,
Loved and were loved and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe.
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch: be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies blow
In Flanders fields.

Red Pine Stump Oil.

Some days ago a man from the [illegible] Department of Lands, Forest, and Mines of Ontario, to the Deputy Minister, Mr. Albert Grigg, some four bottles of red pine oil, which he had manufactured in the north country. The samples were of oils taken at different temperatures.

This red pine oil is used in the Cobalt district to recover a lot of ore from the dumps which previously had been lost. For some time this oil has been obtained from Germany but since the war the oil has been obtained from California. In the north country there are a lot of red pine stumps from which this oil could be extracted and this man has been working in a small way to try and produce it.

If this can be done there will be a new industry started, and the old red pine stumps which have been there for years will be found to be of great use. Besides the oil, a black tar has been extracted as well and the remnants of the stumps make a fine class of charcoal.

Plaster For Cracks.

Use vinegar instead of water to mix your plaster of paris. Push into the cracks and smooth it off nicely with a table knife.

READY FOR REPUBLIC.

All Classes in Russia Are Prepared Says Raymond Recouly.

A last point to which I wish to call attention is that from the first hour of the revolution the republican idea made extraordinary progress in the minds of all classes. I live among Russians, and could therefore watch its growth day by day. Men of letters and men of business, merchants, financiers, lawyers, professors — I saw them, one after another, come to the same way of thinking. For the first weeks it seemed impossible to many of a conservative turn of mind that there should be a Russian republic. They said, "Our country is not ripe for one. Think of all the hard experiences which you French went through before the republic was really at home in France, and yet your people are highly developed, while ours are not," and so on. These same men have now come round, little by little, to the republican idea. One reason is that any other form of government would present many difficulties, if, indeed, it is not impossible. The Romanoff dynasty is discredited, to say the least; it is not conceivable that it [illegible] no other available aspirants to the throne, even supposing that the nation wished to return to a monarchy. Anyone who feels inclined to pronounce judgment upon the Russian revolution should bear this in mind; the old regime was so detestable that any new one, even if far from perfect, cannot be worse. From the military point of view, which is, of course, what is most interesting to Russia's allies, the former system, or want of it, had so disorganized the whole country that it was becoming more and more difficult to carry on the war. It is hard to see how either the Russians or we of the Allies can suffer by the change, because what has been thrown away was absolutely worthless. That should always be in our minds when we are inclined to criticize Russia, in order that we may keep our proper mental perspective and see things as they really are.—Raymond Recouly in Scribner.

Lord Rhondda Has Plans To Eliminate All Waste, Also War Profiteering

LORD RHONDDA, the new British food controller, outlining recently the policy he intends to follow to regulate food prices and eliminate profiteering, said he intended to fix the prices of commodities of prime necessity over which he could obtain effective control at all stages, from the producer to the consumer. Every effort would be made to prevent speculation, and unnecessary middlemen would be eliminated. Existing agencies would be utilized for the purpose of distribution under license and under the control and supervision of local food controllers to be appointed by the local authorities.

Where profits were made illegally, Lord Rhondda said he would press for imprisonment in all cases of sufficient gravity. He proposed to eliminate profiteering by fixing prices on the basis of pre-war profits. All flour mills would be taken over and worked on the Government account, the flour being sold to bakers at a uniform price, and the bakers being expected to sell loaves over the counter at a maximum of nine pence retail price and flour at a corresponding rate.

British wheat will be purchased by millers at prices determined by the Government, these prices over the year averaging seventy-two shillings per quarter.

The prices charged to millers for both home and imported wheat would be lower than the cost to the Government, and the difference would be made up by a subsidy from the Exchequer. The policy of subsidies was only justifiable because of the impossibility otherwise of reducing the cost of food to the poor.

Maximum prices of cattle would be fixed—74 shillings per hundredweight in September, 72 shillings in October, 67 shillings in November and December, and 60 shillings in January. This would enable the farmers to realize without serious losses, and would reduce prices to the consumer.

Dealers' and butchers' profits would also be controlled. Retail prices would be fixed by local committees, and arrangements would be made for equitable distribution. The local authorities would be asked to appoint food control committees, including at least one representative of labor and one woman, these committees to be responsible for carrying out the regulations of the food controller.

A new scheme of sugar distribution, said Lord Rhondda, would be put into operation, and another important feature of the economy campaign would be the establishment of communal kitchens.

Chicago to Canadian Highlanders.

Brave sons of rugged Canada,
Of Scotia's matchless strain,
Since you have stood with sturdy France
To stay the Teuton's wild advance;
Since you have bled to save the day,
Since you have dared with death to play,
To hold this avalanche at bay,
How shall we honor you?
As glowworm to the waving grass,
As shadow to the mountain pass,
Can Mars lend lustre to the sun?
Can fishes swell the Amazon?

LADY'S DRESS.

By Annabel Worthington.

Every [illegible] must have at least one basque dress this season to be in the fashion, and the model shown in No. 8459 is a very clever interpretation of this style. The waist fits smoothly at the waist line in front, but it is slightly draped at the underarm seams to give the desired fit. The back of the waist is gathered at the waist line, and a narrow belt of the material goes across the back and buttons onto the front. The neck is quite low and square at the front, and the opening is filled in with a crossed vest of lace. The collar is one of the new narrow ones. The long, close fitting sleeves are cut in points which come over the backs of the hands. A straight one piece skirt is gathered to the slightly raised waist line.

The dress pattern, No. 8459, is cut in sizes 36 to 42 inches bust measure. The 36 inch size requires 4⅝ yards 36 inch material, ½ yard 36 inch contrasting goods and ⅛ yard 6 inch lace for vest.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

Ready-made spectacles have lenses of equal strength for both eyes. In the majority of cases both eyes are not affected the same, and require different corrections, while sometimes only one eye is defective. Windsor Official Suffered 15 Years

DECLARES HE FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN AFTER TAKING TANLAC.

Few persons in Windsor are better known than Patrice Marentette, who for the past nine years has been reeve of the Township of West Sandwich. Mr. Marentette is a progressive and successful farmer and is one of the most influential men in the community; therefore his testimony regarding the remarkable results he has derived from the use of Tanlac is significant and will interest anyone who knows him. In telling the story the other day of his recent restoration to health, Mr. Marentette said:

"I suffered from a serious stomach trouble for fifteen years, and during that time I tried all kinds of medicines, but never found anything to relieve me till I started on Tanlac. [illegible] dyspepsia, and I had to be very careful what I ate. Most everything soured on my stomach and made me feel like I was burning up inside, gas would swell me up so I could hardly get my breath, and I would often spit up bits of my undigested food. My head ached and I would get so nauseated and dizzy, I was afraid of falling. I felt too weak and run down to do my work with any satisfaction. I was so restless I couldn't half sleep, and got up in the mornings feeling just as bad as when I went to bed.

"I don't know what I would have done if I had not read so many endorsements of Tanlac from people I know to be reliable. That convinced me, and I got a bottle. I am on my fourth now, and I feel like a new man. My stomach is in good condition, I have a fine appetite and don't have to worry about my eating. My head has stopped aching, I sleep better than in a long time, I have got rid of that tired, worn-out feeling, and I am stronger and better fitted to get through with my work without getting tired."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and in Havelock by A. C. Denike.

LANTERN NIGHT FOR A.B.C. CLUB

SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT FOR YOUNG PEOPLE AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Under the auspices of the St. Johns A.B.C. Club, an interesting evening was provided in the school last night for the scholars and their parents. The program was both entertaining and instructive. Three sets of lantern slides from the Sunday school commission, Toronto, were used, two of them "Pat and the Bear" and "How Freddy minded the Baby", with readings by Misses Smith and Stewart affording huge delight.

The third set were on the subject of "The Sacrament of Baptism," the use of water as a symbol of cleansing [illegible] from the "Flood" to modern times by a series of splendid pictures, and a most interesting and thoughtful lecture delivered by Mr. R. J. Devey, who seemed to be thoroughly at home with the subject.

Misses Quartermaine, Georgie Cuffe, and Mr. Cowie gave delightful songs. Mr. Bates, president of the A. B. C. Club was in charge of the excellent arrangements. The lantern was operated by Mr. Cyril Devey and Mr. Douglas Caniff, and Miss Muriel Bridge assisted Mr. R. J. Devey in the vocal accompaniments on the piano. These lantern evenings are to be given monthly throughout the winter.

TEA

WHICH?

"This bulk tea is the best I could buy at the price, Mrs. Brown, but I believe you will like Red Rose better.

"We use Red Rose at home and like the rich flavor. My wife says it goes further."

Hundreds of grocers are making statements somewhat like this.

They have sold Red Rose Tea for many years and have found the quality so good that they use it in their homes.

Most grocers naturally like to make an extra profit on their bulk tea, but they cannot help recommending Red Rose Tea because they know it's worth the price.

They know it goes further because it consists chiefly of the teas from Assam in Northern India, the strongest, richest teas grown anywhere in the world.

Red Rose tastes better and goes further.

INCREASE FOR COAL MINERS

Operators' and men Agree on New Contract

Washington, Oct. 6.—Bituminous coal miners of the central competitive field won their fight for a general wage increase, when operators' and miners' representatives, in conferences here, reached a compromise agreement on the terms of a new contract. The agreement presages a wage raise throughout the industry, since the central fields' scale serves, as a basis for all other districts, and a consequent advance is expected in the fixed price of coal. After the agreement, drawn by a sub-committee, is ratified tomorrow by the full conference, they will go to the fuel administration and ask a revision upward of present coal prices to meet the raise. The wage increase, according to operators' estimates, will add from 35c to 50c a ton to the cost of producing coal in thick vein mines, and considerably more in mines containing the thinner veins.

The new contracts will include clauses to prevent strikes and lockouts. It will run for te duration of the war, provided the war does not continue more than two years longer.

MONTREAL BREAD PRICE

HOW THE TROUBLE STARTS

If more people knew how Rheumatism and kindred ills started there would be infinitely less suffering.

It should be a matter of popular knowledge that the blood stream completes the circulation of the body in approximately three minutes, gathering up waste matters. It is the function of the Kidneys to remove these impurities or poisons from the blood and eliminate them from the body. Should there be any derangement of the Kidney action the poisons are not eliminated but are carried around again in the blood stream, to accumulate slowly and occasion sickness and distress. Then follow pains in the back, in the region of the Kidneys, Rheumatism, constant headaches, and the many complaints arising from derangements of the Kidneys or Bladder. First, the Kidneys must be put in order and until these organs are healed and regulated no real health is possible. Gin Pills contain the medicinal and tonic properties that the Kidneys require.

You can get Gin Pills at all dealers—50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, or a sample will be sent free upon request to the National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U. S. address, 202 Main St., Buffalo, N.Y. 124

HELP FOR BRITISH RED CROSS

On Trafalgar Day, October 18th, a special collection is to be taken up all over Canada in aid of the British Red Cross and no doubt Peterborough will fall in line as in the two preceding years. Organized committees are already at work in Toronto and Hamilton, and in the former city the collection will extend over three days—Oct. 16, 17 and 18. It is time that activities were in evidence here if a substantial sum is to be raised this year for one of the noblest institutions engendered by the war.

The term British is sometimes misunderstood, many people classing natives of the British Isles only under that category, whereas it implies all peoples in the old country and colonies subject to the British flag. And true to its name, the British Red Cross carries voluntary aid to the sick and wounded of the British forces on land and sea, wherever they may be within the area of the war. It is the only institution which does this, and as such should, perhaps, enjoy precedence of all other similar calls.

Expenditure $300,000 a Week

This worthy institution, in again appealing for funds with which to further prosecute its beneficient work for the Empire's fighting forces is substantially commended in the following brief summary of its past operations:

The total expediture of the British Red Cross for the first year of the war (to October 20th, 1915) was approximately $8,500,000. For the second year of the war (to October 20th, 1916) it was slightly over $9,000,000. Today it is approximately $300,000 a week, or approximately $16,000,000 a year. These figures give force to the statement of the chairman of the executive. "If Canada fails us in October, we must curtail many of our activities," for the Province of Ontario contributed in 1915, $1,515,000, and in 1916, $1,680,000. The real appeal to us this year is, therefore, contained in the one sentence, THIS GREAT WORK MUST GO ON.

The foregoing should give a sufficiently general idea of the tremendous scope of the British Red Cross in its humane and "Samaritan" succor to sick and wounded sufferers in defence of Britain's glorious traditions, which stand and always will make for civilization, freedom and justice. It should also prove an incentive to Peterborough citizens to respond to the call for funds and to do so handsomely.

MEDICAL BOARD

CANADA

Medical Boards are Ready !

Medical Boards are now ready to examine all men who apply as to their physical fitness for military service. These boards are established throughout this district.

Upon examination, the medical board will classify each applicant according to his fitness; into Category A if he is fit for service in overseas fighting units; Category B if fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalions, etc; Category C if fit for service in Canada only, etc.

Only men whose medical examination places them in Category A will be included amongst those required to join the colours in the first instance; the man placed in any other category will remain at home until men in the category to which he has been assigned are called to the colours. The men placed in Category A may still apply for exemption on any ground.

Men between the ages of 20 to 34 inclusive, who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917, are strongly advised to report before a Medical Board at once. This is the quickest and surest way for them to find out their status under the Act.

Parents and employers are also urged to have those in whose cases they are specially interested visit a Medical Board and undergo examination. The methods of examination are simple and will result in no discomfort or inconvenience.

Now is the time for employers to obtain facts of the greatest value to them in making their calculations. The Medical Boards will determine how many of their employees will be left at home for physical reasons and how many will be selected for service unless an application for exemption be made with success.

Issued by The Military Service Council.

DOES NOT NEED ADVICE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Will Do as He Pleases, Says Gazette

Montreal, Oct. 6.—"Sir Wilfrid Laurier," says the Gazette, "Although soliciting advice from the favored few, will do as he pleases in the end.

"There was a report from Ottawa last evening to the effect that matters are becoming more complicated from day to day, and that Sir Wilfrid's retirement is but a question of a few days. He may go to Toronto and he may not, but there is no one in the Queen City who can tell the party leader anything about the political situation that he does not already know."

Le Canada again this morning deprecates any intention on Sir Wilfrid's part to resign, and says such action would be a calamity to Canada as well as to the Liberal party.

Honoraria.

Marjorie, aged four, was in the library with her father while her mother was superintending the preparation of dinner. The attention of the head of the house was attracted by a scratching sound, and he looked up to find his daughter at work with a pair of scissors on the top of a polished table.

"Marjorie," he said sternly, "go tell your mother what you've been doing!"

"I won't do it, papa," she said. "Do you think I'm a tattletale?"—Judge.

Sweet Solicitude.

"Why have prices advanced again?" asked the man with the market basket.

"My dear sir," replied the food magnate, "have you not heard how the price of drugs has gone up?"

"Of course."

"We are trying to save you money. We don't want you to overeat and get sick."—Washington Star.

"Now, my child, said the kind old judge, "which do you prefer to go with?"

"That depends," answered the fashionable child. "Is mother to get large alimony?"

"Yes."

Weak Boys and Girls

It is a mistake to think that anaemia is only a girl's complaint. Girls probably show the effect of weak, watery blood more plainly than boys. Delayed development, pale faces, headaches, palpitation and a feeling of listlessness call attention to weak blood in the case of girls. But many boys in their teens grow thin and "weedy" and have pimples on the face, showing that they have not enough blood. The anaemic boy is just as likely to become a victim of consumption as the pale, breathless girl with her headaches and worn-out look. Let the boy in this condition catch cold and he will lose his strength and his health becomes precarious.

To prevent serious disaster to those of the rising generation, let both boys and girls be given the new rich blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are famous the world over for making. When giving these pills watch how soon the appetite returns and how the languid girl or the weak boy becomes full of activity and high spirits. Remember that the boy has to develop, too, if he is to make a strong, hearty man. Give both the boys and girls a fair chance to develop strongly through the new, rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. You will then see active boys and girls instead of weakly children around you.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be obtained by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Luggage.

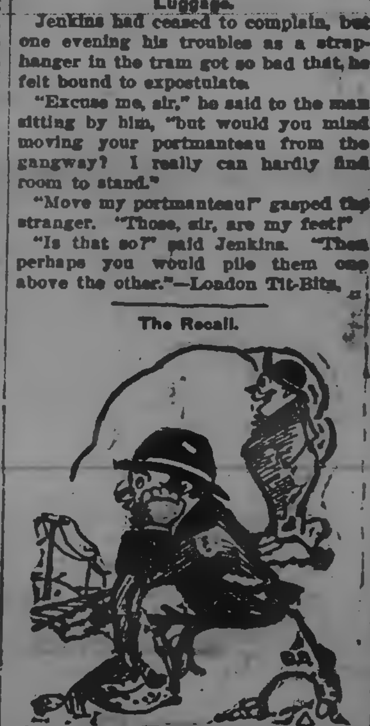
Jenkins had ceased to complain, but one evening his troubles as a strap-hanger in the tram got so bad that he felt bound to expostulate.

"Excuse me, sir," he said to the man sitting by him, "but would you mind moving your portmanteau from the gangway? I really can hardly find room to stand."

"Move my portmanteau!" gasped the stranger. "Those, sir, are my feet!"

"Is that so?" said Jenkins. "Then perhaps you would pile them one above the other."—London Tit-Bits.

The Recall.



"I believe de recall 'ud help to reform me."

"What difference would it make to you?"

"Well, I t'ink I'd quit dis roving life an' settle down an' try to git back at some o' de judges dat keeps sendin' me up."—San Francisco Chronicle.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" — The Wonderful Fruit Medicine — will Protect You

Autointoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the Kidneys and Skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the Kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema — and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Autointoxication or self-poisoning — as "Fruit-a-tives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system.

Water found its way through the floor to the store beneath and Mr. Swartz asked $69 damages from the city. Mr. A. W. Cressman appraised the damages and fixed the amount claimant was entitled to at $47.28. Last night a letter from Mr. Swartz was to hand pressing that his claim of $69 be allowed.

FRUIT SIRUPS.

Juices For Jelly Making Kept Without Sugar Till Need For Them Arises.

Fruit juices for use later in jelly making can be sterilized and bottled without sugar and made into jellies at the housewife's convenience.

This enables her to do with fewer jelly glasses and to distribute her purchases of sugar for jelly making through the year. Moreover, with the bottled juice she can make a greater variety of jellies, as juices which will not jell can be put up when the fruit is ripe and combined later with fruits that will jell, or fruit ripening at different seasons can be combined.

For example, the juice of strawberries, cherries or pineapples can be kept without sugar and later, when apples are plentiful, can be made into combination jelly.

From the unsugared sterilized juices of currants, apples, crabapples and grapes, kept from nine to eighteen months, the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture, recently made jellies of excellent texture, flavor and color.

To put up unsugared fruit juices for jelly making proceed exactly as if jelly were to be made at the time. Cook the fruits until they are soft and strain out the juice through a flannel bag. Heat and pour while hot into bottles previously scalded. Fill the bottles full, leaving no air space between juice and cork or seal. Place the filled sealed bottles on their sides in water near the boiling point and keep them in the bath for about thirty minutes. Make sure that the corked or sealed end is under the hot water. As soon as the bottles are cool cover the cork with a paraffin seal. Thorough sterilization and sealing are absolutely essential to success.

To make jelly from the sterilized juice test its jelling quality, add the proper amount of sugar and proceed as in making jelly from freshly expressed juice.

Wedding Cake.

One pound of butter, one pound of black sugar, one and one-fourth pounds of flour, twelve eggs, six pounds of raisins, five pounds of currants, one and one-half pounds of citron, two teacupfuls of black molasses, two teacupfuls of wine, one cupful of brandy, two grated nutmegs, two tablespoonfuls of cloves, two tablespoonfuls of allspice, one tablespoonful of cinnamon. Before cutting the citron boil it, then use the water the citron was boiled in to put in the cake. The one-quarter of a pound of flour is used to roll the fruit in. At the last add one gill of milk and two tablespoonfuls of baking powder.

Blew the Last Post.

To a Toronto boy, Sergt. Bugler Edward George Evans, belongs the honor of being the leader of the buglers who blew the last post to the fallen Canadians in the service held in Westminster Abbey on Dominion Day. The honor is all the more remarkable when it falls to a lad of Sergt. Evans' age, he being only 18. He was notified that he would be required to furnish and train seven of the best buglers obtainable and after training them he led them in the service at Westminster Abbey.

Before the war he belonged to the 48th, and when the war was declared he took up garrison duty at Toronto Island. At the age of sixteen he enlisted in an overseas battalion, which recruited in Toronto, and went with it to Bramshot Camp. He was anxious to go to the front, but was detained on account of his youth. He is at present in Witley Camp training the buglers of many battalions.

Pay Will Be The Same

Men selected under the Military Service Act will receive the same pay as those now on active service receive. Pay will start from the time a man reports for duty. Money from the Patriotic Fund and Separation Allowance will also be available for selected men.

Canadian soldiers are well paid. The fact that wages in Canada are generally higher than those paid in Europe is recognized in the system of remuneration for men on active service. Clothing and all equipment in addition to food is also supplied to the Canadian soldier, leaving him with no expense except personal incidentals.

The rate of pay for men in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, other than commissioned officers, is as follows:

	Pay	Field Allowance
Warrant Officers	$2.00	30 cts.
Regimental Sergt.-Major, if not a Warrant Officer	1.85	20 "
Quartermaster-Sergeants	1.80	20 "
Orderly Room Clerks	1.50	20 "
Orderly Room Sergeants	1.50	20 "
Pay Sergeants	1.50	20 "
Squad., Batt., or Co. Sergt-Major	1.60	20 "
Colour-Sergeant or Staff-Sergeant	1.60	20 "
Squad., Batt., or Co. Q.M.S.	1.60	20 "
Sergeants	1.35	15 "
Lance-Sergeants	1.15	15 "
Corporals	1.10	10 "
Lance-Corporals	1.05	10 "
Bombardiers, or Second Corporals	1.05	10 "
Trumpeters, Buglers, and Drummers	1.00	10 "
Privates, Gunners, Drivers	1.00	10 "
Sappers, Batmen, etc.	1.00	10 "

As in the case of those already gone overseas, Separation Allowances will be available for those dependent for livelihood upon selected men. The Separation Allowance is $20.00 per month for the rank and file, $25.00 for sergeants and staff-sergeants and $30.00 for warrant officers. The experience is that many men can afford to assign half their pay to dependents, in addition.

A considerable number of men who have enlisted in the Canadian forces have found themselves better off under the army rate of pay, which is granted in addition to board, lodging, clothing, equipment, transportation, etc., than they were while in civilian positions. Their wants are provided for, and they receive a steady addition to the bank account each month.

Total Summary

The summary of Drs. Cameron, Eastwood and Greer's seven day's examinations is as follows:

Total examined	230
A Category	123
B Category	13
C Category	23
E. Category	63

It should be understood that men A Category are passed for service in the trenches, B men will be listed for non-combatant units abroad, C men for home defence only, while E men are rejected entirely for service.

Saturday's Work

Saturday afternoon thirteen men presented themselves before the medical board. They were all C. G. E. men, and but two were rejected, a percentage of 85 thus receiving acceptance certificates. Their grading was as follows: One in A 1, two in A 2, three B's and two E's. An A 1 certificate classes its holder as fit for immediate trench service overseas, he having had previous training. There have been but two A 1 men passed so far, one signed up with Captain Potts last week for the Forestry and Railway Construction Unit.

Saturday evening's session saw seven examined, six going into A Category and one into E.

Post Office Clerks

A poor type of men physically stripped for examination yesterday morning, when nine out of seventeen were sent into Category E, which means a rejection of fifty-three per cent., the highest percentage of unfit men yet passing through the doctor's hands at any one session. Five of the men examined were post office clerks. No examinations were made yesterday afternoon or evening.

Four Days More

The date for issuing the proclamation, calling to the colors every unmarried man or widower without children, between 20 and 34 years of age, has been confirmed for Saturday next, October 13th. This leaves four days more in which eligible men may have a choice of military Service, excepting artillery, by voluntarily signing up now. After the proclamation is issued all A men will be drafted into some infantry unit.

Only Category A men are to be enlisted just now. Grade B and C men must apply for exemption, which will be granted on the face of their certificates without hearing before the tribunals. Later on, should B and C men be called to the colors, they will be given opportunity to appear before a tribunal board to ask for total exemption. As to grade A men, no information is yet to hand in regard to exemption tribunals to deal with petitions for total exemption from applicants holding A certificates. When such tribunals will be in operation will be duly announced. All men within the eligible age must have a certificate from the medical board before presenting their claims for exemption.

This morning eighteen men were examined, of whom 12 were graded in Category A and six in E.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Amsterdam, Oct. 9. — Germany and Austria-Hungary have agreed to make another peace offer to the Allies, the Deutche Tages Zeitung of Berlin says it learns on good authority. THE WINNER ON THE $50 IN GOLD

Mr. Cecil McCligott holds a place of honor today in The Review's great voting contest. Mr. McCliggot won the distinction of turning in the most subscription money during last week and is therefore winner of the special prize of Fifty dollars in gold. This energetic young man has many good friends who will do all in their power to make him winner of the Capital prize car. And that is the prize Mr. McCliggott is out after.

Stick a pin here and refer to it on the closing night of the contest. Watch his votes grow. He is a real contender for top prize honors.

BRITISH AND FRENCH JOIN IN NEW OFFENSIVE AGAINST HUN POSTS NEAR YPRES

Good Progress Reported From All Parts of Line---New Drive Follows That of Last Week to Strike Decisive Blow Before Cold Weather Sets in or Germans Can Recover From Losses of Last Week.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Oct. 9.—The British attacked on a wide front northeast and east of Ypres this morning, the war office announced. Satisfactory progress is being made everywhere. The attack, the statement says, was made "in conjunction with our allies."

The new British drive is being made in the same region as the attack of last Thursday, one of the most successful British efforts of the war. On that day the Germans were expelled from the high ground along the ridge east of Ypres, giving the British dominating positions of great strategic importance. The wedge in the German line had been made most unfavorable, and another "strategic retreat" has been predicted.

Recent despatches from the British front, however, told of heavy rains and deep mud, conditions under which, ordinarily, the renewal of the offensive would not be expected. The decision of the British staff to return to the attack so quickly may indicate a purpose to force a decision before the cold weather sets in or before the Germans have recovered from the last blow, which appeared to have partially demoralized them.

French Take Part.

Paris, Oct. 9. — French troops on the Belgian front at 5:30 this morning attacked in conjunction with the British army German positions south of the forest of Routholst between Draibank and Weindendreft. The French official statement issued this afternoon says the struggle is continuing and is developing favorably to the French arms.

The text of the French war office statement follows:

"In Belgium this morning at 5:30 we attacked in conjunction with the British armies the positions of Germans south of Houtholst forest between Draibank and Weindendreft. The battle continues to develop favorably for us. On the Aisne front there was marked artillery activity, notably in the region of Pantheon In the Champagne we were successful in penetrating the German lines near the Butte of Tahure. After destroying dugous our forces returned with prisoners.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun region) the artillery duel continues in the sector north of the Chaume wood. There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front."

Advance Nearly One Mile

The British have pushed back the Germans through Poelcapelle and are fighting in the eastern outskirts of the city about a large brewery. Many German prisoners have been taken.

Just North of Broodseinde at the Daisy Wood the Germans held out strongly. The British surrounded the wood and hot fighting followed. The attackers then pushed forward a considerable distance down the slopes of the ridge to lower ground. The battle is still proceeding. At many places the French and British have advanced to a depth of 1200 yards or more.

NO EMBARGO ON COAL.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The Fuel Administrator is preparing to modify the embargo on coal shipments to Canada as it has been found that Canada can be supplied in limited quantities without threatening supply now going to the northwest.

NO MORE GRAIN TO BE USED FOR MAKING LIQUOR

Even the Manufacture of Two Per Cent. Beer May Be Stopped.

Early Order is Expected

Government Decides on This Action to Conserve Supply of Food.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The use of grain in the manufacturing of beer or spirits except alcohol for munition work will probably be prohibited in Canada. Some such action is expected and will go into effect almost immediately.

For the past year but little grain has been used in the manufacturing of alcohol for beverage purposes, as most of the distilleries are producing alcohol used in the manufacture of high explosives for the British and allied armies. There has been, however, a great quantity of grain used in producing beer for the local, as well as foreign trade. This will be stopped to conserve the food supply. The United States has prohibited the use of grain in the manufacture of spirits, but pedmits the manufacture of beer. It is expected that the Canadian law will be much more drastic, going even to the extent of stopping the production of two per cent, or temperance beers,

DRAFTED MEN TO ATTEST BEFORE NOVEMBER 10TH

Any Who Claim Exemption Must Present Reason Before That Date.

Report for Duty on December 10th

List of Penalties for Attempts To Bribe Board Members To Be Published.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Although it is officially announced that the first men drafted under the Military Service Act will not have to actually report for duty till December tenth, it is pointed out officially today that every man so called must report for attestation and examination before November tenth and file his claims for exemption if any. This will give the Exemption Boards time to pass on all claims for exemption before the men are generally brought to their respective camps.

In connection with the proclamation to this effect to be issued next Saturday notice will be given of severe penalties of imprisonment on convictions for attempting to bribe any Tribunal, medical or military.

RAIN PREVENTS THIRD GAME IN WORLD'S SERIES

All Hopes of a Contest Were Given Up at Noon in New York.

Chicago Team Favorites

Fifteen Fans Who Waited All Night Disappointed When Game Is Off.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

New York, Oct. 9.—About twelve-thirty today it was decided that it would be impossible to play the third game of the world's champion series here today owing to rain and the soggy field. Fifteen thousand men and women were in the bleacher's line. Some of them had been waiting all night. They were naturally disappointed. Most of them went home for dry clothes, but others expressed a determination to hold their places for another twenty four hours till tomorrow's promised game.

Cold Rain Falling

Light drizzling rain was falling at 10 a.m. making the weather prospects uncertain for the third game between New York and Chicago today. The air was cold and the wind was from the northeast.

New York, Oct. 9.—Weather conditions were uncertain early today for the third game between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox for the baseball championship of the world. The atmosphere was decidedly cold, which was testified to unanimously by shivering fans who stood outside the gate of the Polo Grounds all night. Police officials and Polo ground guards said the all-night crowd was the smallest that has waited up for a world's series game here in years.

Chicago is now decidedly the favorite in betting on the next game.

Bound and Gagged in Broad Daylight

DARING THIEF SECURES $75.00 IN A TORONTO RESIDENCE.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Oct. 9. — Grabbed by a burly thief in mid-afternoon, Mrs. I. E. Williams was bound hand and foot, a drugged capsule put into her mouth, and she was left on the floor while her assailant went through the rooms upstairs and down and possessed himself of $75 and various trinkets.

This occurred within a stone's throw of busy Yonge street, close to the downtown section. Mrs. Williams retained her presence of mind and her courage, and working herself over to the telephone knocked the receiver off the hook with her head and summoned assistance. The robber heard help coming and made a clean get-away.

MEN OUT ON BAIL FAIL TO APPEAR IN POLICE COURT

Send Back Word From Boston That One is Sick and His Friends do not Care to come Without Him.

Three of the four alleged pickpockets released last week on their own personal bail of $1000 each did not respond at the police court this morning when their names were called, but their local solicitor, Mr. G. N. Gordon, submitted the following telegram from Boston, under date of October 8th, which speaks for itself:

"Francis Davis is sick, other men don't want to go without him. Get a week's continuance.

"JAE. M. SULLIVAN"

The above signature is that of the accused's Boston solicitor, who was here in their defence ten days ago.

The three men who have forfeited their bail are Frank Davis, Thos. Flynn and Owen Foley. The fourth accused is a Russian Jew named Sam Searting and was in the dock.

Prosecution of the prisoner Seartining was proceeded with, County Crown Attorney Hatton for defendants. Prisoner did not elect how he would be tried.

Lost $50 at Fair

Arthur Lagure, 554 Romaine St., who lost $50 at the Fair Grounds, testified that on Sept. 14 he went to the Peterboro Fair by way of Lansdowne street. When getting his ticket at the main gate, 25 or 30 other visitors were around him. In his left hand trousers pocket he had a pocketbook contianing $50 in bills and two dollars in silver. In another pocket he had a pocketbook containing $60 in bills.

Apart from the crowd he took out this pocket book for the purpose of buying his ticket, abstracted 50c and returned the book to his pocket. He missed his money on reaching the wicket to buy his ticket. His wife was with him. He reported his loss to Constable Meagher inside the grounds. Ten minutes afterwards he saw Detective Newhall in company with Meagher, told them he had lost his money, and they enquired if he could identify any one in the crowd. He replied that there were a bunch of men at the gates pushing and shouting and he could identify those who had crowded him.

Witness here declared that one fellow snatched at his watch chain and broke it. This was before he bought his tickets. He caught the man's arm and held it. The latter excused himself, and he (witness) released his hold. He looked at his face. Witness had had his hand on his trousers pocket at the time, but when he felt the grip at his chain, he raised hand to the chain. He could identify the man, but did not see him in court. The prisoner and another man were standing beside the man who pulled witnesses' chain. The latter passed by witness on the left side where his lost money was. Prisoner at the time was crowding witness.

From photographs witness identified one of released prisoners as the man who tugged at his chain and the other three as those who were crowding him at the time. He missed his money immediately afterwards.

Continuing, Mr. Lagure said he had in the package he lost two $20 Dominion bills, 2 two's and a one, and a $5 Dominion Bill.

To Mr. O'Brien, in defence, witness replied that he knew the $20 bills were Dominion, because he got them

RACE FOR SPECIAL GOLD PRIZE WAS VERY CLOSE

Cecil McCliggott is Declared Winner of $50 in Gold—Miss Knox Makes Splendid Gain —Other Candidates Run Neck and Neck—Second Period Closes Saturday.

The race for the Fifty dollar special prize ended Saturday night and today Mr. Cecil McCliggott is receiving the congratulations of his many friends for the success he has achieved in the big contest. Mr. McCliggott is winner of the gold prize and is also in a very commanding position for the chief honors of the contest. Earnest effort coupled with unbounded optimism has won for this popular young man the position he holds today and he has many loyal friends who will stand loyally by him to the end of the campaign. He is employed at the offices of the Quaker Oats company.

Miss Vera Knox, who has been meeting with splendid success all along gave Mr. McCliggott a very close race for last week's prize and a very few more subscriptions would have made her the winner. Miss Loretta Booth and Miss Horsfield were also very close contenders and Miss Bessie Thompson was right up with the leaders. W. G. Henderson was only a few subscriptions behind and Miss Lillian Routley was just as close. Three of the contestants turned in on Saturday night exactly the same amount of money which goes to show how close the race really is.

The vote standing will appear in tomorrow's issue of the paper and will show the remarkable work being accomplished by the many contestants.

Two weeks's from Saturday night and the contest will be all over. That means that there are only sixteen working days of the contest left. It is anybody's race today and the candidate who makes the most of every spare minute from now to the finish the candidate who will not be disappointed. There are hundreds of subscriptions waiting for some ambitious contestant to call and get them. Keep up the good work candidates—YOU can win if you will only make up your wind to do so. Every minute counts—only sixteen days left.

Second Period Ends Saturday

The second period of the contest closes Saturday night of this week. Four more days and then the vote schedule will be decreased twenty per cent. Make your motto: HUSTLE, HUSTLE, HUSTLE.

THE RESULT OF THE SPECIAL PRIZE CONTEST

This is to certify that I have audited the contest records for last week and find that Mr. Cecil McCliggott turned in the largest amount of money on subscriptions during the week and is therefore, entitled to the Fifty dollar special prize.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1917

THE ANSWER.

Mrs. Collins is very much disturbed over the "disfranchise of a large number of women who are filled with patriotism" — no woman will be disenfranchised as no woman has yet been given the Federal vote. She is yet a very young woman and will probably have the privilege and responsibility of recording her ballot at many coming elections. I have been an ardent suffragist for a great many years, and may not look forward to but few, if any, opportunities of using my ballot, but I will gladly forego the privilege that I would have had to record a win-the-war vote, and with greater alacrity still will I stand aside to let the women who have so nobly given those who are dearer than life itself for Canada, help Canada by their votes to still "carry on." I am more convinced than ever, since reading Mrs. Collins' letter, that the Borden Government did a wise thing in putting the ballot at this time into only those hands who have, by suffering, been proved worthy to meet the one great vital issue in this election—"To win the war."

Mrs. Elizabeth Kendrey.

No better answer than the above could be given to those who make a political issue of the new Franchise Act.

CAPT. BURNHAM'S RECORD.

Editor Review: We are willing to concede all you say as to Capt. Burnham's stand in Parliament on all questions affecting labor, as your statements are based on the records in Hansard. But Capt. Burnham voted for the new Franchise Act and for the C. N. R. Purchase. What about it?

WORKINGMAN.

CAPT. BURNHAM'S supporters are not required to apologize for his stand on the two questions referred to above. He voted for conscription just as so many members of the House of both parties did. To be perfectly logical it was required of him to vote for the Act that was necessary to save the other enactment from destruction at the hands of aliens.

Organized labor in Canada has always stood for the State control of railways, express and telegraph companies and other utilities. The taking over of the C. N. R. was the longest step ever made in this direction. The country had a mortgage on the C. N. R. and it forecloses the mortgage. If the amount of money advanced represents the full value of the road, not another cent will be paid for it. The purchase, as it is called, was a perfectly businesslike deal, to which none but a partisan, desperate for a case, could possibly object.

MR. GORDON A CANDIDATE?

A LOCAL contemporary had on Saturday evening a special despatch from Toronto setting forth that there is in that city a persistent rumor to the effect that Mr. G. N. Gordon will oppose Capt. J. H. Burnham in the coming election. The newspaper adds that Mr. Gordon's attention was called to the matter and that he refused to say anything, thereby justifying the belief that the rumor is well founded. The announcement of his candidacy gathers additional weight from the fact that it reaches this city by a somewhat circuitous route.

Beyond all manner of doubt there is such a rumor current in Toronto, and it can be traced to the headquarters of the new Independent Labor Party. Mr. Gordon cannot venture into the contest on the straight Liberal ticket. He has not yet brought himself, however, to the point of renouncing Sir Wilfrid Laurier as his leader, and the picture of the chieftain still hangs face outward on his wall. He is ready to change his political complexion to the extent of treating it somewhat with the colors under which the new political organization has been launched. Ever since the idea of a third party was organized Mr. Gordon has flirted with the labor vote, and beyond a doubt he is the first choice of the workingmen who are looking for a standard bearer among the prospective candidates for the Liberal nomination.

The new party will exact from the candidate a pledge that he will regard the interests of labor as paramount in everything and that partisanship must take a second place. He must stand for a universal eight-hour day law and for old age pensions. Whether Mr. Gordon is willing to go this length remains to be seen, but, be that as it may, there is one fact that is outstanding—Capt. Burnham has a record behind him, and this record demonstrates that on all these points Mr. Gordon has been forestalled.

MISPLACED CENSURE.

THE IMPERIAL authorities concurred in Canada's arrangements with regard to the export of nickel. In spite of all precautions, some of the ore found its way to the enemy's country. This would have happened if all Canadian nickel had been sent direct to England.

The Imperial authorities set the price of munitions, and the Canadian manufacturers supplied the finished articles.

The Imperial authorities guaranteed the Canadian packers a profit on bacon and the terms were accepted.

In all of these cases the responsibility of the Canadian Government is hard to fix, and yet the Liberal party's stock in trade consists largely in censuring the home Administration for failing to exercise paternalism over the war officials in London.

PILATE'S ANSWER.

"WHAT IS TRUTH?" asked Pontius Pilate on a memorable occasion. Perhaps the question was put in good faith, with a desire to learn from One whom in his heart the Roman governor held in high regard. It may be that the query was made sneeringly. Pilate's experience with the politics and diplomats of the day having rendered him skeptical. At all events there is nothing on the record to show that he was given an answer.

Were he living today, Pilate could read the war despatches from Berlin and marvel more than ever as to what is really the virtue of veracity. Or he might find his answer in the reverse of what is being said by the Opposition regarding the C. N. R. purchase and other legislative acts of the recent session of Parliament.

NOT TO BE TRUSTED, BUT—

SUPPOSE, says The New York Times, the present German government should solemnly agree to arbitrate all further quarrels, does any man in his senses suppose that it would do so? Suppose it should agree to disarm, would any other nation disarm because of that promise?

The same combination of nations that is crushing Germany to the wall now could insist that if she agreed to disarm, she lived up to her contract. Deprived of the power to fight, arbitration would be all that was left her.

THE CHURCH AND TEMPERANCE

SINCE THE ADOPTION of prohibition by the voters of Quebec City the papers of the country, regarding that as a marvel, have made much of the fact that the Catholic clergy of that city worked night and day for the adoption of the measure.

The attitude of the clergy referred to in that fight for a dry city is not sufficiently novel to occasion any surprise. The Catholic church and the clergy have always been leaders in the temperance movement, and that is the only denomination which maintains a purely temperance branch of church work. There is a larger percentage of the municipalities of Quebec under local option now than there were in Ontario or any other province before a general prohibitory law was passed. Whatever differences may have separated the various denominations, the clergy of all creeds have worked side by side, meeting in the same building and speaking from the same platform in the interests of the cause.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER is still in the saddle, but his horse has evidently taken the bit in his teeth.

AS IT HAS been said before, it is now announced for the first time that Mr. G. N. Gordon is a probable candidate for Parliament.

ODDS AND ENDS FROM THE AMERICAN PRESS

Indignant Georgia Town.
(Adams Enterprise.)

It's well that the travelling barber who cut the hair of twenty people in this town travelled faster than those who pursued him. We believe he was a carpenter in disguise. He left twenty citizens a sight to behold.

Sunflower Chewing Gum.
(Topeka Capital.)

People who live in the rural districts of Kansas do not buy chewing gum; they chew the gum of the rosin weed, and it is very abundant this year. The rosin weed is a variety of the sunflower family. Out in the country fields of many acres are yellow with bloom.

Unfair Treatment of a Warrior.
(Adams Enterprise.)

In spite of the fine war training the editor has had at home—meaning in his particular household—the army people turned him down three times, but he hasn't lost hope; he's going to get in that war somehow! They shouldn't discriminate against a man who is merely grey-headed from worry.

Wit and Wisdom

Labor Lost

When a small boy was taking his father's dinner he stopped for a moment to watch a workman emptying a sewer. "That," remarked the youngster, interestedly, "is the grating my father lost a dollar down." The workman's eye lit up. "Well, young man" he said, with a show of carelessness, "you'd better get forward with that dinner before it's cold." In about half an hour the boy returned to find the man still at the same grating. "Are you quite sure it was this grating the dollar was lost in?" asked the workman. "Yes," replied the boy. "because I saw my father get it out."

Taking Chances

"I see when a man runs for office he has to put himself in the hands of his friends."

"Yes, my dear."

"If a woman ran would she have to put herself in the hands of her woman friends?"

"I suppose so."

"Well. I don't imagine any women will run. Think of taking such chances!"

His Blunder

An old and experienced lawyer decided to turn over part of his large practice to his son, in order to start him in life. Everything went smoothly until one occasion the son came to his father's office with a beaming smile upon his face.

"I say, dad!" he said, joyously. "You know that Wright case that you've been engaged in for the last twelve years?"

"Yes," admitted the old lawyer. "Well, what about it?"

"I've settled it!" exclaimed his son.

"Settled it?" shouted his father. "You great, lumbering fool! Why, I gave you that case as an annuity."

Why is it that a small boy will swim all day and then cry when his face is washed?

Attractive Voyage in the Channel

TO those who have acquaintance with the way of the sea, in different parts of the world, who know something of the strange lonesomeness of mid-Atlantic, the burnished brilliance of the tropics, or the leaden grayness of the Northern oceans, there is something about the English Channel which seems to make it a waterway apart. "Sailing up the Channel," towards the Straits of Dover, or "sailing down the Channel" towards the open sea, are phrases which seem to be abundantly fulfilled in practice, whenever one makes the journey. Every vessel one sees go by has about it an air of setting out or returning home. There is much more of the companionship of the river about it all than of the chance "hail and farewell" of the sea.

Geologists have, of course, much to say about the Channel. They will tell you how, along its coasts on either side, cliffs and lowlands alternate, and how the "geological affinities" between successive opposite stretches are well marked; how the granite of Cornwall and Devon is clearly own brother to the granite of Brittany, and so on, all the way to the "silver streak," where the white cliffs of Dover find fellows in the white limestone about Calais and Boulogne. Geographers, too, will tell you that, if the entrance to the Channel shall be taken to lie between Ushant and the Scilly Isles, its extreme length is about 320 miles; whilst its width varies from 100 miles, at its entrance, to twenty miles at the Straits. The average man pays little attention to the figures, but he is grateful to be incidentally reminded of such places as Devon and Cornwall, of Brittany and Ushant, and the Scilly Isles.

Indeed, among the great joys of a voyage up or down the Channel, to anyone who knows the country well, especially the English shore, are the unexpected views he gains of familiar scenes; the noting how this or that building, hill or wood, which he never thought very conspicuous, stands out quite definitely as a landmark, when observed from the sea. Then, if he makes part of his journey by night, as indeed he needs must, there will be the lights to identify—and who that has made much excursion abroad by sea is not familiar with the satisfaction of greeting a known light a long way off?—Dover, Beachy Head, St. Katherine's Point, and so on.

Perhaps the most thorough way of exploring the Channel is to make the start from London, to pull out from the great mass of warehouses and shipping which piles up in strange complexity round St. Mary Axe, for instance, not far from Wapping Stairs, and be towed cautiously down the river through the Pool and Limehouse Reach, and so on towards the sea. If a start is made at midday in summer, it will be nightfall by the time the ship is off Broadstairs, and the voyager will have an afternoon of recollections of the stately buildings and still more stately trees of Greenwich, the great liners of Tilbury Docks, the "monstrous immensity" of the hotel at Southend, and the familiar landmarks of Whitestable, Herne Bay, and Margate, and so on round the corner to Broadstairs, all places which recent happenings have rendered only too familiar.

After nightfall, if he stays on deck long enough, there is the light on Cape Gris-Nez, over in France, and the lights of Boulogne; and then, as the coast of France falls away south, and the ship hugs the English shore, there are the lights of Hastings and of Eastbourne, and the solitary light at the foot of the cliff at Beachy Head. And, all the time, ships are passing, homeward bound ships mostly, and some, for so it was before the war, are a blaze of light, and some again steal past with nothing showing but just the red and green on either side, and the steady white light high up on the masthead. Early next morning, maybe, finds the Isle of Wight strangely near on the starboard, and, thereafter, the land sinks away to the most distant horizon, as the coast sweeps inwards along the great bight of Dorset and Devon, and so on to Start Point, and from Start Point to Lizard Head and Land's End. Then as the sun is sinking in the west, lighting up the red cliffs of Cornwall, the Scilly Isles come in sight, and pass by, and the Channel is left behind.—Christian Science Monitor.

A Haunted Bath House.

Ghost stories in Japan develop in warm weather. High temperature has raised a ghost at one of the fashionable baths in Kobe. About the middle of June, a woman died in the establishment. Two days later another woman was taken ill at the same place and died when taken home. She asserted that while at the bath, being all alone, her name was distinctly called. This call was several times repeated. This incident, with usual exaggerations, became known to the patrons of the bath and custom almost ceased. The bathhouse keeper has undertaken to restore the damaged reputation of his establishment by employing a street orator who delivers several lectures daily on the absurdity of the ghost story. Thus far, his attempts to "lay the ghost" have been of no avail. Former customers do not return.—East and West News.

Pure Water.

Pure water, according to Lord Rayleigh, is greenish blue, while pure air is blue, because, according to Newton's dictum, the molecules of the air are sufficiently large to reflect blue rays.

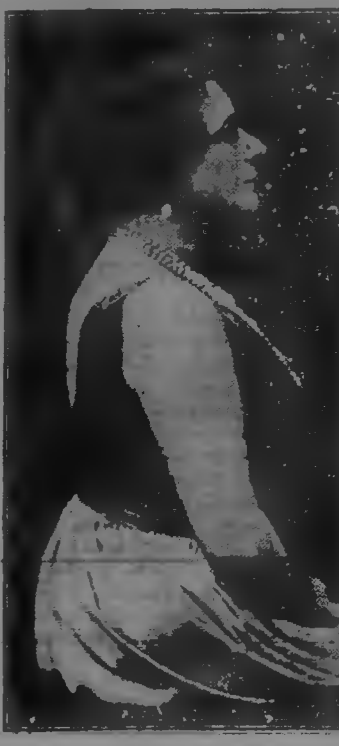
What a Prima Donna Writes From Real Experience.

ENTERTAINS BETWEEN SONGS

Our Mary Garden, Between Singing at the Comique and Taking Needed Rests, Entertains and Cheers Poilus From the Trenches In Her Home.

Stage women are long since organized to give their services to country wide preparation both in performances to raise money for Red Cross purposes and to assist in recruiting. Indeed, one actress is walking across the continent, accompanied by her faithful dog, winning army recruits on her way.

Aid for Scottish soldiers wounded on the continent has been the special care of Mary Garden, so long prima donna of French operas. And now she writes from Paris:



MARY GARDEN.

"Between the nights when I sing here at the Comique and the time that I must take for rest between performances I still find time to give attention to the hospital and relief work with which I have identified myself since the war began.

"France rightly persists in giving her fighting soldiers respites and furloughs. Men who have been under heavy fire at the front are withdrawn and have the opportunity to steady their nerves for a few days before going back into battle.

"So the work we have undertaken is to entertain the men home on furloughs—not the officers, but the so called common soldiers. A group of my friends decided with me that we would take only those privates whose families are in exile, having been driven into Germany from the French towns and territory occupied by the Germans.

"Imagine their state of mind. I have five of these in my home today and will have as many more tomorrow. They are brave and stoical, but utterly and absolutely alone. Whether their wives and children are alive they do not know, for their families have been herded like cattle and driven into an enemy country to work at whatever tasks their captors designate."

Ginger Snaps.

Cream one-half cupful butter and one-half cupful lard and add one cupful sugar, one cupful molasses and one-half cupful water. To two cupfuls of flour add one teaspoonful soda, one tablespoonful ginger, one tablespoonful cinnamon and one teaspoonful cloves. Add this flour to butter and sugar mixture and put in enough more flour to make a stiff dough. Chill on ice and roll very thin. This makes a large number of cookies, but they keep well. When cut with small cutter they are excellent to serve with afternoon teas.

Polar Caps in Mars.

Since the preliminary announcement that he had found an apparent relation between the sunspot period and the behavior of the polar caps of Mars, M. Antoniadi has published detailed observations which appear to establish this relation in a striking manner. Except in two years, 1862 and 1877, when local conditions on Mars may have disturbed the effects of solar radiation, he finds that whenever sunspots are large and numerous the melting of the Martian polar caps is rapid, and that whenever sunspots are small and few the melting of the caps takes place slowly. As Maunder has pointed out, the meteorology of Mars is much simpler than that of the earth. Hence a more direct response on the part of Martian "weather" to the variations in solar radiation of which greater or less spottedness is one of the indications.

FIRE BRIGADE IN LADDER DRILL

FIRE CHIEF GRANGE PLEASED WITH EFFICIENCY DISPLAYED YESTERDAY.

Fire Chief Grange had his men out from eight to nine o'clock yesterday morning at ladder drill. All the brigade being present. The fifty-five foot ladder was handled with readiness and skill on the market square, the market building being the objective. Chief Grange reports that his men display as a brigade a high state of efficiency in handling hose at all attitudes and under such conditions as are liable to arise in a fire where the ladder is needed. This contradicts a statement made in the city council that only four of the brigade were capable of using the ladder to advantage.

Making Shoes for Crippled Soldiers

Sergt. J. Miller, a returned member of the 93rd battalion, came to town from Kingston, Saturday and returned this morning, going overseas with the 93rd he subsequently returned from England as unfit for the trenches. He has just received his official appointment as shoemaker in the Queen's Military Hospital, Kingston, where his service consists of making boots and shoes for crippled soldiers. This calls for unusual skill and he has several students under him acquiring a knowledge in shoe making craft, with which only the exceptionally skilled are conversant.

For many years Sergeant Miller was shoe maker in Robert Neill's boot store, this city.

CAMOUFLAGE TO DATE.

Editor Review: The nation's flag cannot make a triumphal chariot of a garbage cart any more than its folds can hide the trickery of a politician. The flag incident at Toronto is regrettable, showing as it does how often the standard of the country is put to selfish uses by the designing. The streets of Toronto with the garbage men on strike do not stand in more urgent need of cleaning up than do the dark ways and vain tricks of the politicians and the ward heelers.

PATRIOT.

Suspected

The editor of the local paper believed that he was doing a kindly act by suppressing from the list of "drunk and disorderly" on market day the name of a country subscriber that by rights belonged there. The subscriber, however, did not regard the omission as a favor.

"I suppressed your name for your wife's sake," the editor explained.

"Well, that's the awkward part of it." the farmer said: "for, not seeing my name among the rest, she won't believe I came to town at all."

ADVICE TO FARMERS

The Man Who Ploughs Straight Makes Best Progress

Hon. Valentine Winkler, Minister of Agriculture, Manitoba, in an address to farmers referred to the difficulties with which farmers had to contend with in the early days and said there were certain districts where farmers at one time found it impossible to grow wheat without it being subject to danger from frost. This proved a blessing in disguise as it forced them to build stables and go in for the production of live stock, he said. "This had the result of so improving the districts that they were now growing the best possible crops with the danger from frost almost eliminated." He asserted farmers who plowed straight invariably obtained the best results, not that the straight furrow made the difference, but the man who was careful to plow straight was more likely to be careful in other directions than he who plowed crooked. It would not do, he said, to grow wheat all the time, but it was imperative they should have rotation of crops and go in for mixed farming. He declared it is necessary to summerfallow land and to plow deep in the soil in the fall rather than light in the fall and deep in the spring. He spoke of the necessity of re-introducing as much nitrogen in the land as possible. This could best be done if after summerfallow, clover or alfalfa is sowed, he said.

LUMBER ORDERS FOR B.C.

British Admiralty Awards Contracts For Over Sixteen Million Feet

Large contracts for lumber, aggregating 16,500,000 feet, exclusive of an open order for all the clear spruce available, have been placed by the Imperial Government with British Columbia mills. Victoria, Vancouver and Chemainus mills will supply two cargoes of railroad ties ordered by the British Admiralty through a San Francisco house, this order approximating 7,000,000 feet. Another order has been placed direct by the British Government for 3,500,000 feet of lumber, 2,000,000 feet of which will be clear fir, the remainder being heavy timbers, which will be shipped through to St. John, N.B., and handled from that point by British transports. In addition a third order has been placed by the Admiralty for 500,000 box shooks, approximating 6,000,000 feet. The total output of clear spruce for airplane manufacture and shipments are being sent overseas as fast as the mills can supply this class of lumber. The new orders are welcomed by the mills because the placing of these contracts with the British Columbia mills will assure steady operation for some months to come.

It Seems a Pity to Let These Babies Starve!

TRUE, this is another Belgian appeal, and you are a little tired of Belgium's trouble. But, remember, while it is your problem how to plan variety in three meals a day, most of the Belgian population is standing in line hours every day for a bowl of soup and a slice of bread!

No child can thrive on this ration. Tens of thousands of Belgian children (under 12) are becoming victims of tuberculosis, rickets and other ailments due to the pitifully inadequate food.

The Belgian Children's Health Fund enables the Dutch authorities to take some of the starving little ones to Holland for care and treatment for six weeks. Then what? They must go back to Belgium to make way for other of the 15,000 odd in the waiting list. More could be done if you will listen to the appeal of these babies.

The Belgian Orphan's Fund takes care of fatherless, motherless, friendless waifs. Think how they lost their fathers. [illegible] of your money feeds, clothes and educates an orphan for a whole month. Can you hear the call?

Whatever you contribute goes entire to the Dutch authorities through the Belgian Minister of the Interior (at Le Havre, France). Not a penny is deducted for administrative expenses, even for this advertising. It is absolutely guaranteed, too, that the Germans derive no benefit whatsoever.

When you are planning your own comfort and luxuries, think of these little tots!

FRESH CHICKENS

How to Choose One From Among Embalmed Poultry.

PUT WHOLESOMENESS FIRST.

Tips About Dry Picked, Air Cooled Birds and the Great Danger of Bacteria Entering a Dressed One, Thus Causing Ptomaine Poisoning.

We should place wholesomeness ahead of plumpness and youth. In other words, the points of greatest importance to consider are: "Is the bird untainted or reasonably fresh? Is there danger of its giving ptomaine poisoning to some one who eats it because the bacteria of decay have begun their deadly work?"

The time was when it was considered safer to purchase poultry which had been drawn, it being argued that the entrails were likely to contaminate the meat. Heads and feet were removed and the purchaser felt she was getting net weight and not paying for that which must be discarded.

As a matter of fact, it is now believed by the majority that it is safer to buy poultry undrawn and with the heads and feet where nature placed them. Once an opening has been made into the body cavity of a bird or the head and feet cut off, the moist, delicate tissues are laid open to the air, fairly inviting the invasion of bacteria. These bacteria soon impair the flavor of the meat, even if actual decomposition does not set in.

The feet and head tell a good deal about the age of the bird. Young birds have clean, smooth legs and feet while old ones show a rough, scaly condition with the development of spurs. Some poultry specialists also claim that a fowl with yellow legs is of better flavor than one having black legs.

The head of a bird which has been killed some time will tell the fact plainly to any one who can read the symptoms. Sunken eyes, darkened neck and a greenish blue color near the bill, all show that the bird is no longer fresh.

To order a bird over the telephone is to trust entirely to one's marketman. It is much better to make the selection in person and to have the chicken or duck or whatever it may be drawn in one's presence.

Sometimes chickens are dry picked immediately after they are killed, and to hasten the cooling process they are allowed to stand for a time in very cold water in order to remove the animal heat.

This is objectionable also, for a chicken cooled in water absorbs more or less of it, which is paid for at food prices. The skin of such a bird has a white look, which has been described as "powdery." It has a thick look and is inclined to be rather shiny.

A properly dry picked, air cooled chicken has a loose, clear looking skin. There are sure to be short hairs, which it is necessary to remove by singeing, and the papillae, or quill sockets, show plainly.

It is not at all difficult to learn to dress poultry at home. Ten or fifteen minutes at the most is all that is needed to prepare a good sized bird for cooking, and there is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing exactly what you have got.

In these days of the high price of living and the still higher price of being sick the more we pay others for doing the less money we have for ourselves.

OUR HUMOROUS ARMY

TOMMIES ALWAYS SEE FUNNY SIDE OF TROUBLES.

A Canadian Chaplain Tells of His Observations at the Front, Where the Men Are Free and Natural and Where Laughter, Chivalry, and Pluck Are Seen at Their Best.

PERHAPS the most signal service that "Punch" has ever rendered to the British Empire has been its delightful portrayal of the humorous side of the soldier's life in this anything but humorous war. And the most popular light artist of to-day has attained his popularity by creating laughter for the folks at home out of real or imaginary incidents at the front. But neither "Punch" nor Captain Bruce Bairnsfather has ever been more humorous than the men who have given them inspiration for their brush and pen. The humor of the British soldier, indeed, is indescribable. You can no more do it justice by description than you can the beauty of a flower or the face of a pretty girl. And, by the same token, you cannot exaggerate it either. "Tommy" is not made to appear humorous; he is humorous—as humorous as he is brave, as humorous as he is chivalrous.

Everybody will have read by this time Mr. Alfred Noyes' delightful story of the two stokers who, in the heat of the battle of Jutland, found time for the discussion of a little domestic tragedy, and how one of them calmly delivered his judgment that "the feller ought to 'ave married 'er!" And everybody probably allowed something for journalistic coloring when they read it. But those of us who get the humor at first hand know that there is no real exaggeration. What is put on in one place is lost in another. The conditions, the situation, the time, the spirit—you cannot describe them all, and give them all their due, and, at the same time, make the incident appear more humorous than it really was.

The beauty of it all is that the humor is so spontaneous—as spontaneous as the merriment of a little child, as free and natural as the laughter of children at their play. And just as it is the capacity for laughter in children that makes life more of a game for them than a solemn task, so it is the capacity for laughter in our soldiers that makes them face this most serious task of all with a lightness of spirit that is at once the astonishment and admiration of the world. Indeed, it is not too much to say that their spirit of humor is the secret both of their endurance and their [illegible] toon in a recent "Punch" puts the whole thing admirably. "What a life! No rest, no beer, no nuffin. It's only us keeping so cheerful as pulls us through!" There is nothing that this spirit will not [illegible] them to do; there is no task so miserable that it does not transform.

Here, for instance, is a quite typical example of what the humor of our men will do with the most trying conditions imaginable. We received orders, one miserably wet morning, to move from our rest billets to a point nearer the front line, where we should be in readiness for an immediate call to action. I was the Church Militant that morning, and went on ahead with a billeting party to secure what accommodation we could for the men for the night. And we discovered that the only accommodation possible was a piece of open ground already running streams of water and up to the boot-tops in mud! This, we were assured, must be our shelter for the night. Now all the material we had to make that at all liveable was a waterproof sheet to lie on and a waterproof sheet that might be manipulated as a covering overhead. There were, in addition, some empty shell boxes lying about which could be utilized in one way or another. With this information ready we awaited the arrival of our respective battalions. If we were soaked through ourselves, they were a thousand times worse, and arrived in a sorry condition. It would not have been in the least surprising if they had expressed themselves in words such as I have known them often use, and with far less justification. There they were, poor fellows, wet though to the bone, and the only thing before them for the night a soaking field of mud! But, will you believe me? the only sound I heard from all around, as the men went swinging along with water to their boot-tops, were the laughing cries of "Quack! quack! quack!" and the men went as merrily on as though they were children running home from school. There is no time when their sense of humor fails them.

A dressing station is scarcely the place to look for merriment, but I have seen almost as much good humor there as anywhere else. Only the other day a man was brought in on a stretcher, who had already received first aid and was considerably covered with bandages. Much to everybody's amusement, the patient popped up his head, while the bandages were being cut away, and said: "Scissors is great instruments, ain't they? They save an awful lot of unbinding?" Another man, lying face downwards on a stretcher and smoking the inevitable cigarette, was carried to the dressing-table by two stalwart bearers, who jocularly remarked that he had "been ridin' a 'orse an' it bit 'im!" an observation that amused the patient as much as themselves. Witticisms abound, and an opportunity is scarcely ever missed. "What d'yer call that, 'Erb?" one man cried to another as a rather worn-out horse passed us resting on a march. "If yer can name it in three tries yer can 'ave it!"

The Canadian thirst for souvenirs is responsible for many humorous scenes. I was told of a "Fritz" who appeared at a hospital without a single button on his clothing; and on being questioned where they had gone his only answer, accompanied by an eloquent sign, was "Kammerad! Canada Kammerad!" And this is still more humorous: One of our boys (strictly a boy), having taken a Hun prisoner, proceeded to divest him of his belt. But "Fritz" showed him, he said, that "he had nothing else to hold his pants up with." "But," he added, "I guess he went on holding his pants up with his hands."

I have sometimes wondered if humor is as prevalent in higher circles. At any rate, I think that a great opportunity was missed when a certain appointment was made. I had occasion once to present myself, in company with another officer, before a certain town commandant, and while we were there a third officer came for the same purpose. He was lean and lanky, pale-faced, and looked decidedly harmless. In a voice as anemic as his face he introduced himself as "The waterman." And he looked it, every inch of him. And that is where the powers missed their opportunity, and why I fear they have no soul for humor. There are plenty of men in the army who could have graced that office with figures rotund and faces like the setting sun. The waterman! I can think of lots of men who would provide merriment for a whole division from the mere fact that their special province was water. But the authorities did not see it. The authorities, perhaps, are not humorous. But we may thank God that we have an army of humorous men.

The writer of the foregoing is chaplain to the 3rd Brigade Canadians, and late of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto.

OUR CANNED GOODS NEEDED.

Canadian Trade Commissioner Directs Attention to Good Market.

Mr. Harrison Watson, Canadian Trade Commissioner, London, in his latest report says:

"It seems a favorable opportunity for again directing attention to the excellent prospects which should [illegible] coming season's pack of Canadian canned fruits and vegetables in this market.

"While it is true that ordinary commercial transactions are substantially reduced by existing import restrictions, upon the other hand the virtual prohibition of sources of supply outside of the British Empire for at least a considerable proportion of the year obviously gives an enormous advantage to Canadian goods, while the avowed policy of the Government departments and that important body, the Army Canteen Committee (which now purchases on behalf of some 2,000 canteens) to give all possible preference to the products of the Empire, offers opportunities of which it is hoped Canadian packers will take the full advantage of which they were so unfortunately deprived last summer owing to the indifferent yield of so many vegetables and fruits.

"The big demand for Canadian canned tomatoes, peas, and pears has resulted from the dislocation of ordinary sources of supply affected by the war, while owing largely to the presence of the Canadian Expeditionary Force and their families a demand has been created for goods previously very little used in this country, such as baked beans and sugar corn.

"Many of the principal canned goods importers in London and elsewhere have already been in touch with some of the Canadian packers of canned fruits and vegetables, but the frequent additional inquiries that come in betoken the increased interest which is being evinced in Canada as a source of supply, and while ordinary business transactions are temporarily limited by the difficulties of transportation in addition to import restrictions, Canadian packers, with proper foresight and organization, should be able to secure, and in certain lines permanently retain, trade which was previously done with other countries."

A Forbidden Tongue.

"Ukrainian differs from Great Russian fully as much as Dutch does from German. In fact, the highest learned body in the Russian Empire, the Petrograd Imperial Academy, admitted a few years ago that the Ukrainians possessed a distinct language and culture of their own. That, however, was not the Russian Government's view of the matter. 'There never has been, is not, and never will be an Ukrainian language or nationality,' declared a Russian Minister of State in 1863, and this was merely the formal expression of what generations of Russian bureaucrats had already considered as axiomatic. All official business was carried on in Russian, a language almost completely unintelligible to Ukrainians; all Ukrianian writings save certain old books of devotion were rigidly proscribed, and Ukrainian education was so strictly prohibited that in many parts of the Russian Ukraine even to-day there are fewer schools than there were two centuries ago. The only way for a talented Ukrainian to spring his ideas was in Russian, and many of the greatest names in Russian literature, such as Gogol, Kostomaroff, etc., were really Ukrainians forced to employ this alient tongue. What happened to those who dared clothe their thoughts in the native idiom may be judged by the terrible fate of that greatest of all Ukrainian poets, Taras Shevchenko. For the 'abominable crime' of having composed some exquisite little verses celebrating the natural beauties of his Ukrainian homeland, this youthful genius was sentenced to ten years' penal servitude in Siberia, and returned from his hell of suffering a broken, prematurely old man, only to die."—T. Lathrop Stoddard, in The Century.

SUGGESTIONS TO SICK WOMEN

How Many Are Restored To Health.

First.—Almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine most successful in relieving female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates and strengthens the organism; it overcomes disease.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, relieving backache, nervousness, ulceration and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pains. It has also proved invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

Third.—The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Fourth.—Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

How many telephone users have given thought to the study of what might be called "telephone courtesy"? There are various phases of it, and many of them are important. Do you ever speak impatiently to the "hello-girls" at the central? Perhaps you were at fault yourself, after all. Did you ever, on finding you had given or had received the wrong number, snap out something not real nice to the other party? Did you ever tell your assistant to call up someone, then let him wait until you had finished a conversation or a letter, regardless of the value of his time? Of course you never swear through the telephone—that is a misdemeanor, and would bring you into court; yet it has been done, for the man who is low-minded enough to be habitually profane is just as apt to so express himself at the phone as elsewhere. The telephone is becoming a home and business institution, so that telephone courtesy is as important as table manners, and should be as generally observed.

Telephone Courtesy--

A CORDIAL, kindly manner and a cheerful, smiling voice—everywhere people are awakening to the value of these in telephoning.

Not that anyone ever meant to be rude or discourteous. Many of us were just thoughtless, forgetting how sensitive the telephone is, reflecting our every mood.

And in addition to telephone courtesy, it is very helpful to speak distinctly and directly into the mouthpiece of the telephone, with the lips about half an inch from its rim.

And then, of course, we should always make sure of the number by consulting the directory before calling.

RALPH CONNOR'S SKY PILOT PRESENTED IN DRAMA FROM

Two Performances at the Grand Opera Hous Witnessed by Capacity Audiences—Play as Unique as Novels on Which it is Based

In none of the churches of Peterborough during the Thanksgiving season, when special services were held, was there so touching a discourse preached, so rational and convincing an explanation of the inscrutible workings of Providence as that presented at the Grand Opera House last night by "The Sky Pilot," in the dramatized version of Ralph Connor's famous novels. The young preacher made a convert before the audience, and it would be almost impossible for even such a madcap as Gwen to resist his pleadings.

The play is based on two f the novels of the man who has made Canada famous in the literary world. The play itself is likely to add to the fame of the author and his country. It is something new in the drama, occupying a place of its own, just as the stories themselves are unique, opening up new fields in fiction. There have been preachers in story and on the stage ever since the drama was originated, but never such a preacher as "The Sky Pilot." The character is not overdrawn either. The theological colleges are turning out such young men every year, men trained in athletics as well as in scholarship, men who know no physical fear and have moral courage unbounded and who carry the message into the neglected corners of the vineyard.

The Sky Pilot, reaching his allotted field in the wild Canadian West, was first treated as a joke. Then he was tolerated as one of the earth's trials. But he made his way by quiet persistence into the lives of the people and his influence was manifest. Even the man who sold liquor came under his spell. The first evidence the dealer gave of practical religion was his giving up the practice of watering his liquor. Then he gave up the business entirely. The gamesters gave up stacking the cards and then, giving up the game altogether, clubbed their savings in order to build a church.

The hardest subject the Pilot had to deal with was Gwen, the headstrong favorite in a community that doted on her wildness. He succeeds as last, making the Divine plan so clear that the helpless invalid perceived the way clearly.

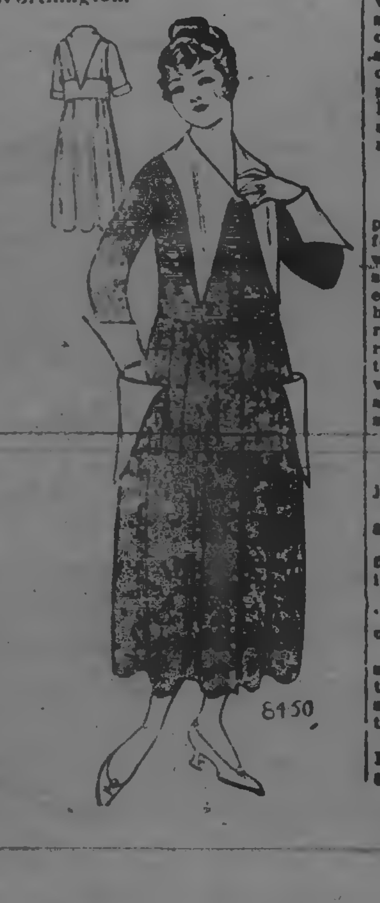
The closing scene of the play is one the impresson of which remains with the audience. The scenery is magnificent. The famous mountain of the Holy Cross is represented in the background, and the setting sun sheds its last light upon the emblem of Christianity as the characters stand and gaze upon it with rapt attention.

Mr. Brandon Tynan was the Sky Pilot, and not only acted but looked the part. Miss Regina Wallace acted in no particular in her representation of Gwen's wilfulness and surrender. Miss Eliza Frederic has the difficult role of Mrs. Mavor, a female character in fiction whose portrayal has not been exceeded by the master hand of Dickens himself. Mr. Eddie Hern as Hi Kendall, a typical cowboy, furnishes the comedy, and not the least of the cast is "Nellie," the pony that carries Gwen to her undoing.

The next attraction at The Grand is Miss Isolde Menges, the famous violinist, who will appear tomorrow night.

LADY'S DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.



The whole secret of the smartness of this dress is the clever use of the exaggerated points for trimming. A simple little frock like this is almost indispensable to the average woman, and this pattern is especially recommended because it requires so little material. It buttons down the centre front. The plain waist and also the three gored skirt are gathered to each side of a very wide belt. The length of the sleeves is to be decided by the wearer, as the pattern is perforated for short sleeves as well as for the long, close fitting ones. [illegible] pockets are stitched over the hips and trimmed with the same material as the collar and cuffs.

The dress pattern, No. 8450, is cut in sizes 36 to 42 inches bust measure. Width at the lower edge is 2¼ yards. As on the figure the 36 inch size requires 4½ yards of 36 inch material with ⅝ yard of 36 inch contrasting goods.

A Discoverer's Lucky Day.

It is said that on a Friday Columbus set out from Spain to seek a new world, on Friday he first caught sight of land, on Friday he started on his return voyage, on Friday he safely arrived back in Spain, on Friday he first sighted the American mainland on his next voyage, on Friday he first set his foot upon it, and again on Friday he landed in his native land.

Real Democracy.

General Bailloud, commanding part of the French expeditionary force in the Balkans, is so popular with his men that nearly every good story originating in his corps is either about him or attributed to him. The latest anecdote going the rounds tells how a soldier of the rough and ready style was returning to quarters near Monastir with a water-jug in each hand. Coming across another mud-stained "poilu" sittin beside the road, he hailed him:

"Hello, old man."

"Hello," replied the other.

"Say, can't you carry one of these jugs for me?"

"Sure," and they went on together.

"Would you believe it," said the first soldier, "they've chucked me into the grade of corporal."

"What of that," replied the other, "didn't they chuck me into the grade of general?"

After nearly dropping his jug, the soldier drew closer and made out three faint stars on a mud-stained sleeve. He drew himself up at attention and saluted.

"Walk on, corporal," said General Baillound, who wouldn't consent to give up his jug.

MUTT AND JEFF ARE DIVORCED

FAMOUS PAIR APPEAR IN A NEW NETWORK OF TROUBLES AT THE GRAND.

Mutt and Jeff, those illustrious characters whose antics have furnished the world with laughter all these years, made their perennial visit to Peterborough last Saturday and were greeted by capacity houses at two performances in the Grand Opera House. Since their last visit the illustrious pair have flown to new troubles by getting married and their trials in the matrimonial field furnished the humor of the performance. As in every other line, Mutt and Jeff find themselves in one tight corner after another and finally land in the divorce court. It is all a misunderstanding and the matter is cleared up to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Harry B. Kay acted the part of Mutt and George Beach that of Jeff, both looking as if they had just stepped out of the famous cartoons. In the play, however, the smaller man of the twain is not invariably getting the worst of it, as in the pictured history of their career. Mutt is oftener the goat.

A large number of well trained dancing and singing girls added spice to the performance.

Boiling Dead Germans.

Germany has claimed that the announcement that they were extracting fats from the bodies of dead soldiers was based on a mistake. They say the bodies referred to were those of horses, and that it was issued by the veterinary.

Unfortunately for this lie, a copy was captured of The Daily Army Order, issued by Supreme Command of the Sixth German Army, Dec. 21st, 1916. After dealing with staff inspections, special courses, transport matters, etc., there is found under the sub-head Delivery to Corpse Utilization Establishments, the following order:

It has become necessary once more to lay stress on the fact that when corpses are sent to the corpse utilization establishment returns as to the unit, date of death, illness, and information as to (contagious) diseases, if any, are to be furnished at the same time."

This order leaves no room for doubt that the Kaiser is demanding unprecedented services from his subjects both dead and alive.

THE FUTURE OF VANCOUVER

Splendid Harbor May Be Nationalized in the Near Future.

However the much-discussed question of the administration of the port of Vancouver is finally settled, there can be no doubt that the matter is an important and, to a certain extent an urgent one. There is a very widespread and well-founded conviction abroad that the coming of peace will witness very great developments in trade in the Far East, and nowhere will such developments be felt more certainly than in the Far West; whilst nowhere in the Far West are they likely to be felt more certainly than in Vancouver. Vancouver is already a great port, but, with its eighty miles of water front and forty miles of anchorage, it is clearly destined to be a much greater one.

For some time past, the wisdom of the policy adopted by the harbor commissioners has been seriously questioned, especially in regard to the tax of three cents per net register ton on the shipping that enters the port. It is contended that this tax, which is not levied in Montreal, for instance, has a tendency to keep shipping away from Vancouver, and that if the port were placed under national control, and the tonnage tax abolished, the advantage to the country, generally, would be very great.

It was for this purpose, of course, that the delegation of the Vancouver Board of Trade visited Ottawa, recently. The delegation has not yet made its report, but it is almost common knowledge that it will be very much in favor of the nationalisation of the port of Vancouver on the same lines as Montreal. Montreal eliminates all harbor dues, and is practically free to shipping, charges against cargo being very small, and limited to certain classes of outbound merchandise.

It is a time for far-reaching and courageous policies, and, as the tremendous part played by transport in the great business of supplying the world with food is more thoroughly realised, it will be seen that the highest efficiency in the land and water transport services, in all their many ramifications, is one of the first demands of any commonwealth. A great port like that of Vancouver is a national possession, and it should be developed from this standpoint.

A Tragedy of the Woods.

A tragedy of the Northern Ontario woods, of which there are many that the outside world never hear anything, occurred west of Elk Lake, Ontario, on the Wapoose River a few days ago. An Indian named Neas Twain, accompanied by his wife and adopted baby, were crossing the floodwood on the river above High Falls, which have a drop of some 80 feet, when the tree on which they were walking suddenly gave way and the wife and infant were carried over the falls.

The baby was probably killed by the fall with the timber over the falls, but Mrs. Twain escaped with a compound fracture of the leg. Twain managed to rescue his wife and recover the body of the baby. They began the trying journey to civilization, which required seven days, days of untold torture for the Indian woman, who suffered the pain of losing the child, along with the compound fracture, from which the bones were protruding through the flesh. A number of portages had to be made and the woman taken out of the canoe many times. When the Montreal River was reached, however, owing to the high water of last spring weather, most of the rapids on the Montreal were safely navigated without portaging. Besides caring for his wife on the journey Ness managed to carry the body of the infant along with him. When Elk Lake was reached the child's body was buried and Mrs. Twain was sent to a hospital. The woman's leg had to be amputated, as the bones were badly broken and splintered.

A New [illegible]

The title of Dame, which has lately been revived in connection with the admission of women to a new order in England, was not well received in Scotland when it was first used in connection with the Primrose League. It is on record that in one village "habitation," when an influential visitor referred to a certain member as Dame, the member thus addressed repudiated the idea with energy. "Dame, indeed!" she exclaimed. "Did ye ever hear the like. I'm sure I'm nae aul'er than her. I min' as a wee lassie she was a muckle hempie gaun tae the schule."

LONDON VOTES TO SET UP A MUNICIPAL COAL YARD

Bylaw to Provide $25,000 for the Purpose Carries by Large Majority--Dealers Fought it---People Expect Cheaper Fuel.

London, Ont., Oct. 9.—A by-law to provide $25,000 with which to establish a City of London coal yard was carried by 2,069 to 899 at a special election, held Saturday. The majority of 1.170 is regarded as a substantial one and the decision will be urged upon the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board as sufficient reason for authorization of the city's participation in the coal business.

The campaign during the past couple of weeks has been bitterly contested, the Trades and Labor Council supporting the measure and holding street demonstrations to arouse the interest of the workingmen. The coal dealers, on the other hand, waged a vigorous advertising campaign, appealing to the people to avoid increased taxation in what they claimed would prove a futile venture.

Predictions were made by supporters of the scheme that hard coal, which now sells for $9.50 a ton, would be reduced fifty cents or one dollar a ton. The Public Utilities Commission, which now handles Hydro, the Waterworks System, Parks and Natural Gas, will be entrusted with the business, the yard being located on the London and Port Stanley Railway.

Countess Tells About Hindenburg

"I SHOULD say Hindenburg was a great brute—so ruthless, so terrible." Thus spoke the Countess de Turcynowicy, a Canadian girl, during a recent visit to friends in the Dominion. She shuddered as she spoke, as if a horrible black cloud had for a moment shut out the face of the sun streaming in through her windows, as she recalled the awful memories of life in a country occupied by the merciless "hero" of Germany and his dissolute, cruel, butchering men.

"There was a great scattering of officers when he arrived at my house," she went on, "yet I could not bear to look at him. I felt as if I saw people being killed—being irresistibly, mercilessly crushed to death. He's just like his pictures—very big, very red, very ugly, very horrible. He drinks so terribly—oh, so terribly—but they all do, for that matter. Nothing is too tiny for him to attend to, no humiliation so small that he will not find pleasure in signing.

"One night I had to get up at 3 o'clock in the morning to make coffee for him and the staff," she went on. "They ate and drank all the time. Every day a mountain of bottles had to be taken away."

Yet Hindenburg was always polite to the Countess, although he refused the only request she made to him. Two of her maids had disappeared, one of them a sweet girl of seventeen. Waiting on the "great brute" at table one day, a menial in her noble husband's house, she gently begged that they might be restored. He refused.

Countess de Turcynowics was formerly Miss Laura Blackwell, of Georgetown and St. Catharines. She became a grand opera singer and while touring Europe met her husband, a Polish nobleman, at present inspector-general of the sanitary division of the Russian army. She settled down with him at Suwalki, in Poland, just on the borders of East Prussia, happy with her little girl, Wanda, and her twin boys, Stanislaw and Hladislaw, when war came. These boys are now in a little school near New York. She is now touring in the interests of the Russian Red Cross and British War Relief.

The things this young-faced woman, whose fair hair has turned white through suffering, could tell of Prussian fiendishness are unprintable. When, in September, 1914, the Germans came to Suwalki she escaped in a trainful of Cossack wounded to Warsaw. "It was an awful night," she exclaimed, "and yet in the light of later things it seems to me happy and sweet that night spent with my children in a cattle trainful of suffering Russians." When the Germans were driven out she returned to Suwalki. "My first feeling," she said, "when I reached my home was that I wanted to put my head out of the window into the clear, pure air. The place was hideous, awful—well, you know all about that!" and a shrug of the shoulders told all the unutterable horror of it.

"You are no longer a human being if you're in occupied territory," she went on. "The second coming of the Germans, on February 11, 1915, sounded like a nightmare. They had just won the great battle of Augustowa and rounded up 40,000 Russians.

"When the Germans arrived at my home I said, 'I'm an American; you can't intimidate me.' Next day the prisoners began to arrive. What hideousness! What terrible sights! Men were driven along through the streets like dogs in the slush. Russians were lashed to the guns. They clubbed them; they killed them. For punishment some of them were shut for two weeks in a church without food and water. No; they did not all die. A few came out—a very few.

"Oh, if people could only know about life under Prussian rule. Girls disappeared. Sometimes they were never seen again. Sometimes they did come back—unrecognizable. Occasionally their masters led them out for an airing, to keep them alive, just like animals.

"The German idea is to rule by terror. Every day was a lifetime. Children died like flies from disease. They tied the Russian priest and Jewish rabbi together and dragged them down the street. Some Russian nuns were imprisoned there. Their sufferings were awful."

The German system is curious, according to the Countess. The officers are severe beyond measure with their men, but at times give them permission to indulge in unlicensed quantities of liquor, which makes them insane and commit acts of cruelty to the conquered people.

At last, after seven and a half months of horror, the countess secured leave to go to Berlin. When the military train in which she traveled reached Margrabowa, near Berlin, she and her children were taken out on the platform. There was not even a place to sit down. One of her children lay almost dying in her arms. "Poor little dearie," she murmured, forgetting herself. "Englishwoman?" shrieked a German woman standing near. "Not English, but American," she replied, but they cursed and spat on her. "If they ever start a revolution in Germany," she remarked, "the women will be fiends."

In Berlin she was identified as an American by a member of the Embassy who had heard her sing the American National Anthem nine years before at an American Thanksgiving dinner in Berlin. Small things often change fate. She had to destroy the copy of her marriage certificate, which stated her Canadian birth.

During 1916 the visitors to the Zoological Gardens, London, numbered 7,084,249.

Toronto Man Had Lost 26 Pounds

Suffered 30 Years And Was So Weak Couldn't Walk a Block Without Help

"Only those who have suffered with rheumatism like I did before I began taking Tanlac know how terrible the pain is, and it would be impossible to describe it," said Richard Faulkner, who has been a butcher in Toronto for many years and lives at 68 McGill street, recently.

"The rheumatism bothered me mostly in my legs," he continued, "especially my feet and ankles, but it extended also into my arms and shoulders, and for nine or ten years now I have simply suffered torture from it. Just that nagging, almost unbearable pain that seemed to strike clean to the bone, and all day at my work I would almost go mad I suffered so. I could get no rest and many a night I have had to get out of bed and walk the floor. I just couldn't sleep on account of the misery. My legs would get stiff and draw up so I couldn't walk, I just had to hobble around and the boys who worked with me expressed pity for me. I have also had a bad stomach trouble for thirty years, and this together with exposure to cold and dampness in the shops, no doubt brought on the rheumatism. My appetite was all gone and what I forced myself to eat disagreed with me terribly. Gas would form on my stomach and keep me in misery for hours, feeling like I would choke to death. After breakfast I would become nauseated in a few minutes, and vomit up all I had eaten, I also had a hurting in my right side and pains around my heart caused by the gas on my stomach. I had fallen off twenty-six pounds from my usual weight, and was so weak and crippled up that my son would have to meet me at the car—and we lived just a block from the car line—and help me home.

"I certainly was in bad shape and when I look back and think of the awful suffering Tanlac has relieved me of, I don't see how I stood it as long as I did. But Tanlac has just about cleared me of it all. My stomach is now in fine shape and the rheumatism is so much better that I can hardly tell I ever had it. All the pain and stiffness has gone out of my joints and I'm feeling altogether like a different man. I couldn't ask for a better appetite, I'm not troubled with indigestion any more and it has been a long time since I could enjoy eating like I do now. I have already gained several pounds of my lost flesh back and to say my wife and I are both delighted with what Tanlac has done for me doesn't half way express our feelings. Tanlac is by far the best of all the many medicines I have ever tried and I will gladly tell anyone trying to find relief what I have found out about it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike.

Ralph Connor Places Men Who Stir Up Race Strife

Montreal, Oct. 9.— Applause and cries of "Hear, hear!" greeted a statement made in the pulpit of St. James' Methodist church Sunday night by Major (Rev. Dr.) C. W. Gordon ("Ralph Connor"), touching on the Quebec situation in the war in the course of a sermon. Said he: "We Canadians must find some way to make all Canadians hold together, no matter what our race or creed, so that in the hour of trial we will be just Canadians. I tell your frankly I am thinking of Quebec. I am speaking openly to you when I say that any man who, for any purpose seeks to make a cleavage between Quebec and our English-speaking people is a traitor to his country and to his God."

LABOR MAN FOR CABINET.

Union Government Idea Suits Hon. Robert Rogers.

Winnipeg, Oct. 6. — Hon. Robert Rogers, according to a statement he made yesterday morning, is of the opinion that Sir Robert Borden is seriously carrying out his intention of forming a national or union government before the election. Mr. Rogers thinks that the selection of Col. C. C. Ballantyne and Hugh Guthrie, K. C., is but a start toward the inclusion of other Liberals of outstanding worth.

Mr. Rogers declared it was the intention of Sir Robert Borden to include in his cabinet a representative of the labor party if a suitable man can be found. He could not say anything further than he has already said as to his own future.

PLENTY OF MEN PHYSICALLY FIT TO FILL UP THE RANKS

In the First Class Called Out There Will be 260,000 for First Line Duty and Only 100,000 Are Required—Result of Examination at Different Points.

Up to a few days ago, 12,658 men had been examined by the military medical boards, and 7,491 had been found fit for duty in the trenches. There are nearly half a million men in the first class in Canada, so that there should be about 260,000 ready for any branch of the service. Of this number 100,000 are required, so that the exemption tribunals will have plenty of latitude in making their choice.

The results of the examination so far held in the different Ontario centres is as follows:

Stratford Examinations.

Stratford, Oct. 9. — The medical board sitting here on military service has reported that fully 75 per cent. of the young men who have presented themselves before the board have been found to be fit for Class A. Owing to the young men from outside places coming to the city for examination, the local examiners have had a busy week. In five days over three hundred men have presented themselves, and very few have been totally rejected.

Kingston Examinations.

Kingston, Oct. 9.—The following is the total so far by the medical examinations under the Military Service Act: Total number examined, 268; held for further test, 2; fit for the trenches 161; fit for non-combatant service overseas, 21; fit for duty in Canada and unfit for any duty, 56.

Examinations at Galt.

Galt, Oct. 9.—In four days the medical board sitting in Galt examined 128 men, sixty per cent. of whom passed as fit for service. The classification was as follows: Class A, 42; Class B, 11; Class C, 23; Class D, 9; Class E, 43.

Record at London.

London, Oct. 9.—The number of applicants for examination under the Military Service Act reached a high level again on Friday, when ninety were examined. Forty-seven were found fit for the front line trenches. Five came under category B, three under C, three under D, and 26 were found unfit.

Examinations at Orillia.

Orillia, Oct. 9. — The Military medical board completed a three-day session here Sunday night. The board examined 262 men, of whom 178 were placed in Class A. Many who presented themselves were unable to get examined, and it is expected that another session will be held here.

Chatham Examinations.

Chatham, Oct. 9.—Two hundred and forty-five men have passed the medical board since they opened up their office in the armories Tuesday last. Of this number 95 have been placed in Class A, 45 in B, 16 in C, and 85 in D.

RETURNED MEN EXEMPT.

If Honorably Discharged and They Have Been in France.

Winnipeg, Oct. 9.—A short time ago returned soldiers honorably discharged and who were employed in the civil service in the city received notice to report for medical examination under the Military Service Act. Secretary Law of the Great War Veterans wired Hon. A. Meighen for further information in regard to this, and received the reply that returned soldiers honorably discharged who have been in France will not be subject to the provisions of the Military Service Act. This ruling, it is understood, applies to returned soldiers in all parts of Canada.

His eldest son is in France, having left here with a local battalion.

STRIKE IS OFF; GOV'T IN CHARGE

TROUBLE AT GRAIN ELEVATORS IS BROUGHT TO SUDDEN END.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, made the announcement to the Canadian Press this morning that in order to bring about a settlement of the labor difficulties which has tied up the grain elevators at Port Arthur and Fort William, the Government has taken over temporary direction of the elevators. An order-in-Council has been passed appointing Mr. Leslie H. Boyd, K.C., chairman of the Board of Grain Commissioners, director of elevators.

Failure on the part of the elevator operators to comply with any directions issued by Mr. Boyd will make them subject to imprisonment or to fines not exceeding five thousand dollars. The action taken by the Government is similar to that taken when Mr. Armstrong, of Vancouver, was appointed director of mining operations in the Crow's Nest Pass district.

TO CONSCRIPT MEN FOR LABOR

KITCHENER MANUFACTURERS ASK MINISTER CROTHERS TO TAKE ACTION.

Kitchener, Oct. 9.—The Kitch Manufacturers' Association has f warded an appeal to the Minister Labor, Hon. T. W. Crothers, soliciti his co-operation in dealing with labor situation which is present i most of the larger cities of the Province. The appeal declares that there are large numbers of alien enemy laborers, Bulgarian and Austrian, who positively refuse to work unless they are paid prohibitive wages. In ordinary times, it is pointed out, the Government cannot compel men to work so long as they have visible means of support, but the local manufacturers think that under the existing conditions, when the Government is doing everything possible in the way of conserving labor, as well as food, there is no reason why alien laborers should be allowed to live on the toilers who are working overtime to produce more food, and they be consumers, and do nothing to help win the war. The Labor Department is asked to take immediate action regarding these aliens who refuse to work, and if they refuse to work when a fair wage is offered, that they be sent to an internment camp, where their food is regulated by the Government.

MUIR CARETAKER OF THE ARMORIES

NOTIFIED OF APPOINTMENT BY GOV'T— WILL ASSUME HIS DUTIES ON FRIDAY.

Private R. H. Muir received from Ottawa on Friday last official notification of his appointment as caretaker of Peterboro armories. He assumes his duties next Friday, October 12th.

Private Muir was the Great War Veterans' choice, by ballot, as candidate for this position, and the Veterans' Association, endorsed by Captain Burnham, urged upon the government their claim that the nominee of their organization of returned soldiers had precedence of all others to the appointment.

Wounded in Belgium

Private R. H. Muir enlisted with the 21st battalion on November 17th, 1914, with which unit he saw active service in France and Belgium. On January 22nd, 1916, he suffered shrapnel wounds in the head and face from high explosives dropped by Huns within the Canadian lines in Belgium, and today carries a piece of shell in his left jaw. This memento of German aggressiveness he will carry with him to his grave, at considerable inconvenience.

Private Muir is Sergeant-at-Arms for the Great War Veterans' Association, and the appointment is a worthy one.

Concerning Screens.

If you live so near the public pavement that passersby can look into your house try painting the screen doors with a very thin coat of white paint, and you can look out, but people passing cannot see into your living rooms.

If you rub the screens of windows and doors with kerosene the flies will not come near as long as the odor lasts.

Fruits and Vegetables.

Irish potatoes and most other vegetables and fruits tend to make the body tissues and fluids alkaline, so correcting the tendency of meat, eggs, fish and similar foods to create acid conditions. Since the body performs its work best when it is neutral or slightly alkaline, this function of fruits and vegetables is important, especially to the hearty meat eater.

A Patriotic Irish Priest

At the beginning of the war several young Englishmen who had grown up in Germany and had been sucked into the whirlpool of German Kultur were among the million youth who volunteered for active service. In those days of intoxication every German boy thought that if he did not enlist at once he would miss all chance of being present at the great German victory. When the nationality of these young Englishmen was discovered they were removed from the front and packed off to Ruhleben. But before long the same German authorities who had turned them out of the army were trying to cajole them to return to it. Not only that, but they methodically set about trying to induce British subjects, both in civil and military camps, into betraying their country by joining the German army.

At Ruhleben they got a number of men who were only nominally English, but very few sons of British-born parents. They hoped the generous and impulsive Irish temperament would easily succumb to their arts. The Irishman was to play Cassio to their Iago, and they found their Roderigo in Roger Casement. One sullen winter's day, while I was at Ruhleben, we were formed up in line in the mud and told that to-morrow Roger Casement was coming out to address the Irishmen among us. One Irishman present said pretty audibly that if Casement came he would "hit him in the neck." For some reason or other Casement did not come.

At the Irish prisoners' camp at Limburg, however, the Germans tried to use even the priest as their tool. After Casement had exhausted his arts in trying to persuade the men to desert their flag, and when a number of them had been shaken in their allegiance, Father Crotty, whom I look upon as one of the heroes of the war, was asked by his German mentors if he would speak a word of authority to the waverers that day at mass. "Faith, and I will!" said he. It must have been a dramatic scene — the Irish soldiers gathered together in their rough, camp chapel, the priest near the altar, the German officer in uniform waiting, like Mephistopheles, for the words to fall from the priest's lips that were to betray these men into his power. The time came for the good priest to speak to his children.

"Men of Galway, Clare, and Connaught," he said, "the German Emperor wants you to go and fight on his side, and some people have been telling you that it is a proper thing for you to do. And I have been asked to tell you the same. But I have been sent to you by his Holiness the Pope, not to talk politics to you or to mislead you, or to be the procurer of any king or kaiser on earth, but to tell you in the name of God and of the Holy Church what is good and right for men to do. As the priest of God I tell you it is your duty as good Catholics to keep the oath you have taken to be loyal to your king. And that's all I have to say to you this day. May the Grace of God rest upon you and help you!"

The German officer had to look on helpless and see his prey slipping from his fingers. But he dared not interrupt the priest in his holy office.

The Irish prisoners, who had hitherto been treated with characteristic consideration and leniency, were henceforth submitted to all sorts of indignities and privations. Your German, when he fails to get his way with blandishment, always falls back on bullying and worse.

In Berlin, too, Father Crotty played the man. When asked (as a man on The Continental Times told me), if he would become a member of the newly-formed German-Irish Gesellschaft, or Society, "Faith and I won't," he said. "I'll have nothing to do with your gesell and still less to do with your schaft! I'd like to know what you and your Gesellschaft, as you call it, has ever done for your priest, except to denounce him for not taking part in your dirty politics."

This German-Irish society had the second number of its green-covered monthly magazine on sale at all the railway bookstalls when I left. Its editor is a certain Chatterton Hill. Curious to see what manner of man he was, I went to a lecture of his on Ireland held in the Beethoven Saal, in Berlin. Count Reventlow acted as his sponsor. I had at least thought to find a personality in this Hill. I found a mere sycophant, a sort of cringing Uriah Heep, with not a touch of race, Irish fire, humor, or [illegible] about him. [illegible] talked some balderdash about a new Ireland, and Hill, with flunkey-like obsequiousness, long-windedly thanked him for his good will to Ireland, and claimed to be speaking in Ireland's name.

Then he went on to describe a wonderful island of the Golden Age, a sort of Italy of the Renaissance and an Elysium rolled into one, and how this glorious country of arts, philosophy, and gracious kings was to be revived. The new Ireland was to have a glorious fleet and to be one of the Great Powers and sail hand-in-hand with its noble ally, Germany. A flat, un-Irish uninspiring voice; I never saw an audience more bored, but for the sake of the Fatherland they sat it out with patience, and for the sake of the Fatherland they pretended to believe what he said.—The London Chronicle.

Coming of the Bee.

The honey bee was introduced into North America in the seventeenth century, but not into South America until 1845. There was none west of the Mississippi before 1797 and none in California before 1850.

Was Memorable Day.

June 14th was a memorable day in the history of Canada and Kingston, for it was on this day, 1841, just 76 years ago, that the sitting of the first Parliament of Canada was held in the small frame building next to St. Paul's Church, Queen street, Kingston. In this building, which is still intact and occupied, the members of the Parliament of Canada went into session to carry on the business of Canada, then in its infancy. The speech from the throne was delivered by his Excellency Lord Sydenham, Governor-General of Canada, and after this event the Gazette du Canada published its first extra in Kingston. The guard of honor to the Governor-General was furnished by the 14th Regiment.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

In the Cellar

The only prediction that Connie Mack would make last winter was that his 1917 team would not finish in last place. During the early part of the campaign it seemed that the tall tactician had sized up the situation correctly, as his team moved along at a fast clip and let other clubs do the battling for the last position. Then the Mackmen sunk down to the level of 1916. It was not for long, however, as the team put on another spurt and soon was in a fight for sixth position, apparently on it way to justify Connie's early ideas of its strength. But as the season wore on the Mackmen lost ground and finally they arrived in New York last week in last place, yet in a position to finish seventh. To do so they had to win all three games of the final series with the Yankees. They won only one of the three, and the finish of the 1917 campaign finds the team just where it closed the 1916 race, though it made a much better showing in games won. Connie had his own team shaped up correctly, as it was stronger than before, but not quite strong enough to beat out any of the seven other combinations.

"Gentleman" Jackson

Seventy-two years ago there died in London one of the foremost figures of the fistic arena, "Gentleman" Jackson, who was champion of England from 1795 to 1800. In the history of the ring few men have gained higher honors than John Jackson, and his memory is kept green by a magnificent monument in Brompton cemetery, London. It is a coincidence that a similar honor has been paid to the memory of another Jackson, the great negro, Peter, whose last resting place at Sydney is marked by a fine stone put up by the sports of Australia. Many boxers have won the sobriquet "Gentleman", but few deserved it more than John Jackson. He was well past his eightieth year when he expired on Oct. 7, 1845. Before 1795, when he became champion by defeating Dan Mendoza, the great Spanish Jew, Jackson was considered just a clever boxer and instructor in the "noble art." He conducted a sparring school, where he numbered among his clients and friends some of the greatest men of England, among them Lord Byron. At the royal celebration of Napoleon's defeat, held in London in 1814, Jackson and several other fighters gave an exhibition of their skill before the members of the English royal family, the King and Crown Prince of Prussia, the Emperor of Russia and other notables. Later, when George IV was crowned, Jackson was commanded to form a guard of pugilists for the king, and eighteen bruisers, commanded by Jackson, looked after the safety of the monarch during the coronation ceremonies. A description of Jackson's street attire must turn the modern Beau Brummels of the ring green with envy. He had on a scarlet coat," wrote a friend, "worked in gold at the button-holes, ruffles, frills of lace a small white stock, and looped hat with broad black band; buff knee-breeches, and long silk strings, striped white stockings, pumps, and paste buckles; while his waistcoat was of pale blue satin sprigged with white. Frank Erne, Matty Mathews, Jimmy Britt and other modern boxers have been "swell dressers," but they would look like thirty cents compared with John Jackson, taking the air on Holborn Hill.

CHICAGO'S WIN SECOND GAME

TRIUMPHED OVER GIANTS ON SUNDAY BY A SCORE OF 7 TO 2.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The Chicago American League baseball machine trundled half way to victory Sunday when they won, 7 to 2, in the second game of the World's Series struggle.

The teams left for the Polo Grounds where today the series will be resumed, and if the local team continues to play the type of game it has displayed here supporters of the Comiskey clan are convinced that the Sox should at least break even with the Giants in the next two contests.

Players Divide Nearly $80,000

AND THEY WILL SHARE IN TWO MORE GAMES OF THE WORLD'S SERIES.

Thirty-two thousand fans witnessed the opening game of the World's Series clash between New York champions of the National League, and the Chicago team, champions of the American League, at Chicago Saturday The receipts, which totalled $73,152 were divided among the players, clubs and the National Commission. Of this amount the players received $39,502.08, each of the clubs $13,167.36 and the National Commission $7,315.20.

The attendance and receipts at Sunday's game was practically the same as on Saturday. The official figures covering the two games already played follow:—Attendance, 64,000; total receipts, $146,304; players' share, $79,004.16; club's share, $52,669.44; National Commission's share, $14,630.40.

CALLING THE CAPITAL'S PERENNIAL HOCKEY BLUFF

Quebec Chronicle:— Ottawa was not represented at the N.H.A. meeting. The Bytown crowd always do something like this—either playing to the stands or putting up a big bluff to frighten the players into accepting reduced figures or remaining out of the game. Why not come out flatly and play the game, even if compelled to let go some of their star talent if the latter will not accept cuts? Of course, the N.H.A. could not get along without Ottawa (?)

CANADIAN UMPIRE WAS GREAT TWIRLER

Bob Emslie's Curve Ball Best Of The Day—Harriston, Ont., Started Famous Official's Career

Robert Emslie of St. Thomas, Ont., was an umpire for four years before he broke into the National league, and before that he was a pitcher. He is a native of Canada, having been born in the royal city of Guelph in 1861 It was at the tender age of seventeen that Emslie began his diamond career. The little Ontario town of Harriston, near Guelph, had a ball club of which it was very proud, and young Emslie was induced to accept a position as hotel clerk and "double" as a twirler. The original Tip O'Neil, who later hung up a world's batting record of .492 with the St. Louis Browns, was also a member of the Harriston club.

Youth Starred In Majors

Emslie got his real professional start in his native city, pitching for Guelph in 1880 and 1881. The next year he was signed by the Merritt club of Camden, N.J., the strongest team of the Interstate league, an appendix of the old American association. The Canadian youth was a star during his two seasons with Camden, and toward the close of the 1883 season he broke into the majors with the Baltimore A. A. bunch. In 1884 he ranked among the greatest hurlers in fast company, working in fifty-one games, with thirty-two victories and eighteen defeats. His curve was the despair of opposing batsmen, and he was easily the possessor of the best curve then being displayed.

Turned To Umpiring

Emslie's salary wing soon gave way, and in 1885 Baltimore sold him to the Philadelphia Athletics. He was sent to Toronto in 1886, and the following year was given a try-out by Memphis, but his arm was damaged beyond repair. At this crisis in his affairs Emslie turned to umpiring, and in mid-season of 1887 he was hired as an arbiter in the International league. He remained in that circuit until 1890, when he joined the umpire staff of the old American association. In 1891 he started with the Western league, and on August 19 was transferred to the National.

BUSY TOMMY BURNS

Many Come-backs And Activities of Canadian Pugilist

When Noah Brusso, alias Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion of the world, and subsequently Calgary haberdasher and New Orleans boxing promoter and referee, announced his intention to pull a comeback, the fight fans chuckled at the idea. Tommy is pictured as a patriarch with flowing beard and bent shoulders, but as a matter of fact the only Canadian-born heavyweight champion was born at Hanover, Ont., June 17, 1881. Tommy quit the ring after his defeat by Johnson in 1908, and settled in Calgary, where he engaged in the business of supplying the smart dressers of the Alberta metropolis with the latest in sartorial embellishments. In 1910 he pulled a Patti in Australia, whipping Bill Lang in twenty rounds at Sydney. For a couple of years he remained in retirement, but emerged in 1912 to whip Bill Rickard at Saskatoon. A few months later he fought a short go with Arthur Pelky in Calgary, and then promoted the tragic Pelky-McCarty bout in that city. In 1914 Tommy had another whirl at the game at Taft, Cal., picking for his purpose a two-legged quince known as Battling Brandt. Tommy had been quite successful as a promoter in the Crescent City, but his decisions as a referee have not always been in accordance with popular opinion.

LLOYD-GEORGE REPARTEE

Rev. Dr. C. F. Aked writes: A thrust by Lloyd-George holds the world a record. He was discussing a project then known as "Home Rule All Round," that is to say, a separate Parliament for Ireland, a Parliament for Scotland, a Parliament for Wales, a Parliament for England, and an Imperial Parliament for imperial affairs. So: Lloyd-George triumphant: "I stand for home rule for Ireland"—great cheering.

"Home rule for Scotland"—some cheers.

"Home rule for gallant little Wales"—thunders of applause, and a voice, "'Ome rule for 'ell," and yells of laughter, hisses, and catcalls.

"Right," said Lloyd-George, "quite right. I like to see a man stand up for his own country!"

ENGLISH SET FASHION OF FOUR-MILE ROWING

Crews On This Side Of Water Adopted The Oxford Distance—Canadian Coach's Narrative

Jim Ten Eyck, senior, former coach of the Ottawa Rowing Club, tells in the Syracusan how colleges came to row four miles. He says: "One day a couple of English oarsmen started out for a little row on the Thames," writes Ten Eyck. "One of them said to the other, 'Old chap, I'll row you from Putney to the ship at Mayferes and when we get there we'll have a couple of beers.' And so they each started out in their sculls, and when they reached Mayferes they went to a roadhouse there and had refreshments. Other old time oarsmen followed their example and it became a favorite pull. When Oxford and Cambridge took up rowing they followed the old men and rowed from Putney to Mayferes. You know how hard it is to change an Englishman once he gets into a rut.

Imitated

"Well, it so happened that the distance from Putney to Mayferes was four miles and three hundred yards. When Yale and Harvard took up rowing they looked over the ocean and saw that Oxford rowed about four miles, so they decided that it was the proper distance and began rowing that distance over here. But as a matter of fact the distance here has not always been four miles. The first race was little more than one mile and a half. The later races were on small lakes and covered only a fraction of four miles. When the crews got on larger bodies of water they adopted the English four mile course. There is no other reason why they should row four miles.

Not Injurious

"I believe that it is unnecessary to row four miles, but it does not hurt a man to row four miles any more than it does a mile and a half. If he is in condition to row he will not feel the difference. We are training our men for that distance. There is no reason why an oarsman should fall in a boat. We pick our men from those who can row four miles and they must have the build and condition to do it."

N.L.U. PLAYERS OF 1900

Complete List of Stars On All the Clubs

Eddie St. Pere of the National Lacrosse Union received from an old time follower of lacrosse a paper containing the line-ups of the various teams, which battled for the Eastern championship in 1900. In that year the Nationals, led by Jim Kavanagh were the winners. They had Paddy Brennan, Jimmie McKeown, Billy Wells and other Shamrock stars on their roster. Toronto, Capitals, Shamrocks and Cornwall were also in the race and it is interesting to note that of all the players, who figured in the N. L. U. that summer, Fred Degan of Cornwall, Harry Westwick, of the Ottawas, and John White, Cornwall, were the only survivors who still actively engaged sixteen years later. Westwick played his first senior lacrosse when about 17 years of age. The teams of 1900 were composed as follows:

Nationals—P. Foley, Joe Valois, B. Murphy, Alphonse Valois, A. St. Aubin, C. Marcelin, Danny Brown, J. Cousineau, Pat Welsh, Billy Wells, Jimmy McKeown, Paddy Brennan, J. Kavanagh, Paddy Brophy, captain.

Haig and a Sergeant

Sir Douglas Haig, British Commander-in-Chief in France, has a keen sense of humor and a gift of repartee A big blustering sergeant was cursing two men for being careless with ammunition and shouted, "You'll send us all up to Heaven like a rocket." Sir Douglas chipped in: "Unless you improve your language, sergeant, I'm afraid you may go in an opposite direction."

It can preserve the family from want.
It can lighten their load of care.
It can build a barrier against adversity.

It can add to a man's years by freeing him from anxiety.
It can enhance the respect and esteem of the public and of his wife and children for him.

ALLIES PLAN BIG NAVAL ATTACK

SAILORS PLOT TO FORCE PEACE ON GERMANS

Teuton Minister of Marine Delivers Startling Announcement in Reichstag.

SOCIALIST DEPUTIES BLAMED

Disclosure Comes at Opportune Time To Help Government Out of a Corner.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Copenhagen, Oct. 10.—Vice Admiral Von Capelle the German Minister of Marine, announced in Reichstag today that a plot had been discovered in the navy to form a committee of delegates on the Russian model and to paralyze the fleet so as to force the Government to make peace. The guilty parties were arrested and received their just deserts the minister added.

Socialists Are Blamed.

Admiral Von Capelle attempted to link the Radical Socialists with the plot. He said the ringleader had discussed the plot with the Deputies, Haas and Vogtherr, in the Radical Socialist conference room in the Reichstag building. The deputies had called attention to the dangerous nature of the plot and had advised the greatest caution, but had agreed to furnish propaganda material.

Deputies Demand Proof.

Socialist deputies interrupted the speaker with cries of dissent. Deputy David of the majority Socialists demanded that the government produce proof and that the Reichstag should suspend judgment in the meantime.

Chancellor Michaelis earlier in the session had referred to the affair, rumors of which evidently had gained public circulation. He declared he could not co-operate with nor recognize a party which put itself beyond the pale by activities directed against the Fatherland.

The disclosures in connection with the Radical Socialists, if they are true, came most opportunely to help the government out of its embarrassment over the interpellation regarding the pan-German propaganda.

Admiral Von Cappelle hammered home his statement with a declaration of the necessity for a proper enlightenment of the military forces.

IN POLICE COURT

At the police court this morning two young men were assessed $10 and $2.60 costs each.

A black-lister, who has been in trouble more than once since being listed, was charged with having been intoxicated and having had liquor in his possession. This case was enlarged until Friday.

GERMAN COUNTER ATTACKS ARE REPULSED BY BRITISH

At Only One Point Did Foe Gain Advantage and That Was Slight---French Troops Advance --- Germans Taken Prisoners Now Number 2,000.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Oct. 10.—Several counter attacks were made by the Germans last night in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Staden railway. Today's official statement says these attacks were repulsed, but that south of the railway on a front of 2,000 yards the British advance troops were forced back a short distance.

FRENCH ADVANCE.

Paris, Oct. 10. — A further advance was made by French troops, which took the offensive yesterday in Belgium, in co-operation with the British. Papegoet Farm has been captured, the war office announced, and more prisoners taken.

Initial Success Limited

London, Oct. 10—South of the Houtholst Wood yesterday the allies captured about 1500 metres of territory until their initial success was limited by the German counter attacks.

2000 Prisoners Taken

London, Oct. 10.—Perry Robinson, in a despatch from British headquarters on the big battle, says:

"The total prisoners will number two thousand. The German losses are again very heavy. The deepest point of advance was not intended to be more than two thousand yards. It was not quite the same front as the last three attacks, but more northerly, on a front of about nine thousand yards. The attack was not hindered either by the terrible weather or the brevity of time since the last one. The French advance was perfect, after a bombardment of three days. They captured 'Mangelaere and established a line on the southern fringe of Houtholst Forest within four hours and a half. The ground crossed was half submerged in shell holes full of icy water, and it was intensely cold and windy. The concrete blockhouses, "pill-boxes," and redoubts nowhere held up the French seriously. Two field guns fell to the French. The liaison of the French and British is described as perfect. The British on the left found a new German division arrived only two hours earlier opposed to them, who were ignorant of the terrain, and with no stomach for fighting. They often waded instead of walked through shell holes deep enough to drown a tired or wounded man. Further south there was more resitance but it made no difference. In the marshy ground the Germans ought to have made a stout resistance, but did not.

IS REMANDED ON BIGAMY CHARGE

FREDERICK OAKES, PETERBORO ACCUSED OF MARRYING ONCE TOO OFTEN.

Frederick Oaks of Peterborough was charged at the police court this morning with having gone through a form of marriage with Iva McClellan, also of this city, his wife at the time being then and still alive.

The alleged offence occurred at St. Augustine's Church, Toronto, Sept. 4th.

Accused was also charged with perjury in a certain affidavit when securing a marriage license.

Mr. J. Guise-Bagley appeared for the Crown and Mr. J. A. O'Brien for the defendant.

Accused pleaded "not guilty" on both charges and elected to be tried by a jury.

He was allowed bail of $1000 on both charges with two sureties in each case of $250, and remanded for one week.

COAL EMBARGO LIFTED BY U.S.

Board to Shut Out Medicated Wine

IF IT CONTAINS OVER TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. OF ALCOHOL.

Medicated "booze" may shortly be barred from the Province of Ontario Mr. J. D. Flavelle, Chairman of the Ontario License Commission, says that he has instructed Provincial officers to obtain samples of the products of three of the leading manufacturers of medicated wines now on sale in the drug stores of the Province.

The wines will be analyzed by an expert for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content and the amount of medication. If they contain more than two and one-half per cent. of alcohol, and the License Board considers they are not sufficiently medicated to prevent their use as a beverage, action will be taken to ban them from the Province. If they are manufactured here the manufacturers will be fined, and if they are manufactured elsewhere their agents will be punished to the full extent of the law

DOUBLE SAILORS' PAY

British Seamen Will Now Work Under Standard Rate

London, Oct. 10.—The Shipping Controller has decided to establish a standard wage for seamen, practically doubling the old rate. The preliminary decision fixes £11 for seamen on foreign-going vessels, firemen receiving £11 10s. The rates of petty officers and stewards will be advanced in the same proportion. The rates of officers and engineers will also be immediately received.

GERMANS WILL SOON BE FORCED TO FALL BACK

War Expert of Associated Press Sees an Early Finish of the Kaiser.

MUST ABANDON SUB. BASE

Recent Drive the Most Crushing Blow Yet Dealt By Allies.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

New York, Oct. 10.—The Associated Press war expert says: Field Marshal Haig with the help of the French has struck another successful blow in the Ypres salient and the German tenancy of the dominant ridge east of Ypres is nearing an end. The British yesterday captured further sections of the ridge in the direction of Passchendaele, and British guns now dominate that part still in German hands, as well as the railway centres of Staden, Roulers, and Menit, and the railroad between Roulers and Menin.

One more stroke, perhaps two, and the Germans must bow before the superior power of the Allies in Flanders, and retreat. Should the Germans retire to the line of Bruges, Thielt, Courtrai, and Lille, they would relinquish their hold on the greater part of the Belgian coast now used by them for submarine bases. Their retirement to this line also would make a sharp salient north of Lille, unless they chose to give up that stronghold and retreat to Tournai.

ONE FINED $50 ONE GOES FREE

TWO CASES OF MILK ALLEGED TO BE BELOW LAW'S STANDARD.

Wm. Fife was charged at the police court this morning with having sold to the Ormonde Cheese Factory deteriorated milk. The Act calls for milk being delivered as it comes from the cow.

Dairy Inspector R. W. Ward testified that he examined defendant's milk on September 12th and 19th. On the former date its specific gravity only showed 29.7, whereas it should have been from 31 to 32. This milk tested was not, in his judgment, normal cream was removed, water added or strippings kept back. On visiting defendant's house he manifested some hesitancy in giving him (witness) samples of his milk.

Two charges were laid against the accused, and his worship ruled in both cases that there was no evidence upon which to convict.

Defendant and witnesses all swore that the farmer's milk was sold the factory as taken from the cows.

$50 and Costs

R. T. Gordon of Norwood district, pleaded guilty by letter to having sold deteriarated milk to Norwood cheese factory. He was fined $50 and $5.60 costs.

U. S. NAVY WILL JOIN IN ATTACK

ALLIES BELIEVED TO BE IN A POSITION TO RECEIVE HELP FROM NAVY.

London, Oct. 10.—As the result of recent success, Gen. Haig is believed to be in a position to deliver his master stroke for Zeebrugge, the home port of the German submarine flotilla. In this supreme test of the war he will have the assistance of the British, French and American navies, which will simultaneously attack from the sea. The naval authorities both in the British and American navies have made it clear that a purely naval attack on this base would be, under normal conditions, impracticable. But the inter-allied naval forces, it is learned, are in readiness to co-operate with land forces in a joint military-naval campaign.

Wth the German defences on the Pelgan cost caught between attacks by land and sea, the problem of destroying the base at Zeebrugge would be greatly facilitated.

HUNS PLAN TO DESTROY C.P.R.

On Jan. 3 a telegraph stated: The secret general staff desires energetic action in regard to the proposed destruction of the Canadian Pacific Railway at several points with a view to a complete and protracted interruption of traffic. Captain Boehm who is known on your side and is shortly returning has been given instructions. Inform the military attache and provide the necessary funds. Signed Zimmermann.

AGE LIMITS OF MEN IN CLASS 1

HOW AGES ARE FIGURED FOR THOSE 20 AND 34 YEARS OLD.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—To clear up confusion with regard to the age limits of Class 1, which is to be called out by proclamation for service under the military service act on the 13th inst. the following announcement is made by the Militia Service Council:

"For convenience, Class 1 is frequently spoken of as comprising unmarried men and widowers without children between the ages of 20 and 34. It is to be noted, however, that under the provisions of the statute, the method of fixing these two limits is different. So far as concerns the age of 20, the date of the proclamaton governs. Any man who, on that date has reached the age of 20 years is within the class. With regard to the limit of 34 years, however, this is fixed by reference to the 1st of January, 1917. Any man who had not reached the age of 34 years before that date s within the class. It is to be noted also that, for the purpose of the act, any man married after the 6th of July, 1917, is to be deemed to be unmarried."

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The British steamer Tamaqua, which was reported to have been sunk off the Irish coast on Sept. 29 by a submarine, has arrived at an American port.

Russian scouts from the Caucasus army, in a daring raid, captured General Count von Meyer, head of the German air service, in the Black Sea district.

HOW ALLEGED PICK-POCKETS CONCEALED THEIR WEALTH

Victims at Peterborough Exhibition Anxiously Await Return of Money Lost From Roll of Bills Taken by Police From Suspects.

In the case of Searlin, the Russian Jew held by the authorities on suspicion of having been connected with a gang of pickpockets working the Peterborough Fair, His Worship D. W. Dumble at 6 o'clock last evening reserved judgment after the trial had been in progress all day.

The authorities are also in a dilemma as to disposing of the $1300 found in possession of the suspects when searched in the police station. Gordon, Widdifield & O'Brien, prisoners' counsel, have served Chief of Police Thompson with a claim for this money, while four men were present in court, some of them from out of town, anxious to get the amount of their losses to pickpockets at the Fair out of it. These losses aggregate $200.

The three alleged American pickpockets having skipped their bail, County Crown Attorney Hatton was doubtful if a conviction without their presence would be legal, and held that without conviction appropriation of the money by the court would not be justified.

Mr. O'Brien for defendants declared that claimants to a portion of the cash taken from accused by the police would have a sweet time proving that any of it was their property, and contended that the court had no right to hold the money unless conviction were made.

His Worship seemed anxious that the victims should get their own, and was confident of finding ways and means for doing so. He will seek higher information on this point.

CAMPBELLFORD PAPER MILL DAMAGED BY FIRE

At 9.25 this morning Fire Chief Grange received a phone message from Campbellford that the big paper mills in that town were on fire and in danger of total destruction.

At the time of going to press word from Campbellford was received that the fire was then under control. Its origin is as yet unknown.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1917

IMMIGRATION.

Whether it is a problem for the Minister of the Interior or for the Minister of Labor, I cannot say; but the balance between supply and demand should certainly receive a greater degree of superintendence. It frequently happens that in different centres of the country there are more men than are necessary for the work, and still they keep coming in. What are we to do? They have either to be taken care of by the municipality or become burdens of a worse class on the community. At the present time, so far as I know or can find out, this superintendence is not exercised at all. The great cry is: Bring on your immigrants; fetch them in; fill up the country, so that we can say that the statistics show that the population is rapidly increasing. Population increasing in that irregular way is simply an absurdity. If in trade, supply and demand maintain more or less of a balance and adjustment, there ought to be something of an automatic character with regard to them; but, strange to say, in the whole theory of public employment, the man, that is to say the life of the individual, is given no consideration at all. The whole thing is treated on a basis of trade, of goods, of bargain and sale. Until we have reformed this, and remember that the life of the men, women and children of the country is the first consideration, we shall never have reached even the primary stages of civilization.—Capt. Burnham in The Review March 12, 1914.

THE PRICE OF POTATOES.

A CITIZEN complains to The Review that the recent order of Food Controller Hanna fixing the maximum price of potatoes at $1.25 a bag, while well intentioned, is being evaded by the men who have potatoes to sell. On the market Saturday he says that all such men refused to sell potatoes by the bag, but doled them out by the peck, charging 35 cents for each measure. They were in this way getting $2.10 a bag for their potatoes. No law was being violated except perhaps in spirit.

The citizen referred to takes the ground that the order by Mr. Hanna should be so amended as to fix the price for any quantity of potatoes that may be offered for sale. Even if the producer does sell by the bag, it is another case of rich man, poor man. The former can buy the larger quantity while the latter is obliged to deal in peck measures and pays nearly double the amount charged the other.

The citizen who makes this complaint is a lawyer himself. As such, he has beyond a doubt heard of the coach-and-four that can be driven through every legal enactment. The case he cites is an instance in point. Laws found defective are usually amended with actual experience as a guide. The same course will likely be adopted by Mr. Hanna if it is found that liberties are being taken with his orders.

THE MADNESS OF HASTE.

A POPULAR WORK recently published represents a being as gazing down on this world from a distant planet. Here is the result of his investigation:

"What are you seeing?" he was asked.

"Cities," he said; "streets of cities; miles of streets of cities."

"And what do you see in the streets of cities?"

"Men, women and smoke."

"And what are the men and women doing?"

"Hurrying," said he.

"Where?" said I.

"God knows."

The hurry continues day by day. Military madness, the insane thirst for power, is not the only human obsession. People everywhere are rushing blindly after wealth. They cut the street corners, deny themselves time for meals or for recreation in their worship of the golden calf. The age is an age of speed, whether on wheels or on foot, on the land, on sea, or in the air. "Safety first" is a slogan that is ignored. "Wealth first" is the consuming passion of the hour.

The man who loiters, whether by disposition or through incapacity, is dropped from the reckoning. The aged are pushed aside to make room for those who are younger and swifter. There is mercy for none.

The soldier returns from the battle front crippled by months of strenuous service. What consideration is shown him when he applies for his old place in the industrial world? The other day in Toronto a crippled soldier went from place to place vainly begging for "leave to toil," as Burns puts it. He was turned down everywhere. In the machinery of business he could no longer maintain the pace. The foreman who refuses him work is not to blame, for the head of every department is required to show results periodically. It is the system that is at fault.

What is to be done with the soldier who, while yet young in years, is no longer able to strike the gait of the daily procession? Surely the gratitude of his country is not so ephemeral as to permit him to suffer on account of what he has so unselfishly done for others.

THE IRISH IN THE WAR.

ON THE FIRST Tuesday after the first Monday in November the mayoralty election will be held in New York, a political contest that ranks second in importance only to that of the Presidential race itself. In municipal elections in the United States political lines are frankly and openly observed, unlike Canada, where the cauldron usually seethes under a surface apparently calm. There are, of course, in all American contests local and side issues that are strong factors in determining the result.

There are several candidates for mayor of New York, but the fight is between the two regular party representatives. One of the issues besides is the very question that will figure so prominently in the impending Federal election in Canada, and that is the nation's part in the war. Conscriptionists are arrayed against anti-conscriptionists in New York, just as they are in this country. Canadians may well be interested in the contest in the American metropolis. The result may indicate the probable outcome of an appeal to the people by the Borden Administration.

New York, too, has its race problem. The voters of Irish descent or nationality are being pitted against the native-born American element by the crafty political workers. That is the anti-war party's one hope for success, but they are meeting with opposition from a quarter least expected—from the Irish people themselves.

All the leading Irish newspapers the United States over, as well as in New York, are heart and hand for the cause of the Allies. They are publishing statistics that tend to confound the anti-British faction in the metropolis.

These figures show that at least forty per cent. of the men in the regular army and navy are Irish Catholics. Twenty-four per cent. of the National Guard—that is the militia of the country—are of the same creed and nationality, as shown by the Federal census. The first American officer to lose his life in France was Lieut. Fitzsimmons, a scion of an illustrious Irish family.

Against these cold facts and figures New York has the vaporings of the soap-box orators on the street corners. In the meantime Irishmen continue to enlist, convinced as they are that in fighting for the cause of the Allies they are rendering the island of their forefathers the best possible service.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

IF THE MANUFACTURE of two per cent. beer is prohibited, will the average man regard it as a hardship or a measure designed for his protection?

THIS WAR, unfortunately, cannot be won by cheering the flags of the Allies at the picture shows and the theatres.

THEY ARE beginning to write it "Xmas" already.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER will not retire. He is the party's one best asset and liability.

• • •

THE BRITISH have advanced two miles in the new Flanders drive. Two miles nearer Berlin.

QUEBEC is a province where Laurierism is simply a mental condition that can be corrected, or at least rendered innocuous.

• • •

"THERE ARE more Catholic than Protestant soldiers fighting for the Allies in Europe," says The Catholic Register. And even with that example before it Quebec still lingers in the rear.

Wit and Wisdom

Called by Wrong Name.

A young rector went to his bishop one day and said to him:

"Bishop, I have come to you in a perplexity. In my present church I am getting $900 a year, and I have just received a call from another church that offers $4000. What would you do, sir, if you were in my place?"

"My boy," replied the Bishop, "did I understand you to refer to that offer from the other church as a call?"

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"That isn't a call, my boy," answered the Bishop. "I would call that a yell."

"Bobby, did you take that message to Mrs. Turner, as I told you?"

"Yes'm."

"And what did you find out?"

"Mrs. Turner."

Sister—What on earth have you been doing, Robert?

Robert (aged ten, badly scarred and torn)—It was my turn to be the German army today.

Willie Willis—What are "pieces of artillery," pa?

Papa Willis—I think they must be the kind that the girl next door plays on the piano.

Great Pianist—But, madam, you know my price is two hundred and fifty dollars, and that I never perform for less.

Mrs. Munitions—But you needn't play quite so well as you usually do.

Using Waste Fruit.

An important work being done by the women of Canada is the canning of waste fruits. The Red Cross canning factory, as one of these places is known, gathers in all the waste fruit that can be found, and jellies of all kinds are made and sent to the soldiers in France and England. This season our boys should get a large amount of fruit canned by the Canadian women and if the fruit is plentiful the Tommies and Sammies will be happy.

Last season one factory used 25,000 tons of sugar in the jellies made for the boys at the front. The fruit was gathered by volunteers and the apples were peeled by society women, some of them working all night during the busy season. All the work was done by volunteers. The money for the sugar and the cans and glasses was donated and the freight charges were very small.

Windfalls were plentiful last fall and as soon as the farmer reported that apples were going to waste a corps of volunteer workers was enlisted and the apples were brought to the canning factory.

Apples are used for the base of all the jelly and many flavors are added. Most of the apples used for the jelly were no good for marketing. When the first lot was received at the hospitals in France and England there was great rejoicing among the wounded soldiers.

HOW PEOPLE MAY KEEP POSTED

(H. Addington Bruce)

What do you know about the doings in this great world wherein we live?

You read a daily newspaper of course. You feel that you could not get along without a newspaper. But do you read it with any thoroughness or do you skip hastily through it?

Do you, in fact, give more than a passing thought to the news it contains? Do you try to form a really intelligent and well considered opinion regarding events the world over?

Do you ever discuss their significance with friends and neighbors?

If asked what you think of any particular event you are perhaps ready with an answer. Is your answer anything but a snap judgment determined by prejudice rather than by reasoning analysis?

I put these questions not to be disagreeable, but because, if necessary, I want to spur you to appreciate the value that there is in discussion of current events.

Many people, fortunately, appreciate its value instinctively. Perhaps you are one of these. Many others are beginning to appreciate it.

This is shown by the growing popularity of clubs and classes on current events.

Only a few years ago such clubs and classes were almost unheard of. Today most of our bigger cities have half a dozen of them or more.

In one city—Boston —a talented woman of my acquaintance draws an income of thousands of dollars a year from her leadership of current events classes.

Other men and women have similarly discovered that interest in current events is increasing so rapidly that they can well afford to organise classes like those conducted by the Boston woman.

Still, there remain many people — thousands of people—who never discuss current events. Many thousands more discuss only such events as come under the headings of "crime," "the theater" and "sports."

Current events clubs and classes might well be organized in every neighborhood, with weekly meetings, to take up the out-standing happenings in international affairs, national politics, literature, art, music, science and industry.

Regular attendance at and active participation in these meetings will prove to be an education in itself.

One evening a week is certainly not too much to give to a discussion of the day to day developments in our wonderful world.

It may mean doing without an evening at cards or at the musical comedy or at the dance hall. But this, after all, is not a terrible sacrifice.

And from the occasional talk over current events will come more profit than could possibly come from any number of evenings spent in card playing, dancing or listening to musical comedies.

BILLIONS VOTED BY CONGRESS

A total of $21,390,730,940 was appropriated by Congress in the extraordinary session which closed on Saturday, Oct. 6.

Never since man fashioned government did legislative body pour out money in such volume.

Few of the men in Washington whose votes authorized the expenditures that make this session of Congress unparalleled appreciate the immensity of the financial obligations to which they committed the people and few, very few of the people appreciate what it means in labor, in effort and in years to pay back what has been and will be spent.

The $21,390,730,940 is more than 1,400 times as much as we paid for the territory that came within what we termed the Louisiana Purchase, the vast empire west of the Mississippi exclusive of that which we got later from Mexico.

The $21,390,730,940 is nearly fo times all the wealth of Spain.

It is more than four-fold the wealth of Holland.

It is five times the wealth of Switzerland.

It is more than eight times the wealth of Portugal.

It is greater than all the wealth of Italy.

It is greater than all the wealth of Spain, Holland, Switzerland and Portugal combined.

And the United States has only begun to spend.

PREPARE TO MEET COST OF WAR

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—The cost of the war has become so great in recent months that the layman is at pains to understand it. The Allied financial experts, however, are not frightened by the prospect, in view of the measures that are being taken to maintain financial stability in Allied countries.

Assuredly one of the most important of these measures is that which provides for the safeguarding of the national prosperity by sending into military service only those who do not happen to be working at essential tasks. The great basic industries, such as agriculture, transportation, etc., are being carefully protected against disintegration in all the larger belligerent countries. As a result a very quick recovery is expected to follow the end of the war.

Canada is being congratulated upon her wisdom in recognizing the unexpected length of the war by putting into operation a military service Act of moderate type yet bound to prove an efficient help to industry.

SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO

From The Review of Oct. 10, 1900:

Anniversary services were held at Park Street Baptist Church.

The seven-years-old son of Mr. A. P. Wilson lost an eye through the accidental discharge of an air gun.

One Year Ago Today.

German sub. U-53 ravaged shipping off the coast of the U. S., sinking the British Strathcona and West Point, the Dutch Blommersdijk, the Norwegian Christian Knudsen and the British passenger liner Stephano.

The Roumanian thrust into South Transylvania ends.

The Allies beat off a German attack near Les Boeufs and west of Sailly.

Herbs For Soups.

One woman states: "For herbs and such things or soups and tartar sauce I get parsley, mint, sage and summer savory in their season from large meat markets in the city. Celery seed, whole cloves, English mixed pickling spices you can buy at the grocery store, also capers and gherkins in small bottles. Garlic, bay leaves, thyme, sweet marjoram and shallots at the drug store. The last supply of summer savory I had the good fortune to gather from a garden about four years ago. It is still fine.

"To dry herbs they should be gathered on a dry day just before flowering, when they are in their highest state of perfection. Cleanse thoroughly from dust and dirt, cut off the roots, spread on brown paper and put in warm oven that they may dry quickly to preserve their flavor. Care must be taken that they do not burn. When dry rub the leaves from the stems, put in pint glass jars and keep tightly covered. The parsley I dry and keep whole in a box to serve with meat or fish in winter, for I cannot get the fresh parsley in this place. When needed to serve freshen the dry parsley by dipping in hot water containing a lump of baking soda. I use mixed pickling spices (a half teaspoonful) once in awhile in stews or soups for a change."

An Odd Egg.

One of the most curious of nature's inventions is that of an egg that can't roll off a shelf. It is absolutely important to a certain species of seabird—the murre. This feathered creature builds no nest, but lays its eggs on narrow shelves of precipitous rocks. Ordinary eggs—those of the domestic hen, for example, if deposited in such places, would be liable to roll off and smash. But the murre's egg is of such a shape that if disturbed it simply rolls in a circle. Such being the case, the female murre experiences no anxiety. She could incubate her progeny on an ordinary mantlepiece and be satisfied of their safety.

MR. FRICKER'S ORGAN RECITAL

Editor Review:—I am afraid there is some misunderstanding about this Organ Recital. Five members of The Peterboro Choral Society are bringing Mr. Fricker to this city, paying all expenses, and donating his services to the Red Cross Society of St Andrew's Church, and the only expense the Red Cross will have, will be the tickets and programs.

The Recital is entirely undenominational, and the only desire of the gentlemen, is to give the city a recital by one of the very best artists in the world.

Mr. Fricker was organist at Canterbury Cathedral at 18 years of age. At 21 years of age, he was one of 100 applicants for the position of city organist at Leeds. He was accepted, and he has given 100 recitals per year for 26 years in that city, besides giving special recitals in different parts of England. A few months ago he gave recitals for one week in Paris.

Dr. Vogt spent some time in England early in 1914 selecting a gentleman for the position of conductor for The Mendleson Choir, also organist in The Metropolitan Church, Toronto, they very wisely selected Mr. Fricker. Mr. Fricker assumed his new position Sept. 1st. Peterboro is very fortunate in being able to hear this great artist so early in the season.

The proceeds will be devoted to a great national cause. Date, Monday, Oct. 15th. Tickets 25c. I trust St. Andrew's Church will be crowded on that date. Yours very truly.

WALTER STOCKER.

Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:

Harrisburg, Penn.—"When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house."—Mrs. Frank Knobl, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them."—Mrs. F. E. Yoer, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 18 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. Clementina Dubbring, 34 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY RAISED $1300 TAG DAY

Managers of Campaign Well Pleased With Result and Tender Thanks to All Those Who Assisted.

Tag Day Saturday realized $1300, as nearly as can be ascertained from the returns now in. This is $700 short of the objective, but the managers of the campaign have every reason to feel gratified over the result.

Under the splendid management of Mrs. Knox, the convenor, everything went off smoothly and the people responded generously. Even the weather man was disposed to aid, and the day was fair. Mrs. Knox was away from home until Tuesday night, but, returning home, made up for lost time by overwork. Everybody worked on the outside but Agent Powell, and he was kept in the office of the Society all day giving out boxes and tags. Mr. Powell says it is easy working for the Society, because when the people are asked for anything they always respond.

Some of the young ladies who acted as taggers did not start until the afternoon, but they worked until 9 o'clock at night.

Manager Pennefather of the Union Bank offered to arrange for the count and the boxes were all turned in there. Miss Dennistoun of the bank staff had all arrangements made and soon after 7 o'clock bright young men from the various banks in the city began to arrive and the work began. Five of the city banks were represented by the volunteers, and the count was made swiftly and carefully.

The members of the Society wish to tender their thanks to those who handled the boxes, to the young men who helped count the receipts, to The Examiner and The Review, to Turner Bros., the Cressman Co., the Union and the Montreal Banks for the use of rooms, and to the street railway company for free tickets for the taggers.

The Receipts

The amounts received in the different boxes varied from 45 cents to $59.91.

WAR IN BRIEF

Fight Still Rages

The British troops on the Gravenstafel Ridge advanced on to Passchendale Ridge and rested 1000 yards southwest of the town of the same name. The French crossed Jeusbeek and Broonbeek Rivers in the direction of Houthelet forest and at an early hour were reported fighting about Mangelare, some 1500 yards beyond their original front lines. At 8.30 o'clock they had taken several hundred prisoners.

The latest meagre report received says the Germans are counter attacking heavily astride the Ypres-Roulers Railway. British were sending back large numbers of prisoners at an early hour. The combined attack of the French and British met with great success in the first few hours of fighting. It is reported the British have achieved success in small operations in the region of Reutel and Holderheck.

Strong German naval forces have been observed off the Island of Bornholm and off the coast of Sweden, apparently confirming rumors of an intended German offensive against Helsingors and Petrograd.

Within the next two months or certainly by the first of the new year there will be an international Entente army of 1,250,000 men ready for the Balkan campaign. This would include the Serbian and Greek forces.

HUNS BANKRUPT PRISONER SAYS

GERMANY WILL NOT BE ABLE TO PAY ANY WAR INDEMNITY.

London, Oct. 9.— In a despatch from British headquarters, Philip Gibbs says: "German prisoners taken in the latest Ypres drive do not hide their astonishment at the spirit of the British troops. They know now that the English troops are terrible in attack and arrive upon them with strange and fearful suddenness behind their barrage.

"One maimed German professor of broad intelligence and a frank way of facing ugly facts said that the British artillery was too terrific for words. His detachment was harassed all the way up to the front line and lost many men. When the remnant got there they had to lie flat in the bottom of shell holes, and the next thing they knew was when they were surrounded by masses of English soldiers. He described the latter as gallant and chivalrous. This professor thinks it will not be long before Germany makes a great bid for peace by offering to give up Belgium. By mid-Winter, he says, she will yield Alsace-Lorraine. Russia will remain as before the war. except for an autonomous Poland. Italy will have what she has captured, and Germany will get back some of her colonies, he thinks. He laughed when indemnity was mentioned. and said 'Germany is bankrupt.'

"He described the German Emperor as a broken man and all for peace, the Crown Prince posing as the head of the military party, but being unpopular. As soon as the German people knew that the submarine threat had failed, he said, they would demand that the war stop at once.

A whaleboat with a crew of Germans from the raider See Adler has been captured in the vicinity of the Fiji Islands. The boat contained a gun and machine guns.

MUNICIPAL COAL YARD IS UNABLE TO BREAK PRICE

Only Way to do That is to Buy a Mine and Build a Railway From it to This City—New Venture is Working Smoothly.

At the meeting of the Fire, Water & Light Committee of the City Council, held on Friday evening of last week, a statement was presented of the working of the City Coal Supply up to the end of the month. This covers the operations for a little over three weeks, of September, at which time the coal began to arrive. The results show, that so far as the receiving of the coal and distribution is concerned, in fact in all details, the scheme is working, and has worked as smoothly as if it had been running for two or three seasons. The system adopted, or rather devised, while simple has been efficient. Free from errors and the service all around has been markedly efficient. Both the foreman, Mr. Donoghue, and the men in charge of the work at the sheds and cars have been careful and prompt and the delivery by Mr. W. Lytle has been entirely satisfactory. The details going through the office of the City Treasurer, Mr. Adams, have been looked after in the most thorough way, as was to be expected.

The net results, so far, have been that this city is in a good fair quantity of coal ahead of what might have been the case had the venture not been instituted. On the other hand it is well to consider, that the local dealers, could, and possibly might have brought in Independent coal, and served it to the city, though their profit would have been a matter of conjecture, in the state of the market and with the complications that have been and are apparent. The city having undertaken to fetch such coal, there was no encouragement for the local men to do likewise. This is fairness to the dealers. Nothing is to be gained by being unfair or by ascribing wrong conditions. The coal business is one, that from start to finish,—as far as experience has shown—in which the coal merchant has about as little control over all conditions as the man who runs a fruit and fish stand. Both are entirely at the mercy of the base of supplies.

It was freely expected that something would be done in the way of what people call "breaking the price." There is only one way. Buy a mine and add a railroad from the mine to this city. Short of controlling the source of supply and the means of transportation, little can be done. That's settled. The coal that has been sold by the city costs the city fully one dollar or one dollar and twenty-five cents more than the coal supplied by the dealer, that is Line Company Coal. The Line Companies won't sell to the city. Why should they, to the disadvantage of the local dealer who has been a customer for years. So the city finds its coal, pays what it must and delivers it as near to the ruling price as it can. The statement as shown below tells the story. Of course the comment is freely made, though probably not well founded, that coal might have been dearer than it now is if the city had not gone into the proposition.

Forty cars more are on the tracks between the mines and the city. It is hoped that cars will arrive this week. If the cars come on in fair number men will be set to work to deliver into the bins as well as t the houses. It is intended to have in stock as much as one million pounds. This is about 500 tons, an only enough to give 500 families one ton each. The average burning in Peterborough, will reach about one and a quarter ton for each head of population. Without counting supplies for schools, public buildings, etc. But the prospects are now that a decent supply will be in the city from all sources that will serve the winter's wants.

One thing the people will be interested in. The city Council, following the permission and order from the Ontario Railway Board, provided as much as $35.000.00 to finance the scheme. So far not a cent of the money has been tounched or even needed. The thing is run on the money the people have paid. All payments for coal, freight, labor, delivery, etc., have been met, and the balance from day to day is drawing interest in the bank. It looks as if the interest will about meet the expenses of printing, telephones, shovels and some supplies. The capital account for bags and rental of sheds will not be accounted for unitl it is seen how much coal, as a whole, has been delivered.

Citizens may carefully look over the statement. It will be seen how close the cost of coal and expenses comes to the selling price. Could the coal be bought for less money the gain will be greater. But as the monthly price, each successive month, is 10 cents advance on the previous month, any small margin will likely be wiped out altogether. However, no one is getting anything out of the operation. All is at cost.

Following is a statement of coal received to date of beginning of October, and cost of the same.

Total amount of orders, to date	$8751 50
Less refunds	45 00
	$8706 50

For the following:—
534 200 lbs. stove coal.
1151 000 lbs nut coal.
10 000 lbs. egg coal.
58 000 lbs pea coal.
Total—
1753 200 lbs.
or 875-1200/2000 tons of coal.

Coal received to date:
76 700 lbs. pea coal.
479 200 lbs. nut coal.
243 800 lbs. stove coal.
Total....799 700 lbs. or 399 1700/200 tons of coal.

Costing:—

For Coal	$2190 16
For Freight	1210 72
For Cartage	295 20
For Wages	195 00
For Printing Etc.	40 00
	3930 58

Approximate cost of coal, delivered, per ton, $9.85.

When the cost of the sheds, scale etc., is added to the coal as delivered the cost per ton will be just about $10.00. It is hoped that this price can be maintained.

The committee is giving the matter very careful attention, and will do whatever is to be done to better the situation. Last week over thirty letters were sent to firms in the coal and mining centres. Out of the thirty only three gave hopes of sending forward coal. The demand is practically unlimited and the same all over the country. The supposition that fixing the prices at the mines would help has only proved to be a boomerang, and has shut off production, largely in the soft coal mines. The price for hard coal was not definitely fixed, but such mines participated in the general scare. As navigation on the upper lakes is due to close, and as insurance on cargoes will be at an end the diversion of the traffic to the railroads will help to ensure a supply for the regular dealers. These have been assured by their supply sources of ample tonnage commencing early in November. It is hoped that the assurances given will be filled.

As showing the extremity to which the mines are put to make a supply one firm has installed a washery, to run through a mountain of coal debris, accumulated in past years and for all that time deemed worthless. The pile is to be first sifted, then the finer parts crushed to a powder and sold for steam purposes. The larger particles, about the size of pea and nut coal will be washed and sold. Some was offered to the city, but the coal was not favored.

One small mine has been opened in a district heretofore thought not productive. This mine asked an extra $1 40 per ton for carting the product to the railroad, and proposed that the city should pay the cartage charge. That coal would have to sell, here, at $12.00 the ton. The offer was not entertained.

As a side issue, in the local coal situation it may be stated that early in May the proposition was made to the women on the Patriotic Fund, that if they would bring in the money, to pay for coal, that it would be banked and used to supply. Beginning to save, as it were. Very many availed themselves of the offer. Over $4000.00 was brought in and held and nearly 400 tons of coal, in addition to what is in the city was brought in and distributed to the families of the men on service, lessening the anxiety and to that extent lessening the demand on the local stores and supply. The enterprise has thus been of real practical benefit, and that only is what counts. F. H. Dobbin, Chairman of Committee.

TO RAISE MONEY FOR RED CROSS

MURRAY STREET CONGREGATION WILL HOLD MEETING FRIDAY EVENING.

The worst shirker of all is the one who is in no sense "at the front." There are those who have never heard the sound of cannon nor had a sight of battlefield blood who are nevertheless "at the front." They are in the first line of sacrificing citizens. "They are "at the front" when laborers are called for; they are "at the front" when the call comes for the open purse. There is no complaint when the calls multiply but they do their best, remembering that "angels can do no more."

On Friday evening of this week the entire congregation of Murray Street Baptist Church is called together for a twofold purpose—first, to have an Autumn reunion and to welcome the newcomers of recent months, and in the second place to contribute the moderate sum of 25 cents each for the purpose of purchasing material for the Red Cross Society of the church. A program of music will be rendered and refreshments will be served. Four Red Cross girls will have copies of the congregational roll and will place the Red Cross opposite each name as the contribution is made. It is confidently hoped that no member of the congregation will be absent.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors will be held this evening at 6.30 o'clock, when several important items of business will be considered.

Mr. Harold Copp has assumed the position of Assistant, and entered upon his duties this morning. Miss Ethel M. Coons is to assist the General Secretary in connection with the office work, so that the Y.M.C.A. staff will be reorganized to permit the General Secretary to be Director of activities outside the Physical Department. This arrangement is made as it has been found impossible to secure a Boys' Secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Galley. Mr. Roper is Physical Director and his department is well organized and all classes are now meeting regularly.

The Boys' Bible Class groups will be organized this week with the following young men as mentors: Min to Brownscombe, Charles Armstrong and Ralph Meserve and James Pogue as substitute. The boys will find on the bulletin board a notice of the groups and the time for the meetings.

The bowling alleys will be opened on Saturday for the first time this season. New bowling pins and other equipment will be available for the opening. It is expected that both the bowling and billiards will prove good social past-time for our men this season.

We trust that every member whose fees are now due will make prompt payment at the office and save the Y.M.C.A. officials as much detail work as possible. There are many subscriptions also due which should be paid immediately, as the Association is endeavouring to pay a number of pressing accounts as well as reduce a note held by a local bank.

Prospects for the work were never brighter, although the reorganizing of the staff has somewhat delayed the opening of some of the activities. However, the full program of activities will be organized and under way by the 15th of the present month.

REPORTED DEAD MAY BE ALIVE?

PARENTS OF PTE. J. SANDLAND OF LINDSAY RECEIVE WORD THAT HE IS WELL.

There is now hope that Pte. J. Sandland, Jr., of Lindsay, who was reported killed in action a year ago, may be alive. A post card has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sandland, signed "J. Sandlard, Jr.," announcing that he was well and would write. It came from the Army P. O., and was dated August 10th.

There is some mystery attached to this last message. Some time after the news arrived of Pte. Sandland's death a letter was received by his parents from a sergeant who stated that he was buried in a German dug-out by his chums during a heavy shell fire.

Mr. Sandland has a brother named John Sandland, in the trenches since the beginning of the war, but the card is not from him.

Occasionally the world loves a lover, but more often it sympathizes with him.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PROTESTANT HOME BOARD

Election of Officers — Highly Satisfactory Reports From Secretary and Treasurer— Economic Conduction Prevails — More Representatives From Churches Wanted.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Protestant Home was held yesterday afternoon in the board room of the institution.

There were present:—Mrs. Walter Roger, president. Board of Directors: Mrs. T. C. Hazlitt, Mrs. Duncan Walker, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mrs. Suckling, Mrs. F. L. Robinson, Mrs. J. A. Aylmer, Mr. E. F. Mason, Miss Helen Denison, Miss Flora H. Davidson, secretary; Miss Sarah Robinson, treasurer. Representatives from religious denominations: Rev. Mr. White of St. Luke's; Mrs. Jas. Montgomery, Mrs. (Dr.) Harvey, Miss Charlotte Dickson. Also Ald. Stratton and Ald. Dobbin representing the City Council.

The visitors were Mrs. Goodwill, Mrs. Mowat and Mrs. E. F. Mason.

Rev. Mr. White opened the proceedings with devotional exercises.

Secretary's Report

Secretary Miss F. H. Davidson, submitted her report as follows:

The year 1916-17 that has just closed has been uneventful as far as running the Home is concerned. There have been 38 inmates with a total number of days amounting to 11,142, 21 men and 17 women, nine of whom have been discharged for various reasons. Three have died, 26 remaining in the Home—15 men and 11 women.

There have been 23 meetings of the Board.

The usual Sunday services have been held by the different clergymen of the city and the thanks of the Board is gratefully extended to them. Also to Mr. Robinson, who has made these services possible by providing the conveyance.

In November, 1916, a jam and linen shower was held and a very hearty response was made to the appeal. The Christmas season brought with it a generous response from the public in the shape of money, turkey and other good things. At the entertainment for the old people Canon Cornish made a suitable address while Mr. John Allan, Miss Allan and other members of St. Paul's choir made the evening bright and happy with their delightful music.

A few of the young peoples' societies came up during the winter months, on Friday evenings, to cheer and entertain the old people.

Dr. Helen McMurchy having inspected the Home in October, 1916, returned a most favorable report on conditions as she found them. It was published in the daily papers. During the year the Board has received notice of two small bequests being left to the Home, which will be most acceptable, owing to expenses being unusually high. The garden, both vegetables and flowers, has been most successful owing to the untiring efforts of Miss Lancaster and Mr. Hamilton and they assure us of plenty of everything in the vegetable line for the winter. We have made few repairs this year, but find it necessary to build a larger root house.

The thanks of the Board are extended to the doctors of the city who give of their time and skill to ease the old people of pain and suffering, the press who are always so courteous, to the gentlemen who act as auditors, and all friends who have given donations or by some act of kindness shown their interest in the Home.

I cannot close this report without presenting the assurance of the Board's deepest sympathy with Mrs Birdsall, our 1st vice president and Miss Nicholls, the 2nd vice president, in view of the fact that they are both at present laid aside from their former activities. The Board appreciates most sincerely the services which for years they have so freely rendered, and the remembrance of these will long remain in the Home.

All of which is respectfully submitted. This report was adopted with commendation.

Work Eulogized

Superintendent. Miss Lancaster gave a verbal report of her year's work, which met with unqualified appreciation.

Aldermen Stratton and Dobbin both in fitting addresses, complimented the Board on the efficient manner in which the Home is managed and maintained together with its satisfactory financial standing.

Retiring Directors

The retiring directors were Mrs Birdsall (resigned owing to ill health) Mrs. Suckling, Messrs. Aylmer and Mason.

Miss Charlotte Dickson was elected to fill Mrs. Birdsall's remaining two years of term, and the others were re-elected for a three year term.

Mrs. Hugh Waddell and Miss Nicholls (vice-president) both resigned on account of ill-health, and Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. (Dr.) Harvey were elected in their place on the Board.

These appointments have depleted the number of representatives from religious denominations, and it is hoped the several churches will quickly appoint others in their places. The Board is considerably encouraged and find appreciated assistance from the active co-operation of such representatives, especially the ladies.

The Board meets the second and fourth Tuesday in each month.

EVERY BUSHEL OF GRAIN IS WORTH THE FIGHTING FORCE OF TONS OF SHELLS

Canadian Grain Will Defeat Hun Piracy— American Declaration of War Final Verdict of Humanity—Pres. Wilson's Note Echoes the Pulse of U. S. Nation.

At All Saints' Church, Sunday evening the Rev. R. B. Grobb the rector delivered a thoughtful and masterly sermon on "Thankfulness and the War" which should commend itself to all Canadian citizens.

Taking for his text Acts XXVIII—15:—"He thanked God and took courage." The reverend gentleman said in part:

Paul is on his way to Rome to appear before Caesar's judgment seat. He has almost reached his destination. When he comes to Appii Forum only a few miles from Rome, he is met by a few friends, who have come out to accompany him into the city. When Paul sees his friends it means new strength to him. He has suffered much for the cause of Christ. He is going forward to new trials—undaunted, but a little down-hearted perhaps and a little weary with the long journey. But the hand clasp of his friends revives his drooping spirits. He becomes a new man with spirit for anything. "He thanked God and took courage."

It may be that Paul's drooping spirits find a counterpart in our own today. The war is trying our spirit. There is no less will to win our determination, as a nation, is growing stronger as we realise more and more the tremendous issue at stake, and as we realise too the price that has already been paid. There is a growing determination that it shall not have been paid in vain. And we are nearing our destination. All that the nation is sacrificing its best for lies just over the horizon. Peace will dawn one of these days—such a peace as will make the sacrifice worth while. But, nevertheless, we do become discouraged. So thankfulness and courage is a good topic for these times. And indeed as a nation we have good reason for both. We may thank God and take courage in our national Thanksgiving Day, 1917.

Causes for Thankfulness

Let us take stock, continued the speaker, of a few causes for thankfulness at this time.

Let us thank God for an abundant harvest in a year when so much depends upon the harvest. Was there ever a time when more depended upon God's hand in the harvest? We are fighting against starvation today. Three years ago the cry was for munitions, the supreme demand of the Allies was shells. Britain searched out the widest-awake man she could think of whose duty it was to turn the whole resources of the country into the production of high explosives. Today the arsenals are full of shells. There are more than enough. It is no longer a question of munitions. Now the cry is for bread. Every bushel of grain today is worth the fighting force of tons of shells. And under these conditions God has given us an abundant harvest. If there was ever cause for harvest thanksgiving there is cause today, when Britain is depending upon this granary of the Empire, and when we are able to say, "through the goodness of God we are able to supply you."

Truly Canada is playing no mean part in the war. She has given men and money; and today she is able to do what no other land can do—to put into the lap of Britain enough food to save the situation. You may depend upon it. Germany is looking with no little apprehension upon our Canadian wheat fields. Let us thank God Canadian wheat bids fair to defeat that piracy, which is Germany's last hope.

Thanks for Stars and Stripes

A second cause, said Mr. Grobb, for thanksgiving and courage takes us outside our own borders to what is undoubtedly the best event of the past year—the entering of the Stars and Stripes with the Union Jack and the flags of the Allies.

Let us thank God for the tremendous money resources which the United States is bringing into the war. The almighty dollar of America is going to do its part in the fight for freedom.

But our great neighbor to the south has brought into the conflict vastly more than her gold, important as that is. She has brought a tremendous moral influence. Her declaration of war was the final verdict of humanity on the rights of the world cause. Her condemnation of Germany, after a neutrality of over two years was the most terrible and the most sweeping that has ever been uttered against any nation. We may thank God and take courage for such a pronouncement on the righteousness of our cause. We were involved in the war before the average man knew what it was about. We may be thankful that all that has happened in the past three years has only served to show us more and more clearly the splendor of our cause, and now the best proof has come to us in the certain voice of the world's greatest republic. America's heart and instinct and clear reason have pointed her along the same road, which Britain, in a flash of inspiration, elected to travel three years ago.

Call of a Free People

Let us also thank God for President Wilson's answer to the recent peace note and let us take courage from it. It is destined to go down in history as one of the greatest documents ever issued.

In substance what was it? It was the call of a free people to another people, who are going to be free. It was fitting that the first answer to the peace note should come from the president of the great republic. It signified more than it would have signified, had it come from any of the European governments. Let us not suppose the president of the United States speaks for himself or for a political party. He speaks the heart of the United States. It is his vocation to feel the pulse of the nation. His greatness lies in the fact that he can accurately gauge the conviction of the people and voice the nation's verdict. In him the thought of the nation crystalizes and when he speaks he voices the accumulated conviction of a hundred millions free people.

America's answer to the vatican has sounded the death knell of the thing we are fighting. If the war lords have any gift of imagination, if they have any ability to sense the spirit of the times they must see that their days are numbered—not merely because of material forces pitted against them, but because the final voice of freedom has been uttered. Freedom—that strange invisible force which has been growing through the ages, under the hand of God. Which is vitally bound up with the powers of the Gospel, has spoken to the tyrants of Germany and holds the ominous prophecy of the hand writing on the wall.

Thankful and Courageous

In conclusion the reverend gentleman urged thankfulness and courage.

Shall we not be thankful and courageous today, he asked, in the thought of what these times are revealing to us, of the meaning of life?

The war is bearing fine spiritual fruit today. If the reality of the spiritual ever stood as a firm foundation it does so today. Surely the war is strengthening our faith in the worth of the invisible things. Surely the revelation we are having of courage and sacrifice, ought to increase our faith. The onslaught of death and the way men go out to meet it makes death seem a very little thing.

How the war is serving to widen the horizon of life! Not every man and woman is becoming more religious. The war is lifting people like every crisis. There is atheism among some in the front line trenches. But multitudes are receiving a spiritual revelation. The horizon which closed in their life, is moving back. It is as if they had climbed from the valley to the hill top. Many are standing today where the old prophets stood. We are experiencing a measure of the fulfilment of the prophecy "Your young men shall see visions." Let us thank God and take courage in the vision that lies all around—in the face that there is glory which lights up the dark path of sorrow and death and which gives us new assurance of God and Eternal Life.

If there are any down in the valley today—and there are many in the valley of sorrow and dispair—let them seek the presence of Him who will lead them to the mountain top, the man Christ Jesus who stands in the background of every vision, who transfigures the mystery of life and whose presence alone can make us strong to do and to endure.

To Save Beauty Avoid Dyspepsia

But Don't Starve. Take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After Meals. No Nausea, No Heartburn— Just Real Comfort.

"My Beauty Secret? Just Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for Good Digestion; Let Nature Do the Rest."

Are you in a desperate mood by the time dessert is served? Many of the good things to eat are banished altogether to those who haven't learned of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Instead of berating sardine sandwiches, salads, pastry and other rich food, wise people eat a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after each meal and one just before going to bed, then there is no harm in the rich, fancy dishes.

Your stomach lacks the proper digestive juices to make your meals easily digested. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give the stomach and other organs of the digestive apparatus the wherewithal to digest food.

Get a 50c box to-day from any drug store and note the absence of gas, heartburn, heaviness or any stomach distress.

Immediate Isolation.

Dr. Amys, M. O. H., pointed out that the Public Health Act provides that the M. O. H. and the local Board of Health shall act jointly in isolating cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria. This, he urged, causes delay, and delays are conducive to communicating these infections and contagious diseases. He thought the M. O. H. should be authorized to act independently of the Board of Health in regard to such cases and thus isolate in the quickest possible time. Hence he introduced the following resolution:

Moved by Dr. Amys, seconded by Mayor Duffus, "Whereas the Public Health Act provides that where any communicable disease is found to exist in any municipality the Medical Officer of Health and the local Board of Health shall use all possible care to prevent the spread of infection and contagion by such means as in their judgment is most effective for public safety.

"And whereas scarlet fever is a communicable disease and immediate steps require to be taken for the public safety:

"Be it resolved by the Board of Health of this city as follows:

"That in all cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria within the municipality, such persons suffering from said disease shall at once be required by the M. O. H. of the said city of Peterborough to enter the Isolation Hospital and be there treated until all danger of further communicating the disease by such person has been eliminated."—Carried.

Bread Wagons.

Dr. Amys did not think that bakers were complying generally with the Act in regard to keeping the doors of their delivery carts closed on the streets.

Sanitary Inspector Stapleton thought this was mostly due to the door fastenings having become worn, allowing the doors to spring open with the least jolting.

Bakers will be again warned that it is imperative that their wagon doors be kept closed to possible contamination when bread is being delivered.

NAVAL STYLES.

What Feminine Yeomen Will Wear on Duty.

The many women who will enter the navy and take service in the clerical force as yeomen, releasing the regular yeomen for sea duty, will wear navy uniforms. The bids for the contracts of making the uniforms closed quite recently, and the awards will soon be made. The navy women's uniforms must be out in one week after the contract is given.

Bids are made on the following items: One thousand suits of blue serge (skirt and coat), 2,000 suits of white drill (skirt and coat), 2,000 skirts of white drill, 3,000 waists of beach cloth or similar material, 1,000 hats of navy blue felt and 1,000 hats of white rough flat straw.

The garments Uncle Sam's navy girls will wear will be strictly navy tailor made. Here are the specifications. The coats, of navy serge or white bleached drill, will be slightly shaped to the figure, as long as to the knuckles of the hand when hanging, with plain seams and single breasted. There will be four navy gilt buttons, six inches apart, as usually worn, sleeve cuffs to have three navy gilt buttons. On each hip will be an outside patch pocket, the top of each to be abreast of the fourth button. The lower corners are slightly rounded, with shield shaped flap at top. Plaits two inches wide will run from the shoulder, both front and back, Norfolk style. The belt, one and three-quarters inches wide, running under plaits, is fastened with a gilt button in front. The lining of the serge coat will be dark blue sateen; the white will be skeleton.

Skirts will be plain navy blue serge or white drill, strictly tailor made, full at the bottom, to fit the figure over the hips, belting with a re-enforced waistband. There will be a placket fastened with invisible snappers and two patch pockets, each with flap and gilt button. The skirts will be four inches above the ankle joint in length.

Waists will be tailor made of beach cloth or similar material, front and back plain to top shoulder seam, all seams flat. There will be one seam sleeves, set plain into the armhole, slightly gathered into the cuff, which fastens at the outer wrist bone with two buttons. The collar is made to be worn unbuttoned and folded back or buttoned high, turning over two and a half inches at the top, the corners slanting away from the center front. There will be a plain patch pocket on the left side of the waist, and the buttons will be of plain pearl.

The hat will be the straight brimmed sailor of navy blue felt or white rough flat straw. It is to be made to dimensions and to be ordered to fit the person. The brim will be two and three-fourths inches from crown to outer edge, crown three and three-fourths inches high, six and one-fourth inches wide at top and six and three-fourths inches at bottom, three and three-fourths inches long at top and eight and one-fourth inches at bottom.

THE DOUBLE CURE.

In Which Honesty Gets Its Reward—A Confidential Transaction.

"THE hair," said the assistant, "is very thick."

"If you refer to mine," I replied, "it is frightfully thick."

He looked at it reflectively. "It is very thick," he said, "very thick," and he jabbed the comb into it.

"On the other hand," I pointed out, "my skull is very thin."

"Yes, sir."

"And the comb is very sharp."

He apologized, pulled the comb out and jabbed it back not quite so severely.

"Very sharp." "Very thick," we murmured together.

"I will thin it out," he suggested.

"As long as you get it out painlessly I don't mind," I said.

"It's a curious thing," I observed. "For any degree of baldness you provide remedies by the hundreds. You offer to invigorate the hair, to dress it, to bring it up in the way it should go and to produce it in any quantity."

The light of battle came into the assistant's eye.

"Yes," he said, picking up a bottle, "this preparation, for instance, is really to be recommended. The famous Crinilline."

He held it aloft, and the neighboring assistant barely suppressed a cheer. "I've sold"—

"That's all very well," I objected, "but where do I come in?"

"Well, sir"—he held out his scissors—"these surely are effective."

"Cutting only makes it grow more quickly. The beastly stuff's so thick," I complained. "What I want is some stuff for thinning my hair."

"For thinning the hair? Yes, sir." He combed the atmosphere thoughtfully. "I should like to sell you something, sir."

Of a sudden he snipped excitedly. "I have it!" he exclaimed. He picked up a bottle. "The very thing!" He looked round cautiously, bent down toward my ear and coughed nervously. "Of course," he said, "this is—er—not a preparation for your particular complaint. I—er—it—between our two selves, sir, it was—er—intended for other purposes."

"Yes?" I said.

"But, sir, it may be just what you require."

"Yes, yes!" I held my hand out for the bottle.

"Yes, sir," he whispered. "It may be. At any rate I happen to know for a fact that there is no possible danger of its increasing the growth of the hair."

And he handed me the famous Crinilline.

To show my appreciation of his honesty I bought two bottles.—Punch.

How to Pack a Trunk.

When packing for a trip always remember to put all the heaviest things at the bottom of the trunk. Evening dresses, perishable waists and all such dainty things should be put on top, where you can reach them. Hang them up as soon as your trunks arrive at your destination. A hat trunk is not a necessity. Put your hat on the top tray of your trunk and secure it with push pins to the bottom. Unless the brim is wide this will do no harm. Stuff the bodices of waists, light dresses, etc., with tissue paper. Roll the paper into light balls, never tightly. The result should look like an article just sent from the cleaner's.

Hop Beer.

Take four pounds of malt, two pounds of brown sugar, one pint of molasses, one-half pound of hops to eight gallons of water. Steep this in a boiler all night (don't boil it). Put it in a keg and when lukewarm add one yeast cake and let it work eight to ten hours. Then put the faucet and bung in.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

DOPE ON THE WHITE SOX TEAM

Ray Schalk

Nickname. Cracker. Married. German descent. Quiet and unassuming off the field. On the diamond a veritable volcano—always spouting or whistling. An inveterate reader. Does everything right handed. Game's greatest backstop.

Eddie Cicotte

Nickname, Knuckles. Married. French descent. Witty, loquacious and considered best story teller in the major leagues. On the slab he's smart, foxy, crafty, alert—a great fielder who studies his foes at bat. They accuse Eddie of shining up the sphere for Mr. Batsman. Eddie does shine. He's brilliant. He had about the same average of earned runs before he rubbed the leather on his unie. Eddie privately admits the "shine ball" is a myth. For publication he wishes it to be a reality for psychological effect.

Eddie Collins

Married. College graduate. Analytical, technical, argumentative, thrifty. Is only baseball player besides Mathewson who writes his own stories. Like 5 and 10 cent poker. Admits he never lost an argument. Greatest second baseman in captivity.

George Weaver

Nickname. Buck. Married. German descent. Impulsive, excitable, alert, diplomatic, thrifty. On the diamond one of the active, peppery players of baseball. The pinochle champion of the White Sox. Ask Happy Felsch. One of game's ablest infielders.

Arnold Gandil

Nickname, Chick. Quiet and likable when one knows him off the field. On the diamond a fighter. Married. Was canned by three major league managers before Clarence Rowland wanted him. He is said to have been the first player released by Comiskey who made good on another major league team whom the Old Roman took back. A wonderful fielder. He completed a stone wall defense for the White Sox.

Fred McMullin

Nickname. Mac. Married. Nationality Scotch. Quiet and unobtrusive. Diplomatic, affable and considerate. Doesn't gossip and has lots of friends. A courageous, steady third baseman with a good heaving arm. Adept at fielding hard bounders and a fine sacrificeer. Was the lucky boy who helped the White Sox pull their famous pennant drive Once in, they couldn't get him out. Mac is in there for the world's series. He does everything right handed.

Oscar Felsch

Nickname, Happy. Married. German descent. Likable, entertaining. Has lots of friends. Always cheerful. Wants his friends to be the same way. Second to Tris Speaker as ablest fielding outfielder in the American league. One of cleanup men of White Sox.

Joe Jackson

Nickname, "General Joe." Married. Descent, Irish-English. One of likable characters among game's bright stars. Always affable, but at times suspicious of tricks. Not a college graduate, but a player gifted with a lot of sound sense. One of game's most renowned sluggers. A long distance thrower with a record and one of accurate peggers of the national game. Polite and unassuming.

Harry Leibold

Nickname, "Little Nemo." He has more names than any other player in baseball. Married. German descent. Good lead off man with an accurate throwing arm in the field. Has helped make the White Sox a winner. Delights to play pranks on his associates. Is sometimes dubbed a pest by his mates. Is one of the big little men of the game.

John Collins

Nickname, "Shano." Irish descent. Married. Oldest player on the American league pennant winners. Is one of fastest straightaway runners in the majors. A good, steady player and a well liked person on and off the field. The game has few real sportsmen of the class of "Shano." It needs more.

PUGILISTIC ANNALS

George McFadden knocked out Kid Lavigne in the 19th round at New York on October 6, 1899. "Elbows," as McFadden was called, because of his peculiar style of defence, was certainly the hardluck kid. His victory over the "Saginaw Kid" came about three months after Lvaigne had lost the lightweight title to Frank Erne at Buffalo. While George won from Lavigne by a knockout, all Erne could do was to win on points in a 20-round bout. McFadden also knocked out Joe Gans not long before the ne[illegible] copped the lightweight title. In [illegible] case "Elbows" was a little bit late, and in the other a trifle previous, so he never connected with the title which he was so well qualified to defend. Lavigne stood no chance against McFadden in the New York fight, the fast life having robbed the French Canadian boy of his punch and his stamina.

1812—Tom Oliver defeated Tom Ford in 2 hours and 5 minutes in England.

~~18[illegible]—Kid McCoy and Joe Choynski~~ fought eight rounds to a draw at Chicago.

1903—Jack Blackburn and Spike Sullivan fought a six-round draw at Chester, Pa.

1911—Willie Ritchie defeated Jack Britton in four rounds at San Francisco.

AN ODD COMPLICATION.

Raw Material Question Is Now Under Discussion.

Without, for a moment, entering upon the great discussion of Free Trade versus Protection, it may be said that free trade has, at any rate, the advantage of simplicity. To be able to carry one's goods, and one's person, for instance, to any part of the world with the same unquestioned ease as from Alberta to Saskatchewan, or from Dorset to Devon, would be, surely, to approach the very ideal of simplicity, all consequence, for the moment, being ruled out of consideration. Such a condition would, at any rate, avoid "the complications of the tariff." In no connection, perhaps, are these complications seen more clearly than in a certain phase of the raw-material trade in Canada, underlying a tariff discussion, which took place, recently, at a meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Winnipeg. The fiscal arrangements of the Dominion make the provision that, when the Canadian manufacturer imports raw material, he shall, of course, pay the necessary import duty; but, if he is manufacturing for export, he is entitled to a rebate on this duty. He cannot, however, obtain any such rebate from the home producer of raw material, whose prices are, in turn, necessarily governed by the prices induced by a general system of protection. The effect of this policy is to place the home producer at a disadvantage; and it has already helped to create a situation the very reverse of satisfactory.

Some twenty years ago, when the great Slocan mine area was at the height of its popularity, mining was considered a good and safe investment. Capitalists were willing and even eager to finance sound mining enterprises, and Canadian mineral resources were in a fair way to being adequately exploited. Like all booms, however, the mining boom of the '90s was overdone. Mines failed to fulfill expectations; whilst watered stock and bogus companies, combined with the constant wear of advantageously placed foreign competition, did the rest. Mining very distinctly dropped out of favor, until to-day, in spite of the impetus which the war has given to all such industries, the banks still regard mining as savoring far too much of a gamble to come within the purview of sound finance.

The whole question certainly calls for careful consideration. That the mining industry in Canada is sound enough is shown beyond any doubt by the tremendous extent to which it has, lately, attracted foreign capital. In view, therefore, of the enormous mineral wealth of Canada, and the rapid growth of manufacture, which the future quite evidently has in store for the country, it is certain that the fiscal arrangements should not be allowed to militate, as they undoubtedly do at the present time, against the development of its mines. As for a remedy, there is, obviously, more than one. The great need at the moment, however, is to arouse a more general interest in the matter, and to induce a far-seeing reconsideration of a question of the greatest national importance.

He Is an Optimist.

Anyone who knows the Hughes brothers, Sam and Jim, know that they are apostles of efficiency rather than of regard for "red tape." Another feature of Dr. J. L. Hughes' character manifests itself very strongly in his book of verse issued under the title "Life Songs of Gladness and Growth," namely that of most refreshing optimism. Would anyone suspect, for instance, that Dr. Hughes would have a vision of life as is evidenced in the following?—

You think you have failed, and you lie
  Disheartened, and fearing to fight;
Why let a few clouds on your sky
  Prevent you from seeing the light?

You look for dark omens alone,
  Forgetting bright days that have gone;
Around you shines joy, but you moan,
  And fear to rise up and go on.

The weak ones alone lie and wait
  For others to help when they're down;
And only the foolish blame fate
  When fortune continues to frown.

'Tis only the faithless can fail,
  And only the hopeless can fear;
Meet life with your face to the gale,
  Go down, if you must, with a cheer.

Your plans have miscarried, I know;
  Have faith! Up and at it again!
The struggle will make your heart glow
  And win you the trust of true men.

Life's gates are still open to you;
  Look upward with brave heart and climb.
The future is yours. Dare and do,
  And make life a triumph sublime.

PATRIOTISM

Patriotism, like Charity, should begin at home. The man who is willing at any time to protect his country against foreign foes, should be willing AT ALL TIMES to protect his Family against such common foes as Poverty, Privation and Suffering.

A Life Insurance Company cannot take the place of a Husband

BUT—

It can preserve the family from want.
It can lighten their load of care.
It can build a barrier against adversity.
It can strengthen the foundation of the home.
It can certify to a man's affectionate regard for his family.
It can place his widow beyond the need of marrying for support.
It can add to a man's years by freeing him from anxiety.
It can enhance the respect and esteem of the public and of his wife and children for him.

Complete and absolute Family protection can be had by your taking a policy in THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, THE LEADING CANADIAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

In the personal column of the Ottawa Journal-Press appears a list of many of those present at the Red Cross tea dansant given by Mrs. A. G. Parker. In the list appear the names of Capt. Burnham and Mrs. Burnham, who are busy receiving congratulations from a host of friends and acquaintances. It is understood that the Peterborough member is delaying the departure of himself and wife for New York pending the arrival of friends of Mrs. Burnham from Scotland.

Mayor Duffus and City Clerk Armstrong are attending the Norwood Fair this afternoon.

IMPROVING SHELTERS.

How Canadian Soldiers Spend the Rainy Days.

(By Stewart Lyon.)

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Oct. 10.—Three days of heavy rain accompanied by high winds, have entirely stopped aerial observation and led the infantrymen to spend much of their time improving their shelters. Happily many of them have a choice between a water-filled trench and cellars of wrecked houses, which provide at least a roof of some sort against the pitiless pelting of the fall rains. The enemy are in much less satisfactory circumstances than our men.

LAID AT REST.

The funeral of the late Mrs. D. Belleghem took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery and was largely attended.

The pallbearers were Dr. Scott, Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, G. W. Powell, Adam Hall, John Crane, T. W. Robinson, Percy Rutherford and James Connal.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor, replied in the Reichstag main committee to charges concerning the peace propaganda.

The Food and Vegetable Committee are taking steps to insure equal distribution and proper storage of the potato crop, so as to avoid waste.

The first draft of men will be called out, it is stated, not before December 10, so as to place all men on a basis of absolute equality, claims for exemption not giving any advantage.

During eight months past 49,179 men enlisted in the C. E. F., but the wastage was 91,804; in September the net loss was 7,402, and in the latter half of the month it was 2589.

Hon. W. J. Roche, late minister of the interior, was appointed chairman of the civil service commission, and Lieut.-Col. Angus A. McLean, late M.P. for Queen's, P. E. I., comptroller of the R. N. W. M. P.

The union government negotiations are going on, but some questions are still unsettled, and no decision has yet been arrived at on the entrance of leading Liberals into the cabinet, though Sir Robert Borden seems disposed to meet the Liberals fairly.

Railroads in bad Shape.

A well-informed neutral observer writes that traveling on a German passenger train nowadays is by no means a pleasure. "The carriages vie with each other in dirtiness and bad repair. Everything indicates neglect. This is not surprising, for the demands made on the German railways are enormous. Almost everywhere in the territory occupied by the Central Powers in the Balkans German locomotives and other railway material are exclusively employed. They have to be content in the Fatherland with old rolling stock which was already set aside for less exacting work. The coaches are pretty well played out, and one is often surprised that a rickety carriage does not suddenly fall to pieces."

Side by side with the defective and inadequate rolling stock goes another great difficulty due to the lack of grease and train oil for lubricating purposes. The substitutes which must be employed are of very inferior quality, and do harm to the rolling stock. The number of women guards increases steadily. In very many cases they are badly acquainted with their duties and have no better answer to give than "Es tut mir leid, mein Herr; ich fahre die Strecke selbst zum ersten Mal" (I'm sorry, sir; it's the first time I've done this journey myself). One sees women employed on railways not only as guards, as formerly, but as brakemen and artisans.

PRIZES FOR PLOWING MATCH

Peterborough County has set the lead to the province in the liberality of the prize money it offered each year in its county plowing match. In other counties the local management has accepted gifts of articles to be donated as prizes. The Government grant is distributed, however, to the county associations in proportion to the amount they pay in cash prizes. Thus local associations who give articles as prizes do not credit for them in their returns to the Government.

In Peterborough County, the local plowman's association has pointed this fact out to those who have been so generous in contributing to the prize list, with the result that they have received more cash prizes. This has enabled the local association to receive larger government grants than it otherwise would and thus has made possible the giving of the very generous prizes which are a striking feature of the county match. Among those who have made cash donations to the prize lists this year, most of whom have given the same amounts in previous years, Mr. R. R. Hall, ex-MP., $20; G. A. Gilespie, M.L.A., De Laval Separator Co., and Farm and Dairy, $15 each; The Peter Hamilton Co., $12; Mr. Vincent Eastwood and Mr. E. A. Peck, $5 each. These prizes are greatly appreciated by the directors of the County Plowman's Association as well as by the competitors.

Proofs of Unity.

Right Hon. Walter Long, Colonial Secretary, recently opened the new extension of the Ontario Military Hospital at Orpington, England, the capacity of which is now doubled, it having accommodation for 2,800 beds. Among those present were Sir George Perley, Canadian Overseas Minister of Militia, and the Agents-General of Ontario, Quebec, and Nova Scotia, also General Sir Richard Turner. In the course of his speech, Mr. Long said that this gift was only one more proof of what had been done in similar directions since the war began. He remarked that the world looked on and wondered at the present spectacle of unity of the Empire. Things would never be the same after the war, he said. All had felt it was almost inevitable that some such great test as war would come to enable the Empire to find itself, so to speak. The test had come and had been surmounted.

Three Veterans Are Turned Downed

P. O. CLERKS REJECTED BY THE MEDICAL BOARD WERE RETURNED SOLDIERS.

It was stated in The Review yesterday, on the authority of information obtained at the Armories, that of the men rejected by the medical examiners, five were post office clerks. It is only just to explain that of the five men referred to three were returned soldiers who have done their bit and were discharged on account of wounds. That these men are anxious to get into the service again is the highest encomium that can be quoted to their credit. Their failure to pass the examination for the second time is their country's loss.

Freckle Lotion.

Lemon juice is good for removing freckles on the hands or face. It is a mild bleach and will not harm the skin. Buttermilk is also good. Try the buttermilk or lemon juice for about a month, applying daily, and then if the freckles are stubborn and will not come off try the following: One-fourth ounce of carbonate of potash, one-eighth ounce of chloride of soda, eight ounces of rosewater and two ounces of orange flower water. If you freckle easily never go out in the sun and wind without protecting your face.

Currant Ice Cream.

Few housekeepers realize that an excellent ice cream can be made with currants. Mash one scant quart of cherry currants, heat to the boiling point, cook for three minutes and add sufficient sugar to make quite thick. Simmer for five minutes, then strain as for jelly. Have in readiness one pint of boiled custard also sweetened. When the fruit liquid is cold beat into the custard gradually with half a pint of stiffly whipped cream. Turn into a chilled freezer and freeze slowly as for ordinary ice cream.

A Cooking Trick.

When preparing scalloped corn, oysters, etc., roll cracker crumbs fine and stir in a pinch of baking powder before using.

DICKSON CO'S PLANING MILL TOTALLY DESTROYED BY FIRE

Brigade Called out at 9.10 Last Night, After an Hour's Fight Managed to Save Adjoining Property---Loss Considerable, but Business Will go on as Usual.

At ten minutes after nine last night the fire brigade were called to a fire in the Dickson Co.'s Mills at Burnham's Point. On reaching the scene after a three minutes run, Fire Chief Grange found flames bursting through the roof of the building and a bucket brigade busy. Within twenty minutes the firemen had control of the fire and succeeded in confining the flames to the planing mill. Three lines of hose were used, but no chemicals, and the fire was extinguished in an hour and forty minutes.

Damage Considerable

The loss sustained by the Dickson company is considerable the planing mill which is a wooden structure, and machinery being totally destroyed. The plant was only partially covered by insurance. A quantity of lumber was in the building at the time, ready for planing today. This was only slightly damaged, and can be to some extent used.

How Fire Orginated

The fire orginated in the mills power annex, supposedly from electric wiring. At nine o'clock Foreman Richard Skillen's attention was drawn to this room by a glaring light, and he noticed that the whole ceiling of that department was a mass of flames, and then every light in the mill went out. The men at once formed themselves into a bucket brigade, but in a very short time, recognizing that this was a case for firemen, telephoned the fire hall, meeting with the quickest possible response. And it is due to the latter's skilful and energetic work that at no time were the adjacent lumber piles in danger.

Business as Usual

The Dickson company have large contracts underway, which they are pushing by working a night staff, hence the men's presence last night when the fire broke out. They wish it announced that they have arranged for filling all orders at once, and for handling any future business with expedition pending rebuilding. This is especially satisfactory for their employees, who will consequently lose no time by reason of the fire.

Satisfied with Brigade's Work

The Company's officials also express their unqualified satisfaction at the firemen's quick response to the alarm, and their splendid combat with the fire. They realize that their skill and energy confined the flames to their original limits, thus saving considerable valuable property adjacent.

Warning to Public

It appears that instead of immediately sending in an alarm to the fire hall on discovery of the fire last night men first began to fight it with buckets, in the hope of extinguishing the flames themselves. Chief Grange takes this opportunity of warning citizens that the safest procedure in such cases is to send in an alarm first, and fight the flames afterwards if they can. This will give the brigade opportunity to reach the scene before the flames make serious headway.

APPEAL FOR BRITISH RED CROSS

The appeal on October 18th for subscriptions to the British Red Cross should meet with the fullest measure of generous response. No institution is more worthy of support than this, which ministers to the sick and wounded on land and sea from all countries within the Empire's red belt. Its operations include the North Sea, France, Flanders, East Africa, Italy, Serbia, Montenegro, Roumania and Russia—in fact its faithful sister nurses and surgeons are to be found comforting and succoring the champions of British liberty and freedom without stint or regard for personal sacrifice the war-girted world over. And all they ask at this time in return is enough financial support from Canadians out of their abundance to aid them in continuing the God-given work. Let Peterborough citizens see to it that they are not found wanting in this respect.

FIRE THIS MORNING DESTROYS TWO RESIDENCES AT LAKEFIELD

James Long and Robert Alford Lose All Their Household Effects—No Insurance—Cause Unknown.

(Special to The Review)

Lakefield, Oct. 11—Fire which broke out shortly after one o'clock here this morning destroyed two valuable houses belonging to Mr. Wesley Leonard. The houses were occupied by Mr. Jas. Long and Mr. Robert Alford and the entire contents of both dwelling were completely burned.

The alarm of fire was given by Miss Tanner who lived nearby, but before the fire department could get in action the fire was well underway and the houses were soon burned to the ground. The loss is considerable to both families and Mr. Leonard and it is understood that there was no insurance on either houses or contents.

Mr. Roland Johnston's store adjoining suffered slight damage and a driving shed at the rear was also destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown. The fire department was assisted by the fire fighting appliances in Moore's planing mill.

Mr. Johnston and Miss Tanner very kindly served coffee and other things to eat after the fire was extinguished.

Morris on Rubidge street. The young couple were married while the 93rd Bn. was stationed here. Last January a son was born to them, a bright youngster who was a prize winner at the recent Fair. The father saw his child for the first time this morning when the little fellow was wheeled down to the depot to meet him.

HEAVY RAINS INTERFERE WITH MILITARY OPERATIONS OF BRITISH IN BELGIUM

Artillery of Enemy However Keeps up Steady Fire--Trouble in German Reichstag Likely to Result in Removal of Chancellor From Office.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Oct. 11. — The official statement issued by the British War Office regarding the military operations on the battle front in France and Belgium says:

"There was a heavy rain again last night. The enemy's artillery showed considerable activity during the night to the west of Passchendaele. Otherwise there is nothing of special interest to report."

French Hold Fast.

Paris, Oct. 11.—The French last night defeated a German attempt to recapture the ground taken in the French offensive in Belgium this week, the war office announces. On the Verdun front the Germans broke into an advanced French position, but were repulsed after a spirited engagement.

To Remove Chancellor?

Copenhagen, Oct. 11. — Germany's newspaper crisis over the pan-German propaganda, which loomed so big in anticipation but was so small in results, has passed. In its place has arisen the new and this time really serious crisis caused by the attempt of Chancellor Michaelis, Vice-Chancellor Helfferich and Minister of Marine Von Cappelle to use the alleged plot in the German navy as a political weapon against the party of the extreme left in the Reichstag. The immediate results of the disclosures of Chancelor Michaelis and Vice-Admiral Von Cappelle have been that the government socialists have been driven into complete opposition and into alignment with the radical socialists and that the followers of Phillip Scheidemann have delivered a formal declaration of war against the government until Chancellor Michaelis has been removed from office.

Socialists Turn Tables.

Stripped of its embellishments, the government statement reduced itself to the charge that the agitation to enrol members for the radical socialist party had been carried on in the navy, that leaflets had been distributed, and that two of the executed sailors had visited Deputies Hasse, Vogtherr and Dittman. The newspapers intimate that towards the close of the Reichstag session Deputy Hasse and his radical socialist colleagues appeared rather in the role of accusers than of the accused, and they print in large type Deputy Ledebour's ironical interjection, as Chancellor Michaelis rose to reply, "The prisoner will now take the stand."

SOCIALISTS RESENT CHARGES

Call the Announcement Deplorable and Illegal Trick of Government.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Rotterdam, Oct. 11.—The statements of Vice Admiral Von Capelle, the German Minister of Marine, have turned the Reichstag into a theatre of the wildest scandal says Vorwaerts discussing the exposure of the mutinies within the German navy. The Socialist newspaper adds that there is no shadow of proof that any deputies were guilty of illegal action in connection with the mutiny. The Vossische Zeitung describes the attack on the independent Socialists as a deplorable and illegal trick on the part of the government.

Those guilty of complicity in plot to paralize German navy through mutinies should be handled with iron severity, says the Rheinische Westfalische Zeitung of Essen. It adds: They are liable to the death penalty. Thank God Liebknecht, the German Socialist leader now in prison, was properly dealt with and in the present case there can only be similar action."

SLIGHT RISE IN LOSSES BY SUBS

FOURTEEN BRITISH VESSELS OF OVER 1,600 TONS ARE SUNK.

London, Oct. 11. — British merchant vessels of 1600 tons sunk by mine or submarine in the past week number 14, according to the official statement of the British Admiralty. Two vessels under 1600 tons and three sailing vessels also were sunk.

The summary: Arrivals, 2,519; sailings, 2,632. British merchant vessels over 1600 tons sunk by mine or submarine, including one previously, 14; under 1600 tons, including one previously, two. Fishing vessels sunk, three. British vessels unsuccessfully attacked, including three previously, five.

The above report shows an increase of three vessels of more than 1600 tons over the Admiralty's weekly report of last week, but the figures are the same as those of the previous week with regard to vessels in the smaller category.

White Sox Shut Out Second Time By Giants In Fifth Game of Series

(Canadian Press Despatch)

New York, Oct. 11—The New York Giants, flushed with their victory of yesterday, and the Chicago White Sox, stung by the defeat, are prepared for a stirring battle today in the fourth game of the series for the baseball championship of the world.

The two to nothing victory has greatly heartened the New York players and baseball sharps would not be surprised if they carry the fighting right home to the White Sox and lengthen the series to seven games. Fans in larger numbers were out early waiting for the gates to the brush stadium to open.

Today's game will be the last in which the players share in the receipts. After today's contest the scene again shifts to Chicago where the fifth game will be played on Saturday. If a sixth is necessary it will be played on the Polo Grounds Monday.

The Line-Up

The batting order for today's game is:

Chicago:—J. Collins, lf; McMullen, 3b; E. Collins, 2b; Jackson, rf; Felsch, cf; Gandil, 1b; Weaver, ss; Schalk, c; Faber, p.

New York—Burns, lf; Herzog, 2b; Kauff, cf; Zimmerman, 3b; Fletcher, ss; Robertson, rf; Holke, 1b; Rariden, c; Schupp, p.

Burns drove a high fly which Felsch took after a short run. Eddie Collins made a nice play on Herzog's offer and got his man at first. McMullin got Kauff's bounder and nailed his man at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning

Fletcher took Felch's hot grasser and threw his man out. Schupp had plenty of speed and kept the ball low. Schupp tossed out Gandil. Weaver fished for Schupp's high curves and was a strike out. No runs no hits, no errors.

Eddie Collins threw out Zimmerman. McMullin threw out Fletcher Faber threw out Robertson at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning

Schalk singled sharply to left field. Faber popped to Schupp trying to bunt on a run and hit play. Collins fouled the ball. John Collins fanned, missing a drop ball for the third strike. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Holke struck out but Schalk had to throw him out at first. Rariden popped to McMullin who had run towards the stand to take ball. Schupp beat up the air and went back to pitching. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Innings

Eddie Collins got a double past third. Rariden tried to pick off E. Collins at second. Jackson lifted to Herzog. Eddie Collins was picked off by Schupp, the play being schupp to Herzog to Zimmerman. Felsch struck out and the stands were in an uproar. No runs, onehit, no errors.

The crowd booed Eddie Collins as he went to field. Burns struck out. Eddie Collins tossed out Herzog at the initial bag. Kauff drove a hot hit to the bench for a home run, his first hit of the series, and the first hit off Faber today. Eddie Collins threw out Zimmerman. One run, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning

Gandi singled past Fletcher. Weaver ran into a double play, Herzog to Fletcher to Holke. Schalk singled over second after the count was three and two. It was Schalk's second hit. Schupp tossed out Faber. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Fletcher singled sharply past Collins. Robertson bunted safely. Fletcher moving on to second. Holke also bunted safely and the bases were filled. On Holke's ball Faber took the ball and started to throw to third but no one was there. Rariden hit into a double play Faber to Schalk to Gandil. Robertson moved on to third and Holke second on the play. Robertson scored on Schupp's single but Holke was thrown out at the plate. One run, four hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning

John Collins shot a single into left. McMullin fanned for the second time. On a short passed ball John Collins moved on second. Rariden had him thrown out, but Herzog dropped the ball and the runner was safe. Collins flew out to Burns Herzog threw out Jackson at first. No runs, one hit, one error.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1917

WAR AND MISSIONS.

Editor Review: While our soldiers in the trenches are in need of food and ordinary comforts, do you think it is timely for any church in Canada to be preparing a campaign to raise a million dollars for work in the foreign mission field? Has not our religious system broken down? What have we to offer the heathen, who is living in comparative quiet while the Christian people are shedding each other's blood?

The reproach for the present cataclysm is evenly divided. We have the strongest Protestant and the most powerful Catholic nations on earth banded together in an unholy alliance to smash the civilization that the Church has all these years been building. Can we in fairness ask the heathen to accept our creed?

ENQUIRER.

IF WE DID NOT KNOW the writer of the above letter as one of the most liberal contributors in the city to all reform work, we would suspect that he is striving to provide himself with an excuse for donating nothing to the scheme to which he objects. We believe he is sincere in what he says and that his real aim is to begin all mission work at home.

If Germany had not wandered after false gods, if she had not misinterpreted the Word and set up a religion of her own, the world would have been spared the horror of the conflict that is now raging in Europe. When peace comes again no nation under the sun will afford so promising a field for the exercise of Christianizing influence as the German Empire.

If Austria had listened to the counsel of the spiritual head of her people she would have been at peace today. She is wavering at the present moment between right and wrong, anxious, we are convinced, to go no further on her present train, yet fearing to stop lest she invite the vengeance of her powerful ally, whose sincerity she has every cause by this time to doubt.

Down in South America a little republic has broken with Germany, not for anything she has suffered, but for the simple reason that it has heard somewhere and somehow of the Golden Rule. Japan is on the side of the Allies. China and the myriads of India stand for the cause of righteousness in this war. Every nation on earth where Christian missionaries have worked are today for human justice.

"Enquirer" has his answer, not in anything we may say, but in the simple facts as they stand out before him.

THE CASE OF THE FARMER.

IT IS FASHIONABLE these days among a certain class to rail at the farmer who offers his produce for sale on the market and to class him with the other so-called war "profiteers." There is something in every man's nature which betrays him into the delusion that he could, if given a chance, make a success of some business other than the one in which he is engaged. The farmer is one person who is pestered with advice from people who in a majority of cases are simply talking at random.

Leave the farmer alone. He knows where he is at, and the labor question and the general high cost of living affect him just as acutely as they do any other class in the community. He can produce statistics prepared by expert officials to show that at least one-third of the farmers in Ontario are actually earning less than their hired men; that the other two-thirds are earning only a fair living and a smal return on the money invested.

The armchair farmers in the offices of the country — newspaper and otherwise — seem to think that eggs can be produced at a tremendous profit at the present time because prices are so much higher than they were a year or two ago. It is true that eggs have soared in price. But when eggs sold for 20 cents a dozen feed sold for $3.10 a hundredweight. When the price of eggs went up to 50 cents that for feed rose to $4.75. In other words, while the price of feed increased by from 100 to 125 per cent., the advance in the price of eggs was less than half that figure. A man trying to raise eggs for sale even at the present prices, if he had to buy all the feed for his hens, would go broke in six months. How then is the farmer to roll up those suspected profits? Even if he produces the most of his own hen feed, the cost of production must be taken into consideration.

What is true in the case of eggs applies with equal force to everything the farmer has to sell—his pork, his beef, his butter, milk and grain. At the very base prices have increased. The economists who clamor for food regulation and price control will have to get down below the surface before they can hope to accomplish anything.

Liberal papers have preached that the foreign market should be closed to the farmer so that he be compelled to sell at home at prices to be arbitrarily fixed by an official. A general election hove in sight and this propaganda suddenly ceased. The approaching campaign may well be regarded as a blessing by the worried farmer. It means for him a respite from all the inexpert counsel with which he is so freely pelted. Until the votes are counted the economic alarmists are likely to let the agriculturalist alone.

BRINGING THE WAR HOME.

MORE bonehead statesmanship by German diplomats is being brought to light. The American Secretary of State yesterday published two telegrams that passed between the German foreign office and the gentleman who at that time represented the Teutonic court at Washington. This discloses a plot to destroy the Canadian Pacific Railway at various points in Canada so as to tie up traffic and prevent the shipment of men to the seaboard.

In the abstract this scheme was a perfectly legitimate strategy of war. Canada was in the conflict against Germany and had no right to claim immunity from any responsibility brought on by that attitude. Destroying a railway is at least a more humane proceeding than murdering helpless women and children.

The perfidy of the project lies in the fact that the plan of operation was designed with the United States as a base, a country at that time at peace with the Kaiser and his allies. The German ambassador broke faith with the very people at whose tables he sat as an honored guest and whose hospitality was showered upon him in what to a disinterested outsider always looked like an excess of good-fellowship.

The revelations of yesterday should steel the heart of the American nation and strengthen their arm for the conflict with Germany. The Americans have been duped from the beginning of the war. Entertaining and feteing Ambassador Bernstorff, they thought at the time they were entertaining an angel of modern culture, whereas they were really warming a serpent in their bosom. The plot hatched on American soil, neutral as that soil was at the time, removes Germany further still from the category of nations entitled to the confidence of its neighbors.

NOT MEN BUT MACHINES.

DAY AFTER DAY we read of new counter-attacks by the Germans, of men driven by their officers to certain death, of their fruitless effort to regain lost ground, and of their rout, leaving behind them hundreds of dead and dying.

There is something radically wrong in a system that makes of men machines instead of beings capable of thinking for themselves. Germans who are taken prisoners say that the rank and file of the army of the Fatherland realize that the cause is lost, and that ultimate and complete defeat is inevitable. The morale of the Kaiser's once perfect military force is broken. And yet the rank and file are forced to sacrifice life in attempting what they realize is the impossible.

When the war is over and the German soldiers are given an opportunity to reflect calmly on how they have been gulled by the war party, no one need be surprised if the Kaiser's empire witnesses a revolution in which the lives of the autocrats will be demanded as a sacrifice.

The sailors on the interned war vessels in the Kiel Canal, helpless as they are and the laughing stock of the world, were taught to believe that the German navy was invincible. Their eyes have been opened and they are reported officially by the Germans themselves as in a state of mutiny. When that spirit possesses the unfortunate soldiers who are now fighting as machines rather than as men whose hearts are in the conflict, then the sun of autocracy in Germany will set forever.

Wit and Wisdom

Her Excuse.

Dora—I'm surprised that you'd let a man kiss you on such short acquaintance.

Betty—Well, he said it was my own fault that I hadn't met him sooner.

The Difference.

"What does your daddy do?"

"He runs a street car."

"Mine does, too, but he don't always catch it."

Quick Work.

"I've heard a great deal about the law's delay," said the confirmed motorist.

"To be sure. Everybody is qualified to speak on that subject."

"Well, I'm not. Time and again I've been arrested, tried and fined for speeding, all in less than an hour."

An Embryo Jokesmith.

Bobby—And all the animals went into the ark, 'cept the dog.

Elsie—Why didn't the dog go in, too?

Bobby—'Cause he had a bark of his own.

Changed Fashion.

Oldboy — What's become of the old-fashioned girl who used to say "Ask father"?

Newguy — She now has a daughter who says, "Give it more gas, George; the old man is gaining on us."

Penalty of Opulence.

"Now that you are opulent, I suppose you hear sweet music and inhale delicate perfumes."

"Nothing of the kind," replied Mr. Cumrox. "I listen to auto horns and smell gasoline."

Johnny's Luck.

Country School Teacher — Now, Johnny, can you name a cape in Alaska?

Johnny—No'm.

Teacher — Nome; that's right, Johnny. Now, next boy, name another.

Facing Desperation.

"What made Miss Oldgirl decide to become a war nurse?"

"Well, she has been a candidate for matrimony for a good many years, and somebody told her that the men in the trenches are desperate enough for anything."

"Liberty or Death."

A schoolboy composition on Patrick Henry contained the following gem: "Patrick was not a very bright boy. He had blue eyes and light hair. He got married and then said: 'Give me liberty or give me death'."

SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO

From The Review of Oct. 11, 1900:

Norwood Fair boasted the largest entry list in its history.

The Catholic Literary Society elected the following officers: Frank McPherson, president; John McCabe, vice-president; James O'Brien, recording secretary; Ald. John Corkery, ortasurer. A vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Father O'Sullivan for his faithful and efficient services as spiritual adviser of the society.

NO SURPRISE AT RESPONSE

Reports from the medical boards, established in several places throughout the country under the Military Service Act, are being followed with much interest in Ottawa. No surprise is expressed at the news that of the young men who are found physically fit for active service, a considerable number have applied at once to join the army.

The experience of officials here is that many men are lost to the army because they never come into contact with an opportunity to join, put squarely up to them. They walk past recruiting booths and laugh at recruiting speeches, yet back of it all they are patriotic and sincere. When they are pointed in the right direction they will go straight to the mark and make as good soldiers as any in the army.

Another development expected in Ottawa is the quick assimilation of men raised by the Military Service Act as soon as they have become accustomed to camp or barrack life and have acquired the confidence and high spirit of soldiers.

BEST WAY TO SEND PARCELS TO THE SOLDIERS OVERSEAS

Capt. Mary Plummer of the Canadian Field Comforts Commission Sends Full Directions With Prices of Various Parcels.

The following notice has been received from Miss Plummer, Captain of Filed Comforts Commission by the President of the Peterborough Progressive Club for distribution. As there are only a few copies it is thought well to publish it so that all who have boys at the front or in England can cut the notice out for their own use:

Orders For Special Parcels

The Canadian Field Comforts Commission undertakes the purchase of supplies for parcels to be sent to individual soldiers at the front.

Parcels from Canada containing biscuits, fruits, home-made sweets, etc., sometimes arrive in stale or spoiled condition.

The purchasing of these parcels in England instead of Canada saves time, economises shipping space and, as the Commission buys from manufacturers and wholesale houses on the most favourable terms, more and better articles can usually be sent for the same money.

A complete list of names and addresses of soldiers for whom parcels are intended must be sent with order and money to be expended, together with cards or messages to be enclosed in parcels.

Parcels for Canadians in British or foreign units, in the navy, in hospitals or at private addresses must have postage allowed for.

Parcels for those serving in Canadian units only are sent free in bales, which take from ten days to three weeks to reach the Front. To save time these parcels can be posted if postage is allowed for at the rate given.

It is important:

To give names, numbers and units of men as correctly as possible.

To state number of parcels ordered and full amount sent for parcels and for postage.

To make all cheques, drafts or money orders payable to the Canadian Field Comforts Commission.

To give letter of standard parcel selected or to suggest articles preferred.

To send all directions at same time as order.

WAR AND MUSIC

Prominent Italian's Views on the Possible Effect of War on Italy's Music

"War and Music! They're not unrelated. What about the Marseillaise,' 'Die Wacht am Rhein,' 'A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight,' and 'Tipperary?' But I don't want to discuss the Muse of Wars. I leave that to Brother Krehbiel." (Brother Krehbiel being the music critic of the N.Y. Tribune. Thus says William J. Guard, formerly on the staff of a New York daily), and at present the press representative of the Metropolitan Opera House, in the "The Spirit of Italy." a book made up largely of letters written in 1915 from Italy during the first three months after that country's declaration of war against Austria. What then follows from Mr. Guard's pen bears significantly upon art conditions of the present time in America, where, as many claim, they are at a low ebb, but there is every hope that they will burst forth into a glorious age of Renaissance in the period following the great war.

He says: "I want, however, to call attention to the views of Adriano a prominent Italian writer on music, who, to my mind, strikes a chord to which every lover of music in America should respond."

"'Music,' says Signor Lualdi, 'is the art that always has been in the advance guard of our national movements, but wtih us it has been suffering of recent years from the same malady that has afflicted the entire human race and of which we hope this war will prove the cure. A period of musical decadence in Italy, said some! of transition, said the wiser.

"'Our young composers have not been lacking in vitality, in enthusiasm, in lofty aspiration. But they have been deceived and have deceived themselves. They have seen the works of modern composers of Germany and France applauded by snobs who neither understood nor enjoyed what they were listening to, but applauded because the works presented to them were from the other side of the Alps—noisy, ugly, tiresome, coarse, vulgar. And our young composers instead of following the dictates of their own Italian artistic souls and consciences, instead of giving us their own sincere thoughts, have permitted their work to be unduly influenced by French impressionism, Straussian hypertrophy or the semi-Orientalism of the Slavic School.

"'The crisis in our musical art had to come. Now it has come, with violence. While hoping that this year will see the glory of our arms, I trust it will witness also the renaissance of our art. This is a war in defence of our nationality. Italian artists should be Nationalists.'"

"'We have heard attentively the work of foreigners, have applauded the good things—and even the ugliest, because they were signed by a foreign name. Well and good' But the evil begins when we try to imitate the imported goods. No one today could possibly confound modern German with modern French music. Yet there is some modern Italian music that might easily be confounded with the German or French school. This should not be. Italian composers should compose Italian music. Why should they remain in slavery to the stranger?

"'The time is ripe. May this holy war not only give us back our just geographic frontier, but also define clearly the domain of our national art, which should have its own accent, its own character, its own strength, and should reject disdainfully as alms unsought every taint of barbarism.'

"In other words," says Mr. Guard, "Signor Lualdi might say: 'O for a Verdi of the twentieth century!' and every one of us will say: 'Amen.'"

RED CROSS UNIT

Formed by Noted American Musicians—Work to Be Systematized

Not content wtih giving their services freely to war charities of all kinds, the musicians have decided to have a Red Cross Unit of their own. The American Red Cross Musicians' Unit was formed recently with Ernest Schelling, Chairman of the Special Fund and Membership Committee; John McCormack, Treasurer, and Ignace Paderwski, Honorary Chairman This unit plans to enroll musicians throughout the country for membership.

Such work as the Red Cross may delegate to musicians will be systematized by this unit. No definite plans for the giving of benefit concerts have been formulated as yet, but it is certain that a great sum of money will be realized for the Red Cross through the activities of prominent concert artists.

These musicians, together with others of equal rank, have felt that it is really the duty of the American musician to donate his services for the cause of humanity as far as lies in his power for he, above all others, has benefitted by the fact that the war has been kept away from American shores for the three years that it was creating havoc in Europe. Art in America was given free sway to develop and thrive, and the opportunities for the American musician increased greatly.. The European musician, too, who happened to be in the United States during the war, certainly found conditions there far more tolerable and satisfactory than abroad, and he also should do his share. Participation in the Red Cross Musicians' Unit is open to musicians of all nationalities.

FOR ONE-ARMED PIANISTS

The best known piano composition for the left hand alon is Leschetizky's arrangement of the famous Sextette from Lucia di Lammermoor. It is a virtuoso's tour de force and has been used much by teachers of advanced work. But a writer in The London Times declares that there is a good deal of music which can be played effectively wtih one hand. He mentions Bach's first Prelude and Chopin's Etude in C and declares that much of the simpler music originally written for two hands can be compassed with one, provided a little ingenuity is used. For those unwilling to depart from the beaten way there are adaptations by Godowsky, Tschaikowsky and others. One handed compositions have been written also by Alexis Hollaender and Count Zichy. Scriabine has provided a Prelude and Nocturne and Max Reger four Special Studies. It is said that a German Count whwose right arm was lost early in the war has been touring the Teutonic cities giving piano recitals.

APSLEY

(Special Correspondence.)

The Grim Reaper has again visited our neighborhood and claimed as its victim one of our most prominent citizens in the person of Mr. G. R. D. Booth. Deceased had reached the age of 77 years, and had been in feeble health for the past year. He will be greatly missed, having held many responsible positions. He was police magistrate and also clerk of the Division Court, municipal clerk, also an ex-reeve of the municipality of Burleigh and Anstruther. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and one daughter, Miss Amy, who have our deepest sympathy.

The funeral, which was one of the largest in the county, was held on October 3 from the family residence in Anstruther to the Anglican church at Apsley, where a funeral service was held, Rev. E. W. Gardner officiating.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Robt. Tanner, Harry Smith, Esau Tucker, Zack. Tucker, Norman Lean and Wellington Lean.

Not now, but in the coming years,
It may be in the Better Land,
We'll read the meaning of our tears,
And there, some time, we'll understand.

We'll catch the broken threads again
And finish what we here began;
Heaven will the mysteries explain,
And then, Oh then, we'll understand.

We'll know why clouds instead of sun
Were over many a cherished plan,
Why song has ceased when scarce begun;
'Tis there, some time, we'll understand.

God knows the way, He holds the key,
He guides us with unerring hand;
Some time, with tearless eyes, we'll see—
Yes, there, up there, we'll understand.

Windsor Man Has Gained 20 Pounds

"I KNOW WHAT A WONDERFUL THING TANLAC IS," SAYS MR. PICKELL.

"I have gained twenty pounds by actual weight and now I know for myself that Tanlac is something wonderful." William S. Pickell, who made this remarkable statement is a well-known paint contractor and resides [illegible] 41 Windsor avenue, Windsor.

"About a year ago," continued Mr. Pickell, "I began suffering from stomach trouble, and going down hill. My appetite went square back on me, and I always had to be very careful about what I ate. I was very easy to take cold and was annoyed a great deal by a hacking cough, caused by the irritated condition of my throat. I fell off to one hundred and thirty-eight pounds and felt run-down and tired all the time. My sleep was broken, I was very nervous, and just felt worse then I can describe. Many days I almost felt like giving up entirely, and it was by mere force of will that I kept at my work.

"I had read so much about Tanlac that I concluded to see if it was good for me, and what it has done in my case proves its value in building up people who are all run down like I was. I have a fine appetite now and eat just anything I want with no bad after effects. My sleep is sound and restful, and I don't have that tired feeling any more. I now weigh one hundred and fifty-eight pounds—have made an actual gain of twenty pounds already, and have just finished my second bottle of Tanlac. I really feel like a different man, and two bottles of the medicine have done my daughter a world of good, too. I expect to take a few more bottles, and am telling all my friends how fine it is."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by Warne Drug Co., Ltd. in Havelock by A. C. Denike.

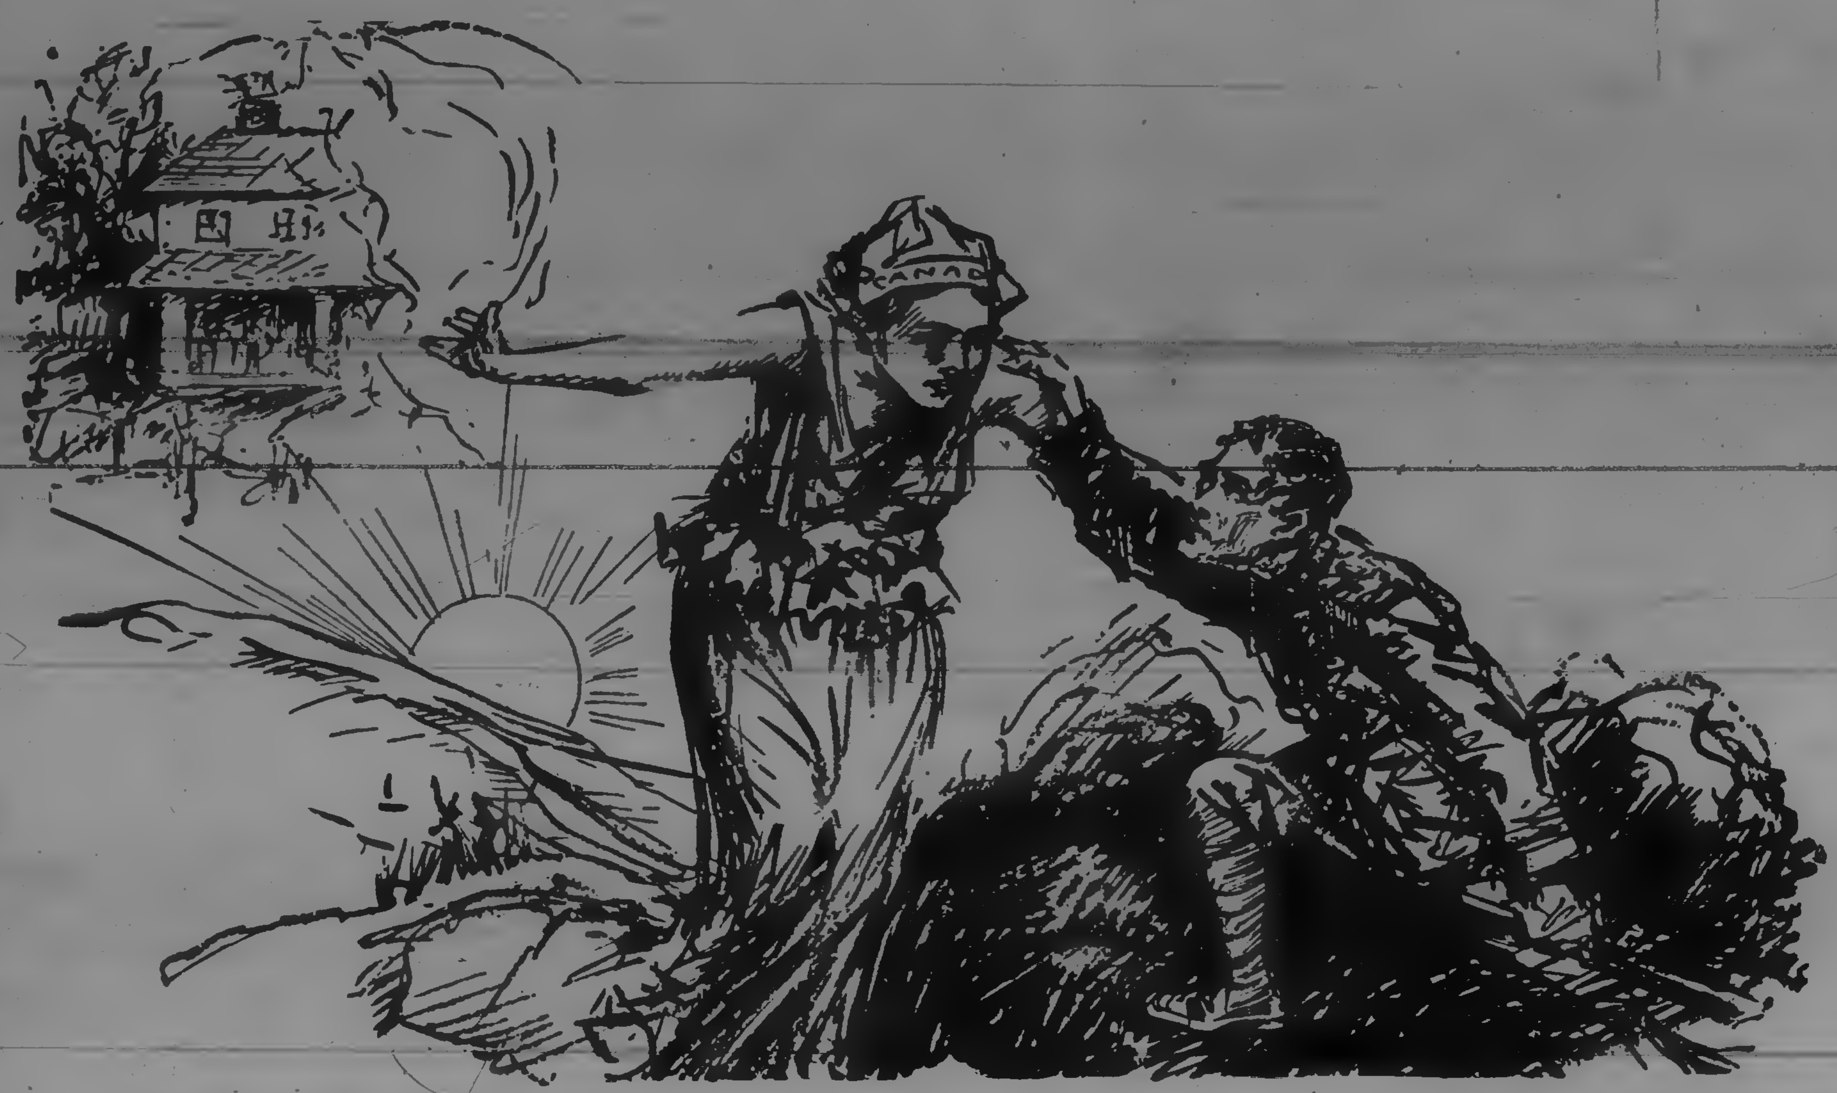
15 MORE WORKING DAYS OF CONTEST LEFT



To Serve You-Sons of Canada

---and to serve your comrades, the women in hundreds of thousands of Canadian homes have pledged themselves and their families to observe the Food Service Regulations.

Whether they be of the log cabin or of the palace--of the city street or of the broad acres, these women radiate the Spirit of Comradeship and Determination to do all in their power to insure you sufficient food supplies.

So, in your trenches from the North Sea to Switzerland---on your ships wherever they may be, they send you this message.

"For all that you have done for us---in standing between the Civilized World and the Hun, we are proud and glad to render you this small service---we will live up to our Food Service Pledge.

Woman's Auxiliary, Organization of Resources Committee, in Co-operation with The Hon. W. J. Hanna, Food Controller.

Practical Housekeeping Hints

Substitutes for Meat

Meat has always been considered the best tissue or flesh building food, and for this reason people have always eaten it a great deal. Must of our meat has come from the Western Provinces, but the tremendously large ranches of twenty years ago are gradually being cut up into small farms and cattle are not being raised in such large numbers any more. This is one reason why meat costs so much. Another reason is the great demand there is for it on the part of our people who do not know that there are other foods that will supply the needs of the body in just the same way that meat does and which in ordinary times do not cost as much as meat. For instance, we can use fish in place of meat much more than we do.

Other foods that can be used in place of meat are eggs, milk, cream soups, cereals, peas, lentils and nuts.

Eggs should be eaten with foods that are rich in starch, such as bread and potatoes. If so eaten, they will take care af the body just as completely as meat would.

Milk contains heat-giving, energy-giving and tissue-building properties. Cream soups made with skim milk and the pulp of vegetables can take the place of meat.

Cereals contain in varying proportions all the elements necessary to support life. They contain a great deal of starch, which is valuable as an energy giver. Oatmeal and corn-meal contain more fat than the other cereals, and, therefore, make a good winter food, especially for hard-working people. Cereals with cooked fruits are particularly appetising.

Peas, Beans and Lentils are richer in flesh-building elements than any other vegetable and can be used in place of meat. Lentils are more easily digested than either peas or beans. If properly prepared, all these make very appetizing dishes. A dish of baked beans costing about 20 cents, will furnish a family of six with more nourishment than two pounds of beef costing 50 cents.

Nuts contain in a condensed form flesh-building material as meat.

In stating that these dishes can be used in place of meat it is not our purpose to urge you to give up eating meat altogether.. It is a fact, however, that as a people we eat too much meat, and you would undoubtedly find yourself much benefitted physically if you would cut down on the amount of meat you eat and vary your diet more than you do.

Live up to your Food Service Pledge

HASTINGS

(Special Correspondence.)

Hastings, Oct. 10.—Once again it becomes our sad duty to record the death of a much esteemed resident of Percy, Mrs. Albert Brooks, who died on Wednesday morning after a short illness from paralysis. The deceased lady was much respected in the circle in which she moved, and will be greatly missed in the social gatherings, where her genial smile brought so much cheer. There remain, besides her sorrowing husband, one son, George, and five daughters, all at home, who have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their sad bereavement. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon and was well attended. The floral tributes were much admired, and showed to some extent the esteem in which she was held. The W. M. S. of the Methodist Church, of which she was a member, showed their sympathy by sending a beautiful wreath.

Miss Fowlds Welcomed Home.

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Thursday in the I. O. D. E. rooms when the members tendered a reception to Nursing Sister Helen Fowlds, who has so nobly been doing service overseas and who is now at home on a short leave of absence. The rooms were tastefully decorated with cut flowers, while a table in the centre of the room was used for a display of curios which Miss Fowlds had collected during her travels and which were much admired by all present. Perhaps the most important article here was the Royal Red Cross which King George had personally presented to her for conspicuous bravery and excellent service rendered. During the course of the evening a dainty luncheon was served, at the close of which Mrs. J. J. English, regent, in a few well-chosen words, welcomed "our guest" home and expressed the appreciation of all her old friends of the noble manner in which she had represented Hastings at the front, and expressed the wish that she be spared to see the close of the war and be welcomed home again. Miss Fowlds very gracefully replied and thanked all the ladies who had knitted socks and in other ways helped to bring some comfort to the boys. She referred particularly to the handsome sum of money the Chapter had sent her last year for Christmas purchases, and said they would have been amply repaid had they seen the joy it brought to the boys, some of whom had no other source from which they could have received any Christmas cheer. At the close of this address, which was loudly applauded, Mrs. (Dr.) Wilson presented Miss Fowlds with a beautiful bouquet of flowers on behalf of the I. O. D. E. Some patriotic airs were given from the phonograph, and at 11 o'clock the gathering dispersed by singing the National Anthem, all present pleased that they could in some way do honor to so deserving a personage, and many a prayer was offered that the Almighty Father would protect her from the dangers to which she will be exposed.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 509D Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N.J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

OVER SIX THOUSAND VISITORS ATTEND FALL FAIR AT NORWOOD

Gate Receipts Amount to $1,371.10 Breaking the Record by Over $100---Military Exhibit one of the Greatest Attractions -- List of Prize Winners.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Norwood, Oct. 11.—Norwood has just wound up the most successful Fair ever held in this place, successful in every sense of the term. The gate receipts amounted to $1371.10, and this amount will be swelled when the returns are in from the booths and sideshows. This beats the record by considerably over $100, as the highest amount ever taken in in former years was $1,266 in 1903.

It is estimated that there were six thousand visitors at the Fair. The farmers in this community are prospering as evidenced by the fact that there were over one thousand automobiles inside the enclosure or waiting on the outside.

The number of entries also broke the record. In the fruits and vegetable hall there was lack of room for the splendid exhibits, and it was necessary to utilise some of the floor space. The only class that showed a falling off was in the exhibits from the rural schools, which were not quite up to the high standard of former years.

Fine Show of Cattle.

Peterborough County is fast coming to the front as a producer of high-grade cattle of all breeds. The show today in this respect was excellent. Some of the leading exhibitors were as follows:

Aberdeen Angus—Allen Bros.

Holsteins—R. Harvey & Sons, G. A. Brethen, A. Marks & Sons, Ralph F. Greenbank.

The Star Exhibit.

The exhibit that attracted the most attention was the one put on by the Militia Department and which was under the direction of Lieut. W. A. R. Badger. This included parts of the first Zeppelin that raided London, and which was presented to the Canadian Government by the King. There was the first machine gun taken from the Germans at Ypres by the Canadians. There was the sniper's shelter made of armor plate and mounted on wheels.

The exhibit included all kinds of shells and bombs, the famous "whizz bang" among them, all varieties of rifles in all stages of damaged condition, that were picked up after the terrible conflict at Vimy Ridge.

Among the exhibits were specimens of the armor worn by the bombers, consisting of two pieces of heavy armor plate weighing 85 pounds. In addition to these the bombers while on duty wear a bomb-proof helmet that weighs 23 pounds. This is the latest type of protection for the men in that branch of the service.

The different badges worn by the various Canadian units were also displayed, besides a couple of trench machine guns that fire six hundred rounds a minute. There were also shown pack saddles used for carrying up ammunition, and the remains of several Lewis guns.

This splendid exhibition was arranged for by Mr. J. E. Sexsmith, M.P. for East Peterborough, and is one of the best ever seen, surpassing those annually at the big Fairs of Toronto, London or Ottawa.

The officers who helped make the Fair the success it was are as follows:

Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Morden

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. J. W. Thexton on Friday, Sept. 28, when a number of friends called and presented Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morden with a cabinet of silver. The following address was read:

Mr. and Mrs. Morden:

We, a few of your friends, have gathered at your home to spend a pleasant hour, also to try to show our appreciation of your kindly spirit in responding to any call for neighborly assistance during the years you have spent among us. Your being ready to give us a helping hand in any emergency makes us realize your sterling qualities as a faithful friend and neighbor.

Although you are leaving us, we know that what will be our loss will be others' gain. We therefore take much pleasure in asking you to accept this gift as a token of our love and appreciation and we offer a prayer that the blessing of God which maketh rich and addeth no sorrow thereto may be showered upon you in your new home, which indeed is the foundation of Church and State.

Wishing you all happiness and prosperity for the future.

Signed on behalf of your friends,

Mrs. H. Gardiner,
Mrs. J. McAdoo.

After the presentation Mr. and Mrs. Morden made a suitable reply, and the evening was spent in games and music, after which the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Morden a long and prosperous life.

MILLBROOK FAIR A GRAND SUCCESS

About 3,000 people attended Millbrook Central Exhibition on Friday. Showers throughout the day did not dampen the spirits of the directors, nor those who attended, as all seemed happy. The program of races was very interesting and the events were keenly contested. There was the usual keen contest in all the horse classes. The showing of cattle was not as large as should be, but some splendid animals were shown. The grain, seed, vegetable and fruit displays were exceedingly good. Great interest was taken in the splendid poultry on exhibition. The ladies work and fine arts attracted a great deal of attention and were more than up to the standard of excellence usually seen at this Fair. The floral display was also very fine. Had the weather been good Millbrook Fair of 1917 would no doubt have been a record breaker. Excellent meals were served at the Fair dining hall by the ladies of Millbrook and Cavan, and they netted about $250. The receipts at the gate were about $560 and at the concert $270. The 57th Regt. Band of Peterborough provided music during the afternoon, and their many fine selections were enjoyed immensely.

Special prize for best lady rider, donated by the gentlemen occupying the judges' stand: 1, Miss Elliott, Peterborough; 2, Miss Elliott, Jr., Peterborough. The lady riders were certainly fine and attracted much favorable comment. This should be a regular feature of the Fair.

Races

Free-for-All.

1, "Frank McKerron," J. Elmhurst.

2, "Bonnie K," H. A. Fallis.

3, "Jim Todd," Norman Henry.

2:30 Class.

1, "Thosspatch," S. J. McMillan.

2, "Jack Brasks," J. Dinsdale.

3, "Path Seeker," S. Ridpath.

Named Race for Colts.

1, "Cavan Blazer," Milton Fallis.

2, "Evelyn K," H. A. Fallis.

The races were well contested, and considering the slippery nature of the track, good time was made in the various events.

HOW STRATFORD COUNCIL ACTS

STRIVES TO GET MORE COAL, FISH AND CHEAPER BREAD.

The war purchasing committee of Stratford city council have formulated a policy to meet the fuel, bread and fish situation here, as follows:

That coal dealers make sales and deliveries of not more than one-ton lots.

That the chairman, Ald. Ireland, be authorized to purchase coal at once for immediate delivery, as the dealers have failed to meet the demand.

That local bakers be asked to reduce the price of bread from eleven cents to ten cents per loaf.

That the Hon. Mr. Macdiarmid be communicated with in the hope of securing fresh water fish for this city.

The committee will meet again at such time as a report is ready on these efforts.

PLOWING MATCH PRIZES.

Several More Have Been Donated by Citizens.

The directors of the County of Peterborough Plowmen's Association have received some additional contributions to the prize list for the county plowing match, which is to be held in Smith township Oct. 23rd. The Peterborough Cereal Co., Limited, have contributed an $8 prize in the class for junior plowmen, and Mr. C. C. Abbott of the Bank of Montreal a $5 prize in the class for riding plows. Mr. Drummond of the Massey-Harris has also contributed.

To date about thirteen entries have been received for the five-acre competition, in which farmers have the privilege of plowing five acres on their own farm and entering their work in a special contest arranged this year for the first time. The judges for this competition will start work in a few days.

Headaches, sick or other kinds, don't happen to people whose livers are busy and whose bowels are as regular as a clock.

Thousands of folks who used to have headaches say this is the way they removed the cause:

One pill at bedtime, regularly. Larger dose if there's a suspicion of biliousness or constipation.

SCENES AT THE WORLD SERIES

(By Laurence G. Sullivan)

A pleasant time was had by all save a few hundred New York fans at Mr. Comiskey's south side ball green on Saturday and yesterday. The week end entertainment of Mr. Comiskey was the most successful social event of the baseball season and his praises are being sung on all sides as the future arbiter of things fashionable in the diamond market.

Although the season is yet young to hazard a prediction, at this writing it seems as if Mr. Comiskey's position were assured. All of which style is adopted because of the large number of society reporters who have turned baseball editors for the world's series. If a society editor can write baseball surely a sporting writer can make a stab at society stuff.

You will note in the product of our pet little advertising writer that the writer of this is supposed to wax jocular and throw his readers into spasms of merriment, demonstrating that an advertising writer can wish almost as many hard jobs on one as the average sporting editor. We remember one sporting editor who gave an assignment to interview Hinky Dink, Lincoln's statue, one of Cy De Vry's tigers in Lincoln park and a couple of other similarly inanimate objects (with apologies to Mr. Dink and the tiger). Of course all this has nothing to do with the world's series; we stuck it in merely to show that tough jobs like this have no terrors for us.

Giants' Fans on the Job

Not that there weren't plenty of humorous things which happened at the world's series games. If we were asked offhand which was the funniest we would venture that Irvin S. Cobb, our esteemed though temporary contemporary, was the funniest. Mr. Cobb, who is dean of the modern Mark Twains, looks almost as funny as some of the stuff he writes. It is one of the rare pleasures of existence to be allowed a sight of Mr. Cobb in action. That, in addition to being called a modern Joe Miller, is enough glory for any one.

Another humorous thing was the large flock of New York rooters after the second defeat of the Giants. We knew they were Giant rooters because all of them wore enormous hornshell spectacles and funny hats. That always is a safe bet in picking a New Yorker. But in addition to these distinguishing marks they were discussing how rotten the Giants are, how the Sox are going to win four straight and how Manager McGraw ought to retire from baseball and start a home for the aged. These remarks clinched the identity of the fans as New Yorkers.

Pitchers Are Real Funny

Then, too, the official scorekeeper seemed to amuse a large number of persons who heard his dictums on a couple of plays in the Sunday game. He was the recipient of a large flock of raspberries on the part of some of the assembled and dissembling O. Henry's and Mark Twain's who disagreed with some of his verdicts. After calmly discussing with him his decision in a post game meeting in the Woodland Bards' room we were inclined to agree with him, and, anyway, you can't blame a guy for trying. After a post game meeting in the Woodland Bards' room, by the way, agreeing with other people is the easiest thing in the world.

If anything else were required to make this story a side splitting gem of modern humor (cries of "Of course not") we might refer to Mr. McGraw's troupe of pitchers. At least, they seemed extremely humorous to Mr. Rowland's hired help yesterday and it didn't seem to make much difference whether their humor was delivered from the right or left hand side. They really were the most humorous thing at the park.

OMEMEE

Omemee, Oct. 10.—With Old King Sol shining on autumn in all its glory, our little village was surely a thing of beauty on Thanksgiving Day to the many visitors who had come from far and near to be present at the Decoration of the 109th Victoria and Haliburton Battalion colors, which mean so much to the many homes in the respective counties which they represent. At 11 o'clock a special train bearing the Eaton party and tow companies of the famouth 110th Irish battalion drew into the station amidst cheers of the waiting people.

After forming up under command of Col. Boyd Magee, the soldiers and bands paraded the streets before repairing to the Methodist church where dinner was served by the ladies. The basement of the church was gaily decorated for the occasion and the tables laden with flowers, fruit and all thanksgiving goodies was in the first place a feast for the eyes of the hungry men, and later when hot chicken pie with accompanying vegetables was served, followed by, pie in great abundance and variety the delight of the men was unbounded.

At 2.15 the church which had been filling from noon was literally packed. Three distinct knocks were given on the outside door by Col. Magee with his sword hilt. The pastor responded and Col. Magee in a brief address asked for admission for him and his men that they might place the colours of the 109th battalion therein. The congregation arose and sang "Onward Christian Soldier" while the men filed into place. Col. Magee then addressing Sir John and Lady Eaton handed the flags to them who in turn handed them to Rev. Mr. Lewis and Rev. Mr. Balfour who placed them over the pipe organ where they will always remain as a lasting memoriam to the gallant boys of the 109th battalion. The hymn "For those in peril on the Sea" was then sung after which Col. Williams former chaplain of the 109th spoke wtih great feeling, of his old battalion, saying that on his recent sojourn in France he had visited many of the graves of his old comrades. Col. Williams also told of the meaning of the flag and what its colours stand for.

Mr. Clarke, a noted harpist from Syracuse, N.Y., delighted his many eager listeners with his selections. Just at this juncture, little Jane Earl, laughter of Dr. and Mrs. Earl tripped daintily up to Lady Eaton bearing a huge bouquet of American Beauty Roses and presented them on behalf of the Ladies' Aid. Lady Eaton kissed the tiny bearer and bowed her thanks.

Mr. Lewis then announced that owing to the great number of people who had not been able to gain admittance to the church they had prevailed upon. Major Gen. Sir Sam Hughes to address the people on the lawn the service was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

Mrs. Blight presided at the piano throughout.

On the church lawn Sir Sam and Sir John Eaton honorary Col. of the 110th reviewed the regiment, after which Sir Sam made a brief speech complimenting the officers on the fine appearance of their men and also on having for their fairy God Mother, Lady Eaton, as the 109th battalion had before them.

A band concert was then given after which the ladies again served tea to the soldiers, while the officers were entertained at "Tully Lark" the home of Mrs. McCrea. After tea speeches were made by the soldiers, thanking the ladies for the excellent meals served. Three cheers and a tiger were given for Sir John and Lady Eaton. The Ladies of the church and also for the "chicken pie."

After again parading the streets and furnishing another excellent band concert the visitors were escorted to the train by a vast crowd of people who watched them borne back to their camp, a tired, but happy party.

Coincident with the renewed British buying, as a result of the lifting of the new leather embargo, the Germans at Buenos Aires are buying heavily and their competition in the market is helping to increase prices.

KING AS HERB GROWER

New Industry to Replace German Supply

"Will the Government protect belladonna growers by a tariff?" was one of the inquiries at a conference of medicinal herb growers in the Carlton Hotel, London. They had met to discuss the organization of various societies for producing home-grown herbs to replace supplies formerly received from Germany and Austria. The inquirer explained that 6 pounds of fresh belladonna leaves produce only 1 pound of dried leaves, and for this 50c is offered. "It's impossible to produce them profitably at that price," he said.

"I have got 7 pounds of foxglove leaves and 3 pounds of dandelion roots." What good was that to a man who had orders by the ton, asked Mr. Latimer, whose point was that it was a huge industry. Sir Sydney Olivier, Permanent Secretary of the Board of Agriculture, intimated that if any reliable organization was founded with prospects of supplying medicinal herbs in remarkable quantities the Development Commission would doubtless give favorable consideration to the question of a grant.

"Both the King and Queen have taken the greatest personal interest in the movement," stated Mr. H. C. Cust, the chairman of the Central Committee for National Patriotic Organisations, who presided. At their Majesties' request there had been a consultation with the head gardener as to what could be done in growing the herbs in the royal gardens, and he (Mr. Cust) had since received a letter from the Queen's secretary stating that the matter was being proceeded with. Many owners of large gardens had started to grow medicinal herbs, some putting down 15 to 20 acres.

Literary Society Elect Officers

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the above society was held in the T. A. S. rooms Wednesday evening. Rev. Fr. Phelan acted as chairman. The following were elected officers for the year:

President—Miss S. A. Kelly.
Sec.-Treas.—Miss M. McCormack.
Executive—Miss May Kelly, Mrs. Frank Hickey, Mrs. W. R. Hunter, Mrs. Thos. Lane, and Miss Nora Shevlin.

It is the intention of the society to hold social evenings every two weeks. The first will take place on Tuesday night next, Oct. 16, at 8:30. This society has been most successful in the past, and this year will be no exception

"POST CURING" ADDS WEIGHT

BACON PROBE IS RESUMED AT TORONTO TODAY—MANAGER ON THE STAND.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Toronto, Oct. 11.—Robert N. Watt, Montreal, Manager of the William Davies Company was the first witness at the resumption of the "Bacon Probe" today. He was examined at some length as to the reason for "Post" Curig bacon before shipping it to the British War Department. He admitted that this process added to the weight of the bacon that he expected that prices would go higher and curing would enable his company to keep bacon in cellars.

Mr. Tilley, counsel for the William Davies Co. made the surprising statement that the record of certain post curing tests had disappeared.

VIOLINIST ISOLDE MENGES GIVES DELIGHTFUL RECITAL

Captivates Critical Audience at the Grand Opera House---Whole Performance marked by Picturesque Interpretation and Mastery of Technique.

Miss Isolde Menges, the gifted English violineste, played herself into the hearts of a critical audience at the Grand Opera House last night, when enthusiastic applause prevailed throughout the entire program. The attendance was a marked improvement upon that which greeted Miss Menges on her first appearance here last summer, although a long way short of what the high character of the offering and the exceptional talent of the eloquent young musician should have attracted.

There is no affectation or mannerism in Miss Menges' interpretation of the themes of world-renowned composers, whose stories she conveys to her audience with suggestive definitions. "The Devil's Trill" proved an intoxicating delineation of satanic abandon under the exhilerating influence of music, and the audience responded with enthusiasm. All critics present must have been charmed with "Gavatte and Musette" a quaint Norwegian piece standing in a class by itself what may be termed ugly beauty. When Miss Menges first heard this famous number by Tor Aulin she thought it ugly, but impelled to a second hearing, she fell in love with it. The work under the skilful rendition presented a fascinating volume of riotous expression, combined with occasional tenderness, and quite irresistible.

"Berceuse", composed by Miss Menges' brother when twelve years of age is a sweetly pretty piece of sentiment which the sister handled with acceptible refinement and tenderness. Here followed the "Praelumium and allegro" by Pugnani-Kreisler, in which the artiste conveyed a remarkable suggestion of bells, together with occasional breaks of instrumental melody, the whole breathing the soothing atmosphere of a cathedral town on a Sunday morning. "La Chase" was a wonderful definition of a hunt in which the sounds of horses galloping are remarkably discernible interspersed with the clear thrilling notes of a bugle. Into her "Spanish Dance" by Sarasto, she threw a sparkling, vivacious quality inducive to unrestrained participation. The whole program was a revelation of masterly eloquence, color effect, beauty of tone and brilliant technique.

In response to continued applause at the end of the recital proper Miss Menges gave a couple of delightful and colorful little compositions, rendered in her most winning manner.

The violin used was a Stradivarius valued at $20.000.

Miss Eileen Beattie's accompaniments on a Heintzman piano were very acceptable. She finished the evening's entertainment with "God Save the King," in which the whole audience joined, led by Mr. Geo Chandler.

CHRISTMAS SHOWER FOR THE WOUNDED SOLDIERS OVERSEAS

Mrs. (Rev.) W. H. White Invites Cooperation of all the Women in Peterborough

Mrs. W. H. White is giving a shower at St. Luke's Rectory, 334 Rogers St., Ashburnham, Tuesday afternoon and evening, Oct. 16th in aid of the effort about to be made by the Canadian Women's Club of Folkestone, Eng., to fill "Christmas stockings" for the wounded Canadians in the hospitals of the Shorncliffe area. Ladies of Peterborough who would like to help in this patriotic undertaking are invited to come to Tuesday's shower bringing with them anyone of the following articles—1 box cigarettes one pack cards, one puzzle, one necktie (red), one handkerchief (khaki), one pair socks, one spearmint chewing gum, one bar chocolate, one writing pad and pencil, one book.

The total number of stockings required to be filled is 3,500. There is no danger of overlapping, as the C. W. C. is working in conjunction with the Red Cross. Moore Barracks Hospital will be included in the group mentioned. This hospital is the hospital for all cases of sickness in the training camps of the Shorncliffe area, viz. St. Martins Plain, Upper and Lower Dibgate, East and West Sandling, Otterpool and Westenhanger.

The C. W. Club for war work has been doing much work for the Canadian soldiers, visiting hospitals, entertaining the wounded. Operating a club for soldiers, where the cooking and most of the other work is done by the members of the C.W.C. This club is very popular with the men, who flock there to enjoy the good home-made Canadian cookery. It has a large recreation room, a reading and writing room, four bath rooms, and sleeping accommodation for thirty men. Although the C.W.C. has become much reduced in numbers, those remaining are making a determined effort to carry on its work.

MEMORIAL TO TAKE SHAPE OF HANDSOME CLUB STRUCTURE

Is Aim of the Great War Veterans' Association—No Definite Plans Submitted at Meeting of Veterans' and Citizens' Committees—Would Answer Dual Purpose.

Last evening President Staunton, Vice-president Toone and Secretary Whatley of the Great War Veterans' Association met the citizens committee appointed at the public meeting held to discuss ways and means for securing permanent quarters for returned soldiers. The members of the citizens' committee present were Mr. W. R. Morris, Mayor Duffus, Messrs. J. J. Turner and G. N. Gordon.

The object of this conference was to exchange views and report result of negotiations, if any, toward meeting the Great War Veterans' requirements as to permanent or temporary quarters, properly equipped.

Want Substantial Building

The Veterans' Committee were quite pronounced in their contention that the most suitable memorial to Peterborough heroes who have made the supreme sacrifice in this great war, would be a club structure of sufficient quality to furnish the association with business and social conveniences and at the same time of sufficient attraction to reflect credit on the city and keep green in the hearts of all the heroism of Peterboro boys at the front. They had no plans prepared for such a building, and merely offered that in their opinion $40,000 would need to be raised to make such a memorial sufficiently permanent.

Citizens present questioned the scheme as fitting the purpose required. With them it was generally conceded that a memorial to our fallen soldiers might be more appropriate and perpetual in the shape of say a monument in some public locality.

Will Stay in Armouries

The proposition made heretofore that War Veterans be either given life membership in the Peterboro Club or acquire the building for their exclusive use until permanent headquarters are erected, does not find favor with the association. So reported their committee last night. The boys prefer to meet in the armories' recreation room until such time as substantial permanent headquarters can be secured, and they are hoping for the inauguration of an active citizens' campaign in this direction. The result of last night's meeting will be submitted to a public meeting at an early date.

EXPERT IS WANTED TO TRAIN VETERANS.

In the course of the vocational training of men returned from service, the local Soldiers' Aid Commission is asked to suggest the name of some man to take up the duties, to be perfected in further on, as gas engine expert, demonstrator, etc. Some man with a decent mechanical training and a liking for the place will be instructed and paid, and the hope is to get such a man who can make the situation a permanent one.

Any likely candidate will get in touch with the secretary at the Patriotic Fund office as speedily as possible.

Testimony Challenged When a Former Employe Told Tales Out of School.

Toronto, Oct. 12.— "Take care of the pickle, it is worth 25 to 28 cents a pound. The British Government should know more than to pay 25 to 28 cents a pound for salt water.

J. T. Wardle, who was in charge of the export department of the William Davies Company limited at Montreal until August 25th last swore at the Government investigation this morning that he was instructed as above by John Cringan, the official auditor of the company. Wardle said this remark was a sore point with him as a patriotic man and a Britisher. He soon afterwards left the company's employ.

Cringan on being called as a witness after Wardle, denied making any such statement, but admitted having had some conversation with him over the export business.

Mr. Wardle was then recalled and declared again that Mr. Cringan had thus spoken and that he had also said "I think it is a shame that people should have to pay such high prices."

Mr. Wardle admitted that he was irritated because he had not received promotion.

BRITISH TROOPS PIERCE THE GERMAN LINES FOR A DEPTH OF 800 YARDS ON SIX MILE FRONT

New Offensive Began at Dawn This Morning and Same Plan is Followed as That Carried Out Last Week---Germans Taken by Surprise Fall Back---Battlefield Still a Sea of Mud and Water.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

At 7:45 o'clock this morning reports were received that all was going well with today's British attack in Flanders. The troops along a wide front had pushed forward to a depth averaging eight hundred yards or more. Prisoners were beginning to come in early, although slowly, owing to the condition of the ground. This covered a territory on a six-mile front from near Houtholst Wood to a point below the Ypres-Roulers railway, and "we are now battling along the Passchendaele ridge within one thousand yards of the centre of the village of Passchendaele."

London, Oct. 12.—British troops in Flanders attacked the Germans this morning on a front of about six miles north east of Ypres. They are reported to be making satisfactory progress. Rain fell heavily during last night.

The official report from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters today says that British attacked at 525 o'clock this morning. This latest effort is being pushed in the same region as the attack of Tuesday in which the British in co-operation with the French, drove back the Germans along a front of seven miles and captured more than two thousand prisoners.

To Clear the Ridge

It is probable that the present effort is attempt to clear the Germans from the remaining portions of the Dominant ridge east of Ypres. Tuesday's attack gave the British more ground on the ridge and left the Germans with only a small section in the region of Passchendaele. The British now hold most of the good positions on the ridge from which they dominate with their artillery the important Reouler-Smenin railroad and the raiload towns of Roulers, Staden and Menin.

Battlefield is Watersoaked

Apparently the present drive is being made under weather conditions similar to those which existed Tuesday. Following several days of heavy rain Field Marshal Haig threw his men forward and surprised the Germans who did not think that the British would attempt to attack while the battle field was water soaked.

British Air Raid.

London, Oct. 12.—Another air raid over Belgium was reported officially today. Naval aircraft dropped many bombs on Sparappel Hook airdrome, despite heavy clouds and rain. All our machines returned.

French Take Prisoners.

Paris, Oct. 12.—The night was marked by great activities of artillery and by a series of German efforts at various points on the front. "West of Cerny we repulsed an enemy attack, while a detail operation carried out by us north of Noisy farm enabled us to bring back prisoners."

LEADERS STILL ENGAGED IN CABINET MAKING

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The definite entry of five additional Liberals into the Cabinet followed a morning of protracted negotiations. There was continual passing to and fro of members of the old and the new Administrations.

At an early hour Frank Carvell, Liberal member for Carleton, N. B., was in evidence and went into consultation with the Prime Minister. Within a few minutes he was followed by Premier Murray of Nova Scotia, A. K. McLean, Liberal M.P. for Halifax, and the Western Liberals. About noon the Eastern men left the conference, strictly noncommunicative as to their attitude. Doubts are expressed, however, whether Premier Murray will join the Cabinet, as was indicated last night.

The name of Mr. McLean is suggested in his stead, but again some doubt is felt. The conferences will continue throughout the day, however, and an official statement on the final composition of the new Government will probably be issued this evening.

FOUR HUNDRED AND TWENTY MEN HAVE BEEN EXAMINED

Hundred and Sixteen Rejections All Told—Proclamation To-morrow—Actual Reporting For Service or Applying For Exemptions to Commence at Once.

At the Armories all day yesterday the Medical Board examined 51 applicants, of whom 37 were accepted. The total number handled so far up to this noon is 422 men, resulting in 116 rejections as Class E.

Seventeen This Morning.

This morning despite bad weather seventeen men sought the doctors' verdict, and some five or six put in an appearance at noon, but their examinations were held over till this evening. Men seeking examination should bear in mind that there is no noon hour work for the doctors at the Armories and that they adjourn till 3 o'clock. Thirteen of these passed into Category A, one into C, and three into E.

Sixteen Last Night.

The Medical Board handled sixteen men in quick time last night, and got through early. Eleven were graded in A and five in E categories.

Only Fourteen Yesterday Afternoon.

Compared with the average experience, yesterday afternoon's docket was a trifle light. But fourteen men went through the medical ordeal, which resulted as follows: Category A, five; B, four; E, five.

Lindsay's Board at Work.

Capt. Porter, M.D., is chairman of Lindsay's medical board, and with his co-workers, Dr. J. A. White and J. McAlpine, has commenced examining in the armories.

Proclamation Tomorrow.

With the issue of the proclamation will begin the actual reporting for service or aplying for exemption by all class 1. Every person in class 1 must do either of these things, both of which are accomplished by calling at the post office and filling out the form supplied there by the postmaster. Cripples, invalids, persons who are ill or incapacitated in any way are included in this obligation, and their forms must be forwarded by either their employers or near relatives if they are unable to fill them out themselves. There are to be no exceptions.

November 8, Last Day.

So far as can be learned at present the proclamation will set Nov. 8 as the day on or before which every man in class 1 must either report for service or apply for exemption. About Nov. 8 the tribunals will start sitting, and all the cases before them are to be disposed of by December 10.

Dickson Company Not Interested

BURNED PLANING MILL WAS PROPERTY OF PETERBORO LUMBER CO.

The Dickson Company sold out their lumber business to the Peterborough Lumber Company about thirteen years ago, and the former had no financial interest in the planing mill that was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. The mill is still referred to generally as the Dickson mill, and The Review regrets that it used the term in its account of the fire. It should have spoken of the Peterborough Lumber Co's mill.

Three Hun Airships Destroyed in Fight

SERGT. SPROULE WINS D.S.O. MEDAL

ANOTHER LINDSAY BOY'S DISTINGUISHED CONDUCT RECOGNIZED.

(Curly) Art Sproule, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sproule, Lindsay has been awarded the military medal for exceptional bravery in battle. Besides winning the medal he has also received the congratulations of his Commanding Officer and has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant.

It was in the engagement around Lens that Sergt. Sproule was wounded, and apparently he received the decoration at the same time. He is at present convalescing in England.

Sergt. Sproule went across with the 39th Bn. of Belleville, and had been transferred to the 20th Battalion.

SECOND PERIOD OF BIG CONTEST ENDS TO-MORROW

Vote Schedule Will be Decreased Twenty Per Cent After To-Morrow Night—Subscribe Now and Get the Maximum Votes—One Day Left.

WATCHES ON DISPLAY.

The watches to be given in The Review's big contest were purchased from Warne Bros., Jewelers, George street, and are now on display at this popular store. Everyone is invited to call and see them and help a favorite win them.

From now on there will be little rest for the candidates who expect to win a prize in the big contest. The second period closes tomorrow night at 10 o'clock, and the contest closes Saturday, October 27th.

The candidates should bear in mind the decrease in the voting power of subscriptions after tomorrow night. Twenty per cent. is quite a decrease, and it means that it will require much harder work to secure the same number of votes after that date. Every advantage to secure a subscription before tomorrow night should be taken.

The close of the contest is just two weeks away, and the time will slip away only too lively. From now on there will be no rest for the candidates who really expect to win a prize in the big contest.

Buster Brown Says:

Among the many wise sayings accredited to Buster Brown is the following:

"Resolved that the race is not always for the swift. The slow man who keeps agoing will beat the fast man who quits."

So it is in The Review's voting contest—the candidates who keep constantly at work will beat those who once in a while make a great effort and then take long rests from their labors.

Moral—Keep agoing.

Who Said Organize?

It is a wise candidate who places the right value on the power of organization. In a recent contest the candidate who was ultimately successful got her friends to line up with her during the last two weeks, each one being pledged to bring in a certain number of subscriptions. It was a combination that could not be beaten. She was the moving spirit of her immediate circle of friends, inspiring them to work to the last in spite of continued discouragement. Each in turn applied to her immediate friends and interested others to do the same, thus forming an almost endless chain that brought success to the one who planned it all, and gratification to her numerous friends.

One more day, and the second period is over. Make your motto: HUSTLE! HUSTLE!! HUSTLE!

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1917

WOMEN ON THE SCHOOL BOARD.

ONE YEAR AGO, on the eve of the municipal election, the question was raised as to sending one or two of the women voters in the city to represent the ratepayers on the local Board of Education. [illegible] abandoned owing to the lack of preparation.

In every city where the experiment has been made it appears to have worked out satisfactorily. In Whitby, where a woman was elected some years ago, she was, on the completion of her first term, sent back by acclamation. Dr. Caroline Brown, elected three years ago in Toronto, was re-elected for a second term with double the majority given her on her first entry into the field. Mrs. Courtice has since been chosen to sit on the Toronto School Board.

In Toronto a campaign has been started to elect at least two more women to the city's educational council, and the movement is being supported not by the women alone but by men as well.

While the business ability of the male members of a school board may be above question, it has been found that women members take a direct and peculiar interest in the future of the pupils, aside altogether from their physical and educational welfare.

But this year in Peterborough there is not likely to be a renewal of the agitation for new representation on the Board of Education. The women themselves are opposed to the idea for the simple reason that such a move would afford the scheming and ambitious politician to array himself in the garments of the lamb for his own ends. Politcs these days is creeping into every public question. Men with their hearts set on preferment are playing the game to the limit. Politcs and creed may always have been mixed, but the combination is being covertly applied to every matter that comes before the public.

The politician is setting out his lines for the labor vote. Men who have never toiled nor spun in the memory of the living are claiming kinship with the wage-earners, under the delusion that their understanding is as calloused as their hands and that they can be duped by fair words and promises. The only claim that the average politician can set up as a kinsman of the toilers is that his forefathers may at some time or other have been in the ranks. They propose to eat their political bread by the honest sweat which their ancestors shed. They are of a piece with the campaigner who attempts to curry favor with the farmer by asserting sympathy with the latter's vocation, whereas all the claim he has to be classed with the man on the land is that ages ago the father of the entire human race was engaged in the same disheartening combat with the thorns and thistles that infest the earth.

The women of this city are not anxious to have the attention of the politician thrust upon them. For the present at least they will keep out of politics. There will be no local campaign for representation on the School Board.

In the meantime the foxy searcher for votes will continue his work, never apparently realizing what all on the outside can see—that he is more than likely to destroy any cause that he so officiously espouses. Promises by the politically ambitious have no longer the effect that they formerly possessed. Actions speak louder than words. One page of actual record is worth a volnme filled with professions.

WHAT DOES QUEBEC WANT?

"WHAT DOES French Canada want?" asks a Montreal exchange.

From this distance it would appear that French Canada has its heart set on the restoration to power of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. After that all things will be added to its store. The Military Service Act will be repealed, and the fight for French schools in Ontario will be renewed. Quebec may not want the earth, but it hankers after the upper hand in Canada.

SAVING THE WORKERS.

UP TO NOON yesterday 375 men had been examined by the Medical Board at the Armories, and out of these, 209 have been declared fit for trench duty. Meaning as it does that [illegible] physical condition, the percentage is gratifying.

It is estimated that not more then two hundred and fifty men of all classes will be drafted from this city and county to make up the complement of 100,000 that the Government at present aims at. That number is already almost reached, and the medical examination is only fairly well started. It is evident, then, that there are still plenty of men in this community still available for military service. The question is, who is to be taken and who is to be left at home?

That matter is up to the Exemption Tribunals which will hold their sessions later. Strenuous and important as the work of the Medical Board has been, it does not entail the responsibility that will devolve upon the individuals who compose the Exemption Tribunals. With them will rest the last word as to those who shall be sent into the service and who are to be left at home. It is possible, however, that only a comparatively small percentage of the men examined and declared fit will apply for exemption. The majority of them are more likely to accept their fate and get into uniform without further parley.

Peterborough has already sent nearly four thousand men into the army. It is estimated that it requires five men engaged in industrial pursuits to maintain one soldier on the firing line. According to these figures an industrial army of twenty thousand is required in all of Peterborough County to keep the soldiers fully maintained.

The medical examination has had one beneficial result in revealing the physical condition of the men upon whom the industrial welfare of the community depends. Many a man, under the delusion that he was the victim of some ailment, acquired or hereditary, has been surprised to learn that he is all right. Others have been disappointed with what the examination has in their case revealed. The man with the weak heart or the defective lungs has been acquainted with his true condition for the first time.

The soldier's health is carefully preserved, so far as it is humanly possible to do so. He is guarded against disease. Every man in hospital is a link missing in the chain of defence. When the soldier is sick or wounded, no trouble or expense is spared to get him on his feet again. Humanity and economy are both considerations which enter into this system.

Why cannot the State exercise the same paternalism over its industrial army? If there are twenty thousand workers in Peterborough County, it is a safe estimate that each one loses on an average nine working days a year on account of illness, and this is equivalent to a monetary loss of production of over $400,000, a loss that falls upon workers and employers alike.

The man who owns a horse or a machine useful in his business is solicitous as to the health of the one and the condition of the other. It takes money to replace either. Let a worker fall out of the ranks on account of sickness, and in normal times it is no very difficult matter to find a substitute.

When the negro was a slave he had a money value that was lost when his shackles were removed. The self interest of the owner assured his human chattels medical treatment when they fell ill. They were carefully guarded from epidemics and the like. Now the negro, emancipated as he is, has to take his chances like his white brother, who is in the State's huge army of industrial workers.

The medical examination now in progress the country over, if made a regular fixture, would preserve the health of the workers and effect a tremendous yearly saving in the wealth of the country.

BISMARCK PLANTED THE SEEDS OF WAR THIRTY EIGHT YEARS AGO

Thirty-eight years ago Prince Otto Eduard Leopold von Bismarck-Schoenhausen set out for Vienna. It was a memorable date, a momentous journey for as the result of it Europe is now weltering in blood and America [illegible] of conflict. It was in the development of his great game of weltpolitik that Bismarck found it necessary to visit the Austrian capital. There he met Count Julius Andrassy, the Hungarian statesman, and together they negotiated the terms of the dual alliance. From that time on the trail that leads to the present carnival of terror is so plain that he who runs may read. And yet, strangely enough, it was this treaty of alliance that led the shortsighted to give to Bismarck the title of "Peacemaker of Europe."

The Iron Chancellor, hating and fearing France, brought all his genius to bear upon the task of isolating the republic and rendering her incapable of forming anti-German alliances. The dual alliance between Germany and Austria, consummated in 1879, remained a secret to the world at large until 1888. In the meantime, Italy was won over in 1882, and the drei bund, or triple alliance, came into being.

Thirty years ago Bismack inaugurated the career of Germany as a colonizing power, which necessarily brought him itno conflict with Great Britain, and laid the foundation for the present grouping of powers under the triple entente. The Bismarckian ideal of a "friendles France" was thus rendered impossible of realization. France found her first friend in Russia, however, and in 1891 the republic entered into a treaty with Russia, which was not made public until three years later. Anglo-French relations were still far from crodial, however, although Great Britain and France held a common dread of Germany.

The rift in the triple alliance began in 1896, when France and Italy, before estranged, made overtures toward friendship. In 1901 France agreed to give Italy a free hand in Tripoli, and Italy reciprocated by withdrawing all objections to French operations in Morocco. The Franco-Italian [illegible] ten years ago when the Italian king and President Loubet exchanged visits. This was the first indication of the crumbling of Bismarck's triple alliance.

About the same time King Edward visited Paris, and Loubet returned the visit. In 1904 a treaty was made by which France was left free to work out the destinies of Morocco and England was left supreme in Egypt. Thus the triple entente of Great Britain, France and Russia was formed, and France was no longer "friendless." Italy, while still bound by the drei bund, hated Austria and feared Germany, and sympathized with the aspirations of France.

The diplomatic war between France and Germany over the Moroccan question began in 1905, when the kaiser landed at Tangier and virtually promised German support to the sultan in resisting the plans of France. In the Algeciras conference, France had the support of Great Britain and Russia and the friendly sympathy of Italy and the United States. In 1909 Germany recognized the preponderance of French political interests in Morocco.

The entente cordiale did not reach its full flower until 1907, when England and Russia entered into a treaty by which their clashing interests in Asia were amicably settled. The annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria with the approval of Germany, and the German challenge to France at Agadir in 1911, brought Europe to the verge of war. The intervention of England, and the widespread opposition to war of German Socialists, resulted in delaying the crisis. Events have proved, however that it was only a postponement of the inevitable.

Many women suffer from a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms are similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines usually prescribed do not restore the patient's normal condition.

While this appears to be the same as ordinary indigestion it can be relieved only by a medicine which, besides acting as a stomach tonic, is good for female ailments. MAGISTRATE DUMBLE DISMISSES CHARGE AGAINST WILLIAM FYFE

Did Not Wilfully Sell Deteriorated Milk to Ormonde Cheese Factory—Oaths of Four Reputable Witnesses Better Than Babcock Test.

Magistrate Dumble this morning handed down his decision in the case of John Gibson versus William Fife. The latter was charged by Inspector Gibson with selling deteriorated milk to the cheese factory at Ormonde. The magistrate finds that there was a lack of evidence and dismissed the charge. The following is the text of the judgment:

John Gibson vs William Fife

The defendant is charged with unlawfully sending to the Ormonde Cheese Factory, Otonabee, "deteriorated Milk" contrary to the Industry Act.

The evidence given was that of the Inspector John Gibson, who stated that on September 12th, 1917, he inspected the milk delivered by defendant at the Ormonde Cheese Factory in the Township of Otonabee, that it consisted of the milk taken from cows the previous Wednesday night, 12th September, and on Thursday morning, September 13th, and again on Monday morning, October 8th, and that his instruments a lactometre and a Babcock Tester gave the result as follows: First testing: Specific gravity 32.5; butter fat, two tests, 2.40 and 2.50, an average of 2.45.

This record designated poor milk and below the proper standard. Again on the 8th day of October he tested it with the following result: Special gravity, 29.7; butter fat, 3.80. This showed a wonderful improvement, being much above normal average quality. He then laid an information against defendant for having on the 12th of September delivered at the factory "deteriorated milk."

The defendant pleaded not guilty, and he and his son and two grown-up daughters, who lived and conducted the farming on the farm where the herd was, went into the witness box and severally swore that they could not account for the great difference in the milk, and severally stated that they had not, nor had any of them added to or taken anything from the milk. It was stated in evidence that defendant always kept the Saturday night and Sunday morning milkings for home use. None of them could account for the poorness of the milk delivered at the factory on the morning of the 12th September.

Incidently it was stated that after the first test the cows had been put into an alfalfa field for the first time this season. Now the test by instruments has always been accepted as correct and no doubt they are correct, but they do not determine that the milks have been "deteriorated" by the act of any one. The first tested milk was below standard, the last was just as much above. Was the milk delivered on 12th of September watered? Was the milk skimmed of its cream?

In the face of the very high standing of the Fife family, I could not accept the simple test of the instruments against the oaths of four members of the family. The father and three of his grown up children.

Admitting that the instrumental tests were correct, would I be safe in making a conviction where one test showed poor milk and the next test a surplus of good qualities. Was there another criterion that ought to be considered? I think there was, and I thing if due weight had been given to it this information would never have been laid.

All September was very dry, the pastures were dried up, the milking would naturally fall off both in quantity and quality. After the first test the cows were turned into an alfalfa clover field and had been in it about a week when the second test was made showing the greatly improved milk. Is not the entire explanation here? Do not these new conditions of pasture account for what did not occur to the mind of any of the parties? The Inspector was right in going back and making the second test, but should not a man of his large experience have found the explanation without dragging this most respectable family to court to defend themselves against a charge of fraud.

I am glad to draw attention to the possibility of doing a great wrong if reliance is wholly on the result of mechanical tests, and failing to consider other conditions which may be accountable for results.

The charge here is one of fraud, that is of fraudulently adding water which accounted for the gravity and of withdrawing cream which accounted for the low reading of butter fat. The Instruments told the truth, but was that first reading the result of fraud or of the poor pasture? Was the high standard of the second reading the result of a week's feeding on a field of alfalfa, or was it evidence only of refraining from adding water and refraining from abstracting cream?

I hold that the readings of the two tests were the direct results of the condition of the pastures and that I could not be justified in finding fraud when the results were perfectly consistent with the conditions of the pastures.

I would not be justified in robbing an old and most highly respected family of their good name on the result of one test by a machine as against the evidence of four witnesses, when a little consideration of the condition of the feeding offered a clear satisfactory and natural explanation.

I think the Inspector was doing his duty considering the enormous interests involved, but I think more consideration of the feeding conditions should be given before charging results of bad weather and pasture conditons as results of fraud.

If the Lactometre and Babcock tester could have spoken they would have said the poor showing on the 12th September was the result of dried up pasture, extra good showing on the 19th Sept. the result of one week's feeding on alfalfa clover.

I dismiss the charge.

CHIMNEY FIRE

In Bad Spot and Might Have Been Serious—Chemicals Effective

At 7.30 last evening the fire brigade were called out to a fire in the chimney from Mrs. Guerin's apartments above the Toronto Tailoring Co.'s store, corner of George and Brock streets. Chemicals were used and the flames extinguished in quick order without and damage resulting. The fire originated from sparks from a wood fire which found plenty of fuel in a dirty chimney. The premises are the property of Mrs. Birdsall.

CORN MEAL AND GLUTEN BREAD

Pour 2 1-4 cups of yellow or white corn meal into 1 1-2 cups of boiling water. It is not sufficient merely to pour the boiling water over the meal in a cold dish. If yellow meal is used, heat it a little, in addition to pouring it into the boiling water, or mix meal and water and heat in a double boiler. When cool, mix with 3-4 cup of gluten, rye or white flour (preference being in order named), 1 tablespoon of sugar, 1-2 yeast cake (or 1 cake if haste is an object) dissolved in 1-4 cup of lukewarm water, 2 tablespoons of butter, lard, or a mixture of the two, and 3 teaspoons of salt. Knead thoroughly, place in a baking tin and bake, when risen sufficiently.

Major (Rev. Dr.) C. W. Gordon ("Ralph Connor") told the London Canadian Club he was disappointed on returning to Canada to find people talking party politics.

It is understood that Lieut. David Burn now overseas with a Cobourg Heavy Battery draft has been recommended as Collector of Customs at the port of Cobourg.

QUICK ASPIE

Two tablespoonfuls gelatin, 3 cupfuls cold water, 1 slice onion, 1 stablespoonful chopped carrot, 1-2 teaspoonful salt, juice 1-2 lemon, 1 clove, 1 saltspoonful celery-seed, 1 saltspoonful black pepper, 1-2 teaspoonful beef-extract, bit of bay-leaf.

Soak the gelatin fifteen minutes in a cupful of cold water and simmer the vegetables and seasonings in the rest of the cold water for the same length of time. Add the gelatin and beef-extract, and when these are dissolved, turn in the salt and lemon-juice. Turn into a shallow pan to stiffen and cut into cubes for a garnish.

GREEN TOMATO PRESERVE

To ten pounds of green tomatoes, sliced thin, add one supful of water six unpeeled lemons thinly sliced and with the pips removed, and a small box of preserved ginger. Turn the ingredients into a preserving kettle and let boil for half an hour. Add eight pounds of sugar and let all boil slowly on the back of the range or over a moderate heat stirring frequently, until the syrup is very thick. A small handful of dry ginger roots can be used in place of the preserved ginger. Let the dry ginger roots stand over night in cold water, then slice and add to the tomatoes. Seal airtight in heated jars.

DRYING APPLES.

In the country it is the practice to preserve apples by drying them in the sun. In some parts it is not uncommon to see the roofs of kitchens of farm houses practically covered with sliced apples placed so that the sun can dry them as quickly as possible. Of course, apples so treated turn a dark color and are not nearly as attractive as those bleached and dried at the drying factories, but they are undoubtedly just as good as the best factory-dried fruit, and more wholesome than much of the more attractive-looking evaporated apples which are placed on the market. This does not, of course, apply to all evaporated apples on the market. Like everything else, much depends upon the brands of goods purchased. The evaporated apple industry is an important one, and should not be underestimated. A demand for only the best quality of apples is the surest safeguard the public have against any practices which are calculated to be detrimental to health.

TOMATO BUTTER

Take ten pounds of ripe tomatoes, skinned, four pounds of granulated sugar, three pounds of tart cooking apples, one quart of moderately strong vinegar, half an ounce of stick cinnamon, half an ounce of ginger, one-fourth of an ounce of mace and one-fourth of an ounce of whole cloves. Tie the spices in a cheesecloth bag, put the other ingredients into a preserving kettle, add the spices, and boil all for three hours over a moderate heat. Stir frequently. Less vinegar may be used, to suit the individual taste.

Sympathy is the only charitable gift of some people.

CANADA

"How Many of our Men are Liable to be Drafted ?"

The Canadian business man is asking this question often, now that the Military Service Act is the law of Canada. A simple means of answering it at once is being provided.

Medical Boards are in process of formation throughout the country for the free physical examination of all men who apply. The first class liable to call includes all single men and widowers without children between the ages of 20 and 34 inclusive, all men married after July 6, 1917, being classed as single for the purposes of the Act. In a very short time, the average employer may learn how many of his staff are liable for selection. Those adjudged physically unfit will be given a certificate which will secure them exemption from any Exemption Tribunal. Those found physically fit may still apply for exemption on any ground. The employer will be given a chance to decide if he should seek exemption for any employee whose physical condition renders him liable for selection.

This early medical examination, which quickly decides if a man is liable for selection or not, is a feature of the operation of the Military Service Act calculated to appeal strongly to the business community. It assists in definite planning for the future, enabling an employer of labor to learn at once what men will be left at their work and those who may be removed for military service. Haphazard withdrawals, the nightmare of business men of method and precision, are insured against by this timely arrangement.

Every employer of labor will find it to his advantage to note carefully the formation of Medical Boards in his locality and to be sure that his employees secure as early as possible this very important information as to their status under the Military Service Act.

The Military Service Council.

HAS WEAKNESS FOR BICYCLES

YOUTH HELPS HIMSELF TO ANY THAT MAY BE LEFT BY OWNERS.

A fourteen year old boy was charged at the police court with having for some time catered to his convenience by taking any bicycle handy, using it and then leaving the wheel wherever his fancy dictated. He took ten wheels in this way altogether, nine of which have been recovered.

The tenth machine was taken on Sept. 28th from in front of the Royal Theatre and has not been recovered. This wheel, he left in Mann's Lumber yard, and it cannot be traced. The boy has never sold a wheel; he seemed to have a mania for riding them and having none of his own took this means of catering to his craze.

His worship gave judgment as follows:

The last wheel must be returned within ten days, in default of which the boy's father to pay value of the machine, fixed at $25. Boy's father to pay cost of prosecution in one case, and to give $200 bond for his son's good behavior for six months.

The boy's father consented to the terms of judgment. One week's adjournment was allowed before enforcement of the penalty.

HELD UP AT POINT OF A REVOLVER

SUSPECTED TRADER IN LIQUOR DISPLAYS FORCE TO INSPECTOR.

License Inspector A. Arnott of Belleville, whose jurisdiction includes Prince Edward County, was held up recently at the point of a revolver, when, in the discharge of his duties, the inspector suspected W. R. Carnite, who works in a Belleville garage, but lives at Rossmore, of violating the Liquor Act. He also had reason to investigate large shipments of liquor expressed to various localities in Prince Edward County. Acting upon this suspicion and on information received, Inspector Arnott this week visited the home of R. O. Alyea, a farmer near Consecon, and learned that during September four shipments were received at his place, which consisted of several cases of whiskey. Mr. Alyea admitted that the liquor was for Mr. Carnite. When Mr. Arnott was at the house Mr. Carnite was also there, but was not seen by the inspector. Mr. Alyea suggested telling Mr. Carnite that the inspector was present, but this was not done. The inspector drove away with his horse and rig, but had not proceeded far when he was overtaken by Carnite, who was driving a large motor car. He drove the car across the road in such a manner as to block the highway, and then jumped into the rig of Inspector Arnott. Carnite used insulting language to Mr. Arnott and demanded to know why he was interfering in his (Carnite's) business. At the same time the latter put his hand into his pocket and displayed a revolver. The inspector grappled with him and succeeded in obtaining the revolver, which he showed to a farmer who was near at the time.

Four charges are now preferred against Carnite—assaulting a peace officer in the discharge of his duties, carrying firearms contrary to the Criminal Code, with being intoxicated, and with selling liquor contrary to the License Act.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH 'DANDERINE'

SPEND A FEW CENTS, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT.

TRY THIS! HAIR GETS BEAUTIFUL, WAVY AND THICK IN FEW MOMENTS.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed, and ten minutes after you wil say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire, soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

VETERANS WILL START CAMPAIGN THEMSELVES FOR CLUB BUILDING

Think Same Treatment is Coming Them as Accorded in Other Towns, in Regard to Headquarters—Orillia has Given $75,000 Memorial Hospital.

The Great War Veterans' Association will meet in the armories' recreation room, Monday night and make preliminary arrangements for launching a campaign to raise sufficient funds with which to erect new and permanent headquarters. While citizens may be divided on this question the Veterans themselves are quite decided that nothing will be acceptable to them but a structure which will be useful as well as ornamental. Even if it does cost $40,000. Their idea is a building which in design and name may stand apart from others as a memorial to fallen heroes and at the same time prove of service and reward to living heroes. In fact, they have set their minds on premises which will offer club and business facilities, and also a temporary home for stranger veterans. They have also in view a site for such a building—Dr. Brown's old home, corner of George and Murray streets, facing the armouries, and the most public spot in town.

What Other Towns Have Done

Thirty one cities or towns in Canada have presented veterans with such quarters as above outlined and Peterborough G.W.V.A. consider that their views in this respect should be met by a city which has sent 4,000 men to the front, the second largest contingent in the Dominion in proportion to population. Lindsay veterans, whom the Peterborough Association organized, have been presented by citizens with the McDonald building for headquarters, a handsome and commodious structure. And Peterborough vets were the first in Canada to take out a G.W.V.A. charter. Orillia is giving its G.W.V.A. a $75,000 memorial hospital in which veterans may be treated—for life if necessary—free of charge—and the Brantford Association are in receipt from grateful citizens of appropriate headquarters, the secretary of which receives a salary of $600 a year.

Hope For Active Co-operation

These are a few of the many instances in which memorials to Canada's brave dead have taken the shape of encouragement to and service for Canada's brave living, and Peterborough veterans feel that a consultation of their wishes in this respect is coming to them. In any event, from information to hand they are determined to start the campaign for such premises themselves on Monday night, and they hope for active co-operation.

WILL CALL HOME ALL CANADIANS

PROCLAMATION TOMORROW TO BE PUBLISHED IN THE UNITED STATES.

Ottawa, Oct 12—Official notice will be published throughout the United States on Saturday calling the attention of Canadians to the first call under the Military Service Act. All British subjects who have resided in Canada since the declaration of war and are of military age are liable to military service under the Act and the notice will call the attention of Canadians resident across the line to this provision.

While the first class is not technically called up till the official proclamation is published throughout the Dominion on Saturday, medical boards are everywhere working to the limit. Up to the week ending Oct. 6, there had been 28,609 men examined, of whom 12,597 were placed in medical category "A", men qualified from the medical point of view for general service overseas. Last week alone, there were 15,951 examinations. The Toronto Military District headed the list in number of examinations; London came second with Montreal a close third.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The dispute between the Fort William elevator managers and the men was closed when Director of Elevators Boyd issued an order granting the men forty cents an hour for a ten-hour day, with one hour for dinner and sixty cents an hour for overtime, Sunday and holiday work.

Few People Know This—

Large doses of pills for the liver are not as efficient as small doses.

The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly.

The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well.

Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right.

HOW TO PLAY CENTRE

Famous Football Player Describes Best Moves in Defensive and Offensive.

(By Edward L. Greene)

Since a bad pass or a missed signal sometimes will lose a game, it is necessary to have a man with a good head and who will not be rattled easily to play the position of center. As for the size of the man, it is a much discussed question among coaches. Personally, I have seen star centers who varied from the Carlisle Indian center of 1912, who was only 5 feet 6 inches tall, to the giant Des Jardiens of Maroon fame. About all you can say as far as size is concerned is that a good big man is better than a good little man.

The center must be aggressive and follow the ball at all times. When his team has the ball he naturally has to be on it to start the play, so if he lags in getting to the ball he will slow up his team. When the opponents have the ball if he is not following it close he will find in a good many cases that the opposing center will take a few extra inches every time he lines up. When the ball is out of bounds he should either walk out with the ball or the official who is doing so. If for any reason time is taken out have your foot against the ball, then any movement of the ball will attract your attention.

Be Careful About Passes

The center never should let his opponent interfere with his greatest responsibility—that of making a good pass to the correct man. Centers, remember no matter how much you put the opposing center out of play, if you make bad passes to your backs your efforts are wasted and more than likely you are throwing the game away. I mention this because I have seen green centers forget all about their passing in their efforts to put the man opposite them out of play.

When you get in position be sure your shoulders are higher than your hips. Get a good knee spread so that you can pass the ball freely and see to whom you are passing it. Grasp the ball with both hands on the part nearest to you. Keep the thumbs together and spread the rest of the fingers to get a good firm grip on the ball. If the quarterback is playing behind center, make your pass with one continuous motion and turn the ball so that the quarterback receives the other end of the ball. When you start your pass you also start your charge forward.

Try to get your head on the side of your opponent. In that way you have a good chance to keep your opponent out of play. Start your chagre low with an upward drive. If the quarterback is taking the passes directly behind center it is not necessary to look where you are passing, therefore you will have your head in such a position that you can look down the field. If you are making direct passes to the half or full back you must look where you are passing.

In passing for a kick try to get the ball to the kicker between waist and shoulder high. Any higher or lower has a tendency to throw the kicker out of balance, causing a poor kick and a delay in getting the kick off. It may even be the cause of the kick being blocked. It always is better to get the pass too low than too high. Make a fast pass to the kicker to give him as much time as possible to get it off. To insure accuracy in passing for kicks the center should practice passing as much as possible.

If for any reason you are not sure of the signal given don't pass the ball. If some member of your team does not get the given signal don't pass the ball. If any of your men are offside don't pass the ball.

Tips on Defensive Center

There are two styles of playing defensive center. One is called the free or roving center, because the center drops back from his regular position two or three yards and tries to get in every play. The other and more common is where the center remains in his position in the line. If you have a man that can naturally play defense, the first style is good, but for the ordinary center the second is better.

When playing the free center you should watch the ball all the time. You usually can tell by the position the back field is in which side of the line the opponents expects to attack, but if he loses track of the ball he is liable to be drawn in on a delayed or reverse play. He then is virtually useless to his team and may be the cause of his opponents' making a big gain. When the play is directed at the center he must charge in hard and low to meet it. On plays around the end he usually can get there in time to break them up, and if he is a specially good man he may even get the runner.

How to Break Up Plays

When the opponents get the ball inside your twenty-five yard line the center should move up to his regular position in the line between the guards. That makes the center of your line stiffer and the nearness to your goal line brings the defensive backs close enough to the defensive line to protect the territory the center formerly was defending.

If the center is playing the second system—between his guards — he should charge through on every play. By watching the backfield men he oftentimes can tell which side the play is going and by a good hard charge break it up.

If the play is going around the end he may get through in time to catch the runner from behind or pick up a fumble. By the same system he can break up a good many reverse or delayed plays. As when playing offense the center must follow the ball all the time. If he does not he can expect that the usual back will slide the ball up a few inches every time he is down, and when the center takes the ball he will move it up a few more inches. But if the center is on the job all the time these little tricks can't be worked.

PATRIOTISM

Patriotism, like Charity, should begin at home. The man who is willing at any time to protect his country against foreign foes, should be willing AT ALL TIMES to protect his Family against such common foes as Poverty, Privation and Suffering.

A Life Insurance Company cannot take the place of a Husband

BUT——

It can preserve the family from want.
It can lighten their load of care.
It can build a barrier against adversity.
It can strengthen the foundation of the home.
It can certify to a man's affectionate regard for his family.
It can place his widow beyond the need of marrying for support.
It can add to a man's years by freeing him from anxiety.
It can enhance the respect and esteem of the public and of his wife and children for him.

Complete and absolute Family protection can be had by your taking a policy in THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, THE LEADING CANADIAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

COULD FIND NO PENALTY IN ACT FOR BLACKLISTER

Enlarged Case For One Week to Communicate With Department—Crown Attorney Hatton Later Contended Defendant's Council Had Put it Over the Court.

A well-known black-lister, who has been before the court more than once since prohibition came in force, faced, at the police court this morning, a charge of having had liquor in his possession on October 5th, 1917, contrary to the law.

Mr. F. D. Kerr for the defendant contended that his client need not plead one way or the other, asthrough an oversight, the amended statute does not provide penalty for any blacklister refusing to obey the magistrate or License Inspector in regard to having liquor in his possession.

Examination of the act showed quite clearly that Mr. Kerr's contention was correct, as no penalty for a blacklister having liquor in his possession could be found in the statute.

Chief Thompson consented to an adjournment for one week until the government can be communicated with concerning the faulty clause in the act.

After adjournment of court, County Crown Attorney Hatton arrived on the scene, and remarked that Mr. Kerr had put it over the court. He contends that a proper interpretation of the act reveals ample provision for penalty. An interesting development may follow.

$25.00 CHEQUE FOR FIREMEN

PRACTICAL APPRECIATION OF FIREMEN'S WORK AT BURNING MILL.

Yesterday evening the local firemen were much gratified to find practical appreciation of their work at the burning mills, Wednesday night, in the form of a cheque for $25 enclosed the following communication:

Peterboro, Oct. 11, 1917.

George Grange, Esq.
Fire Chief, City,

Dear Sir—We wish to express our high appreciation of the excellent work done by yourself and men of your department during the fire at our planing mill last night, and enclose herewith our cheque for $25 toward your firemen's benefit fund.

Yours truly,
PETERBORO LUMBER CO.
Dickson Davidson, President.

It is needless to say that the men are very grateful for the above testimony to their efforts to give the best possible service they and their department are capable of in time of emergency. The firemen's benefit fund is composed of such monetary recognitions of services, and was created for the purpose of relieving members in time of sickness or distress.

"HENPECKED HENRY"

"The funniest show in the world" is the way the Milwaukee Sentinel expressed itself regarding the famous musical comedy "Henpecked Henry" which will be seen at the Grand, Tuesday next, October 16th.

"Henry" is one of the most original characters ever presented upon the stage. You see him in the placid humility of a domineered husband one moment and the gay and festive follower of chorus girls and buyer of champagne suppers the next. He often breaks into song, as do his companions, and there is not a dull moment in the entire entertainment. One scene in particular is claimed by the management to be the most amusing ever conceived. It is where the shrewish wife finds the old sport in a gross iniquity and a funeral procession marches around him to the music of a dirge. The chorus is claimed to be of unusual ability and good looks.

SPLENDID ILLUSTRATED PAPER WAS READ BY MR. R. L. DOBBIN.

Members of the Peterborough Engineers' Club sat down to a very enjoyable dinner in the Empress Hotel at 6.30 last evening, served in mine host Graham's customary manner.

After the dinner a largely attended meeting was held in the hotel's parlor, where an entertaining and instructive paper was ready by Mr. R. L. Dobbin on the erection of the Quebec bridge. The reading was interest-holding throughout and appropriately interspersed with lantern slide illustrations of the bridge in its course of construction and erection, and scenes adjacent to its site. Mr P. P. Wesley, vice-president of the club presided at both dinner and subsequent gathering.

CIGARETTES ARE NECESSARY

Capt. Julia W. Henshaw Emphasizes Need of Them in Trenches

Captain Julia W. Henshaw of the Canadian Medical Corps, during an address in Montreal, emphasized the need for socks and still more socks. If the supply should fail one of the greatest dreads of the war—trench feet—would reappear, while at present it is almost unknown owing to the manner in which British women the world over have responded to the call for socks. Hot drinks and cigarettes are essentials for the wounded men, was another point emphasized—"cigarettes are not luxuries in the trenches, they are plain necessities."

Cobourg Dog Steals Milk From Bottles

The Cobourg World is authority for the following story:

Lately a number of parties in Cobourg, probably not as early risers as they might be, have been complaining of having their milk bottles partly or entirely emptied in the mornings. The mystery was solved this week when a dog was noticed to come along, tip up the bottle of milk and poke in the cardboard top and drink the milk as it spread on the step. The dog was noticed to have gone through the same performance on different mornings and at different places. This dog seems to be a little too highly educated to suit these strenuous times.

ELECTION IS LOOKED FOR DEC. 17

MR. B. F. ACKERMAN DECLINES TO SIT ON BOARD OF EDUCATION

Was Elected at Last Meeting to Fill Vacancy Caused by Death of Dr. Burnham—Gives No Reason for His Stand But This is Easily Divined.

Mr. B. F. Ackerman has sent a letter to Secretary Thompson of the Board of Education, on which he declines to sit as a member of the Board for the remainder of the year. At the meeting two weeks ago Mr. Ackerman was elected by his former colleagues to fill out the term of the late Dr. Burnham, who would have retired at the end of the present year.

Mr. Ackerman in his letter gives no reason for the stand he has taken. However, he does not lack justification. At the election a year ago he was rejected by a small majority in spite of his years of faithful and efficient service, for a man whose only claim to the public suffrage was that he had assailed his colleagues who had built up the admirable school system in this city before he himself was heard of in public life.

Mr. Ackerman was first elected to the Board when the Collegiate Institute was in process of construction. He was chairman of the finance committee when the King Edward School was built, and was one of the originators and supporters of that institution. The necessity for such a building was questioned at the time. It is already filled to capacity, so that the wisdom and foresight of Mr. Ackerman in this instance has been amply vindicated. Business ability on the School Board counts rather than a turn for political manipulation.

In 1916 Mr. Ackerman had plans prepared to remodel the South Central School. It could have been made modern and up to date in every respect for an outlay of $13,000, just as the Central School building was overhauled some years ago. The City Council approved of this proposition after a personal investigation by the finance committee, and the money was voted.

While Mr. Ackerman was absent from the city a special meeting of the Board was called, and it was decided to put in a few minor improvements in the South Central building. That, it was held by the penny-wise economists, would suffice for a number of years. In less than one year the building was overcrowded. A new building in that district will be necessary to accommodate the growing school population. This will cost at least $60,000. Had Mr. Ackerman's plan been adopted, a school large enough for years to come could have been secured for $13,000.

Two of the older members of the Board are to retire at the end of the year. The loss of their services will be a serious matter to the city, as next year there are important matters to come up for consideration, including the erection of a new school. If, however, the public prefer to let politicians creep into the educational management of the city and to elect the politically ambitious rather than men with business training, they will have only themselves to blame.

LAKEFIELD CHEESE FACTORY TOTALLY WIPED OUT BY FIRE

Residence of Mr. F. G. Kendall, the Cheesemaker Also Destroyed—Home of Mr. Higgins Has Close Call—Loss About $5000 With Insurance of $2000.

(Special to The Review.)

Lakefield, Oct. 15.—The Lakefield cheese factory was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday night about 10 o'clock. The reflection of the fire was plainly seen from all sections of this city. The loss will amount to something like $5000, with insurance of $2000.

The fire started in the boiler room and was discovered by Mr. N. S. Higgins, who lived close to the scene. He gave the alarm, and a large crowd of Lakefield residents soon gathered, together with the fire-fighting apparatus from the village. This contrivance, however, failed to work, and a bucket brigade was at once formed.

The residence of the cheesemaker, Mr. F. G. Kendall, next door to the factory, was completely destroyed. The volunteer fire department, after a brave fight, succeeded in saving the residence of Mr. Higgins with all its contents.

There were about fifty cheese in stock at the time the fire broke out. Fortunately there had been a large shipment of cheese from the factory on Saturday, or these, too, would have been lost.

The loss of this factory is a serious matter to the dairy farmers in the community. It is the second loss of the same kind within a short time. A few months ago the Trewern cheese factory was destroyed by a boiler explosion, in which the proprietor, Mr. J. Chittick, lost his life. This district is now without a factory.

Saturday night's fire has made it again apparent that this village lacks fire protection and that something must be done by the council to remedy this condition.

POSTOFFICE IS OPEN EVENINGS TO ACCOMMODATE MEN IN CLASS 1

Men Who Cannot Sign up or Get Exemption Blanks During the Day Can Call Three Evenings a Week at Postoffice---Twenty-Two Men Examined This Morning and Thirteen up to High Mark.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings anyone wishing to sign up or apply for exemption papers at the Post Office may do so from 7:30 o'clock until 9 o'clock, if unable to do so during the day.

The same conditions prevail at the Armories today in regard to medical examinations as before the Military Service Proclamation was issued. From now on, however, until November 10, application by eligibles is compulsory and not voluntary. Every man knows whether he is in class 1 called to the colors or not, and must govern himself accordingly. Now, as heretofore, there are no special papers to secure for examination, and eligibles are expected to present themselves at the earliest possible moment. Should there be a rush at any one session, men will find the doctors ready to advise as to when they can handle applicants turned away by reason of pressure.

Twenty-two This Morning.

This morning proved a normally busy session in keeping with precedence, and nothing more. Twenty-two men were examined, nine of whom were employes of the Matthews-Blackwell Limited. The remainder also were city men. The score stood as follows:

Category A	13
Category B	2
Category E	7

Don't Be a Deserter.

The period for voluntary application by Class One men under the Military Service Act for medical examination expired with the issue of the proclamation on Saturday, and now such men are under compulsion to seek their medical grading certificates. Failing to undergo examination, and comply with the provisions of the proclamation by November 10th, they will be subjected to the procedure, pains and penalties prescribed by law against military deserters.

Saturday was a rush day at the armories, where Drs. Cameron, Eastwood and Greer handled 54 men, and this was a record-breaker for Peterborough. The Medical Board had not thought they could go one better than on Friday, when 53 were examined, and went home at nine o'clock Saturday night justifiably proud of their day's labors. The big majority of applicants were from out of town, and the registrar of Saturday night's examination recorded half a dozen from Norwood.

Total Grading.

With the close of Saturday's proceedings, the following certificates were filed:

Number examined	512
Graded in A Category	290
Graded in B Category	31
Graded in C Category	47
Graded in E Category	144

It will thus be seen that 512 men had been examined up to Saturday night, out of which 144 were classed as medically unfit for military duty of any nature whatever, showing a percentage of 28 rejections.

20 Saturday Afternoon.

Saturday afternoon's session was the busiest of the day, when twenty men were put through the test with the following results:

Category A	9
Category B	1
Category C	2
Category E	8

15 Saturday Night.

The physical quality of the men examined at this session was the lowest yet experienced, seven out of 16 tests being graded in E Category. The following records were made:

Category A	7
Category B	2
Category C	0
Category E	7

BRITISH RAIDS INFLICT HEAVY LOSS ON ENEMY

No Further Infantry Engagements Reported on the Belgian Front.

DUTCH DANCER SHOT AT DAWN

Mata-Hari Was Convicted of Betraying Military Secrets to Huns.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Oct. 15.—No further infantry engagements have occurred on the British front in Belgium. In successful raids yesterday large losses were inflicted on the Germans. Following is the official account of these operations:

Our positions on the main ridge south of Broodseinde were heavily bombarded during the night by the enemy. No infantry action has taken place. In a successful raid carried out by us yesterday afternoon southeast of Monchy Lepreux east county troops captured 36 prisoners and two machine guns. Two hundred Germans were killed by infantry and seven of the enemy's dugouts were destroyed by explosives.

French Continue Raids.

Paris, Oct. 15.—Violent fighting is again in progress on the Verdun front but no further infantry actions are reported. The French raided the German lines in Champagne during the night.

Shot at Dawn.

Mata-Hari, the Dutch dancer and adventuress who two months ago was found guilty by court martial on a charge of espionage was shot at dawn this morning.

Had Fair Trial.

Mlle Mata-Hari, long known in Europe as woman of great attractiveness and with a romantic history, was, according to unofficial press dispatches accused of conveying to the Germans secrets of the construction of the Entente "tanks," this resulting in the enemy rushing work on a special gas to combat their operations. Her conviction was confirmed by a revision court and on Sept. 23 supreme court confirmed the previous findings.

CHICAGO WINS SIXTH GAME AND WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, Oct. 15.—The Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants meet in the sixth contest of the world's championship baseball series in the Polo Grounds today. While the McGraw men know their chances are desperate they are still hopeful of turning back the White Sox and making the series even again. What little betting there has been reported since Saturday's game favors the White Sox two to one though wagers at even money have been made that the Giants will win today.

Atmospheric conditions were the most favorable of the series in New York. The weather is warm and pleasing to the players after the frigid experience in Chicago last Saturday. Some of the players are sure that the erratic work by both teams in the fifth game was due to the low temperature.

Batteries.

The batteries were as follows:
New York—Benton and Rariden.
Chicago—Faber and Schalk.

First Inning.

Chicago — Fletcher came in behind Benton and took J. Collins' hopper and threw him out. McMullen sent up a weak foul to Rariden. The stands booed Eddie Collins to the echo. Collins singled sharply over second. Herzog took Jackson's slow roller and tossed him out.—No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York — Eddie Collins threw out Burns at first, Burns hitting the first ball pitched. Herzog shot a single over Eddie McMullen's head. Kauff struck out, Faber's wide curves being too much for him. Zimmerman sent a long drive right into Jackson's hands.—No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Innings

Chicago—Felsch struck out. Gandil got a single over the middle bag. Herzog threw out Weaver, Gandil moving to second. Zimmerman threw out Schalk, making a nice play on the Chicago catcher's grounder.—No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York—Schalk ran down the line and took Fletcher's roller and threw him out. Eddie Collins took Robertson's smash and got his man at first. Holke got a double against the left field fence. Eddie Collins threw out Rariden, who hit the first ball pitched.—No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Innings.

Chicago.—Faber struck out. John Collins popped to Herzog. Benton was employing a quick drop ball which he kept around the batters' knees. McMullen fanned.—No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York — Faber burned an out-curve over for the third strike and Benton sat down. Burns sent a hot liner to Felsch. Herzog sent a high fly out to Felsch.—No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Innigs.

Chicago. — Zimmerman took Collins' grounder and threw wildly to the stands, Collins going to second. Jackson sent a high fly to Robertson, who dropped the ball. Eddie Collins dashed to third, Jackson remaining at first when Robertson threw to third. The New York infield came in. Benton took Felsch's grounder and ran over to tag Collins. Benton tossed to Zimmerman, who ran after Collins and chased the Sox secondbaseman across the plate for a run. Jackson and Felsch scored on Gandil's single to right. Gandil was thrown out stretching the hit, Robertson to Herzog. Weaver sent a long fly to Burns. Schalk shot a hot single into left field. Faber walked. Fletcher threw out J. Collins.—Three runs, two hits and two errors.

New York — Eddie Collins took Kauff's roller and threw him out. Zimmerman sent a high fly to John Collins. Fletcher got a hit off McMullen's glove, the ball bounding to Weaver, who nearly threw the New York shortstop out by a line shot throw. Robertson sent a long fly to Felsch —No runs, one hit and no errors.

Fifth Innings

Chicago — Benny Kauff robbed McMullen of a hit, coming in fast and getting his line drive. Burns took Collins' easy fly. Jackson struck at the ball so hard that he fell down and the crowd jeered. Herzog threw out Jackson.—No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York.—Holke struck out on three pitched balls. Rariden walked, making Faber pitch to him. Wilhoit batted for Benton and also walked. Faber becoming unsteady. Burns forced Wilhoit, Weaver to E. Collins. Rariden went to third. Rariden and Burns scores on Herzog's three-base hit off the right field wall. The stands were in a frenzy. Kauff fouled out to Gandil.—Two runs, one hit and no errors.

Sixth Innings.

Chicago—Perritt went into the box for New York. Felsch walked. Gandil up. Felsch went out stealing, Rariden to Fletcher. Gandil struck out on three pitched balls. Herzog threw out Weaver. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Eddie Collins took Zimmerman's smash and threw him out. Fletcher sent up a high foul to Gandil. Robertson sent a single into right field. Eddie Collins threw hTe great contest race is daily becoming more and more interesting to the army of hustling, anxious workers who are striving on with added zest, each day, especially now that the great campaign is nearing the end. Two hours before midnight, Saturday, Oct. 27, rings down the curtain on the Review's auto contest. Twelve more days remain for each and every contestant to put forth his or her greatest selling effort trying to pile up votes toward the winning of one of the big awards.

12 DAYS OF BIG CONTEST LEFT--HURRY

Contest Ends One Week From Saturday---New Schedule Now in Effect---Cash All Your Promises---Pile up the Votes! You Can do it.!

You cannot possibly lose anything, as every active member who does not win one of the valuable prizes receives a cash commission of 10 per cent. Never before during the contest has such keen rivalry been displayed and the candidates are moving on toward the goal —the automobile. Each and everyone is putting their best foot forward in trying to get ahead of their competitors who are trying to win the [illegible] car.

The candidate winning the car will surely be well rewarded for their strenuous efforts. Then again the contestants who do not score highest will stand in line for one of the other splendid prizes.

Everybody has the same chance and the contestants should get in all possible subscriptions during the remaining days of the big contest.

Get Busy—Pile Up Votes

Use shrapnel — get out of the trenches, make an artillery charge, anything to get there—to the automobile. The motor corps is a fast moving organization. It will bring you home if you use the proper amount of gas—energy.

The final running of the big game is now on and will end one week from Saturday. Players are working up to aucha high pitch that a big score will surely be reported at 10 o'clock that night. They are playing on the Review's great "Vote getting series". The stakes are big and the batter is more certain to reach the "Home" plate than Ty Cobb or Benny Kauff. All it requires is a sufficient amount of gas—energy—to keep the big car in high.

Twelve more working days. Every minute will count.

RUSSIAN NATION IS BEING LED TOWARDS ITS MOUNT CALVARY

Newspapers of New Republic Take Gloomy View of the Situation Arising from Landing of German Troops on Islands of Gulf of Riga.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Petrograd, Oct. 15.—German forces were landed on Oesel Island, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, and are pushing forward to the east and south, placing in a difficult position the Russian forces and batteries in the district of Arensthi, on the southern end of the island, and especially those on the Cerel peninsula. Military critics predict actions in the Gulf of Riga, followed by the development of the invasion of the mainland on the coast of Esthonia, rather than an attempt towards the Gulf of Finland, which is protected by mine fields which the Germans would have to sweep under the menace of the Russian fleet.

The newspapers exhibit alarm at the landing of the Germans on Oesel Island. The Bourse Gazette says the situation of the country is more complicated, because a solution must be found not only of the unsatisfactory state of affairs in the interior, but of the problem presented by the closing of the Gulf of Riga by the Germans. The Russkaya Volia says: "We are being led toward our Calvary, but perhaps we shall find our resurrection."

Russia's Calvary.

The Rech attributes the disaster partly to bad visibility and the unexampled political frivolity of the leaders of the Russian democracy. The socialist press takes the Maximalists to task. The Volia Naroda recalls Premier Kerensky's warning of the danger of a German coup in the Baltic, which was stigmatized by the leader of the Maximalists as an unworthy political manoeuvre. The newspapers insist on the necessity of an implacable struggle against the Maximalists.

Germans Take Capital.

Petrograd, Oct. 15.—The German forces which landed on the Russian island of Oesel at the head of the Gulf of Riga on Friday occupied Arensburg, the capital of island on Saturday. Arensburg is on the southern shore of Oesel Island. The northern group of the German warships, the statement adds, dispatched a torpedo boat squadron between the islands of Oesel and Dago which pressed back the Russian patrols. The Russian naval forces reinforced the patrol and accepted battle whereupon the German ships retired. Fighting for Oesel Island, the war office announces, continued all day yesterday.

SERVICE TO THE NATION DEMANDS GOOD HEALTH

War is bringing home to every man, woman and child the fact that service to the nation is not a matter alone for the soldier and sailor and munition worker.

There is work, necessary work, for everyone to do, in the way of thrift and production and to do this work, health is the first essential. Even the most willing will find progress is slow if the health is bad.

Probably the most common complaint among those doing unaccustomed tasks is backache. Work may cause a tired feeling that will easily pass off but this backache that almost doubles one up is an indication of a condition of the system that needs treatment. The Kidneys are giving evidence of their weakness and the sufferer should be thankful for the timely warning given by this pain.

The quickest and surest relief from backache is a treatment with Gin Pills. Gin Pills are the tested specific for the healing of the Kidneys. Anyone who wishes to perform his or her full duty to the Nation in these strenuous times will find relief from backache in Gin Pills.

FIVE ACRE PLOWING CONTEST

Keen interest is being taken this year in the five-acre plowing competition being held for the first time in this county under the direction of the County Plowmen's Association. Thirteen entries have been received, including five from Otonabee, four from Smith, one from Asphodel, one from Belmont and three from Ennismore. The competitors are allowed to plow five acres in stubble on their own farms. The judges, Messrs. W. J. Cleghorn and Joshua Smithson, of Otonabee, will visit the different farms and score the land of the competitors, from August 18 to 20.

The judges announce that they have prepared a score card, which they intend using in scoring the work of the competitors. The highest number of points any competitor can obtain is 135, divided as follows—

Crown	20
Straightness	15
Evenness of cut	20
Evenness of depth	20
Covering of grass and stubble	20
Finish	20
General appearance	20
Total	135

It is expected that this competition will be productive of much good. Men who would like to compete in the county match are often not so situated that hey can readily attend the match. Often, also, some men would like to compete, but are nervous about plowing before the large crowd that attends the county match. By allowing competitors to plow five acres on their own farms, these difficulties have been overcome, and the number of entries already received indicates that this is going to be a most interesting feature of the work of the County Association. A number of township councils have voted $5.00 each towards the prize money in this special match. These grants have assisted the County Association materially in holding it.

THE REAL THING

A citizen dropped into J. M. Green's Music Store the other day at the time they were trying out some new records on the New Edison Machine. So faithful was the reproduction of voice permeating the building he could hardly realize that a machine was producing it. Clear as a bell, with no vibration whatever, he characterized the numbers he heard as the "real thing."

IN SALONIKA NOW.

E. F. G. Ward, of the C. E. F., Sends Letter Home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ward, 467 Downie street, have received another letter from their son, E. F. G. Ward, who is with the Canadian army overseas. Private Ward, who is now with the British Salonika forces, writes—

"Arrived O. K. Had a nice trip down the Mediterranean. Am at present at 52 General Hospital for accommodation (meals and bed) till I get sorted out by officials. Don't know yet where I will be posted. I have seen the effects of the big fire.

"It is very nice and cool here in the evenings, and not unbearably hot in the daytime. The most of the bad weather and mosquitoes are over for this year. Expect to meet Stewart J. S., who is at the 49th General Hospital, today. He came over from Canada with me, and has been out here for two years.

WHY MILK WILL RISE IN PRICE

HIGH COST OF FEEDS AND LABOR IS RESPONSIBLE, SAYS DEALERS.

With the first of November the price of milk will jump to 12c per quart. At least that is the fixed intention of the Peterborough Creamery, the management of which can see no help for it, if the business is to be conducted, like other trade and commercial institutions, on a living basis to all concerned. Since November last milk has been retailed at 3 cents less than Toronto prices, and the local creamery points out that the ever-increasing cost of operation, supplies and general commodities make an increase absolutely imperative. The books of this creamery show that, notwithstanding the installation of latest labor-saving devices for handling and bottling milk, after paying running expenses, taxes, light, heat and so forth, there is not sufficient margin left for management, to say nothing of dividends on investment.

Conditions in Montreal

Similar conditions are reported from Montreal, where the price fixed by the Producers' Association was 36 cents per gallon delivered in the city for October, November and December. There the freight from outlying districts is about 2½ cents per gallon which they claim nets the producer 2.75 per cent, barely enough to cover cost of production, when the high cost of feeds, labor, and all that enters into milk production is taken into account.

UNKNOWN STEAMER SUNK.

Woman's Work in United States

WILL BE EMPLOYED IN DIFFERENT BRANCHES OF NAVAL DEPARTMENT.

Washington, Oct. 13.— The navy plans to take in more women workers. A form of labor conscription for men and women to meet extreme emergencies also is being discussed.

Thousands more women will be employed by next spring in navy yards, navy plants, and private plants according to Assistant Secty. Roosevelt. Private organizations are turning more and more to woman labor

An acute shortage resulting from war's abnormal demands and lake of immigration is responsible for this extension of woman's sphere in industry. Roosevelt pointed out that it had been necessary already to employ many women in the navy garment shops at Philadelphia and Charleston.

Still another means of meeting the situation will be through "labor dilution"—the mixing of unskilled labor with skilled, as practised by Great Britain.

Groups of skilled men, too, will be used as the nerclens for forces in new plants. It is possible Congress will be asked to provide a form of labor conscription whereby the Government can readily enlist the services of men or women in lines where the need is the greatest.

Sir Sam Praises The Orange Order

VISITS LODGE IN LINDSAY AND COMMENDS THEIR PATRIOTISM.

At a regular session of Lindsay Orangemen (Lodge No. 32) last week Sir Sam Hughes paid a surprise visit and commended Orangemen for their loyalty.

In a stirring patriotic address, the General eulogised the Orange Order for their loyalty to the Dominion and Empire. He also complimented W. M. Dr. J. W. Wood for the splendid showing that this lodge is making, both in the manner in which the several degrees are put on and its ever increasing membership, despite the large number which have enlisted in the ranks of the army and are now in France and Flanders. Sir Sam said that the Orange Order had now fully 80,000 active members from Canada on the battlefield, while from the Belfast district of Ireland alone over 30,000 Orangemen had answered the call. English, Scotch and Welsh members of the Order had also done their duty, and were living up to the teachings of the Order.

$8,000,000 WORTH OF HOSPITAL NEEDS AND COMFORTS FOR ABROAD

Work of British Red Cross—Over 416,383 Parcels of Food and Clothing Sent to Prisoners of War in Enemy Countries---Invalid Kitchens Established.

The funds collected in Ontario on Trafalgar Day, Oct. 18th for the British Red Cross will be handled by the organization of Resources Committee in Toronto, and the accounts audited by the Provincial auditor, as in former years.

Where the Money Goes

As an instance of how the money contributed is spent the Association has sent abroad:

$8,000,000 worth of surgical dressings, hospital equipment, necessaries and comforts of all kinds.

$6,000,000 articles of clothing, bedding and hospital furniture and equipment.

416,383 parcels of food and clothing to prisoners of war in enemy countries. Established invalid kitchens attached to hospitals, buffets, sun shelters, bathing sheds, recreation and tea rooms for wounded and convalescent men.

6,500 surgeons, nurses, voluntary aid detachments, stretcher bearers, hospital orderlies, ambulance drivers.

180 women ambulance drivers.

Labor Takes a Hand

The Toronto Labour Council has subscribed $25 to the fund and offered their service in the campaign. Peterborough's Trade Council might well, at least take an active part in the campaign, and all other organized bodies could not co-operate in a more worthy cause than that of assisting in securing contribtuions to the British Red Cross Fund.

LET WILSON VISIT EUROPE

American President Needed to Consult With Allies

Paris, Oct. 13.—The suggestion that President Wilson visit Europe is made by the Information in its leading editorial. You don't like the cheap tea you are using. Do you?

Pretty Poor Tea, Mother

Before the war so increased the cost of living, many people used to drink better tea than they are now using.

Perhaps, this is true in your case?

Of course, you are not drinking poor tea because you like it, but because you think it necessary to save money.

But are you really saving anything?

Cheap, common teas only make about 150 cups to the pound. You are lucky if you can stretch them out to 185 or 200.

On the other hand, Red Rose Tea easily makes 250 cups. It goes further because of its fine quality, consisting chiefly of Assam teas, the richest and strongest in the world.

You may almost doubt if so many cups of tea can be made from a pound of even such good tea as Red Rose, but you can readily prove the economy of Red Rose without waiting for a package to be used up. Just use a few leaves less of Red Rose for a brewing than you use of common tea—the result we are sure will please and surprise you.

A REAL ORGANIZER

Lady Londonderry Is President of British Women's Legion.

IS DIRECT AND EFFECTUAL.

This Organization, Which Knows Neither Rank Nor Class, Is Doing Great Work by Releasing Thousands of Men For the Fighting Front.

The Marchioness of Londonderry is president of the British Women's legion, and the motto in that legion is not "Play and Shirk," as that of the legion of society women is supposed to be (by those who do not know), but "Pray and Work." In the legion one finds housemaids as well as marchionesses and cooks as well as countesses. And the marchioness works quite as hard as the housemaid, while the countess very likely is a better cook than she who registers as such.

And what may be the object of this organization which links distinguished women, who before the war were principally famous for their social power, with Mary Smith and Sally Jones—these women organized to "pray and work?" Here it is, as they themselves tersely set it forth:

MARCHIONESS OF LONDONDERRY.

"To provide a capable and efficient body of women whose services can be offered to the state as may be required to take the place of men needed in the firing line or in other capacities."

The men who must be replaced if they go to the war are drawn from farms, from shops, from factories, from stables, from motor vehicles—from everywhere. And to all these places these distinguished women go themselves or send their sisters with an enthusiasm and a democracy which are hardly equaled in our own democratic United States.

The mighty band (for the membership is very large) "is entirely nonpolitical and without class distinctions or religious restrictions."

This is absolutely true. One glance at its rolls will show that. "The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters" in the Women's legion, for it is war born and war needed. But it is sure to be of immense influence in the days to come after the great war shall have ended.

"My personal sections," said the really very beautiful Marchioness of Londonderry, "are cooks and canteens."

When asked what effect she thought all this useful work would have upon the cause of suffrage in Great Britain the marchioness replied:

"It seems to me that the most striking result of our work will be to prove that men and women's working together upon equal terms is of the greatest advantage to the nation at large."

PAINTED A ROAD.

How French Artists Fooled the German Aviators.

A friend writes me from Paris that one day, while driving through the forest of Saint Germain, he came upon a convoy going to the front—six big 155-mm. guns "dragged by motors and all the personnel and ammunition tractioned by motor also, but automobiles of such very strange aspect. They were painted in chromes and greens and blues and purples to represent rocks and trees and leaves and shrubs, like scenery, so as to be completely dissimulated from the enemy. My companion said, 'Regarding comme ils sont bien camouflés,' and I said, 'Well, I am glad that at last they are making use of the talent of the painters in a practical way.'"

Last summer, just after the battle of the Somme, this same friend met a man he knew, the head of one of the great designing houses of Paris, wearing his uniform and proudly displaying on his breast his croix de guerre avec palmes, the highest military honor. 'You are back on leave?" he asked. "Yes and no," was the reply "I am at present on post near Paris. I am camoufleur."

Then he told some stories of the camouflage, among them this one:

Just before the attack on the Somme the German aviators were very active and made it difficult, except at night, to move large bodies of troops to the front. One road especially, leading from a small forest but lying straight and white over the fields, was closely watched. It became most important to get some big guns and many men over this road and into position by the 1st of July. So the camoufleurs got very busy and painted "three kilometres of white roadway bordered with green, and when the enemy aviators arose to reconnoitre they reported 'nothing moving on the road from Amiens,' while all day long, for five long days, a continuous line of artillery and thousands of troops passed under the painted roadway to take their assigned places for the great attack. So you see that we painters are worth something, after all, and that this canvas was the result of genie as well as genius!"—From "Special Service for Artists in War Time," by Ernest Peixotto, in Scribner.

HOW MANY GERMAN U-BOATS?

Conservative Estimate About 150—Travel in Fours.

At the outbreak of the war Germany had in commission or building between thirty and forty submarines. Since that time it is estimated that she has probably built more than 200 new boats, possibly 250, certainly not 300.

Count von Bulow recently claimed that Germany had 220 submarine units in service. This is undoubtedly the counsel of high hope rather than fact. The submarine has not a long life, and in the beginning at least, merely in their manoeuvering, the submarine met with many disasters. It is not improbable that since the war at least 100 and possible 150 German U-boats have been accounted for—a few captured, a considerable number sunk by mine, net or accident, or scrapped.

So, at a conservative estimate, it is probable that Germany has not many more than 150 submarines in service, and the number may be actually less. But, on the other hand, these boats are larger, stronger, and [illegible] than those which have been put out of business. No one, perhaps, outside of Germany has any reliable knowledge as to just how fast new boats are being turned out. It is almost certain that it is not less than one fine new submarine per week; and it might easily be two per week; or from fifty to a hundred per year.

Many fantastic stories have been afloat as to the enormous size of these new vessels—5,000 tons or more—all most certainly myths. No U-boat has been captured or seen near enough to be measured that has more than about 1,200 tons submerged displacement. But these boats are triumphs of mechanical engineering. It is known that one of them has done a 4,000-mile journey without outside aid, and it has been stated that some of them have remained as long as forty days on the seas without reporting at any base.

Of the submarines counted as in service only about one-third that number can be kept on the fighting line. Another third is going and coming—a trip that requires five days or more each way—and another third is laid up for repairs. So that probably there are never more than from fifty to seventy submarines in action at any one time.

While in many cases they hunt alone, it is increasingly evident that their main fighting strategy is now in fours, cruising in a diamond formation, the forward boat being almost wholly a scout boat, the two fighting boats at either side of the diamond, and the mother boat or supply boat in the rear. The diamond is about eight miles on the edge, and the boats keep in communication with each other either by very weak wireless or by heliograph or flash.

FINDING WATER IN DESERT.

Natives of Australian Dry Lands Are Amazingly Resourceful.

No man who has not mastered the last subtleties of bushcraft should penetrate alone the western dry lands of Australia. A Canadian woodsman would find nothing in his experience to enlighten him. A North American Indian would perish in ignorance. A Bedouin of the sun Arabian deserts would die helpless. Australian bushcraft is peculiar to itself. It concerns itself less with killing the crawling desert life for food than with divining the whereabouts of water in a land that is as dry as a brick in the sun.

In the midcontinental desert, when sun and dry winds suck the moisture from deep in the ground and all the world runs dry, the aboriginals draw water from the roots of small desert trees by cutting them into short lengths and letting them drain drop by drop into a wooden bowl. But there may be no water trees or the roots may shrivel and dry up. What then?

"Ah, well," said the bushman, "they do with what they have."

"What have they?" I asked him.

"They lick the dew from the leaves and grass!" It is related by a celebrated Australian traveler, Baldwin Spencer, that, having come in a dry season to a dry clay pan, bordered with withered shrubs, his company was amazed by an exhibition of aboriginal craft. There was no water, no moisture within miles, and the clay was baked so hard to be penetrated at all it must be broken with a hatchet. A keen native guide presently discerned little tracks on the ground—faintest indication of life, apparently—and, having hacked into the clay to the depth of about a foot, unearthed a spherical little chamber, about three inches in diameter, in which lay a dirty yellow frog. It was a water-holding frog and it was distended with a supply sufficient, perhaps, to enable it to survive a drought of a year and a half. And the water was pure and fresh. Being heartily squeezed, these frogs may yield a saving draft to lost and perishing travelers.

"Find a black fellow," said our bushman, "and you'll get water."

"What if the aboriginal is obdurate?"

"Ah, well, if he won't tell," the bushman explained, "you rope him by the neck to your saddle. When he gets thirsty he'll go to water right enough!"—Norman Duncan.

STAIN REMOVERS.

How to Bring Ugly Marks Out of Pet Linens or Garments.

For black ink on any white goods, wet with hot oxalic acid (poison). You may need more than one application if the cloth has been washed with soap several times. This will also remove iron rust.

Perhaps you would like to know how to remove ink or iron spots on fast dyed cottons or woolens. Citric acid cautiously and repeatedly applied will remove them.

To remove mildew from any white cloth stir one ounce of chloride of lime into a quart of cold water. After it has settled two or three hours pour the clear liquid off into a bottle, and it will be ready for use. Dip the mildewed spots in the liquid and let dry. If one application does not remove the stain entirely repeat the process. Rinse in clear water.

To clean grease from wool or silk apply a fluid made by dissolving two ounces of white soap and one-half ounce of borax in a quart of warm soft water, or rainwater is good. Pour a small quantity into a bowl, add the same amount of water and sponge the goods with it. After it is clean sponge with clear water and hang up to dry. Spots of paint, grease, pitch or oil may be removed from silk or linen by rubbing with purified benzine applied with a cloth or sponge. To destroy the odor of benzine add a little oil of lemon.

Fruit stains may be removed from clothing by pouring boiling water through them; ink spots by soaking in sour milk and afterward rubbing with a piece of lemon on which some salt has been sprinkled. Ink may also be removed from white linen by dipping the spots immediately into pure melted tallow; then wash out and the ink will have disappeared. The above is for fresh stains.

Remove tar spots by putting butter on them and then wash out the grease spots with soap and water.

To remove iron rust from clothing mix a teaspoonful of oxalic acid (poison) to three tablespoonfuls of hot water and apply repeatedly.

Frenzied Hindenburgers.

"Hindenburg Peace" advocates—the Pan-Germans and Prussian militarists who are clamoring for annexations and indemnities—have now started a door-to-door canvass to popularize their wild views. They are distributing circulars in the streets, depositing them at the doors of houses and flats, and even having them folded into the newspapers. One of these documents has reached The London Daily Mail from a neutral source.

Headed "Appeal to German Men and Women!" it starts with a frenzied "admonition" to remember what Germany's enemies have in pickle for a defeated Fatherland. "Besides great tracts of German territory the foe wants a war indemnity of £800,000,000 a year, in order to make us tributory to him for a century. In addition, he wants German mines and German factories to supply him with their products free of charge and to enslave the German working classes for his own enrichment. Think of it! Before the war the German imperial debt amounted to only £3 15s per head. If Germany accepts a peace without annexations and indemnities the debt will amount to £125 per head, while the tax burden of every citizen will be quintupled!"

Albania, the New N[illegible]

Possesses Long [illegible],

But Was Almost Unknow[illegible]

MORE than a [illegible] ago, Gibbon [illegible] Albania tha[illegible] country, within [illegible] which is less known [illegible] of America." Such [illegible] would not, to-day, [illegible] a quite a terra incogn[illegible] nearly all that Gibbon [illegible] vey by it is still true [illegible] have been people, [illegible] for instance, who have [illegible] excursions through Albania, [illegible] very fact that such excursions are regarded as notable is [illegible] illustration of how little the world knows of the country. [illegible] one of the "oldest countries in the world," and its people have been strangely free from the revolutionary changes which have swept over practically every other nation in Europe.

As to the origin of the people of "the white uplands," no one can speak with any certainty. About as much or as little is known about the origin of the Albanians as is known about the origin of the Basques of the Pyrenees. The little that is known of their country shows that they were influenced by Greek civilization, then by Roman civilization; whilst, from the fifth century onwards, it is possible, from the outside, at any rate, to scan their history without any serious break. The more that is known of this history the more astonishing does it appear [illegible]ed their national characteristics to the remarkable extent that they have done. It is one long story of invasion, and again invasion. First the Goths, in the fourth and fifth centuries; then the Serbo-Croats, then the Bulgarians, each in turn establishing their rule over the country. Then, in the eleventh century, came the inevitable Norman in the person of Robert Guiscard. Robert had surrounded himself with the usual band of soldiers of fortune, and he possessed himself of Durazzo; whilst his son, Bohemud, defeated the Greeks, who then held sway over the country in several battles. Finally, however, having lost Durazzo through treachery, and failing to regain it, Bohemud retired to Italy. Thereafter, Southern Albania and Epirus remained under Byzantine domination until 1204, when, after the capture of Constantinople by the Crusaders, Michael Comnenus, a member of the imperial family, retired to Epirus, and founded there an independent sovereignty known as the Despotate of Epirus. Meanwhile, the rest of Albania passed into the hands of the Sicilian kings and the house of Anjou, who called their possessions the Kingdom of Albania, and waged unremitting warfare on the Byzantine emperors. Then, in the middle of the fourteenth century, came that wonderful, though short-lived, period of Serbian ascendancy under Stefan Dushan, who included all Albania in his empire, and took the title of Emperor of the Greeks, Slavs, and Albanians. It was after the break-up of Dushan's empire, which took place about 1358, that the Albania, as it exists to-day, began to emerge, the Albania ruled by many chiefs, great and small, who recognized no authority above their own, and who neither sought nor encouraged anything in the nature of national cohesion. Only once did the Albanians combine themselves for a common purpose, and that was when, under the famous George Kastriot, they arose to resist the oncoming Turk, in the Fifteenth Century. Ultimately, the Turks, under Muhammed II., succeeded in securing the submission of the country; but the Albanian was never really conquered. Turkish authority was always most nominal, and any attempt on the part of Constantinople to enforce it invariably produced widespread revolt.

Many of the chieftains, indeed, maintained almost complete independence. This was notably so in the case of Ali Pasha of Tepelen, the Lion of Janina, in the early part of the last century. Having subdued all his neighbors, he ruled undisputed over a territory stretching from the Adriatic to the Aegean, and maintained direct relations with foreign powers. Ali Pasha was overthrown in 1822, but the spirit of independence which he embodied remained amongst the Albanian chieftains quite unimpaired. The efforts of the European powers, since the close of the second Balkan war, to weld the country into some semblance of national unity are too well known to need recounting. It used to be said of the Albanian that he had but two ambitions: one to possess a rifle, and the other not to pay taxes. This would still seem to be a fairly just summing up of his character.

... interest ... anything ... various halls contained. The ... where the latest affair in Edison inventions was giving a recital by Mr. Hardy Williamson, was always packed, and many a woman sighed: "Isn't it perfectly lovely?" after the last notes of "Somewhere a Voice is Calling." To tell the sober truth, it was highly enjoyable. I have always hated phonographs and such things as might be called "canned music," and have planned to throw bombs at a neighbor's gramophone when it sang "Nearer My God to Thee" through its ugly nose. But this was different—very different—and Mr. Edison has, at last, succeeded in taking the twang of the recreated voice.

... Art Gallery was crowd...

FROM among a dozen talking machine exhibits, from hundreds of other splendid exhibits, from a thousand interesting items, Toronto Saturday Night, one of Canada's foremost Journals, found the Re-Creation Concerts, given at the Toronto Exhibition by Hardy Williamson and The New Edison, in unison, worthy of such detailed compliments. The very fact that they were so impressed by these concerts proves more conclusively than words that The New Edison is not a "talking machine" but a wonderful musical instrument that Re-Creates the real music.

¶ Over 10,000 people attended these concerts where Hardy Williamson sang in unison with his own voice on and not one but who realized the vast difference between the Edison, which could sustain such a test, and the "talking machines" they had heard.

¶ You who feel as Saturday Night did, that talking machines were a nuisance will become converted as they did, when you hear Mr. Edison's favorite invention.

¶ You are cordially invited to have a demonstration of the New Edison in our showrooms, or in your own home without obligation.

Hygiene Tips For Her Who Fears Scrawniness.

If you would grow plump eat lots of eggs, drink milk and put butter on everything that you can. Don't be afraid of a little meat now and then. Eat cereals with cream and food made with milk, eggs and butter. Go to bed early and get full eight or nine hours' sleep every night, and, above all, don't worry.

To fatten the face whenever the opportunity offers try blowing out the cheeks as you sometimes see little children do, holding them in this position for the space of a minute or so. Do this night and morning and several times during the day.

To make the cheeks plump the following is another good way: Rub a good skin food in with the following movement: To treat the right cheek place the thumb of the left hand just beyond the corner of the mouth of the left cheek as a brace. Make rotary movements upward and outward, beginning at the corner of the mouth and making three diverging lines of manipulation over the cheek. Then with the right hand treat the left cheek. In three months your face will show a decided improvement.

Algoma and an Author

Sault Ste. Marie.

Alan Sullivan.

IF an author can be said to be the product of any particular district—and why not, just as much as a variety of flower, or fruit, or grain?—Alan Sullivan, the distinguished Canadian poet and novelist, should be most properly identified with Algoma, that curiously shaped county of Ontario, which stretches from the cities and settlements of the shores of Lake Huron and Lake Superior, up through the 2,900 square miles of the Mississauga Forest Reserve, to the great furtrading territories three hundred and sixty miles north, where it is bounded by the Albany River, the chief tributary of James Bay. The southern shores of this county were colonized some thirty years ago at the instance of C. P. R. agents, by hardy pioneers from the older counties of Kincardine and Bruce, but the city of Sault Ste Marie has its roots in the remoter past, as it was a trading post for the voyageurs, who travelled for the furtraders of Montreal into the far West. Alan Sullivan, whose father was Bishop of the Algoma Diocese, was at one time engineer of the work of construction and ballasting the Algoma branch of the C. P. R. between Sudbury and the Sault Ste Marie, and uses the local color in several of his short stories. "It was fascinating," he says, "in those days to watch the psychological effect of the arrival of the track, or even of the survey party on the settlers. They brightened up, and looked at their farms with new eyes. They were in touch with the world that heretofore had seemed so distant." The bush fires, the miners, the hunters, the mail carriers, the Indian agents, and the trappers have provided rich material for Alan Sullivan's stories, some of the best of which have been collected in the volume called "The Passing of Owl-I-But." More recently he has enlarged his field, and in his latest volume "The Inner Door," he takes for atmosphere the labor movement in a small industrial town. But the town is still in Ontario, a fact that makes it all the more interesting to the Canadian reader, who takes an interest in the now rapid growth of a distinctive Canadian literature.

WINTER cold and drifting snow do not mar the comfort of motoring in a Ford Sedan, the car that completely protects you from every weather at all times.

High winds cannot blow you "to pieces". Irritating dust and rain can be entirely shut out, while on warm, pleasant days the windows may be lowered, so that the air circulates freely.

GETTING OUR DAILY BREAD

The subject of bread is of special interest at the present time. It is no longer a question of the housewife forcing a reluctant miller and baker to make flour and bread of fictitious whiteness by the use of alum, bleaching agents, or intensive bolting states an editorial in the current number of The Canadian Chemical Journal.

The point of importance is to utilize the wheat supply for human beings to the greatest possible extent. The point at issue is as to the proportion of the wheat grain which the human organism can utilize.

This history of this question may be summarized as follows: When chemical analytical methods had sufficiently developed, it was soon demonstrated [illegible] as compared with white flour, the whole wheat grain contained larger proportion of certain important food elements, such as nitrogen. The first round was thus won by the whole wheat people.

Further scientific knowledge indicated, however, that chemical analysis takes us only a short distance towards the solution of the problem. The next question being what proportion of the material can be digested by the organism. Appropriate experiments demonstrated that white bread is more completely digested than whole white bread. Round two went, therefore, to the credit of the "white breadders."

A further problem now arose concerning "roughage". The intestines cannot function correctly unless they are provided with a proper quantity of indigestible material of suitable quality. The problem may therefore, be put in this form: Does whole wheat bread contain "roughage" of desirable quality in the correct quantity?

So far as the terms "white and "whole wheat" flour have been used, but it is important to point out that at any place it is difficult, and in most places impossible to purchase whole wheat flour or meal. The substances marked under such names as "whole wheat" or "Graham" flour are almost always mixtures of white flour and bran, in variable proportion. The properties of such mixtures are quite different from those of real whole wheat meal. Bread made from the former is much inferior in taste and nourishing value to that made from the latter; in short, and conclusions drawn from the behavious of such "Graham" flours are quite fallacious if applied to that of real whole wheat meal.

Finally, there is the most important question of the presence and relative quantities of vitamines in the different portions of the wheat grain.

The fact that the debate as to the respective merits of white and "brown" or "Graham" bread has proceeded during a period of upwards of sixty years, proves one thing conclusively, viz., that the knowledge at present available is insufficient to decide the question at issue. Unfortunately, the discussion has frequently been carried on by people much more distinguished for their partisanship than for their knowledge of chemistry and physiology.

The order of the British Food Controller made some months ago, prescribing the universal use in the country of (approximately) whole wheat meal, places the entire subject in a radically new position. There is now provided, for the first time, an enormous wealth of definite physiological data. Soon after the order became effective, complaints were made that, in certain cases, symptoms of diarrhoea had developed. In consequence of these complaints the British Government has recently appointed a strong committee to inquire into the whole question. It is to be anticipated that the committee will soon publish a report which will go far to settle the entire controversy.

AN UNEXPECTED BOOMERANG.

A Case In Which the Chickens Came Home to Roost.

MARTIN W. LITTLETON was talking at the Garden City Golf club about cross examination.

"I am a foe to harsh and overbearing cross examiners," he said, "and I wish they would all fare like Councilman Dash.

"Councilman Dash was the prosecutor in a case of alleged election fraud. His own election, a municipal one, had been all right, but in the recent state election he hoped to prove serious corruption.

"The councilman began to cross examine a voter named Washington White.

"'Wash,' he said, 'have you got any fixed income?'

"'What's that, sir?' Wash asked. 'I don't quite understand the question, sir.'

"'Have you got any fixed income?' said the councilman. 'That is to say, are there any set sums of money or appurtenances assured you on certain dates?'

"'Oh, yes, sir,' said Wash. 'Yes, there is, sir.'

"'Oho,' sneered the councilman, 'you have got a fixed income, then, have you? Well, tell us what it is.'

"'You know yourself, sir,' said Washington reproachfully, 'that every election day, just as sure as it comes around, you give me $2 and a ham.'"—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Outlet For Her Feelings.

The lovely young lady and her boresome escort were sitting in the drawing room. He had taken her to the theater and brought her safely home, which was really all that was required of him. But still he stayed and talked and couldn't seem to know what polite yawns signified.

Finally the young woman said.

"Mr. Rubbitin, would you mind closing that door? I feel a draft."

He tried and tried but the door wouldn't latch.

"I fear it can't be done," he announced.

"Yes, it can, if you know how," said she. "You have to close it from the outside."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

She Might Do That Much.

"I wish," he said, "you would wear a green wig."

"But," she replied, "this red one is more becoming to me."

"I can't help that. My eyes are rather weak, and green is restful to them."—Chicago Record Herald.

Impossible.

"There goes that Mrs Gadabout. Do you know, I've heard that her poor husband is absolutely tied to her apron strings."

"Nonsense! I don't believe she's had an apron on since they've been married."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Lady Explained.

A young woman with fifteen bundles boarded the street car the other afternoon when I was on my way to my suburban residence. She was returning from a shopping tour. I helped her upon the car and piled her bundles about her. A man got on at the same time and took a seat on the other side of the lady. When the car came to my street I was surprised to see her rise and begin to pick up her bundles. Instantly my sense of chivalry prompted me to help her off the car, and, as I was going in the same direction, I asked permission to carry her bundles. The man got off also and started on ahead. I was loaded down like a camel crossing the desert. We trudged along about a half mile. The man turned in at a gate. When we reached the gate the young woman thanked me and said:

"This is as far as I go. I live here. Thank you very much."

"But the man ahead of us, the man who came out on the car with us, turned in here too."

"Yes," she said. "He is my husband, but he hates to carry packages through the street."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Incredible.

"I wouldn't have believed it of her."

"Neither would I. Jane is the last girl in the world I would have thought such a thing of."

"She doesn't seem like that sort of person."

"Indeed, she doesn't. I'd have taken my oath that she wouldn't do such a thing."

"Oh, you never can tell. I've known girls who have been to college to do worse things."

"Well, what did Jane do, anyway?"

"What did she do? She led a heart when Agnes was sitting there with a whole handful of clubs."—Detroit Free Press.

Wrong Diagnosis.

A man called upon a physician for advice. The physician diagnosed the case as one of nerves and prescribed accordingly. The fee was $5 and the prescription $2. The man had only $5. He said to the physician:

"Doc, $5 is all I have. Lend me $2 and I'll have the prescription filled."

The physician gazed at the man for a moment, then said: "I have made a mistake in my diagnosis. Your nerve is all right. You are afflicted with an enlarged gall. There is no remedy for that."—Judge.

LABOR MEN IN POLITICS

Ottawa Citizen Says the Move to Elect Workingmen Should be General.

(Ottawa Citizen)

The formation of an independent labor party is under way in the Capital, the immediate object of this organization being, apparently, to nominate a labor candidate at the forthcoming elections. That in itself is quite a legitimate aim but it is to be regretted that the Ottawa labor party advocates have not gone about the business of the formation of a policy and the enunciation of a platform in conjunction with representatives of labor from all over the Dominion. Localized labor movements cannot achieve any permanent benefit for labor as a whole. The fact that labor has had no voice in the legislative affairs of the Dominion, except such voice as it pleased the party in power to listen to, is due wholly to the fact that the strength of labor has been wasted locally instead of being applied nationally. There has always been a labor representative in parliament on the one side or the other, but any legislation for the good of the workers, in these circumstances, has been in the form of a favor to the laboring classes. Labor has never yet obtained legislation of its own force and initiative; always, progressive measures have been at the whim of the party in power.

Another representative from Ottawa or any other constituency in the federal house will not improve matters, that is any representative elected as an individual or as representative of the labor element in any particular constituency. If, however, half a hundred labor candidates, for example were nominated throughout Canada at the forthcoming elections and only one were elected, the presence of that one representative would be far more significant than if he were sent to the commons by a localized labor sentiment. Until the labor element in Canada can break away from party, not in isolated cases, but as a whole, it would seem a waste of energy to attempt to secure legislation favorable to the cause of labor by the presence of one or two representatives in the commons. These members would be regarded and rightly so, not as representative of a great and growing and united movement, but as evidence of the division of labor into local camps each with its own petty aims and ambitions. While The Citizen would be glad to see a new party in the field independent of the existing organizations, and would welcome particularly a party devoted to the welfare of the workers and producers, there is small encouragement for independance in politics in the nomination of labor candidates in one or two constituencies.

COAL SUPPLY IS ASSURED

Cleveland Gets Good News From Fuel Controller

Cleveland, O., Oct. 13.—Federal Coal Administrator Harry A. Garfield, was here and assured Cleveland that it would not suffer from coal shortage at any time during the winter. With Mr. Garfield came the first snowstorm of the winter and predictions of freezing temperature by the local weather bureau. Demands for coal have doubled. Mr. Garfield made this decisive statement:

"We have got to get the coal; we have the power to get it; we are going to get it."

STRONG PEOPLE NEEDED

The need for people to be healthy is urgent. Those whom illness has put outside the ranks of robust men and women feel their position keenly. They are handicapped in every walk of life and weak men and nerve-worn women need more earnestly than ever to put their health right and become active and strong. Many who began "patching" months ago are as ill now as on the day they began vainly tinkering with common drugs. Every ailing man and woman should remember that the ills of debility, nerve exhaustion, indigestion, sleeplessness, neuralgia and depression come from a faulty blood supply. Worry, over-worked or other causes have impoverished the blood and left the life-stream impure. The nerves thereby are starving and the whole system is languishing for new blood. In this condition many thousands have won back strong nerves and new health and strength through the new rich blood Dr. Williams Pink Pills actually makes. In a weak or bloodless condition it is not only a waste of time and money, but also a further menace to your health to tinker with common drugs. Follow the example of so many thousands by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, and they will transform you into healthy, active men and women.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CANADA

GEORGE the FIFTH, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India.

To all to whom these presents shall come, or whom the same may in anywise concern—GREETING:

A Proclamation calling out the men comprised in Class 1 as described by the Military Service Act, 1917

E. L. Newcombe.
The Deputy Minister of Justice, Canada

WHEREAS it is provided by our Militia Act of Canada, Revised Statutes of Canada, 1906, chapter 41, Section 69, that our Governor-General of Canada in Council may place our militia of Canada or any part thereof on active service anywhere in Canada, and also beyond for the defence thereof, at any time when it appears advisable so to do by reason of emergency;

And Whereas that part of our militia of Canada known as the Canadian Expeditionary Force is now engaged in active service overseas for the defence and security of Canada, the preservation of our Empire and of human liberty; and it is necessary owing to the emergencies of the war to provide re-enforcements for our said Expeditionary Force in addition to those whose inclination or circumstances have permitted them to volunteer;

And Whereas by reason of the large number of men who have already left agricultural and industrial pursuits in our Dominion of Canada in order to join our Expeditionary Force as volunteers, and by reason of the necessity of maintaining under these conditions the productiveness or output of agriculture and industry in our said Dominion, we have determined by and with the advice and consent of our Senate and House of Commons of Canada, that it is expedient to secure the men so required, not by ballot as provided by our said Militia Act, but by selective draft; such re-enforcement, under the provisions of the Military Service Act, 1917, hereinafter referred to, not to exceed one hundred thousand men;

And Whereas it is accordingly enacted in and by the provisions of an Act of our Parliament of Canada, holden in the 7th and 8th years of our reign, and known as the Military Service Act, 1917, that every one of our male subjects who comes within one of the classes described and intended by the said Act shall be liable to be called out on active service in our Canadian Expeditionary Force for the defence of Canada, either within or beyond Canada; and that his service shall be for the duration of the present war and demobilization after the conclusion of the war;

And Whereas the men who are under the provisions of the said last mentioned Act, liable to be called out, are comprised in six classes of which Class 1 is, by the provisions of the said Act, defined to consist of all our male subjects, ordinarily, or at any time since the 4th day of August, 1914, resident in Canada, who have attained the age of twenty years, who were born not earlier than the year 1883, and were on the 6th day of July, 1917, unmarried, or are widowers but have no child, and who are not within any of the following enumerated

EXCEPTIONS:—

1. Members of our regular, or reserve, or auxiliary forces, as defined by our Army Act.
2. Members of our military forces raised by the Governments of any of our other dominions or by our Government of India.
3. Men serving in our Royal Navy, or in our Royal Marines, or in our Naval Service of Canada, and members of our Canadian Expeditionary Force.
4. Men who have since August 4th, 1914, served in our Military or Naval Forces, or in those of our allies, in any theatre of actual war, and have been honourably discharged therefrom.
5. Clergy, including members of any recognized order of an exclusively religious character, and ministers of all religious denominations existing in Canada at the date of the passing of our said Military Service Act.
6. Those persons exempted from military service by Order in Council of August 13th, 1873, and by Order in Council of December 6th, 1898;

And Whereas it is moreover provided by our said Military Service Act that our Governor-General of Canada in Council may from time to time by proclamation call out on active service as aforesaid any class of men in the said Act described, and that all men within the class so called out shall, from the date of such proclamation, be deemed to be soldiers enlisted in the military service of Canada and subject to military law, save as in the said Act otherwise provided; and that the men so called out shall report and shall be placed on active service in the Canadian Expeditionary Force as may be set out in such proclamation or in regulations; but that they shall, until so placed on active service, be deemed to be on leave of absence without pay;

And Whereas it is also provided by the said Act that at any time before a date to be fixed by proclamation an application may be made, by or in respect of any man in the class to be called out, to one of our local tribunals, established in the manner provided by the said Act in the province in which such man ordinarily resides, for a certificate of exemption from service upon any of the following

GROUNDS OF EXEMPTION:—

(a) That it is expedient in the national interest that the man should, instead of being employed in military service, be engaged in other work in which he is habitually engaged;

(b) That it is expedient in the national interest that the man should, instead of being employed in military service, be engaged in other work in which he wishes to be engaged and for which he has special qualifications;

(c) That it is expedient in the national interest that, instead of being employed in military service, he should continue to be educated or trained for any work for which he is then being educated or trained;

(d) That serious hardship would ensue, if the man were placed on active service, owing to his exceptional financial or business obligations or domestic position;

(e) Ill health or infirmity;

(f) That he conscientiously objects to the undertaking of combatant service and is prohibited from so doing by the tenets and articles of faith, in effect on the sixth day of July, 1917, of any organized religious denomination existing and well recognized in Canada at such date, and to which he in good faith belongs;

And that if any of the grounds of such application be established, a certificate of exemption shall be granted to such man.

And Whereas moreover it is enacted in and by the provisions of an Act of our Parliament of Canada holden in the 7th and 8th years of our reign, and known as the War Time Elections Act, that certain persons thereby disqualified from voting, with such of their sons as on polling day are not of legal age, shall be exempt from combatant military and naval service;

And Whereas it is further provided by our said Military Service Act that applications for exemption from service shall be determined by our said local tribunals, subject to appeal as in the said Act provided, and that any man, by or in respect of whom an application for exemption from service is made, shall, so long as such application or any appeal in connection therewith is pending, and during the currency of any exemption granted him, be deemed to be on leave of absence without pay;

And Whereas our Governor-General of Canada in Council has determined to call out upon active service as aforesaid the men included in Class I as in the said Act and hereinbefore defined or described;

Now Therefore Know Ye that we do hereby call out the said Class 1, comprising the men in our said Military Service Act, 1917, and hereinbefore defined or described as to the said class belonging, on active service in our Canadian Expeditionary Force for the defence of Canada, either within or beyond Canada, as we may, in the command or direction of our Military Forces, hereafter order or direct.

And we do hereby strictly command, require and enjoin that each man who is a member of the said class shall, on or before the 10th day of November, 1917, in the prescribed form and manner, report himself for military service, unless application for his exemption shall then have been made by him or by another person entitled to apply on his behalf; wherein our loving subjects, members of the said class, are especially charged not to fail, since not only do their loyalty and allegiance require and impose the obligation of careful and implicit obedience to these our strict commands and injunctions, but moreover, lest our loving subjects should be ignorant of the consequences which will ensue if they fail to report within the time limited as aforesaid, we do hereby forewarn and admonish them that any one who is hereby called out, and who without reasonable excuse fails to report as aforesaid, shall thereby commit an offence, for which he shall be liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for any term not exceeding five years with hard labour, and he shall nevertheless, if we so require, be compelled to serve immediately in our said Expeditionary Force.

And we do hereby proclaim and announce that for the greater convenience of our subjects, we have directed that prescribed forms, for reporting for service, and for application for exemption from service, may, at any time on or before the said 10th day of November, 1917, be obtained at any post office in our Dominion of Canada; and that reports for service and applications for exemption from service, if obtained at any of our said post offices and properly executed, shall be forwarded by our postmaster at the post office from which the same are obtained to their proper destination as by our regulations prescribed, free of postage or any other charge.

And we do further inform and notify our loving subjects that local tribunals have been established in convenient localities throughout our Dominion of Canada for the hearing of applications for exemption from service upon any of the statutory grounds, as hereinbefore set out; that these our local tribunals so established will begin to sit in the discharge of their duties on the 8th day of November, 1917, and that they will continue to sit from day to day thereafter, as may be necessary or convenient, at such times and places as shall be duly notified, until all applications for exemption from service shall have been heard and disposed of; also that men belonging to the class hereby called out who have not previously to the said 8th day of November, 1917, reported for service, or forwarded applications for exemption through any of our post offices as aforesaid, may make applications in person for exemption from service to any of our said tribunals, on the 8th, 9th or 10th day of November, 1917.

And we do hereby moreover notify and inform our loving subjects who are within the class hereby called out, that if, on or before the 10th day of November, 1917, they report themselves for military service, or if, on or before that day, application for exemption from service be made by them or on their behalf, they will not be required to report for duty, or be placed upon active service as aforesaid, until a day, not earlier than the 10th day of December, 1917, which will, by our registrar for the province in which they reported or applied, be notified to them in writing by registered post at their respective addresses as given in their reports for service, or applications for exemption from service, or at such substituted addresses as they may have respectively signified to our said registrar; and we do hereby inform, forewarn and admonish the men belonging to the class hereby called out that if any of them shall, without just and sufficient cause, fail to report for duty at the time and place required by notice in writing so posted, or shall fail to report for duty as otherwise by law required, he shall be subject to the procedure, pains and penalties by law prescribed as against military deserters.

Of all of which our loving subjects, and all others whom these presents may concern, are hereby required to take notice, rendering strict obedience to and compliance with all these our commands, directions and requirements, and governing themselves accordingly.

CURIOUS QUERIES ANSWERED

"Carnival", is the name which was originally applied to feasting times and festivals just before Lent, when everyone ate his fill of meat, which was, of course, forbidden during the Lenten season. The word comes from the Italian words "carne," meaning "flesh" and "vale," "farewell."

You remember the clicking sound made by castanets? This sound is so much like the sound of a chestnut when it bursts, during roasting, that castanets took the name from the Spanish "castana," meaning "chestnut."

When we say a thing is "bran new" or "brand new," we mean that it is so new that the maker's mark or brand has not been worn or rubbed off.

In Germany—before the war—bullfinches were trained to whistle certain airs. The birds were given nine months' careful training, which began when they were nestlings and was kept up until after their first moulting.

Do you know that our word "butcher" literally means "a slaughterer of goats" and comes from "boucher" or "boc," meaning "goat".

The custom of putting two buttons on the back of a man's coat is more than a hundred years old and originated when every gentleman carried a sword, the sword belt having been suspended from two buttons on the back of the coat.

The pansy or heart's ease takes its name from "panacea," meaning "all-heal." The name was given it by the Greeks who considered it a cure for all diseases and sorrows.

The privileges that are popularly supposed to belong to women during leap year originated in 1228 by an Act of the Scotish Parliament, which said that during the reign of Queen Margaret any woman, of high or low estate, should have the liberty of asking any man she wished to be her husband. If he refused to marry her he was fined 100 pounds or less, according to his means, unless he could prove that he was betrothed to another woman.

The cultivation of barley is extremely ancient, for it has been found in the oldest Egyptian monuments and in remains of Lake Dwellers of the Stone Age in Switzerland. Barley is now ranked sixth among cereals, being preceded by wheat, rice, maize, oats and rye.

You've heard the myth about Achilles' heel, haven't you? Achilles, you know, was the son of Thetis, and his mother wishing to make him [illegible] didn't use guns in those days— dipped him, while he was still a baby, into the river Styx. She held him in the river by one of his little feet, and the water failed to touch the heel which was covered by her hand, leaving it the only vulnerable spot on his body.

The earliest that women were allowed to act in women's parts on the stage was in 1662, when Charles II. licensed them to do so. Up to that time, women's parts had been taken by men and boys.

There is an old story that says the [illegible] is because, to prevent rearing the voice of the charmer, it lays one ear on the ground and thrusts its tail into the other.

Of course you have noticed how the leaves of the aspen tree quiver almost constantly, and undoubtedly, you know that the reason for this is that they are attached to the twigs with a slight twist of the stem. There is, however, an old legend which says that Judas stood under the aspen tree when he betrayed Christ, and the aspen was so frightened and shocked at the infamous act, that its leaves have trembled ever since.

Feeding the Wild Creatures In a Well Managed Zoo—Children Enjoy Seeing Them Eat Their Food—Some of the Animals Have Good Manners.

Well, said Uncle Ben to Little Ned and Polly Ann, I am going to tell you about

THE MONKEYS' PARTY.

Recently I went to the city and while there visited the park to see the animals. As I wandered about, feeling lonesome and out of place, as uncles are apt to do when they go to a place like that without any little boy or girl to keep them company, I noticed two little chaps trotting along in front of me.

"Hurry up!" one called, looking back of him. "You'll miss it if you don't hurry up."

An older lad, walking along with a book under his arm, smiled at me, and I smiled back.

"What is it the little fellows are so anxious to see?" I asked him.

"The big monks," replied the tall brother. "They feed 'em at a table about this time every day."

They were such nice, friendly lads that I asked if I might go with them to see this sight. They said "Of course" so cordially that I felt myself quite at home with them.

We reached the monkeys' cages after a short walk, and the little boys climbed up to some seats built for the little folks.

In this zoo the animals are made as comfortable as wild creatures shut up in cages can be made.

In the outdoor cage in front of which we sat were several small tables and some chairs. At a certain time a man—the keeper—in uniform came into this cage and, opening a door into the next one, called to the big monkeys in there. They came trooping into his cage and seated themselves in the chairs at the table.

Then one monkey, wearing a white coat and trousers, passed the plates to the monkeys at the table. Then he gave them forks. Next the keeper passed the food—fruit neatly cut into pieces.

The monkeys began to eat it with their forks, and the way some of those monkeys could handle their forks and their manners at table were a lesson for some boys and girls. When he had eaten his fruit each monkey was given a cup of milk, out of which he drank with great enjoyment.

One monkey was naughty and had his ears boxed by the keeper. This monkey sat with his hand on his head for the rest of the meal. He thought if he covered his ears the keeper could not box them again.

When the meal was over the monkeys were ready to go back to their cage. The children cheered as they climbed down from the high seats. So did Uncle Ben.

Beautiful Memorial Service.

The memorial service held in St Thomas' Church was most solemn and impressive. The clergy, robed in their surplices, marched in procession from the vestry to the front door of the church, where they were met by the choir, all uniting in singing that grand old hymn, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," as they returned to the chancel. The first part of the service, consiting of prayers for the soldiers who are overseas in the fighting line, for the wounded, and for peace, was read by Rev. Jas. A. Elliott, rector of St. John's, Port Hope (formerly chaplain of the 136th B'n). The second part of the service, which related chiefly to those who had made the supreme sacrifice, was taken by Rev. Dr. Orchard, the head master of Trinity College, Port Hope. We are pleased to give a synopsis of Bishop Sweeney's eloquent discourse herewith:

In a Bible gathering of Holy Writ we come across four combination pictures which were painted by inspired writers of the Holy Gospel, two belonging to fathers and two belonging to mothers, and the predominating personality of all four is God in man made manifest. The nobleman coming to Christ and beseeching Him to heal his son in a distant city. A mother coming to Christ and beseeching Him to drive out the evil spirit in her daughter over on the distant coast. The widow whose son is being carried out for burial. They all represent parental concern, anguish and sorrow brought into close touch with infinite love. These things are written for our benefit. Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today, and forever. So these canvassers can never perish. They are immortal because they are part of the history of God Himself. Don't you think that we ought to linger long before these great paintings of Holy Writ? Four years ago did you ever think that you would become so familiar with death as you have become now? Yet so it is. Morning after morning we pick up our paper, and, unless we find some name that touches us very near, we pass it over as the fortune of war. We have grown so accustomed to the carnage, that death has grown to us a familiar thing. To this war our Canadian men have gone forth. They have swelled the ranks of those who have made the supreme sacrifice. Splendidly they have wrought and fought, magnificently have they done. I dare say that you have been reading of the British campaign in France and Flanders, by Sir Arthur Doyle. He says that no soldiers in the world can do better than the Canadian volunteers. As I go up and down through this diocese to speak about this great and terrible struggle, I see the sacrifices that parents, wives and sisters are making. I see the aching hearts, and yet there is a feeling of pride. There is such splendor of action on the part of the one who lays down his life, and so I have come for this beautiful service. There has been a note in the hymns that you have been singing, and there is a feeling amongst the friends that they would not have it otherwise, considering the cause they went for. We are here tonight to commemorate these seven who have laid down their lives. We have come to sympathise with the rector and his good wife in this great trouble, and with the friends of the others. We have come to make them feel there is a splendor in the sacrifice their son has made. He was a student of Trinity College, Port Hope, a graduate of Osgoode Hall, Toronto. He had a brilliant future ahead of him, but he heard the call of his country and sprang to arms, and went overseas and made the supreme sacrifice, and we are here tonight to express our heartfelt sympathy to his parents and to the friends of those others. You have heard those wonderful words of the Book of Wisdom telling you that the souls of the righteous are with God. After all, they are at peace. They have not ceased to be. They still have the recognition of those who are in the great beyond. There is a note of certainty that they are concerned in our interest and welfare. They are at rest, and yet they rest not day or night in perfect service for their Master. Would we bring them back? No, no. There they are at rest; they are at peace. They are in the enjoyment of a beatific Bishop. So we must comfort one another.

Will you again stand before these great word paintings of the Gospel? Will you see the face of the father as he speaks to the Master, asking Him to heal his son? He goes back home leisurely. So the friends of these heroes sorrow not as those who have no hope. They know it is well with the young men over whom they mourn.

At the close of his sermon, which was listened to with rapt attention by the large congregation, the Bishop pronounced the benediction and the whole service concluded with the hymn, "For all the saints who from their labors rest," sung by the choir and the clergy on their return to the church porch. The National Anthem was sung during the service.

Church Warden Mr. A. A. Smith read the Honor Roll containing the names of those who had enlisted from the various congregations of the parish of Cavan and who were in the fighting line, wounded, or who had made the supreme sacrifice.

Rev. Mr. Morgan of Perrytown, Rural Dean Kidd of Cartwright, and Rev. A. G. E. Westmacott took part in the service. Mr. Ford Gould, B. A., presided at the organ.

Private Fred Budd Welcomed Home.

Private Fred Budd, who enlisted three years ago with the 21st Battalion, and had taken part in several big engagements, but owing to illness was compelled to go to the hospital several months ago, returned home Monday evening. On Tuesday afternoon a reception was given to Private Budd by the citizens. The procession was formed at the armories at 2 o'clock, headed by Mr. J. W. Hamilton, as director of cermonies, and the citizens' band, followed by the cadet corps and a number of autos, beautifully decorated, proceeded to the residence of Private Budd and conveyed him and family to the town hall, where speeches were made by Reeve Doak, Canon Allen, Rev. Dr. Lee and Rev. W. H. Higgs, and an address of welcome was read to Private Budd by Mr. W. S. Given. Private Budd replied in a few well-chosen words. The numbers given by the band were well rendered.

ELECTION IS LOOKED FOR DEC. 17

MR. B. F. ACKERMAN DECLINES TO SIT ON BOARD OF EDUCATION

Was Elected at Last Meeting to Fill Vacancy Caused by Death of Dr. Burnham—Gives No Reason for His Stand But This is Easily Divined.

Mr. B. F. Ackerman has sent a letter to Secretary Thompson of the Board of Education, on which he declines to sit as a member of the Board for the remainder of the year. At the meeting two weeks ago Mr. Ackerman was elected by his former colleagues to fill out the term of the late Dr. Burnham, who would have retired at the end of the present year.

Mr. Ackerman in his letter gives no reason for the stand he has taken. However, he does not lack justification. At the election a year ago he was rejected by a small majority in spite of his years of faithful and efficient service, for a man whose only claim to the public suffrage was that he had assailed his colleagues who had built up the admirable school system in this city before he himself was heard of in public life.

Mr. Ackerman was first elected to the Board when the Collegiate Institute was in process of construction. He was chairman of the finance committee when the King Edward School was built, and was one of the originators and supporters of that institution. The necessity for such a building was questioned at the time. It is already filled to capacity, so that the wisdom and foresight of Mr. Ackerman in this instance has been amply vindicated. Business ability on the School Board counts rather than a turn for political manipulation.

In 1916 Mr. Ackerman had plans prepared to remodel the South Central School. It could have been made modern and up to date in every respect for an outlay of $12,000, just as the Central School building was overhauled some years ago. The City Council approved of this proposition after a personal investigation by the finance committee, and the money was voted.

While Mr. Ackerman was absent from the city a special meeting of the Board was called, and it was decided to put in a few minor improvements in the South Central building. That, it was held by the penny-wise economists, would suffice for a number of years. In less than one year the building was overcrowded. A new building in that district will be necessary to accommodate the growing school population. This will cost at least $60,000. Had Mr. Ackerman's plan been adopted, a school large enough for years to come could have been secured for $12,000.

Two of the older members of the Board are to retire at the end of the year. The loss of their services will be a serious matter to the city, as next year there are important matters to come up for consideration, including the erection of a new school. If, however, the public prefer to let politicians creep into the educational management of the city and to elect the politically ambitious rather than men with business training, they will have only themselves to blame.

LAKEFIELD CHEESE FACTORY TOTALLY WIPED OUT BY FIRE

Residence of Mr. F. G. Kendall, the Cheesemaker Also Destroyed—Home of Mr. Higgins Has Close Call—Loss About $5000 With Insurance of $2000.

(Special to The Review.)

Lakefield, Oct. 15.—The Lakefield cheese factory was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday night about 10 o'clock. The reflection of the fire was plainly seen from all sections of this city. The loss will amount to something like $5000, with insurance of $2000.

The fire started in the boiler room and was discovered by Mr. N. S. Higgins, who lived close to the scene. He gave the alarm, and a large crowd of Lakefield residents soon gathered, together with the fire-fighting apparatus from the village. This contrivance, however, failed to work, and a bucket brigade was at once formed.

The residence of the cheesemaker, Mr. F. G. Kendall, next door to the factory, was completely destroyed. The volunteer fire department, after a brave fight, succeeded in saving the residence of Mr. Higgins with all its contents.

There were about fifty cheese in stock at the time the fire broke out. Fortunately there had been a large shipment of cheese from the factory on Saturday, or these, too, would have been lost.

The loss of this factory is a serious matter to the dairy farmers in the community. It is the second loss of the same kind within a short time. A few months ago the Trewern cheese factory was destroyed by a boiler explosion, in which the proprietor, Mr. J. Chittick, lost his life. This district is now without a factory.

Saturday night's fire has made it again apparent that this village lacks fire protection and that something must be done by the council to remedy this condition.

POSTOFFICE IS OPEN EVENINGS TO ACCOMMODATE MEN IN CLASS 1

Men Who Cannot Sign up or Get Exemption Blanks During the Day Can Call Three Evenings a Week at Postoffice---Twenty-Two Men Examined This Morning and Thirteen up to High Mark.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings anyone wishing to sign up or apply for exemption papers at the Post Office may do so from 7:30 o'clock until 9 o'clock, if unable to do so during the day.

The same conditions prevail at the Armories today in regard to medical examinations as before the Military Service Proclamation was issued. From now on, however, until November 10, application by eligibles is compulsory and not voluntary. Every man knows whether he is in class 1 called to the colors or not, and must govern himself accordingly. Now, as heretofore, there are no special papers to secure for examination, and eligibles are expected to present themselves at the earliest possible moment. Should there be a rush at any one session, men will find the doctors ready to advise as to when they can handle applicants turned away by reason of pressure.

Twenty-two This Morning.

This morning proved a normally busy session in keeping with precedence, and nothing more. Twenty-two men were examined, nine of whom were employes of the Matthews-Blackwell Limited. The remainder also were city men. The score stood as follows:

Category A	13
Category B	2
Category E	7

Don't Be a Deserter.

The period for voluntary application by Class One men under the Military Service Act for medical examination expired with the issue of the proclamation on Saturday, and now such men are under compulsion to seek their medical grading certificates. Failing to undergo examination, and comply with the provisions of the proclamation by November 10th, they will be subjected to the procedure, pains and penalties prescribed by law against military deserters.

Saturday was a rush day at the armories, where Drs. Cameron, Eastwood and Greer handled 54 men, and this was a record-breaker for Peterborough. The Medical Board had not thought they could go one better than on Friday, when 53 were examined, and went home at nine o'clock Saturday night justifiably proud of their day's labors. The big majority of applicants were from out of town, and the registrar of Saturday night's examination recorded half a dozen from Norwood.

Total Grading.

With the close of Saturday's proceedings, the following certificates were filed:

Number examined	512
Graded in A Category	290
Graded in B Category	31
Graded in C Category	47
Graded in E Category	144

It will thus be seen that 512 men had been examined up to Saturday night, out of which 144 were classed as medically unfit for military duty of any nature whatever, showing a percentage of 28 rejections.

20 Saturday Afternoon.

Saturday afternoon's session was the busiest of the day, when twenty men were put through the test with the following results:

Category A	9
Category B	1
Category C	2
Category E	8

15 Saturday Night.

The physical quality of the men examined at this session was the lowest yet experienced, seven out of 15 tests being graded in E Category.

The following records were made:

Category A	7
Category B	2
Category C	0
Category E	7

BRITISH RAIDS INFLICT HEAVY LOSS ON ENEMY

No Further Infantry Engagements Reported on the Belgian Front.

DUTCH DANCER SHOT AT DAWN

Mata-Hari Was Convicted of Betraying Military Secrets to Huns.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Oct. 15.—No further infantry engagements have occurred on the British front in Belgium. In successful raids yesterday large losses were inflicted on the Germans. Following is the official account of these operations:

Our positions on the main ridge south of Broodseinde were heavily bombarded during the night by the enemy. No infantry action has taken place. In a successful raid carried out by us yesterday afternoon southeast of Monchy Lepreux east county troops captured 24 prisoners and two machine guns. Two hundred Germans were killed by infantry and seven of the enemy's dugouts were destroyed by explosives.

Mlle Mata-Hari, long known in Europe as woman of great attractiveness and with a romantic history, was, according to unofficial press dispatches accused of conveying to the Germans secrets of the construction of the Entente "tanks," this resulting in the enemy rushing work on a special gas to combat their operations. Her conviction was confirmed by a revision court and on Sept. 23 supreme court confirmed the previous findings.

CHICAGO WINS SIXTH GAME AND WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, Oct. 15.—The Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants meet in the sixth contest of the world's championship baseball series in the Polo Grounds today. While the McGraw men know their chances are desperate they are still hopeful of turning back the White Sox and making the series even again. What little betting there has been reported since Saturday's game favors the White Sox two to one though wagers at even money have been made that the Giants will win today.

Atmospheric conditions were the most favorable of the series in New York. The weather is warm and pleasing to the players after the frigid experience in Chicago last Saturday. Some of the players are sure that the erratic work by both teams in the fifth game was due to the low temperature.

Batteries.

The batteries were as follows:
New York—Benton and Rariden.
Chicago—Faber and Schalk.

First Inning

Chicago — Fletcher came in behind Benton and took J. Collins' hopper and threw him out. McMullen sent up a weak foul to Rariden. The stands booed Eddie Collins to the echo. Collins singled sharply over second. Herzog took Jackson's slow roller and tossed him out.—No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York — Eddie Collins threw out Burns at first, Burns hitting the first ball pitched. Herzog shot a single over Eddie McMullen's head. Kauff struck out, Faber's wide curves being too much for him. Zimmerman sent a long drive right into Jackson's hands.—No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Innings.

Chicago.—Faber struck out. John Collins popped to Herzog. Benton was employing a quick drop ball which he kept around the batters' knees. McMullen fanned.—No runs, no hits, no errors.

Benton tossed to Zimmerman, who ran after Collins and chased the Sox secondbaseman across the plate for a run. Jackson and Felsch scored on Gandil's single to right. Gandil was thrown out stretching the hit, Robertson to Herzog. Weaver sent a long fly to Burns. Schalk shot a hot single into left field. Faber walked. Fletcher threw out J. Collins.—Three runs, two hits and two errors.

New York — Eddie Collins took Kauff's roller and threw him out. Zimmerman sent a high fly to John Collins. Fletcher got a hit off McMullen's glove, the ball bounding to Weaver, who nearly threw the New York shortstop out by a line shot throw. Robertson sent a long fly to Felsch.—No runs, one hit and no errors.

Fifth Innings

Chicago — Benny Kauff robbed McMullen of a hit, coming in fast and getting his line drive. Burns took Collins' easy fly. Jackson struck at the ball so hard that he fell down and the crowd jeered. Herzog threw out Jackson.—No runs, no hits, no errors.

RUSSIAN NATION IS BEING LED TOWARDS ITS MOUNT CALVARY

Newspapers of New Republic Take Gloomy View of the Situation Arising from Landing of German Troops on Islands of Gulf of Riga.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Petrograd, Oct. 15.—German forces were landed on Oesel Island, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, and are pushing forward to the east and south, placing in a difficult position the Russian forces and batteries in the district of Arensthi, on the southern end of the island, and especially those on the Cerel peninsula. Military critics predict actions in the Gulf of Riga, followed by the development of the invasion of the mainland on the coast of Esthonia, rather than an attempt towards the Gulf of Finland, which is protected by mine fields which the Germans would have to sweep under the menace of the Russian fleet.

The newspapers exhibit alarm at the landing of the Germans on Oesel Island. The Bourse Gazette says the situation of the country is more complicated, because a solution must be found not only of the unsatisfactory state of affairs in the interior, but of the problem presented by the closing of the Gulf of Riga by the Germans. The Russkaya Volia says: "We are being led toward our Calvary, but perhaps we shall find our resurrection."

Russia's Calvary.

The Rech attributes the disaster partly to bad visibility and the unexampled political frivolity of the leaders of the Russian democracy. The socialist press takes the Maximalists to task. The Volia Naroda recalls Premier Kerensky's warning of the danger of a German coup in the Baltic, which was stigmatized by the leader of the Maximalists as an unworthy political manoeuvre. The newspapers insist on the necessity of an implacable struggle against the Maximalists.

Germans Take Capital.

Petrograd, Oct. 15.—The German forces which landed on the Russian island of Oesel at the head of the Gulf of Riga on Friday occupied Arensburg, the capital of island on Saturday. Arensburg is on the southern shore of Oesel Island. The northern group of the German warships, the statement adds, dispatched a torpedo boat squadron between the islands of Oesel and Dago which pressed back the Russian patrols. The Russian naval forces reinforced the patrol and accepted battle whereupon the German ships retired. Fighting for Oesel Island, the war office announces, continued all day yesterday.

ELECTION IS LOOKED FOR DEC. 17

MR. B. F. ACKERMAN DECLINES TO SIT ON BOARD OF EDUCATION

Was Elected at Last Meeting to Fill Vacancy Caused by Death of Dr. Burnham—Gives No Reason for His Stand But This is Easily Divined.

Mr. B. F. Ackerman has sent a letter to Secretary Thompson of the Board of Education, on which he declines to sit as a member of the Board for the remainder of the year. At the meeting two weeks ago Mr. Ackerman was elected by his former colleagues to fill out the term of the late Dr. Burnham, who would have retired at the end of the present year.

Mr. Ackerman in his letter gives no reason for the stand he has taken. However, he does not lack justification. At the election a year ago he was rejected by a small majority in spite of his years of faithful and efficient service, for a man whose only claim to the public suffrage was that he had assailed his colleagues who had built up the admirable school system in this city before he himself was heard of in public life.

If, however, the public prefer to let politicians creep into the educational management of the city and to elect the politically ambitious rather than men with business training, they will have only themselves to blame.

Eddie Collins dashed to third, Jackson remaining at first when Robertson threw to third. The New York infield came in. Benton took Felsch's grounder and ran over to tag Collins. Benton tossed to Zimmerman, who ran after Collins and chased the Sox secondbaseman across the plate for a run. Jackson and Felsch scored on Gandil's single to right. Gandil was thrown out stretching the hit, Robertson to Herzog. Weaver sent a long fly to Burns. Schalk shot a hot single into left field. Faber walked. Fletcher threw out J. Collins.—Three runs, two hits and two errors.

New York — Eddie Collins took Kauff's roller and threw him out. Zimmerman sent a high fly to John Collins. Fletcher got a hit off McMullen's glove, the ball bounding to Weaver, who nearly threw the New York shortstop out by a line shot throw. Robertson sent a long fly to Felsch.—No runs, one hit and no errors.

Fifth Innings

Chicago — Benny Kauff robbed McMullen of a hit, coming in fast and getting his line drive. Burns took Collins' easy fly. Jackson struck at the ball so hard that he fell down and the crowd jeered. Herzog threw out Jackson.—No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York.—Holke struck out on three pitched balls. Rariden walked, making Faber pitch to him. Wilhoit batted for Benton and also walked. Faber becoming unsteady. Burns forced Wilhoit, Weaver to E. Collins. Rariden went to third. Rariden and Burns scores on Herzog's three-base hit off the right field wall. The stands were in a frenzy. Kauff fouled out to Gandil.—Two runs, one hit and no errors.

Sixth Innings.

Chicago—Perritt went into the box for New York. Felsch walked. Gandil up. Felsch went out stealing, Rariden to Fletcher. Gandil struck out on three pitched balls. Herzog threw out Weaver. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Eddie Collins took Zimmerman's smash and threw him out. Fletcher sent up a high foul to Gandil. Robertson sent a single into right field. Eddie Collins threw

RUSSIAN NATION IS BEING LED TOWARDS ITS MOUNT CALVARY

Newspapers of New Republic Take Gloomy View of the Situation Arising from Landing of German Troops on Islands of Gulf of Riga.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Petrograd, Oct. 15.—German forces were landed on Oesel Island, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, and are pushing forward to the east and south, placing in a difficult position the Russian forces and batteries in the district of Arensthi, on the southern end of the island, and especially those on the Cerel peninsula. Military critics predict actions in the Gulf of Riga, followed by the development of the invasion of the mainland on the coast of Esthonia, rather than an attempt towards the Gulf of Finland, which is protected by mine fields which the Germans would have to sweep under the menace of the Russian fleet.

The newspapers exhibit alarm at the landing of the Germans on Oesel Island. The Bourse Gazette says the situation of the country is more complicated, because a solution must be found not only of the unsatisfactory state of affairs in the interior, but of the problem presented by the closing of the Gulf of Riga by the Germans. The Russkaya Volia says: "We are being led toward our Calvary, but perhaps we shall find our resurrection."

Russia's Calvary.

The Rech attributes the disaster partly to bad visibility and the unexampled political frivolity of the leaders of the Russian democracy. The socialist press takes the Maximalists to task. The Volia Naroda recalls Premier Kerensky's warning of the danger of a German coup in the Baltic, which was stigmatized by the leader of the Maximalists as an unworthy political manoeuvre. The newspapers insist on the necessity of an implacable struggle against the Maximalists.

Germans Take Capital.

Petrograd, Oct. 15.—The German forces which landed on the Russian island of Oesel at the head of the Gulf of Riga on Friday occupied Arensburg, the capital of island on Saturday. Arensburg is on the southern shore of Oesel Island. The northern group of the German warships, the statement adds, dispatched a torpedo boat squadron between the islands of Oesel and Dago which pressed back the Russian patrols. The Russian naval forces reinforced the patrol and accepted battle whereupon the German ships retired. Fighting for Oesel Island, the war office announces, continued all day yesterday.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1917

TOOTING FOR THE U. S.

CERTAIN Liberal newspapers, at a loss for legitimate arguments to use against the Borden Government, cite what the United States has done since declaring war against Germany, and, by the comparison thus instituted, seek to belittle what their own country has accomplished in the matter of national defence.

Canada has nothing to fear from the contrast. This country had 33,000 men ready for war six weeks after word reached here that Britain was in the fray. To equal this record the United States should have had half a million men ready for transport across the Atlantic in the same time. Canada, too, let it be remembered, was taken unawares. No one believed that such a war was possible, while the United States for nearly three years must have realized that a conflict with Germany was inevitable, and had the experience of other Allied Nations for guidance when the rupture finally came.

The United States is the richest country in the world. It has spent money lavishly for war purposes, but victory cannot be achieved with money alone. The appropriations voted by the last Congress are not in excess of the sums raised by Canada for the same purpose, when the wealth and populations of both countries are taken into consideration. Well as the Americans have done, the Canadian people have no reason to blush at the comparison, whatever self-seeking and narrow-spirited newspapers may say.

The following extract from the editorial columns of a newspaper which is an apostle of this little-Canadian spirit, serves to show the venom and the lack of information which inspires its attacks on the Borden Government. The paper referred to says, with a dreary sameness that is suggestive of the din made by a smal boy beating with an improvised drumstick on a tin can:

> Then, again, the government is at fault in not following the example of the United States in enacting legislation to prevent he importation of strong drink into prohibition provinces.

The Federal Government of the United States has, it is true, enacted such prohibition. It applies, however, only to those States in which the use or possession of liquor as a beverage had been declared illegal by the State legislature. The Federal Government in Canada enacted such legislation one year before similar action was taken in the United States. Any newspaper that ignores this fact is either suffering from a lack of information or is wilfully and maliciously untruthful. In either case, it is unfit to pose as a teacher of the people or as a critic of the Administration.

The United States Congress has no authority to abrogate State rights. All it can do is to back up State legislation, and the constitutional situation is the same in Canada's federation of provinces. The cause of any party is desperate indeed when the press that supports it is deprived of all weapons save that of misrepresentation.

AGAIN THE MIDDLEMAN.

ALONG THE NEW highway linking Toronto and Hamilton the farmers have engaged in a new enterprise by establishing vegetable stalls by the side of the road adjoining their farms. In these stalls they keep for sale to the passing autoist all varieties of the produce of their gardens. The city visitors are thus enabled to get their stock of vegetables fresh from the fields. It is maintained that the farmer can afford to sell his produce at a lower figure by thus eliminating the middleman.

The problem is not yet solved. In this case the farmer is his own middleman. If he hires a man to take charge of his stall, that man must be paid regular wages. If the farmer himself does the roadside business, he must take into consideration the value of his own time, which is surely worth something at home.

The world has been trying for years to eliminate the middleman. He is with us yet, and is likely to remain in some form or other so long as business is conducted and the principle of the division of labor is recognized.

SIR WILFRID'S PLATFORM.

SIR WILFRID has, apparently, only one plank in his platform. He has a single pledge which he repeats to all enquirers. If he is returned as Premier of Canada, he says he will leave at once for Europe to consult with the war officials as to what more is expected of Canada in the war.

That point has been settled to the satisfaction of everyone but the Liberal leader himself. Sir Robert Borden returned from Europe fully informed. Every letter sent home by a soldier in the trenches contains a cry for help. "Don't see us stuck," "We need reinforcements," "Come over and help us," are some of the pleas. Sir Wilfrid Laurier might consult his fellow-Liberal, Mr. N. W. Rowell, who visited the battle front last year, and came back convinced that conscription was the imperative duty of the government.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier would play for delay in the enforcement of conscription while the war went on and the cry for help still came from the trenches. He would stave off as long as possible the duty imposed upon him. Sir Wilfrid might as well go to Europe to consult with the Admiralty as to how Canada could render aid to the British navy. Five years ago he ignored the result of Sir Robert Borden's conference with the naval-experts on that question, and the result of his obstinacy still remains as a national reproach. All his promised trip to London would avail would be the confirmation of what Sir Robert Borden has disclosed.

Canada has reason for congratulation that at the head of this country's affairs there is a man who has the situation in hand, a man who has the confidence of both parties and who has called to his councils leaders from both sides who realize the Empire's peril. Is Canada likely to exchange such a man for another who confesses that after three years of a gruelling war he is still in the dark as to his country's duty?

REPEALING THE ACT.

"L'Autorite, a Liberal newspaper published in Montreal, in a special from Ottawa says:

"There is certainly astonishment in military circles in witnessing the docility with which the Province of Quebec accepts the Military Service Bill. In fact, those who predicted civil war in that province are no more considered at the present time than are the politicians in search of popularity, and, in fact, the time is very far back when people in Ottawa were seriously believing that a soldier would not be able to appear on the streets of Montreal without being armed to the teeth. Once more the French-Canadians have demonstrated the fact that they are so many little lambs, and as for the politicians who have placed at the head of their electoral program 'Repeal of the Conscription Law,' they are looked upon as so many fools, endeavoring to deceive the electorate. With the appointment of ten new senators which the Conservative party has the right to bring about, they will have a majority of twenty votes in the Senate, and even if the Liberals were to come to power, their majority in the House of Commons would always be blocked in the Upper House, making a repeal of the conscription law absolutely impossible."

This is a new one. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier were returned to power, a Conservative Senate might, it is true, stand between him and the repeal of the Military Service Act, but even such a Senate would be powerless to compel him to enforce a law to which he is unalterably opposed. A law yet on the statute books and ignored by those entrusted with its operation is more of a standing reproach to a community than a law which has been legally rendered of no effect.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

CONSCRIPTION and Union Government, Sir Wilfrid Laurier notwithstanding.

THE ONLY legitimate profit to be made out of this war is the safety of human liberty.

• • •

THE CANADIAN soldiers on the firing line need assistance, and their call should be considered first of all.

• • •

IT IS THE HAND that is unblistered by labor that is reaching out after the labor vote.

• • •

WITH BUTTER at fifty cents a pound, the new oleomargarine is likely to taste as good as the name itself is resonant.

IF GERMANY ever did produce any real democrats, it is evident that at some time or other they have all migrated.

• • •

COLUMBUS may have discovered America, but it was left to Sir Robert Borden and President Wilson to put it plainly on the map.

ONE OF the candidates for the local nomination has a newspaper and a barrel. The other has a marvellous faculty for making promises.

• • •

SEEING that a contemporary is so devoted to the advocacy of the penny bank, it is too much to expect it to say a word in favor of the only way left to help out the men in the trenches.

"WHY ARE GIRLS so prone to fall in love with the King's uniform?" asks an exchange. They do nothing of the kind. It's the man in the uniform that catches them.

IT TAKES the Military Service Act to further foster in the average man the delusion that the country cannot possibly plod along without him if he is sent overseas.

• • •

"MAN never is, but always to be, blest." Some of the Liberal papers that called loudest for union government do not appear more than half satisfied now that they have got it.

• • •

THERE ARE local Liberals who will knock Union Government for no other reason than that their own services to the party have been allowed to pass unnoticed.

ODDS AND ENDS FROM THE AMERICAN PRESS

The Only Lucky Germans.
(Calgary Herald.)

The luckiest men in the German army these days are those taken prisoners by the British. For them there is nothing but good times ahead; for the others, life is a succession of hells, each a little worse than the last, until the end comes or they, too, are taken prisoner.

Some Efficiency.
(Buffalo Express.)

Winston Churchill says that during the last week the British shell expenditure before Ypres was four times as great as in the corresponding week on the Somme. And next spring Britain will be still more abundantly supplied with shells. Yet the British hardly knew how to make a shell before the war began. Talk about German efficiency!

Edisonian Triumphs.
(Mail and Empire.)

It is announced that Edison has invented a ship that is invisible. About ninety-nine per cent. of the Edison inventions are of this description.

What He Thinks.
(Montreal Gazette.)

Hugh Guthrie put the case tersely in his speech at Guelph, when, in replying to a critic, he said he had not changed his coat, but had taken it off. That is likely to describe the case of many candidates as well as of many voters during the coming few months. The man and what he thinks on the great issue count more than the coat and its color, or even its existence.

Would Discard Voluntaryism.
(Financial Post.)

If we are to get men for the army by conscription, we should get funds for the Red Cross by taxation. Voluntary methods in both connections are inequitable and unfair.

The Price of Oleo.
(Hamilton Herald.)

No sooner is the announcement made that oleomargarine is to go on the free list than a clamor starts to have the price of oleomargarine fixed without delay. Let the price be fixed below the selling price in the States, and what would be the result? Why, no oleomargarine could be bought in the States for sale in Canada, and certainly nobody would begin the manufacture of it in this country.

SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO

From The Review of Oct. 15, 1900:

Sam Ling, a laundryman on Hunter street, was instantly killed by an electric current while holding an incandescent lamp in the basement of his premises.

The campaign for the approaching election, the contestants being Mr. James Kendry, M.P., and Mr. J. H. McClellan, was beginning to warm up.

WAYS OF PREVENTING FIRES

In American public schools they have not yet adopted the fad of penny banks, but they have something more to the purpose in what they call "Fire Prevention Day," when special instruction is given to children as to measures to be taken to prevent fires.

It is now quite generally perceived that the personal equation is uppermost in the problem of preventing destruction by fires and accidental injuries, both of which are economic manifestations. Prevention of both fires and accidents are both accented on Fire Prevention Day, probably because of this close relationship. Pains are therefore taken to teach children and adults the necessity of using common precautions against fires and accidents. The rules of the game are simple. One of the best summaries of them is found in a leaflet circulated among Chicago teachers on Fire Prevention Day. Since fire and accident prevention is a matter for daily practice, this set of rules may be quoted:

"Remove all rubbish from premises, especially from the attics and basements.

"Be careful about matches, and do not let children play with them.

"See that flues and heating appliances are clean and safe.

"Do not keep gasoline or benzine around the house. Many lives have been lost because of cleaning gloves, etc.

"Never use kerosene to start a fire.

"Do not carry lighted matches or candles into clothes closets.

"Ashes should never be placed in wooden boxes, barrels or baskets.

"Be very careful of the oil mop and oily rags, as they are very susceptible to spontaneous combustion.

"Locate your nearest fire alarm box and learn how to turn in an alarm.

"Do not hang electric light cords on nails.

"Do not use liquid polishes or insecticides in the vicinity of open flame lights. Many such compounds contain explosive oils.

"Do not make bonfires of rubbish where wind can scatter it, and do not allow children to play around bonfires.

"You should always have a fire extinguisher or a pail of water ready for emergency use.

"Look both ways before crossing the street.

"Do not get on or off a car or elevator while it is in motion.

"Do not leave boiling water where children might get scalded.

"Do not walk along car or railroad tracks.

"Do not look for a gas leak with a lighted match.

"Be careful when lighting the gas oven.

"Be careful of the gas light which might be blown out by the wind.

"Do not carry matches loose in your pockets.

"Do not leave boards with nails turned up around your premises.

"Children should not be permitted to ride on the handle bars of bicycles.

"See that broken glass and old tins are not left around."

MORALE OF MEN AND NATIONS

"What we are pleased to call our morals are conventional and largely local," said the journeyman philosopher, "and this war is getting them badly scrambled. What is moral in one country is immoral in another. Even individuals have differing moral standards. One person thinks our soldiers should be denied cigarettes and forbidden the use of light French wines, and given plenty of coffee and chewing gum, while another holds that coffee wrecks the constitution and that chewing gum is an institution of Beelzebub. Each wants to set up his own standard of morals, so called, for others, not realizing that the one basic moral is not to interfere with the self-government of others. But as a race we are more moral than as individuals. We are fighting Germany even now in defense of the greater morality—the right of self-government that Germany has assailed. Germany wants to impose German morals on the world and the German moral is government by rightfulness. So Cain sought to govern Abel. As a race we unconsciously resist that sort of thing—the morality of autocracy—but as individuals we are continually succumbing to it. We need to make ourselves safe for democracy, too."

FACTS AND HINTS FOR FARMERS

Consider the silo:

It means larger profits from the cornfield.

It means less labor in feeding.

It means better health for the herd.

It means a larger milk flow from the dairy cow.

It means more beef at reduced cost.

It means insurance against loss by frost.

It means less grain in the stock ration and more in the soldier's ration.

Remember that it takes a good strong fence to hold the cows and calves apart during the long winter months, and where this improvement is lacking there is sure to be trouble for you.

If your hens are laying soft-shelled eggs, mix a little air-slacked lime in the mash. The hens must have more lime than they find for themselves, and if it is not supplied, soft-shelled eggs will be the result.

Suddenness and intensity of change often account for the failure of trees to thrive when moved away from the region to which they were adapted.

The fruit of the common elder is used for sauce and pies, and a sort of syrup for griddle cakes is sometimes made from it.

All shrubs that bloom on the wood of the previous year's growth should be pruned at once after the blooms fall, if at all.

The skill of the bee-keeper can usually be measured by the results of his work in curbing swarming.

Good Roads.

Any neighborhood that does not have enough enterprise to keep two or three log road drags going for a couple of weeks during the late Fall is sadly behind the times. Farmers who are too lazy to do this ought to be compelled to drag their weary legs through the mud to town next spring—as they surely will.

"Give fools their gold and knaves their power,
Let Fortune's bauble rise and fall;
Who sows a field or trains a flower,
 or plants a tree,
Is more than all." —Selected.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Any community can endure a coward who is afraid to do wrong.

Why isn't a cook who stuffs turkeys and chickens a taxidermist?

Girls, remember that a husband worth having is worth taking care of.

A philosopher is a man who can see how others make mistakes.

Lots of people imagine there is something wrong with them if they haven't got a cold.

It is surprising how many things a man can find to criticize and how few he will commend.

If her heart is in the right place it matters not whether a woman is younger or older than she looks.

A man always imagines he has good sense, until he comes across an old love letter he wrote to his wife during courtship.

Aliston High and Public School Boards are arranging for an amalgamation.

TODAY'S STORY

Caroline regarded her brother with extreme disfavor. "My goodness, Jimmy!" she said. "Can't you eat without swallowing your fork like that?"

"Hugh!" said the victim. "You think your's smart, donchu?" he inquired. "Mebbe you think I didn't see that sissy. Roscoe Howell, kiss you good night when he brought you back from the movies!

"What!" cried the father of the family in staccato voice. "What is this?"

"Huh—see how red she's getting!" persisted the triumphant Jimmy.

"You—you are the horridest, hatefulest—" Caroline paused in breathless inability to proceed.

"Why are you letting boys kiss you?" asked her male parent in deadly tones. "After all your mother has said on the subject, too!"

"I—I didn't let him!" defended Caroline. "I never said he could! He just did it! Jimmy's no business to be spying on me! And I don't see why everybody should make such a row—"

"What did you do it for?" persisted the father of the family wearily.

Caroline gulped. 'I wanted to see what it was like!" she said flatly. "All the girls have somebody in love with 'em and when they're in love with 'em they always want to kiss 'em. The girls say so! I don't know whether Roscoe is in love with me or not and I don't care if he isn't, for I don't like him, anyhow! His ears are so sort of flappy.

"We'll make out a chart," said the father of the family smoothly, "covering all possible emergencies, and when you're in doubt, Caroline, just refer to that! I suppose it is the spirit of your great-grandfather on my side cropping out! He was a noted explorer.

"Now that your mind is set at rest on the subject of being kissed, I hope we shall have no more scientific investigations. It appears that the kiss was merely a disappointment to you, after going to all the trouble of conversing about dry topics such as rain and movies and tennis and enduring the sight of Roscoe's flappy ears all evening. Kingdoms have been lost for a kiss, but take it from me, it wasn't worth them."

"Didn't you ever kiss a girl?" demanded Caroline interestedly. "Of course, you kiss mother, but I mean when you were young."

"Caroline!" said the father of the family sternly. "I am surprised."

"Yes, did you, dear?" cooed the mother of the family in great enjoyment.

"You are just a little girl of 16!" hastily said the father of the family. "And Roscoe is a callow gosling not much older and I'm surprised you haven't more sense! No nice girl—"

"Mother," broke in Caroline more interestedly than ever, "did a boy ever kiss you when you were 16? Nobody could say you weren't perfectly nice and yet father says—didn't they ever kiss you? Why don't you finish that bite of bread so you can answer? —I'll bet father—"

"If your mother and I catch that train we've got to go this minute!" said the father of the family, rising hastily, "Hurry, Emeline!"

"Huh!" said Caroline as her parents vanished simultaneously, "Anyhow, I just bet they did."

Wit and Wisdom

Where He Fell Down

"Ye think a fine lot of Shakespeare?"

"I do, sir," was the reply.

"An' ye think he was mair clever than Rabbie Burns?"

"Why, there's no comparison between them."

"Maybee, no; but ye tell us it was Shakespeare who wrote Uneasy Lies the Head That Wears a Crown. Now, Rabbie would never hae sic nonsense as that."

"Nonsense, sir," the other thundered.

"Aye, just nonsense, Rabbie would hae kent fine that a king or queen either dinna ganga to bed wi' a croon on their head. He's hae kent they hang it ver the back o' a chair."

Some Fish

He was a moderate angler. Silently he had listened to the campers tell of the big ones they had caught, some of them tremendous fellows. Then by and by they asked him if he had distinguished himself that day by the taking of one worth mentioning.

"Only one," he said. "And the river fell six inches when I landed him!"

Whereupon the symposium adjourned to the bunk.

Not Dead Broke

The Old Man—"See here! You've spent $1,200 this semester and your report shows overcuts in every subject. This state of affairs cannot continue, and I want to know right now if there's to be any change?"

The Young One—"Well, I have 30 cents with me now."

The G.W.V.A. clubhouse at Dalhousie street, Brantford, is rapidly nearing completion.

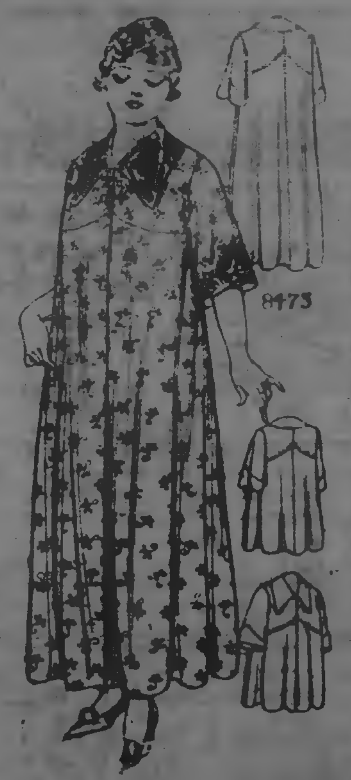
LADY'S EMPIRE KIMONO.

By Anabel Worthington.



A kimono of some sort is a necessary garment which every woman requires, particularly when she is travelling. A very popular style is illustrated in No. 8473. It has the Empire waist line in an irregular shape, which gives the effect of scallops. A broad collar of satin is an attractive feature, and corresponding trimming pieces are stitched to the sleeves. The pattern is perforated for two lengths, the full length kimono and the style which comes just below the hips. Japanese crêpe, washable silk, crêpe de Chine or flowered lawn will make a pretty kimono.

The kimono pattern No. 8473, is cut in sizes 32, 36, 40 and 44 inches bust measure. Width at lower edge of kimono is 2¾ yards. The long one requires in 36 inch size 5 yards 36 inch material, with ⅝ yard 36 inch contrasting goods.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

POTATO PRICE NOT FIXED

Food Controller Revokes Intention to Make Limit of $1.25 Bag

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The Food Controller has decided not to fix an arbitrary price for potatoes. This decision has been arrived at as the result of a meeting here of representatives of the Eastern Provinces, acting as a special sub-committee of the Fruit and Vegetable Committee. It was ascertained that the cost of producing a 90-pound bag in each of the five eastern provinces was as follows: Ontario, $1.27; Quebec, $1.50; New Brunswick, $1.35 to $1.50; Nova Scotia, $1.05; Prince Edward Island, 90 cents. To these costs must be added a fair profit to the grower, freight, and the profits necessary to the wholesaler and retailer. Careful estimates indicate that there will be a consirerable surplus in excess of normal consumption.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

Sleepy Time Story About a Romance of Bygone Times.

THE BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS.

Marvelous Manner In Which She Was Saved From a Horrible Death—She Was Willing to Sacrifice Her Life For the Benefit of Others.

Tonight, said Uncle Ben to little Ned and Polly Ann, I am going to tell you about

THE CHAINED PRINCESS.

If you will look out of the window you can see in a group of stars the lovely lady of the rock.

"But we don't see any lady," they objected after looking.

Have a little patience until you can pick out the stars. They form a sort of skeleton around which you must see the lovely lady in your mind's eye. I'll make a picture of the lady for you.

"Oh, my," exclaimed the children as they watched him, "she's got chains on her arms and feet! What are they for?"

The chains were put on to hold the lovely lady to the rock. But I may as well tell you the story.

According to this, there once lived in faroff Africa a king named Cepheus. His wife, Queen Cassiopeia, was a very beautiful lady, but she was very vain. One day she boasted that she was handsomer than the daughters of the sea king. One of the ocean nymphs heard Cassiopeia and told her father, old King Neptune.

He was very proud of his lovely daughters, and to punish vain Queen Cassiopeia he turned loose a fierce sea monster on the shores of King Cepheus and Queen Cassiopeia's country.

Queen Cassiopeia was overcome with grief when she learned that the trouble was because of her foolish boast about her good looks. King Neptune let it be known that the monster would stay right there, frightening and killing people and upsetting ships until King Cepheus and Queen Cassiopeia gave their own daughter to it.

Of course the king and queen said at first they could never think of such a thing. When Princess Andromeda, their daughter, heard of it she begged to die instead of the poor people.

So they chained her to a rock on the seashore. Her parents and friends, weeping, watched as the monster came swimming in from sea.

But there suddenly swept down from the sky on a winged horse a beautiful youth clad in armor that shone like gold. With a few strokes of his magic sword he killed the beast and set the lovely princess free.

He was the hero Perseus, and he married the lovely princess Andromeda, and they lived together long and happily ever afterward.

When the two died their memory was honored. People named a group of stars after each of them. In the eastern heavens about this time of the year you will always see the Andromeda star cluster rising slowly in the sky.

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ills, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

UNCLE LISHA SAYS

He Wishes the Milk and Water Would Come Separately.

COULD MIX THEM HIMSELF

Amends His Opinion of Farmer Jones and Has Revenge—Why Lisha's the Only Man Who Never Had a Fish Break His Hook and Get Away.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, [illegible], by Associated Literary Press.]

"MY dear sir," I says to the milkman the other morning, "I find that I shall have to ask a small favor of you."

"Anything I can do, sir."

"You supply us with milk?"

"Yes, sir."

"And water?"

"Um!"

"The water is in the milk?"

"Um!"

"Or it may be said the milk is in the water?"

"Um!"

"I don't know what your rule of proportion is, but after this please bring the milk and the water in separate bottles and let us mix for ourselves."

And he is doing that and giving perfect satisfaction. There is always a way to spare a poor milkman's feelings.

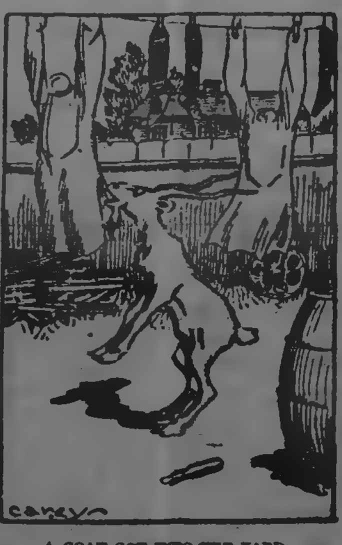
"Lisha," said my good wife as I came home the other day, "a few weeks ago you bought yourself three one-dollar shirts."

"I did, my dear."

"They were washed and hung on the line today."

"Right-o! Even a one dollar shirt must be washed now and then."

"But a goat got into the yard."



A GOAT GOT INTO THE YARD.

"Billy goeth where he listeth."

"But he pulled down and ate up your three shirts."

"Ah!"

"And you mustn't blame me."

"Not a blame, my dear. Those shirts cost me 100 cents each."

"I know they did."

"And I can now buy the same identical thing for 95 cents. Woman, rejoice with me. You and the goat have helped me to make 15 cents."

"You are an honest man," I said to Farmer Jones when he heaped the measure up.

"Farmer Jones, you are a rascal," I said when I got home and found a false bottom in the measure by which he had beaten me by two quarts.

I then had to steal his ax to get even.

While I was at a poker club one night some one came and raided my hencoop and stole six of my chickens. Deacon Darby said it was a judgment upon me. The next night I attended a prayer meeting, and some one came and stole the rest of my flock. This time Deacon Darby simply said—um! I don't say that it's an even thing between poker and a prayer meeting, but not a hen has ever returned.

When I had a carbuncle on the neck and the doctor told me that at least 5,000,000,000,000 men had lived and died since the time of Adam I was quite consoled. I realized that a dozen or two out of that number must also have got it in the neck.

I have given it up. I argued for half a day and finally convinced a man that there is a hereafter, but that night he stole a horse and made off. After being arrested he explained that he didn't want to hoof it around when he got up there.

I sometimes think that I am the only man in the country that never lied about the size of the fish that broke his hook and got away from him. Perhaps, however, it is because I never went fishing in my life.

Something like 50,000,000 cows switch their tails for twelve hours per day for at least a hundred days in the year, and yet no living man ever saw the remains of a fly that had been killed by the switching. Do the cows think they will get him at last?

There is policy in being kind to your neighbor. The day may come when your mule will have a sore heel, and you'll want some one to apply the hot tar while you stand back and boss the job.

Patience—Who is that?

Patrice—Oh, that's one of our popular architects.

"Is that his wife with him?"

"Yes."

"Wonderful gown she's got on. See how low it's cut."

"I guess he designed it. You see it has both northern and southern exposure."—Yonkers Statesman.

The New Woman Soldier.

The woman soldier of to-day is not an innovation. There have been several in Belgium. One of them served almost her whole time of military service towards the end of the reign of Leopold I. She was called Julia Petit, and came from Hainaut. She enlisted somewhat mysteriously for her brother, who had probably drawn a bad number, for military service. General Q——, who twenty years ago was in command at Mons, would sometimes recall the circumstances. He had known her under the name of Jules Petit when he took command of the regiment. This girl was an excellent soldier, active, devoted, disciplined, readily carrying out any task. Because of her slim form and delicate features her comrades nicknamed her "kiddie." It was in hospital that, after two years, the fraud was at last found out. Julia died of congestion of the lungs, which she had caught during the military manoeuvres, when, being overheated, she had drunk water from the fountain.

Well known in a different sense is the name of Marie Schellinck, from Ghent, to whom Napoleon I. presented epaulettes and a military decoration on the battlefield. It was neither fraternal piety nor self-interest, nor a taste for a military career that led Marie Schellinck to take up arms, but the simplest and greatest reason—love. Marie Schellinck took part in numerous battles and endured the worst hardships without a murmur, happy in the part that she was playing and feeling quite sufficiently repaid by the fact that she could hear the voice of the master of the world, and could consecrate in his service the ardent but discreet flame of her love. She stands out as a beautiful and pure figure. She has, moreover, enriched by her exploits dramatic literature. A writer has staged in her honor a drama, "For Love of the Emperor," which was performed in Belgium with great success.

MOSES MAIMONIDES.

Philosopher and Physician in the 12th Century.

With the decline of Bagdad and the rise of the Ummayyads the centre of learning was transferred from East to West, and by the middle of the 11th century Cordova in Spain had taken for the Jews the place of Sura and Pumbeditha in Babylonia as the centre of learning and philosophy. Here was born in 1135 Moses Maimonides, the most famous of all the Jewish medieval philosophers. In him pure Aristotelianism won complete conquest over neo-Platonism, and the other impurities which we find in the earlier philosophers. In him was reached the high-water mark of medieval Jewish philosophy, but as he is the culmination of that philosophy, so immediately after him begins its decay. While he was still a boy Cordova was conquered by the fanatical hordes of the Almohade zealots from Morocco, neither Jew nor Christian dared show his faith in Cordova, and science and learning were banned. So Maimonides' family moved to Morocco, from the frying pan into the fire, and seem for a time to have professed Islam, until they could transfer themselves to the more tolerant lands of the East, Palestine and Egypt. It was in the latter country that, after a brief business experience, Maimonides became a physician, and finally physician to the great Saladin. So great did his fame become as physician that tradition says Richard Lion Heart offered him a place at his court; and what reader of Scott can forget the part the generous Saladin's physician, who restored Richard to health, plays in the "Talisman"?

But Maimonides was not only a famous court physician, he was the greatest Talmudic scholar of his time, perhaps of any time, and it was his fame as a Talmudist which made his philosophy known among the Jews. His philosophical works, it is true, were written in Arabic in Jewish characters, and he himself seems to have desired that they should not reach the Jews, and indeed to have been rather afraid of the effect upon the Jews of his philosophic writings. Hitherto Jewish philosophers had made very little impression upon Judaism. Their works, written in Arabic, were known to but few, their scholars and successors, who in their turn wrote Arabic. But Maimonides' great fame as a Talmudic scholar forced his philosophy on the attention of his compatriots, and the result was division among the Jews. The orthodox sensed in his philosophy danger to their religion; and ultimately orthodoxy won the day. Partly it was Maimonides' very greatness which promoted the decline of Jewish philosophy among the Jews themselves as subversive of their religion. (It may be noted in this connection that Maimonides coincided in time with a wave of orthodoxy affecting both Islam and Judaism.) Partly the decline of Jewish philosophy after Maimonides was due to the changed conditions of the Jews both in the Arabic and the Christian world. Arabic Spain would no longer harbor free thought. Jewish philosophers, migrating to Christian lands, lingered on in Southern France and Italy until toward the close of the 15th century, but their environment was not propitious. Maimonides is thirteenth in the list of the eighteen Jewish philosophers, but of the five who succeeded him there is only one, Gersonides (1288-1344), whose name is of importance.

Preservation of Flowers.

A method of preserving the natural colors of flowers consists in dusting salicylic acid on the plants as they lie in the press and removing it with a brush when the flowers are quite dry. Red colors in particular are well preserved by this agent. Another method of applying the same preservative is to use a solution of one part of salicylic acid in fourteen of alcohol by means of blotting-paper or cotton-wool soaked in it and placed above and below the flowers. Powdered boracic acid yields nearly as good results.

Onions.

We look upon Alliums (onions) as fine vegetables with a bad smell, and while nearly all have a pungent odor there are many species of onions of good decorative value with flowers of beautiful color.

SCHEDULE YOUR FIRES

The Peterborough Fire Chief has resigned because his wife objects to the irregular hours. Perhaps the Peterboro' people could arrange to have their fires only on Tuesdays and Fridays between 3 and 5 p.m.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

During the past two weeks the members of the employed staff and the Physical and boys' work committees have been giving considerable attention to the matter of improving the organization of the Boys' Department, with a view to arousing a higher degree of interest and securing participation in the religious, physical and social activities on the part of all our boy members. As a result of these efforts the following plan has been adopted as the program for the present season, this organization to stand in all the activities to be conducted.

The Boys' Department is to be divided into six classes, each class to consist of two groups; each group to consist of two teams; and each team to consist of eight or more boys. Each of these classes will have its own color by which it will be distinguished in all lines of activities.

A contest has been organized between the six classes, which will terminate at Christmas time, the winning class to be given a sleigh-ride and supper. The winning class is to be determined by a system of scoring which will include the attendance at gymnasium and Bible Classes, the results of game tournaments and general deportment of the class members and points awarded for securing new Association members. Three of the main classes represent three grades of employed boys and three represent three grades of school boys. The program provides the following:

Physical

Each of the classes will have special gymnasium and swimming periods and contests in basket ball and indoor baseball conducted between the four teams of each of the classes. Each team has a captain and is considered a unit of organization.

QUEBEC AFTER PLACE IN SUN

LIBERALS IN THAT PROVINCE ORGANIZE NEW WING OF PARTY.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—A new organization of Quebec Liberals had a caucus here to discuss the political situation and came to the conclusion that this Province cannot be isolated from the rest of the Dominion and that the interests of Quebec should prevail over party feelings, says The Standard.

Continuing The Standard says, that at the meeting it was agreed to immediately start a campaign to operate against this isolation and that Hon. J. L. Perron, M.L.C., and Hon. H. Beland, M.P., for Beauce, now interned in Germany, were selected as patrons of the new group. It was understood that Mr. Perron will direct the campaign. The intention of these Liberals is to have a conscriptionist candidate in every constituency in Quebec, their programme being that should the Union Government win the election they will be able to give it support and claim in the Cabinet such representation as, they maintain, they would be entitled to. The new organization will make no alliance with the Nationalists.

The Standard says that the basis of dissatisfaction with Sir Wilfrid Laurier is that he remained under the influence of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and refused to negotiate successfully for a coalition Cabinet and lost all his strongest supporters outside of Quebec. This resulted in the complete isolation of Quebec.

The new Government, the Standard further claims, has the very strong support of the wealthy French element, who are deeply interested in maintaining the Entente between Quebec and the other provinces.

An official statement will be issued some time next week, the Standard concludes.

CHICKEN CASE AIRED IN COURT

NEIGHBOR ACCUSED OF STEALING J. McWILLIAMS' FANCY POULTRY.

Mrs. Geo. Keyes at the police court this morning, pleaded not guilty to the charge of stealing three chickens from John McWilliams, valued at $6.

Complainant McWilliams, who resides at 36 Weir street, city, testified that he keeps thoroughbred white Wyandotte hens and none other. He had 24 of these chickens at noon on Tuesday, October 9th, when he fed and counted them. Next morning he missed three pullets. He accused Mrs. Keyes of the theft because she had taken them before, and on report of a woman who saw a quantity of feathers in defendant's kitchen.

To Mr. J. Guise-Bagley, for the defendant, McWilliams admitted that Mrs. Keyes keeps white pigeons, but a feather found in defendant's kitchen was one from a white Wyandotte chicken.

Mrs. Downer, a witness for complainant swore to seeing a quantity of white feathers behind the defendant's kitchen stove. Mrs. Keyes said she had killed some of her pigeons and made a pot pie. Latter's pigeons were blue and white, the feathers on the floor were white only.

She would not swear they were not pigeon feathers, but thought they were too large for such. Defendant had six pigeons all summer, and had six yesterday morning.

Violet Downer, a daughter of the former witness, testified that she was in defendant's house last Wednesday and saw white chicken feathers all over the kitchen floor—more feathers than one could put in a hat. She never knew Mrs. Keyes to have more than six pigeons—two white fantails two blue and white and two blue ones. Witness saw these pigeons last Friday. Defendant told her she had killed her pigeons and made a pot-pie with them.

Constable Blade testified that on Oct. 11th he searched Mrs. Keyes' home for McWilliams' chickens. On the floor of two rooms he found white chicken feathers, and the kitchen stove was half full of charred feathers. Defendant told him the feathers came out of an old pillow, which she showed him; the latter was full of feathers, scarcely a white one, however. Defendant's eight-year-old daughter, on being questioned, said "We just had one of Sophies' chickens. Sophie is Mrs. McWilliams. A sample of the feathers found in the house was a Wyandotte and compared with those on complainant's chickens.

Defendant, under examination, swore that the pot-pie she made on the date in question contained pigeons she had killed, and spare ribs. The feathers found by Constable Blade she claimed to have come from an old pillow. She admitted having taken one of plaintiff's chickens some time ago, but said something had to be done as she could not keep his fowl off her premises.

The case was adjourned for ten days.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The first campaign shot for the new Government will be held by Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, at Huntington, Que., tonight. Mr. Doherty will then make a speech in support of the candidature of J. Morris, win-the-war candidate in Chateauguay-Huntingdon.

GET APPLICANT BLANKS AT LOCAL POST OFFICE

These Cannot be Taken From Office But Must be Signed and Left There—Registrar Will Make Appointments for Those Who Claim Exemption.

With the issue of the proclamation calling out all men in class one, under the Military Service Act, eligibles in this class are warned to take their position seriously, as failure to respond practically classes them as deserters. In the neighborhood of 100,000 reinforcements for the brave boys who have volunteered to defend the Empire, and in this cause are now overseas, are needed. The call is for single men or widowers with no children, resident in Canada any time since August 4th, 1914, who have attained the age of 20 years, and who were not born earlier than 1883, and were on the 6th day of July, 1917, unmarried.

Where to Apply.

Forms for application for service, or for exemption may be had at the post office. The former cannot be taken out of the office, and they call for the applicant's name and address, occupation, name and business of employer. There are eight different forms for application for exemption. The applicant signs the forms, gets a receipt, and the forms are sent on to the registrar, who subsequently fixes a date when the former may present himself before the exemption board. The forms signed for active service will be forwarded to the military authorities.

Time Yet to Volunteer.

Word is to hand that while the first class under the Military Act is under preparation, voluntary recruiting still obtains, but class one men in Category A must sign up for infantry forces. In this way they can avoid the stigma of having been drafted.

DEALERS MAY NOT BE ALLOWED MORE THAN FIFTY CENTS.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Regulations are being framed by C. A. Magrath, Fuel Controller, for the fixing of profits on the sale of coal by brokers, wholesalers and retailers throughout Canada. It is understood that retail profits will be limited to fifty cents a ton, and wholesale dealers and brokers' profits will be on a still lower scale. It is also likely that provision will be made to restrict undue accumulation of coal in the hands of consumers.

Complete machinery will be provided for the prosecution of any infractions of the regulations, which are said to be very drastic in their scope.

The Fuel Controller in his new regulations is following closely the precedent established in fixing the price of coal in Great Britain, which deals with restrictions of profits of middlemen rathr than cost of productione. At any rat this policy is forced upon the Fuel Controller by the fact that the largest part of the coal consumed in Canada is mined in the United States and is beyond his control.

CALL TO ARMS WELL RECEIVED BY CANADIANS

Today, However, Calls for Exemption Blanks at P. O. Are Numerous.

STILL CHANCE TO VOLUNTEER

Government Reminds Young Men They Can Yet Select Their Units.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—According to official reports the reception in all parts of Canada of the proclamation of the military service act has been in every way satisfactory. At the same time unofficial press despatches from various centres insist that applications to the postmasters by class one eligibles have been coming in very slowly and a majority of applicants are demanding exemption applications to be filled out and presented to the tribunals.

The Government has today called attention to the fact that it is not too late for persons to volunteer for whatever units they wish to join.

ONLY ONE FORM IS FILLED OUT IN LOCAL FIELD

That Was a Claim for Exemption and Not for Place in the Service.

APPLICANTS REFUSE TO SIGN

When They Learned That They Could Not Take Blanks With Them.

There was but one solitary applicant at the post office all day Saturday and he filled out an exemption forms. Quite a few men applied, but on being informed they could not take the forms away with them left with the promise to call again. Today up to three o'clock twelve had filled out exemption blanks, but so far not one has asked for military service papers.

Men who imagine they are entitled to exemption should lose no time in filling out their papers. After November 10th all who have failed in this will find themselves drafted to some regular unit, no matter how reasonable their claim for exemption may appear.

MR. T. F. MATTHEWS ON STAND IN BACON INVESTIGATION

Profits of Matthews-Blackwell Company Were Due to Large Export Trade---Packers Did Not Fix Prices---Profits Were Not Guaranteed.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—That the Matthews-Blackwell Co. shared in the big profits on [illegible] chiefly on account of the large volume of export business to the British War Office, was shown at the resumed investigation [illegible] business by the Government Commission at the City Hall Saturday.

T. F. Matthews, secretary-treasurer of the company, admitted that the profits for 1917 up to August alone, when the British War Office contracts ended, amounted to $1,046,909. As Chairman Henderson observed in the course of the hearing, the company was better off at the end of August, 1917, after four years by $1,273,147 after paying dividends and depreciations, but not deducting war tax."

Puzzled For a Time

An item which puzzled the commission for a time was the disparity in the amounts written off for depreciation at different times since 1913. While $50,000 or $58.000 was admitted by Mr. Matthews as normal depreciation for a year $145,000 was written off in 1916. This, Mr. Matthews accounted for largely by explaining that $84,000 had been struck off because of the near approach of the expiring of a water pumping lease in the Lachine Canal which the company had purchased from the Lang Packing and Provision Co. The lease has still a few years to run, however, and Mr. J. W. Bain, Government Counsel, pointed out that it was still of value.

Mr. Gordon Waldron put the question point blank as to whether the firm had in mind the effect of the war tax when depreciations were being allowed to which witness answered that "the matter was never discussed."

Witness also denied that there were regular meetings of packers to fix prices and characterized the story suggested by Mr. Waldron that meetings were held in the Prince George Hotel as a fairy tale. "I have never heard of any such a thing," said witness.

"It has been said," proceeded Mr. Waldron "that some buyers are paid by packers a number of cents per hog to keep out of a certain territory. Is that true?" "I have no knowledge of such a practice."

"Have you ever heard of it in any connection?"

"I have heard of drovers doing that?"

"At the instigation of packers?"

"No."

J. Boeye, chief accountant of the Matthews-Blackwell Co., admitted the accuracy of the balance sheets, statements of profit and loss, and a comparative statement of profit and loss for the four years ending Oct. 28, 1916. The statements were prepared by Mr. Taylor, the Commission's accountant. The inventories, figured on cost for live stock, pork products, raw material, etc., for the years 1913 to 1916, were as follows: 1913, $1,517,836; 1914, $1,591,748; 1915, $2,366,070, 1916, 2,624,853.

Profits and Surplus

The following table of profits and surplus was admitted by witness:

	Profits,	Surplus
1913	$189.061	$ 55,047
1914	54,088	113,109
1915	342.107	97,197
1916	521,838	299,304

Had No Guarantee

At the hearing last night in the City Hall Thomas Matthews, president of the Matthews'Blackwell Company, gave evidence. Among other things asked of Mr. Matthews was whether the Canadian companies exporting sides of pork to the British Government on war orders had an arrangement whereby prices to be charged were fixed. He denied any knowledge of any such combine. E. C. Fox, general manager of the William Davies Company, also denied that there was an arrangement of that nature.

MR. FISHER WAS WITHIN RIGHTS

MAGISTRATE UPHELD BUTCHER FOR EJECTING CUSTOMER FROM PREMISES.

Stephen Fisher, a local butcher, was charged at the police court this morning with having assaulted a returned soldier.

Complainant is on sick leave. He swore that on the date in question he sent his daughter to Fisher's store for a pound of butter which proved not of desired quality, and he sent her back with it. Defendant refused to change the butter and she went home without it. Then complainant went to Fisher's shop himself, but could get neither the butter back, exchanged or money refunded. On refusing to leave the shop without satisfaction, Fisher took him by the shoulder and dragged him out of the premises. He was too weak from heart and lung trouble to resist violence.

To Mr. Gordon, witness admitted that his wife contracted a debt of $7 with Fisher while he was overseas. He denied that the latter in refusing to return the butter or money had offered to give him credit for 45c, the price of the butter on the $7 debt. He also denied accusing defendant of stealing his butter.

Mr. J. Guise Bagley argued that, assuming that it was morally right to apply the price of rejected butter to his wife's credit. Fisher was wrong in using force. His worship ruled that defendant was within his rights to expect payment on account and that complainant was wrong to refuse to leave the store, and in assuming an aggressive attitude. He threw out the case and assessed no costs either way.

Mr. G. N. Gordon for the defendant and Mr. J. Guise-Bagley for plaintiff.

ST. ANDREW'S NOTICE.

Will the members of St. Andrew's Church who have sons or husbands overseas kindly mail name and address to Rev. Rowand at the Manse, Rubidge street, or put on the collection plate next Sunday. AMERICA'S ONE PURPOSE IS TO HELP WIN THE WAR

W. R. Morris Talks of Auto Trip to New York in Company with C. H. Pennefather and Basil Hall.

Mr. W. R. Morris returned at midnight last night from an automobile trip to New York, which he made with Mr. C. H. Pennefather and Mr Basil D. Hall in Mr. Pennefather's auto. Mr. Morris owing to a business engagement was obliged to be in the city today. Leaving his travelling companions in Hamilton yesterday, he returned by train. Messrs. Pennefather and Hall are expected home today.

Mr. Morris says that the trip was thoroughly enjoyed and he adds that it is impossible to speak too highly of the auto roads in different parts of New York State.

Among the interesting sights which the visitors witnessed was the parade of 10,000 Red Cross Nurses in the city of New York. They also motored on to Camp Mills on Long Island, about 20 miles from New York, to see the review of 20,000 men of the New United States army, all taken into the service by the draft system but regarded in every sense as volunteers. Mr. Morris says it would be impossible to find anywhere a better set-up body of men.

The visitors attended a patriotic meeting in Madison Square Gardens, when addresses were made by Mayor Mitchel, the controller of food for New York State, Ex-President Roosevelt and others. Mr. Morris says that "Teddy's" straight from the shoulder talk was certainly effective. Among the speakers was Capt. Knynett, an Australian veteran who was wounded some time ago and who was on his way back to the front. Ex-President Roosevelt decided that the Captain made the best speech of the evening.

The men from Peterborough attended an entertainment in the Hippodrome to raise money for the support of the families of the Britishers who had enlisted in the United States. The Kiltie Band from Montreal were on the program and among the performers were Verne Castle and his wife, the famous dancers. This entertainment netted something over $2,000.

"On the surface," said Mr. Morris, "everything in New York seems to be baseball. The world series was attracting a good deal of interest, but under that serface there is a strong determination to win the war. It was gratifying to hear the Americans speak so highly of Canada and of what this country has done."

SIR WILFRID TO CALL MEETINGS

WILL CONFER WITH FAITHFUL OVER THE NEW TURN IN EVENTS.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.— "Sir Wilfrid Laurier has lost no time in rallying the forces of Liberalism to meet the conditions created by the formation of the new Borden Government.

"The Liberal leader has arranged to hold two conferences with the Liberal candidates in Ontario and the representatives of the county Liberal associations. The first of these conferences will be held in Ottawa on Friday next, October 19, and will be attended by candidates and representatives of the counties east of Kingston. The second conference, for Western Ontario, will be held the following week at a place to be decided on later."

AUTO MEN IN TROUBLE.

Three local auto delivery men were each fined $5 at the police court this morning for allowing unlicensed men to drive their cars.

LIBERALS WILL CHOOSE LEADER

PARTY TO HOLD A CAUCUS TO NAME A SUCCESSOR TO MR. ROWELL.

The Liberal members of the Provincial Legislature will meet in caucus in order to select a leader to succeed Mr. N. W. Rowell, who is now a member of the Union Cabinet at Ottawa. Hartley Dewart and Messrs. Proudfoot and Bowman are the men most prominently mentioned by the Toronto papers for the position. Mr. Bowman of the three is the oldest member in point of service and is at present chief Liberal whip. Mr. Dewart has been through only one session of the Legislature, but he has a pronounced policy and does not lack for a following.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie, M.L.A., says he has no preference in this matter and has not the slightest idea who will be chosen.

ENJOY LIFE! LIVEN YOUR LIVER AND BOWELS TONIGHT AND FEEL FINE.

Tonight sure! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store now? Eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or bother you all the next day like calomel salts and pills. They act gently but thoroughly. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time. They are harmless and children love them.

34 PER CENT MEMBERS A.O.F. HAVE ENLISTED FOR WAR

Peterborough A.O.F. Attend Divine Worship at St James Methodist Church—Forceful Sermon by Rev. B. Greatrix on Man's Imperial Worthiness.

The Ancient Order of Foresters attended divine worship last evening in St. James' Methodist Church, South City, when both service and sermon were in keeping with the characteristics of the order, and its record for man service in the great [illegible] of the brotherhood of man.

34 Percent at War.

Rev. Benjamin Greatrix, the pastor, in his welcome to the visitors, congratulated the order on out of 182 members having sent 62 to the front, which he considered a pretty big percentage of man power, representative of the Ancient Order of Foresters, in a cause endorsed by all enlightened and democratic peoples. He characterized the order as one of the many fraternal organisations established for the dissemination of that Christ-like spirit of brotherly love and charity which makes for a better, happier and brighter world.

Imperial Worthiness of Man.

The reverend gentleman based his sermon on Daniel 10, verse 11: "And He (Christ) said unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright; for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me I stood trembling," and in the course of a forceful and appropriate discourse said in part:

Man was created by God a being of imperial worthiness, and destined to stand upright, with the backbone and will to do that which is right and just. Man is endorsed with great possibilities for goodness, and heroic deeds, and never intended to be a weakling in submitting to tyranny or slavery. He was destined to rule. But there has been a sad lapse in and eclipse of the glory of man of late, as exemplified in the great war forced upon the world by German kulture. Such an eclipse, however, will not be permanent. Man's very origin shows the lofty purpose God had in view, and the crime of those nations which have rejected the light of Christianity and under cover of philosophical darkness attempted to defeat that purpose, is collosal. The destruction of Louvaine by Hun savagery was sad, but the contemplation of a man in ruins is more sorrowful.

Depreciation of Man's Value.

The speaker declared that a depreciation of man's value has engendered the present world-unrest and social distrust. To counteract these conditions it is necessary to place at the nation's disposal the full force of man power and wealth, irrespective of politics, class or creed. Partisanship has failed to grapple with the great problems of how to shake off the hideous nightmare through which we are passing. Profiteering by men ever ready to prey upon man's needs is causing widespread discontent, and shaking man's confidence in the honesty and integrity of brother men, and some in power are blind to the imperial nature of the men they are sworn to serve.

Diabolical Cruelty.

Think, the reverend gentleman urged, of Germany thirsting for world-power at the expense of our very souls; sacrificing tens of thousands of lives in her effort to impress on the world her Godless, Christless, demoralizing philosophy, that she may achieve her ends. The diabolical cruelty, her insensate thirst for power has inflicted upon the world is too immense for words to describe. This wholesale destruction of art and property and life, the flooding of Europe in a sickening sea of blood, by the worshippers of super-human man is due to the world having lost sight of the imperial and glorious worthiness of man destined by his Creator.

For a Better World.

In conclusion, Rev. B. Greatrix urged upon the visiting Foresters that they and all kindred organizations must place more value on manhood, womanhood and childhood than upon all the wealth in this world. They must emphasize the recognition of man created in God's own image, His imperial worth and his great possibilities. They should emulate the charity, sacrifice of comfort, convenience and wealth of the good samaritan, teach the love of God and disseminate the principles of Christianity in connection with the great struggle for a happier, safer and a better world.

The Music.

Special music had been prepared for this occasion, and the choir, good at all times, excelled themselves in the admirable numbers rendered.

TOY FACTORY FOR PORT HOPE

TORONTO MEN INTERESTED — NO FINANCIAL AID IS WANTED.

Two Toronto men, after looking over sites in Port Hope, have decided to establish a toy factory there. A week ago these men visited Port Hope and finally proposed buying the Helm property on Queen and Mill streets and requested from the town exemption from taxes and an annual grant of $200.00 a year for ten years. Now, however, the proposition has been changed, the representatives having decided to rent the two top storeys of the Cream Separator Factory from Mr. Burtch. Satisfactory arrangements to this effect have been made and the town will not be asked for any financial aid. The work of placing the building in shape will be commenced at once and manufacturing operations will start in the very near future.

FIRST AID FOR THE INJURED.

In the First Aid Class, conducted by Dr. G. S. Cameron, at the Young Women's Christian Association, there is room for only a few more members. The class has just room for only a few more members. The class has just commenced, and meets on Tuesday evenings at 8.30 o'clock.

A DANGEROUS TORTOISE.

Routed Germans Leave Infernal Machines in Trenches.

The least touch to the wobbly thing established a contact, doubtless through fulminate of mercury, on the same principle as employed in the floating mine, which detonated 20 or 30 pounds of explosive with a force that shattered the thick steel shell—creased as it was like the casing of a hand grenade—and scattered the fragments over a wide area. The menace of the tortoise was over as soon as Tommy learned to curb his curiosity. On my visit to a collecting depot I was allowed to 'play' with one of them, from which the 'teeth' had been drawn, and I must confess that the weird roly-poly thing might well exercise considerable fascination upon one encountering it for the first time. One feels that he simply has to go up and give it a shove with the toe of his boot, just to watch it wobble, the very action calculated to make it 'put up its back' and 'fly to pieces.'

"The usefulness of the tortoise was over just as soon as the wary Tommy ceased stroking its back with his bayonet and instead began hailing its appearance with hand grenades hurled from a respectful distance, and the wily Teuton was forced to rack his brain to devise still deeper 'subtlety.'"

The Czar in Prison.

A vivid picture of the life of the ex-Czar is given by the Moscow Russkoye Slovo. The Czar and his family are at the Alexander Palace at Tsarskoe Selo, near Petrograd. The ex-Czar and his wife never meet, the Slovo tells us:

"They occupy the upper floor of the palace, but different apartments, the Minister of Justice having ordered that the Czar and Czarina should not meet each other. It was on this condition that the Czarina had been allowed to stay with her children, who were ill. Daily life in the palace begins rather late. The prisoners arise between nine and ten o'clock. They are given tea, and the ex-Czar sends out a soldier to get some papers, usually the Ryetch and the Birzheviya Vedemosti. The Russkoye Slovo he gets daily from Moscow, the wrapper being addressed to Nikolai Alexandrovitch Romanof. At one o'clock luncheon is served, usually consisting of green vegetables, potatoes, and sweets. After luncheon the ex-Emperor, escorted by an orderly officer, takes a walk in the garden. Sometimes he has two walks a day, and usually goes about in military uniform. At eight o'clock there is dinner, consisting of four courses, including fish. Usually half a bottle of red wine is placed on the table, but nobody touches it, and the bottle travels back to the cellar unopened. The dinner is charged at 4 rubles, 50 copecks ($2.25) per person."

Helmets for Airmen.

It is estimated that the aeroplanes which carried out the great raid on London were flying at an altitude of 15,000 feet, and experts are of the opinion that the airmen were equipped with oxygen helmets similar to those worn by the troops as a protection against gas. This altitude is often exceeded, of course, but the question has arisen as to how long a man can remain at such an altitude without loss of faculties. In 1862, it will be remembered, two daring balloonists—Coxwell and Glaisher—set out from Wolverhampton with the intention of seeing how high they could rise. When 26,000 feet was reached Coxwell had a difficulty in obtaining his breath, and shortly afterward Glaisher could hardly make out the barometer. He afterwards discovered that they had attained an altitude of 30,000 feet, but soon after lost control of his limbs. Seeing that they were in imminent danger of collapse, Coxwell made an attempt to release the valve line, but fell back into the car, completely losing control of his hands. Only after working the valve line with his feet and teeth did he succeed in loosening it, thus causing the balloon to descend. During this ascent an altitude of 27,000 feet was reached. It would be interesting to have the experiences of airmen when at great altitudes.—Dundee Advertiser.

Mineral Wealth of Europe.

According to Professor Gregory, of Glasgow, the main mineral wealth of Europe is to be found in the great plain and the uplands beside it, which are rich in coal, oil, and iron ore. These minerals are sufficiently near the surface of the earth to be accessible for working, as they occur in beds which have been successively folded during various epochs of mountain formation, and consequently have been brought repeatedly to the surface. Oilfields occur on the outer side of the Alpine Mountains, in Galicia, Roumania, and Alsace. Eighty per cent. of the European output of oil is produced in Russia, and if at the end of the war she has acquired Galicia, Russia will produce no less than ninety per cent. The Galician oilfields are characterized by being exceptionally rich in paraffin.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX WINNERS OF FIFTH GAME; SCORE 8-5

New York Giants Outbatted by Their Competitors After What Looked Like Safe Lead in the Sixth Inning.

The White Sox won the fifth game in the world's series from the New York Giants at Chicago Saturday, the final score being 8 to 5. The sixth and probably the deciding game will be played in New York today. The Chicago team has won three out of the five games played. Another victory will give them the world's championship. If a seventh game is required by New York winning today, the city where the game is played will be decided by the toss of a coin. The following is the story of Saturday's game by innings:

First Inning.

New York—

Burns walked on four pitched balls. Herzog singled to right field and Burns dashed to third.

Cicotte and Williams were out warming up.

Burns scored on Kauff's two-bagger to the right field fence, Herzog going to third. Russell was taken from the box and Cicotte was sent in. Cicotte had only a few seconds to warm up in the outfield before taking his place on the rubber. The crowd booed Zimmerman. Weaver took Zimmerman's grounder and Herzog was run down between third and the plate, the play being Weaver to Schalk. Kauff moved on to third.

McMullen took Fletcher's hot smash and threw to Schalk, who touched out Kauff as he slid into the plate. Robertson took Thorpe's place at the bat. Zimmerman scored on Robertson's single to centre, and Felsch's throw to the plate. Fletcher went to third and Robertson to second. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Chicago—

John Collins popped to Zimmerman on the first bal pitched. McMullen strolled to first. Sallee's curve broke wide and he could not seem to control it. Collins singled to centre, McMullen going to second. Perritt was warming up. Jackson flied to Burns. Fletcher booted Felsch's grounder and the bases were filled. Gandil popped to Holks. No runs, one hit, one error.

Second Innings.

New York.—Rariden singled past Collins. Sallee forced Rariden at second, Gandil to Weaver. Burns struck out. Weaver made a bobble on Herzog's grounder, Sallee moving to second., Collins threw out Kauff at first. No runs, one hit, one error.

Chicago.—Fletcher got Weaver's smash and threw him out. Fletcher also threw out Schalk. Cicotte walked. Sallee worked a cross-fire ball through the inning. John Collins fouled out to Rariden. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Innings.

New York. — Zimmerman got a Texas leaguer into the right centre. Zimmerman was almost caught off first and run down, but Weaver dropped the ball, the play being Cicotte to Gandil to Weaver, the ball getting away from Weaver. Zimmerman ran back to first. Fletcher filed to McMullen, who doubled Zimmerman with a quick throw to Gandil. Robertson bounced a single off Cicotte's glove. Holks struck out and the crowd gave Robertson a big laugh as he ran to second and then dashed to third, thinking Schalk had made a wild throw to centre field. No runs, two hits, one error.

Chicago. — McMullen filed to Robertson. Eddie Collins walked to first. Robertson made an easy catch of Jackson's fly. Collins scored on Felsch's long drive to left field bleachers for two bases. Gandil filed to Kauff. One run, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

New York. — Rariden singledto right field, his selond blow. Sallee sarrificed to Gandil, unassisted. Rariden scored on Burns' single to right and when J. Collins fumbled the ball Burns went to second. Weaver made a bad fumble of Herzog's grounder, Burns going to third. Burns scored when Gandil took Kauff's grounder and tossed wildly passed Cicotte at the bag. Herzog went to third on the play. Zimmerman hit into a double play, McMullin to Eddie Collins to Gandil. Two runs, two hits, three errors.

Chicago. — Zimmerman took Weaver's hopper and threw him out. Schalk went out to Holke, unassisted. Cicotte flied out to Burns. Sallee and slow curves baffled the Sox. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning

New York—Jackson took Fletcher's hard drive. Robertson smashed hard single to right, his third hit of game. Holke sent high fly to Weaver, and the crowd cheered him when he caught the ball. Robertson stole second, Raiden walked, being purposely passed. Sallee was a strike out victim. No runs, one hit, no errors.

John Collins struck out, hitting a slow ball that was a foot away from his bat. Kauff took McMullin's fly, after a long run. Eddie Collins burned a single into left field. Jackson bounced a single off Sallee's leg. Collins going to second. Sallee threw out Feslch at first. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Sixth inning: Burns flew out to Jackson. Eddie Collins took Herzog's grounder and got his man at first. Kauff singled into left field. Kauff stole second. Eddie Collins threw out Zimmerman, making a quick play on his grounder. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sallee threw out Gandil. Weaver singled through Zimmerman. Schalk singled through Herzog, Weaver going to third. Weaver claimed that Fletcher interfered with him as he was going to third. Risberg went to bat in place of Cicotte. Weaver scored on Risberg's single to right, Schalk going to second. Johns Collins went out to Holke unassisted, Schalk moving to third and Risberg to second. McMullin up. Herzog threw out McMullin. One run, three hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning.

Williams went into box for Chicago. Fletcher got a two bagger against the left field barrier. Robertson popped to Williams, who dropped the ball, Fletcher holding second. Robertson tried to sacrifice. A foul tip off Holke's bat struck him on the head and the Giant's first baseman fell unconscious at the plate. It looked as though Holke was badly hurt. He revived and resumed his place at bat. Holke struck out. Rariden singled to right, scoring Fletcher, Robertson going to second. Oloughlin cautioned the Sox bench for coaching. Sallee struck out. Burns struck out. One run, two hits, one error.

Chicago—Williams now pitching for Chicago. Collins filed to Fletcher. Sallee complained that the ball single to centre on a hit and run into left field. Felsch singled. Jackson and Felsch both scored on Gandil's double to the left field fence. Fletcher threw out Weaver at first. Gandil going to third. Schalk walked. Lynn batted for Williams. When Schalk stole second Rariden's throw got away from Fletcher and Gandil scored on the throw to the plate. Schalk went to third. It was a stolen base for Schalk, and an error for Fletcher. Lynn struck out. Three runs, three hits, one error.

Eighth Inning.

New York—Faber went into the box for Chicago. Herzog struck out on three pitched balls. Faber tossed out Kauff and the crowd was in an uproar. Zimmerman filed to John Collins. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Chicago—John Collins got a Texas leaguer to the right. McMullin sacrificed, Zimmerman to Holke. John Collins scored on Eddie Collin's sinle to centre on a hit and run play. Jackson singled to the right. Eddie Collins going to third. Robertson threw to third base to Zimmerman who threw wildly to second. Eddie Collins scored on the error and Jackson went to third. Sallee was taken out of the box. Perritt now pitching for the Giants. On Flesch's single to centre Jackson scored. Gandil flied out to Berns, Felsch to Fletcher. Three runs, four hits, one error.

New York—Robertson flied to Jackson, McMullin threw out Holke.

Final score:—

COMISKEY LOSES TOSS.

Seventh Game, if Needed, Will Be Played in Gotham.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—McGraw and his Giants were favored by good fortune in the flip of the coin to determine the place of the seventh worlds series battle, provided it be necessary for one to be played. Promptly at 1.30 p. m. Garry Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, tossed up a coin and Charles A. Comiskey yelled "heads." Tails came up, which was a bad break of luck for the Sox. This brings the seventh game to Gotham, which is a decided advantage for the National leaguers.

When the White Sox and Giants finished the fifth battle Saturday the scene shifted to New York and the series will be completed there. This smashed a precedent, as Comiskey is considered lucky in weather, tossing coins and other freaks of fortune.

Battery Averages

A player on a tail-end team ought to hit from 10 to 30 points higher than he would if he were on a pennant batting crew," ventured a fan the other day. Well, pitchers rarely work their heads off against cellar champs. Class tells in baseball. Usually before the fifth or sixth inning comes along, the good team is so far ahead that the game is practically sewed up. Therefore, the pitcher on the top-heavy team saves his arm. He doesnt pitch his mightiest. He lobs them over, and, of course, the batsmen get more hits, thus fattening their averages.

Johnny Brennan, the Shamrock goalkeeper, is one of the pluckiest men in the game. When playing at Lansdowne Park, Ottawa, one day, Brennan ran into Cy Denenny and threw his left shoulder out. He continued playing and later collided with another Ottawa home man, putting the dislocation back in its place.

Golf Behind Front

The plan of a six-hole golf course just behind the British front in Flanders, which has been built by the general staff officers of one of the army headquarters, has been received in London. As desk work at headquarters is strenuous and continuous, often meaning spending twenty-four hours on duty at one time, the men feel the need of out-door relaxation. The links is distinguished by three real bomb holes and one of the greens is known as "Bomb Green."

DIAMOND RING AS TEE

Seattle Society Woman Plays Unique Golf at Banff Springs

Mrs. Mae Stehle, of Seattle, Wash., was recently the heroine of a unique bet at Banff Springs which caused much comment. Wagering with a fellow member of the fashionable colony at Banff Springs that she could make nine perfect drives on the mountain golf course, Mrs. Mae Stehle, of Seattle, Wash., teed her ball from the top of a fifteen hundred dollar diamond ring on each hole. A slip, a low swing or anything that would not come under the title of a perfect drive would have sent the ring spinning after the ball and ruined or lost it.

A large gallery left the Banff Springs Hotel to watch Mrs. Stehle use a magnificent solitaire ring in fulfilling her unique wager. The Seattle society woman, who is a crack golfer and who finished high in the recent tournament at Banff, placed her ring on a small mound of sand, teed her ball upon it, and with the utmost coolness made her drive as though the safety of a valuable ring did not depend upon her sureness. Nine times Mrs. Stehle repeated her feat on each tee and by her success won one of the most elaborate dinners of the season.

Mayor Duffus leaves town this evening for Toronto to attend a conference with Sir Adam Beck on the Hydro-Electric proposition for Eastern Ontario. Sir Adam gives his worship credit for active interest in this live question, and phoned him a few evenings ago that he would be pleased to meet and talk over with him the hydro-electric situation.

Tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock in Toronto. Sir Adam will meet delegates from the municipal electrical association of Eastern Ontario in regard to power for their districts

CAPT. BURNHAM ANDUNION

(Special to The Review)

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Intimation has been given, it is said, to the various candidates and sitting members of the federal parliament that it is desirable that they should express their support or otherwise of the New Union Government without delay and prepare their constituencies for an immediate election. It is necessary that the new government should feel that it has the people of Canada solidly behind it if it is to do effective work.

It is understood that it is upon such an understanding that a Union Government was agreed to by those comprising it.

In connection with the above note, it is likely that Capt. Burnham, M. P. will return to Peterborough as soon as possible. He has, it is reported, already sent in his adherence to the new government. Events have been moving rapidly of late and unexpected changes of the utmost importance to the welfare of Canada are transpiring from day today. It is merely a question of time when Labor will be more fully represented in Cabinets and probably the women of Canada also will be given a voice in public affairs.

AGED PREACHER IS CALLED HOME

REV. DR. W. S. GRIFFIN DIES IN TORONTO AT AGE OF 91 YEARS.

A pillar of Methodism in Canada passed away by the death on Saturday evening of Rev. Dr. W. S. Griffin, who was the oldest minister in the Methodist Church. Dr. Griffin was well known in Peterborough where he had frequently preached He attained his 91st birthday only last Tuesday, and had been for the long period of sixty-eight years in the ministry. The late Dr. Griffin had been bright to the close of his busy life, and was at the Methodist Book Room in Queen street as late as last week. Mrs. Griffin survives

Half a century ago—it is a long count in the passage of human affairs—he was perhaps the most able and vigorous minister of the connexion in the Province, and he had a reputation as a preacher of the outspoken, witty type that lasted down to a decade ago. Then, of course, extreme old age told on his physique, but there are hundreds in Ontario who can recall the mellow tones and deep conviction under the waggishness that there was "in the sound of a voice that is still."

One of Three Venerable Leaders.

For the last twenty-five years Dr. Griffin had been Treasurer of the Superannuation Fund, Church and Parsonage and General Conference Funds, but latterly much of the work was only nominally his.

The late Dr. Griffin was born in Waterdown, near Hamilton, and the interment on Tuesday is to be in Hamilton. He was educated locally, and after preaching in the circuit for some time was ordained at the Hamilton Conference in 1849. He was the last surviving member of that Conference. He recently recounted that his first salary was $70 a year, and that his horse for the district he served cost him $100. He was much in demand in the pulpits of the Niagara Peninsula, where his jocular manner was often a great draw to any special gathering. He subsequently held charges at Hamilton, Chatham, St.Catharines, Guelph, Stratford, Brantford, and was pastor of Elm street Methodist Church, Toronto, forty years ago. Dr. Griffin soon interested himself in the Church superannuation movement, and twenty-five years since was appointed as Treasurer to the fund, a post he held to his death. His business abilities were undoubted. He had gone to the Episcopal Church of the United States as Canadian representative, and had once visited England, but in a private capacity.

Besides the widow there remains a son, Dr. H. S. Griffin, Hamilton, and a daughter, Mrs. R. D. Key of Detroit.

MAJOR BISHOP TAKES A BRIDE

OWEN SOUND'S GALLANT SON IS MARRIED TODAY IN TORONTO.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Oct. 17. — Surrounded with all the romance of war and showered with gifts as a princess in a fairy tale, Margaret Easton Burden, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Burden of this city was today wedded to Canada's war aviator hero, Major William A. Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop of Owen Sound, home from the battle fields of France with the Victoria Cross, the Distinguished Service Order and other honors given him by the King for gallant service.

The ceremony took place at 3 p.m. in the Methodist Church, erected here as a memorial to the bride's grandfather, Timothy Eaton, and Rev. Dr. Henderson tied the nuptial knot. There were regular rainbows of attendants for the bride and the church was crowded with pominent people.

A guard of honor composed of officers of the Mississauga Horse and the Royal Flying Corps, as well as a contingent of V.A.D. nurses, furnished the military aspect of the beautiful affair.

All is Quiet on British Front Haig Reports

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, Oct. 17.—Comparative quiet is reported by General Haig today on the Western front of France and Belgium.

Tons of bombs were dropped on the docks at Bruges and other important German works in Belgium, says an admiralty statement. All the British machines returned without loss.

SOCIALISTS REFUSE TO VOTE.

Paris, Oct. 17.—The Chamber of Deputies, after a secret session of three hours last night, resumed its public session, closing the secret debate on the statement concerning Alsace-Lorraine made in the Chamber last Friday by Foreign Minister Ribot, by voting to pass to the next business. The motion was carried by 313 votes to nothing, the Socialists refusing to vote.

TEN KILLED BY HUN RAIDERS.

Ten persons were killed and forty injured in the bombardment of Nancy last night by German aviators, the war office announces. On Monday and Tuesday twenty-five German airplanes were destroyed by the French or compelled to land in a damaged condition.

GERMAN ASSAULTS REPULSED.

Violent artillery fighting is in progress on the Verdun front east of the Meuse, the war office reports. The German attack in this sector near Chaume wood and other thrusts near Juvincourt on the same front, and in the vicinity of Mont Carnillet in the Champagne were repulsed.

DEMAND HEAD OF MICHAELIS.

Amsterdam, Oct. 17.—A German Socialist newspaper says the Socialists have decided to vote against the new war credit of ten billion marks, which is to be submitted to the Reichstag in December, unless Chancellor Michaelis resigns.

Except for the Independent Socialists, represented in the Reichstag by about twenty deputies, who broke away from the party last year, the Socialists have supported the German government through the war and voted for the war credits. The defection of the entire Socialist body in the Reichstag would represent a serious division, inasmuch as the Social-Democrats and the Independent Socialists combined have 108 seats, a greater number than any other party.

STEAMER SUNK; CREW MISSING.

Copenhagen, Oct. 17.—The Norwegian steamer Thomis has been sunk in the Mediterranean, according to an announcement by the Norwegian Foreign Office received here today. All the members of the crew are missing.

MILITARY DICTATOR FOR GERMANY.

The Berlin correspondent of the Fremdenblatt of Hamburg discerns indications that forces actually are at work in the entourage of Chancellor Michaelis with the thought of a military dictatorship and having the Chancellor continue in office in defiance of the Reichstag, supporting himself by military backing.

WOMEN TAKEN TO WORK FOR HUNS

ARE BEING KIDNAPPED FROM TOWNS IN POSSESSION OF THE ENEMY.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

New York, Oct. 17.—The Evening World today publishes a story from Amsterdam that the Germans are removing the French, particularly the women, from Lille, Roubaix, Tourcoing, Croix and surrounding places to work for them. Only women without children and young girls are now being selected.

HUN WAR CRAFT STRIKES MINE

NAVAL SKIRMISHES ARE REPORTED FROM GULF OF RIGA.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Petrograd, Oct. 17.—The Russian war office has completely lost touch with the Russian forces on the Island of Oesel, it was announced today. Naval skirmishing is continuing in the waters around Oesel Island. In the Gulf of Riga, Russian patrol ships having had encounters with torpedo craft. A fleet of Zepplins is reported over Moon Sound northeast of Oesel Island. "War Pie" has appeared in Chicago. It has a whole wheat crust, and apparently is not proving unduly popular.

Bombproof Shelters Have Been Provided for Million People.

ALL SCHOOLS WILL BE CLOSED

More Raids Are Expected With Moonlight, and City Prepares.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Oct. 17.—London's bomb proof shelters are being card indexed in preparation for further German raids. Sufficient tunnels, arches, basements and substantial buildings have been inventoried to accommodate one million persons. The decision of the educational authorities to close all London schools during the last week of October is perhaps the most interesting of the many steps being taken in anticipation of the recurrence of German raids as soon as the moon is up again.

Air raid shelter placards are being distributed throughout the metropolitan area. Many substantial forms of relief for air raids victims and their relatives are announced as a result of a conference of the mayors of the various London boroughs.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Washington, Oct. 17. — Secretary Lansing today announced definitely that there would shortly be a conference probably in Paris of all the nations engaged in war against Germany and the United States would likely be represented.

While Robertson is only graded in Category C III for service in Canada, still he has shown a commendable example in not waiting till the eleventh hour, but cheerfully exemplifying his readiness to respond to his country's needs in such sphere in which he will be accepted.

Thirty-Nine Exemptionists

Altogether, since the Military Service proclamation was issued only 38 have applied for exemption blanks, and the one, Donald Robertson, for service—39 all told. Of these there was one applicant Saturday afternoon, 14 all day Monday, 23 yesterday and one this morning.

Open Tonight and Tomorrow

Applicants for exemption or service blanks will find attention at the post office tonight and tomorrow evening from 7.30 o'clock. The office was open last night, and all claimants satisfied within an hour.

AS OTHERS SEE CAPT. BURNHAM

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—The Ottawa Citizen (Independent) says editorially this morning: "Peterborough independents and supporters of the Union Government are considering the possibility of electing a fusion candidate. Mr. J. H. Burnham's years of faithful service as M. P. for Peterborough should win generous support for him from both parties. Some members come to Ottawa, and go again, without the rest of the country being any the wiser of their coming and going. It is not so, however, with Mr. Burnham. A session is rarely allowed to pass without Burnham of Peterborough taking an independent stand or interposing in a debate from a new angle of advance, and thus Mr. Burnham's reputation for originality is maintained and new fame is brought to Peterborough."

Germany's Navy is on Edge of Revolt

Chicago, Oct. 17.—That the German navy is full of the spirit of revolt is the statement contained in a cable despatch to the Chicago Daily News from Edward Price Bell, its London correspondent. The assertion is made by Peder Pederson Dahlgaard, who was a sailor on the German battleship Kaiser at Kiel until last June, but who escaped and has just arrived in England.

Russ. Town Bombed by Hun Aircraft

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Berlin, Oct. 17.—Naval aircraft dropped bombs on Pernau, a Russian port on Gulf of Riga, where large fires were observed. On the main fighting front in the east there was a revival of activity. Russians attempted to advance, the statement says, but were driven back.

WEDGE FORCED INTO HUN LINE

Ypres No Longer a Salient, but Field Is Widened with Every Charge.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Anglo-French successes in Flanders is broadening the great wedge which the allies are relentlessly driving into German line are described as outstanding feature of the week in the review of military operations for week ending October 13 issued today by the war department.

The allied offensive in Flanders continues methodically says the review. The assigned objectives attained with increasing regularity, indicate the efficient co-ordination of artillery preparation and infantry attacks.

The zone of operations in the Ypres salient, formerly too narrow for the proper disposition of large masses of troops, has now by French co-operation and their recent successful advance, so extended the line that fighting in what was the Ypres salient has changed in character. It is no longer to be considered a salient but an ever extending wedge progressively driven into the German lines.

First Train Passes Over Quebec Bridge

Quebec, Oct. 17.—A special train with a number of guests of the St. Lawrence Bridge Co. crossed the new complete Quebec bridge from shore to shore between 11.30 and noon today. All went well.

Owing to a temporary dearth of food in France, essential food supplies are being given priority in shipping over munitions, according to Food Controller Hoover.

DELAY TILL ELEVENTH HOUR BY EXEMPTIONISTS RISKY

A Rush During Last Days' May Render it Impossible For as Thorough a Hearing at Tribunals as Some Circumstances Justify.

Class One men who contemplate seeking exemption should fill in their papers without delay. There may be a disposition, from the look of things, to delay until the eleventh hour. But such a course will prove disadvantageous to applicants, as if the tribunals are flooded with personal appeals on November 8th, 9th and 10th, proceedings will be necessarily rushed. In such case the reasons given for application for exemption cannot receive as careful consideration as perhaps circumstances justify, and for this applicants themselves would have to shoulder the responsibility.

Applications to Postmaster Edgar for exemption are few, and in Lindsay, similar conditions prevail, Postmaster Paten reporting on four applicants on Monday for exemption forms—one resident of the town and three farmers. The four applicants were not in favor of being conscripted and gave reasons why they should be exempted.

CLASS ONE MEN MAY REPORT FOR DUTY BEFORE CALLED ON

Six Hundred and Twenty-Two Men Examined at Armories up to Last Night—178 Graded as Rejected — Militia Officers Must Report.

The number o men examined at the Armories yesterday was lower by 6 than that of the previous day. The Medical Board tested 52 all told, and this is 12 in excess of the number they expected they could handle in a day when first undertaking their military examining duties. The results of morning and afternoon sessions proved a tie with the exception of one, while at night the number dropped four below that in the morning, which was 19 men. Eighteen passed through the test yesterday afternoon.

Sergeant Coppock, Registrar for Drs. Cameron, Eastwood and Greer, left this morning for Kingston, where he is still on the books of the Convalescent Hospital as a patient. He expects to get his leave extended and to return tonight to resume his duties as registrar of examinations tomorrow.

Total Results.

Up to last night, at 9 o'clock, the labors of the Medical Board have resulted as follows:

Candidates examined	622
Graded in A Category	354
Graded in B Category	36
Graded in C Category	54
Graded in E Category	178

This means that 27 percent of the applicants have been rejected.

12 Taken, 6 Rejected.

Eighteen learned their fate yesterday afternoon. Twelve are liable for service in one of the grades, while six are medically unfit. The following grading was registered:

Yesterday evening the doctors finished the calls upon them for examination sharp at nine o'clock, having certified 8 men as fit and 7 as Class E. This showed about as poor a quality of physical condition as has as yet come under their attention. The following certificates were issued:

NOW IS THE TIME TO SHOW YOUR METTLE

Candidates! It up to You Whether You Want a Gold Watch or an Auto---The Work of the Next Ten Days Will Tell the Story.

The great contest very soon. Are you satisfied with your work the last few days? Do you think you wil have enough votes to win the prize that you are aspiring to? NOW is the time to think of these things, contestants—don't wait for a couple of weeks, and then, when the contest is all over, say, "I wish I worked that day I spent talking to friends about how many votes I had." Get into the auto class. This is a chance of a lifetime. Make every minute count.

Race is Close

It's anybody's race today. The contest is running close and the contestants who put forth their best efforts will be the ones who will find themselves in the lead when the votes are counted on the night of Oct. 27. Bear in mind that if you want a prize you have a chance to get it. It's up to you.

To Stop Now Is Suicide

No one knows who will win. Many people think they can pick the winners— others are confident that their favorite will top the list. But it is impossible to tell for nobody knows how many votes any candidate can pile up before the end of the contest.

And it is not wise for any contestant to try to estimate how many votes so and so may accumulate. Over confidence often defeats a person and relaxation at this stage means certain ruin to the strongest candidates. Work every spare minute—It will pay you well.

Don't think that because you have a few votes held in reserve that other contestants may not be piling up a reserve vote. Make every day a banner day between now and the close. Get all your promises in. The time is very short and earnest work is required.

Figuratively speaking this is the real "hay-making" time of the contest for the candidates and those of their friends who are helping them garner in the votes and if the figurative vein might be followed it could be added that "the sun of votes is full of promise."

Get out of the trenches, candidates. Break away from the others and the race is won.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1917

LABOR IN THE CABINET.

NO UNION Government is worthy the name so long as labor lacks direct representation in it. The workingmen in the country, organized and numerically strong as they are, are as much entitled to have one of their class in the Cabinet as are the lawyers to one of themselves as attorney-general, or financial interests to select a man for the treasury department.

When the new Union Government was formed it was announced that labor was to be given a representative. Today the statement is made that Hon. T. W. Crothers, the present Minister of Labor, is to be retained in that capacity in the new Cabinet.

Perhaps the position held by Mr. Crothers for the past six years is the most difficult of all in the public service. No man, dealing, as he is compelled to do, with two contending interests, can hope to escape making enemies for himself. Mr. Crothers has aroused the animosity of labor. At several sessions of the Dominion Trades Congress his resignation has been demanded. Labor cannot be expected to accept him now or to be friendly to a government that retains him in its service.

The Ottawa Citizen suggests that the Department of Labor in Canada might very well be made the medium of reconstruction when the soldiers return to be restored to civil life. Australia has set up an entirely new department of repatriation to prepare for the demobilization period. The United Kingdom has a new department of reconstruction, and a ministry of pensions in addition—with a labor representative as minister. It may not be considered necessary to form a new department in Canada. Possibly the soldiers' settlement organisation could come under Hon. J. A. Calder in the new Department of immigration and Colonization. By bringing into the Government as Minister of Labor a trusted spokesman of the returned Canadian soldiers, such as Mr. N. F. R. Knight, Dominion secretary-treasurer of the Great War Veterans' Association, there would then be assurance of a comprehensive policy of repatriation in Canada as there is in the other British nations.

When the war is over, the interests of organized labor and of the returned soldiers will be identical. Mr. Knight represents both elements. The veterans are certainly entitled to a say in the disposition of matters which so closely concern them, and the position in which they have placed Mr. Knight shows the confidence they have reposed in him.

THE HIGH COST OF WAR.

THE WAR is costing one hundred and sixty million dollars a day. Think of the schools, colleges and churches that could be built for that amount of money, the homes that could be established, the poverty and distress relieved. Men could be preserved in health, strength and happiness for a fraction of that amount. It is the evils of the world rather than the blessings that are costly. The high cost of living that we hear so much about is a trifle when compared to the outlay required to send men by the thousands to untimely graves and to cover the surface of the earth with the scars of desolation.

AFTER THE WAR.

THE REVIEW is not optimistic enough to share the opinion expressed by so many of its contemporaries that the formation of a Union Government at Ottawa is the death-knell of party strife in Canada. Partisanship may abate some of its militancy from now forward, but it has not been laid to rest for all time. There have been coalition governments before, both in Ontario and in the Federal field, governments formed just as the latest has been, for the accomplishment of a specific purpose. When the objective was achieved, the government resolved itself into its component parts, and party strife raged as fiercely as ever. As an illustration, the coalition formed at the time of Confederation did not last beyond the time when the new union of provinces was firmly established.

The new Union Government is a combination of party, a joining together of forces for the one purpose of winning the war. That is the prominent issue before the country now, and when the war is over the old political division will separate the parties again.

There are few who will for a moment believe that such men as Hugh Guthrie, Mr. Rowell and Mr. Carvell have undergone any real change of heart politically. On all questions aside from the war they are as good Liberals as they ever were. Their views on the trade question, for example, are the same as they were before Union Government was even thought of. They have been driven for the time being from their former associations, not by reason of any change of their old time views, but by the action of their former leader. Had Sir Wilfrid Laurier accepted conscription, the breach in his ranks would never have occurred. The two parties on all other questions would have remained as far apart as ever, provided Sir Wilfrid had elected to play a lone party hand in the coming contest.

In the approaching election the war is to be the issue. All other questions are to be sidetracked for the present. If in the campaign one section of the Dominion is arrayed in solid phalanx against another, the conflict of forces has not been sought by eight out of the nine provinces. The province that stands alone has dug the chasm that separates it from the others.

When the war is over the old party questions will be raised. The tariff will always be a debatable question in Canada. There are other matters on which public men and private citizens can hold divergent views and which they will be free to discuss. The reconstruction policy that any government adopts when the war is over should first be endorsed by the people. This will call for an election, an election, too, in which all the old issues are likely to be revived. There will be party government in Canada and in the rest of the world until it is given to all men to think alike and to pool their interests.

In the meantime the issue before the people is how best to win the war. That a Union Government is one of the first steps required is a proposition that does not require demonstration.

LABOR REPRESENTATION.

(Calgary Albertan.)

IS THERE to be no labor representation in the new Union Government? No names have yet been mentioned. The Premier has made no statement. It will be a great mistake if the Government has no labor representation in the new Administration. Of the nine members just added, seven are lawyers, one is a farmer and head of a big farmers' organization, and the other member is a business man.

But the largest class of our people is as yet without representation in the Cabinet. That is a serious mistake. The Albertan is hopeful that labor representatives will soon be added to the Government. It cannot be called a Union Government without them.

SIR SAM AND UNION.

IT WOULD BE too much to expect that Gen. Sir Sam Hughes would confer the distinction of his approval upon any proposition that did not originate with himself, or that he would do other than criticize any form of human government in the composition of which he was not himself included. Sir Sam says the recent coalition was not necessary and that party government, both in the abstract and in principle, is all right. All the system requires to prove its worth is a fair trial.

It will occur to most of us that party government in this country has been given a thorough trial, fair or otherwise, and that it has proved considerable of a failure. It must be apparent, too, that Sir Sam himself has in his own person and by his own administration of a department demonstrated the dangers to the welfare of the commonwealth that are concealed in that system. It was the excessive application of the principle that to the victor belongs all spoils in sight that worked Sir Sam's official undoing. He cannot charge party government with that offence against his own career, so to that extent at least he has no quarrel with the system that has, in a national crisis, proved such a dismal failure and been abandoned for the saner design of a union of forces.

Sir Sam Hughes does not hold Sir Wilfrid Laurier responsible for the national calamity of a war-time election. He says that the Government itself on three different occasions planned a war-time election—immediately after the session of 1914; about the time of the sinking of the Lusitania, and again when Hon. Robert Rogers, after holding his ear to the ground out West, made his famous speech in Montreal.

There was some justification for an election on each of the three occasions referred to. When the war broke out, the Government held no mandate from the people to embark on the program of expenditure which they took up. The sentiments of the Canadian people on the part which Canada should take in a war, in the launching of which this country had no say, were not so clearly defined as they are today. The danger which threatened Canada was not then realised to the fullest extent.

If Canada is to have a war-time election, it now seems like a misfortune that it was not held at any of the intervals referred to by the ex-Minister of Militia. An appeal to the people could have had only one result. It would have, by demonstrating the popular temper, strengthened the hands of the Administration and weakened the tactics of an Opposition that has never in all these years of bloodshed lost an opportunity to play politics and to attempt to embarrass the Government, all with a view to regaining power. Had there been an election in 1914 or 1915, the session recently closed, a session marked by every form of obstruction that a desperate Opposition could devise, would have been impossible.

The coming election could have been avoided if Sir Wilfrid Laurier *had consented to form a Union Gov*ernment. The election comes at a crisis in the war. It is a serious matter today compared with what an earlier appeal to the people would have been. It is a calamity that Sir Wilfrid Laurier could have averted. Union Government has been perfected, but too late to save the nation from the agony of political strife.

WAR PRICES HERE AND ABROAD

The prices of food, fuel and other necessaries have risen constantly since the year of 1913, except during very brief periods. The year 1916 witnessed the most pronounced and consistent increases. The causes are summed up by the Department of Labor, Ottawa, in its latest bulletin:

"The short crops all over the world in 1916, the increasing scarcity of coal the exhaustion of supplies of raw materials, with increasing consumption for military needs, all tended to bring about a condition of scarcity and under-production, especially of the necessities of life. The greatest precautions were taken by governments, and trading organizations under their control, to safeguard supplies, to economize consumption, to facilitate transportation and other means of distribution, and to stimulate further production in order that stocks might not be exhausted before new supplies would be available."

In all countries, save only Australia and New Zealand, 1916 prices tended upward. Recessions in price in these two countries were caused by difficulty in transporting their surplus crops to the European market. Early in 1916 prices had more than doubled in Germany and Austria. By July, 1916, they had doubled in Great Britain; whilst in Canada, the rise was only 14 per cent. up to July, 1916, but had reached 60 per cent. eleven months later.

Advances in commodity prices of from 40 per cent to 60 per cent. were recorded during the Napoleonic and succeeding wars. The United States civil war multiplied prices by two and a half. Present prices, therefore, are not unprecedented, but they are certainly more universal than ever before.

In reference to Canadian retail prices, the point of public interest is that, excepting New Zealand and the United States, the increase of prices here has been much less than elsewhere. Bread and flour were almost as low in the summer of 1916 as before the war. But by May, 1917, both had gone up almost 100 per cent. The scarcity of potatoes made this vegetable inordinately costly. Beans, also, were quoted at the unheard figure of twenty cents per pound retail.

The advances in meat, pork and bacon, however, were not so pronounced. Other staples rose and fell, never however, reaching normally low prices. The weekly family cost budget as compiled by the Department of Labor, was $7.42 at the beginning of the war; $7.80 in July, 1915; $8.46 in July, 1916; and $11.62 in July 1917. The budget is based upon current prices of twenty-nine foods and in data collected upon sixty cities and is a reliable index of retail price movement.

Changes of price levels in the United States were slower until this year. The latest available official retail prices in both countries are given herewith. Those for Canada are compiled from returns from sixty cities; those for the United States from forty-five cities.

SACRIFICE THE SWEET TOOTH

Once more war knocks at the kitchen door!

When first war entered the Canadian kitchen his command was save! and pantry shelves were laden with the rich fruits of summer, and this time his word was more urgent—conserve!

And now war appears in the kitchen a third time—and his voice rings with sternness—sacrifice!

At each call of war the Canadian housewife has responded splendidly. When the command was "save" she cut down the waste—excess food on the table, and waste food in the kitchen, succeeding so well that in the large cities the result was indicated by the fact that in a single month the garbage was cut almost in half.

When the command was "conserve" the housewife rallied her skill and her labor and put in the late summer days in a fine frenzy of preserving, jelling, and drying the abundant crops of fruits and vegetables. From all indications no approaching winter has ever before met such a bulwark of stored food as now adorns the cellars and storeroom shelves of Canadian homes.

Now the command is sacrifice!

Sacrifice sugar!

France, our ally, needs 100,000 tons of sugar to carry her through the next two months. Sugar is heat and *energy in the form most easily as*similated by the body. Science has proved that 98.9 per cent of the total energy contained in a given amount of sugar becomes available in the body as heat and energy. Taken in reasonable quantities as food it delays fatigue and increases the working powers.

In Canada it is estimated that each adult citizen consumes a little more than four ounces a day. France is on a starvation ration of sugar—barely one ounce a day. To maintain her armies in fighting condition and her civil population in power to endure the war strain and keep up the industrial support of the armies her sugar ration should be doubled. If it is even to be kept at its present insufficient standard Canada must share its sugar supply and send what is saved to France at once.

It will cost us the sacrifice of our national sweet tooth.

Canadian women who have so bravely met war's other demands are not going to shirk and complain at this slight draft on their kitchens and their personal luxuries.

TODAY'S STORY

Three little boys and a rainy day—dear me, what a bad combination!

"There's nothing on earth to do," said one.

"And I don't believe it's ever going to stop raining," said another.

"And I hate rain in the summer anyway," said the third; and then nobody could think of anything else worth saying.

Just then mother walked into the dining room where they were sitting.

"My, what a Quaker meeting!" she said laughingly. "Why doesn't somebody say something?"

"Because it's raining and there is nothing to say," said the boy.

"And because we can't go to the park as we were going to," said another.

"And because it won't stop raining all day, and we hate rain," added the third.

"Well, then, if we can't go to the park," said mother cheerfully, "why not bring the park here?"

The three boys looked at each other, but they had no chance to ask questions, for she went out of the room. In five minutes she was back, and in her hand she carried rolls of paper—white paper, green paper, yellow paper and red paper, all rolled up in neat little rolls—and in her other hand she had a mucilage pot and three pairs of scissors.

"There we are," she said gaily as she laid the things on the table, "and now for the park!"

She carefully unrolled the great sheet of green paper and spread it out on the table. With a tiny, tiny drop of paste she fastened it firmly at the table corners and then explained the game.

"This table is the park now, boys," she said. "I furnish the ground, now you must improve it. This is the bare, green lot. What are you going to put on it."

The boys at once saw what she meant and grabbed for the scissors.

"I'll put the walks in," said one, "because I can cut pretty curves."

"I'll make the trees," said another and he began his cutting.

"I'll do the pavilion," said the third, and they all went to work.

Such a cutting and a pasting as there was! The walks were made of white paper and were laid in place with just a touch of paste to keep them from slipping. The trees were cut in two pieces and were pasted together with the ends turning outward to make them stand steadily, and the pavilion was cut of bright colored papers and was pasted on to the center of the park.

All the morning the boys worked. They put automobiles on the roads, children in the pavilion, policemen at the corners and picnic parties on the grass. So much fun did they have that they were almost sorry when the sun came out and they could go to the real park!

If a woman is unable to preserve her complexion she begins to pickle it.

EDITOR'S MAIL

POLITICS ON THE SCHOOL BOARD

Editor Review:—I fail to see what you have on which to base your contention that the Board of Education in this city has all these years been singularly free from politics." If it has it has been its almost solid con*tingents of members of our party* that has made it so.

The School Board has been for years made up entirely of conservatives. The party spirit crept to the surface every year at the election of a chairman. Liberal members entitled by precedent to the position were passed over time after time. There may be a Liberal chairman now, but his election was surely the result of an accident, or perhaps for once the Conservative members were caught napping and let the yearly prize get away from them.

FAIR PLAY.

That Milk Case

Editor Review—Will you allow me some space in your valuable paper to make a short explanation re your report of the milk case, John Gibson vs. Wm. Fife and the Magistrate's decision.

In making tests of milk in factories I do not know whose milk I am testing until the test is completed.

If the test indicates deteriorated or unlawful milk I then ask the cheese maker or manager whose milk such a number is. I cannot help who it falls on, neither can I take any one's word. If I did I would feel that I should take every one's and in that case there would never be a conviction or a fine imposed.

The case in question tested at factory 2.40 butter fat. When duplicated it read 2.50. When I arrived at the farm the same evening I found a herd of ten cows. Seven cows were milked and the milk in the can. I saw two cows finished and one milked. A sample taken of same tested 2.60 butter fat.

I went back to the farm in one week and saw the whole herd milked. Sample from same tested 3.80 butter fat.

The statute gives me two weeks to make comparison of the herd's milk with the milk complained of and says the Lactometre and Babcock tester shall be proof of deterioration.

I submit that I was fully justified in reporting this case to my chief, Mr. Publow, and that he was fully justified in hearing it prosecuted. As much so as any milk case that has ever come before this or any other court.

The question of scientific agriculture and dairying and the result of weather conditions and feed upon the richness of milk, I do not think it wise to go into here as practically every one knows, you cannot feed richness or butter fat into milk. That is characteristic of the cow which has been proven by years of investigation and trials, but usually argued to the contrary in cases of low testing or deteriorated milk.

Now Mr. Editor, I shall feel very grateful if you will find room for this explanation in your paper for I think it only fair to this great national industry dairying and the thousands of patrons or producers and good citizens that are trying to maintain it in the proud position to which it belongs.

R. W. WARD.

BAD DREAMS ARE SYMPTOMS

Ill Health the Cause—Many Alarming Symptoms of Women's Ailments—How Cured.

Paterson, N.J.—"I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me feel happy and healthy. Sometime ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very irregular, tired, nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the aforesaid ailments, to try your wonderful Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles."—Mrs. ELSIE J. BOWSER'S BARGAIN

He Buys a Hammock at 20 Per Cent Discount.

AND INTENDS SLEEPING IN IT

But a Complication of Affairs Spoils the Proposed Siesta—Mr. B. Discovers That the Night Air Is Full of a Number of Things.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, [illegible], by Associated Literary Press.]

THERE was no red lantern as a danger signal.

There was no raven to croak.

There was no warning in the evening breeze.

But as suddenly as a workman quits when the whistle blows the Bowser door bell was yanked.

The cook took her hands out of the dishwater to run upstairs and answer the summons and received a bundle which she bore to the sitting room.

"There must be some mistake," said Mrs. Bowser. "I have ordered nothing sent up today."

"There is no mistake about it," replied Mr. Bowser. "This is a hammock I bought this afternoon at 20 per cent off, because it was late in the season."

"But we have no place for a hammock."

"Haven't we got a back yard?"

"Yes, but there is no shady spot for a hammock."

Bowser Does Not Seek Ease.

"I am not looking for shady spots, Mrs. Bowser. I want you to talk sensibly for once in your life. Do you know that I have got to harden myself up for the coming dog days or run a terrible risk of a physical collapse with the advent of the first real hot wave?"

THE BOWSER CAT AND THE INTERLOPER COLLIDED.

"No, I didn't know it. I thought you were in splendid health. Only last night I heard you telling Brown"—

"Never mind what I told Brown. A man may be at death's door and yet not like to have people talking about it and sympathizing. I may look well and have a good appetite, but the fact remains that a puff would blow out the flame of life. I have kept this fact from you for weeks and weeks, but I feel you ought to know it."

"And the hammock is going to save you from being puffed out?" she asked as the family cat came out from under the piano to take a hand in the game.

"I hope and trust it is. Acting under the advice of one of the best doctors in town, I am going to try to harden myself up before the hot weather becomes too oppressive. I shall put that hammock up in the back yard this evening."

"And that will harden you?"

Adam Is His Hero.

"And I shall pass the night in the hammock—many nights. The doctor says I must have a free circulation of air and that instead of avoiding the night dews I must revel in them, so to say. Man was never born to sleep in a bed as we do. Adam rested at night under a tree. So did all the other men for hundreds of years. Whenever you find the hardiest men you find men who keep in the open air by day and night. I have coddled myself up too much."

"Well, when you have a sore throat, a cold in the head and are aching with rheumatism from head to heel, perhaps you'll keep on coddling," she answered. "Any doctor who told you such stuff for truth is an idiot!"

"There you go!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he began to pace up and down the room, followed by the cat. "I might have known you wouldn't talk sense. I never start in to better my health but you oppose the idea. If you are hoping I may collapse on the street and be brought home as dead as a doornail, why don't you say so and have done with it?"

Mrs. Bowser Scents Trouble Again.

"Go ahead with your hammock cure," she quietly replied. "If the doctor said it would harden you up then of course it will. Don't put the blame off on me, however."

"Blame? Blame? How can I blame you?"

"I don't know, but you probably will."

"I'll probably do nothing of the kind. By George, but I wonder if there is another such aggravating woman on the face of the earth!"

Mrs. Bowser had nothing more to say. Mr. Bowser kicked things out of his way as he walked, and the cat rubbed against a leg of the piano and saw fun ahead. Half an hour later the hammock was slung between two of the clothesline posts. It was a fairly dark evening, and Mr. Bowser congratulated himself that none of the neighbors had got on to his little scheme. At 1 o'clock he was ready to try the cure. He tried to draw Mrs. Bowser into an argument about it, but she kept clear and went upstairs as he started out. Bareheaded and with coat and vest off, he fell into the hammock with a grunt of satisfaction and began counting the stars in the vault above. Unnoticed by him, the cat had followed at his heels. The night cure was nothing new to her, and she went wandering about the yard in search of summer novelties. Ten minutes had passed, and Mr. Bowser had just indulged in a sneeze which set the hammock swinging when the head of a neighbor's cat appeared above the fence. For a few brief seconds the Bowser cat and the interloper exchanging glances of hate and distrust and defiance, and then on top of the fence they collided.

"By the great horn spoon!" ejaculated Mr. Bowser as he rolled about and finally fell out of the hammock. By the time he had hit the earth the interloper was a licked feline and was heard scrambling over a fence three yards below.

Enter a Canine Intruder.

It was evident that the cure had a few drawbacks, but after cussing softly to himself for a minute the patient climbed back into the hammock and tried to make himself believe that he already felt better. He shut his eyes tightly, determined to sleep, and the premonitory tingle of a second sneeze was being faintly felt when there was a yell and a hiss, and the cat went up the fence and over it like a flash, and a dog was left whining and growling within ten feet of the hammock. The canine had crept under the alley fence, and the Bowser cat hadn't waited to ask any questions.

"By thunder! Can't a man find five minutes' peace in his own back yard?" shouted Mr. Bowser as he rolled out and looked for a clothes prop as a weapon of offense.

He ran that dog three times across the yard before the animal could find the hole he came in at and get out again, and when he returned to the hammock the romance of the night was gone. If he hadn't caught sight of Mrs. Bowser peering from one of the back windows he might have decided to call things off until the next night. That settled matters, however. He dropped into the hammock and huddled himself up, and the cat came back and sat on the fence and looked down upon him with guardian eyes. Ten minutes stole quietly away, and the crickets had begun to sing low and drowsily, when something fell from the sky with a great slash and clatter and missed Mr. Bowser and his hammock by only a few inches.

"Something" Was an Old Bucket.

"By the club footed king, but who did that?" he demanded as he rolled out to find that the "something" was an old pail.

He had scarcely uttered the word when an Early Rose potato whizzed by his ear and struck the fence with a bang, and it was followed by a Florida cabbage stalk which emitted a moaning sound as it grazed the top of his head. The cat realized that she wasn't in it and took a skip, but Mr. Bowser wasn't to be bluffed.

"You reptiles, I'll have you jugged for this!" he shouted as he looked around and failed to locate any one. "Do you know"—

Then there were missiles which he believed to be onions and tomatoes and green corn cobs and ancient lemons, and all he could do was to jump up and down and demand that his hidden foes stand forth and be slaughtered. He thought he caught sight of some one on the alley fence, and he made a wild charge, but he had no sooner reached it than the heavens rained tin cans, bottles, old hats and shoes, and he was compelled to turn and flee for his life. Mrs. Bowser came downstairs to find him in the sitting room, white faced, big eyed and panting, and after a look at him she said:

"Have you got hardened up for the hot wave as quick as this?"

"Woman, how dare you look me in the face?" he demanded as he turned on her. "Don't you suppose I know all about your little plot to have me killed, murdered, assassinated in my own back yard? I say, dare you"—

"You'd better come to bed," she quietly replied, and she went upstairs, and he slowly followed and hadn't another word to say.

YOUNG GIRL STYLES.

Points About How to Dress Your Twelve-year-old.

This season the designers have created some very charming dresses for children. One of the most novel and picturesque was a party dress for a girl of twelve.

The dress was of apricot pink crepe de chine, made with a simple little bodice, open in the front with a wide box plait, which concealed the buttons beneath. The small flat collar was of the same material, and the cuffs were the same width as the collar. The skirt was a plain gathered one, with a wide hem.

Around the bottom of the dress and down the front on either side of the box plait white wool was threaded through the material in plain running stitch.

The most novel feature was the wool edging used as a trimming. Around the edge of the collar and cuffs, also at the top of the hem, an edging was crocheted with white wool and then with a row of china blue.

The box plait was ornamented by three large tight balls of china blue wool, suspended by wool chains two inches long.

At the belt line a cordlike affair was used. It was composed of eight or ten strands of the blue yarn, couched at intervals of three-quarters of an inch. The color effect was charming, and the dress was really beautiful.

The Truth.

A few days after the new farmer had purchased a horse from a thrifty Scot he returned in an angry mood.

"You told me this horse had won half a dozen matches against some of the best horses in the country. He can't trot a mile in six minutes to save himself. You lied to me!" he denounced.

"I didna lie. It was in plowing matches he took sax prizes," calmly replied Sandy.—Kansas City Star.

A Mystery.

"My boy Josh has been talkin' to me about scientific farmin'," said Mr. Corntossel.

"He seems to have interested you."

"Yes. What I'd like to find out now is how a man that knows as little about farmin' as I do ever managed to make the place pay."—Washington Star.

HEADS THE ANTIS

Senator's Wife Says It Is Her Duty to Accept.

LEADERSHIP IN HER HANDS.

Is Daughter of the Late John Hay, Formerly Secretary of State; Sister of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and Wife of United States Senator.

Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., wife of United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., has accepted the presidency of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, or the "antis," as they are popularly known.

Mrs. Wadsworth before her marriage to Senator Wadsworth in 1902 was Miss Alice Hay, the daughter of John Hay, formerly secretary of state. She is a sister of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

MRS. JAMES W. WADSWORTH, JR.

In her letter accepting the place, which was relinquished by Mrs. Arthur Dodge, Mrs. Wadsworth wrote:

"Although most reluctant to shoulder any additional burden outside the care of my family, the war relief work and the charities in which I am already engaged, I feel that it is my duty, in the interest of patriotism and national defense, to accept this office and to do my utmost to justify your confidence."

Mrs. Wadsworth deplores the action of the suffragette pickets in Washington, whom she characterizes as disloyal and a lawless and mischief making company, who because of their audacious spirits have more influence upon the electorate than the conservative woman voter would have.

"We are a country at war," wrote Mrs. Wadsworth. "Surely the qualities of leadership most needed at this time are strength, stability, breadth and fairness of vision, a direct and uncomplex method of thought and action. Can we possibly hope to gain these by throwing into our national politics so inflammable and uncertain an element as the feminine vote?"

Salad Suggestions.

Salads of Fresh Vegetables.—Lettuce, radishes, cucumbers; tomatoes stuffed with cucumbers; lettuce and sliced tomatoes; lettuce, radishes and onions; cold slaw with green peppers; tomatoes and green peppers.

Salads of Cooked Vegetables.—Beets, string beans; beans and onions; beets, potatoes, onions; mixed vegetables.

Fruit Salads.—Apple, cabbage and nuts; canned pears and cheese; canned or fresh cherries and nuts; canned or fresh peaches cut into strips.

To make salads attractive use flavors which blend and colors which harmonize.

Salad dressings, with the exception of French dressing, should be thick.

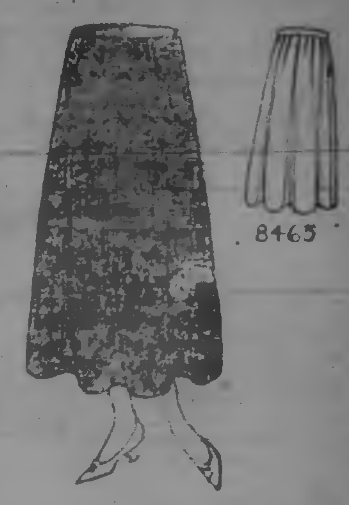
Garnishings should be dry, since water thins the dressing.

To Get Rid of Ants.

Borax sprinkled around will sometimes drive away ants. If this fails, however, get a little tartar emetic at the druggist's and sprinkle around. Tartar emetic is a poison, and one should be careful that it does not get near the food and that children are kept away from it.

LADY'S SKIRT.

By Anabel Worthington.



The woman who is inclined to stoutness will appreciate the merits of this plain two gored skirt. The advantage of the flat, invisible pockets is apparent, for they are a great convenience, but they do not add bulk to the figure. The front gore is cut in a double curve from the waist line to the side seam, making an attractive line, which breaks the width across the front. The back gore is gathered at the waist line and a narrow belt goes from seam to seam. Serge, gabardine, wool poplin or shepherd check will be suitable for this skirt.

The skirt pattern, No. 8463, is cut in sizes 24 to 32 inches waist measure. Width at lower edge of skirt 2½ yards. The 24 inch size requires 3 yards 36 inch material.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

THE BOOK AGENT AS HE ISN'T.

A Fable In Words of One or More Syllables

"YOU have sent for me," said the book agent, entering the busy man's office.

"Yes, yes," said the busy man. "Have a chair, please. Shan't keep you long."

"I can come some other day, if you prefer," said the book agent, edging toward the door.

"No, no!" cried the busy man. "I want to see if you can sell me a set of Dickeray."

"I suppose I could," replied the book agent dubiously, "but I don't believe a busy man like you will ever have time to read it. Why don't you wait until you have retired from business life and then decide whether you are still interested?"

"I must have it," said the busy man sharply. "I want something nice in crushed levant, with gold tops and all that, a limited edition de luxe, if you have it."

"Won't it be somewhat of a drain on your purse?" suggested the book agent. "This paying for books month after month becomes monotonous. A man may think it a trifle at the start; but after the first six months it gets on his nerves. Why not go to a regular store and buy your set of Dickeray in cloth at a cash price for about one-sixth of what I can offer you?"

"Oh, all right," growled the busy man. "Have it your own way. But I'm sorry to have taken up your time."

"Oh, that's nothing," said the book agent. "Some day you may have a real need of something in my line, and then I'll be glad to sell it to you. Good morning!"—Frank M. O'Brien in New York Press.

"FEED 'EM!"

A New Battlecry For Patriotic Centers of Canning.

"The battlecry of 'feed 'em' is the slogan in every home in the land," says Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, "and that slogan should be heard in every schoolhouse in the land.

"Why not use the schools of the country as community canning centers two or three times a week? What better place could the people of the town or city have for meeting and furthering the work of feeding themselves by helping the government feed the soldiers? They are closed now and should be used to hold canning rallies.

"Reports coming to the commission in our nation wide survey of the garden planting situation show that the women are planning to can and dry food as never before.

"The commission stands ready to send free a canning or drying manual for a two cent stamp to pay postage to any woman in the United States. Make the kitchen your first line trench and shoot the requests for this expert free instruction with as rapid fire as you please.

"The women will do their bit if they have the proper instruction in the most up to date methods of conserving the food supply. The commission will work night and day to give it to them. All they have to do is to ask for it."

NO CHANCE TO EVADE SERVICE

The Military Service Council has announced that notwithstanding the proclamation men in Class One will be allowed to report for duty before ordered to do so by the Registrar. All they have to do is to issue the counterfort of their report for service together with a certificate from employers.

This announcement does not seem necessary for Peterborough with not a single applicant even signing a service form in three days, to say nothing of any anxious to report for duty before called upon.

Cannot Evade Service

No man in Class One will be permitted to cross the border without first satisfying the military authorities that his reasons are acceptable to them, and even then he must put up a $1,000 bond in guarantee of his return at a specified time—two weeks is the limit. A man, however, can get a passport on producing an exemption certificate, without the $1,000 bond, but as the tribunals are not yet setting there is no other course at present open but that of military permission and the cash bond. An applicant for a passport who is not in the class yet called to colors may acquire a permit to leave the Dominion as in the past, for a period not exceeding three months.

Militia Officers Must Report

Notification has been sent out by military headquarters that, under the provisions of the Military Service Act, all officers of the active militia must report for service under their respective classes, or claim exemption, the same as civilians. All such officers are therefore instructed to comply with the regulations. Pending further instructions, officers liable under the Act, who may volunteer to serve in the ranks, will be seconded in their militia regiments and their seniority in the militia will be preserved while they are on active service. Those who do not volunteer for service will be subject to call their services will be utilized in whatever capacity the exigencies of the service may render necessary, and provision will be made to preserve their status in the militia.

Extracts from letter written by L.-Corp. F. W. B. Fitzgerald to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fitzgerald:

Somewhere in France,
Sept 20, 1917.

Now, 11.30 p.m., and while I am waiting to go to bed I will write a note. Seems that now, even notes are very few, does it not? But, you will understand that we are really busy and write as often as we can. My bed tonight and for several nights to come, is on the Orderly Room table. As one end of the table is still in use, I cannot retire. It is a fine place to sleep, good and dry. In the dugout in which Storey and I last lived, there was just room for us to lie down comfortably, but as perhaps I told you before, we had a stove in it, on which we could cook everything fine, when we could salvage anything to cook. Quite often we made custard. Some custard powder, a tin of milk and some hot water was all that was necessary. We left our stove at a Y.M.C.A. where there was a former 130th man working, and we can get it anytime we return. We could have buried it and put a cross up, but that would have to be done at night. It meant considerable work and would possibly spoil the stove.

Did I tell you I had lost my kit bag, which held my great-coat, cap, socks, razor, in fact everything I owned? It is rather inconvenient as I will have to write you for a new supply. For about ten days I could not get a shave. Several others were in the same box. I had a beautiful beard. One of the boys wanted to know when they started putting the Russians in with the Canadians.

The other day we walked about half a mile and filled our mess tins with the most luscious thimble berries I ever tasted. The season was rather late, but I really never picked any berries which tasted better. Bob had some sugar which was just what we needed. What is everything like over there now? I often think of what it would be like to be back wandering around the way I used to. The trees will have all changed color by this time and there will be the most wonderful moonlight nights.

Some time ago, just before I came to Brigade Headquarters, the moon was very bright for several nights, but that was the time I wanted it to be dark. I will tell you all about it some day. There were a lot of interesting things happened and I doubt if I will forget them before the war is over, even if it does continue for years.

There is a Canadian mail around, but my letters have not yet reached me. Saw John Armstrong the other evening. He is an artillery signaller.

The Zion anniversary services last Sunday were largely attended. Rev. Mr. Heigh of Dunsford preached eloquent sermons. The music by the choir, assisted by some of the Millbrook friends, was much appreciated.

FREDERICK OAKS IS HELD FOR TRIAL ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Charged With Contracting Marriage in Toronto, While a Former Wife to Whom he was Married in Lindsay was Living.

Frederick Oaks of Peterborough at the police court this morning appeared in answer to a charge of bigamy preferred by Iva McClennan of Peterborough with whom he went through a marriage ceremony in Toronto on September 4th, 1916.

Mrs. Ella May Oaks, defendant's alleged first wife, testified that she resides with Mr. Albert Atchinson, Fraserville, and recognized prisoner in the box as her husband, with whom she lived nine years, and left him six years ago. She was married in a Lindsay Methodist Church, as far as she can remember, by license, fifteen years ago. There were at least two witnesses to the ceremony, Geo. and Maude Hudson, brother and sister, who attended herself and defendant. The minister's wife was another witness, but she could not remember her name. Two children were born of the marriage. One is 12, the other 8, and both living. The last child was born after the separation, nearly a year after; but Oaks came back to her a second time. Since the last separation she had had no communication with defendant, who, however, had sent four or five post cards to the children. Subsequently witness said she received two letters from Oaks 6 or 7 years ago inviting her to fetch her clothes. She here asserted that she left defendant herself.

Legitimacy of Child.

Complainant continuing said, "I came home on a visit to my father's at Mt. Pleasant. My husband came there on a visit, and asked me to return home with him and clean the lamps in Bethany Church. In place of going home we went to his sister's house at Ida where we stayed from Saturday night to Sunday morning, when I returned to my father's home, and have never been in Oaks' company since. The last child is nearly eight years of age, and was born as a result of this last meeting, nine months afterwards.

She had to take a magistrate with her to Oaks' house to get her clothes eight years ago. She was not complaining about the second marriage. Iva McClennan of Peterborough is complainant, and she (Mrs. May Oaks) was a witness.

Did Not Write Oaks.

To Mr. J. A. O'Brien, for defence, witness admitted that she had not written to Oaks for over eight years. She had seen him once since but not to speak with him. He was then working for the Bell Telephone Co.

Second Wife's Testimony.

Iva McClennan of this city, the complainant, testified that she lives with her mother and sister, where she had also resided before meeting defendant. She could not remember first meeting defendant, but the place of meeting was at Mrs. Fowler's in Peterborough. This might have been four years ago. She and accused used to attend the Bethany Tabernacle and her sister-in-law's: he courted her two winters and two summers. He asked her to marry him two years ago, and they went to Toronto at the time of the Exhibition to get married, accompanied by her mother and Mr. Castle. They went through a form of marriage in an English Church; the license was secured at Toronto. At the ceremony her mother and Thos. Castle from Peterborough and her Toronto sister, Mrs. Kendell.

The Proofs.

Witness produced the marriage certificate signed by Rev. F. G. Plummer of St. Augustin's Church, together with the license. She had been living with defendant since Sept., 1917. She and her mother and sisters all asked defendant had he a wife, which he denied. After marriage he replied to her that reports of his having another wife and two children living were all lies. Prisoner's mother assured her that these reports were true, when she left him and lived with her sister-in-law, Mrs. McClennan.

Did Not Support Her.

To Mr. Hatton—"I lived with prisoner at his mother's for six months. He did not support me, but simply bought the groceries.

To Mr. O'Brien, for prisoner, witness stood firm to her evidence, which could not be shaken.

The prisoner was sent up for trial. County Crown Attorney Hatton prosecuted. Mr. J. A. O'Brien for the defence.

THE PATRIOTIC FUND FOR 1918

The regular quarterly meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund was last night adjourned, and will be held some evening next week.

Those present discussed the general business to come before the meeting, and the present needs for carrying on the work for another year.

The outlook is that at least something over $100,000 will be required for the needs of the Fund from this city and district, and of which from $60,000 to $70,000 will have to be raised in the city. Next week's meeting will decide as to the campaign, which, if agreed, will have to be put on in time to get it through before the elections.

Of course, the old organization of teams, etc., will be available in a campaign for funds and collections. It is expected that as the city, from a financial point of view, has been prosperous, and work at excellent wages plenty, a call to the wage-earners will meet with a hearty response. The objects of the Patriotic Fund, now in its fourth year, are so well known, in its aid to the families of the men on service, that the Fund will take precedence of almost all other objects, unless it would be the Red Cross or some other equally patriotic and essentially necessary work. Fuller details of the proposed campaign will be given to the public on the decision of the committee.

Improving.

Wife—I think the cook is improving, don't you?

Husband—Why, at dinner tonight everything was bad but the coffee.

Wife—I know; but usually that's bad, too.

Smith Council Gives $1684 to Red Cross

The members of the Council of the Municipality of Smith met in the County Treasurer's office on Tuesday, Oct. 16th at nine o'clock, summoned by the call of the Reeve. All the members were present with the exception of Councillor Middleton. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

An appeal was received from the Executive Committee of the British Red Cross asking the township to make as liberal a grant as possible. By motion it was decided to levy one mill on the dollar of all the rateable property of the township and that the amount of $1684 be forwarded.

Bylaw No. 753 prohibiting dogs from running at large on the highways of the Township was repealed.

The treasurer was ordered to pay the following accounts:

Dr. J. A. Morgan, medical services, $27.00; A. G. Shearers, Apc., $1.55; John Kennedy, work on road $5.25; Walter Young, work on road, $4.50; Walter Young, services as sheep valuator, $1.50; Thos. Davis, work on road, $4.00.

Bylaw No. 758 passed to levy 5 per cent. on all taxes not paid on or before Dec. 15th.

The council then adjourned to meet again on Dec. 15th.

Keep Doors Closed Until Car Stops

OR LIABLE FOR DAMAGES IN CASE ACCIDENT OCCURS TO PASSENGERS.

According to a decision of the first Division Court, Appelate Division, Toronto, the motorman of a street car who opens the front door of his car and thus affords passengers an opportunity to alight before the car has come to a standstill is guilty of negligence and under such circumstances a victim of an accident is entitled to recover from the motorman's employer.

This is a point of law Peterborough motormen and conductors would do well to digest, for according to the finding of a jury under Mr. Justice Masten, in an appeal by the Toronto Street Railway Co. from an award of damages, conductors and motormen are to protect the lives and limbs of passengers by seeing that all doors are kept closed until the car has stopped. And this is as it should be.

Don. M. Dickinson, who was Postmaster-General under Pres. Cleveland, is dead at his home in Trenton, Mich.

Four men are on trial in Chicago today charged with formenting a plot against the British rajah in India. Sensational revelations are anticipated.

TAKE RISK OF FIFTEEN YEARS

IN PENITENTIARY—SURE WAY OF ALLEGED "DIPS" GETTING MONEY BACK.

In regard to $1300 found in the possession of the three pick-pocket suspects who jumped their bail, Mr. O'Brien, of Gordon, Widdifield & O'Brien, while willing that any of the monies held by the police identified by those who lost their wallets at the Exhibition shall be returned to them, contends that the balance is coming to his clients. He holds that neither court nor government has any claim upon such money unless conviction is made, and that conviction cannot be secured without accused's presence in court to avail themselves of such protection as the law offers.

Magistrate Dumble declares that these men, judging by their police record, should be in jail for life, and that, if in his power, he would willingly order a return of the cash to them were they to appear in court to avail themselves of such protection as the law offers, and take the lively chance of a fourteen or fifteen years' sentence.

Act Provides Penalty For all Blacklisters

CASE IN WHICH THERE SEEMED DIFFICULTY IN FINDING PENAL CLAUSE.

In the case of a black-lister last week charged in the police court with having liquor in his possession, his counsel's contention that the amended temperance act, while providing for a man being put on the black list, made no provision for punishment, was temporarily accepted by the court and the case adjourned pending communication with the department on the subject.

Yesterday evening License Inspector Stewart was advised by the department that the act does contain a clause, plain enough to perceive, fixing the penalty in such cases. Surprise was expressed at such a defense being offered, and equal surprise at its finding any weight whatsoever with the court.

"Henpecked Henry" Filled the Theatre

MUSICAL FARCE PROVED A LAUGH-PRODUCER AT THE GRAND.

The crowd that filled every seat in all the floors of the Grand Opera House last night certainly had the worth of their money if they were in search of laughter. The offering was the musical farce "Henpecked Henry," presented by Gaskell and McVitty and with Clyde Long in the title role. The story is that of a broker, retired from active business, with a weakness for falling in love but who is kept closely to the chalk line by a strong minded wife. Mr. Long certainly filled the bill and Miss Virginia Bannister carries out the part of his exacting spouse to perfection. Harry O'Lynn, a black faced comedian, added to the gaiety of that part of the nation that sat last night within range of his voice vision. There were a bevy of dancing girls to vary the performance at intervals by graceful terpsichorean exhibition.

"Everywoman" will be at the Grand Saturday, afternoon and night.

SEED GRAIN AND POTATOES FREE

GOVERNMENT DECIDES TO DISTRIBUTE THESE AMONG THE FARMERS.

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a free distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers.

The samples of grain for distribution will consist of spring wheat (about 5 lbs.), white oats (about 4 lbs.), barley (about 5 lbs.), and field peas (about 5 lbs.). These will be sent out from the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, by the Dominion Cerealist, who will furnish the necessary application forms.

A distribution of potatoes in samples of about 3 lbs. will be carried on from most of the Experimental Farms, the Central Farm supplying only the province of Ontario.

All samples will be sent free by mail. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each applicant. As the supply of seed is limited, farmers are advised to apply very early.

LOST LIFE IN PIGEON LAKE

Word is received of a sad drowning fatality in which Eric Boyd, son of Mr. W. T. C. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, lost his life in Pigeon Lake on Saturday.

He left the village on Friday on a duck hunting expedition intending to return Saturday, but failed to do so. Parties left for his camp at Long Point, where they found his clothing, watch, guns and a partly finished meal. His canoe was found right side up on the lake. It is believed it drifted from shore and in swimming for it he was drowned.

A search is being instituted for the body.

CANADA

Will Class One Provide The One Hundred Thousand Men?

It will be greatly to the advantage of Canada if the entire quota of 100,000 men to be raised under the Military Service Act can be secured from the first class; that is, from the men between the ages of 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917.

This is almost self-evident for the following reasons:

it is admitted that, between the ages of 20 and 34, the average man is at the height of his physical strength and is most adaptable to the change of conditions from civilian life;

the military Service of unmarried men and widowers without children would occasion less distress than that of most others, since they are largely without dependents. Also, it would entail less financial burden for Canada, through separation allowances, etc.

Authorities estimate that, after all proper examinations have been allowed, Canada should be able to produce from the first class 100,000 men fit for service, so the drain upon the man power of the country will not be severe.

Members of Class One will be well advised to present themselves for examination immediately to the Medical Board in their district. Upon examination as to their physical fitness, they will be placed in one of the following categories:

Category A—if fit for service in overseas fighting units.
Category B—if fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalion, etc.
Category C—if fit for service in Canada only.
Category E if unfit for military service of any nature.

If not placed in category A, the applicant will know that he is not liable for immediate service, but will go to the Post Office and send in a claim for exemption with his Medical Certificate attached, when he will receive in due course a certificate of exemption until those in his medical category are summoned for service.

Where a man, who is placed in category A, feels that exemption should be allowed, an application form can be secured from the postmaster. This form, when filled in, will be forwarded by the postmaster to the registrar of the district, and the applicant will be informed by mail as to the time and place for the consideration of his application by the Exemption Board.

Issued By The Military Service Council.

HASTINGS

(Special Correspondence.)

Hastings, Oct. 17.—Rev. Swaine of Norham occupied the pulpit in the Methodist Church, both morning and evening on Sunday last, and preached interesting and instructive sermons. In the morning his subject was "The Parable of the Talents," and in the evening "Love to One's Neighbor," referring indirectly to home missionary work. In the morning Miss McCutcheon of Peterborough rendered a solo in her usual good voice.

Rev. Isaac Snell was in Norham on Sunday taking the services there in the absence of the pastor.

The household effects of the late A. S. Parsons were disposed of by auction sale on Saturday last.

The teachers of the district attended convention on Thursday and Friday and as a consequence the schools were closed.

On Wednesday last, the term "The deserted village" could have been appropriately applied to Hastings, almost every one who could possibly do so, taking advantage of the fine weather to attend Norwood Fair. An unusually large crowd is reported. A number of our young people went over in the evening to enjoy the concert and report a very large crowd, and very good programme.

Dr. and Mrs. Huyck left on Monday for Castleton to spend a few days with friends prior to leaving for Kingston to take up his work there. During their stay in town they have become very popular and their many friends regret their removal.

On Wednesday last a novel idea was carried out by members of the I. O. D. E., who placed a rope across the Norwood road, and asked everyone going to the fair for a toll. The handsome sum of $80.00 was thus realized to be used in providing comforts for the boys at the front.

Miss McCutcheon of Peterborough spent the week-end in town the guest of Mrs. B. F. Doysee.

Mrs. Alex. Greenley of Toronto is spending the week visiting friends in Hastings.

Mrs. Fred Brown, of Trenton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Oliver.

Mrs. Smith of Cobourg has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warner.

Miss Hess of Wooler visited Dr. and Mrs. Hess during the week.

Mrs. Victor German has been visiting friends in Peterborough.

Miss Milligan of Cobourg called on friends here during the week.

Miss Flossie Carter spent a few days during the week with friends in Peterborough.

Mrs. McConnal of Montana is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. Carter.

Miss Alford of Lakefield was in town on Saturday soliciting subscriptions for the Peterborough Review and was quite successful.

Mrs. C. Fisher entertained a number of friends on Friday afternoon in honor of Nursing Sister Helen Fowlds.

Master Gerald Beavis has been in town visiting his grandmother, Mrs. N. Beavis.

Mrs. Secord and little son of Toronto are guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hess.

Nursing Sister Helen Fowlds, who has been on a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fowlds left on Monday for overseas to take up work again. She will be followed by the best wishes of a host of friends who wish her success in her chosen work, and will hope to see her return again to her native land. Helen is a young lady of sterling qualities as one might judge from the work which she has undertaken and at which she has proved herself to be an adept.

$50,000 GRANT TO VETERANS

WILL BE PAID BY PROVINCE IN FOUR QUARTERLY INSTALMENTS.

Hon. T. W. McGarry, Provincial Treasurer, promised the Great War Veterans' Association this morning $50,000 for the year. This money is for the purposes of the Ontario association. The money will be paid in four quarterly instalments of $12,500.

The money is to be used for organization purposes to stimulate the 45 branches already existing and for 21 others which are in process of formation, as well as any others that will be formed as occasion warrants.

Application was first made some time ago by the Toronto organization and this was favorably considered. Then there were applications from other organizations in the province, and the Government decided to make a provincial grant to the provincial organization.

The association intends to appoint a salaried organizing secretary, assistant and secretary in the headquarters in Toronto, after consultation with the provincial branches. This position is open to the best men obtainable. "This money is not to be used as a 'pork-barrel,'" said Secretary W. E. Turley, but to be carefully expended under the direction of the provincial executive for the purpose it was granted."

Mrs. Harley Ennis of Norwood has been visiting friends in town.

Now that the fall fairs are over the farmers are settling down to the realities of farm work.

The local merchants are decorating their windows with the latest novelties in fall goods.

A DARING AVIATOR.

Captain W. A. Bishop Possesses Three Decorations.

The intrepidity of Captain William Avery Bishop, a Canadian, and a member of the Royal Flying Corps, in attacking a German aerodrome single-handed, has been rewarded by the bestowal upon him of the Victoria Cross, the most prized of the British valor medals. The Official Gazette gives the following resume of the action which brought Captain Bishop the Victoria Cross:

"Captain Bishop flew first to an enemy aerodrome. Finding no enemy machine about, he flew to another aerodrome three miles distant and about twelve miles inside the German lines. Seven machines, some with their engines running, were on the ground. He attacked these from a height of 50 feet, killing one of the mechanics.

"One of the machines got off the ground, but Captain Bishop, at a height of 60 feet, fired 15 rounds into it at close range and it crashed to the ground. A second machine got off the ground, into which he fired 30 rounds at 150 yards. It fell into a tree. Two more machines rose from the aerodrome, one of which he engaged at a height of 1,000 feet, sending it crashing to the ground. He then emptied a whole drum of cartridges into the fourth hostile machine and flew back to his station.

"Four hostile scouts were 1,000 feet above him, for a mile during his return journey, but they would not attack. His machine was badly shot about by machine-gun fire from the ground."

Captain Bishop is a native of Owen Sound, a son of W. A. Bishop, Grey County court clerk and registrar of the Surrogate Court. At the outbreak of the war he was a student at the Royal Military College, Kingston, and he went overseas shortly after the outbreak of hostilities with an engineering corps from Kingston. He was home on furlough some time ago, having been slightly injured in an aeroplane accident.

Frequent reference has been made in recent war despatches to an aviator "from a Northern Ontario town" who was making a name for himself at the front, and it is now apparent that Captain Bishop was the officer referred to. He is said to have the knack of unnerving his opponent at once by diving straight at him as a hawk strikes at its prey.

Six weeks ago his father received reliable information to the effect that his son had destroyed 36 German aircraft. Captain Bishop, who is but 23 years of age, already holds the Distinguished Conduct Order and the Military Cross. Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig referred to his most recent exploit in his despatches and endorsed it as "remarkably clever work."

Captain Bishop's brother, Major Worth Bishop, is on the headquarters staff at London, Ont.

U. S.'s Part in Great War

As a climax to General Sir William Robertson's graphic review of the units of the human race at war comes the alarming assurances from Former President Taft that the United States will have to put millions of men and billions of money into the struggle. Speaking at Pittsburg, Mr. Taft said:

Canada alone has sent 400,000 men out of a population of not more than 6,000,000. If we are to do our part in the same proportion we must send six million men to the front.

An Intrepid Mariner.

An intrepid but almost forgotten Canadian mariner was Captain J. H. Gardiner, who left Shelbourne, N. S., on June 19, 1893, in an effort to cross the Atlantic in a fifteen-foot sailboat of his own make.

Captain Gardiner was last heard of about eight hundred miles east of New York, when Captain Crowley, of the British steamship Verejean, picked him up and outfitted his boat with supplies.

Captain Gardiner insisted on continuing his solitary journey across the ocean, although he said that he had had hard luck in the journey out of Shelbourne. He was bound for Falmouth. He said that he was trying that method of crossing the ocean in an effort "to make a name for himself."

Russians in Our Army.

Although the Doukhobors are recognized as immune from military service, over one hundred of them have joined Saskatchewan battalions. This is the more remarkable when it is remembered that they left Russia largely on account of their rooted objection to military service. Many of them still maintain that attitude, and the Government has recognized their scruples. It is also remarkable that they should now be fighting in a cause which so largely concerns the land they migrated from.

LABOR WILL CONTEST.

Independent Party in Hamilton To Put up a Candidate.

Hamilton, Oct. 16.—All talk of there being no election campaign in Hamilton appears to be without foundation. In conversation with a number of labor men yesterday they assured a reporter that they would have a candidate in both ridings and in no instance would they tolerate a "saw-off" with either party. The announcement that some arrangement might be made by which T. J. Stewart, M.P., would be returned for West Hamilton without a fight does not fit in with the plans of the Independent Labor Party. Walter Rollo will oppose Mr. Stewart whether or not Lieut.-Col. John I. McLean drops from the fight.

SAVE THE JUICE.

The Stratford Council passed a resolution to the effect that the Dominion Government be urged by the Hydro-electric Power Commission of Ontario to curtail or prohibit the export of power needed by municipalities.

IMPORTANT TAX RULING.

Representatives of English manufacturing firms are not exempt from taxes in Canada. This ruling was given by the Court of Revision yesterday, when John L. Miller, the Canadian representative of the Eagle & Globe Steel Company, entered an appeal.

PROTEST AGAINST A DAM.

The Public Utilities Commission of Brockville passed a resolution against the granting of any rights to the Aluminum Company of America to dam the Long Sault Rapids, in the St. Lawrence River, for power purposes, and delegated Chairman W. H. Kyle to attend a meeting of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association in Toronto to protest against such reported action.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

Serious trouble has been caused by bootleggers selling liquor to returned soldiers at Halifax.

Canada is to have as a special Envoy at Washington a High Commissioner, and Hon. J. D. Hazen, it is reported, is to be the choice.

The Montreal Ministerial Association discussed a motion to ask for the removal of the censor's ban upon "The Fiddlers" in Canada, but the motion failed by one vote to carry.

J. J. Merner of Zurich was nominated by South Huron Conservatives for re-election to the Commons. He stated he was prepared to support the new Union Government in its continuation of Sir Robert Borden's war policy.

Henry Forbes, who had been discharged as medically unfit before the 168th battalion went overseas, after training with the eight months, was electrocuted at a Sault Ste. Marie steel plant. He leaves a bride of sixteen days.

An Italian steamer with Greek officials was torpedoed and sunk.

The new agreement between Great Britain and Holland was made public.

Heavy Austrian attacks on the Julian front were repulsed by the Italians.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

THE GIANTS' BLUNDERS.

New York Herald Not Satisfied With Their Showing.

Supremacy in baseball lays on the mantle of the Chicago White Sox and the Giants again have proved that they are not a world series team. Their only victory for the blue ribbon of the game under national commission auspices was attained in 1905 against the Philadelphia Athletics, and since then they have several times strived in vain to bring the emblem to the Polo Ground, says the New York Herald.

Smart adherents of baseball chose the White Sox to win, and the shortcomings of the Giants indicate that they chose the right team. The Giants are a team of stars, but they were lacking as stars in this series. Blunders were numerous, but the worst of these was McGraw's failure to withdraw Sallee on Saturday when his skill was faltering and defeat for the Giants was imminent. The final chapter in the failure of the National League champions was Zimmerman's futile effort to run down Eddie Collins, a faster runner than Zimmerman, in yesterday's game.

The people were keenly interested in the series, but it is admitted that no series was as raggedly played as this one, and raggedly is a condemning word in baseball.

The better team won and New York's hope is that the Giants and Yankees will be contenders in the next world series.

One hears a lot of silly chatter around the streets regarding the world's series games. After New York's defeat on Saturday several were heard to remark that it was fixed for the Giants to lose, so that they could draw a big crowd for today's game back home. They expressed the belief that McGraw left Sallee on duty simply because he wanted his club to be beaten.

This isn't the sort of talk one would expect to hear from sportsmen with reputations for fair-thinking. Chicago merely bunched their hits with New York's misplays, and were fortunate enough to come from behind. The class of baseball was poor, but this was due solely to the very cold weather that the players were forced to work in.

The ball-players get the big share of only the first four games. Can you imagine a ball-player taking part in three extra games for nothing? We can't, and that's just what they have to do if the series is stretched out over seven games.

Rocky Kansas and Irish Patsy Cline.

Rocky Kansas, of Buffalo, and Irish Patsy Cline, of New York, one of the leading contenders for Benny Leonard's title, will meet in Buffalo on Thursday. On the same bill, Elmer Doane and Young Erne will go ten rounds. These boys have met several times in six-round affairs, and this time they have been asked to go ten so as to settle the much-argued question of supremacy.

John L. Sullivan is 59 Today.

Congratulations are due to John L. Sullivan, for Monday was the fifty-ninth birthday of the Old Roman who was once able to take the measure of all the mighty men of the ring. The ex-champion now divides his time between his farm and the stage. He has a permanent reserved seat on the water wagon, and is a tame and domesticated John compared with the scrappy big fellow who used to go rampaging around with a chip on each shoulder, always hunting trouble and making it where he couldn't find it. After running through several fortunes, John L. has accumulated another one with which to cheer his declining days. He owns a fine eighty-acre farm in Plymouth county, Mass., not far from Boston, where he was born Oct. 15, 1858. He leads the life of a gentleman farmer during the summer months, but rural joys haven't the power of holding the old gladiator the year around, and in this respect he resembles most boxers, for whom the bright lights of cities have an irresistible appeal.

Before Jeffries retired from the ring, he was always telling his friends that he intended to settle down on a ranch and spend the remainder of his life far from the busy haunts of men. That dream ranch of Jeff's was a mighty attractive proposition, but when it down on a ranch and spend the reound that he preferred the wet goods business.

Bob Fitzsimmons was another fighter who was going to show the farmers how to farm, and he did buy a rural retreat in New Jersey. Instead of spending his time caring for his pumpkin trees, his peach bushes and his apple vines, and spraying the chickens with Bordeaux mixture and attending to his flock of pigs, Bob can usually be found on Broadway, dressed up in glad rags that are far from being the proper garb for those engaged in agricultural pusuits.

Jem Mace, the old English champion, was given a farm on which to spend his last days, but he sold it and blew in the proceeds on wine, women and song.

John L. likes farming, however, taken in small doses, and he is very proud of his farm stock. Ever since he played the role of hero in "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands," which was a regular screech of a melodrama, John L. has been stage-struck. That play was full of thrills, but the line that always brought down the house was when John put his hands on his head and, with business of intense mental concentration, said "Let me think!" Somehow the idea of John L. thinking always struck the audience as being highly humorous.

HOW TO LIVE.

According to the findings of the Roosevelt conservation commission, in its report on national vitality, learning how to live is the secret of how one may materially lengthen his span of life.

Individual hygiene or the hygiene of personal habits, according to the commission, contains possibilities of self-improvement far beyond what 99 persons out of 100 have ever realized.

In other words, only one per cent. of the people of today know how to live. The other 99 per cent. are victims of improper living habits and the customs of present-day civilization.

They have not learned to order their lives according to their physical needs.

They are content to tolerate—

- Bad air,
- Bad food,
- Imperfect teeth,
- Wrong posture,
- Improper clothing,
- Self-drugging,
- Alcoholism.

They do not yet realize that good health is more than merely absence of disease or sickness.

They do not realize that one may not feel sick at all and still be only 60, 70 or 75 per cent. efficient.

They have still to learn that good health is 10 per cent. of physical efficiency.

Feeling Himself.

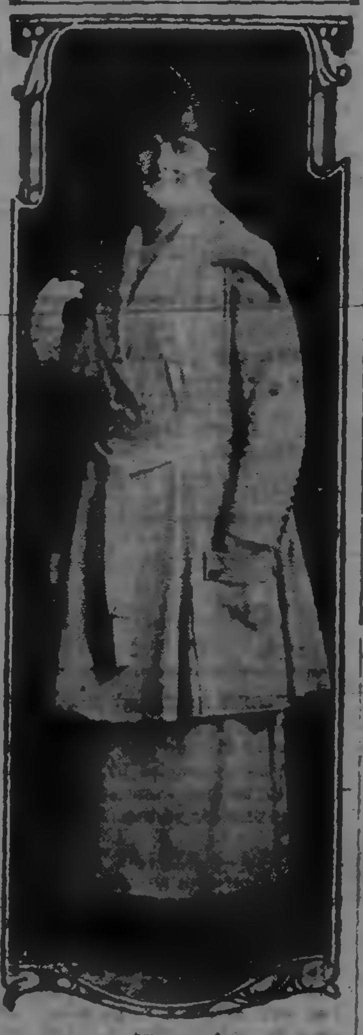
EXCELLENT MODEL.

For Stout Women Is This of Longitudinal Build.



AUTUMN SUIT.

Long, straight lines loosely girded by a stringy sash belt are the idea for women no longer-sylphlike. The material is beige wool jersey cloth, cut with patch pockets huge in ratio to the size of the lady herself. The tailored lisere straw hat is also smart.

Beautiful Ugliness.

Everybody is familiar with the extreme ugliness of the bulldog's face that makes the animal positively attractive; and everyone who has studied the moths is familiar with the marvelous hideousness — or beauty — of the larva of the Automeris io. The io is found from Canada to Florida and westward and southward to Texas and Mexico. In the larval stage it feeds on the leaves of almost any tree or shrub.

For ages the enthusiastic lepidopterist has regarded it as a beautiful creature. The dainty green body with lateral stripes of pink and creamy white covered with clusters of branching spines forms an object to be admired—and respected, too. It should be handled with care or painful consequences may result. Yet it is a curious fact that in spite of all the pains that Nature has taken to protect this beautiful creature from birds and other large enemies, she has left it open to attack from the tiny ichneumon wasp which drives its sting between the spines and there places a parasitic egg. In this way multitudes of the larvae are destroyed, says Popular Science.

Then She Said It.

Mrs. Styles—Most girls don't know when to say "No," but my daughter does.

Mrs. Myles—Well, I'm glad of that. Where did she learn?

"In school. They used to ask her every day if she knew her lessons."—Yonkers Statesman.

Environment.

Five year old Henry had been enjoying the company of the little daughter of his family's colored cook. He came into the nursery, looked at Ruth, his baby sister, for awhile and said:

"Mother, when Ruth grows up I do hope she'll be colored."—New York Times.

CONTROLS PULP SITUATION.

Canada Stands as Dictator in Important Industry.

Canada is declared to be the dictator in the pulp situation. Reports from all quarters indicate a big boom in the industry. As it is freely claimed that the world's supply depends almost entirely on the Canadian output, the statement of the Forestry Branch at Ottawa will be of interest.

The total consumption of Canadian pulpwood, in cords, is as follows:

Year.	Cords.	Total value.
1908	482,777	$ 2,931,653
1909	622,129	3,464,080
1910	598,487	3,585,154
1911	672,288	4,338,024
1912	866,042	5,215,582
1913	1,109,034	7,243,368
1914	1,224,376	8,089,868
1915	1,405,836	9,426,217
1916	1,764,912	13,104,458

Of the five Provinces engaged in this industry, three greatly increased their production, and two fell behind last year. Those which increased in production were Quebec, Ontario, and British Columbia, and those which showed decreases were New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. This change brings British Columbia back into third place, which it occupied in 1914.

As in the past, spruce heads the list of the different kinds of wood used with 68.2 per cent. of the total, followed by balsam fir with 24.5 per cent.

The Canadian pulp mills in 1916 consumed for the manufacture of pulp in Canada 1,764,912 cords, valued at $13,104,458, while 1,068,207 cords, valued at $6,866,669, were exported, making a total production of 2,833,119 cords, valued at $19,971,127. This represents an increase of 25.5 per cent. in pulpwood production and 8.1 per cent. in total value as compared with 1915. This great increase is due to the tremendous demand for pulp and paper caused by the war conditions of the preceding two years. The average value of pulpwood at the mill increased 71 cents per cord over that of 1915. All the Provinces show increases in the value of pulpwood except Ontario and British Columbia.

Approximately 1,296,084 tons of air-dry pulp were made in Canada in 1916. This is on the basis that one cord of wood produces one ton of ground-wood pulp or one-half ton of chemical fibre. This is a total increase of 20.6 per cent. over 1915. The increases shown by the different processes were: ground-wood pulp, 11.2 per cent.; sulphite process, 54.6 per cent.; sulphate process, 9.3 per cent.; and soda process, 13.1 per cent. Spruce and balsam fir are used in all provinces and in all processes. Hemlock and poplar are not reported from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Jack pine was used only in Ontario and Quebec, and most of it was used in the sulphate process.

In regard to the process by which the wood is converted into pulp, it is noted that while the mechanical, or ground-wood, process was the single process most largely used, the three chemical processes, for the first time in Canada, together consumed more wood than the mechanical, the totals being: chemical processes 937,654 cords and mechanical process 827,258 cords. While a slight increase was made by the soda process and a considerable increase by the sulphite process, the notable change during the year was the increase made by the sulphite process from 470,949 cords in 1915 to 727,046 cords in 1916. An increased quantity of wood was converted into pulp by each of the four processes.

The exports of wood-pulp from Canada show alternate increases and decreases practically every year from 1909 to 1916. The total export in 1915 decreased 14.3 per cent., while in 1916 it showed the remarkable increase of 53.4 per cent. The exports to the United States show a gain of 148,263 tons. Exports to Great Britain increased from 18,488 tons to 51,072 tons, and to France from 18,335 tons to 31,821 tons. There was not much change in the business to other countries except that Spain, which was not an importer of Canadian pulp in 1915, took 1,737 tons in 1916.

Be Kind to Animals.

Boy and girl scouts, Bands of Mercy and such organizations are already pledged to be kind to all creatures. Every youngster ought to be so minded, equally determined in the matter, because of the civilizing influences of the age and education. THE TROTTEUR.

A Word to the Wise.

There is no more unwise procedure if you have not a perfectly proportioned figure of average height than to select a new hat while seated before a mirror. Most of the mirrors in millinery salons are placed above tables, and one sits comfortably while the beguiling saleswoman places confection and creation upon one's head. Nothing can do more harm to a silhouette than the wrong sort of hat, and it is a wise woman who tries on hats before a full length mirror. She is not the woman who walks abroad in too wide brimmed hats that make her look dumpy or tall crowned little turbans that make her head absurdly out of proportion with the rest of her figure.

Canada's Contribution.

It is now more than a century and a half since Louis XV. of France signed over to Great Britain the Dominion of Canada with the light remark: "Oh, well; it's only a few acres of snow."

One cannot help wondering what his thoughts would have been could he have had a vision of the Canada of to-day and the part she is playing as an ally of his countrymen of the twentieth century. Out of a population of some seven and a half millions Canada has given 440,000 fighting men to the war. At the end of last year war orders totalling $1,095,000,000 had been placed with her, while this year's munitions orders are expected to exceed $700,000,000—or about $100 for every man, woman, and child. At the beginning of this year 630 factories were working on munition contracts, the country's output being now more than that of any European nation except Germany before the war. Wooden ships, steel ships, and submarines are being turned out, and on this account and that the Imperial Munitions Board is spending annually more than two and a half times as much as the Federal Government spends in a normal year. Anxious European allies await the grain and flour of the Canadian prairies as eagerly as ever the populace of Ancient Rome looked for the corn ships from Sicily and Egypt. And if the province of Albert alone were cultivated on the same intensive scale prevailing in pre-war Belgium it would support an agricultural population of fifty million—or half the entire population of the United States.—From "Canada's Troubles and Triumphs," by Harry G. Douglas, in the American Review of Reviews.

PATRIOTISM

Patriotism, like Charity, should begin at home. The man who is willing at any time to protect his country against foreign foes, should be willing AT ALL TIMES to protect his Family against such common foes as Poverty, Privation and Suffering.

A Life Insurance Company cannot take the place of a Husband

BUT——

It can preserve the family from want.
It can lighten their load of care.
It can build a barrier against adversity.
It can strengthen the foundation of the home.
It can certify to a man's affectionate regard for his family.
It can place his widow beyond the need of marrying for support.
It can add to a man's years by freeing him from anxiety.
It can enhance the respect and esteem of the public and of his wife and children for him.

Complete and absolute Family protection can be had by your taking a policy in THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, THE LEADING CANADIAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

OBITUARY

LATE SISTER LORETTA

Sister Loretta Fox, only surviving sister of the late M. C. Fox, and of the late Mrs. Wm. Doherty, a family well known in Cobourg, has passed away in Albany, New York. Her death in a despatch from Albany is referred to as follows:

"Sister Loretta Fox, for 53 years a member of the Order of St. Vincent de Paul, and connected with St. Vincent's Female Orphan asylum on Elm street for the past 15 years, died at the asylum last night at the age of 84 years. Death came after an illness of three months. Sister Loretta was born in Ireland, coming to Canada with her parents when she was seven years old. She passed her girlhood in Canada and came to the United States to enter the order at Emmettsburg, Md., in 1863. Her first mission was as a nurse on the battlefields before Richmond, where she served for the last six months of the Civil War.

When peace was declared Sister Loretta went to Washington for five years. From Washington she came to Philadelphia, where she passed 25 years. From Philadelphia she came to the asylum at Albany. To the many who have visited the asylum and known Sister Loretta, her death comes as a sad event. She has been a zealous worker and, despite her advanced age, was active in the local affairs of the order until stricken with her last illness."

MRS. HUGH WADDELL'S LIFE MARKED BY KINDLY ACTS

One of the Most Beloved and Useful Members of the Community Summoned by Death —Brief Sketch of Her Career.

Mrs. Hugh Waddell, passed quietly away last evening at 7.30 at the family residence, Monaghan Road, after a period of poor health extending from last winter. Deceased lady's maiden name was Mary Waddell. She was born in Glenarm, Ireland, June 11th, 1884, and was the daughter of Rev. Hugh Waddell and niece of Capt. Mayne Reid, the Irish novelist. She came to Canada in 1877 and married the late Mr. Hugh Waddell in Kingston the same year.

Deceased is survived by one son, Mr. R. M. Waddell at home, and one brother, Rev. Dr. Rutherford Waddell of Dunedin, New Zealand. She was predeceased in April 1917 by her husband to whose memory she built dedicated and endowed a hospital at Canora, Saskatchewan, the year following. She had resided in Peterborough twenty-five years in the high esteem and respect of a large circle of friends and the whole community.

The funeral will be private (no flowers) tomorrow, to the Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house at 2.30. Rev. W. L. H. Rowan of St Andrew's Presbyterian church and Rev. J. A. McKenzie of Knox church will officiate.

The pallbearers will be Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, W. I. Chisholm, Robert Fair, W. H. Hill, E. A. Peck, this city, and Mr. J. M. McClennan of Lindsay.

End of a Useful Life

The late Mrs. Waddell was noted for her contributions to every worthy object and all her charity was of the imostentatious kind which is seldom head of. St. Andrew's church of which she was for so many years a devoted and beloved member will feel her loss keenly. She liberally supported every department of church work both financially and by effort. She was especially interested in mission work and was for a number of years president of the St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society. At the meeting of the society one month ago she was unable, owing to the state of her health to be present, but she sent her greetings to the members with a request that her favorite hymn "There is a Green Hill Far Away" be sung. At the meeting this week her place was still vacant, but she was remembered in the prayers of the members and the closing hymn selected was the one she loved so much to hear.

Of the late Mrs. Waddell it can truly be said that though she is gone her works live after her as a bright memorial to her worth. Many a life has been made happier, many a rough path smoother, many a human burden easier to bear because of her unselfish christian life.

BRUCE MILLER KILLED AT MADOC

G. T. R. EMPLOYE STRUCK BY A LIGHT ENGINE—DIED FEW HOURS LATER.

Baggageman Bruce Miller, of Belleville, an employee of the G. T. R., sixty years of age, was struck by a light engine at Madoc Tuesday.

Mr. Millar was employed by the company, running between Belleville and Madoc, and was assisting in making up a train in the Belleville yard, when he stepped back in front of Engine No. 14, which was going to the repair shop. His body fell on the track in such a way that the wheels ground off a portion of his face and lacerated his scalp in a desperate manner. He was placed in the Belleville Hospital, where death eased his sufferings a few hours later.

The late Mr. Millar was well known in this district and a highly respected citizen in his home town, Belleville. He had two sons fighting for the betterment of humanity and freedom in France, one of whom was wounded and is now in the hospital.

EVIL RESORTS ON THE INCREASE

No One Seems To Care for Anything but Gratification of Their Own Pleasure.

London, Oct. 18.—The Times today devotes one column to Russian despatches describing the startling growth of anarchy and lawlessness in Russia. In Petrograd alone, it says, eighteen thousand criminals are being sought by police, questionable resorts and clubs are multiplying. Gambling is enormously on the increase, even the minumum stake being a twenty thousand rubles. There are many accidents in streets from motor cars colliding and tram cars being derailed, robberies are increasing. In fact no one seems to care about anything. The Government, he says, is combating the malady through the assistance of the district committees.

CAPITALISTS SEEKING CONTROL OF EASTERN ONTARIO WATER POWER

Government Men Asserts Mayor Duffus Seems to be Playing Into Hands of Financial Interests—Sir Adam Beck Coming to This City on This Question.

Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission, will be invited to address a public meeting in the opera house on Nov. 6th, taking up the question of electric power for Eastern Ontario. Officials of adjacent municipalities will be also invited to attend, and arrangements for a reception to Sir Adam be perfected by the City's Reception Committee.

This was the result of a motion by Ald. Stratton and Smith at a session of Council last night.

People's Power in Danger.

Mayor Duffus, who was present at a meeting of the Ontario Electric Association and Hydro-Electric Association in Toronto yesterday, reported that a shortage of power in Western Ontario necessitates the curtailing of its use, and a resort to generation of power by steam where steam plants can be secured at reasonable terms. The sum of $64,000,000 is invested in the Hydro-Electric Commission, which the municipalities really own.

As to Eastern Ontario, there is plenty of power. Still many might be surprised to learn that although Peterborough had 14000 horse power a year ago, and 34,000 this year, there is at present a shortage of 3,000 horse power. Then the Hydro-Electric Commission is much concerned over an attempt by capitalists to acquire a dam across the St. Lawrence and one at High Falls, Renfrew. These dams the Commission is anxious to secure, operate the Long Sault and link up the three with the Trent waterway and Western Ontario. But sinister influence is at work and government men are playing into the hands of financial interests to secure the dams across the St Lawrence and at High Falls. "This is a bold statement to make, added his worship, but it is a fact."

Municipalities should stand at the back of Hydro-Electric, continued the Mayor, in its fight to retain all Ontario power for Ontario people, to whom it belongs. Power is rapidly taking the place of coal; power is going down in price and coal ever rising.

His worship suggested a public meeting with Sir Adam Beck present, which was acquiesced in, by resolution above referred to.

NO CAUSE FOR ANXIETY AS TO COAL THIS WINTER

Ald Dobbin Thinks Prospects Promising—Peterborough's Price of $10 Per Ton Not Unreasonable, General Conditions Considered.

At a meeting of Council's Committee of the Whole last night Ald. Dobbin reported the coal situation as promising. The city has supplied 400 tons to women on the Patriotic Fund, besides keeping fair pace with other demands. He did not think a 15c extra should be charged on small deliveries such as half, quarter tons or less.

Ald. Stratton agreed with Ald. Dobbin that a 15c extra charge should not be made on small deliveries.

Ald. Dobbin did not think there was need of any anxiety in regard to coal. 20 carloads are now invoiced to the city and another 20 or 30 carloads under order, of which he expects reasonably early delivery.

The Mayor remarked that $11 a ton is being paid for coal in Trenton on the water front, and Peterborough is not so badly off with black diamonds at $10 per.

To Advertise Building.

The Leonard Construction Co. asked permission to erect on the island just above the C.P.R. bridge, alongside the city's sign, a sign advertising that they are building the Quaker Oats building.

On motion of Ald. Saunders and Smith this was granted. Sign to be removed when they have finished the construction of the plant.

Scott's Request Granted.

Grocer John Scott's request for building a cement platform opposite his store on Chamberlain street was granted, work to be done under the engineer's supervision. Mr. Scott will be assessed at a nominal rental of 25c a year.

Eight more working days of the contest

The campaign will end at ten o'clock Saturday night, October 27.

Someone will drive home that night in a splendid $1235 Chevrolet touring car—and that party will have that car as her or his own.

Is this not a mighty fine reward to be working for. Will YOU receive the congratulations of your many friends and know the joy of victory on that night? YOU can if you will —if you want a thing badly enough you usually get it.

The contestants are working with splendid enthusiasm these days as they realize that the time is so short. People are becoming more enthusiastic every hour and every day calls on the phone are received from people who are interested in candidates and wanting to know how they are getting along.

Miss Bessie Thompson holds top position in the big contest and this popular young lady of Mt. Julian is going after the votes in an enthusiastic and systematic way. She has many loyal friends who will do all they can to help her win. Miss Melissa Alford of Lakefield is close up to Miss Thompson and the people of Lakefield will leave nothing undone in the way of securing enough subscriptions to bring the big car to Miss Alford. And do not forget that Miss Alford is one of the hardest workers in the contest and earnest consistent work is what wins in every race life has to offer.

Miss Emily Horsfield has met with a splendid measure of success during the past few weeks and Miss Horsfield is working harder now than at any other time. Miss Lillian Routley—the youngest candidate—must not be overlooked. Although very young this little lady has piled up a splendid total of votes and do not forget the old saying "A Child Shall Lead them." And it be the case in this very conte she has a host of hustling fr who will put forth every effor tween now and the close to her owner of the Capital prize

Cecil McCliggott, the winner of fifty dollar prize a week ago is ing a canvass of Smith township week and from now until the will put forth his best efforts cure enough votes to make him ner. And this popular young will be one of the strongest co ders for the chief honors so stick here and refer to it the closing of the contest.

Miss Vera Knox stands high in list and her many friends are ious to see her drive home the car. And Miss Knox is anxious self so don't be surprised if the goes to this popular lady. W. Henderson is not taking things and he is just as anxious to have car as anyone. Mr. Hende knows how to get the votes and going to have a mighty fine total the end comes. Miss Loretta and Miss Clara Tangney are also ing fine work so the race for honors promises to be a close and citing one.

Who's going to win?

Why, YOU are if you have the votes.

Candidates should not overlook fact that there are only a very days of the contest left. The of a single hour may bring suc to you. There are nine sple prizes and the candidates who tinue actively in the contest and not win a prize will receive a mission of ten per cent on the mo they collect. Which will be you It depends on yourself entirely can win if you use enough energy.

One week from Saturday ni Don't forget the date. The time slip by only too swiftly.

The Government has announced that unless the operators and miners come to an agreement the State will [illegible] help? Man cannot afford to work any cheaper for the government than for a private corporation. The government cannot hope to do business any more economically than the present operators, so far at least as getting the coal to the surface is concerned.

Food Controller Hanna's policy in the regulation of prices seems to be framed with a view to avoid such entanglements as the above. The Government fixed the high price of wheat at $2.21 a bushel. The price will vary according to the grade. Mr. Hanna followed this up with an order setting the profit on a barrel of flour at twenty-five cents. Whether that flour be made from the cheeper or higher grades of wheat, the profit is the same, so that the miller at all times is able to tell just where he is at. If his employes insist upon an increase of wages, this demand can be met, thus avoiding a strike and a general cessation of production which make the situation more serious than high prices ever have done.

The same principle has been observed by Mr. Hanna in dealing with the potato problem. No arbitrary price has been fixed, but the "spread" has been regulated.

It is not hard to compute the cost of a bag of potatoes to the retailer or of a barrel of flour to the miller. It is a different matter entirely to attempt to corectly estimate the cost involved in producing a bushel of wheat or a bag of potatoes. At all events, when the Government fixed the price of wheat the crop had been harvested, and no variation in the cost of production could possibly arise. The same, however, was not true in the case of the miller.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Truly National.

Canada will have a genuine national government, organized with a single eye to the energetic participation of Canada in the world war. It will be a government to which members of both the historic political parties can give whole-hearted support.

Canada now takes her place among the nations in earnest in the great war. . . . We feel that it is incumbent upon and the supreme political duty of all citizens to give the national government every sympathy and every encouragement to carry on, upholding the honor, dignity, justice and power of Canada in the great conflict. Journalist Believes French Will Submit to Conscription

London, Oct. 18.—In concluding his article on French-Canadians and conscription Hamilton Fyfe, writing to the Mail from Montreal, says: "With a Union Ministry in existence almost everyone believes the law-abiding instinct of the French-Canadians will come into play and the Act will be obeyed, despite all talk there has been of resisting. Even Bourassa has to advise against violence and Laurier has significantly urged the malcontents to be content with passive resistance. The church is not likely to countenance the flowing of authority, for the clergy know too well that once that process begins there is no telling how far it may be carried.

"The peril which threatened Canada has largely been averted by Borden's wise avoidance of false steps and partly, let us recognize, by the reluctance of the French-Canadians to push matters to the length feared."

West Ward—On yard of the old West Ward School, corner of Park and Cedar streets.

South Ward—On Park street, facing Colonial Weaving Co.'s plant.

Should Council decide on a second rink in the South Ward, he suggested one on the southeast of King Edward School. Many children live in this district.

Street Commissioner Evans will prepare these sites for freezing at an early date.

Ald. Weir acted in conjunction with Ald. Dobbin in this matter.

This report was adopted, but no decision was made in regard to a second rink in South City.

U. S. LEADS IN MERCHANT MARINE SUB. MENACE ON THE DECLINE

American Government Takes Over Control of Every Vessel, Built or in Process of Construction, Over 1,500 Tons.

Uncle Sam steps into the front rank of master marines, when the government takes over, by order of the shipping board, absolute control of every American vessel of more than 1,500 tons.

He will begin operations with a fleet of 675 vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of 3,571,644, to which he will add, within the next year, 636 vessels now building or under contract for the fleet corporation. These new vessels will have a tonnage of 5,923,000, giving Uncle Sam before the close of 1918—losses by submarines not considered—a fleet of 1,211 vessels, with a tonnage of 9,494,644.

This will place him second only to the British government as a shipping power, if, indeed it does not put him into first place.

Britain had at the beginning of the war, approximately 14,000,000 tons of shipping, including liners and tramps. Her losses to date have been close to 5,000,000 tons, of which, it is estimated, some 2,000,000 tons have been replaced by new construction.

With this new step in shipping control, Uncle Sam becomes absolute dictator of all American shipping. For the remainder of the war every American vessel will operate under his orders, will be insured by his own war risk bureau, and all new construction will be on his order. Private owners, continuing to operate their vessels, will do so solely under government direction and control.

Despite the disputes that hampered progress during the first few months of the war, a great American merchant marine is rapidly taking shape. Officials who are following the progress of construction of new vessels are most optimistic, and the better relations now existing between the shipping board and the fleet corporation has resulted in a harmonious speeding up of both shipbuilding and shipoperating schedules.

The first of the new vessels contracted for by the fleet corporation will be ready for delivery before Jan. 1. A few deliveries will be made in February and March. With the coming of April, however, the new units of the shipping fleet will begin to come in quantities sufficient to make their presence felt. More than 40 vessels are under contract for delivery in April, an equal number in May, and the number increases rapidly each month from May till November, 1918.

As losses by submarines during the last few weeks have been only from 12 to 15 vessels per week, it will be seen that, at the present rate of sinkings, our new construction will, by early spring, virtually offset losses.

In addition to these deliveries, however, which are of new vessels contracted for by the fleet corporation, there will, in the meantime, be moving into service some 400 vessels under contract and building in this country for private individuals and foreign corporations.

These have been commandeered on the stocks by the government and are being rushed to completion as United States vessels. Several of these already have left the ways and are being outfitted.

These [illegible] the new construction of the French and British governments, are expected to offset losses by submarines during winter months, when the subs operate at a handicap because of rougher seas and shorter days.

Vessels now on the ways or under contract for Uncle Sam include:

Four hundred vessels commandeered in course of construction; to give 2,800,000 tons.

Three hundred wood vessels of the original Denman program; to give 1,253,900 tons.

Fifty-eight composite vessels — wood with steel frames — to give 207,000 tons.

Two hundred and twenty-five fabricated steel vessels to give 1,663,000 tons.

This latter type of ship is counted on to furnish the greatest additional strength to our shipping resources. These fabricated ships have now been standardized in three sizes—9,000 tons, 7,500 tons and 5,000 tons. Contracts for additional vessels of this type will be let just as soon as vessels now under way near completion so as to provide more room in shipyards. The fleet corporation is ready to let contracts for these vessels up to 200 of each size.

These vessels will be driven by turbines and equipped to burn fuel oil. This will give them greater cargo capacity, greater speed and lower cost of operation than the ordinary coal burning tramp.

That the shipping program, as now laid out, will enable the United States to block the effectiveness of Germany's submarine campaign, is confidently believed in official circles here. This result, of course, is due very largely to the greater effectiveness of our warfare against the subs, and to the fact that every American vessel now crossing to England or France is under convoy through the submarine zone.

Despite gloomy forecasts by Lord Northcliffe, who sees the sub menace increasing and the world's shipping facilities dwindling, there is a very definite feeling in governmental circles that our shipping situation is improving, rather than growing worse, and that it will continue to improve at an increasing rate.

EDITOR'S MAIL

SAILOR'S FUND

Editor Review—At the invitation of the Directors of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society I have undertaken to issue a special appeal on behalf of the great National work carried on by the Society for our Sailors and for those who are dear to them. Her Majesty Queen Alexandra has graciously expressed her approval of the appeal, and her earnest hope that it will receive the generous support of the British people.

The British and Foreign Sailors' Society is about to complete its hundredth year of service and a sum of not less than £250,000 will be needed to ensure the continuance of its beneficient agencies. The success with which this work has been carried on, before and during the war, has won the confidence and appreciation of the authorities generally and of the seamen themselves.

On the definite request of the Admiralty authorities, the Society is about to erect additional Naval Rests at various Naval Bases, for the welfare and comfort of Sailors when on shore. The Society has also been urged to extend similar provision for Merchant Seamen in many ports.

I have seen evidence of the splendid relief work of this Society in providing clothes and food for Sailors interned in Germany; dispensing immediate practical assistance to disabled sailors and dependants of seamen who have fallen on war service; in providing an education for sailors' orphans; and especially in feeding, sheltering, clothing and forwarding to their various homes many thousands of merchant seamen whose vessels have been sunk by enemy action.

Surely there is no one who would willingly turn a deaf ear to the claims of these brave men and women, to whom the whole nation owes so profound a debt of gratitude? For their sake I sincerely hope that I may rely on the cooperation of your readers in a really generous response to the Centenary Appeal of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society. Letters can be addressed to me at the Mall House Admiralty, London, S.W., marked "B.F.S.S. Centenary."

GWENDOLINE JELLICOE

UNION AND THE WAR

Editor Review—I read with considerable interest your editorial in last night's issue dealing with the present Union Government. I agree with you that Conservatism and Liberalism will persist and that the present coalition will not likely outlast the war. To my mind these very facts prove that Canada is in this war to the finish with every ounce of strength and every available man. Such unity and self abnegation proclaim a nation which to meet a crisis has the courage to join all forces of action and sink all differences of opinion. We are showing ourselves worthy sons of those worthy sires who fifty years ago set an example for us to follow.

The present situation calls for real patriotic selfsacrifice both as to word and deed. May I suggest to you, my dear Editor, that so long as this Union Government lasts that you forget your friend the enemy, to wit, the Liberal party. It could not have been easy for men like Carvell to join hands with Borden. To the very last the late Government made itself obnoxious to all true Liberals. The forcing through of the Canadian Northern Bill and the War Franchise Bill, to say nothing of the filling up of all seats of patronage with friends of the Government were practically acts of treason when coupled with a national desire for a coalition government. But these things must for the time being be forgotten. Liberal and Conservative leaders have joined hands for their country's weal and the common good. Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself may take the place in this country that Asquith has in the old land, criticising the Government and co-operation with it as the occasion requires.

West Peterborough now has an opportunity of rising to the national need. The present Conservative candidate was nominated before there was any thought of a Union Government. No Liberal candidate has yet been nominated. In my judgement there should now be a convention of both parties to nominate a straight win-the-war man representing everybody in this constituency who wants to see this war through with the greatest possible effort and the least possible waste. Such a man be he Grit or Tory should represent a united constituency. If Mr. Burnham received the nomination he would be entitled to hearty and unanimous support; if some other received the nomination, Mr. Burnham would no doubt prove himself a big enough man to accept the situation.

Peterborough has so far proved itself equal to every demand the war has made. I believe it is equal to the demand for united co-operation effort. Yours truly,

JOSEPH WEARING.

Money talks—and it also stops talk.

The bottom soon drops out of a quickly made friendship.

A fault of our own would probably be a sin in others.

Honesty pays in the end—but you must be at the right end.

Have a way of your own, then keep out of other people's.

When you reach your bottom dollar you still have the foundations for a fortune.

Never judge a man's good or bad qualities by what his neighbors say about him.

What goes up must come down—as many an aeroplane chauffeur is discovering.

A quarrel merely proves that one of the parties to it hasn't any more sense than the other.

35,000 GERMANS DESERT

Holland Suspects Motive For Rush Across Border

New York, Oct. 18.—The Sun publishes the following special cable from London, dated October 16: The London Evening Standard says that during August and September 35,000 German deserters crossed the Dutch frontier. At several points the frontier guards of the enemy joined the deserters. The suspicion is beginning to take hold in Holland that these desertions may mean that the Germans are allowing the men to pass the lines for a hidden purpose.

Music in the Home

THE UNCANNY BOX

Everybody has seen a violin. It is as common as a straw hat. Yet nearly everything that the general public knows about a violin might be put in the crown of the straw hat. People run to see unusual things. The unusual thing is passed over as unworthy of examination even though it be miraculous in its beginnings, its construction and its effects. For this reason let us assume for a moment that the "Gentle Reader is a barbarian, a Hottentot who has seen for the first time one of these wooden boxes with the devil in it and demands an explanation.

Cutting out all technical terms for the comfort of the translator, we begin. "Here is the generation of the violin. Behold a wooden box of peculiar shape, generally oval, but with abrupt inward curves on the sides. Notice that the back is made of hardwood, of maple. It is in two pieces, glued together, and polished until the grain of the wood is most elegantly displayed. Observe that the sides are of the same wood, that they are rigid and strong so that the belly of the instrument or the top of the box will have firm foundations. It needs them, for it is light, fragile wood, a single piece of well-grained pine, not over an eighth of an inch thick. Fastened to the ends of the box are the tail and the neck, the latter being of hardwood and terminating in a fancy top or head. A human neck which terminates in a good fancy head is a valuable possession, as any Hottentot will understand. Now strings are stretched from head to tail, and in order to raise the strings clear of the wood a bridge of hardwood is provided which rests on the light belly of the instrument. The pressure at this point of the box when the strings are tense is considerable. Therefore a small piece of wood called a sound-post stands inside the box just beneath the bridge. This sound post is the devil inside. Its position is of the utmost importance. If it is an eighth of an inch off the centre it gives a fine heavy tone to two of the four strings, and leaves the others dull and spiritless. Men who play violins know that the first sound post was placed by a miracle, because no human being could have imagined where it ought to go. Now if the genial Hottentot will tighten up the strings, tune them in successive fifths, beginning with G and start them vibrating with a bow of horse-hair, he will produce a noble barbaric noise. How to make that noise a tone, and how to vary the tone in pitch and volume at will is another story, generally told by music teachers at two dollars a "tell."

THE MISSION OF MUSIC

Our Australian cousins who have rendered such practical assistance — comparatively, on a very large scale —in prosecuting the war are not practical to the exclusion of the enjoyment of music. There are continuous musical activities in Melbourne, Sydney, Adelaide, Perth and Brisbane.

If the quality of these may be judged by the view taken on the mission of music by the organizing secretary of the University of Melbourne Music Examination Board further comment is not necessary. That official writes:

"A false idea, but one that is fairly prevalent, seems to have possessed many that the whole object of studying music is to obtain a sufficient amount of technical dexterity to enable one to encounter with fair success the difficulties of a few "show pieces" which are calculated to win the plaudits of admiring friends, and to stamp the executant as being "accomplished," or at best to enable one to "amuse" friends and to wile away a few hours which might otherwise drag on one's hands.

"While the latter may perhaps possess some justification, still, both views are unworthy. Surely music, which is perhaps the noblest of the arts, means more to us than this. Has it not a more lofty ideal to set before us? Does it not make a direct appeal to the best that is within us? Does it not play a real live part in the building up of our character, and the development of our mental fibre? Has it not the power to possess our very being, to inspire noble thoughts and ideals, and strengthen us for the performance of our daily tasks?

"It is to our mentality and emotions that music makes its appeal, and not to our senses wholly, although of course it is thought the medium of our sense of hearing that its messages are conveyed. It is just at this point that many of us err. We mistake the medium for the goal. To fulfil its mission, music must not be detained by the sense of hearing, and thus become purely sensuous. It must proceed through this channel until it enters the realm of our thought and permeates our mentality. Truly, much that is beautiful and refining may be imbibed by the medium—our sense of hearing — but unless the music reaches the soul, its real meaning is lost.

"The real deep things of life and of art speak only to open heart, and are meaningless to our senses alone. It is because of this that much of the best musical literature is banned from the repertoires of so many of our musical (?) friends—completely misunderstood. They have not yet learned how to appreciate, they are not in tune with the Infinite; they do not pause to contemplate. Thus is missed much of the very best that life holds for us—the power to read lessons from the book of Nature, to commune with those great master minds divinely inspired. Let us ask ourselves—It is worth while?"

A DART FOR GERMAN SINGERS

Les Cloches de Corneville, better known to us as The Chimes of Normandy is to be performed by a moving picture company for presentation throughout America. The producer will provide an orchestra to play Planquette's charming music while the scenes of the work are marching across the screen. The announcement leads the New Music Review to suggest that all the operas of the Nibelungen Ring should be filmed on this principle. "Thus," says the writer, "one could hear much of Wagner's music, see the show, and not be obliged to listen to German singers. This is without regard to the fact that the United States and Germany are now at war. The remark holds good in any year of peace." Undoubtedly the German school of singing encouraged shouting in Opera at least if it was not founded on Italian "bel canto." Lillian Nordica became a triumphant Wagner singer without injuring her voice, mainly because of her thorough training in the older and more settled opera roles.

TRYING FOR A PLACE

Choir directors are familiar with the unaccountable timidity which young people show when they seek admission to a church choir or to any choral body. It is generally necessary to start a general conversation and maintain it for a few minutes until the candidate is ready to open his or her mouth to sing scales and simple arpeggios. One director was talking to a particularly graceful and pretty girl who answered the questions in halting style and who was plainly confused. "I judge," said the choirmaster, "that you are a Soprano?" "Yes" was the soft reply. "And what is your range?" continued the musician. Without a moment's hesitation the girl replied "Seventeen."

GENERAL NOTES

A list of organists of St. Paul's, London, for the past 350 years, was compiled some few years ago. During the past one hundred years there had been but four organists.

In one of the English papers a writer gives some interesting facts about the Norwegian National Anthem. It is "Ja, vi elskev dette Landet" (Yes, we love this Country) the text being written by Bjornson and the music by Richard Nordraak. The latter lived from 1842 to 1865.

It is said that in the public library of Oakland, California, there is a circulating anthem library consisting of 375 title 25 or more of each kind, loaned to over 80 choirs.

A Prague newspaper says that the Austrian military authorities after confiscating the church bells, are now contemplating the removal of the organ pipes in a number of places for the making of their munitions. Rumor said a year or two ago that the metal plates of the music publishers were threatened. One wonders if this was ever carried out.

After one of his worst domestic troubles, which is said to be a lawsuit about his nephew's guardianship when the latter was driven from Vienna, Beethoven wrote the great Sonata Op. 106. The slow movement alone in this work takes twenty minutes to play. It seems tinged with mournfulness and sorrow and even torment, but it ends tranquilly. Paderewski says this music is so intimate in character that it should be played alone or at most to a close friend. And he does not put it on the programmes he gives in public.

Did you know that Handel though of German birth, became a naturalized British subject? One writer says the whole tone of his mind and genius were singularly attuned to the best features of the English character—the stubborn independence, fearless truth and loyalty, and that deep genuine feeling, which in the horror of pretense or false sentiment rides itself behind bluntness of expression. Handel was rich and poor again, several times in his career being bankrupt twice. When all his cherished plans had failed, causing his ruin from one viewpoint, he turned his attention to the writing of oratorios in which line he achieved his greatest success. He composed rapidly. We are told the Messiah was begun and finished in about a month.

Omemee, Oct. 18.—Pte. N. Clarke, recently returned from England, returned to Kingston last week after a pleasant visit with his parents.

Mr. S. Roland of Toronto has been the guest of his mother for the past few days.

Archdeacon Warren of Toronto preached eloquent sermons in Christ Church on Sunday, the occasion being anniversary-services. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers. The choir rendered appropriate anthems at both services, the leader, Mr. W. G. Stephenson, singing a solo at the evening service.

Mrs. Lucas and children of Beaverton spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Parsons.

Omemee is justly proud of the recent honors bestowed on one of her boys, Pte. Cecil Mills, who has recently been awarded the Military Medal for conspicuous bravery while under fire. He and another lad held back a German machine gun crew. Pte. Mills with a rifle, his companion with a revolver. Thus saving the life of his commanding officer. Pte. It is reported that another one of Omemee's heroes is on his way home in the person of Pte. Fred Cornell. Pte. Cornell, who was a member of the 109th Batt., was wounded on Easter Monday at Vimy Ridge and has been in the hospital ever since. His many friends will wish him a speedy recovery on his return home.

Mrs. Green Gains Twenty Pounds

Was Almost Nervous Wreck When She Began Taking Tanlac, She Says

"I have actually gained twenty pounds by taking Tanlac and my friends and neighbors seem amazed at the wonderful change in my condition," was the remarkable statement made by Mrs. William Green of 141 Hunter street, Hamilton, recently. Mrs. Green has lived in Hamilton and vicinity all her life and has a wide circle of friends who rejoice with her over the return of her health.

I had suffered from stomach trouble until I was almost a nervous wreck, continued Mrs. Green. For two solid years I was unable to do one thing about the house and my stomach became so upset that about the only thing I could eat was milk and eggs. I was so weak I could hardly walk from one chair to another and for months I don't suppose I slept more than two hours a night. I spent eleven months under two specialists who finally said they could do me no good. My case seemed to be hopeless, an operation failed to help me and I was told that nothing more could be done for me.

Of course I was discouraged, despondent and almost hopeless, and now it seems hard for me to believe myself what a wonderful change has come over me since I began taking Tanlac. If anyone could feel like a new person I do and when I told one of the physicians who treated me what I was taking he said it certainly had done me a lot of good and advised me to keep it up. I have a splendid appetite now and nothing I eat gives me any trouble. My nerves are in good shape and I can sleep all night and on until nine o'clock in the morning. I can do almost everything there is to do about the house now, all my despondent feelings are gone and everything seems so different. I am now on my fourth bottle of Tanlac and can heartily recommend it to everybody.

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by Nairne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike.

DICTATES OF FASHION.

Richness of effect is added to many dresses by the use of a satin body lining under crepe, in contrasting or self color.

Loose panels and plaited panels, in varied lengths, predominate in street dresses, and there is a preponderance of the turnover collar extending to the waist line.

The regulation round or square collar also continues to be popular. A new coat-dress shows a standing collar, the dress fastening on the side to the waist line.

Trimness and simplicity are particularly noticeable in street dresses. Although afternoon dresses may be cut on similar lines, there is a decided tendency toward the use of two materials, silk crepe and satin, crepe and serge, etc.; and there is a great amount of drapery and plaits in evidence.

CITY COUNCIL VOTES $5,000 TO BRITISH RED CROSS FUND

But the Problem of Raising the Money and Just When to Pay it is Yet to be Threshed Out—There Are No Funds in the Treasury for This Purpose.

The British Red Cross was voted $5,000 by the City Fathers last night, but how the money is to be raised, and when paid over—this year or early in January—is left in the Finance Committee's hands to decide.

A representative deputation from the local association was present.

Mr. Peter Campbell pointed out that last year citizens subscribed $3,093 and the Council granted $5,000. However, it is not intended this year to ask a general subscription, owing to the Canadian Red Cross needing to raise next month in a citizens campaign a much larger sum than last year. The British Red Cross earnestly hoped for $5,000 from the Council, to be paid now, as headquarters in Toronto has issued a call for it to meet pressing needs.

Call of Empire.

Mr. F. D. Kerr contended that this is not a call from Toronto, but one from the British Empire. The $5,000 asked should not be classed as a special grant but as a fixed measure—one of the loads Peterborough has to carry as long as the war continues and as long as the Empire, Canada and Peterborough exists, in regard to the great struggle. This grant coming from Peerborough will be an evidence that this city is with the Empire and its Allies in the mighty cause. Great Britain has armies in India, Egypt, France, Salonica—in every war zone—while even in Russia her men are found strengthening the beaten-back forces of the new democracy. In all these countries demands upon the British Red Cross are growing. Don't, urged Mr. Kerr, defer payment of this grant until next year; such a course would leave with the world an inference that Peterborough is growing weary of her burdens.

Messrs. J. J. Turner and R. J. Soden also spoke briefly in support of the petition.

Should Pay As We Go.

Mr. Joseph Wearing said that Canada owes more to the Old Country, its army and navy than it can ever repay, and declared it would be a mistake for Peterborough to shoulder this one of her war burdens on to next year's providing. He also thought Council had erred in extending provision for payment of patriotic needs over 20 years. The city should pay as it goes along, especially in the British Red Cross' call for financial support, urgently needed at the present time.

Col. Miller was another advocate for immediate payment of the $5,000 grant. It would be a mistake, he urged, to postpone payment until even in January of next year. The British Red Cross is doing everything possible in the way of succor and comfort for Canadian soldiers equal with Britain's own. Peterborough should show that it is ready, willing, aye, even anxious to meet the call.

Not in the Treasury.

The Mayor was convinced Council would make the grant of $5000, but just when it would be paid he could not say. The money is not in the treasury. "We have this call, the Sailors' Relief Fund, Canadian Red Cross and Patriotic Fund to consider. How this is to be done is the problem for Council to unravel. While we economized in every way possible in striking the rate, we shall still worry through without an overdraft."

His worship could see but three methods of raising the $5000 — an overdraft, by debentures, or adding to the rate next year. Personally he favored paying as one goes, but would not foist his opinion on the ratepayers.

Settle At Once.

Ald. Worth wanted the $5000 settled off hand, as an example to the rest of Ontario, which province gave the largest sum to the British Red Cross in the Dominion last year.

His Worship—"There is no more worthy cause than the Red Cross, which brings back to the country and nation the lives of their manhood.

Requires Consideration.

Finance Minister Ald. Stratton agreed with his worship, but declared the matter of payment called for earnest consideration. He knew of no organization more worthy than the British Red Cross, which would unquestionably be granted the $5000 requested. But then the question of financing the amount for immediate payment is a problem for Council to face. When striking the rate this year he had urged a margin of appropriation for just such calls, but had been over-ruled. He was adverse to the municipality running into debt, and assured petitioners that they would receive payment of the $5000 as soon as possible. The Finance Committee would discuss carefully ways and means for raising the amount, but he could at present see but three courses open—an overdraft, by debentures or from the tax rate next year. Such calls should be provided for at the beginning of each year.

Ald. Langford did not think Council should hesitate, but vote the money now, and consider afterwards how to raise it. He moved, seconded by Ald. Worth, that Council make a grant of $5000 to the British Red Cross.

At Ald. Stratton's request, the sentence, "And that the question of how the money is to be raised— by debenture or otherwise—shall be referred to the Finance Committee." was added to the resolution, which then carried unanimously.

Ten members of Congress are making an "unofficial-official" visit to the European war front, where they will meet members of the British and French Governments.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of [illegible] I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

IF FEVERISH, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, GIVE FRUIT LAXATIVE

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

CITY DOGS ARE OUT ON PAROLE

MAY PARADE STREETS WITHOUT LEASH — NO RABIES.

Dogs will now be permitted to parade the streets, not in leash, if in charge of competent and responsible persons.

This was decided by the City Council last night and the bylaw will be ammended to that effect.

No Rabies Here.

Mayor Duffus wants it distinctly understood that there have been no cases of rabies in this city for three months. Therefore people in the hunting districts need not be concerned at Peterborough hunters taking into their neighborhood hounds in chase of the illusive deer. There is absolutely no danger whatever.

COAL MINERS ON STRIKE IN U.S.

PRICE IS FIXED BY THE STATE AND OPERATORS CANNOT RAISE WAGES.

Springfield, Ill Oct. 18. —Sixty mines were idle because of the coal strike here. Operators said they could not give the miners an advance unless the Federal Fuel Administration allows them to charge more for coal.

Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois Mine Workers, has informed the Federal authorities, it is said, that open rebellon exists in the Illinois field.

Unless the coal strike is settled within ten days, says a Chicago dispatch, business in Chicago will be paralyzed, according to a statement made today by Fred W. Upham president of the largest coal company in the city.

"There is less than ten days' supply in the city and no coal is coming," said Mr. Upham. "The situation is the most serious," he continued. "There is no coal headed for the city except that which was started from the mines before the men went on this unauthorized strike. Unless the miners resume work neither office buildings nor homes will have fuel."

Washington Intervenes

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17. — Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield and John P. White, president of the Mine Workers, took up the Illinois coal strike situation in conference today, and it was said efforts would be made at once to get the men back to work.

5,500 Strike in Indiana

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 17. — Approximately 5,500 coal miners are on strike in the district north of here, resulting in 25 mines being shut down today, due to the operators refusing to guarantee the increase in pay as agreed upon at the recent conference in Washington.

CITY FATHERS CLEAN SLATE OF HALF A MONTH'S STANDING

Incandescent Street Lighting Will Soon be Installed—Closing of De Laval Street all but Agreed Upon—City to Retain Interest in County Court Building.

The city fathers met last night to clean up half a month's general business, and did not "talk the clock round," as the Examiner prophesied.

There were present Mayor Duffus, Aldermen Smith, Weir, Langford, Worth, Duncan, Stratton, Dobbin, Taylor and Saunders.

Incandescent Lighting.

The Utilities Commission wrote that they assume it is the intention that in replacing present [illegible] with incandescent lights they place the latter on existing poles to best advantage. This went to the Fire, Water and Light Com.

Good Bye Tree.

W. Tinker's request for permission to cut a tree down opposite his premises on Aylmer street was granted. City engineer to supervise.

Ald. Weir reported that the Henry Hope people will raise no objection to the closing of DeLaval street to meet the DeLaval Company's pressing needs.

This street is north of the DeLaval buildings, and runs east and west through the Henry Hope property. The city desires retaining at least a 10 foot laneway. It was decided to leave this matter with the committee, composed of Ald. Weir, Dobbin, Stratton, McIntyre, and the City Engineer, to interview Mr. Breyfogle of the DeLaval Co. and reach a mutual agreement which will meet both the requirements of the Company and the city. Also that the engineer prepare plans of proposition. When this matter is finally passed by Council a bylaw will have to be submitted to the people for endorsation.

Waterworks Extension.

On motion of Ald. Stratton and Weir, plans of the East City water main extension from Auburn to Dufferin street will be submitted to the Provincial Board of Health for approval and order of work.

When this endorsation is to hand debentures to pay for the work may [illegible] Council submitting a bylaw to the people.

Finance Minister Objects.

A representative of the Canadian Municipal Journal will meet the Council tomorrow night on the question of a write-up of the city in that publication.

Ald. Stratton—"An ad in that journal will cost $250, and we are not prepared for such an expenditure."

Aftermath of Fire.

Mr. W. H. Moore of the City Trust wrote enquiring Council's intention in regard to city's share of insurance received from the fire at court house. The destroyed part of the building is being restored, and were the city to transfer to the county amount of insurance received by the former Peterborough would retain its interest in the county court building as previously enjoyed.

This matter went to the Finance Committee and City Solicitor to issue a cheque for the amount of insurance received by city on account of the court house fire, with or without interest.

EIGHT HOUR DAY AND WAGE BOOST FOR G.T.R. EMPLOYES

Adamson Law to be Operated in Canada Just as in United States Official---Reports Signs of Prosperity Everywhere.

Montreal, Oct. 18. — The Grand Trunk Railway system has agreed, it is authoritatively stated, to grant the engineers and firemen on all its lines the benefit of the Adamson Eight-Hour Day law as it obtains in the United States. The men have also been granted an increase in wages.

The engineers and firemen employed on the sections of the road in the U.S. are already enjoying the advantages of the Adamson law, and the decision reached here will put all the employes on the same footing. Negotiations between the railway and representatives of the men are still in progress, and it is stated that an increase in wages and other concessions have been granted.

"Brisk business, good crops, and general prosperity, that is the story all along the line," said Vice-President J. E. Dalrymple, of the Grand Trunk System at the conclusion of a general inspection trip over the eight thousand miles of railway operated by the company. Vice-President Dalrymple stated that the reports that he had accepted a position as one of the Government directors, who are to administer the Canadian Northern Railway, were unfounded.

"On every hand there are signs of prosperity. New and better homes and farm buildings are noted throughout all the Western Provinces. The bankers I met informed me that collections were good, that hundreds of farmers were paying off mortgages on their property in advance, not waiting until they fell due. The good conditions are also having their effect in inducing agriculturists to break new land.

Outlook is Bright

"In the eastern section of Canada, crops have also been heavy and traffic continues to be very good, although the slackening off in the munition orders, is having its effect.

"After a very thorough review of the situation, however, we are convinced that the outlook for the winter season, which always brings to the Canadian lines operating problems of a severe nature, is much brighter than last year.

SHOULD BE PROUD OF SUCH A SON

PETERBORO' MOTHER RECEIVES LETTER FROM HER BOY'S CHAPLAIN.

The following letter has been received from a mother of one of the boys at the front, a member of the 23rd Battery:

Dear Mrs. ——

I was out back twenty miles from our front line, Sunday before last, holding services with a brigade of our Canadian artillery enjoying a well earned rest, after a long, long period of hot service on two fronts, or two bits of our front.

I took the home addresses of those who remained after parade service for their Communion and am dropping a few lines to their parents or other relatives.

Your son was one of them. It was a great pleasure to me to be able to hold services for them. They are a splendid lot of boys and ever since the Vimy show I have had the greatest admiration for them and their work. They are second to none among the Field Gunners at the front, and you may well be proud to have a son serving with them. I hope they will soon be turning their faces homeward with the laurels of victory.

Yours faithfully,

MAY LIFT MARGARINE BAN

Hon. T. A. Crerar Conferring With Department of Agriculture

Ottawa, Oct. 18. — The question of removing the prohibitory provision against the manufacture and importation of oleomargarine is being seriously considered by the Government. The indications are that one of the first actions of the newly constituted Government will be to pass an order in council permitting its manufacture at least and probably also permitting its importation.

Hon. T. A. Crerar conferred with members of the dairy and cold storage branch of the Department of Agriculture with regard to the question which has been raised by the Food controller's office. It is understood that the dairy branch officials are opposed to the removal of the prohibition which has been in force since the early eighties, and which has been re-enacted several times since. Representatives of the dairying industry are also here to oppose action in the matter.

Can You Feed More Stock This Winter?

If so you will be interested in conditions under which freight charges will be paid for you on car lots.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture is anxious that the splendid crops harvested this fall should be used to the best advantage. In many cases this can be done by feeding a few more head of cattle or sheep for breeding purposes. The Department therefore calls attention to the announcement of the Federal Minister of Agriculture offering to pay freight shipments on car lots from Eastern Stock Yards to country points.

Please Note These Facts—

Individually or in co-operation with your neighbors you can purchase a carload of heifers or ewes or both combined and have them shipped from any Eastern Stock Yard to your station without any cost for freight charges. You will be required to make a declaration that the stock is for breeding purposes only.

Any farmer or drover can purchase a carload of cattle for feeding purposes on the Winnipeg market and have them shipped to any country point in Ontario upon payment of only one half the usual freight charges.

Feeding at the Toronto Stock Yards available at Reduced Rates and expert assistance is at the disposal of the farmers.

Every effort should be made to bring the surplus stock of some sections to the surplus feed of others. All indications point to a steady demand for the meat supplies of this country for some time to come.

Sir William Hearst, Ontario Minister of Agriculture.

The District Representative will assist you in organizing a co-operative car for your district if desired or in giving any other information.

F. C. McRAE, Norwood.
District representative for Peterboro.

Anderson was sent in in the second inning when the score was a tie at two tallies each, so that each team had an even chance, with plenty of time to make runs. McGraw has never rated him as one of his reliables during the regular season. Perritt was on the bench and there was no special reason to save a tried hurler and to put in an uncertainty. As a matter of fact, Perritt was not saved, being sent to Anderson's rescue in the fourth. That switch was as valueless as the late derricking of Sallee on Saturday as the game was over before Perritt got on the slab.

An Ex-Mule Driver.

Benny Kauff, star of the fourth game of the world's series, who knocked two home runs for New York on Thursday, was formerly employed as a mule driver at $1.40 a day for Capt. Tom Jones of Middleport, O., commander of an Ohio company at Camp Sheridan, near Montgomery. Jones operated a coal mine in the Virginia mountains when Kauff was under him.

One day one of the baseball teams of the Virginia mountain league got intoxicated 'en masse. Capt. Jones recommended Kauff as one of the substitutes. Kauff knocked a home run in that game, was signed for the team at once, and Jones had to hunt another mule driver to accept his $1.40 per.

"PUG" HISTORY.

1907. Jack Johnson knocked out Stanley Ketchel in the twelfth round at Colma, Calif. It has been alleged that Ketchel consented to this match on the assurance from his manager, Billy Britt, that the big black had been "fixed." Shortly before the fight, it is related, the middleweight champion was told by Britt that Johnson had backed out of the arrangement, and would fight to win. Ketchel didn't enjoy the prospect, and one story has it that Britt had to threaten his man with a gun to make him fight. Stanley put up a game scrap, but from the first it was evident that Johnson had his number, and in the twelfth round the black put over the sleep punch.

1907. Packey McFarland knocked out Joe Gilligan in the ninth round at Indianapolis.

1910. Owen Moran and Johnny Frayne fought a ten-round draw at New Orleans.

TODAY'S STORY

"I suppose the folks back home still manage to get a living in spite of the high cost of it?" said the dweller in the city to his boyhood friend, Reuben Sparrow, who had driven in from Bloomfield that morning.

"Why, yes," said Reuben, "they all seem to live along in pretty much the same old way. Of course there is some scaling down. Extravagant ones are tightening up a bit, and the close ones are a little mite closer.

"Take the Longleys for example. You know how they always used to do. Jim would get his pay Saturday night, and then they'd begin to live on the fat of the land. About Thursday, funds would give out, and then it would be pudding and milk or whatever they could pick up, for the rest of the week. Well, they do just that same way now. First of the week there's nothing too good for them, and price is no object. Only difference is that now hard times begin with them 'long about Tuesday instead of Thursday.

"Then there is Eben Titus. He goes on altogether a different principle. Eben says that it doesn't cost him so very much more to live than it did five years ago. He was always a great figurer, you know. He's set what he calls a fair price on each of the commodities. Of course he can't control the price, but he can regulate the quantity. So when sugar, for example takes a jump of ten per cent., he marks down the amount to be used in just the same proportion, and so keeps even with the game. You might suppose that the family would be on scant rations by this time, but Eben says not. According to his tell, not one of 'em has lost weight, and they never were healthier or happier. He says the generality of folks eat too much and too expensively, and that we never can know how little is enough until we have put the question to the test.

"But most of our Bloomfield people do their figuring of the high cost of living simply by word of mouth. That was what I found a lot of 'em doing when I stepped into Silas Pride's provision store the other night. They weren't giving the monster a leg to stand on. They all agreed that it was unjust and outrageous and heart-rending the way prices were mounting up, and that flesh and blood couldn't stand it much longer. Silas himself joined right in with the rest. He said it made him fairly sick to have to charge such prices, but what could he do?

"Just then old Peleg Dawes came to buy his Sunday dinner. I suppose Peleg was the only man there that you might say was actually feeling the pinch of poverty. He's past work, with not much to do with, and it was kind of pitiful to see him pricing one thing after another and then shaking his head. Finally he settled on half a pound of tripe.

"'A good piece of tripe, properly cooked,' says he, 'goes about as well as anything, this time of year. Some calls it a little too tough, but I tell 'em it's tougher where there's none.'

"'Have to pay pretty high for anything we get nowadays, Uncle Peleg' I says, as he started to go.

"'Yes,' says he, 'but that isn't so bad by half as not being able to get it at all. Sometimes,' says he, 'when I'm setting down to a good, square meal at home, I seem to see some of those hungry people across the water looking on kind of wishful: and it makes me feel real guilty, as if I was getting more than my share.'

"After the old man had gone out, conversation seemed to take a different turn. I guess we had all been reminded that there are some things in the world a little more heart-rending than the high cost of living in Bloomfield."

LADIES' OR MISSES' SET OF GUIMPES.

By Anabel Worthington.

The girl or woman who is deft with her needle can save herself many pennies by making her own dainty neckwear. Guimpes come under the head of neckwear, and a good pattern for them is a very desirable thing to have just now when jumper dresses are so popular. No. 8438 contains two distinct guimpe patterns and offers various ways of trimming each. No. 1 may be finished with a high neck and turnover or with V neck and sailor collar, or it may have the collar with points in front and either square or rounded back. The frill is optional. No. 2 is sleeveless and has the back shoulder edges extending over the front in yoke effect. It has a large pointed collar.

The guimpe pattern, No. 8438, is cut in sizes 32 to 44 inches bust measure. As on the figure, the 36 inch size requires 2¼ yards 36 inch material, 6 yards of insertion and 4½ yards edging.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

PETERBORO RED CROSS SOCIETY PRISONERS OF WAR DEPARTMENT

Last Year $5970 Was Contributed for the Care of Canadians in German Prisons and for the Coming Year the Amount Required is Greater.

It is over two years since the majority of our Peterborough boys were taken prisoners by the Germans. The local Red Coss Society in addition to its other departments of work has ever kept the welfare and feeding of these men in their captivity, as one of the most important branches of its many-sided activities. Nothing has ever stood in the way of our sending sufficient money every month to pay for all of our men. Peterborough is too proud of its good name to let the provisioning of its men be paid for, even in part, by any other city or people.

When we first started sending money for this purpose the parcels cost $7.50 a month. Then the cost went up to $10, then as the cost of food went up they advanced to $12.50, and once again they were raised to $15 a month for each man. For some time they have stayed at $15, but it is quite probable that the cost may become even greater, but whatever it may be the local society will not fail these men, who have fought for us but will continue to make their exile as bearable as possible.

During the year the society has paid to Mrs. Rivers-Bulkely for this purpose above the sum of $5,970 in the coming year the cost will be even greater.

Mrs. Rivers Bulkely in her official report to our Toronto Executixe, states matters plainly, and we are quoting her report at length, because we regret exceedingly the readiness with which some people insert indiscreet letters in our nwspapers, letters written by men when sorely disappointed at the non-arrival of a longed for parcel. As we have stated so many times the Society pledges its honor that six parcels (60 lbs.) of food are sent to every man each month.

The Society's responsibility ceases then, and that of the Germans begins. If they fail to perform their part honorably that cannot be laid to the fault of the Canadian Red Cross. Therefore, we ask friends and relatives of prisoners to read carefully the following from Mrs. Rivers-Bulkely's official report.

There is a continued improvement in the number of cards received from prisoners acknowledging parcels. One man has acknowledged seventeen this week. On the other hand I regret to say we continue to receive numerous complaints of the slowness of the American Express parcels. It must be quite desperate to wait for eight weeks without a parcel and then receive eight all at once. I sincerely trust that as far as possible any such serious delay will be avoided by our present plan of sending the three parcels fortnightly by post. Another Canadian has had the good fortune and skill to effect his escape. He left Minden by train on the night of the 16th April for some working party. Whilst all the others were asleep and the train was in motion, he opened the window and let himself out. He dropped on soft ground and beyond a few bruises was unhurt. It took him nine nights to get over the frontier walking all night, and hiding all day. He gave a somewhat depressing account of the camp at Minden but confirmed the statements made by other prisoners recently escaped that the German wardens were getting only the same food as the prisoners. He said that when the parcels come, none of our men use the German rations at all. They generally give them to the Russians, who really are starving. He gave a very good account of the bread from Berne.

Sergt. Hammersley, who escaped from a working party attached to Hameln came to see us. I am glad to say that he reports: "The parcels sent by the Canadian Red Cross are the best that are being sent to Germany." He begged us not to worry too much over anything the men may write. He said what we have, of course, always understood, that at times the strain gets almost past bearing and when added to that you have the disappointment of a parcel failing to come or arriving with half its contents gone, you feel so bitter you write almost anything. He tried to escape before and was caught after fourteen days within a few miles of the frontier. This time he took only four nights marching.

This week we have received 2,527 acknowledgments. A great many of the men I regret to say tell us that all tins are removed from the parcels and either confiscated entirely or the tins opened and the contents gone bad.

This is going to make the question of what to send in the parcels a very difficult one. We are arranging to send as few things in tins as possible. We are sending in addition to the bread, biscuits from Berne (of which we new send 4 lbs. a week instead of bread), 5 lbs. of rusks from Switzerland once a month.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE ERIC BOYD

BODY RECOVERED, AND INTERRED IN LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY.

The body of the late Mr. Eric Boyd of Bobcaygeon, drowned in Pigeon Lake while on a duck shooting trip, was recovered last evening. The body was brought to the surface by the churning of a steamer's screw close to where the deceased was thought to have gone down to his death.

The unfortunate young man's remains were brought to Peterborough this morning at 1127, and the funeral held from St. John's Church to the Little Lake Cemetery at 2:30 this afternoon. Some ten personal friends came to this city for the obsequies, apart from Rev. Mr. Nind, of Bobcaygeon, who officiated. Rev. Mr. Barber, at one time rector in Bobcaygeon, and a warm friend, now of Picton, was also present. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Moore, A. E. Bottom, D. Nicholls, Irwin and Geo. Marley, of Bobcaygeon, and George Bouchef, Peterborough.

The late Eric Boyd was twenty-two years of age. Besides his father, at present resident in Peterborough for the winter, and his mother in Toronto, he is survived by a brother in a military training school and two sisters. Another brother, Thornton, was killed in action on the Western front.

UNION PARTY ANNOUNCES POLICY

WHY HAS FLEET FAILED TO HOLD GERMAN NAVY?

London Mail Calls Upon the Admiralty To Explain the Situation.

CONTROL OF GULF OF RIGA LOST

Paper Says the British Fleet Should Have Prevented This Condition.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Oct. 19.—The Daily Mail condemns what it calls the failure of the British fleet to prevent the German fleet becoming master of the Gulf of Riga and demands that the Admiralty make an explanation of this humiliating display in the Baltic.

After recalling the success of British submarines against the Germans in the Baltic in the summer and autumn of 1915 the newspaper says the Germans have accomplished all they were prevented from achieving in 1915 and they have done so without a single blow being struck at them by any arm of the British navy, a navy far stronger than it was two years ago and recently reinforced by the addition of the American fleet.

LIBERAL PARTY STUCK FOR HEAD

Caucus of Opposition Members Fails to Elect Leader.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—Three hours' discussion behind closed doors failed to shed any light upon any one particular Ontario Liberal as leader of the provincial party. Yesterday afternoon some thirty Liberal members of the Ontario Legislature met in the offices of the Reform Association, Toronto street, having been summoned by G. C. Hurdman, M.L.A., Ottawa, assistant Liberal whip. Prior to this meeting a session of candidates for the next provincial election was held in the same place. They had been summoned by telephone and telegraph and some arrived on time, but others did not. However, Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., took them to the National Club, where luncheon was served.

When C. M. Bowman, chief Liberal whip in Ontario, handed out the following statement: "It was moved by Dr. J. M. Rogers, Ingersoll, and seconded by John Grieve, M.L.A., North Middlesex, 'That we, as Liberal members and candidates assembled, here today desire to place on record our determination to maintain the same high standard which has been established by the Liberal party during recent years, that as heretofore a progressive policy will be continued, and that we remain united in advocating the measures which are in the best interests of the masses of the people, and a leader in sympathy with this position will be selected to succeed Hon. N. W. Rowell.' "

REPORTS FROM FLANDERS GIVE LITTLE IDEA OF WHAT IS GOING ON IN BATTLE ZONE

Only Activity of German Artillery is Spoken of—One Austrian Regiment Surrenders in a Body—British Repulse Raids and French Take Prisoners—Two German Torpedo Boats Sunk.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

New York, Oct. 19.—Field Marshall Haig's reports from the Flanders front today gave little idea of what is occuring in this important fighting area. Only the activity of the German artillery at certain points was mentioned. Berlin's statement, however indicates that an extremely heavy bombardment is in progress in Flanders, the area where big gun fire is intensive taking in the front occupied by the French near Houtholst Wood on the British left flank as well as the lines to the south held by the British themselves.

Recent reports have made it apparent that the British air men have been unusually active flying far behind the German lines and handling roughly enemy formations that attempted to penetrate behind the British front, the clear weather prevailing facilitating these important preliminary operations.

Two additional German fighting craft have met disaster in the area of naval operations around the Gulf of Riga.

Airmen Busy

London, Oct. 19.—Many bombs were dropped yesterday with satisfactory results on the Varssenaere airdrome, Flanders by one naval aircraft says the official announcement given out here today. All our machines returned safely.

We repulsed a hostile raiding party last night east of Vermelles, says today's official statement. "We had no casualties. On the battle front the enemy's artillery activity has been directed chiefly against positions in the neighborhood of the Menin road and against Zonnebeke.

French Take Prisoner

Paris, Oct. 19.—The French last night attacked the German lines on the Aisne front after a heavy bombardment. The War Office reports that German positions were penetrated and that one hundred prisoners were taken.

Austria Regiment Surrenders

New York, Oct. 19.—Newspapers here today publish the following dispatch from Washington. An entire austrian regiment with officers at its head and carrying their own arms has surrendered to Roumanians along the Russo-Roumanian front. According to cables received today the report stated that the regiment was composed almost entirely of Mohammadan Serbs from Bosnia. The colonel declared that they were all Jugoslavs and surrendered voluntarily in order to enlist in the Jugoslav Legion now being formed out of re-organized Serb army.

Huns Hold Moon Island

Berlin, Oct 19.—Via London —A notable violent artillery fire was kept up yesterday on the Flanders front at Houtholstwood near Passihendale and between Gheluvelt and Zandvoorde, army headquarters announced.

RAIN FAILS TO KEEP MEN AWAY FROM ARMORIES

There Were Twenty-five Applications for Exemption This Morning.

SIX WERE REJECTED OUTRIGHT

Seventeen of Those Examined Were Registered as Fit For Trench Duty.

Notwithstanding inclement weather this morning no less than 25 applicants were examined by the Medical Board in the armories. Most of these were farmers, and were graded as follows: A Category 17, B Category 2, E Category 6

One-Eyed Men Eligible.

Criticism prevails throughout the province because Medical Boards are grading men fit for service overseas who last year were rejected owing to defective eyesight. One-eyed men are being passed. In this connection, medical authorities have declared that the tests now are not so strict as a year ago, and, that having but one eye does not debar a man from going to the front.

Beats Record.

Yesterday afternoon saw a splendid quality of manhood presented for examination, from outside districts. Twenty-two were examined, out of which 17 were graded in Class A, 2 in B, and 6 in E. This breaks the record for the percentage of grade A men passed at any one sitting.

Fifteen Last Night.

There was no great rush in the examining rooms last night, when but fifteen men learned their physical qualifications under the Military Service Act. Of these 9 went into Category A, 1 into C and 5 into E.

Can't Evade Act.

Information has reached the Registrar for Ontario, Mr. Glynn Ostar, of many a young man who should be in khaki, and is evading the medical test. Any such men should not imagine for one moment that they can evade the proclamation with any reasonable chance of escaping its call. If they don't report by November 10th they risk the charge of desertion. In any event they will be sent after by the military authorities.

NEW GOVERMENT DECLARES THAT ITS FIRST CONSIDERATION IS TO WIN THE WAR

Sir Robert Borden After Consulting Members of Union Cabinet Issues Statement as to Policy---Will Favor Women's Suffrage, Civil Service and Other Reforms.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—After consultation with his colleagues the Prime Minister has issued the following statement with regard to the formation and personnel of the new Government, and with respect to policy so far as there has been opportunity to consider it:—

The present Union or National Government has been formed with a desire to give representation to all elements of the population who support the purpose and effort of Canada in this war. Representative men of both political parties are included in its personnel; and it is intended forthwith to give to Labor special representation, upon the principle already followed with regard to Agriculture. Impressed by the urgent necessity of putting aside all minor considerations, of sinking all party differences, and of presenting a united front at this solemn and momentous juncture in the nation's history, the members of the Government have come together in the duty of service to the national interest.

War Foremost in Policy

The lines of policy which will be followed chiefly relate to the prosecution of the war and to the consideration and solution of problems which will arise during its progress or which will supervene upon the conclusion of peace. They may be outlined as follows:

1. The vigorous prosecution of the war, the maintenance of Canada's effort by the provision of necessary reinforcements, the immediate enforcement of the Military Service Act, and the most thorough co-operation with the Governments of the United Kingdom and of the other Dominions in all matters relating to the war.

Civil Service Reform

2. Civil service reform, with a view to extending the principle of the present Civil Service Act to the outside service, and thus to abolish patronage and to make appointments to the public service upon the scale standard of merit. The Civil Service Commission has already been directed to make a report to the Prime Minister as to the necessary steps for that purpose. Such arrangements will be subject to the existing regulations which give preference in appointments to returned soldiers who are duly qualified.

Woman Suffrage; Tax Profits and Incomes

3. The extension of the franchise to women, with suitable provision for enabling married women to determine their nationality, and to obtain naturalization notwithstanding marriage.

4. Adequate taxation of war profits and increased taxation of incomes, as necessitated by the continuance of the war.

Land Policy

5. A strong and progressive policy of immigration and colonization, accompanied by suitable provisions to induce settlement upon the land, to encourage increased agricultural production, and to aid in the development of agricultural resources.

6. Effective arrangements for demobilization, for the care and vocational training of returned soldiers for assistance in enabling them to settle upon the land, and for adequate pensions to those who have been disabled and to the dependents of those who have fallen.

Railways, Ships, Air Service

7. The development of transportation facilities, the co-operation management of the various railway systems so as to secure economy in operation, to avoid unnecessary construction, and to secure the widest and most effective use of existing railway facilities; the encouragement and development of the shipbuilding industry, and the establishment of steamship lines upon both oceans and upon the Great Lakes; co-operation with the various Provincial Governments for the improvement of highways; the investigation of the possibilities of air service for important national purposes.

Economy and Thrift

8. The reduction of public expenditure, the avoidance of waste and the encouragement of thrift.

Reduced Cost of Living

9. Effective measures to prevent excessive profits to prohibit hoarding, and to prevent combination for the increase of prices, and thus reduce the cost of living.

10. The encouragement of co-operation among those engaged in agricultural production, with a view to diminishing the cost of production and marketing, so that the price paid to the producer may conform more closely to that paid by the consumer.

Development and Conservation

11. The general development of all the varied resources of Canada, and their conservation and utilization to the best advantage of the people with the co-operation and assistance of the State in every reasonable way for that purpose.

DR. COUGHLIN SHOWS HOW DEAF MUTES ARE TAUGHT

Principal of School at Belleville Brings Class to This City—Deafness Often Result of Contagious Disease.

[illegible]

Dr. Coughlin, superintendent of the Ontario School for the Deaf in Belleville, met the Peterborough Medical Association in the Public Library last night, in response to an invitation from the Association. He was accompanied by Miss Deannard and Miss Ford, two teachers from the school, and six children ranging in age from seven to sixteen years.

In an interesting and instructive talk to the doctors and a number of educational people assembled Dr. Coughlin said that 50 percent of the deaf are so afflicted as a result of contagious diseases, such as scarlet fever, measles, meningitis and so forth; and in this connection he emphasized the need for immediate and complete isolation and quarintine as soon as contagious cases are reported. He also considered the salaries of medical health officers in general to be totally inadequate to the importance of the office, and all it entails. Better paid officials would be able to devote more time and attention to this end of their work. From a monetary point of view alone, the country would, he contended, be in pocket by municipalities sparing no expense in the conduction of their health departments of government as thousands of dollars yearly are expended in the maintenance of the school for deaf, 50 per cent of the inmates of which contracted their affliction through contagious diseases. Thus ideal isolation of these cases would mean a considerable reduction of deafness and a lessening in cost of school maintenance.

How Tonight.

There are 262 young folk now in the Ontario School for deaf, 65 per cent. of whom are educated by means of lip reading and speech, the remainder by sign language.

The eight children present last evening, with their teachers, Misses Deannard and Ford, gave marvelous demonstrations of their skill in lip-reading and speech, which simply astounded their audience. These demonstrations reflect the greatest credit on all concerned, and were a revelation of the worth of the Belleville school for the deaf.

It is interesting to note that a child becoming deaf before the age of six years is more readily taught speech and lip reading than one becoming afflicted after that age.

Dr. Coughlin motored to the city from Belleville, and is the guest of Dr. Gallivan.

MEN WHO REGISTER FOR SERVICE ARE VERY FEW

Ontario, Like Quebec, an Exemption Province---In London City Not a Man Registers For Duty---Peterboro Goes One Better

Since the Military Service Proclamation was published last Saturday calling for registration by men examined, either for service or exemption, almost every man seems to consider himself a fit and proper candidate for exemption. The number registering for service is so few that they are not worth reference. One home service man signed up at the Peterborough post office, but Postmaster Paten of Lindsay is still anxiously awaiting the moment when he can announce a Lindsay man reporting for duty to his King and Country. The following reports from Otario towns in this respect will pay dipping into. The figures show that the tribunals are going to more than have their hands full, when they once get down to work.

Not One London Man.

London, Oct. 19.—Not a London man has yet reported for service under the Military Service Act. From the whole district out of 1,060 replies there are but 24 reports for service have so far been received.

157 Claims in Regina.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 19.—A total of 966 applications for exemption have been received from various parts of the Province. Of 191 reports filled in for Regina 157 are for exemptions.

Brantford Men.

Brantford, Oct. 19.—Up to 11.30 this morning 119 eligibles of Class A standing had reported at the local post office. Of these only three had reported for service.

Forty-Three in Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 19.—Out of 465 men on the first draft who have reported to the post-office only 43 declared themselves ready to don khaki.

Somewhat Better.

Halifax, Oct. 19.—Registrar Nichols today reported that at the close of his office last night 42 men had reported for military service yesterday, and that 334 men had applied for exemption.

More Eager in Amherst.

Amherst, N.S., Oct. 19. — Many applications for exemption have been received by Postmaster Halston.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

PETERBOROUGH FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1917

PAGE MR. WEARING.

THE NEXT TIME The Examiner makes an attack of more than usual fury against the Borden Government and its conduct of the war, let some public-spirited citizen send out a hurry call for Mr. Wearing, who may be able to reduce our contemporary to a condition of something like reason.

SENSELESS DELAY.

THE LETTER CARRIERS of Peterborough sent a request to the Minister of Labor asking that a board of conciliation be appointed under the Industrial Disputes Act to consider their request for a raise of wages. A similar request was sent in by the postal employes all over the country.

The communication of the local men has been formally acknowledged by the Deputy Minister of Labor. The Toronto carriers, however, have received a definite reply, which will be taken as applying to the situation the Dominion over. They are recommended to carry their demands to the Postmaster-General for settlement.

No other interpretation of this communication than that he request for a board is denied, is possible. Naturally the carriers are disappointed. The stand taken by the Department is characteristic of the policy of delay that has marked the operations of the Industrial Disputes Act. The carriers had a grievance. They asked the Postmaster-General for an increase of $20 a month, and were granted $100 a year. They consider this inadequate, and ask for a board of conciliation.

When the two parties to a labor dispute fail to agree and trouble is likely, either party is entitled to ask for arbitration. Under the Industrial Disputes Act, the Minister of Labor has no choice but to comply. He has a mistaken idea of his duty when he assumes the role of arbitrator in his own person. The law is plain and there is no excuse for his not following it. Prejudice against the cause of the men is naturally suspected under the present circumstances.

The carriers exhausted every effort to get what they wanted from the Postmaster-General To refer them to that official again is useless, a senseless delay of the settlement of a problem that is capable of serious development.

If the Government has a good case in this instance, there should be no objection to an investigation. Let the dispute be aired according to law, and public opinion will uphold the party that is in the right.

If the letter-carriers are forced to strike to get recognition of their demands, public sentiment will uphold them from the start. The people whom they serve will not forget that they have done their utmost to bring about an amicable settlement and that the Labor Department refused to take a single step forward to meet them, let alone coming half the distance.

FREEDOM.

THE MAN who talks most about the freedom of speech as the birthright of every Britisher is generally the one who has the least to offer in the way of sacrifice for that freedom, in a large sense, for which the Allied armies in Europe are so bravely contending.

HOME MISSION WORK FOR MR. WEARING.

IN HIS communication in last night's Review, dealing with the new Union Government and outlining a program to be followed by both parties in the future, Mr. Joseph Wearing speaks in the carefully modulated tones of the man who has been but recently converted. When the designing Jacob spoke for a purpose, however, he could not conceal from his dupe the hispidulous disguise which he wore for the occasion. Jacob's voice and Esau's skin is still a favorite combination when a man wishes to quietly achieve some object, while at the same time intent upon making a popular impression to the contrary.

Mr. Wearing, good-naturedly we must admit, advises The Review to forget politics for the present. He has simply got into the wrong field of endeavor. If he is ambitious to perform that style of home mission work he should confine his efforts to his own party press, that night after night emits with exasperating sameness those growls of disapproval directed against the Borden Government, a rehash of imaginary sins of commission and omission, in which unfounded charges are made to do duty for argument. Mr. Wearing, if he is ambitious to mold the policy of the local press, would confer a favor upon the public if he could induce his own partisan newspaper mouthpiece to say something definite, to locate itself politically.

The cloven foot of that same old brand of partisanship peers from under the white mantle of peace which Mr. Wearing has donned. He "spills the beans" when he refers to the C. N. R. purchase and the new Franchise Act. No man who supported those measures will find favor in his eyes. When a person is at a loss for a reason to justify a certain line of action, an excuse is generally made to serve the purpose.

Mr. Wearing, as a lawyer, we are convinced, would in any similar business transaction, advise a client o adopt the course followed by the Government with regard to the C. N. R., to foreclose a mortgage on a piece of property on which he had advanced money. Why, then, cannot a man be in politics what he is in private business?

Mr. Wearing says he is in favor of conscription. For the life of us we cannot see how any person can profess support of that enactment, then object to the means adopted to preserve that measure from destruction. Would Mr. Wearing build a house and leave unmolested a band of firebugs who he was satisfied planned its destruction?

Mr. Wearing speaks in his letter not for himself alone. He voices the sentiments of a section in this community who care little whether the official head they seek be delivered on a charger or otherwise so long as they get it.

HOPELESS.

"A NEWSPAPER report says that the people are eating lots of fish in Ottawa. That's right, they need to," remarks the Pembroke Standard.

The reference in the above is probably to the fact hat scientists maintain the eating of fish is good for the brain. Unfortunately, however, there are those in Ottawa, and elsewher, who are so far gone in this regard that nothing short of a whale would benefit them, and Food Controller Hanna has not yet placed that variety of food on the market.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

MR. WEARING'S brand of camouflage is too gauzy for the purpose intended.

• • •

PROVIDING a scrap for his navy in the Gulf of Riga will at least serve to keep the Kaiser's soldiers out of the mischief of mutiny.

• • •

THE GERMANS say that the Canadian coast is in the war zone. Are Bourassa, Lavergne and the rest of that bunch yet convinced that Canada is in danger?

• • •

THE FARMER is not likely to forget the party, once professedly his friend, that now seeks to confiscate his produce by fixing an arbitrary price.

• • •

EVEN IF New York did not win the baseball championship, that city still has a chance to redeem itself. It can now turn in and re-elect Mayor Mitchell and put the Tammany Hall eye out again.

• • •

THE EARTH, says the textbook, whirls round the sun at the rate of one thousand miles an hour, which impels J. D. to remark that it is little wonder that Germany cannot catch a place in the latter.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Editor Review:—If you will kindly allow me the space there are two or three things which I should like to lay before the people of Peterboro in regard to the needs of the Public Library. The first of these has to do with the meetings of literary societies and associations where papers on various subjects will be read. Such papers, whether prepared by old or young, would have to be useless indeed if they did not contain information which would be of value to us for reference purposes. The call upon us for information on all sorts of subjects is insistent and any papers handed over to us dealing with matters controversial, biographical historical or political would be very gratefully accepted. They would thus serve a double purpose: First, in catering to that select coterie for whom they were primarily intended and secondly, to that great body of which they form a part, the general public.

My second point has to deal with the gifts of books. Our Library committee selects every year a considerable number of books connected with the various branches of literature, but motives of economy as well as the desire to expend the public money in a way to provide the greatest good for the greatest number precludes their purchasing other than a very moderate number of books in one class, or of copies of individual books in a class. Thus, there are very many works which are conspicuous by their absence on our shelves, such as works dealing with the various systems of shorthand, and especially books on music.

If there are any friends of the Public Library who have any volumes of the character mentioned and are willing to present them to us for the public benefit, I am quite sure the Library Board will accept them with many thanks.

In this connection I may mention the great value that would attach to the gift to the Library of year old editions of the city directory. We could very easily receive twenty or thirty of these and exchange them with libraries of other cities and towns for copies of theirs. I know that there are many merchants who would be pleased to present their discarded copies rather than consign them to the garbage can or the dust heap. By this method of exchange a very valuable and serviceable reference library of the province would be acquired at the smallest of cost.

My third and last point is the need of obtaining books for our soldiers and the soldiers of our allies across the border. The American Government has just inaugurated and carried to a fairly successful issue a "war library week." The War council announced that it will buy books, build and maintain libraries at thirty two training camps and cantonments of United States soldiers, sailors and airmen at home and abroad, in order that the library may follow the soldier with its sane, recreational and promotional influences.

Contributions are requested of books on almost every conceivable subject, from works dealing with patriotism and good citizenship to drawing and lettering and grammars and dictionaries. The idea, of course, is not only to provide recreation for those who have offered their services to their country, but in so doing to provide such as have never had the opportunity with a chance of gaining the education they lack. Any donations sent to the library will be carefully attended to and those meant for our Canadian soldiers or for those of our neighbors to the south will be consigned to their respective destinations.

FRED. M. DELAFOSSE.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

Miss Marion W. Cottle, a former student of Wellesley College and the Boston Law School, has offered to form a cavalry regiment of women.

For the first time in the history of the relations between Mexico and the United States the direct organized effort of women of both countries is about to make itself felt.

Besides giving her three sons to the colors and her daughter to the Red Cross, Mrs. Esther Gaddis, of Atlanta, Ga., has herself gone to the Charleston navy yard to run a sewing machine for Uncle Sam.

Women of the army and navy circles are banded together in the united service committee of the Lay Women's Service of the Red Cross, and Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, is one of the women at its head.

Lady Frances Balfour, president of the London Society of National Union of Woman Suffrage and president of the Travellers' Aid Society, claims that the aid of women is necessary to win the war.

Words and Phrases to be Avoided

"In so far as," for "so far as."

"Indorse," in the sense of "adopt," "agree with" or 'approve."

"Infinitely," avoid such phrases as "Eva is infinitely cleverer than Carrie."

"Jepordize" for "to jeopard."

"In spite of," for "despite."

"Later on" and "from now on," for "later" and "henceforth."

"Lengthways" and "sideways" for "lengthwise" and "sidewise."

"Less than," when referring to a collection of individual things, say, "fewer than."

"Numerous," for "many" or "large."

"Off from," for "from." "Several children of from six to twelve years of age." Omit "of," or say, "whose ages ranged," etc.

"Old veteran" for veteran." This is clearly a pleonasm, yet it appears as regularly as the tax collector.

"On behalf," for "in behalf."

"Onto," for "on" or "upon" is beginning to appear frequently in American literature. It supplies no want and should never be used.

'Ought" for "should." The former is the stronger term. "We ought to tell the truth," but "we should weed the garden."

"Party" or "parties" for "person" or "persons."

"Per" for a." Unless "per" is followed by a Latin word, as "per annum," use "a."

"Position" for "place," "employment," station" or "rank." The word is overworked; discriminate among its synonyms.

"Posted" for "informed."

"Practically" for "virtually" or "in effect."

"Remains" for "corps" or "body."

"Seem" for "appear." The distinction is the same as that between "aware" and "conscious."

"So ..... as" for "as ...... as" and vice versa, use the former in a negative phrase, as "this is not so good as that," but the latter in an affirmative phrase, "this is as good as that."

"Some ten miles," for "about ten miles."

"Standpoint," or "viewpoint" for "point of view."

"Such" for "so." "I have never seen so large a horse," not, "I have never seen such a large horse." A transposition of these words would give, "I have never seen a horse such large."

"Sunup" and "sundown" for "sunrise" and "sunset."

"Those sort" or "those kind" for "that sort" or "that kind."

"Try an experiment" for "make an experiment." "Try and" for "try to." "I will try to go," and not "I will try and go."

"Under the circumstances" for "in the circumstances."

"Voice," for "speak" or "express." Never say, "he voiced his sentiments."

"Wash down" for "drink." It is inelegant, if not positively vulgar.

"While" for "whereas" or "though." "While she was fond of him," is better expressed by, "though she was fond of him."

"Wire," for "send a telegram."

NEED FOR REINFORCEMENTS

All Canadians should understand thoroughly the kind of military organization which the Allies depend on Canada to maintain overseas Since news stories in the press mostly always recount the activities of the fighting men, the public at home is apt to overlook the essential work done by the many thousands of men behind the lines on whose energy and devotion to duty depends the success of those in the trenches.

Behind the Canadian lines in France, for instance, there are Canadian soldiers engaged in forestry corps, railway corps, entrenching battalions, labor battalions, railroad supply detachments, salvage companies, field butcheries, field bakeries, depot units of supply, reserve parks, casualty clearing stations, hospitals both stationary and general, depots and laboratories, dental corps, mobile veterinary sections, veterinary hospitals, ordnance corps, army pay corps, training establishments, headquarters, offices, camps, etc. In all there are over twenty-five different and necessary branches of the military organization to be maintained back of the lines by Canadian soldiers.

In England Canadian troops, numbering at present upwards of 100,000, include reserves for all the many services in France, awaiting call, as well as the sick and wounded men in various stages of physical fitness, and those engaged in necessary storage, transportation, forestry, headquarters and other activities. Sufficient reserves for certain essential branches of the service in France are not available in England now. The situation threatens to impose too heavy a burden upon the Canadians now at the front. This is the need for early reinforcement.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Sickening.

(Detroit Free Press.)

Kerensky is said to be ill. We don't wonder at it. His job would make a strong man sick.

The "Die-Hards."

(Brantford Expositor.)

The practical politicians in both parties do not seem to be well pleased with the new union government. They are reluctant to give up a party advantage which they believed to be theirs, for the common good.

The Same Strong Intellect.

(Montreal Gazette.)

Some of those who rail against Mr. Hanna know what the facts are, and are playing politics. Some critics are sincere. Mr. Hanna is giving to his duties the same strong intellect and good purpose that made him a respected force in Ontario's public life. He will, if he retains his position, do what knowledge and sound judgment will indicate as being practicable, and therefore effective. He will not invite failure by attempting the impossible. What he has done so far has been on right lines; which is warrant for expecting that what he does later will be so also.

Where He Got His Nerve.

(Life.)

It was necessary for one man to stand up and draw the enemy's fire. A soldier volunteered and fortunately not one of the bullets struck him. When the charge was over, the captain said to the brave fellow:

"Where did you get the wonderful nerve to stand out there and make yourself a target for the bullets of the enemy?"

The other smiled.

"For five years," he answered, "I was a guide in the Maine woods."

He's a True Diplomat.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

Viscount Ishii says the American women are the prettiest on earth, and that their beauty is enhanced by silks from Japan, thereby combining with Oriental shrewdness, gallantry and patriotism.

Three thousand more New York school children went on strike against the Gary system.

TODAY'S STORY

Sergeant Penny had seen plenty of fighting, as he conceded, but he declared he had never seen a war.

He was an old timer with grizzled hair and service stripes and an imperishable desire to play a part in big events. It need be only a humble part: Sergeant Penny was not blessed or cursed with personal ambition, but with a sense of scale.

It seemed to him sometimes, as he watched a sheaf of bullets strike the distant ground and estimated the interval with a practised eye, that he had always been, would always be, range finding. The ground was hard and dry. A little cloud of dust, created by the bullets' impact, rose and floated off to settle on leaves by the roadside.

And Sergeant Penny watched it musingly. How many years ago had he first seen that little cloud of dust, no bigger than a man's hand, ascend and drift and dissolve? Well, how many years ago did he serve under Custer, anyway? His eye sought his sleeve and travelled away.

That was fighting, tough fighting! And Custer had been a soldier! But it had not been war.

They had had to deal with snakes in the grass, the long, tall, waving grass of the prairie. And again they had had to play the snake, this time on the palm fronded island where the capture of a blockhouse was a superb victory. Sergeant Penny felt again the shiver that ran along his back as he hitched his way through the pampa within "battle sight" of a Spanish sharpshooter. It was thrilling, but it was not—not war.

His active recollection took him onward to the years of service in the Philippines. Savages, tolos, knives, fever, ambuscades, surprises Krags, sunstroke—why, it was vaudeville of a particularly atrocious sort War? Well, hardly war!

War was combat on a grand scale between trained armies excellently led. How many a time had he murmured at not having been born a hundred years earlier! Then had he been a soldier under the Corsican; he would have taken part in colossal encounters; his most insignificant task would have been surcharged with meaning and distinction, for it would have been contributory to an impressive and world shaking whole.

Sergeant Penny gave a few orders in a low voice regarding the range and allowance for windage. Suddenly a whisper swept along the line. It was indistinguishable but mighty. Sergeant Penny caught it and straightened stiffly. No bugle call could have wrought such a transformation. Not even the "charge."

A month later Sergeant Penny stood in the street of a French village rolling a cigarette with one hand. Some silent French youngsters watched this feat with respectful admiration. Sergeant Penny stooped and picked up a small boy and perched him on his shoulder.

"Vivent les Etats-Unis!" piped the boy.

Through a rosy mist of delight Sergeant Penny looked at him, at the quiet, dusty, empty street; at the old, old houses, but he saw none of these plainly visible objects. He saw 4 00miles of battlefront, millions of men, rank upon rank of thundering artillery, the gleam of sunlight on thousands of bayonets. And plain Sergeant Penny was in the front line. At last a real war, a war on scale. And he was in it.

The splendor falls on castled walls
And snowy summits old in story.

"Hurrah for France!" cried Sergeant Penny.

Wit and Wisdom

A Long, Dry Spell.

A Western congressman in discussing the long droughts that sometimes afflict his state, tells this story: "One day someone asked an old farmer, 'How would you like to see it rain?' 'I don't care about it myself,' said the old man, 'but I've got a boy six years old who would like to see it rain.'"

Cured.

"Well," said the doctor to Pat, "did that cure for deafness really help your brother?"

"Arrah, sure enough," said Pat. "He hadn't heard a sound for years, and the day after he took that medicine he heard from a friend in America."

Light in Darkness

Losing my way, I groped, with fears beset:
Dim grew the day; on came the blinding night;
Hopeless, I knelt and closed my eyes to pray—
Lo, all about me streamed the Light!

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINCEBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Things are booming in every department of the Y. M. C. A. at present. Practically all activities are now organised and well under way. The program this year is in advance of any laid out during the last few years. The plan of class, group and team organization, which was formerly held only in the gymnasium, is now extended to both the social and religious departments, and is adding greatly to the efficiency of management, and has also served to increase the interest of the young men and boys themselves. Under the new plan, it is assumed that every member of a gymnasium class should represent his class in participating in game tournaments and in a Bible class, thus adding to the percentage of credits awarded his class.

Bible Class Tonight.

The first meeting of the School Boys' "A" Bible Class group will be held tonight to reorganize the Collegiate Club, which proved such an interesting feature in the program for the older Collegiate boys last year. Supper will be served at 6:15 o'clock and Collegiate boys of 16 years of age or over, whether members of the Y. M. C. A. or not are invited.

A contest is now on between the six classes of the Boys' Department, there being something over 250 individual contestants. The contest will run until Christmas time, and the winning class will be determined on the basis of attendance at gymnasium and Bible classes and participation in the various game tournaments.

To indicate the interest that the boys are taking in the new program, it might be stated that in one of the classes this week 28 boys attended the gymnasium, and 27 out of this number were found in Bible study in another room following the gymnasium work.

There will be a game tournament for each class, followed by an inter-class tournament, in which the winners of the class tournaments will contest for the leading honors. The boys will receive credits for participation in the games, and each boy will score ten points for his class by adding a new member to the enrolment of either a gymnasium or a Bible class.

A boys' membership campaign is to be launched next week, and there will also be a contest between the classes mentioned, and for various prizes to be set up. The boys are quite interested in the fact that a free membership ticket is to be given each boy who secures five new members. This contest will start on the 24th October and will run until the 20th November.

An energetic campaign for senior members is to be launched on the 15th November, with good team organization, and will close on the same date that the boys finish their work.

We are pleased to note a number of new members of the business men's gymnasium class, several of whom have not been in the gymnasium for a number of years. We would recommend this class to every man, for the work undertaken is well adapted to the older fellows who participate in the games as though they were boys again.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

DRAW MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR AND DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY AT ONCE.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain? that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Military Service Act, 1917
Explanatory Announcement by the Minister of Justice
P.O.

CANADA

Should You Be Exempt?

Every facility is afforded those who have reasonable ground for applying for exemption under the Military Service Act. Each man's case will be considered by a local, civil board, sitting in the locality where he lives, and will be decided as is desirable in the national interest.

The idea behind the Military Service Act is to call up first only those whose absence from civilian occupations will cause least disturbance to the country's economic and social life. One hundred thousand reinforcements—no more—are to be raised under the Act.

Cases of Exemption

Over 1,250 civic tribunals have been organized throughout Canada, known as Exemption Tribunals. These Boards are comprised of 2 members, one appointed by the county judge and one by a joint committee of Parliament. It will be seen that these tribunals are non-military and independent. The members are men closely acquainted with conditions in the places where they sit and will be able to give each case sympathetic attention.

National Interest Will Govern Exemptions

Consideration will be given to applications for exemption received from men engaged in the production or manufacture of commodities necessary to the conduct of the war and the support of those at home, and cases in which real hardship would be caused by the withdrawal. Not all men who register these claims will be exempted, but such claims will receive careful attention. National interest must govern.

Promptness is Essential

Prompt application for exemption is strongly urged upon all who, being included in the first class, believe they deserve exemption. But first visit a Medical Board and find out if any further action is required. Unless the Medical examination places you in Category A, you will have no immediate obligation for service.

Issued by The Military Service Council

BEEF LIVER WITH ONIONS.

Slice thin one and-a-half pounds beef liver; remove the skin and veins, then dust it with flour, salt, and pepper. Slice six onions thin and fry till soft in the bacon fat. Remove the onions and fry the liver rapidly in the fat. When brown on one side turn, put the onions on top, and finish cooking. Remove to a hot dish, add a little water to the drippings in the pan to make a gravy, and pour it over the liver. A little thinly sliced bacon added to the dish is an improvement.

HOW TO USE SKIM MILK

Many people do not realize how nutritious skim milk is. They imagine that because it so generally has little or no commercial value it is hardly fit for human food. As a f[illegible], it is not so valuable as whole milk and cannot take the place of the latter in the diet of children. Nevertheless, skim milk can be used to great advantage in combination with other food materials, especially in cooking, and is altogether too valuable to be wasted.

The uses of skimmed milk are many and in cooking it adds to quality as well as to food value. If used in place of water in bread it adds about as much protein to one pound of bread as there is in an egg. Skim milk used in place of the usual half milk and half water, of course increases the quantity of protein in a loaf by the amount that is contained in half an egg. To cook a cupful of cereal in three cupfuls of skim milk instead of three of water adds as much protein as that contained in three eggs.

There are many dishes which may be described as vegetable milk soups, usually made by combining milk and the juice and pulp of vegetables. This mixture is then thickened with flour and starch and enriched with butter or other fat. If a fire is kept all the time and the cost of fuel need not be taken into consideration, the following method is recommended as a means of utilizing skim milk: Chop the raw vegetable or cut it into small pieces. Put it with the skim milk into a double boiler and cook until the vegetable is tender. The mixture can then be thickened and enriched as described above. By this method no part of the vegetable is thrown away and the liquid of the soup, instead of being part milk and part water, is all milk. A soup so made, therefore, usually has about twice as much protein as that made in the other way, and has the additional advantage of a particularly good combination of mineral substances, for milk is rich in calcium and phosphorus and the vegetables are rich in iron.

Oh, I said I'd give you one this week, and it's wrong to break my word? Now, look here, you don't know what you're talking about. It's not wrong; it's only fashionable.

Eh, what do I mean by fashionable? Why, all the big fellers do it. Even Mr. Hanna says he will set a rice on potatoes, when it looked as though there were too many, and then broke his word when it was discovered that the crop wasn't up to expectations. What he does must be right, for a Food Controller must be like a certain lady mentioned in the Bible—"above suspicion."

Yes, Potatoes will be 25c a peck here, and of course I'll sell those Hams.

Eh? Well, I'll see about next week. But for this week you can just say A. W. PASKINS, Corner of Hunter and Aylmer Sts., is still doing business at the old prices.

The recipes for creamed finnan haddie and graham flour biscuits, mentioned above, are as follows:

Creamed Finnan Haddie—

Pour boiling water over the finnan haddie. Leave a few minutes, and pour off. This takes away some of the smoky taste. Lay the fish in a baking-pan and cover with milk or water. Cook gently in the oven until done. Make a white sauce, using the milk that is on the fish. To one cup of this milk use two tablespoons of flour, one tablespoon of butter and one-eighth teaspoon of pepper. It requires no salt. Carefully remove the bones from the fish, breaking it as little as possible. Add this flaked fish to the white sauce. Reheat, and serve at once.

Graham Flour Biscuits—

Two cups graham flour,
One cup sweet milk,
Four level teaspoons of baking powder,
One teaspoon salt,
Two tablespoons shortening.

Mix the dry ingredients. Work into these the shortening, and when thoroughly mixed, wet with the milk to a dough sufficiently moist to roll. Roll to one-half inch thickness and cut as tea biscuits.

Using Puffballs

The puffball is described and recommended for food by the assistant director of the New York Botanical Garden, Mr. William A. Murrill, who, speaking of the common pasture puffball, says it is "large, rounded, five to ten centimeters in diameter, the base short and thick; surface smooth, whitish gray or brown, becoming purplish with age: spores purplish brown." These are all said to be edible and so probably the best for the beginner to collect. They are also considered excellent and are easily found, and, as they are tender, they cook quickly. They should be cut open before cooking, according to Mr. Murrill, in order that one may see they are not too old and that they are really puffballs. When they are of the right age to use, they are white and firm, like cream cheese, inside, and show no yellow or brownish discoloration, nor have they any special structures, but are smooth and homogeneous within. Inedible varieties exhibit a young cap and stem inside, or a stem and green mass with a jelly-like layer surrounding it.

"Puffballs may be cooked alone in various ways, or used in stews and omelets and for stuffing roast fowls. When used in omelets, they should be stewed first. All kinds, except the very small one, should first be peeled and cut into slices or cubes, after which they may be fried quickly in butter, or dipped in beaten egg and fried like eggplant, or cooked in any of the ways recommended for the ordinary mushroom. The smaller kinds are much inferior in flavor and need a few specimens of some good mushroom to make them attractive.

COOKING AND SERVING.

Remember to serve hot dishes steaming and directly upon removing from the fire. Otherwise the food loses that delicious piquancy. Cold dishes should be chilled thoroughly, not insipidly cool.

While cooking vegetables, fruits, meats, etc., should they catch on the bottom of the pot, quickly set the pot or boiler in cold water. Then remove carefully all the food except that which sticks to the bottom of the pan. This will prevent the unpleasant scorched flavor penetrating the food.

Rich Yet Delicate—
Clean and Full of Aroma.

"SALADA" B109

is blended from selected hill-grown teas, famed for their fine flavoury qualities. Imitated yet never equalled.

CORNMEAL IN SOUTHERN STYLE.

It would seem that cornmeal has always been prepared for food differently in the South and the North, whether by boiling, frying or baking, says the Literary Digest after quoting a letter from R. D. Halslip, editor of the Leader, Staunton, Va., in which he writes:

"All Northern and Western writers tell you to wet the meal in cold water first, this being done to keep it from lumping. This process ruins the mush for any Southern man. Mush to be fit to eat should start with water boiling till it jumps out of the pot, and for a definite reason. The boiling water breaks the particles, the cells, and makes the mush palatable and digestible. The other way makes it flat and more or less indigestible."

When making tea better results will be obtained if fresh, bubbling, boiling water is used.

Custards cook evenly and are less liable to become watery when baked in cups set in a pan of water.

One woman was killed and eight injured when a truck hit a street car at Grand Rapids.

If you are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion or sour stomach you should try a mixture of Salol Pepsin and Iridin.

This is said to be the formula of Dr. Banta's famous prescription which gave him a world-wide reputation.

These powders are sold in Peterborough at Lynch's Drug Store, 168 Hunter Street.

FESTIVALS AND CUSTOMS OF THE HEATHEN CHINESE

Interesting and Instructive Address by Mrs. H. D. Robertson at the W.M.S. Convention in George Street Methodist Church.

A deeply interest-retaining and instructive address was that delivered by Mrs. H. D. Robertson before the Woman's Missionary Society's Convention in the George Street Methodist Church yesterday afternoon. It proved a vivid word-picture of Chinese customs and festivals, and was the feature of the occasion.

The first thing, the speaker said, which strikes a stranger in a foreign country is the difference in its ways and customs from those of one's own land. In the study of another race we are struck by their public celebrations and wonder at the meaning of and reason for them, the majority of people nowadays are familiar with China and its people, but still a description of a few of their festivals and customs may be of special interest.

Asiatic Festivals.

The 15th of the First Moon is observed as a Tadist Festival, when the Superior Primordial Power, or Heaven, is worshipped as the Heavenly Ruler.

The Festival of the Advent of Spring commences on Feb. 5th, when very early in the morning the effigy of an ox drawing a plough is exhibited on the ox-beaten ground somewhere outside the city. The magistrate attends, accompanied by actors representing the Star of Literature and his Monkey Sen. Strange performances by the monkey are followed by the Star of Literature exclaiming: "May the Lord and the people be peaceful; may the wind and the rain be propitious; may the fruits of the earth be abundant." The magistrate then puts his hand to the plough, and raises the ox-goad, which is a signal for a general assault on the ox, which is torn to pieces. The little ox effigies with which it has been filled are scrambled for by the crowd, and those who secure them exchange them with farmers for pieces of money as the effigies are supposed to bring luck to the farmer.

The Fifteenth of the Fifth Moon is the Festival of the Great Supreme, in celebration of the great philosopher Laotze or Lad Chuin, when a fair is held near Chengtu. Merchandise of all kinds is displayed and the fair lasts five or seven weeks.

On the Nineteenth of the Second Moon temples are dedicated to the Goddess Kuany and her birthday celebrated. There are theatrical displays, vegetable refreshments, and the distribution by priests of wooden images of boys and girls. Childless and young married women wrap these images in their hair and pray for the blessing of maternity.

The Third of the Third Moon Festival is in honor of Chiai T'si-t'in, who for 19 years followed his master T'sin-Uen-Kong in his exile, but was rewarded by being overlooked by the Prince on his restoration to power. Chiai retired to Mount Wrien, but on subsequently being remembered and sent for by the Prince, refused to obey the summons, and lost his life in the latter's efforts to force him from his retirement by fire. On this festival all ancestors' graves are swept and repaired, wine and meat offered, and burial places decorated with paper streamers.

On the Eighth of the 4th Moon Buddhists observe Buddha's birth by liberating birds, fishes, turtles, eels and snakes.

The 5th of the 5th Moon is dedicated to various historical events. On that day the Celestial Sage or Tadist the Pope is supposed to ride forth on a tiger to drive away all evil spirits with his mighty sword. In emblem of this sweet flag leaves are hung on every door, and incense and candles are also burnt. Many other curious customs are observed on this festival with a view to warding off disease and curing the sick.

On the 7th of the 7th Moon is celebrated a festival in which unmarried girls pray to the Weaver for cleverness and many strange and wonderful rites are entered into. The story runs that on this day the Weaver and the Herdsman were married, but preferring each other's company to engaging in their occupations, Jupiter, the Weaver's father, separated the pair, placing them on opposite sides of the milky way.

On the 7th night of the 7th Moon. The Chinese believe that at midnight of this date if a red rag be thrown over the mouth of a well a listener can hear the Weaver and the Herdsman weeping as they part company for another year.

The Festival of the 9th of the 9th Moon commemorates the escape of Huan Ching from a general slaughter. Warhed by a magician he escaped with his family to the mountain, carrying a bag filled with a certain plant. He drank chrysanthemum wine. On returning to his home he found that all the fowl and pigs has been slaughtered in his stead. The faithful celebrate this event by drinking weak wine and climbing the nearest eminence.

The City Gods parade Chinese streets on the 1st of the 10th Moon, and the City Temple provides paper clothing for the beggar spirits. After this clothing has been paraded it is taken outside the city and buried in the common burial ground.

In conclusion of reference to the peculiar festivals of a peculiar people Mrs. Robertson said that the popular belief is that when Gautama left his home to become Buddha, in his compassion he commanded his people to cook rice gruel and feed the hungry spirits. The Chinese still make gruel to perpetuate his custom, but eat it themselves instead of giving it to hungry spirits.

Queer Customs.

The speaker here gave the following interesting customs of the Chinese:

Family Gathering. — After the 16th of the 12th Moon all members gather to eat their yearly feast, sometimes at the son's house too. No soup is taken lest it brings wet weather whenever the one who eats it goes out the following year. Conversation of the past and future is avoided so that there will be nothing to mar the harmony of the gathering or cause trouble in days to come. After dinner they feed the fruit trees by placing rice in notches in the bark. This is to insure a good crop of fruit.

Sweeping the Cobwebs. In the latter half of the 12th moon all cobwebs are swept down to prevent the [illegible] of hairy caterpillars. At this season the Kitchen God is supposed to be absent, so that he will not be annoyed by flying dust.

Worshipping the Kitchen God.—On the evening of the 23rd of the 12th Moon officials and official classes worship this God, inferior people worship on the 24th. On the latter date the god goes up to heaven to report the deeds of men to the Immaculate Emperor, therefore he must be propitiated before starting on his journey. Incense and yellow paper are burnt before his shrine in the kitchen. Some of the offerings made are cash, rice, pork, a cock, cakes, salt, tea and white toffy. The latter is supposed to glue the god's jaws together so he cannot speak evil of the offerer. Wine also is spilled.

New Year's Eve.—The people stay up to guard the departing year, and many expedients are adopted to bring luck. Sand is beaten with sticks; this is called "Beating the Rats" to prevent them breeding, the Kitchen God is now supposed to be back again, and all Gods, of which there are many, are worshipped.

New Years Day.—Vermicelli is prepared in the morning. Much visiting is done and the streets are crowded with all sorts and conditions of Chinese in gaudy apparel. There is much drinking, feasting and amusement. Brooms are hidden; the sight of one is supposed to bring trouble in the future, so no sweeping is done this day. Sight of a refuse basket this day induces the infliction of wrongs on the beholder, and chickens with their pointed beaks, if seen, would cause one to be quarrelsome. Dust and refuse must not be emptied until after the fifth of the month for fear that one's prosperity be emptied with it.

Fifth of First Month.—This is the end of the holiday season, and merchants re-engage their help. The latter, when invited to dinner and bargained with for another year's service, accept; if no advance is made by their employer they know their engagement is terminated.

Ninth of the Month.—The god of Wealth is this day worshipped. Leading men on each street organize and collect subscriptions from all householders to provide arches of white lanterns under which the god is worshipped. This is one method of beseeching happiness.

Fifteenth of the Month.—On this date wilder spirits indulge in horse play with lion and dragon lanterns. Lanterns are made of a long sheet of colored calicoe or silk skin with head and tail of lion or dragon attached, the whole supported and manipulated by two men for the lion, and ten or more for the dragon. These are illuminated with oil lamps. The day ends in a big display of lanterns and fireworks. After dark many people steal vegetables from neighbors to cook for supper, and this custom is thought to be very efficacious in warding off disease.

Escorting the Year on Its Way.—This custom is peculiar only to Chengtu. On the sixteenth the people of both sex take a walk on the city wall, thereby securing, as they believe, immunity from sickness for twelve months.

Opening Shop.—This depends on the state of the merchant's exchequer and on the selection of a lucky day.

OLD FOLKS NEED "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER, BOWELS

SALTS, CALOMEL, PILLS ACT ON BOWELS LIKE PEPPER ACTS ON NOSTRILS.

ENJOY LIFE! DON'T STAY BILIOUS, SICK, HEADACHY AND CONSTIPATED.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect th[illegible]. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

If you are suffering from constipation or sick headache, try Dr. Norvall's stomach and tonic tablets.

Be sure you get the genuine, as they are guaranteed and should they fail to give you relief, return the bottle to your dealer and he will refund your money.

TURN DOWN THE CARRIERS' REQUEST FOR ARBITRATION

Minister of Labor Tells Them to Carry Their Troubles to the Postmaster-General---Toronto Carriers to Discuss Situation Tonight.

The local letter carriers some time ago applied to the Minister of Labor for a Board of Conceliation to arbitrate their differences with the authorities and to consider their request of $20 a month. A similar communication was sent in by the carriers all over the Dominion.

The local carriers have received a formal acknowledgement of the receipt of their communication. Alexander McMordie, Dominion secretary of the letter carriers has received a communication from the Deputy which he interprets as a refusal of the Minister of Labor to appoint a Board of Conciliation, under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, to enquire into the grievances of the letter carriers.

During the last session of the Dominion House it was understood by the letter carriers that provision had been made in the supplementary estimates for an increase of $100 a year. This failed to materialize, and so incensed were many of the letter carriers that a strike was threatened However, finally they were all persuaded to try and find an amicable way out of the difficulty, so they applied to the Minister of Labor for a board under the legislation referred to. The following is the reply to the application of the letter carriers sent by Deputy Minister Acland:

"I beg to acknowledge your letter of the 12th inst. In reply I am to state that the Minister has had the matter in question, up with his colleagues and will not lose sight of the same. No conclusive action in the matter, can however, be taken by the Minister of Labor, and the Postmaster-General, as the head of the department concerned, will be the authority best able to advise you of what may be at any time intended."

The letter carriers in Toronto meet tonight and there is no doubt about the "fat being in the fire." What they will do in the matter remains to be seen. There are over 2,800 of them in the Dominion.

BACON PROFITS NOT SO HIGH AS O'CONNOR REPORT CLAIMED

Those of the Matthews-Blackwell Company in 1916 Were 3.25 Per Cent—Mr. T. F. Matthews Gives Additional Testimony.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—When the inquiry into the alleged excessive profits on bacon in Canada was resumed before the Government Commission in the City Hall yesterday afternoon after the adjournment last Saturday, Mr. T. F. Matthews, secretary-treasurer of the Matthews-Blackwell Co., went into the witness stand and corrected a former statement in which he said the lease of the water rights in the Lachine Canal expired concurrently with the land rights. At the former hearing he stated $64,000 was written off in 1916 because the lease was about to expire. Yesterday, he stated that the water lease expired at the pleasure of the Government and the property right adjoining expired in 1930. He explained, however, that on account of the water becoming contaminated it could not be used for packers' purposes, and he showed that the company had paid $208 in 1913, $750 in 1914, $1,090 in 1915 and $5,170 in 1916, to the City of Montreal for water. That detracted from the value of the rights in Lachine Canal.

The Commission consists of G. F Henderson, chairman; A. B. Brodie, Montreal, and Geoffrey T. Clarkson J. W. Bain, K.C., represents the Government, and associated with him representing "Saturday Night," is Gordon Waldron, K.C., W. N. Tilley, K.C., represents the Wm. Davies Co. and the Matthews-Blackwell Co. Ltd.

It is expected that another adjournment will be necessary when the Commission rises at the end of the week so that Sir Joseph Flavelle, president of the Wm. Davies Co., can be called by Mr. Bain.

Some Big Figures

Mr. Mathews, continuing his evidence, said that the total amount paid to the Government on sides imported from the United States from August, 1915, to the present time was $2,091,327, and of that sum $1,696,281 was refunded, leaving an apparent balance of $395,046.

Mr. Bain: "Why apparent?" "Because that is not due to us by the Government. There must be deducted the trimmings from the sides and one per cent., which we do not get back. There is due to us approximately $322,382."

Mr Bain here submitted a statement of the value of the assets of the Matthews-Blackwell Co. from 1911 to 1916. "From this statement," said Mr. Bain, "the good will of the business all through these years is fixed at $1,351,500. The real estate, including buildings, plant, machinery, etc., varied slightly only from $2,231,000 in 1912 to $2,424,000 in 1916."

Mr. Matthews objected to the item of $1,351,500 being called good will. He preferred to call them "intangible assets." The assets at the time of amalgamation were $2,711,000 and at that time $565,000 had been paid in cash to the Laing Packing and Provision Co. for their business and the balance in stock. The whole issue of stock amounted to $2,000,000 preferred, and $1,500,000 common. The difference between the two amounts, $2,711,000 or $3,500,000, was the value of the intangible assets.

Sales and Profits, 1913-16

Mr. Bain then submitted a comparative statement of packing house sales and profits for the years 1913 to 1916. For 1913, the sales amounted to $10,439,323; in 1914, $9,604,351; in 1915, $13,033,332, and in 1916, $15,959,176. For the nine months of the fiscal year of 1917 the sales amounted to $20,376,761 for the plants alone, and $1,238,830 for the stores.

The net profits for the same years

WHITE SOX CHAMPIONS TO MAKE TOUR OF THE WORLD

New History in Baseball Was Made by Zimmerman of the Giants---Faber's Pitching Record---How Money is Divided.

"Champions of the World"—that's the title of the Chicago White Sox and they deserve the laurels they have won from one of the strongest and most resourceful clubs ever assembled in the National league. Incidentally Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, is about the happiest man in the whole world today.

It required able pitching, effective fielding, timely hitting and a classic boner to cinch the flag for Chicago.

Plays Cards Carefully

Manager Rowland, the so called busher leader, played his cards carefully and won a brilliant victory. Turning a deaf ear to the entreaties of his friends, the Sox leader sent Urban Faber, his pet pitcher and pride of Dubuque, to the firing line to end the series. Rowland's judgment was right. Faber was right, too. Gotham fans discovered this to their sorrow. Faber carried the heavy pitching burden of the series. He emerged the slab hero of the 1917 world's classic.

Faber pitched and won the second game of the series 7 to 2. He lost one contest in New York by the shutout route of 5 to 0. The Cascade and Dubuque product finished the fifth contest in Chicago won by the Sox 8 to 5. He was the pitching star of the final engagement, hurling the Sox to victory 4 to 2.

It is seldmo that a pitcher has the honor of appearing in four games of a world's series. That Faber finished strong proves he is a real iron man of baseball.

Zim Makes Baseball History

Comiskey has reached the pinnacle of fame in sportdom. He can go no higher. When Zimmerman chased Comiskey's $50,000 infielder toward the home plate he was unconsciously making baseball history. He was inscribing his name in the book among the goats of all time in world's series. He also was helping Comiskey and Rowland cinch a flag. He was helping round out the greatest career in the annals of sport. He was helping prove that the name of busher as applied to Rowland is a misnomer.

Winning a world's title means more to Comiskey at this time than it did in 1908. It is the biggest boost to baseball that could happen. It means the game will go on, despite all the dangers that are making the world a battle ground.

Comiskey has done more to help his country in this world war than any other sportsman. He has made his baseball plant a part of the machinery to aid the government. He has made his park a parade ground for Uncle Sam's soldiers and has contributed a part of his proceeds to aid in the Red Cross and other patriotic undertakings.

May Go Around World

Comiskey will now probably take his team of world beaters around the globe, spreading the game in all countries. Not even the war can stop him. In fact, he will be aided by the government.

This world's title has "made" Clarence Rowland. This manager has "arrived" among the select set. He has made the fans like him, despite the millstone of "busher" hung on him from the start.

The White Sox carry their laurels lightly. They were congratulated on all hands by their friends and foes alike yesterday. They took their honors modestly.

Can You Feed More Stock This Winter?

If so you will be interested in conditions under which freight charges will be paid for you on car lots.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture is anxious that the splendid crops harvested this fall should be used to the best advantage. In many cases this can be done by feeding a few more head of cattle or sheep for breeding purposes. The Department therefore calls attention to the announcement of the Federal Minister of Agriculture offering to pay freight shipments on car lots from Eastern Stock Yards to country points.

Please Note These Facts

Individually or in co-operation with your neighbors you can purchase a carload of heifers or ewes or both combined and have them shipped from any Eastern Stock Yard to your station without any cost for freight charges. You will be required to make a declaration that the stock is for breeding purposes only.

Any farmer or drover can purchase a carload of cattle for feeding purposes on the Winnipeg market and have them shipped to any country point in Ontario upon payment of only one half the usual freight charges.

Feeding at the Toronto Stock Yards available at Reduced Rates and expert assistance is at the disposal of the farmers.

Every effort should be made to bring the surplus stock of some sections to the surplus feed of others. All indications point to a steady demand for the meat supplies of this country for some time to come.

Sir William Hearst, Ontario Minister of Agriculture.

The District Representative will assist you in organizing a co-operative car for your district if desired or in giving any other information.

WAGE EARNERS INSIST ON LABOR MAN FOR CABINET

Railwaymen While Pressing Their Demands Assure Premier Borden of Their Loyalty ---Selecting Candidates Who Are Likely to Get the Soldiers Vote.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Sir Robert Borden has received from the Eastern General Committees of the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen a declaration of unswerving loyalty to the war aims of "Our Countries."

One of the outstanding features of the document is the reference to the reported intention of the Government to give representation in the "Win-the-War" Cabinet to a labor man. As one of the officers stated: "The new Union 'Win-the-War' Government in Canada has, we find, organized capital splendidly represented, organized farmers represented, organized Conservatives represented and organized Liberals. Why not organized labor, whose sons, brothers or members are fighting the battles of the Empire."

One of the chief tasks now facing both Unionist and Opposition parties is the selection of candidates who may be "recognized" as claimants for the soldiers' vote. This is a complicated and difficult task. Its difficulty will probably be accentuated at today's conference of Eastern Ontario Liberals.

On the soldiers' ballot a man may vote either for Government, for Opposition, for an independent candidate or a Labor candidate or for an individual.

But it is provided that within five days of nomination day the Prime Minister and the leader of the Opposition must place in the hands of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery a list of the men whom he endorses as his candidates in the various ridings. In the case of a Labor or Independent candidate, endorsation must come from the recognized leader of such Independent or Labor party. Leaderless men who may care to run without endorsation can only hope to secure soldiers' votes through the personal space left on the ballot on which a soldier may place a name. Otherwise he is not entitled to any vote marked in any of the other four spaces.

It is therefore obvious that any man who desires to benefit by the soldiers' vote must be endorsed by either of the leaders.

Labor Must Get Leader

There is a leader of the Government at the present time and there is a leader of the Opposition. But there is not yet any leader of Labor or any independent party leader "recognized" as such. If Labor candidates expect to benefit by the soldiers' vote under the somewhat peculiar provision of the Act, they must either secure a leader of their own who will officially endorse them or they must seek endorsation as Opposition or Unionist candidates. The same holds good with independents. Should the New Union Government fail to secure a Labor member it is more than probable that many Labor candidates will seek endorsation on the Opposition tickets.

BLACKLISTER IS FINED $50.00

A well-known blacklister, under remand from a week ago, appeared at the Police Court this morning in answer to the charge of having had liquor in his house and of being drunk on October 5th, contrary to the Ontario Temperance Act.

License Inspector Stewart testified to having found on the date in question two bottles of old Irish whiskey in defendant's cellar and three empty whiskey bottles in his house. Accused was very drunk and abusive.

In reply to Mr. F. D. Kerr for the defence as to why he searched accused's house, in company with Detective Newhall, Inspector Stewart said: "I had heard that he had liquor in his house in large quantities and was carrying it away in his pocket."

Detective Newhall corroborated the evidence of the previous witness as to searching defendant's home in company with the chief constable, and to finding the whiskey and the empty whiskey bottles. Defendant was drunk in his bedroom.

Chief Thompson, to Mr Kerr, testified that he had heard of men going to defendant's house—such men as he knew would be looking for liquor. From information he received he had reason to believe that men were taking liquor away from the house in question by the bottle. He also had reason to believe that four suitcases containing liquor had been carried away from the defendant's home the day previous, and arrangements made for the sale of the liquor in a certain yard.

Run a Good Chase.

"Defendant stated to me," testified the Chief, "that he had run me a good chase. I had caught him and he would tell me from whom he got the whiskey when the proper time came. He also asked how I got wise to the automobile."

New Charge.

Chief Thompson here amended his charge to read that "defendant did on October 5th purchase and procure liquor."

For a while Magistrate Dumble held that prosecution could not now be made under this charge, as defendant had had no previous notice of such an information having been laid. His Worship, however, finally allowed the charge to stand.

Argument here arose as to the Act providing penalty for a blacklister guilty of infringing the same, and His Worship, under advice from the Department, ruled in the affirmative.

The Judgment.

This afternoon his worship gave judgment as follows, under the amended charge:

"There is no question but that this man is addicted to the intemperate use of liquor. He is found with a large quantity of liquor on his premises and offers no defence. I have to find him guilty. Considerable pains have been taken to try and save him, but he simply continues to defy the law. I am going to put a heavy fine upon him—$50 and $2.60 costs to be paid forthwith. In default of payment, two months in jail. The maximum fine is $100; but it is not the man's money the court wants; we are trying to save him from himself."

Another Charge.

Chief Thompson withdrew a second charge against the defendant, and his worship proceeded with a charge of intoxication laid against accused by Licenst Inspector Stewart.

POST OFFICE IS NO LONGER OPEN AT NIGHT FOR REGISTRATIONS

This morning saw but four applicants for exemption at he post office. All day yesterday only thirty-two blanks—exemption, of course—were filled out. Twenty of these were at night. Altogether, since the proclamation's issue, eighty-one have registered for exemption and one for service.

No Evening Session.

As so few are availing themselves of the privilege of registering at night, offered by Postmaster James Edgar, it has been decided to no longer accept claims for exemption or registration for service after regulation day hours.

Why Retain Forms.

Many in Peterborough cannot understand why they are not permitted to take away forms of report or claims for exemption. Some on learning this at the post office left without registering, saying that they would call again. It is pointed out that the regulation is necessary for the keeping of an accurate check of all forms issued. Every form supplied bears a number. The receipt given by the postmaster is attached to it after the style of a counterfoil, and bears the same number as the forms. The postmaster has to account for every form. It is further stated that the provision was made for the protection of the members of the class called out. Under it every man who complies with the law has a proper receipt in valid form.

TROUBLE AT THE BORDER

Elgar Choir Found it Hard to Reach Detroit

Detroit, Oct. 19.—The Elgar Choir had their difficulties in filling their engagement here. Late yesterday at Hamilton they were informed by the authorities that there would be objection to the male members of military age leaving the country. After an exciting experience the committee of the choir succeeded in raising a bond for $30,000 guaranteeing the return of the young men to Canada. As it was, there were some formalities to go through with the Canadian Government officials, which made the members of the choir very nervous. However, all ended well and everybody smiled when free admission was given to the land of liberty.

THE WEATHER.

The month of October is apparently out to establish a record for rainfall. While September had but a trifle over an inch (1.03) of rain for the whole month, October up to the present has over four inches. The rain last night and today was particularly heavy, and up to the noon hour had already totalled 1.42 inches.—W P.

nothing officially given out, except that another meeting will be held, at the same place, within the next 30 days, to decide on the mode of procedure in connection with the appointment of a provincial leader.

Four Names Mentioned.

Four names have been mentioned prominently in regard to leadership, namely, William Proudfoot, K. C., M. L. A.; H. H. Dewart, K. C., M. L. A.; Charles M. Bowman, M. L. A., and Samuel Carter, M. L. A. It is now almost positively known that Mr. Bowman is not an aspirant and that he would not accept if the offer was made. Mr. Proudfoot says he's not looking for the leadership. Mr. Carter "appeared" surprised when asked his position, and Mr. Dewart evaded the question by saying he could not accept something that had not been offered.

Public opinion, however, seems to link Mr. Dewart to the leadership very closely.

SIR JOSEPH FLAVELLE TESTIFIES

FRANCE WILL PUSH THE WAR UNTIL ALL LOST TERRITORY HAS BEEN REGAINED

Vote of Confidence in Government Passes House of Deputies by Large Majority — Notes From Battle Front.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Oct. 20.—In the discussion preceding the passing of a vote of confidence in the government by a great majority in the Chamber of Deputies several members criticized the policy of the ministry as being incoherent and lacking energy.

"I have already said when expounding our war aims, Premier Painleve replied, that it is restitution of Alsace-Lorraine that we are determined upon. There must be restitution whatever may be the fate of the battles. For this we should push the war to the bitter end.

Paris, Oct. 20.—Heavy artillery fighting is in progress on the Aisne and Verdun fronts. In other respects there is comparative quiet.

The official statement says: On the Aisne front there were violent artillery actions especially in the sector of the Mennejean farm. Strong enemy patrols which attempted to approach our lines in this region were repulsed. The enemy left prisoners in our hands and suffered appreciable losses. On the right bank of the Meuse on the Verdun front artillery fighting was spirited north of Bezonvaux and in Caurieres Wood.

There is nothing to report from remainder of front.

Zepp Comes to Grief.

Paris, Oct. 20.—A German Zeppelin was brought down in flames late last night at Rambervillers, near Alsatian border and two others were forced to land. They belonged to the squadron composed of large number of Zeppelins that flew over Vosges.

WHY SIR JOSEPH SAID "TO HELL WITH PROFITS"

Had Just Returned From Front and Realized the Need of Munitions.

SPOKE TO MANUFACTURERS

Famous Utterance Was Not Intended to Apply to His Own Business.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Toronto, Oct. 20.—The bacon probe took on renewed interest today when Sir Joseph Flavelle, Bart., president of the Wm. Davies Co. and chairman of the Imperial Munitions Board, was called to the witness box by his own counsel. Several special stenographers were in court on behalf of the company to take evidence.

Sir Joseph stated that since the war began he had taken a gradually declining interest in the affairs of the company. After going to Ottawa on the Imperial Munitions Board the harassing duties of that office had caused him to almost completely dissociate himself from the affairs of the company.

"To Hell With Profits."

Sir Joseph Flavelle explained his famous statement, "To hell with profits." He said it was made at a time when Canadian manufacturers were hesitating to spend the neces-

TWENTY-SEVEN KILLED IN AIR RAID BY HUNS

Considerable Damage Done To Business Places and Houses.

NINE BOMBS ON METROPOLIS

Seven or More Zeppelins Took Part in the Latest Outrage.

London, Oct. 20. — Twenty-seven persons were killed and fifty-three injured in last night's Zeppelin raid. There was some material damage to houses and business premises.

Seven or more Zeppelins crossed the east coast at about eight o'clock last night, four going in one direction and three in another. At 11.30 o'clock one Zeppelin passed out on the homeward journey. This airship dropped six bombs at 11 o'clock and three at 11.15. The noise of its engines was heard for twenty minutes.

Delusion Shattered

A later cable says: After an interval of twelve months London last night experienced another Zeppelin raid. Nobody saw the raiders which flew at a great height and dropped only one bomb on London and a few missiles in the outlying districts.

The Evening News commenting on the raid says: "Last night another of our fond war delusions, due we suppose to the phlegmatic perversitly of our national character, was shattered Statements from authoritative quarters made at various times had led us to believe the airship menace had been mastered. How far this is from being the case is shown by the official report. It may be pointed out that the moon, a feeble one, set at eight minutes past seven. It seems therefore that the moon is not the factor in German air calculations which most people suppose."

WM. FRANK CROFTE, SECOND TO REGISTER FOR SERVICE

Signed up Shortly Before Six Last Evening—A Class C Man—Instructions Concerning Treatment of Military Service Registrations Amended.

WM. FRANK CROFTE, Burnham street, is the second man to sign up for military service. He registered with Postmaster Jas. Edgar a little before six last evening. His grade is C, for service in Canada. The public are anxiously awaiting registration by some A man now. Who will be first?

Treatment of Service Forms.

In regard to the treatment of Military Service forms, word has been received from the department today amending a portion of instructions, that is to say, 'Only the Medical History Sheet is to be attached to the form claiming exemption, or to the form reporting for duty. The postmaster is advised that it is not compulsory to attach a Medical History sheet to either form, when the applicant is filling them out, but were this done it would save considerable work, as the Registrar of the district would not require to notify him later on to present himself for medical examination.

Only Seven Yesterday.

The total number of registrations at the postoffice all day yesterday were but seven—six exemptions and one for service—and the postmaster's preparations for a rush in this connection have failed to materialize. The total number of applicants for papers up to noon today is 99, of which only two were registrations for service in Canada.

RUSSIAN FLEET UNABLE TO COPE WITH GERMANS

Cannot Abandon Defence of Gulf of Finland for Other Duties.

ENEMY FLEET IS FORMIDABLE

Nearly One Hundred Craft In All Sail Into Gulf of Riga.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Petrograd, Oct. 20.—The Russian baltic fleet in its entirety could not face the Germans in the Gulf of Riga without abandoning responsibility for the defense of the Gulf of Finland, according to Count Kapnist of the Russian admiralty.

The Germans he said effected landing operations on Oesel island with twelve transports escorted by twelve battleships of all types, five cruisers an enormous number of auxiliaries and 30 destroyers. It was impossible for our entire Baltic fleet to meet the enemy without abandoning responsibility for the protection of the Gulf of Finland.

The count cited the battle of Jutland as a precedent for the impossibility of using submarines to advantage. He added that the Germans are using the same troops that took Oesel island to attack Dago Island, thus showing that the Germans were carrying out their operations with a minimum force.

BRIGANDS IN RUSSIA.

London, Oct. 20.—A dispatch to the Times from Odessa says 100 passengers were killed or wounded on a train held up by 200 armed brigands near Vladikavkas in the Caucasus.

TWO BRITISH TORPEDO DESTROYERS ARE SUNK BY GERMAN RAIDERS IN NORTH SEA

Three Merchant Vessels Escaped But Nine Neutral Vessels Were Sent to Bottom Without Warning—Artillery Duel Still Intense — American Schooner Sunk off the Spanish Coast.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, Oct. 20. — The enemy's artillery showed great activity yesterday evening and in the early part of the night north of Lens and on the battle front between Tower Hamlets and the Ypres-Roulers Railway. There was also considerable reciprocal artillery activity during the night northeast of Ypres

Calamity at Sea.

Two German raiders attacked a convoy in the North Sea on Wednesday and sank two of the British escorting destroyers, it was announced officially today by the British war office. The British torpedo destroyers sunk were the Mary Rose and the Strong Bow. The official announcement says that three merchant vessels escaped in the action, but that five Norwegian, one Danish and three Swedish vessels were sunk without warning.

AMERICAN SCHOONER SUNK.

London, Oct. 20.—The American schooner Jennie E. Righter of 647 tons gross was sunk by a Teuton submarine on Tuesday off Cape Villano, Spain. Nine men of the schooner were landed today at Mujia. The Jennie E. Righter hailed from New Haven, Conn.

WAS AUTO USED BY THE BAILIFF

TRAVELLER CLAIMS CAR WAS DAMAGED WHILE UNDER SEIZURE FOR DEBT.

There is being argued before Judge Huycke the right of a bailiff to use an automobile while under seizure to satisfy the claims of a chattel mortgage. John R. Doble, a commercial traveller, whose home is at 416 London street, is the plaintiff, and Roland Laplante, and Howard R. Armstrong, formerly with Gordon & Widdifield, this city, now of Toronto, are the defendants. The seizure of the auto is alleged to have followed the foreclosing of a chattel mortgage on the car in question held by the Dominion Register Co. of Toronto. The authority for seizure was given by the legal firm of Robertson, Maclennan and Black, of Toronto, acting for the Dominion Register Co., and came through the local legal office of Gordon, Widdifield and O'Brien. Mr. Jas. J. Maclennan is present in the interests of the Dominion Register Co., while Mr. J. Guise-Bagley appears for Mr. Doble. Mr. Gordon and Mr. O'Brien represent the interests of Laplante, who was referred to as the third party in the case.

Pending settlement of the debt for which the car was seized, the machine was housed in Pulkinghorn's garage on Hunter street, and plaintiff alleges that on his return from Toronto, whither he had gone to satisfy the chattel mortgage, he was informed that the car was in use, and Roland Laplante was named as one of its passengers. Doble secured release of his car on payment of $250 in settlement of all claims against it. Plaintiff alleges that on going to get his car from the garage, he found it in a damaged state, some equipment being missing. He is suing for damages and $10 a day for each of the six days the car was out of commission undergoing repair

Between Bailiff and Plaintiff.

Mr. Maclennan for the Toronto defendants argued that if the bailiff used the car he exceeded instructions from the defendants, which were to seize the machine and take the ordinary procedure. This is a matter between the plaintiff and the bailiff only. There is no evidence

SLEUTH HELD ON GRAVE CHARGE

DYNAMITING CASE IN MONTREAL HAS TAKEN ON A NEW ASPECT.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Charles Desjardin who was employed by the Federal authorities to obtain evidence on the dynamiting of the county home of Lord Atholstan, was placed under arrest yesterday at Three Rivers and brought to Montreal this morning. He will face charge of conspiring with others to commit murder. The complaintant in the case is Paul Emil Lemarche, K.C.

The evidence submitted at the preliminary trial of the eight men arrested for dynamiting purported to show that Desjardin, who consorted with them, gave one man a useless pistol and money and promised rifles to others.

The U. S. Government is determined to operate the nation's collieries itself, unless operators and colliers achieve some sort of harmony.

The death list from the collision of a steam train with a stalled trolley near Spartantown, S.C., now totals three. Twenty were injured.

FARMERS TO BE EXEMPTED UNDER THE NEW MILITARY SERVICE ACT

Men Are Needed on the Land to Produce Food for the Fighters—Crowds Call From the County for Medical Examination However—The Record to Date.

Total Results

Number examined	807
Category A	479
Category B	44
Category C	58
Category E	226

The wet weather yesterday had no appreciable effect on the number of applicants for medical examination at the armories, fifty-three stripping for the test of physical fitness With but one or two exceptions they were all farmers from a distance. Of the fifty-three, eight received A certificates, two were graded as B and thirteen rejected.

Why So Many Farmers

One of the doctors remarked last night that it was a waste of time to examine many of the farmers, as quite a few of them are sure of exemption under the greater production provision of the Act. For instance, a single man with a hundred acre farm and help as scarce as it is will be exempted. Or a farmer with a 150 or 200 acre farm, and only one son, can rely on that son's exemption.

The Artful Dodgers

Any man claiming exemption on conscientious grounds must support his application with an affidavit from a clergyman of the religious denomination to which he claims adherence. The military representative must also assure himself that the person signing the affidavit is a minister. Any exemption granted on this ground will be one from combatant service only.

Each military representative must see that every man in his district either registers for service or applies for exemption. The names of all who do not comply with this order he will hand in to the proper authority for prosecution. Exemption claims are to be dealt with in the order in which they are received by Registrar, so the man who files his claim early will be among the early ones to know his status.

Two Grades Only

Applicants yesterday afternoon and evening were of two qualities only—A's and E's. In the afternoon 13 were graded in Category A and three in E, a total of 16 examined.

Only 12 Last Night

Last evening was a quiet session, with only 12 applicants. Of these eight were certificated A and four rejected.

This morning saw twenty farmer candidates from outlying districts undergo examination by Drs. Cameron, Eastwood and Greer. Eleven were graded A, one in B and eight in E. This is not a very good physical showing for sons of the soil.

Much amusement was rife at the armories this morning over the exemption plea of a Toronto "accepted." He thought he should be exempted from service because the woman with whom he boarded had no other boarders, and he was consequently her only support.

Capt. Potts of the Forestry Battalion, Ottawa, is in town again ready to sign up any applicants for his battalion or for infantry units. He accepted seven men in Lindsay yesterday.

ONE WEEK OF CONTEST LEFT---WORK WILL WIN

Great Auto Campaign Will be all Over One Week From To-night—Candidates Doing Well—Boost Your Favorite Now.

The work accomplished between now and next Saturday night will go a long way toward deciding the winner of the $1235 Touring Car. Are you doing as well as you can.

The race thus far is a most even one; no candidate has gained much of a lead, and the work from now until the last minute of the campaign will be the deciding factor. Thousands of The Review's readers in all sections of the country have their eyes focused on the automobile. They are watching in expectation of seeing their candidate, their favorite, win highest honors. It can be truthfully stated that nearly every reader of The Review has some particular favorite he or she wants to see win the big prize. The new readers who have joined The Review family, placed their confidence in the candidates to whom they gave their subscriptions. These new readers anticipate seeing their favorite candidate live up to their expectation.

The race from now until the end will be to the swift and there will be no room for a "quitter;" it takes full speed ahead. Those who become discouraged will find themselves straggling along with the "also rans" in the rear ranks at the finish.

The candidate who expects to see his name printed in capital letters at the top of the automobile winning column when the judges have completed the final count, must of necessity be real workers NOW. He or she must be an earnest worker today tomorrow and every day during the remaining days of the big contest.

The candidate who slacks his speed now may find himself in a disapointing position—defeated by a small margin. It is far better to be a winner by a large majority. Remember that too many votes will win where one vote can lose the coveted prize.

One week more—the contest will be all over at 10 o'clock next Saturday night.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."
PETERBOROUGH SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1917

BACON AND MUNITIONS.

"WE WANT your products," said the Imperial authorities in effect to the Canadian manufacturers and packing house proprietors when the [illegible] are willing to pay for them. They are indispensable in the task which we have in hand. Without them it will be impossible to win the war."

Thus encouraged, the Canadian manufacturers remodeled their plants and embarked in a new business which they had no assurance would endure for one, two or three years. When it gave out, their new equipment would have to be scrapped. They paid wages to skilled and unskilled labor that were never dreamed of before, and worked their plants day and night, Sunday and week-day alike. In this new enterprise, too, they were forced to compete with the United States. Anything like a munitions trust in Canada would have been an impossibility so long as the most powerful business rival in the world operated in the same line next door.

Has anyone heard of gigantic fortunes cleaned up by the munitions manufacturers in Peterborough? Talk of wages made by unskilled laborers amounting to $8 and $10 a day has been common for the past two years. In all of this new enterprise the Canadian Government does not appear. The Administration had no say in the prices or in the regulation of the business. The transactions were solely between the Canadian manufacturers and the Imperial authorities.

The packing house men were encouraged by the Imperial authorities to "produce," just as the same appeal was so urgently made to the Canadian farmers by their home government. As a result, the price of hogs went up over one hundred per cent. in the past two years. Labor's wages in the packing houses kept pace with this increase. The ships that carried the bacon to England charged rates that were higher in the same proportion. The insurance companies advanced their charges over four hundred per cent. In all of these departments of the traffic the "spread" between the pre-war and war prices is greater than in the published profits of the dealers themselves, who have always had to face the competition of American packers.

When the supply of hogs in Canada became limited the Canadian packers invaded the American market and made their purchases under the very noses of the American buyer. By all but the muck-raker, who suspects graft in any move made by the "big interests," this would have been regarded as praiseworthy enterprise in which Canadian labor shared.

At the bacon investigation in Toronto yesterday the Matthews-Blackwell people submitted a statement which is irrefutable. It shows clearly just why the price of bacon has gone up. Of every dollar received by that firm for bacon the farmer gets 83½ cents for his live hogs, the manufacturers who furnish the packages, 6¼ cents, the railroads, 4¾ cents, labor 4 cents, while the remaining 1 cents is all that is left the packer. His profits may aggregate considerable, but that is entirely due to the amount of capital invested.

When the O'Conner report was prematurely published in a mutilated form that misled the public, Mr. O'Connor, in his own defence, wrote the Matthews-Blackwell people stating that when all the facts were known it would be found that there was nothing in his findings that would in any way reflect upon them. The assertion seems to be fully borne out by the investigation., especially by the diagram of costs submitted to the commission yesterday.

FAITHFUL TO SIR WILFRID.

THE LIBERALS in conference at Ottawa know no leader but Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The men at the conference were as a rule candidates for Parliament, and it is to Sir Wilfrid they look to pull them through.

Do the Liberals of this stripe imagine for a moment that hey are likely to deceive even the most unthinking? They cannot hope to win the coming election without Sir Wilfrid to lead the van. Their chances for success may be slim now, but without the chieftain and his province solidly behind him their chances would be negligible.

The fight is to be between the Laurier Liberals and the new union party. The former have only one issue and that is conscription. The history of the past year in Canada is all that is required to demonstrate the truth of this contention.

One year ago, the Liberals, realizing that the stars in their courses were against them, consented to an extension of the life of Parliament. A year later they withheld that consent. In the interval from 1916 to 1917 conscription had become an issue in the country. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and what remained to him of his following hoped to win on an anti-conscription platform. Aside from that question they had no more prospects of success, had no more reason to precipitate an election than they had in 1916. The C.N.R. purchase and the Alien Franchise Bill are simply so many red herrings drawn across the trail.

The man who offers himself a candidate at he coming election, while acknowledging himself a follower of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is an anti-conscriptionist. Let the voters make no mistake on that score, however plausible his assertions to the contrary. That means that he is something more than an opponent on principle of compulsory military training. In the event of his election he will be herded with a faction that believes that Canada has done enough and should not invest another man or another dollar in the war. The soldiers in the trenches, crying for help from the homeland, will cry in vain. A victory for the Laurierites could not be construed other than as a national calamity.

CONSERVING BOOKS.

MR. F. M. DELAFOSSE, the efficient bead of the Public Library, adds to the agitation for war-time economy by making practical suggestions for the conservation of books, and his ideas as outlined in The Review yesterday are worthy of the most careful consideration on the part of the public.

There is today a greater call for good literature than has ever been known. The soldiers at the front prize books as they have never done before, and not one single volume, not one copy of a magazine, should be wasted, so long as there is a mission for it in the war zone.

Mr. DelaFosse also suggests that last year's copies of the city directory be sent to the library, these to be exchanged for similar publications in other cities. The business man especially who has occasion to communicate frequently with people in outside points will at once see the value of such a suggestion.

Man does not live entirely by bread. Literature as well as food should be saved from the discard.

THE PIG THAT WAS WASHED.

THE PORKER that Mr. N. W. Rowell, as leader of the Ontario Opposition, and Dr. J. A. Macdonald of The Globe, so industriously scrubbed in the interests of cleanliness, has once more caught sight of the mire and the old instincts reassert themselves. The provincial Liberal party that has for the past six years posed as the only Simon-pure and disinterested friend of temperance has apparently realized that virtue assumed for political reasons, that compromising with what they stigmatized as an evil, has brought them nothing in the way of material reward. They are about to lapse. The fleshpots of the Egypt of power linger in their memory.

The change from the new back again to the old is not, however, to be made with unseemly haste. They will take time. Besides, there are those in the party who always were sincere in their profession and who are stil sticking out for the uplift and the chalk line of rectitude. The party cannot agree on a leader. The choice lies between some man who will consent to wear the mantle that Mr. Rowell has relinquished, or Mr. Hartley Dewart, who owes his seat in the Legislature to the liquor party and whose opposition to prohibition is well known. The fact that the recent caucus in Toronto failed to attain its object and select a leader shows the internal discord in the party. The outcome will be watched with interest. In the meantime Mr. Dewart seems to have the pole in the race for the leadership. Two years hence the fate of the Ontario Temperance Act will be left to the voters. The choice of leader made by the Liberals will have an important bearing on the result of that plebiscite.

THAT JUDICIAL MIND.

THE ST. THOMAS TIMES, as the personal organ of Hon. T. W. Crothers, is naturally pleased at he announcement that he is to be retained in the Union Cabinet as Minister of Labor. In an editorial jubilation over this information The Times says: "Mr. Crothers has shown himself very distinctly to possess the judicial temper so requisite to a mediator."

Quite so. But that same "judicial mind" has been the undoing of Mr. Crothers in more than one instance. He has assumed to interpret the law which it is his sole duty as a public official to enforce. The provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act are plain. When labor men ashked for a board of arbitration Mr. Crothers was too prone to put them off and at once assume the role of mediator himself.

The letter carriers, complying with the law in every particular, asked for arbitration. Mr. Crothers' judicial mind got working again, and he told them that they were on the wrong tack, that they should lay their case before the Postmaster-General.

It was because the carriers had already appealed to that official to no purpose that they had recourse to the Act designed to cover just such cases.

Premier Borden says in his announcement yesterday that labor is to be represented in the Cabinet. It is hard to reconcile this statement with Mr. Crothers' assertion that he proposes to stick. If a labor man is to be appointed, he should be placed in the position in which labor is most directly interested. There are other positions in which the man possessed of the "judicial" mind of Mr. Crothers would be less of a misfit.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

BUT SIR SAM always did have a habit of rocking the political boat.

• • •

SOME CAN FIGHT, and those who can't should not object to pay their share of the fighting expenses.

• • •

SIR WILFRID LAURIER denies the charge that the war-time election for which he is responsible is a crime. After it is over he will be in a position to admit that at least it was a ghastly mistake.

• • •

THE TOIL-WORN hand that years ago rocked the cradle that contained the soldier of the future is goin gto mark a ballot for that same soldier now.

• • •

OF COURSE it costs more to live in this world than it did years ago, but let us be honest with ourselves and admit that it is worth it.

• • •

ON READING the platform of the new union party the wonder naturally arises that it was never adopted long ago.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Nothing Slow About Siam.

(Springfield Union.)

More than two months have elapsed since Siam declared war on Germany but there have been no German plots or conscription in this little kingdom as yet, nor is there likely to be. The declaration of war was announced at daybreak on July 22, and within an hour every German in Siam was rounded up and was on his way to an internment camp. The Siamese may be backward in many respects, but they know how to do things promptly and well in some emergencies.

An Apple Paradox.

(Detroit Free Press.)

Apples this year may witness the astounding combination of a short crop and low prices. The reason is that on account of the shortage of export space, Europe may not get its usual 2,000,000 barels. "Eat an apple and save a potato," the Hooverizers are urging.

Calls It Anti-Loyalty Issue.

(Buffalo Express.)

At 77 years of age Sir Wilfrid Laurier is going to lead the forlorn remnant of his party in the hope of winning the forthcoming election in Canada. When his former strongest supporters have joined the Borden Coalition Government, his chance of winning on what amounts to an anti-loyalty issue becomes hardly worth considering.

CAUSE OF HUN DEGENERACY

Medical Writer Says That Excsssive Beer Drinking Explains it.

(By Dr. D. H. Cross.)

Beer brings about degeneracy more rapidly than does the same proportion of alcohol taken in the form of whisky. Beer drinkers who have maintained their vitality and possess a normal blood pressure at the age of 40 are a rarity. The malt liquors in addition to the alcohol contain other poisons, besides products which favor the growth of intestinal bacteria, which cause autointoxication and arteriosclerosis.

The heavy mortality of brewery employes is evidence that beer instead of being a hygienic drink, as is claimed, is a dangerous and harmful beverage. Beer is not employed [illegible] but because it is an intoxicant. It is drunk solely for its alcoholic effect. Should beer not intoxicate or produce this alcoholic effect, its use would be at an end.

The moral degeneracy caused by the habitual use of beer is more pronounced than the physical degeneracy. "Among the academic youth of Germany the drinking of beer has killed the ideals and ethics and has produced an incredible vulgarity," says Dr. A. Forel, of the University of Zurich. The general culture of the higher classes is unmistakably undergoing frightful retrogression because of the beer consumption of its students. Beer drinking has produced a grossness among the people of Germany that [illegible] and in fact proverbial.

NOTES ON PASSING EVENTS

(By Paterfamilias)

The Great War Veterans purpose securing a club building, by hook or by crook, let it be good, bad or indifferent. One Vet says, "If we have to get it by our own exertions. we'll do so, even though it be a credit to us and an everlasting shame to the city." As to one lady's objection to a "Memorial" club building on the ground of comparatively early extinction, this Vet replies by pointing to what he terms the cold-blooded memorial in Central Park, to heroes of the North-West Rebellion, which he says will soon be in a condition to warrant the garbage man gathering it in and carting it away. However, let there be unity on the question. Ladies and citizens generally will probably co-operate with the boy's who have done their bit, and assure an adequate soldiers' club. The city as a corporation should shoulder all responsibility for perpetuating the memory of fallen heroes. The Nelson's monument was not raised by passing round the hat or house-to-house canvass.

Knows the Ropes

Police Magistrate Dumble Sometimes comes to court with a good joke, (not the $50 and costs kind). A few days ago he entertained a couple of legal lights, one occupant of the private box, et al, with the following A colored man charged with stealing two chickens, when asked if he had counsel replied. "No, sah, I done want does chickens mahself." His worship subsequently used this joke twice during the week in keen satire. Once when he misunderstood Mr. F. D. Kerr's reference to bottles in a liquor case, and enquired if Mr. Kerr wanted both "chickens" himself; and again when Mr. O'Brien, counsel for the alleged pickpockets objected to any portion of the $1300 taken from his clients being handed over to victims whose pockets had been picked.

The British Red Cross

The city of Peterborough stands to be somewhat shamed in the eyes of Ontario in regard to the British Red Cross Fund. 'Tis true Council has granted $5,000, but the treasury is empty, and our civic legislature will not create an overdraft. It is suggested that nineteen eighteen's new council can make appropriation to redeem this council's promissary note for $5,000. Very comforting assurance this indeed! Something like a British Red Cross Aid playfully slapping on the back a wounded soldier bleeding to death, with the cheering remark, "never mind, old chap; I haven't a tourniquet with me now, but I'll bring it along next year." The fact of the matter is Council should when striking the rate, have made provision for all these war funds. The call on Red Cross service is tremendous, and every dollar that can be raised is needed now. By the way, Oshawa has collected $14,000, and there is more to come.

New Flags Wanted

With the incipiency of the war the government ordered that the British flag be flown continuously over all public buildings. Well, those flying today in Peterborough can't be called flags; they are disreputable rags and a disgrace to the name Canada. They are more emblematical of a lost cause than of that wonderful pluck and stamina shown by brave and gallant Peterborough volunteers, members of a glorious Canadian division which blocked the Huns' road to the coast in the face of stupendous odds. Canada is some times referred to as God's own country, but the discolored torn and rotten rags above our public buildings look like the Satan's own flags. Sceptics are invited when passing the post office and customs house, say, just to cast their eyes aloft.

Why These False Faces

Graham's store window on Charlotte street is filled with masks—false faces, small boys call them which will soon be used by youngsters to disguise their God-made countenance beneath a hideous exterior. The correct day to wear such masks is November fifth, but how many who resort to the practice know why. The story connected with them is an historical one and runs thus; Guy Fawkes, a converted fanatic to the Roman Catholic faith headed a conspiracy to blow up the English king, his ministers and members of the House of Commons at the opening of Parliament on November 5th, 1605. He was taken with the match in his hand, tried, tortured, and executed January 31, 1606. In remembrance of this event in English towns a grotesque figure stuffed with straw and wearing a hideous mask is carried about the streets on the 5th of November, and finally burned. During the parade and at the burning the following equally grotisque refrain is chanted:

Guy, Fawkes, Guy!
Stick 'im up on 'igh!
Hang 'im to a lamp post
And there let 'im die.
A penny loaf to feed the rogue,
A 'apperth of cheese to choke 'im,
A pint of beer to wash it down,
And a jolly good fire to roast 'im.

TODAY'S STORY

The applicants for promotion to the vacant lieutenancy lined up stiffly as the great General Hawser approached to examine them.

"Sergeant Scollops," said the general crisply, "if you were the officer in command while the enemy was attacking, and your men suddenly ran out of ammunition, what would you do?"

"I'd retreat with great dignity but greater celerity," responded Sergeant Scollops, "after first ordering my men to stick their bayonets in the ground for the Germans to trip over."

"Sergeant Stump, what would you do in a similar emergency?" asked General Hawser.

"I'd give the order to charge, frightening the enemy into thinking that we were waiting to fire until we could see the whites of their eyes, and thus capturing them all without firing a shot, having, of course, none to fire."

"Sergeant Scoots, what tactics would you pursue?" inquired the general.

"I'd quickly empty all the exploded shells in sight, fill them with sausages hastily commandeered from the commissary department, and fire them well past the enemy trenches. Then, after the hungry Germans had flung down their guns and were scurrying to the rear after the sausages, I would give the order to charge, picking up the enemy's guns on the way, and keep them on the run."

"I appoint you lieutenant," said General Hawser cordially, and the other applicants, generously ready to admit Scoots' great strategical genius, gave him a rousing cheer.

Fifty-eight German mechanics were arrested at Hoboken docks and sent to Ellis Isle by Federal police yesterday.

Guard the Children From Autumn Colds

The fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next is wet and cold and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent colds or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly cure it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

August 8th, 1915.

"I think it my duty to tell you what "Fruit-a-tives" has done for me. Three years ago, I began to feel rundown and tired, and suffered very much from Liver and Kidney Trouble. Having read of "Fruit-a-tives", I thought I would try them. The result was surprising. During the 3½ years past, I have taken them regularly and would not change for anything. I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using "Fruit-a-tives", and I know now what I haven't known for a good many years—that is, the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain".

WHY CHANGE IS MADE TO MOSCOW

RUSS. GOV'T CAN WORK THERE FREE FROM DISTURBING ELEMENTS.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Washington, Oct. 20. — Russian officials here had no despatches today on the removal of the Russian provisional government from Petrograd to Moscow, but said that the plan of moving the seat of government, conceived some time ago, undoubtedly had been hastened by the German advance in the Riga territory.

Ever since the removal of the capital was first discussed, Russian officials here have reiterated that the Kerensky government felt it would work with fewer hampering influences in Moscow than in Petrograd, which is the centre of opposition.

The German advance, the Russian officials here say, undoubtedly has strengthened the extreme radicals in the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates.

WANT BILLETS FOR DELEGATES

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR S. S. CONVENTION, TO OPEN OCT. 30.

Have you heard of the great interdenominational Sunday School Convention that meets in our city on October 30th, 31st and November 1st. The speakers are all noted men from various parts of Canada and the United States. About 400 delegates will be present from the different sections of Ontario. Such a large convention ought to be an inspiration to all Sunday school workers. To billet so many will be quite a tax, perhaps, but the ladies of our city are hospitable and little difficulty should be experienced.

A representative on the billeting committee has been appointed from each of the different churches and the work of these representatives will be very much helped if all people who can take delegates will let the representative of their church know.

Accompanied by a fleet of U. S. planes. Lieut. Resnati, the Italian aviator, will carry ten people from Norfolk, Vt., to Mineola, L.I., in his great Caprioni airplane today.

VOGAN IN FINE SHAPE AFTER TAKING TANLAC — HAS GAINED 12 POUNDS.

"I appreciate Tanlac and recommend it because it has just about made me over into a new man," declared James B. Vogan, a valued employe of the Leggett & Platt Spring Bed Company, residing at 21 Marenette street, Windsor, recently.

"Four bottles of Tanlac have increased my weight twelve pounds," Mr. Vogan continued, "and I tell you it would make most anybody rejoice to get the wonderful relief I have. My stomach has been giving me trouble for more than six years, and, although I dieted myself, I still suffered. I had severe, gnawing pains after eating and was constantly belching up my food sour and undigested. My head ached terribly and I was so nervous I couldn't hold a cup of tea steady enough to drink without spilling it. I lost weight continually and while I tried every kind of medicine I knew of, I got in such a bad fix I lost a great deal of time from my work. For three months on a stretch I couldn't work, and when I started on Tanlac I had been off for four weeks. I just felt tired, wornout and miserable all the time.

"I read such high endorsements for Tanlac that I couldn't help believing it had merit, and it certainly has proven its value in my case. I eat just any and everything I want now, and never have any trouble afterwards. My nerves are calm and steady, my headaches gone, and I sleep every night like a log. I'm putting in full time at my work every day and feel as fresh and as strong as I used to before my trouble began. So I have the best of reasons for praising Tanlac. I know what it has done for me, and I'm glad to make this statement for the benefit of others who are needing just such medicine.

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; In Havelock by A. C. Denike.

MORE COAL IN PETERBORO THAN EVER BEFORE AT THIS SEASON

People are, just now, talking, reading, dreaming of coal. Those who have it are burning it with misgivings as to whether the supply in hand will last out the winter. No assurances such as may be offered, even by those who should know the situation are accepted. To have the coal in sight is the only thing.

Side by side with this uneasiness is the fact, now well beyond dispute, that the amount of coal in Canada, however, up to now distributed, is larger than at any time of the year, the fall of the year, than ever before. But the citizen is incredulous. And many remark, in the memorable words of the celebrated Michael McTooley, of Ennismore, "Who have it."

Go, if you like, to the Custom House. The story is written in the records, for all coal is passed through customs, not all of it for duty, but for record. The Government knows to a ton just what has been handled. All coal men have to give to the authorities an absolutely true statement of taking in and sales. We know how much we have brought to the city.

But, finally, in the words of the Ennismore man, as quoted above, "who have it."

BOYCOTT WINDSOR CHURCH TO ISOLATE R.C. BISHOP

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 20.—For the purpose of "spreading isolation around the bishop," as it was explained, a boycott of the new Sacred Heart Church on the west side of the city was declared at a meeting of French-Canadians in Wyandotte Hall.

Those present at the gathering pledged themselves to remain away from any ceremonies and refuse to give any assistance. It is understood the bishop will be here on October 28 to attend the opening of the church. Rev. Father Rooney is the pastor.

This is in line with the policy adopted by the protesting section of Our Lady of the Lake Church, Ford City.

London's New Lord Mayor.
(Hamilton Herald)

Speaking of Charles A. Hanson, the new Lord Mayor of London, it has been frequently stated in Canadian papers that he was once a stockbroker in Montreal. But another fact in his Canadian career is not so well known — that he was some forty years ago a Methodist minister in this province.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" MAKES SICK, SOUR, GASSY STOMACHS FEEL FINE.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into acids and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin helps neutralize the excessive acids in the stomach so your food won't sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is upset, you usually get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it helps to regulate your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief [illegible] sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is positive in neutralizing the acidity, so the misery won't come back very quickly.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears, and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder due to acid fermentation.

Hamilton, Oct. 20.—With the $90,000 mark passed by a comfortable margin the supreme effort on the $100,000 three-day campaign in the interests of the British Red Cross will be made today. Despite the previous numerous appeals that have been made in Hamilton since the war commenced there is not the slightest doubt that the longed-for goal will be attained. Confidence is being expressed on all sides that Hamilton's answer to the appeal of the motherland for assistance will be considerably over $100,000.

UNION MAN MAY OPPOSE SIR SAM

LATTER'S RECENT INTERVIEW MAKES TROUBLE FOR HIM AT HOME.

Union Man shrdlurdird

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Sir Sam Hughes' attempt to rock the Union Government boat, exemplified in his hostile interview at Lindsay, is not unlikely to result in a spectacular battle in Victoria and Haliburton.

It was unofficially stated that the ex-minister's provocative attitude has given offence to both Liberal and Conservative supporters of union throughout the constituency and that a strong intimation had been given to Ottawa that a win-the-war candidate would be nominated to oppose Sir Sam's re-election.

In [illegible] circles in the Capital, Sir Sam's strictures upon the new Administration are not regarded seriously. The ex-minister's private Vendetta against Sir Thomas White is accepted as the sole basis of his remarks.

SNOWDEN HOUSE STREET LINE

INJUNCTION TO STOP ALLEGED ENCROACHMENT ON OLD SURVEY THREATENED.

Trouble has arisen over the conversion of the Snowden House building, Charlotte street, into an apartment house. Considerable dispute has arisen over which is and which is not the correct street line.

The building to the west of the Snowden House, in which Pearson's grocery is situated, is owned by Mrs. Gray, and her son, claiming that the face of the reconstructed building on present plans will encroach 20 inches on the street, is threatening injunction proceedings. Braund Bros., who now are proprietors of the old hotel property, contend that no encroachment on the line will result, as they are building to a line defined by an Ontario surveyor when their department building on front of the curling rink was erected.

The ground taken for threatened injunction is that of all posts in existence, defining the original street line at this point, which is 20 inches back from where the new Braund building will line up if proposed plans are carried out.

New Survey Wanted.

City Engineer Parsons is not in a position to settle the dispute he having no reliable data as to street lines on hand. He says that unquestionably many buildings in the city are encroaching on street lines, but it would be impossible to order their removal to the correct frontage. He contends, in fact that the whole city should be re-surveyed, and it cannot be done too soon.

An Atlantic Port.— The crews of three American schooners landed here say their vessels have been sunk by submarines.

Daughter of the Gods at Grand Next Week

One of the most effective scenes in "A Daughter of the Gods", William Fox's $1,000,000 picture beautiful, the coming attraction at "The Grand" Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 25th, 26th and 27th, is Gnomeland the mythical kingdom of a race of dwarfs. This particular scene, which cost a fortune to produce, even a river's course being diverted to create a mountain torrent, is one that appeals stongly to the children, for amid the bewildering thickets may be seen the little folk carrying on their daily tasks.

Under the leadership of a dwarf who seems hardly high enough to keep his chin off the ground. Annette Kellermann among them, is a titan of perfect physical beauty.

To produce this scene was one of the most difficult things that Mr. Fox had to contend with for it was no easy matter to procure children bright and attentive enough to follow the lessons given them as to what to do and how to do it. Again, the parents of the children were fearful lest some harm come to their offspring, and, to satisfy them, it was found necessary to defray all the expenses of the parents during all the time that this fairyland like scene was being enacted.

A special building was erected with trained nurses and physicians in constant attendance to care for the little ones and their parents. Due to the extreme heat of the tropical sun and the humidity, both doctors and nurses were kept on the alert lest some of the children succumb to the unusual weather conditions.

Some people never know when to stop and others never know when to begin.

A good dinner has about the same effect on a man that a good cry has on a woman.

Run for office and read the opposition newspapers if you would see yourself as others see you.

Sometimes a woman asks her husband's advice so that she'll be in a position to take the opposite course.

Fall is the Ideal Time to Paint

Unprotected surfaces decay rapidly, so prepare your property for winter by painting this fall. The wood is free from frost and dampness and the pores are more receptive, enabling the paint to penetrate deeper. Summer heat has passed, flies and insects have gone and ideal painting weather has set in.

GOT MORE THAN WAS ASKED FOR FINANCIAL CANVASS OF GEORGE STREET CHURCH PROVES GRATIFYING SUCCESS.

During the week, under the direction of the finance committee, the laymen of the George Street Methodist Church conducted a financial canvass of the congregation, and those engaged in the work, some sixty in number, met last evening in the church parlors to report the results.

Possibly no campaign of the congregation ever met with more sympathetic and unanimous support than did this one. The objective of the campaign was to increase the missionary givings 24 per cent. and current expenditure 20 per cent. over the givings of last year. The congregation responded by increasing their givings to missions 24 per cent. and 28 per cent. to the current offerings. Credit for the splendid success of the campaign is largely due to the thorough organization of the finance committee in conjunction with the pastor, Rev. A. J. Thomas, and to the enthusiastic co-operation of the men who undertook the work.

While the results were being totalled the ladies of the congregation served refreshments.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

WHEN CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK, GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Edison Week
Oct. 21 to Oct. 27

ALL OVER this continent the many marvelous achievements of the world's greatest inventor, Thomas A. Edison, will be honored next week.

The man who gave us electric light, moving pictures, the storage battery, and the phonograph, who made the telephone and the telegraph perfect, who is now working night and day for the Allies, to solve the submarine peril, has asked that some day next week you take time to hear his latest and favorite invention.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul."

Edison takes more pride and pleasure from his perfection of the re-creation of music than from any of his other achievements. He has sent thirty artists touring the land, giving "re-creation concerts"—singing in direct comparison with their own voices on the New Edison—to prove that you cannot tell the real voice from his re-creation. 1,000,000 people and 500 music critics have been convinced. You will, too, when you hear it, and we urge that you honor Mr. Edison by hearing his favorite invention in our store next week. Ask about the $2,000 Prize Contest.

Consumers of Sugar Uneasy at Situation

REFINERS SAY THERE SHOULD BE ENOUGH TO LAST TILL DECEMBER.

Owing to the publicity given by the Food Controller to the fact that raw sugar is difficult to obtain an unusual interest was started in sugar and a heavy demand has developed as a result. Consumers have become uneasy over the situation and have been stampeded into buying as it were. Representatives of refiners state there is no occasion for alarm over the situation, asserting that with a normal demand for this time of the year there should be enough sugar in Canada to carry through until such time as the new Cuban crop begins to come on the market some time in December. Furthermore, Canadian beet root sugar will be on the market within the next week or two and should afford a measure of relief.

With the report that the embargo on import of tea into Great Britain is likely to be removed there is anticipation among tea dealers that a very active market would develop in Canada should the embargo be raised. Stocks of tea in the British Isles are very low and available supplies in Canada would undoubtedly be drawn upon as one of the nearest sources of supply.

Provisions of all kinds were in steadily firm market. Hams and bacon and barrel pork are now in good demand. Large export shipments of butter have reduced the stocks in Canada considerably and put firmness into prices. Eggs also are in firm market. Honey is firm with supplies dwindling. Advances have been recorded in shoe and stove polish, salad dressing, washboards, soup cubes, tobaccos, powdered bathbrick, cotton twine, dates, lima beans, cornflakes. A decline was recorded in one brand of package cornmeal.

Prices on new pack corn and tomatoes have not yet been announced but cannot be long delayed. There has been no agreement as yet between the millers and the Food Controller with respect to the price of flour. A meeting is to be held on Thursday of this week, but it is understood no announcement will be given out until about November 1. Business is seasonably good, although it cannot be characterized as brisk.

"Excuse me," said the new neighbor as he leaned over the fence. "you have a daughter who plays the piano, I believe?"

"I have," answered the man on the porch.

"Well," said the other, "I have been a great student of nature in my time—have spent many years on a farm—and I want to say that your daughter's music reminds me of the music of a brook."

"Ah," said the pleased father, "I confess that there is an undefinable, murmuring sweetness running through her music that resembles a brook now that you have called my attention to it."

"Yes," agreed the new neighbor, "there is all that. And, besides, there is another way in which the resemblance is very marked. Probably you have read that line that calls attention to the fact that the brook goes on forever."

President Ed. Barrow of the International League hasn't heard anything about the proposed move that will place him at the head of the American League as Ban Johnson's successor. He says he is still in charge of the International League, and that he is too busy arranging league affairs to trouble himself over taking Ban's job.

Again the story has cropped up that Toronto is to get Washington's franchise in the American League. A special meeting of the American League is being called by President Johnson, and New York critics believe that one of the moves will be the placing of Toronto on the circuit.

Toronto's feeling toward Jimmy Smith, their former shortfielder, who had a row with President Jim McCaffery, can be summed up in a few words that appeared in the Toronto Star Thursday night: "Imagine Jimmy Smith drawing down $2548.24 for watching the world's series from the New York bench instead of having to settle at the gate for a ticket to get into the grounds."

Bobby Pringle, the well-known Ottawa lacrosse player, is a casualty. He sustained a fractured knee in France when his horse reared and fell on him while under shell fire.

Mayor Tommy Church of Toronto is in favor of the proposed McGill-Varsity rugby series for patriotic purposes.

Jack Dillon, the Hoosier battler, is on the warpath again, according to advices from Montreal, where he landed this week. He says he is ready to meet any person in the world from Jess Willard down. This month he meets Frank Moran again in Boston, and he has already agreed to a twenty-round bout in New Orleans with Billy Miske to be held some time during the winter.

A number of Toronto boys in France have written a letter to President McCaffery of the Toronto International League championship club congratulating Lajoie & Co.

PARENTS AS SHOWMEN.

Whitefrocked and wee against the darker background of grown-ups, stands a bestarched and bow-bedecked little girl.

"Now, tell us your name," says Mamma proudly.

"Yes, be a brave girl," adds foolish Papa.

"Lost her tongue," scintillates one very brilliant man.

And the little girl, with a self-conscious expression that never should have been, stands mutely sticking her finger farther down her throat.

"Just to please Mamma," coaxes that eager lady. But the effect is only a pinker pink under the pale blue bows.

Papa entices with a peppermint stick and almost wins, until the Assembly of Terrible Visitors, drawing forward in breathless anticipation, frightens the little mite away.

"No use; children never will do anything when you want them to," acidulates dear Aunt Jane.

And at last the poor little puppet is released.

Well, Papa and Mamma have been saved for a little from the need of thinking of something to say. But—

Parents who want to be showmen should realize that it is better business to let the [illegible] their own cues.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Editor Review:—We hear quite a lot about the "Huns" barbarity. I would like to relate a little incident which occurred in Peterboro on Thursday afternoon.

A member of our police force was sent to shoot a dog. We all know that an act of this kind is not one which women and children care to witness, but this man thought it was, so he has the poor animal out in full view of the public.

To begin with he takes a shot at the dog (in the mouth I think) then goes over to the sidewalk to converse with a friend, in the meantime the dog (in agony and bleeding) gets up and goes toward him wagging his tail. He then proceeds to take three more shots in the same leisurely way, until the poor animal is finaly put out of agony.

This noble act was witnessed by both women and children. The howls of the tortured creature could be heard two or three blocks away.

There is talk of exemption for the police force, and if this is the way they shoot, exempt them by all means they would be absolutely no use at the front, except on the Huns side.

Perhaps a little shooting exercise would be a good thing for the police force. Anybody who knows how to shoot can kill a dog with one shot.

We think we are a human nation but acts of this kind make it doubtful. Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

HUMANITARIAN.

Editor Review: The win the war party is confronted with many dangers which insidiously creep in. Designing politicians and office seekers, while making themselves officious on behalf of the cause, will in reality be trying to make political and selfish capital out of the movement.

The writer of a letter in the local papers recently, while professing tp be an ardent supporter of the win-the-war party, showed the cloven hoof when he penned the following hog-wash: "It could not have been easy for men like Carvell to join hands with Borden. To the very last the late Government made itself obnoxious to all true Liberals. The forcing through of the Canadian Northern Bill and the War Franchise Bill, to say nothing of the filling up of all seats of patronage with friends of the Government, were practically acts of treason when coupled with a desire for a coalition government."

A man of that writer's stamp reveals his true inwardness in making such an uncalled-for and untruthful comment upon the merits of Sir Robert Borden, who stands head and shoulders above all other politicians in point of talent and straightforwardness and who has done more to win the war than all the others combined.

Again, that writer says that "Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself may take the place in this country that Asquith has in the Old Land, criticizing the Government and co-operating with it as the occasion requires."

The idea of such a comparison is ridiculous on the face of it. Imagine, if you can, Asquith being guilty of Sir Wilfrid's duplicity throughout his politcal career, who broke away from the reputable Liberals of this country and refused to join forces with the win-the-war party and who, holding the Lower Canadian faction in the palm of his hand, has taken a course inimical to the best interests of the British Empire.

October 20th, 1917.

Yours truly,
WIN THE WAR.

Heals Got Even

A court house in a Yorkshire town stands near a common. During one of the cases that were being tried the counsel was in the middle of his speech for the defense when a donkey outside began to bray.

The judge who was notorious for his wit, put up his hand at this juncture and said to the counsel: "Kindly stop a minute, Mr. B——. I am unable to hear two at once."

A little later, while the judge was summing up the donkey again brayed and the counsel, seeing an opportunity for revenge, stood up and said: "Would your lordship mind speaking a little louder? There is an echo in court."

There are 250 cups of strong, rich tea—all from a pound package of Red Rose.

That seems a very large number, but then you must remember that Red Rose Tea is composed chiefly of the strong, rich Assam teas from Northern India, which yield an astonishing amount of tea essence.

Why! You can brew five generous cups from about one cent's worth of Red Rose.

Doesn't it seem a real war-time economy to use Red Rose Tea, which tastes better and goes further?

"FAIR AND WARMER"

One of the Funniest Comedies Ever Written

When Selwyn & Company present the Avery Hopwood farce hit of a generation, "Fair and Warmer," at The Grand, Tuesday, Oct. 23, it may be predicted without fear of contradiction that the theatre's capacity will be taxed to its utmost throughout the engagement, and after its departure there will be a deluge of requests in the office of the manager that the play be secured for a return engagement some time later in the season. Such has been the history of "Fair and Warmer" for two years now and there has yet to be found a single indicaton of the slightest abatement of interest in this remarkable entertainment.

"Fair and Warmer" set a new standard for big business in the theatrical world during its run of one solid year in New York. It repeated a year later by an extraordinary engagement lasting thirty-one weeks in Chicago. Today, the engagement of "Fair and Warmer" in scores of the largest theatres in the country is pointed to as the record of the house.

"Fair and Warmer" comes here with one of the strongest casts of farceurs ever assembled for a road tour of a New York success. The production, offered by Selwyn & Company is an exact replica of that in which the farce was offered during its long engagements in New York and Chicago.

Avery Hopwood's title to consideration as America's best writer of farce, which was auspiciously begun with "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow," was firmly established for once and all by "Fair and Warmer." Selwyn & Company with such remarkable successes to their credit as "Within The Law" and "Twin Beds" have fairly excelled themselves as producers of plays the public wants, with "Fair and Warmer."

"Fair and Warmer" is a rare treat for theatregoers wherever it may be seen and as often as it may be seen in any place.

"NO SIGN OF PEACE"---Lloyd George

UNION CABINET TO STAND ONLY DURING THE WAR

New Election Will Be Held In Canada As Soon As the Troops Return.

THAT'S LATEST OTTAWA RUMOR

Coming Election Will Differ From Any Ever Held in This Country.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Oct. 22.—It is said by those who profess to know that the Union Government was formed upon the clear understanding among those entering it that there will be dissolution of parliament immediately following demobilization after the war. The House of Commons which is to be elected upon the war-time franchise, will therefore be limited in its duration to the period of the war and the return of our soldiers.

The Coming Election.

It is now certain that general election will be over before Christmas, and December 17th, as already mentioned, is likely to be the date of polling in Canada. The work of organization is proceeding rapidly. No election has ever before been held in Canada under similar conditions, and it is unlikely such conditions will ever present themselves again. Not only ordinary election machinery must be set in motion but complete new machinery devised for the holding of military and navy polls in France, Belgium, Greece and other remote places in the world, as well as on the high seas of Europe and North America.

For this purpose hundreds of new ballot boxes and bags have been made. The operation of placing the new women voters' names on the list and striking off the disfranchised will cover a period of twenty-five days. Colonel Purney, who is in charge of the overseas voting, is proceeding overseas immediately.

It is estimated that there will be only 500 out of 5,000 eligibles at Hamilton who will report for service without claiming exemption, if the present rate is maintained.

WOMEN WAVING FLAG OF TRUCE SHOT DOWN BY GERMAN PIRATES

Ruthless Butchery of Huns in North Sea Engagement Passes all Description—British Destroyer Fought Bravely But in Vain Against Enemy Cruisers—Press Opinion Divided.

London, Oct. 22.—British destroyer Mary Rose fought single handed against the German cruisers in the convoy action in the North Sea according to a story ascribed to a British official rescued off the Bergen and transmitted by the Christiania correspondent of the Times. The other destroyer which should have been present never appeared and it is thought likely that it was destroyed at the beginning of the action.

After fighting heroically for half an hour during which she was subjected to the most terrific concentric fire, the Mary Rose sank. Ten members of the crew were found clinging to the buoys and were rescued.

The correspondent says that the reports of the butchery of the crews of the mentioned merchantmen pass description. Two women on the one ship waved a piece of white cloth which was perfectly visible. They were silenced by a volley from the German cruisers.

Newspapers Differ

The newspapers take two divergent lines of criticism regarding the attack on the convoyed merchantmen in North Sea. According to one view the incident was one that no foresight or vigilance could avert and although regrettable in every way cannot exercise any decisive effect. On the other hand some newspapers ask what has become of the British command of the North Sea.

MR. T. F. MATTHEWS' TESTIMONY

(Editorial in Ottawa Journal, Saturday, Oct. 20.)

One cannot help favorably contrasting with some that has gone before, the evidence given before the Henderson Commission in Toronto by Mr. Thomas F. Matthews, secretary-treasurer of the Matthews-Blackwell Packing Company of Hull and Toronto. It was the testimony of a business man, frank, open and above-board. He apparently had instructions to conceal nothing. The company had been doing a big business and had made large profits as the result, principally, of huge foreign orders given at prices that apparently suited the purchasers; and the company was not afraid to let the world examine its transactions and its business policy.

The impression is received that the heads of the Matthews-Blackwell Company were business men pursuing a business policy they regarded as in the best interests of the company and of the trade generally—a policy of which they are proud. If exception is taken to that policy by other business men, they are prepared to defend it; if exception is taken to it by people who are moved more by prejudice than by knowledge, they are content to disregard such criticism.

Now, we can understand that attitude. We know where we are at. It clears the air for intelligent discussion and for the provision of remedies, if remedies are found necessary.

NATION LABOR PARTY GETTING INTO THE FRAY

Ontario Executive of Trades Congress Held Session in Toronto.

CAMPAIGN TO OPEN AT ONCE

Meetings To Be Held Throughout Province by Prominent Speakers.

The Ontario Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada met in Toronto yesterday to follow up the recommendation for political action, which the Labor Congress made before it concluded its session in Ottawa last month.

It was suggested when the Congress discussed the matter that it was advisable to form a National Labor party upon the same lines as the British Labor party. Further, it was urged that all working class and political organizations should call a conference in each Province of the respective organizations entitled to membership in a party of this description.

The members of the Ontario committee are:—H. J. Halford of Hamilton, Miss C. E. Grant of Ottawa, Joseph Dean of London and Jas. Ralph of Toronto. It made a survey of the situation yesterday and discussed plans to follow out the recommendations of the Congress.

Meetings throughout the Province will be held within the next few weeks, and it is likely that if the progressive elements which the Congress calculated upon can be brought into the party a new element will enter the forthcoming Federal contest.

Trades unionists will be asked to cast their ballot for the new party, the many different Socialists organizations will also be solicited, and finally farmers and other progressive forces will be expected to cooperate to make the new party a success.

Four of these men are holding Category Aii certificates which places them in the ranks of men for trench service overseas just so soon as they are trained. Class A without the two ii's is composed of men who have had experience in modern warfare, and they are liable to be drafted overseas at once. The other man who signed

RUSSIANS MOVE THEIR PLANS

WORKS DEALING WITH MUNITIONS HAVE BEEN TAKEN FROM PETROGRAD.

London, Oct. 22.—All important works dealing with munitions have been removed from Petrograd according to a despatch to the Times from the Russian capital. German Zeppelins, it adds, are attacking towns some distance from their fighting front.

Russians Reject Friendly Overtures

MEDICAL EXAMINATION BEFORE REGISTRATION NOT AT ALL NECESSARY

Wrong Impression Gone Abroad—Early Establishment of Medical Boards Was For Convenience of Public—Montreal Men Are Reporting For Duty.

It is not necessary for men in Class One to be medically examined before applying for exemption, but the impression has gone abroad that it is so. Medical Examining Boards were appointed and installed in office before the issue of the proclamation as a measure of convenience for the public. Examination before application is made for exemption, or even prior to reporting for service is entirely optional with the men within the class called by proclamation.

Examination First Recommended.

"The Council has strongly recommended and still strongly recommends to members of the Class, wherever it is practicable to be examined before reporting or claiming exemption; but where this course presents unusual difficulty, it would be better for the man to wait until after he has put in his report for service or his claim for exemption, and he will receive notice in due course as to his medical examination."

Why So Many For Exemption.

Peterborough and the whole province is simply astounded at the rush for exemption by men in A, B and C Category, and query the why and wherefore, to say nothing of the consistency of such a course. One reason given is that men in Ontario contend that Quebec is setting the example in this respect and were those in this province to waive their privilege of appeal to the tribunals, they would be away fighting in the trenches while a vast majority of Quebec appeals were being argued. But that is no excuse for a man with an Aii medical certificate claiming exemption on the ground of physical inability and general infirmity, as one Peterborough man has. Then is Quebec as black as painted in this regard? Here is what Capt. Drummond, officer in charge of Montreal's mobilization centre reports: "Quite a number of men now being examined who are eligible for categories A and B are reporting for duty at the headquarters of the local depot battalions, in order to take advantage of the privileges under the volunteer system. Most of these are reporting to the First Depot Battalion, First Quebec Regiment, now being mobilized under the command of Lieut.-Col. Piche."

The Standing To Date.

Saturday was another busy day at the Armories, when the doctors attended to no less than 54 applicants for examination—this gives the total standing to date as follows:

Number examined 861

THE BIG DRIVE IS ON--- ONLY ONE WEEK LEFT

Review's Great Contest Will End Saturday Night at Ten O'clock—Opportunity to Help Your Favorite Candidate Will Soon be Over—Six Days Left—Boost Now.

The big drive is on.

The Review contest will be over on Saturday night.

Candidates are working with splendid enthusiasm and many people are rallying to their support in fine style. Have YOU, Mr. Reader, made good on your promise to help a favorite. Probably your subscription will be the very one to bring success to a favorite contestant. Don't wait for her to call on you. Send your subscription to the office or to the contestant—it will do you good and it will be deeply appreciated by your favorite. DO IT NOW.

The ballot box is now in effect and all subscriptions turned in by the candidates will be deposited in same. In this way no one but the candidate herself or himself knows how much she or he has. The judges will cut the box open Saturday night at 10 o'clock and make the count. This is the fairest possible plan that can be devised for the protection of the candidates and secrecy as to the votes they will collect during the remaining days of the contest.

Things to Remember.

Don't forget that the closing hour is ten o'clock.

Don't forget that one subscription may mean the difference between success and failure.

Don't overlook an opportunity to secure subscriptions.

Don't forget that you have many friends who will help you get subscriptions if you impress upon them the fact that you need them.

Don't forget that all your subscription slips and the money covering them must be placed in sealed envelopes and deposited in the ballot box.
